Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

☞ Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL,
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest Cleanest, Best,

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

In August [illegible] quarts of milk were consumed in New York city. And a large part of the population were out of town.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

As a remedy for Pulmonary Affections and Scrofulous Diseases.

Where the digestive organs are feeble and ordinary food does not seem to nourish the child, this acts both as food and medicine, giving strength and flesh at once, and almost as palatable as milk. Take no other. 19t4.

Newport has a reputation as a paradise of male sponges. They lodge in apartments and live on the cottagers.

SAVED HIS LIFE.

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., says he was, for many years badly afflicted with Phthisic, also diabetes; the pains were almost unendurable and would sometimes almost throw him into convulsions. He tried Electric Bitters and got relief from the first bottle and after taking six bottles was entirely cured and had gained in flesh eighteen pounds. Says he positively believes he would have died, had it not been for the relief afforded by Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by R. E. Phillips.

Nearly 25,000 bathers use Brooklyn's free baths each week.

CURE YOURSELF!

Don't pay large doctor's bills. The best medical book published, one hundred pages, elegant colored plates, will be sent you on receipt of three 2 cent stamps to pay the postage. Address A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

California has earthquake insurance companies.

MY HEAD WAS FAIRLY ROTTEN,

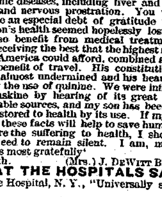
And how much I suffered it is hard to describe. That loathsome disease, catarrh, caused the above, and the doctors said they could not relieve me. I paid hundreds of dollars, for which I received no benefit. I got more good from two bottles of Sulphur Bitters than from all the money I paid to doctors. I shall continue the Sulphur Bitters, as I have great faith that they will cure me.—[S. M. DAY, 41 Hanover St. Boston.

Jefferson Davis is writing another book.

Something that will quiet the nerves, give strength to the body, induce refreshing sleep, improve the quality of the blood, and purify and brighten the complexion, is what many persons would be very glad to obtain. Carter's Iron Pills are made for exactly this class of troubles, and are remarkably successful in accomplishing the ends desired, as named above. They are useful for both men and women. Sold by druggists. Price, 50 cents a box. See advertisement.

There are 1,552 corps and 3,502 officers in the salvation army.

A FIFTH AVENUE LADY



Science emerging from Darkness.

WRITES A LETTER ABOUT Kaskine.

THE NEW QUININE.

222 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK.

Kaskine Co.—Dear Sirs: Although always opposed to having my name used publicly, I waive my reluctance in this case. No one can see the vast good done to the suffering that I have seen accomplished by your wonderful medicine and remain silent.

I deem it my pleasant duty, my dear sirs, to express my cordial thanks for the great cure it has accomplished in my family as well as for the many cures it has effected among the suffering poor to whom I have taken it. My son was the greatest sufferer for years from what was first termed by our physician to be dyspepsia and general debility, which was followed by the severest forms of chills and fever, and finally pronounced by several of the most eminent physicians to be malaria, with all its different forms of suffering and organic diseases, including liver and kidney troubles and nervous prostration. You will see that I owe an especial debt of gratitude to you, for my son's health seemed hopelessly lost, as he derived no benefit from medical treatment, although receiving the best that the highest medical talent in America could afford, combined at times with the benefit of travel. His constitution also had been almost undermined and his hearing impaired by the use of quinine. We were influenced to try Kaskine by hearing of its great success from reliable sources, and my son has been completely restored to health by its use. If my testimony of these facts will help to save human life and restore the suffering to health, I should be guilty indeed to remain silent. I am, my dear sirs, yours most gratefully.

June 11th. (Mrs.) J. DEWITT BURNS.

WHAT THE HOSPITALS SAY.

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful.

St. Francis Hospital, N. Y. "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Rev. Jos. Desribes, Chaplain of Charity Hospital, writes: "I will be surely, on every occasion, through conviction a most devoted promoter of Kaskine."

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered indispensible. It acts perfectly."

Send for the great book of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine. $1 a bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

Save time and labor! Neat and Compact.

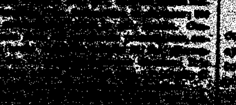
Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind that he ever saw."

—To be had only at the—
FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

10 PER CENT. INVESTMENT, SECURITY ABSOLUTE. THE MORTGAGE, Ipswich, Dakota, will loan your money on BOND and MORTGAGE from 8 to 10 per cent. Mortgage made to you direct. Bond payable at your own Bank or in New York as you prefer, and has for SALE COUNTY, CITY, and SCHOOL BONDS, that will net 7 to 12 per cent. Will furnish as reference the names of gentlemen residing in THIS COUNTY for whom it has invested money. CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED. 16m3

EXHAUSTED VITALITY!

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



Young Hopeful (on seeing a monkey for the first time)—"Mamma is that a spoiled child?"—[Life.

A contemporary has an article on the most inexpensive way of filling the teeth. The most inexpensive way we know of is to eat peanuts.—[Boston Courier.

"Want to be a barkeeper eh?"

"Yes, sir."

"Do you understand keeping books on the single entry system?"

"No, sir, but I understand keeping Sunday on the double entry system."

"Very well. Hang up your hat."—[Philadelphia Call.

The New York Journal says the "earthquake" is a new drink. It must be concocted of Jersey lightning and hard cider.—[Fall River Advance.

It adds nothing to the self-respect of John L. Sullivan that he has to get behind a one cent stamp in order to lick it.—[Fall River Advance.

When a man comes from college he knows it all, but gradually he forgets all that he knows and eventually learns something.—[New Haven News.

Col. Daniel Lamont will edit the President's fish stories this year as usual. This fact warrants us in predicting some startling contributions to summer literature.—[Philadelphia Press.

College Student—You saw the Apennies, I hear when you were abroad Miss Modern.

Miss Modern—O, yes, it was a treat, too.

College Student—Did they play better than the Detroits, Miss Modern?—[Tid-Bits.

Old Gent—"Here, waiter, how the duce do these buttons and things come to be in this soup?" Fresh Waiter—"We make our soup from Chicago dressed beef, sir.—[Lowell Citizen.

"Yes," said the chairman, sadly, "our temperance meeting last night would have been more successful if the lecturer hadn't been so absent minded."

"What did he do."

"He tried to blow the foam from a glass of water.—[New York Sun.

The captain of the British yacht Galatea is named Henn. Aha! Henn—hatchway—lay to—la—. It strikes us that there is a pun theresomewhere, but hanged if we can twist it into proper shape.—[Drake's Magazine.

The startling report is received that a Kansas editor has been robbed of $100. He was probably carrying it to the bank for another man.—[Burlington Free Press.

The chestnut bell has its proper uses, of course, but it is rather hard to have the office-boy ring it on you when you blow him up for the the five hundreth time because he hasn't swept out your office and emptied the waste basket as as he should.—[Somerville Journal.

A Good Case.

A well dressed stranger walked into the office of a Dakota lawyer and real estate agent and said:

"Suppose a man made misrepresentations to me about a piece of land he sold me, what could I do about it?"

"Have him arrested for obtaining money under false pretenses."

"If he said it was good land and it won't raise white beans?"

"He could be heavily fined."

"And that there wasn't a stone on it and I find you could build a stone Methodist church off of every acre?"

"Imprisonment, sir, he would be lucky to get off with five years."

"That's what I thought. Now, if he said there were good buildings, and there proves to be only the lattice-work off of a bale of hay?"

"Why, my dear sir, nothing short of fine and imprisonment, and plenty of it too. It would be a clear case."

"Much obliged; I had about the same ideas myself."

"Well, hold on; don't you want me to take your case?"

"Oh, no, I guess not. You see it was a piece of land you wrote me about, and finally sold me. I've been out looking over it, and have retained this other man across the street to handle my case. I just thought I'd step over and get your views on the subject, too. Well, good morning. I'll see you at the trial."—[Estelline (D. T.) Bell.

Courtesy at Home.

One is forcibly reminded, in going from place to place, how small and seemingly trivial often are the things which go to make or mar the comfort and peace of home. In certain households there is a genuine good will and kindness which only works out half its mission, for the the reason that it does not express itself in little courtesies of of speech and action. These are more important than some of our busy men and women may realize. The ready "thank you," "if you please," etc, at table and elsewhere, the quiet "excuse me," when obliged to pass directly before or inconveutly near another; the loving "good-night" and cheery "good morning," although little things, are helps in making a happy home. Courtesy is but the ready overflow of kindness and good will to all, and is, therefore, but a natural expression which costs nothing, but which often cheers an aching heart, and which never fails to make home brighter and more attractive to old and young.—[Detroit Free Press.

The Degraded Red Man.

"Yes," said a Kentuckian who had been in the far west, "Indians are powerful fond of whiskey. Let 'em once get the taste of whiskey and they'll give up everything for it. An old chief out in western Dakota offered me a pony, saddle, bridle, blanket, and I don't know what else, for a pint of whiskey I had with me."

"And you wouldn't give it to him?"

"Not much. That was the last pint I had left. But shows how fond Indians are of whiskey."—[New York Sun.

... give this ... a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. PROUDFOOT, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge, to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT

German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.	Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.
The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS.	$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.
Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.	Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.
General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use SULPHUR BITTERS, and you will not be troubled.	SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.
Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.	SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

OVER WORKED Women.

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St. N.Y.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure By JOHN H. MCALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years tax collector. Sent free to any address.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FRENCH'S HOTEL,

CITY HALL SQUARE, NEW YORK,

Opposite City Hall and the Post Office.

This Hotel is one of the most complete in its appointments and furniture of ANY HOUSE in New York City and is conducted on the European Plan.

Rooms only One Dollar per day. Half minute's walk from Brooklyn Bridge and Elevated R. R. All lines of cars pass the door. Most convenient Hotel in New York for Merchants to stop at. Dining Rooms, Cafes and Lunch Counter replete with all the luxuries at moderate prices. 8y1

EXHAUSTED VITALITY,

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE
KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopœia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL

Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

ADVERTISERS of others, who wish to examine this paper, or obtain estimates on advertising space when in Chicago, will find it on file at 45 to 49 Randolph St., the Advertising Agency of LORD & THOMAS.

MAKE HENS LAY.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of [illegible], Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of [illegible] said county, deceased, to present the same with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the [illegible] day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 12th, 1886.

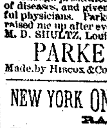
CAROLINE L. ALFRED, Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886. LUCY K. HUBBARD, Executrix.

Are You Consumptive.



Have you Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion? Use Parker's Tonic without delay. It has cured many of the worst cases. Do you suffer from pains in the chest, back or limbs? Have you symptoms of trouble with your Stomach, Liver or Kidneys? Neglect of these warnings leads to the breaking down of the vital powers. Parker's Tonic is the best remedy. Often saves life. Cures when everything else fails. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm.

"For 17 years I suffered from a hacking cough that at last disturbed me so much day and night, that I could neither rest nor sleep. Sometimes it seemed as if I would choke. My friends felt sure that consumption had fastened its deadly hold on me. I tried every kind of medicine, but nothing helped me. I grew steadily worse. Hearing at last of Parker's Tonic, I began to use it, and am thankful to say that it completely cured me."—A. PONMETZ, St. Louis, Mo.

"Though prostrated with a varied complication of diseases, and given up to die by the most skillful physicians. Parker's Tonic kept me alive and raised me up after everything else failed."—MRS. M. D. SHULTZ, Louisville, Kan.

PARKER'S TONIC,

Made by Hiscox & Co., N.Y. Sold by Druggists $1

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.

Time Table Taking Effect July 4th, 1886.

NORTHWARD.					SOUTHWARD.
5	3	1	9	STATIONS.	6	4	2	10
p m	p m	a m	a m	Leave Arrive	a m	a m	p m	p m
5 15	3 00	8 50	6 20	Jay St., N. Y.	9 40	1100	7 30	1120
5 25	3 15	9 10	6 35	42nd St., N. Y.	9 25	1045	[illegible]	1110
7 46	5 17	1112	9 42	West Cornwall	[illegible]	[illegible]	5 40	[illegible]
8 13	5 47	1138	1020	Campbell Hall	7 10	[illegible]	[illegible]	7 10
8 30	6 07	1201	1100	M't'n Main St.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
8 43	6 20	1220	1103	Middletown	6 50	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	6 38	1236	1 00	Winterton	[illegible]	7 42	[illegible]	5 45
[illegible]	6 45	1243	1 15	Bloom'ngb'rgh	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	6 47	1245	1 20	Wurtsboro	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
9 18	7 00	1256	1 30	Summitville	6 00	[illegible]	[illegible]	5 15
....	7 15	1 30	....	Ellenville	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	....
[illegible]	7 19	1 19	2 00	Mountain Dale	5 42	[illegible]	[illegible]	4 50
[illegible]	7 27	[illegible]	2 12	Centerville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
9 53	7 35	1 39	2 26	Fallsburgh	5 27	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1000	7 42	1 46	2 40	Hurley	[illegible]	6 41	[illegible]	[illegible]
1012	7 55	2 00	3 10	Liberty Falls	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1016	8 00	2 05	3 30	Liberty	5 04	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1030	8 13	2 20	3 50	Parksville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1012	8 25	2 40	4 10	L'v'gst'n Man'r	4 40	6 00	2 40	[illegible]
1055	p m	2 55	4 27	Rockland	[illegible]	a m	[illegible]	[illegible]
1107	....	3 08	4 42	Cook's Falls	1417	....	[illegible]	[illegible]
1130	....	3 31	5 10	East Branch	[illegible]	....	1 55	[illegible]
....	13	3 41	5 22	Fish's Eddy	[illegible]	14	1 46	[illegible]
1150	a m	3 54	5 36	Hancock	[illegible]	p m	1 35	[illegible]
1240	7 45	4 40	6 30	Walton	[illegible]	[illegible]	1250	1155
9 00	7 00	5 40	p m	Delhi	....	[illegible]	1040	a m
1 20	8 30	5 15	[illegible]	Franklin	[illegible]	8 06	[illegible]	Pass. & Frt.
1128	8 40	5 22		Sidney Centre	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1 46	9 10	5 40		Sidney [Depart	1 45	[illegible]	1140
....	....	6 30		New Berlin	....	....	7 30
....	....	1555		Guilford Centr	....	....	[illegible]
2 08	9 29	6 00		Guilford	1 20	7 18	1119
2 21	*944	6 13		Oxford	1 06	6 59	1104
2 45	1000	6 30	31	Norwich	1210	6 40	1045	50
....	39	....	....		....	32	....	....
....	a m	....	a m		....	p m	....	p m
2 50	2 15	6 35	7 30	Norwich	[illegible]	[illegible]	1040	[illegible]
....	2 32	*645	7 43	North Norwich	....	7 06	1030	[illegible]
[illegible]	2 55	6 52	7 57	Smyrna	1208	[illegible]	1018	[illegible]
[illegible]	3 06	7 05	[illegible]	Earlville	1200	[illegible]	1010	5 10
[illegible]	[illegible]	7 13	[illegible]	Randallsville	1151	[illegible]	1008	4 45
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	8 27	Eaton	1140	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	4 00	[illegible]	[illegible]	Morrisville	[illegible]	6 10	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	4 31	[illegible]	[illegible]	Munnsville	1117	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	5 00	*755	8 57	Community	[illegible]	[illegible]	*916	[illegible]
4 21	[illegible]	[illegible]	9 10	Oneida Castle	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	9 15	Oneida	[illegible]	5 10	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	p m	[illegible]	9 50	Sylvan Beach	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	9 54	North Bay	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	8 55	1010	Cleveland	1010	4 15	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	1016	B'rnhard's Bay	1004	[illegible]	*800	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	9 05	[illegible]	Constantia	[illegible]	4 00	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	1048	Central Square	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	9 35	1050	Caughdenoy	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	9 40	1100	Pennellville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	1127	Fulton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	1020	1150	Oswego	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
a m	p m	p m	a m	Arrive Depart	p m	p m	a m	a m

Train 1—Stops at Wurtsboro on signal, and at Winterton for New York passengers only.

Train 2—Stops at Guilford Centre for New York passengers only, and at North Norwich on signal.

Train 5—Stops at Hurley, Liberty Falls, Parksville and Cook's Falls on signal.

Train 31—Stops at Caughdenoy on signal.

Train 6—Stops at Morrisville, North Bay and Cleveland on signal; at Symrna, Earlville, Eaton, Munnsville, Community and Bernhard's Bay for New York passengers only.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING NORTH.

Leaves Walton for Delhi 8:00 a. m., 4:45 and 9:45 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Delhi 9:10 a. m., 5:40 and 9:25 p. m. Sundays leave Walton 8.00 a. m., arrive at Delhi 9:00 a. m.

Train 27—Leaves Walton [illegible] p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Sidney 4:10, Norwich 7.30 p. m.

Train [illegible]—Saturdays only; leaves Walton [illegible] p. m., arriving at Sidney [illegible] p. m.

Trains leave Sidney for New Berlin 11:18 a. m. and 7:10 p. m., stopping all stations, arriving at 1:00 and 8:30 p. m.

Train 59—Leaves Norwich [illegible] p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Oneida [illegible] p. m.

Trains leave Randallsville for Utica [illegible], 10:45 a. m., 7:15 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Utica 5:55, 11:59 a. m., 12:45 and [illegible] p. m.

Trains leave Clinton for Rome 7:20, 11:40 and 5:30 p. m., arriving at Rome 7:50 a. m., 12:35 and 6:40 p. m.

Train 55—Leaves Oneida 6:15 p. m., Sylvan Beach 6:45, arriving at North Bay 6.50 p. m.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING SOUTH.

Train 54—Leaves North Bay 7 30 p. m., Sylvan Beach 7:40, arriving at Oneida 8:00 p. m.

Train 58—Sundays only, leaves North Bay 5:31 p. m., Sylvan Beach [illegible], Oneida 6:10, arriving at Oneida Castle 6:13 p. m.

Train 40—Leaves Oneida 9:20 a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Norwich 12:46 p. m.

Trains leave Utica [illegible] a. m., [illegible], 4:25 and 9:15 p. m., stopping at all stations on Utica Division, arriving at Randallsville [illegible] a. m., [illegible], [illegible] and 11:45 p. m., connecting with main line trains.

Trains leave Rome [illegible] a. m., 4:00 and 7:10 p. m., connecting at Clinton with Utica Division trains.

Train 28—Leaves Norwich [illegible] a. m., Oxford 7:25, Sidney [illegible], Franklin 10:30, arriving at Walton 11:30 a. m.

Train [illegible]—Sundays only, leaves Sidney [illegible] a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Walton 11:15 a. m.

Trains leave New Berlin for Sidney [illegible] a. m. and 3:20 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at [illegible] a. m. and 5:25 p. m.

Trains leave Delhi for Walton 7:00 a. m., [illegible] a. m. and [illegible] p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving 7:40 and 11:50 a. m., [illegible] p. m. Sundays leave Delhi 10:00, arrive at Walton [illegible] a. m.

Train 57—Sundays only, leaves Oneida Castle [illegible] a. m., Sylvan Beach [illegible], arriving at North Bay 9:54 a. m.

CONNECTIONS.

Train 2—Connects at Cornwall with West Shore Express for all points north, Saratoga, Whitehall, Plattsburgh, arriving at Montreal [illegible] a. m.

Train 1—Connects at Randallsville for Utica and Rome and all stations on the Utica Division; for all stations to Utica; at Oneida with N. Y. Central for Syracuse.

Train 5—Connects at [illegible] ...

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR.

"The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Feature, Scorn Her Own Image."

VOLUME 19—NUMBER 22

$1.25 a Year in Advance.

FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1886.

Single Copies Three Cents

The Old School Books.

What pleasant memories cluster round these volumes old and worn,
With covers smirched and bindings creased, and thumbed and torn!
These are the books we used to con, I and poor brother Will,
When we were boys together in the school house on the hill!
Well I recall the nights at home, when side by side we sat
Before the fire, and o'er these books indulged in whispered chat.
And how, when father chided us for idling time away,
Our eyes bent to the task as though they'd never been astray.
The old-time proverbs scribbled here, the caution to beware,
("Steal not this book, my honest friend,") scrawled roughly here and there.
The blurs, the blots, the luncheon spots, the numberless dog's ears,
The faded names, the pictures, and, alas! the stains of tears,
All take me back in mind to days when cloudless was the sky,
When grief was so short lived I smiled before my tears were dry:
When next to father's angry frown, I feared the awful nod
That doomed me, trembling, to advance and humbly kiss the rod.
How bright those days! Our little cares, our momentary fears,
And e'en our pains, vanished with a burst of sobs and tears,
And every joy seemed great enough to balance all our woe;
What pity that when griefs are real, they can't be balanced so!
The school house stands in ruins now, the boys have scattered wide;
A few are old and gray like me, but nearly all have died;
And brother Will is one of these; his curly head was laid
Down at the brook, at father's side, beneath the willow's shade.
These books so quaint and queer to you to me are living things;
Each tells a story of the past, and each a message brings.
Whene'er I sit, at eventide, and turn their pages o'er,
They seem to speak in tones that thrilled my heart in days of yore.
The school-boy of to-day would laugh, and throw these old books by;
But, think you, neighbor, could his heart consent if he were I?

—[R. W. McAlpine.

Half of My Life.

Half of life is gone, and I have let
The years slip from me, and have not fulfilled
The aspiration of my youth to build
Some tower of song with lofty parapet.
Not indolence, nor pleasure, nor the fret
Of restless passions that would not be stilled;
But sorrow and care that almost killed
Kept me from what I may accomplish yet.
Though half-way up the hill I see the Past
Lying beneath me with its sounds and sights;
A city in the twilight dim and vast,
With smoking roof, soft bells and gleaming lights.
And hear above me, on the autumnal blast,
The cataract of Death far thundering from the heights.

—[Longfellow.

THE BUSHRANGER.

Reading in your journal an article headed "A Bushranger Interviewed," recalls to my memory a strange incident which occurred some years ago to my own brother, when on his way from Sydney to the gold fields, and for the accuracy of which I can vouch.

At the time of his arrival in Australia the country was in a state of panic; a reign of terror existed, caused by the daring outrages committed on parties on the journey to and from the diggings. Robbery with violence, escorts shot down, and large consignments of gold carried off, were of daily occurrence. The bush was infested by a gang of desperate bushrangers, whose leader, under the cognomen of "Jack," seemed to bear a charmed life. For years he had evaded all the efforts made to capture him, though the military had scoured the bush. No sooner was an outrage perpetrated than all trace of the perpetrators was lost, as if the ground had swallowed them. He had a perfect knowledge of the most secret movements of the parties he attacked. He seemed ubiquitous, outrages occurring in such rapid succession and so far apart. Such an air of mystery hung about him that a superstitious feeling mingled with the mortal terror he inspired. He was represented by some persons who had seen him as a fine, powerful looking man, with nothing forbidding in his appearance.

Even the mad thirst for gold could not induce the bravest person to undertake the journey alone. The gold seekers traveled in large cavalcades, well armed, and determined to fight for their their lives and property. One of these parties my brother joined. He was a handsome young fellow, all fun and love of adventure, and he soon became a general favorite. The "track"—for there were no roads at that time—ran for the greater distance through the bush, some parts of which were so dense as scarcely to admit daylight. Every man was well armed. My brother had brought with him a first-class revolver, purchased in London. This he kept, with other valuables, carefully hidden on his person, his other belongings being stowed away in one of the wagons. When they bivouaced for the night, care was taken that it was an open space, where a good lookout could be kept, to make sure against a sudden surprise. The wagons were placed in the middle, sentries posted and scouts placed so that the flight of a bird or the fall of a leaf could not pass unnoticed. All were on the qui vive. For some days all went well, nothing unusual [illegible] occurring. [illegible] into the bush, and [illegible] if possible, more vigilant, believing that even a mouse could not intrude [illegible] among them.

[illegible] it was found [illegible]

[illegible] forward boldly and told a most plausible story to the effect that he was a stranger making his way to the gold fields; that, notwithstanding the stories he had heard in Sydney of "Jack" and his comrades, he had ventured so far alone, but as he got farther into the bush he lost heart and determined to join the first party he met.

It looked strange that he had no luggage of any kind, not even provisions or anything to indicate that he was bound for a long journey. He made no attempt to account for his mysterious appearance, entered into the arrangements of the cavalcade and made himself quite at home. Every man among them, with the exception of my brother, believed that no one but "Jack" himself could have so taken them by surprise, the general belief being that it could only be from personal experience the terrible bushranger derived the perfect knowledge he displayed when making his raids.

The party agreed that the wisest course would be to await the progress of events, watch his every movement, and let him see that they were prepared to sell their lives dearly, if driven to do so.

The stranger seemed to have an unlimited supply of money, and to be generous about it, paying his way freely. He took at once to my brother, and the liking was mutual; in diggers' parlance they became mates, chummed, walked and smoked together. My brother found him a well informed, agreeable companion, a vast improvement on their rough associates, and he seemed thoroughly to enjoy the society of the jovial young Irish gentleman. A sincere friendship sprung up between them, notwithstanding the desparity in years.

The other members of the party became very anxious, fearing the man would take advantage of my brother's unsuspicious, trusting nature to obtain information that would be useful to him when forming his plans for the attack which was hourly expected—in fact, looked upon as imminent. Nor were their fears allayed when, after a little, he would leave the beaten track and walk into the bush, remaining away for hours, and returning at the most unexpected times and places, showing a thorough knowledge of the bush and all its intricacies and short-cuts quite inconsistent with the story he had told on joining

One thing struck my brother as strange, but without exciting any suspicion on his part. When walking together he would suddenly stand, become quite excited and say: "Oh, it was here such an outrage occurred. It was on the spot on which we are standing that the escort was shot down and a large consignment of gold carried off. They did fight like demons." He seemed to take the greatest pleasure in giving minute details of the different outrages as they had occurred, and always spoke as if he had been an eye witness. But so thorough was my brothers belief in his new friend, tha even this did not shake his faith.

When within a few days of the journey's end, the stranger suddenly and quite unexpectedly declared his intention of parting company. He offered no explanation as to his reason for doing so, though all through he had seemed anxious to impress it on them that he intended to go the entire way to the diggings with them. No questions were asked.

After a general and hearty leave-taking, which, however, did not inspire much confidence, as they were still within range of a possible attack, he asked my brother to take a last walk with him, and led the way into the bush further than he had ever brought him before, and a long distance from the beaten track. The first words the stranger said were: "Mate, don't you carry a revolver?"

The answer was: "Yes, and a first-class one. Not such as is got out here. I brought it from home."

"Show it to me," said the stranger; "I love a real good weapon;" and without the slightest hesitation my brother handed him the revolver, which he examined carefully, and saw that the chambers were loaded. He remarked that it was the "prettiest weapon" he had handled for a long time.

He walked a few steps in advance, and, turning round suddenly, he presented the revolver at my brother's head, calling out in a commanding tone: "Stand!" his countenance so changed as scarcely to be recognized.

At last my brother felt that he stood face to face with the terrible bushranger, but did not lose his presence of mind.

For a moment there was a profound silence, first broken by the stranger saying: "Is there anything on earth to prevent my blowing out your brains with your own weapon, placed in my hands by your own free will? The wild bush round us, I know its every twist and turn. The man is not living who could track my footsteps through its depths, where I alone am its lord and master. Speak, man! What is there to prevent me?"

With a throbbing heart and a quickened pulse my brother answered: "Nothing but your sense of honor."

The man's face brightened, and his voice resumed its friendly tone, and, handing back the revolver, he said: "We stand now on an equal footing. You hold my life in your hands, as I held yours a moment ago. [illegible]

[illegible] are bound for, your revolver will be your only true friend; never let it out of your own keeping, to friend or foe. You are far too trusting. There was not a man but yourself among those from whom I have just parted who did not believe from the moment I joined that I was Jack the bushranger. Well, mate, I am not going to tell you who I am, or how or why I came among you; but of this rest assured that you have no truer friend. You will never know what I have done for your sake. Now, mate, goodby forever. We will never meet again in this world, and it is best for you it should be so." Then leading him back to the track by which he could rejoin his party, he wrung my brother's hand, turned and walked quickly into the bush—leaving no doubt upon my brother's mind that the friend he had so loved and trusted was indeed the dreaded bushranger.

They never did meet again. My brother came home to die; and unless my memory deceives me, Jack was shot in a skirmish with the military.—[Chamber's Journal.

The Human Family.

The human family living to-day on earth consists of about 1,450,000,000 individuals; not less; probably more. These are distributed over the earth's surface, so that now there is no considerable part where man is not found. In Asia where he was first planted there are now approximately about 800,000,000, densely crowded; on an average of 120 to the square mile. In Europe there are 320,000,000, averaging 100 to the square mile, not so crowded, but everywhere dense, and at points over-populated. In Africa there are 210,000,000. In America, North and South, there are 110,000,000, relatively scattered and recent. In the islands large and small, probably 10,000,000. The extremes of the white and black are as five to three; the remaining 700,000,000 intermediate brown and tawny. Of the race 500,000,000 are well clothed—that is wear garments of some kind to cover their nakedness; 700,000,000 are semi-clothed, covering inferior parts of the body; 250,000,000 are practically naked. Of the race, 500,000,000 live in houses partly furnished with appointments of civilization; 700,000,000 in huts or caves with no furnishing; 260,000,000 have nothing that can be called a home, are barbarous and savage. The range is from the topmost round—the Anglo-Saxon civilization, which is the highest known—down to naked savagery. The portion of the race lying below the line of human condition is at the very least three-fifths of the whole, or 900,000,000.—[Boston Transcript.

The Indians' Contribution.

Buffalo Bill's "Wild West" show, which was one of the features of the summer at Staten island, has "gone West," the warriors returning to their homes for a visit. An amusing story is told of the indians on their first arrival at Staten island. The people in the neighborhood regarded their coming with mixed feelings. Some liked it, while many deplored it. On the next Sunday a minister in one of the churches referred in his sermon to the evil influence of such things, and especially condemned this particular show. Oddly enough, another minister on the same day referred to it, only to commend it. This was told to Capt. Cody, so on the next Sunday nearly all the indians and cowboys arrayed themselves carefully, and in a body attended the church of the minister who had spoke well of them. When the collection plate was brought round each dropped into it a shining silver dollar. The other minister never indicated just what his feelings were when he heard of it.

Mark Twain's Prognostication.

Mark Twain recently predicted "by far the most awful disaster that has ever befallen the globe." Here it is: The agent will be a meteoric stone—a meteoric world indeed, since its mass will be one-eighth as great as our own sphere. It will first come in sight about half way between the constellation of the Great Bear and the North star, and will make the circle of the southern skies and then sweep northward with immeasurable rapidity, turning the night of this whole continent into a red glare of the most blinding intensity. As it approaches Canada it will make a majestic swoop downward in the direction of Ottawa, affording a spectacle resembling a million inverted rainbows woven together, and will take the prophet Wiggins right in the seat of his inspiration and lift him straight up into the back yard of the planet Mars, and leave him permanently there in an inconceivably mashed and unpleasant condition. This can be depended on.

Figured Down Fine.

I met one of our old citizens on the street the other day, who was in the seventy-sixth year of his age. He said: 'Do you know that it costs between $6,000 and $7,000 to raise a man of my age?" I answered no. He continued: "Well, sir, in the past seventy-five years I have partaken of 82,125 meals, consumed 61,[illegible] pounds of solid food, drunk 51,100 cups of tea and [illegible] cups of coffee. I have not lived extravagantly and my meals have cost me on an average eight cents each. Therefore the 82,125 meals have cost me [illegible]." Where is there an [illegible] who can figure closer than this?—[illegible] Times.

Those unhappy persons who suffer from [illegible]

THE PREVAILING FASHIONS.

Violet wood fans are a fall fancy.

Plaid velvets are coming in vogue.

The craze for lace is on the increase.

New linen cuffs are very close around the wrist.

Shoulder seams are as short or shorter than ever.

Shirred corsages and full plastrons are all the rage.

Stripes play a conspicuous part in most elegant toilets.

All seams in the waists of new gowns are whaleboned.

Big and little buttons are both worn on the same garment.

Combinations of silk with light wool are popular for the first autumn gowns.

Tinsel-shot Madras lace curtains are pretty novelties in window draperies.

Diagonal draping across the bodice is seen on the new dresses.

Brocaded borders and band as well as vertical stripes are much favored by fashion.

Conical crowns, flattened at the sides and tilted forward, are the feature in fall hats.

Fine table damask has the worked monogram in the center of the napkins and tablecloths.

Silk plush on woolen grounds, in striped broche effects are seen on dress goods counters.

Long shell hairpins are worn straight across the back of the head under the pointed hats and bonnets.

A fashionable combination is plain velvet with gros grain in stripes representing picot-edged ribbons alternately of satin and of gros grain.

The new open sleeves reach just below the elbow, fit easily at the top, have but one seam (that inside the arm), and slope open to about three-eights of a yard in width at the lower end.

Features in fall fashions are waistcoats of various kinds, long over draperies, long waists, sleeves loose above the elbows, full skirts, side panels, little or no looping to skirt draperies, many buttons, high tapering hat crowns, high coiffures and very high dress collars.

Fate of the Great Eastern.

After a somewhat checkered career, the Great Eastern seems at last to have a fair chance of a green and useful old age. Her debut at Liverpool as a floating temple of amusement has proved so successful that she is to become a peripatetic variety show under the ægis of Capt. Wm. Holland, who will take nautical drama under his fatherly protection, and, after steering his ship to victory on the British coasts, will finally take her to the colonies, where she will serve to remind our friends from Great Britain of their 1886 experiences at South Kensington.—[London World.

The exports of the United States during the month of August amounted to $51,168,000.

Why don't you try Carter's Little Liver Pills? They are a positive cure for sick headache, and all the ills produced by disordered Liver. Only one pill a dose.

A portrait of the late Major-General W. S. Hancock in full dress uniform adorns the new $2 silver certificates.

"I Love Her Better than Life."

Well, then, why don't you do something to bring back the roses to her cheeks and the light to her eyes? Don't you see she is suffering from nervous debility, the result of female weakness? A bottle of Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" will brighten those pale cheeks and send new life through that wasting form. If you love her, take heed.

A new street of tombs has been discovered at Pompeii near the eastern gate.

If you have catarrh, use the surest remedy—Dr. Sage's.

Most farmers will now admit that for several years they have cultivated more land than they could well afford. If they had restricted their work to the area teat they could fit in the best condition and cultivate thoroughly their success would have been greater.—[American Cultivator.

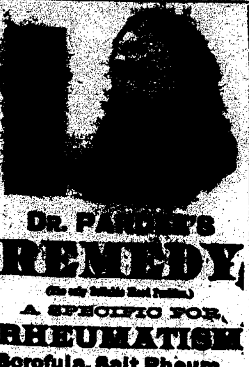
Gen. Fremont is 74 years old, but he is said to look young enough to pass for a man of 60.

A new Roman Catholic orphan asylum is to be built in New York city at a cost of $100,000.

During August 38,366 emigrants arrived at the principal ports of the United States.

There are sixty art schools and 11,000 art students in the state of Massachusetts.

The Vermont Legislature will meet at Montpelier on the first Wednesday in October.



DR. PARDEE'S
REMEDY,
(The only Reliable Blood Purifier.)
A SPECIFIC FOR
RHEUMATISM
Scrofula, Salt Rheum,
Neuralgia, Ring Worm
AND ALL OTHER SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASES. IT REGULATES THE LIVER and KIDNEYS
And Cures Indigestion

And all Diseases arising from an enfeebled condition of the system.

It has proven itself to be the most reliable remedy known for Female Weakness, and for diseases peculiar to the sex.

Send for our pamphlet of testimonials, and read of those who have been permanently cured by its use.

☞ Ask your Druggist for DR. PARDEE'S REMEDY and take no other. Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5.

Manufactured by the
PARDEE MEDICINE CO.,
Rochester, N. Y.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

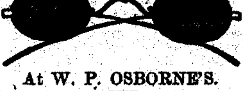
CARTER MEDICINE CO.,
New York City.

-BUY-
Hampden Watches
—AT—
W. P. OSORNE'S.

REPAIRED AT OSBORNE'S.

WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY,

-B-U-Y-



At W. P. OSBORNE'S.
—BUY—
THE WM. ROGERS'
Silver Plated Teaspoons
FOR $1,00 at
W. P. OSBORNE'S.
13m4

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
[illegible]
Furniture Repairing
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible] Repaired and for sale.

We still live and feel healthy. The very disastrous effect of the Oswego county druggists' combination, upon our diet during the past year, seemed so apparent that upon consulting our bank account, and Wilcox's meat scales, we find ourselves yet, quite a ghost. The big guns of the Oswego county drug combination for the prevention of cruelty to fish, are still aimed at our council. Our diet of corn meal and onions enables us to still step heavily upon the necks of the Oswego county poor man's friends.

We still hold forth at the beautiful opera house drug store and have increased our stock of Pure Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Wines, Liquors, Fancy Toilet Articles, Oils, Paints, and in fact everything pertaining to a first-class drug line. We desire to sincerely thank our many Fulton and vicinity friends who have stood by us in our past warfare, and thereby enabled us to secure a good fitting out of our clothes. Our Combination Competitors, have acquired such an affection for us that when we chance to pass them upon the streets, they greet us with the following smiling expression:

Remember our place, The Opera House Drug Store, Opposite the Stephens Opera House, Fulton, N. Y. H. C. GIESLER.

—CALL ON—
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of
STOVES AND RANGES,
Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,
ART UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,
and ACORN,
Parlor Stoves.

THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
GRAND UNIVERSAL,
HAPPY THOUGHT,
HAPPY HOME,
aud DUCHESS
Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the
Howe Ventilating Stove,
which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.
Yours Respectfully,
GEO. JOHNSTON

—THE—
Howe Ventilating Stove.

A NEW STOVE. ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE. AN EXCELLENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE. A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

☞ A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life-principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. [illegible] into the room through the open top, while the foul, [illegible] drops to the floor, is [illegible] through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE
[illegible] Stove Company, Fulton, N. Y.
[illegible]

Business Cards.

M[illegible] Fine Job Printers [illegible]

H. [illegible] Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables [illegible] Nos. 40 and 42 First Street.

DR. [illegible] WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

RINGLAND HOUSE.
OSWEGO, N. Y.
JOSEPH RINGLAND, Prop.
Cor. West Second and Bridge Sts. Centrally located in the business part of the city. Prices reasonable. Commodious Sample Rooms.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞ Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.

☞ Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.

THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF Ladies' Kid Button Shoes
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing
and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

LUMBER! LUMBER!
I have the Largest Assortment of
Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER
In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE
SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c,
Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere
O. RUST.
37tf

LUMBER YARD.
We have in Stock a Complete Assortment of
Lumber, Lath, Shingles
&c., and in fact everything pertaining to a
FIRST-CLASS YARD.
We are prepared to furnish thoroughly Seasoned Lumber at Lowest Rates. Call and be Convinced.
BOOMER & LOOMIS.
Corner Broadway and First Streets.

Job Printing.

—:o:—

We are prepared to do all kinds of
Job Printing.
with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.
PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.
All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,
—AT THE—
FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

[illegible] must be accompanied by a [illegible] name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Rates of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to The Times,

F. D. VanWagenen, Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[Thackeray.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

The general election in this state occurs on Tuesday, November 2d.

The national assembly of the Knights of Labor are in session this week at Richmond, Va.

A fight occurred among the cowboys in the "Wild West" ranch near Castleton, Staten Island, last Sunday. One of them was killed.

William Booth, commonly known as Gen. Booth, the leading spirit of the salvation army, has come to this country to review his command.

Mrs. President Cleveland and her mother, Mrs. Folsom, who have been visiting relatives in Buffalo, returned to Washington yesterday.

Henry George accepted the labor nomination for Mayor of New York last evening. Working men in the city are very enthusiastic over his acceptance.

A winter carnival is again to be held in Montreal this season. It has been decided to hold it on the first week in February. The ice palace is to be grander than ever before.

In England education is compulsory though strange to say there are no free schools. Parents are compelled to send their children to school and pay their tuition fee unless they are paupers.

The Democratic State committee nominated Rufus W. Peckham of Albany, for judge of the court of appeals in New York last week Wednesday and the Republican state committee Charles Daniels of Buffalo for the same office.

The business failures reported to the mercantile agency of R. G. Dun & Co., for the nine months concluding with Sept. 30, numbered 7,088, as compared with 8,167 for the first nine months of last year. The liabilities for 1886 are $77,662,000, as compared with $97,597,000 for the first nine months of 1885. This shows a decline of 1,000 failures and $20,000,000 of liabilities in favor of 1886.

The Court of Appeals yesterday confirmed the decision in the case of Jaehne the New York bribetaker. His sentence therefore holds good and nothing but the intervention of the governor can save him from state prison. District Attorney Martine is greatly pleased with the decision and will at once prepare for trial the cases of the other indicted boodle aldermen.

The Board of Equalization of taxes have fixed the aggregate valuation of property in Oswego county at the sum of $22,439,140, upon which amount a State tax of $66,165.96 must be levied for the current fiscal year, commencing October 1st, 1886. It is 2 95-100 mills on the dollar, for the following purposes, viz: For schools, 1 15-100 mills; for general purposes, 1 12-100 mills; for canals 68-100 mills; total 2 95-100 mills. The total amount of equalized real and personal property in the county is therefore $22,439,140, as against $21,526,189 in 1885.

A man stopping his paper, wrote to the editor: "I think men ottunt to spend their munny for payper, my dad didn't and everybody said he was the intelligentest man in the country, and he had the smartest family of boys that ever dug taters."

We think more of the man that wrote the above note than we do of the man who thinks he ought to take a paper but proposes to beat the editor out of the subscription money.

Hannibal Centre.

Married, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Powel Jones, Sept. 30, by Rev. S. E. Coons, Miss Carrie Jones to Mr. Grant Wilson, both of Hannibal.

Fred Williamson is the happy man. It is a boy.

Mrs. Robert Gifford is on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brown of Fruit Vally visited friends in this place last week.

Mrs. Emma Rogers is sick with bronchial difficulty. Dr. Cooley attends her.

John Decara died at the residence of Mr. Job Jones, Oct. 4, of consumption.

Gilberts Mills.

Prof. Newell, formerly of this place preached here last Sunday. He also delivered a fine temperance lecture on Monday evening.

The Misses Maude and Madge Mason of Oswego attended the aid society's meeting at R. H. Hollenbeck's last Friday and spent the Sabbath with friends here.

Mrs. Mary Bradford has been slightly ill for some time past and has not been able to be out.

Mrs. Dr. Mary Wright has been home for a few days, with her mother, Mrs. Cook, who has been slightly indisposed.

Mrs. Border died Sept. 26, after a long sickness. The funeral services were held at the Free Baptist church on Friday, by Rev. Mr. Fisk assisted by Rev. Mr. Denny and Rev. Mr. [illegible]

[illegible] N. Ward was driving to [illegible]

[illegible] Scriba Corners [illegible] Friday evening [illegible] Admission [illegible]

[illegible] died suddenly from an attack of apoplexy at his home at Scriba Corners last Sunday morning.

E. Anthony, living one and a half miles south of Hannibal Center, had over two hundred fowls stolen from his premises one night last week.

Central Square is enjoying a season of prosperity. More houses have been built there this season than ever before in one year.

Mr. Luther Conklin formerly of Mexico now of New York city is to be married to Miss Jessie May Kennedy of New York on Tuesday, October 14th.

On last Thursday evening Mr. Edward Fradenburgh and Miss Sarah Goraline, both of North Scriba were united in marriage, at the home of the bride's mother.

The R. W. & O. railroad propose to erect at Richland a new engine house, and a repair shop. It is reported, on what should be good authority, that Richland Junction will be made one of the headquarters for the immense freighting business of the road, and that homes will have to be provided there for eighty additional families.

At a special school meeting at Central Square Friday evening, it was decided by a vote of 72 to 36, to establish an Academic department in the Union school. Twenty women cast their first vote on the occasion. The Academic department is expected to be in running order by Jan. 1.

It has been decided to hold a three days trotting meeting at Pendergast Driving Park, Phœnix, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 19, 20 and 21. The events of the first day will be a 2:50 class and a 2:29 class; second day, 2:36 class and a 2:44 class, third day, 2:32 class and 2:25 class. Purse in each race is $150. Entries close Oct. 7.

Oswego Falls.

Water works are now used in the school house at the Upper Falls.

The Fitchett block on Broadway is nearly completed and is a desirable addition to that street.

A fruit social was held at the residence of Rev. Chas. Olmstead, last Friday evening.

The Observer issued the premium list of the fair in the form of a suppliment to their paper last week.

The Riverside and Oswego Falls Mills Co. are reduplicating orders for the "Excelsior" reeds and say they do excel for weaving fine woolen goods and all kinds.—[Wade's Fibre and Fabric.

Dr. Marsh was the possessor of a trained fox until Thursday when it bit his little daughter's hand seriously. The fox was killed.

The board of this village have advertised for sealed proposals from the Thomson-Honston and Schuyler electric light companies for supplying eight lights for six months.

The blacksmith business which has been carried on by Wiltsie & Craver has been discontinued.

What came nearly proving an accident of a serious nature occurred at the new Fitchett block last Thursday. A number of joists fell on some workmen. Fortunately none were seriously injured.

Dexter Bros. have had on exhibition at their store during the past week a quince weighing two pounds. It was sent from Santa Barbara, Cal., by B. R. Howe.

Agnes Kelly was arrested last week by Constable Parker. She is of unsound mind and occasionally becomes violently insane. She was later on taken to Utica by Superintendent Spencer of Mexico.

Grand Opening at the Bee Hive, Oct. 14th, 15th and 16th.

Palermo.

Miss May Jenninge of Palermo Centre attended the wedding of Miss Matie Randall of Fulton last week.

Miss Dona Hannan of the Palermo Center House is attending the fall term of school at Fulton.

Fred Moore of Palermo is said to have received about fifty dollars in premiums at the different fairs in this county on stock.

Earl Brown of Clifford is teaching school at the Red School House this winter.

L. J. Campbell and wife are to start back to Kansas about the 15th of this month.

W. H. Hannan will attend the fair at Syracuse this week with his patent thill coupling.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Gates of South Scriba were in town on Sunday visiting at her father's home.

New Haven.

There have been some changes in real estate regardless of the weather or of prophesy. Edward Clark has bought a shop for wagon making near the stone mill and also the house and lot of Mrs. Matilda Drake for a home. Consideration for the two $1,150.

N. E. Smith, at the village, and Cos, of Scriba, are buying cider apples at 20 cents per 100 pounds.

The grangers met at W. W. Squires' yesterday for a social time.

Mrs. H. G. Cheever picked a watermelon that weighed 21¾ pounds and 33 inches in circumference. She has some nice cabbages that are in about the same proportions.

Mr. Lucas and wife have returned to New York.

Mr. Howlett and wife are soon expected home from their extended western trip. They were last heard of at Minneapolis, Minn.

Mr. Arthur J. Nichols, of Newton, Kan., called on the writer one day this week and also visited in Mexico. He is a brother of the two Nichols boys [illegible]

[illegible] past. Hardly a week [illegible] the entire year, that the capital is not favored with some sort of [illegible] —scientific, military, religious, temperance, women's rights, masonic or Knights of Pythias. Every year the number increases. It is becoming customary for all societies throughout the country, important or otherwise, to make Washington their rendezvous.

The question of having a grand National Drill here next spring has been discussed for some time. It is proposed to have the military display in one of the open parks near the Washington monument, and a number of prizes will be offered. It is believed that the drill will attract too large a body of soldiers for convinence in military evolutions; and so a careful selection will be made, in order to include only the cream of the National guardsmen of the country. None but well recognized and regularly organized companies will be allowed to compete.

This has been an interesting week in Washington. There have been two conventions, a religious and scientific; a regatta, and a grand assembly of Royal Arch Masons. These latter presented a very imposing appearance as they paraded the streets in their bright uniforms and were reviewed by the President. They also attended en masse, one of Mr. Cleveland's public receptions. One enthusiastic young man exclaimed "I am so glad to be able to shake hands with you. You are the first President I ever helped to elect." "Well, you are young yet," responded Mr. Cleveland, you will have plenty more chances."

But what has deservedly attracted the most attention during the week, not only on account of its novelty, but because of the really remarkable character of the exhibits, it has been the fair given by the colored people of the District, to show the progress made by their race for the past twenty years. Everything admitted to the exhibition is the work of negroes, and there is much that shows not only intelligent mastery of the principles involved, but also of fine skill and taste in execution. Some of the work exhibited by the ladies would bear comparison with the best results attained in a decorative art school. The men are also well represented in the exhibits, Their work displaying real inventive genius and mechanical skill.

A number of changes have been made in the departments of law. The recently appointed public printer, Mr. Benedict, found that on examining the condition of his office, that the sum of money appropriated to pay expenses was much less than the necessary amount. He decided to make extensive reductions in the clerical force, and 375 persons have been dismissed. The work of the Government printing office will be facilitated by this change, as it is an open secret that in many cases three men were employed to do what would hardly be considered a good day's work for one, and there was absolutely no space for effective labor in the over crowded rooms.

A large part of the President's time since his return has been devoted to inquiring about Federal office holders who have violated the order that he issued just before he left to the effect that they should not engage in political conventions. He spoke in very decided terms on the subject, and has ordered a thorough investigation to be made of each case where an officer is charged with having taken any part in recent conventions. He said that the order was not given for mere effect, and he intended to have it respected; and when it was fuly proven that it had been violated, the guilty parties would be summarily dismissed from the service. Mr. Cleveland has also requested the heads of the various departments to furnish him a list of the names of persons who were charged with having disobeyed the order. He believes that a majority of the supposed malefactors are in the post office and internal revenue service. The most palpable violation of the order, however, has been on the part of the Federal office holders in New Orleans to bring about the renomination of Congressman King. When speaking on the subject, Mr. Cleveland is said to have expressed himself with great indignation.

Grand Opening at the Bee Hive, Oct. 14th, 15th and 16th.

BASE BALL.

Syracuse has promises next year from Kappel, Broughton and Andrews.

Syracuse had the reputation of playing the most brilliant losing game of any International club.

John L. Sullivan is to umpire a game between doctors and lawyers at Waterbury, Conn., next Saturday.

It is considered quite likely that the New Yorks will have a duplicate team next year from which to draw in case of sickness or injury to the regular men.

The Utica and Syracuse clubs played three exhibition games for the championship of the two cities, Sept. 27, 29 and 30. Syracuse won the first by 1 to 0 and Utica the other two by 4 to 2 and 3 to 1.

The base ball season is virtually at a close and will end in the following positions. National league; Chicago, Detroit, New York, Philadelphia, Boston, St. Louis, Kansas City, Washington. American Association; St. Louis, Pittsburg, Brooklyn, Louisville, Cincinnati, Atlantic, Metropolitan, Baltimore. International league; Utica, Rochester, Toronto, Hamilton, Buffalo, Syracuse, Binghampton, Oswego.

[illegible]

Our school in the [illegible] district commenced [illegible] M. Sharp as teacher. [illegible]

[illegible] from [illegible] no longer appear. A glance at the prospectus, however, will make it clear that it is not proposed to allow the magazine to fall off a whit in interest the coming year. The continued stories and articles just completed will be closely followed by the attractive features promised for the succeeding volume.

LIPPINCOTT'S.

In this number Edgar Fawcett contributes a remarkable study of a certain phase of middle-class life in New York, entitled "A Lear of Tompkins Square." Its vivid character-painting, its deep yet quiet pathos, and its simple direct, forceful narrative make this one of the best short stories that Mr. Fawcett has ever written, and one of the most notable magazine stories of the year. We find also in this number Joe J. Ellick's sketch entitled "Experiences of a Base-ball Umpire." Mr. Ellick's experiences, it will be remembered, were of a thrilling character, as both in Washington and in Philadelphia he barely escaped from the hands of the infuriated mob. He makes a strong plea for justice to the umpire to the press and public and players, all of whom, he insists fail to understand the necessary limitations which his merely human nature imposes upon that much-abused personage. An interisting announcement is made by the publishers. Beginning with November every number will contain, in addition to the regular magazine matter, a complete novel by some popular author. The initial story will be furnished by John Habberton, and will be entitled "Brueton's Bayou." The subscription price will be raised to $3.00 per year but the price per number will remain unchanged.

THE CENTURY.

The Century for October is a number of uncommon interest and entertainment. An editorial announcement is made to the effect that in the November number will be given the first chapter of "The Authorized Life of Lincoln," by John G. Nicolay and John Hay, who were the president's private secretaries. This promises to be by far the most satisfactory biography of the great war president yet given to the public. The authors have at their command all the materials requisite for the task. Their close association with Lincoln as his private secretaries and their high literary reputation give assurance that the story of Lincoln's life as told by them will be a work of monumental importance and value. The biography will appear as a serial, accompanied by carefully prepared illustrations. As a suitable prelude to the biography Clarence King has in the present number a sketch of the biographers of Lincoln, with full page portraits. The war papers include Gen. W. S. Rosencran's description of his victory at Corinth; other papers of a distant personal interest are reminiscences of Stonewell Jackson, by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Margaret J. Preston, and "Stonewall Jackson's Last Battle," by his aide-de-camp, Capt. James Power Smith, who helped the mortally-wounded general from the field at Chancellorsville. The other contents consist of a wide variety of the best things in current literature. The Century company, New York.

OUR LITTLE ONES.

This delightful magazine comes this month fully up to its usual standard. It is replete with illustrated stories and poems for little people. Published every month at $1.50 per year by the Russell Publishing Company, Boston, Mass.

WIDE AWAKE.

In this number Sophie May has the opening story "The Gypsy Monkey" her stories are always entertaining. Mrs Foote's tale of the burning of Royalton, entitled "The Heroism of Mrs. Hendee" is extremely instructive and entertaining. Mrs. Sherwood's "Royal Girls and Royal Courts" is an historical article describing the German Court and some of its Princess. Rossiter Joenson's long article on "Bridges" is well worthy of perusal. There is also found a seven page ballad of the Children's Crusade by Susan Coolidge. These are a few of the many rich things that are to be found in the October number.

D. Lothrop & Co., Publishers, Boston, Mass.

One of the bondsmen of Gilbert Joslyn of Oswego, indicted for criminal intimacy with his ward, Butla Voss, 10 years old, has surrendered him and withdrawn the bond, being convinced of Joslyn's guilt. The prisoner is a man of property and respectability, and is married to a graduate of the normal school. The prosecution claims to be able to corroborate the girl's testimony.

Newspaper Advertising.

Newspaper advertising is now recognized, by business men having faith in their own wares, as the most effective means for securing for their goods a recognition of their merits.

Newspaper advertising compels inquiry and when the offer is of good quality and at a fair price, the natural results are increased sales.

Newspaper advertising is a permanent addition to the reputation of the goods advertised, because it is a permanent interest.

Newspaper advertising is the most energetic and vigilant of salesmen, addressing thousands each day, always in the advertiser's interest, and ceaselessly at work seeking customers from all classes.

Newspaper advertising promotes trade for even in the dullest times advertisers secure by far the largest share of what is being done. While the advertiser eats and sleeps, printers, [illegible]

[illegible]	Os'ego	"	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	"	"	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
A [illegible]	Blu'vil	"	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
L [illegible]	"	"	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
D Quinn	"	"	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
O Quinn	"	"	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
W Patterson	Fulton	"	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
H [illegible]	"	"	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
H Miller	"	"	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Ed Harvey	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	[illegible]
W T Church	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	[illegible]
R H Stow	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	[illegible]
W Althouse	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	[illegible]
S Perry	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	[illegible]
S Storm	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	35 00
Chas Dodge	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	35 00
J Knapp	SenHil	"	1 m	[illegible]	30 00
G Doyle	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	30 00
W [illegible]	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	35 00
J [illegible]	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	35 00
J Sheridan	Os'ego	"	1 m	3500	35 00
B Cavellier	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	35 00
C Bough	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	35 00
J Murphy	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	35 00
J Daly	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	35 00
T O'Hara	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	35 00
V'nValkenburg	"	"	1 m	[illegible]	35 00
H Halstead	"	"	1 m	3500	35 00
C Buxton	C'ug'y	"	1 m	3500	35 00
A McArthur	Eucid	"	1 m	3500	35 00
Peter Conley	Fulton	"	1 m	1000	10 00
					940.00

STATE SCOW CHECK ROLL

E Richardson	Fulton	Foreman	1	m 50 00	50 00
Geo Barrett	"	C Labor	1	m 35 00	35 00
F Garrison	"	"	1	m 35 00	35 00
J Gilhooly	"	"	1	m 35 00	35 00
J O Lee	Ph'nix	"	1	m 35 00	35 00
M Connors	Fulton	"	1	m 35 00	35 00
Ed Sayles	"	"	1	m 35 00	35 00
J Hayden	"	"	1	m 35 00	35 00
W LaFount'in	"	Team	1	m 75 00	75 00
F Hayden	"	Cook	1	m 15 00	15 00
					385.00

The above labor was performed as follows:

90 days rep towpath and berme bank	133 27
20 " remove coffer dam Battle Island	29 60
20 " rep lock houses	29 60
90 " bl'k head Ful'n feed gate Osw'o	133 27
40 days repairing locks	59.26
260	385 00

STATE SHOP CHECK ROLL

John Boardman	Fult'n	Foreman	13¾d	2.40	33 00
Walter Bradley	"	Carpenter	32¼d	1.80	58 50
Charles Easton	"	"	19⅜	1.60	31 00
Robert Stow	"	C Laborer	3⅛	1.00	3 12
Almon Barnes	"	Team	⅝	2.40	1 50
					127 12

The above labor was performed as follows:

52¾ days making lock gates	99 00
2½ days rep lock houses	4 50
2½ days feed gate Oswego	4 50
7½ days bulkhead Fulton dam	13 50
⅝ days rep break	1 00
⅝ days rais'g and pump'g state boat	3 12
⅝ days team	1 50
	127.12
Fulton Times Co., publishing abstract	4 25
Total	$1,456.37

State of New York, } s s :
Oswego County. }

L. T. Richardson, Superintendant of canal repairs, and having charge of the line of canal specified in the above abstract being duly sworn, doth depose and say that the foregoing abstract, amounting to the sum of $1,450.37, is a true abstract of all vouchers taken by him, as such superintendent, during the month of September '86.

Subscribed and sworn to before me }
this 5 day of Oct., 1886. }

L. T. RICHARDSON
Superintendent.

C. W. STREETER
Notary Public.

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

Cheese made another advance of ½c to-day with an active but not excited market. Stock is now sold off on an average for two weeks of September. There seemed to be an impression among salesmen that prices would be a little lower today, and for this reason some of them did not box their goods or put in an appearance on the market. The ruling price is the same it was two years ago to-day; and 2¾ cents higher that a year ago.

Utica, Oct. 4.

Transactions for the day were as follows: 5 lots, 500 boxes, at 11¼c; 59 lots, 5,131 boxes at 11½c; 8 lots, 574 boxes at 11⅝c; 24 lots, 2,672 boxes at 11¾c; 7 lots, 940 boxes at 11⅞c; 6 lots, 672 boxes at 12c; and 100 boxes at p. t. Sales 10,589 boxes, ruling price 11½c. Transactions of corresponding day in 1885, 12,895 boxes, ruling price 8¾c; in 1884, 9,200 boxes, ruling price 11½c.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

Little Falls, Oct. 4.

Cheese—A strong effort has been made by salesmen to-day to keep prices up to the point reached last week, and no little surprise is expressed that they have succeeded. Their ideas of value were so firmly fixed that many of them went home without selling rather than part with their cheese for less than 12 cents. The conditions existing here do not materially vary from those of one week ago. Several of our heaviest dealers postively refuse to pay the extreme price, and the figures are only realized in two instances, while many lots equally as good, except for some special order, have sold at ¼c. under.

The transactions are shown by the following table:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
1	70	11 cents
5	221	11¼cents
45	3,186	11½cents
30	2,241	11¾cents
2	181	12 cents
9	705	com.
82	6,604
Farm dairy	907
Total	7,511

Farm Dairy—The prices on farm dairy cheese range from 10½c., to 12c. with the bulk at 11½c.

Butter—The sales of butter amounted to 130 packages of farm dairy, at 23c. to 26c. bulk 25c and 25 packages of creamery at 26c. to 28c. bulk at 27c,

AT FULTON.

Twenty factories were represented at this market on Monday evening and about 1,600 boxes were sold at 11½ cents, Utica ruling. A few boxes were sold at 11¾ cents. Some factories held over for better prices.

Vienna Bakery.

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionery, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton. Confectionery from 12 cents upward. A fresh supply of crackers, bread and cake constantly on hand. Call and examine my stock. John Barker,
18tf 26 First st.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
39 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.
Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.
Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
[illegible]
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
[illegible]

[illegible] Fulton, N. Y., Sept [illegible], 1886.

[illegible]

The minutes of the last three previous meetings were read and approved.

The following bills were reported from the Finance Committee and the Clerk directed to draw orders on the proper funds in payment of the same:

John Cavanaugh, lamp lighting,	$66.67
Fulton Times, printing proceedings,	18.80
Willard Johnson, lumber,	[illegible]
George F. Sharp, Street Commissioner,	[illegible]

H. L. Taylor from the fire department reported that the coal bin at the engine house had fallen down, also that the new hose companies were in need of rubber coats and rubber boots.

The bill of the Button Fire Engine Co. of $41.68 for supplies for the Fire Department was referred to the supply committee, together with the matter of rubber coats and boots for the two new hose companies.

The President and Trustees Chase and Kendrick were constituted a committee to see about the coal bin at the engine house.

Mr. Pardee made a motion which was seconded by Mr. Johnson that the President execute the contract with the Schuyler Electric Light Company as submitted by the village attorney. The motion was lost, Trustees Pardee and Johnson voting for the motion and Trustees Bradford Kendrick More and Chase against it

It was moved and carried that specifications be made and proposals be invited for the construction and maintenance of an electric lighting system for lighting streets in the village. Trustee Kendrick submitted the following specifications:

SPECIFICATIONS

For the construction and maintenance of an electric lighting system for lighting streets in the Village of Fulton, N. Y., under the following conditions;

1st. Proposals will be received from the Schuyler and Thomson-Houston companies only at this letting.

2d. The number of lights to be furnished thirty-seven. Each light to be of 2,000 candle-power, and lighted every night of the year from twilight until 12 o'clock midnight.

3d. The lights will be located as designated by village map or memoranda, subject to slight changes which the Board of Trustees may direct.

4th. A proposition may be received for lighting the streets aforesaid for the term of one year to date from completion and practical operation of the system and for additional lights that may be required.

5th. A proposition will be received for lighting the streets aforesaid "pro rata" from the time of completion of the system until the next annual charter election of the village of Fulton, N. Y.

6th. It will be required that the system shall be in practical working order on or before the first day of December next under a forfeiture of one dollar and fifty cents per day, for each day's delay thereafter up to the time of practical operation.

7th. The Board of Trustees reserve the right to reject all proposals to or to award to the company which in their judgment make the most favorable proposition based upon these specifications

8th. The company to whom the contract may be awarded, shall furnish good and sufficient bonds to indemnify the village against any loss or damage which may accrue from the construction and maintenance of such system.

The same were adopted by the following vote. Trustees Kendrick, Bradford, Chase and More voting aye, Trustees Johnson and Pardee voting nay.

On motion the Board adjourned.

M. C. Highriter, Clerk.

Three Peculiarities

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier and regulating medicine, is characterized by three peculiarities, namely:

1st: The combination of the various remedial agents used.

2d: The proportion in which the roots, herbs, barks, etc., are mixed.

3d: The process by which the active medicinal properties are secured.

The result is a medicine of unusual strength and curative power, which effects cures heretofore unequalled. These peculiarities belong exclusively to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and are

Unknown to Others

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared with the greatest skill and care, by pharmacists of education and long experience. Hence it is a medicine worthy of entire confidence. If you suffer from scrofula, salt rheum, or any disease of the blood, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, or kidney and liver complaints, catarrh or rheumatism, do not fail to try

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all my friends as the best blood purifier on earth." Wm. Gaff, druggist, Hamilton, O.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me of scrofulous humor, and done me worlds of good otherwise." C. A. Arnold, Arnold, Me.

A book containing many additional statements of cures will be sent to all who desire.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

NEW COAL FIRM.
REMEMBER THAT
HART & CULLEN
ARE SELLING THE
Wilkesbarre and Pittston Coal.
THE BEST COAL MINED.
Leave Orders at Hart's Pottery, or Cullen's Meat Market and you will find prices very satisfactory.
Coal Delivered in Fulton or Oswego Falls.
21m3

SCHOOL OF SHORT HAND
—AND—
TYPE WRITING.
CLASSES DAY AND EVENING.
Lessons by Mail a Specialty.
Terms Moderate. For further particulars apply to
Miss Mattie G. Ham,
66 and 67 Wetting Block,
18m3 Syracuse, N. Y.

The Sun.
The Best Newspaper in America, and by far the Most Readable.
Agents wanted everywhere to earn money in distributing the Sun's Premiums.
The most interesting and advantageous offers ever made by any Newspaper.
No Subscriber ignored or neglected.
[illegible]

[illegible] OFFERS!
$1.25 will give you one year's Subscription to The Times and Four months Subscription to the
DETROIT FREE PRESS
The most original, piquant and entertaining of American Newspapers. $1.25 will also give you one year's Subscription to
THE FULTON TIMES
and one year's Subscription to the
AMERICAN FARMER,
A Sixteen page Agricultural Magazine, which is rapidly taking rank as one of the leading Agricultural Publications of this country. The same offers to old Subscribers who pay subscription to date and one year in advance.
SUBSCRIBE! SUBSCRIBE.

PRESERVE YOUR HEALTH.
ROGERS' GRAPOLINE
[illegible]
Sold by all Druggists. A. H. ROGERS & CO. Geneseo, N.Y.

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.
The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:
A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.
A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.
A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.
A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.
Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.
One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.
House and Lot 24 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y
Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at Fulton, N. Y.
C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

GREAT SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store,
Prices Below all Competition
On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.
IN DYE STUFFS
I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at
R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.
A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.
No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.
Remember my motto is strictly first class goods—and prices below all Competition.
48tf R. E. PHILLIPS.

Scranton Coal!
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered!
At the Following Prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

SCOTT'S
[illegible]

WARNER BRO'S

CELEBRATED CORALINE CORSETS
Five Gold and Two Silver Medals, awarded in 1885 at the Expositions of New Orleans and Louisville, and the Inventions Exposition of London.
The superiority of Coraline over horn or whalebone has now been demonstrated by over five years' experience. It is more durable, more pliable, more comfortable, and never breaks.
Avoid cheap imitations made of various kinds of cord. None are genuine unless "Dr. Warner's Coraline" is printed on inside of steel cover.
FOR SALE BY ALL LEADING MERCHANTS.
WARNER BROTHERS,
353 Broadway, New York City

INSURANCE SOLICITORS
Now working Fire, Life, Industrial or Assessment Insurance, and other solicitors who desire to better themselves, can secure profitable engagements with N. Y. State Relief Association. Large commission and interest in renewals; also premium asked for satisfactory work. Address J. E. ALLANSON, Sec'y., 44 State Street, Albany, N.Y
14w3

ADVERTISERS by addressing GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., New York, can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of ADVERTISING in American Newspapers. 100 page pamphlet, 30cts.

OUR BABY'S FIRST YEAR, by Marion Harland, also containing much valuable information. 48 page book. Sent on receipt of 2-cent stamp by Reed and Carnrick, Mercantile Exchange Building, N. Y.

2,000 AGENTS WANTED for the NEW WORK.
GLADSTONE—PARNELL
AND THE GREAT IRISH STRUGGLE.
By the eminent author, Hon. T. P. O'Connor, M. P. for Liverpool, and R. M. McWade, Esq. Endorsed by Hon. C. S. Parnell. A thrilling history of Irish oppression and the mighty struggle for Home Rule that is rocking the British Empire to its centre; also Biographies of the leaders. An entirely new work from high authority, of all absorbing interest, richly illustrated, and an immense demand. Apply quickly to
W. A. HOUGHTON & CO.,
12 East 14th St., New York.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE
BEST IN THE WORLD Get the Genuine. Sold Everywhere.

ADVERTISERS or others, who wish to examine this paper, or obtain estimates on advertising space when in Chicago, will find it on file at 45 to 49 Randolph St., the Advertising Agency of LORD & THOMAS.

WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED
With or without Patent Index.
The Attention of [illegible] is invited to the fact that in [illegible] the latest issue of this work, they get containing 3000 more words and nearly 2000 more Illustrations than any other American Dictionary.
A DICTIONARY
A GAZETTEER OF THE WORLD
[illegible]
A BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY
[illegible]
ALL IN ONE BOOK.
[illegible]

[illegible]

GOING SOUTH.

[illegible]

GOING NORTH.

New York and Philadelphia Express [illegible]

[illegible] Accommodation [illegible]

New York and Philadelphia Express [illegible]

The 6:15 a. m., and 6:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. [illegible], Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:18 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:06 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:27 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	9:57 p. m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:16	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19	3:34	6:29

Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS.

F. E. Bacon is in New York purchasing fall and winter goods.

Mrs. F. David of Phoenix visited friends here last Saturday.

Mrs. F. D. VanWagenen is visiting friends in Schenectady and Albany.

Henry Bently of Boonville was in town last week, the guest of W. G. Gage.

Mrs. S. Harris, formerly of this village is now living at Florence, Oneida county.

Miss Mary O'Hare of F. E. Bacon's store is in New York purchasing millinery goods.

Mrs. Bradford Kennedy of Syracuse has been visiting A. Howe and family during the past week.

Mrs. M. E. Jones and daughter May, of Streeter, Ill., are visiting at Ed. Jones', on Broadway.

Alfred Putman and family who have been stopping at Mrs. Hume's have returned to their home in Florida.

James Smith who has been spending the summer at the Thousand Islands has returned to his home in this village.

Miss Jennie Elder left yesterday morning for Rochester, where she is to complete a course of study in stenography.

Miss Alice Saunderson who has been visiting friends here for the past few weeks, has returned to her home in Brooklyn.

Miss Jennie Chamberland and Miss Maggie Caldwell of Syracuse University passed Sunday in this place the guests of Miss Gertrude Dada.

Mr. and Mrs. Lomasney who were in attendance at the funeral of the late Mr. Thomas Lomasney have returned to their home in Schenectady.

R. A. Stowell, who formerly carried on the Stowell 25 cent and bargain store in this village, now of Syracuse, was in town yesterday.

Allan Gilmour of Albany and Geo. Coats, one of the oldest conductors on the N. Y. Central railroad, passed Sunday in this village, the guests of F. D. VanWagenen.

D. C. Highriter, of Fulton, N. Y., has been spending a few days in town. He is on his way to complete a course at the Baltimore Medical College.—[Perth Amboy Republican.

The venerable Norman Rowe of New Haven, visited Oliver Breed Friday, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Dr. Lee, and granddaughter, Mrs. Sheridan, of Fulton. Although ninety-two years of age, Mr. Rowe is quite robust, and his intellect is bright and unimpaired by the lapse of years. Many old friends took advantage of his brief stay here to pay their respects to him.—[Phoenix Register.

Grand Opening at the Bee Hive, Oct. 14, 15 and 16.

TO RENT.

Having sold my stock of harness and carriages, I offer my store to rent, also rooms suitable for offices on second floor and a large and commodious hall on third floor.

All accounts due me must be settled at once. WESLEY McCULLY. 21t3

T. F. Crockford, the traveling tinware merchant, carries a fine line of tinware, wooden ware, agate ware wrapping paper, etc., which he is offering in exchange or rags. Trade with him. 21tf

For a few days longer, Draper will sell several patterns of hanging lamps at wholesale prices. 19tf

[illegible] English [illegible] of every theatre goer. Such, however, is the fate of every one who for some time hence shall attend the Casino. The chief dramatic personae are Miss Violet Cameron and Lord Lonsdale. The first being the leading lady in the new comic operetta, "The Commodore," the other is the manager. Let me give you some of his history. Speaking after the manner of Democratic America, he is Cecil Lowther, and by way of being more difinite, let me add his English patronymic is Lord Lonsdale. At home in London, he patronises prize fights and has been known as the admirer of the "Jersey Lily", who, by the way, is now about to commence her theatrical season. It was not so long ago that in behalf of Mrs. Langtry he appeared as one of the principals in a fistic encounter with another noble(?) Lord. In addition to all these things, he has at his disposal 40 or more church livings.

The new theatrical star whom this distinguished gentlemen managers is a rather bright young lady whose husband, now in this country either for appearances sake or otherwise, protests strongly against the attentions of nobility. She will appear in costume adopted to the needs of the novel character she represents and such costume will be such a piquant union of the masculine and feminine sort of drapery, the former, by the way predominating, that the house will be filled with in inane dudes whose bump of asininity is so largely developed.

The husband has, as before remarked objected to these lordly attentions and his wife, "The Commodore" in so called self defence, invoked the majesty of the law to keep this present appondage quiet. This proceeding has of course, created a sensation. I am not quite sure whether this is an arranged affair to enchance the profits of the season. An old manager once said that if his leading lady could become involved in a rather sensational legal trouble his profits were sure. Be it said to the credit of the English people that efforts tending to prove this noble lord an impostor are now in progress.

⁂

Investigations create innovations. Some new thing begets a new fashion. So the new Fifth avenue stages have a new fashion that may become the thing. These new stages have two seats on the top, one partly used by the driver. The other day while strolling on the avenue, I saw sitting on one of these top seats four young ladies in the latest fall style of dress. It was rather startling, at first. The thing will become popular. It savors of English coaching on a moderate scale and an excellent display for the new fall styles in feminine attire.

⁂

The recent activity in the real estate market shows that notwithstanding the rate of $2.32 per $100 for taxable real estate, land property is still the favorite method of investment. Excepting the Vanderbilts and Goulds, the wealthy families of this city prefer real estate. The Astors claim to own 30,000 houses in the city, or at least that is the number they are reputed to own. The Goelets, Roosevelts and Stevens have very large amounts of property. A peculiarity of this estate is its lease tenure. The larger part of leased real estate is on long leases, a provision of which stipulates that the tenant shall pay all taxes of every nature whatsoever. So that the owner need not trouble himself, only to collect his rent. A certain plot of ground on Broadway pays a ground rent of $25,000 per annum and the tenant erected the building, besides paying the taxes. One other thing these real estate sales show, namely: The tendency northward of the fashionable quarter. A hundred years ago, it was at Bowling Green. In 1800, City Hall Park was the high toned locality. Then by degrees it ascended northward Bond street was the abode of fashion forty years ago, then 14th street, then Reservoir Square. Now Riverside Drive and near the upper part of Central Park is looming up as the aristocratic quarter. We might change Berkeley's lines to, Northward the tide of riches takes its way. Certainly, no more beautiful place could be found for a residence than Riverside Drive. A free view of the river, beautiful roadway and pleasant surroundings render the drive very charming. WANDERER.

Just received at D. C. Draper's, a large order of imported crockery and China, and a fine line, all new patterns, China tea sets and chamber sets, which I will offer for the next 30 days at $1.00 less on chamber sets and $2.00 to $4.00 less on tea sets than any house in Oswego or Syracuse, to reduce part of over-stock. Call and see goods and prices, at 15 Oneida street. 17tf

Largest Stock!

Lowest Prices!

CLOTHING!

MEN'S UNDERWEAR.

OVERCOATS!

HATS AND CAPS.

Don't buy until you have seen our stock.

D. C. [illegible] & CO.

Hundreds of Pairs of Boots, Shoes and Rubber Goods, just received and must be sold. Above goods are fresh from the factory and very cheap, at

A. E. NETTLETON'S.

Cheese still continues to jump upward. Butter does not seem to lag far behind.

The Onondaga county fair began yesterday at Syracuse and is to continue through Friday.

Pay up your subscription to THE TIMES and take advantage of one of our excellent offers.

Saturday THE TIMES force was increased. It is an eight pound boy and its name is Mosher.

A decree of absolute divorce has been granted Mrs. Mary A. Hume of Fulton from Geo. A. Hume of Indiana.

The D. L. & W. and the "Phoenix" road are carrying passengers at reduced rates this week for those desiring to attend the Onondaga county fair.

Sidney W. Moore, agent for the Baker cultivator, which is manufactured in this village, took the first premium at the fair recently held in Vernon, Oneida county.

Myron Phelps and family who have resided in Syracuse for the past few years have returned and are now occupying their house on Cayuga street in this village.

A special excursion train will be run over the Midland road from Oswego next Saturday afternoon. A large crowd from Oswego is expected to take advantage of this.

Affairs are beginning to assume a brighter aspect in the Oswego Falls mills. Now hands are being put on daily and it looks as though the mills would soon be running at their full capacity again.

Hiram lodge No. 144 of this village will give a reception to Oswego lodge No. 127 F. & A. M. at Masonic hall this evening. The third degree will be conferred, after which refreshments will be served.

F. E. Bacon introduces a new and novel feature in the display of his full assortment of fall goods. Brown day Oct. 12, Blue day Oct. 14, Red day Oct. 16. We think Oct. 14 was appropriately named as the ladies in general will be exceedingly blue on that day owing to their inability to purchase all that they will desire. Coppright on the pun secured.

Drs. Pardee and Hall have formed a co-partnership in the practice of medicine in this village. The senior member of the firm has held a large and lucrative practice for many years and is one of our oldest physician. Dr. Hall is a recent graduate from the Baltimore Medical College and has had excellent advantages. During the time he has been practicing here he has worked up a good practice. The firm will be a strong one. The card containing their office hours will be found in another column.

Brown. Blue. Red.

Brown Day Oct. 12. Blue Day Oct. 14.
Red Day Oct. 16.
—AT—
F. E. BACON'S
Dry Goods, Carpets and Millinery Stores.
In place of our general Opening Day we will introduce a new feature by displaying Brown Goods of all kinds on Tuesday,
October 12,
From Brown Silks to Brown Wool Goods,
Brown Crash to Brown Cotton, Brown
Hose to Brown Ribbons. Everything in Brown with Combination.
Blue Day on Thursday, Oct. 14.
All articles in Blue will then be shown.
Red Day, Saturday Oct. 16, when we will bring out the Red in all shades and all kinds.
Brown, Blue and Red it shall be.
We Invite Everyone to Come.
F. E. BACON.

SOMETHING NEW.

The improved Welt $3.00 Calf Shoe equal to the best hand sewed at
23tf COLLINS'.

D. C. More & Co. have an immense stock of Boys' Clothing at the lowest prices ever heard of.

FOR SALE.

The Coats residence on the North side of Rochester street between Second and Third. For terms enquire on the premises. 21t6

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots, &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by
10tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

The City Express.

J. P. Howe has placed upon the streets at the service of the public an express and baggage wagon. Leave orders at the news room. 23tf

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

Want, Wealth and Worth.

On next Friday evening at the M. E. church, Rev. W. Dempster Chase, will deliver his lecture on "Want, Wealth and Worth" under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the church. The receipts from the lecture are to be applied to the fund that is being raised for the purchase of a furnace for the parsonage. An admission fee of twenty-five cents will be charged. Mr. Chase's pleasant and energetic manner of discourse is well known in this locality and we predict a large audience at the church on the evening of the lecture.

We publish the following as a sample of the many encomiums that have been given Mr. Chase by the press on the above lecture.

"A large and appreciative audience greeted Rev. W. D. Chase, to listen to his new and popular lecture, "Want, Wealth and Worth." Mr. Chase's glowing eloquence sparkling with his easy and graceful manner, together with his clearness of conception and profound deductions of logic, bombined to make his lecture one of the best listened to in Waterville in many a day. Mr. Chase added fresh laurels to his already enviable reputation as a lecturer in his effort of the 19th, and would be welcome here again and again. We have no hesitancy in recommending the lecture and the lecturer to those desiring a first class intellectual treat. He is at home on the rostrum, and can hold the attention of the most miscellaneous audience."—[Waterville Times.

"No abstract could do it justice, those who did not attend failed to hear a lecture inferior to the few and superior to the many delivered in the Mechanics' Association course."—[Utica Herald.

Rapid Growth of the Village.

Improvements and additions in the condition and number of dwelling houses and business places in Fulton and Oswego Falls continue in a very perceptible manner. The work goes on so steadily and quietly that we scarcely realize the amount that is done until a retrospect is made. This has been looked up and a special to the Syracuse Courier of a recent date says:

"The rapid growth of Fulton and Oswego Falls still continues. There have been thirty dwelling houses erected at a cost of $43,000, besides extensive improvements in business blocks. G. J. Emeny, contractor and builder of Fulton, has built ten dwellings in Oswego Falls at a cost of 10,000. Also the three story brick block at a cost of $3,000 and also repaired the Howe Ventilating Stove company's foundry, $1,500 and repairing to the amount of $1,500. Mr. S. V. Wise, Fulton, has completed four dwellings at a cost of $8,000; Edward Foster, Fulton, has completed three dwellings at a cost of $4,300. D. E. Wright, Fulton, has built one double Queen Anne dwelling at a cost of $6,000. Walter Prine, Fulton, has built two at a cost of $3,000. D. A. Stewart, Fulton, has built one dwelling at a cost of $1,300. C. W. Hastings, Oswego Falls, has completed one dwelling at a cost of $1,400, also one barn at a cost of $275, repairs on business blocks, $700, and on dwellings $300. H. W. Root, Oswego Falls, three dwellings $4,500, also improvements on the Episcopal church, $300. The cost of the rolling mill built by James Fanning will be about $1,200. David Baldwin has built one dwelling costing $1,100. P. P. Alger, Oswego Falls, has built three dwellings at a cost of $3,000, repaired the tannery, $1,500, built one barn, $600, repairing dwellings, $1,200. W. Dann has also erected several dwellings.

Organization of a New Sodality.

The organization of a new Sodality of the Blessed Virgin has been perfected in this parish of the Catholic Church and the first meeting was held last Sunday afternoon. Fifty young ladies were present and the following were elected officers. Prefect, Miss Mary O'Grady; First Assistant, Miss Kate Flannery; Second Assistant, Miss Anna Branagan. The chief object of the Sodality is to enable the members to become exemplary ladies in society. Meetings are held every Sunday afternoon in the church. The official reception takes place on Sunday, Oct. 17th, at 8 a. m.

Grand Opening at the Bee Hive, Oct. 14th, 15th and 16th.

Can't Be Beat.

Ladies' Genuine Bright Dongola Globe Insole, all solid, worked hole, opera toe Button, for $1.75, at Nettleton's.

Special Prices For Carpets, Furniture &c.

A. A. Graff & Co., No's 61 & 63 South Salina Street, Syracuse, offer for the next 30 days, as a special bargain, 100 Parlor suits embossed plush, solid walnut frame, 7 pieces for $35.00; 75 chamber suits, 10 pieces for $25.00; 50 pieces tapestry carpet 60c a yard and 70 pieces extra super ingrain carpet 55c a yard.

We will deliver all purchasers' freight, prepaid to any part of the state. Now is the time for Bargains.

Go to Phillips' or Watson's drug store and get Dr. J. S. Markham's Spavin Cure and Founder Ointment—A sure cure. 20w2.

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

Considerable hail fell here on Friday last.

John Youngs' family was increased Thursday by the addition of a girl.

Potatoes are being shipped from this village for 50 cents per bushel.

Earnest Dresnak of this village received his naturalization papers on Monday last.

Post Schenck has a camp fire for the members of their post at their regular meeting next Tuesday evening.

The next meeting of the C. L. S. C. will be held at the home of Mrs. W. L. Woodbury next Monday evening.

Now is the time to look for fall trade. Put your advertisement in THE TIMES and let the people know what you have.

The Delaware Lackawanna & Western railroad company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent., payable Oct. 20th.

The Boston Bazaar of this village was represented at the Baldwinsville fair last week by a fine display of albums, picture frames, etc.

The special Sunday morning services which were recently commenced in the M. E. church will be continued for a few more Sabbaths.

It is expected that seventy-five or more Free Masons from Oswego will be present at the reception given by the Hiram Lodge this evening.

The new rolling mill at Lower Oswego Falls is now in process of erection and the work on the exterior part of the building is nearly completed.

The Rev. Mr. Hanscom of the Baptist church, Phoenix, baptized six women and eight men for the Salvation Army by immersion on Sunday afternoon.

Miss Anna Martell, the well known vocalist of Oswego, will take part in the temperance entertainment at Stephens opera house next Saturday evening.

From the number of empty boxes that are being brought out of the "Bee Hive" and piled up on the sidewalk, we infer that their opening will be one of no small magnitude.

A movement is on foot among the citizens living around the park to meet for the purpose of discussing and devising some method by which the park may be beautified.

By a change in the time of trains on the "Phoenix" road, the 11:21 a. m. train for Syracuse now leaves at 11:31 and the 12:54 p. m. train for Oswego at 1:19. All other trains remain the same.

Post Schenck No. 271 G. A. R. under the command of N. H. Gilbert, to the number of about 60, accompanied by the drum corps went to Baldwinsville last Friday. While there they were the guests of post Summers and were most royally entertained.

James Sommers and Robert Dobbins of this village, who have been traveling during the season with the Weatherby & Davis circus under the title of "The Norwegian Athletes" have been in town this week and report a very successful season. They have left for St. Louis to fill an engagement with a circus that is now in the South.

Yesterday forenoon Edward Searls, an employe at the plaster mill stepped upon a board, which he thought was fastened, in the upper story of the mill and fell a distance of nearly thirty feet upon the large limestone rocks below. He was picked up and taken to his home where it was found that no bones were broken. A severe cut under his chin and a badly bruised leg were the chief injuries. It was a narrow escape from a more erious if not fatal accident.

The fourteen new Knowles looms for the R. & O. Mills in Oswego Falls which arrived several weeks ago are now all in position and half of them running. There are now fifty-six fancy looms running on corkscrew cheviots and fine fancies, all first-class goods. There are also over sixty broad English looms running on a fine grade of worsted coatings. The narrow looms, of which there were at one time over six hundred, have all been taken away, and the large weave shed where they formerly were, is now half filled with combing machinery. The other half with the broad looms which the class of goods the mills now manufacture call for.

Grand Opening at the Bee Hive, Oct. 14th, 15th and 16th.

Kid Gloves, Jerseys, Ruchings, Yarns, at the Boston Bazaar cheaper than anywhere else.

D. C. More & Co. have great Bargains for you in Men's Underwear.

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

Buy your Fall Overcoat of D. C. MORE & CO.

[illegible] at 4 p. m. On [illegible] will be met at Broadway Depot by the Fulton and Oswego Falls societies and after a parade through the principal streets of Fulton and Oswego Falls will be escorted to Johnston's hall where a grand oyster supper will be given.

In the evening at 7:30 a grand entertainment will be held at the opera house consisting of 1. Music—Quartette.

2. Lecture—Rev. Father Earley.
3. Drama—Father Mathew Dramatic Society of Oswego, "Servants by Legacy," under the management of Mr. J. Fribble.
4. Songs by Popular Artists from abroad.
5. Selections by Local Celebrities.

Admission 25 Cents.

Father Mathew, "The Apostle of Temperance," in honor of whom this demonstration is made, and after whom the societies are named was born in 1790 and died in 1856. He was an Irish priest and did more for the cause of temperance in Ireland than any other man. An illustration of his influence in improving the moral tone of a community is drawn from the results of his labors, about forty years ago, as a temperance reformer.

In five years, 1838-1842, the consumption of whiskey in in Ireland fell 50 per cent., the crimes of violence fell from 64,520 to 47,027, and executions from 59 in the first year to 1 in the last year. The work being done by the temperance organizations in this vicinity under the leadership of Father Earley is being seen and felt. They are are worthy apostles of that truly great reformer, Father Mathew.

Improvements at the Water Works.

A few weeks since it was found that the center sheet of the boiler used at the water works was defective, This is being replaced by a new one which is being made at Kingsford's foundry in Oswego and when the work is completed the boiler will be as good as a new one. As a precautionary measure, however, the water works company have ordered an additional boiler of like capacity, which is in process of construction at Kingsford's. This will also be placed in the boiler house so that if an occasion similar to the present should occur, there will be no question as to the power of supplying a sufficient quantity of water for any emergency. A new stack is also to be built sixty feet high and thirty six inches in diameter. There will also be a steam whistle placed on the boiler house, which will be used as a signal at the time of fires.

Electric Lights.

As will be seen by referring to the report of the trustee's proceedings, published in another column that it has been decided by a majority os the board not to complete the contract with the Schuyler Electric Light company but that specifications be made and proposals invited from both companies. The meeting was a rather "breezy" one and Trustee More in a forceable manner declared that it was his intention as a trustee, to see that the dealings with both companies should be alike and "on the square." A majority of the board thought likewise and Trustee Kendrick submitted specifications which were adopted. Mr. Stranahan in behalf of the Schuyler company, announced that this company would not bid again. If this be so the Thomson-Houston light will prevail and be adopted by the board at their next meeting, one week from to-night.

Fall Racing Meeting.

The fall racing meeting of the Syracuse, Phoenix and Fulton circuit occurs at Fulton on October 26, 27 and 28. Purses of $1,000 are offered, $100 of which is reserved for a special purse.

The purse in each class is $150. The races will be as follows:

First day,	purse	No. 1,	2:50	class
" "	"	" 2,	2:29	"
Sec'nd "	"	" 3,	2:36	"
" "	"	" 4,	2:44	"
Third "	"	" 5,	2:32	"
" "	"	" 6,	2:25	"

A FEW MATCHLESS BARGAINS

Now the Real Slaughter Begins.

All this week we shall offer special bargains that no other house in Central New York can or dare match. We control seven large stores throughout the country, and are thus enabled to sell goods at prices that other houses pay for them.

Grand Bargain No. 1—85 men's genuine all woul corkscrew suits in four button cutaway and sack styles we shall sell at $9.45 actually worth from $15.00 to $18.00; 75 boys' extra heavy all wool suits with long pants at $4.95 per suit actually worth $12.00 in sizes from 7 to 12 years. 265 men's union cassimere at $1.39 a pair worth $3.50: 15 cases men's genuine imported scotch caps at 39 cents actually worth 75 cents. All on sale at the King of bargain Clothiers, Hatters and Furnishers. Central City Clothing Co., 20 East Genesee street Syracuse, N. Y. C. C. C. C.

G. G. Goodell, a former citizen of this village died at his home in Marion, Va., recently.

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best. To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 15tf

OPENING DAYS

—AT THE—

"BEE HIVE"

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 14, 15, and 16.

—ALL THE LATEST FALL NOVELTIES IN—

CLOAKS, DRESS GOODS, SILKS, Carpets &C.

[illegible] Necessity

Of warmer clothing in this changeable climate of ours is apparent to every one, but some people will neglect their personal comfort through a stress of business or for reasons of economy (so called), thus endangering health and possibly causing the necessity of a doctor's bill far in excess of what would be required to clothe them in health-protecting garments. The homely old sayings are again applicable "Penny wise and pound foolish," and "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." Don't be foolish but come at once and select a good warm winter suit and overcoat, and don't forget a good rubber overcoat to keep out the damps of this season of the year.

PEEBLES & COOK

Opposite Opera House.

CHILDREN'S CLOTHING A SPECIALTY.

Dr. Northrop's Lectures.

Dr. B. G. Northrup gave two interesting and instructive lectures at the opera house on last Wednesday afternoon and evening. The gentleman is making the work of village improvement a life study and has probably given the subject as much consideration as anyone in this country. He believes in early infusing into the minds of the young a love for the beautiful so that as the present generation of young people grow into manhood and womanhood the love for their native place and an ardent desire to improve and beautify it, will be one of the leading factors in their lives. In the afternoon the lecture on "Memory and How to Train It," was especially for the young and was intermingled with advice of the above nature. In the evening he spoke on village improvements to an interested and attentive audience for nearly an hour and a half. He mentioned a few of the many advantages that our village possesses, and the signs of improvement and decorations that he had observed in his necessarily hurried survey of the village and then suggested several improvements that might be made that would add to the health, beauty and wealth of the village. The most important of which was a system of drainage. He dwelt on the beauty and attractions of home and the many beneficial results that were produced thereby. In illustrating the great advantages that come from beautifying and improving a village, he spoke of the model towns of Stockbridge and Williamston, Mass., New Haven, Conn., Clinton, N. Y., and other villages which through the instrumentality of village improvement societies, had been so much beautified that homes amounting to millions of dollars had been built by wealthy persons who had been attracted to these villages by their beautiful appearance.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Margaret A. Newman died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Eber Hubbard Monday night Oct. 4th, in the eighty-sixth year of her age. Mrs. Newman was born at West Greenwich, Conn, on Dec. 11 1800. Her father was a Quaker and her mother a Methodist. Early in life she became connected with the Methodist church and to the time of her demise was very actively engaged in the good work of her church, and thoroughly interested in all religious movements. She was married in March 1828 to Mr. Newman who died in May 1875. She was an upright christian woman. She leaves one son, Mr. Geo. Newman of Hannibal, three daughters. Mrs. W. S. Titus of Verona, N. Y., Mrs. Dr. N. H. Haviland and Mrs. Eber Hubbard both of this village and a large circle of friends to mourn her loss. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. W. Dempster Chase at the residence Dr. Haviland on Oneida street at two o'clock this afternoon and the remains interred in Mt. Adnah.

On Tuesday of last week one twin child of Joseph Walmaugh died, aged five days and on Sunday the other, aged ten days also died. They were buried side by side at Mt. Adnah.

J. Cooley Tucker has the sole agency for the celebrated grandulated wheat, a food prepared from the best white winter wheat, unleavened, ready cooked for immediate use. It is the best food for invalids and children. As a diet for cases of nervous prostration and debility, constipation and dyspepsia, it is unequaled. It is used in Health Institutions extensively. 10tf

Another large line of those prime hand made Kip and Calf Boots at
23tf COLLINS'.

Another Cure.

Mr. L. Carpenter, of Pillar Point, Jefferson county, says: "I have been for the past few years suffering with a disease that baffled many of our physicians of Jefferson and Lewis counties. Last March I consulted Dr. Markley of Syracuse, who made correct diagnosis of my disease, and his medicine gave me instant relief and affected a permanent cure. After eight months I find no return of the disease. L. CARPENTER.

I can certifiy to the above.
B. CARPENTER.

Dr. Markley is at the Lewis house, Fulton, every Thursday. They come from all parts of the country to see him. He cures his patients.

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the NOVELTY CUSTOM MILL recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & Redhead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any flour or feed grinding done. Flour and feed [illegible] Call and try [illegible]

1886. 1886.

AHEAD OF ALL!

MILTON S. PRICE,

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

The Popular Dry Goods, Carpet and Furniture Dealer.

The Great Establishment Renovated. New Decorations, &c., Mammoth Show Windows, One Great Entrance from Salina Street. The most Attractive Store in the City.

PROUD AM I TO ANNOUNCE that during forty years of business experience, I have never been so well prepared to meet the wants of the public as at the present time.

READY CASH WITH EXPERIENCED BUYERS has filled my mammouth stores, running through from Salina to Clinton Streets, with a stock of

DRY GOODS, CARPETS AND FURNITURE,

Unequaled by any Establishment in Central New York.

It would be useless in this small space to attempt an enumeration of the thousands of articles displayed.

DRY GOODS and Fancy Goods,
IN ENDLESS VARIETY.

CARPETS, RUGS, &c.,
A COMPLETE STOCK.

Furniture and Curtain Draperies,
FOR THE RICH AND POOR.

I can give you better value for your money than any other house in the City.

Do not fail, when attending the fair, to pay this establishment a visit.

MILTON S. PRICE.

Nos. 38 and 40 South Salina Street, and 29, 31 and 33 Clinton Street,

Syracuse, N. Y.

Don't miss those bargains at Draper's in Table and Hanging Lamps, China Tea Setts, and those new style (Ribbon Chamber Setts) all new goods and new prices. Call and see. 19tf

J. Wiener until recently with thh C. C. C. C. Co. of Syracuse can now be found at M. Amdursky's, Fulton, N. Y. where he will be pleased to see his old friends. Give him a call. 21tf

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 21tf

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expediously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

For Underwear and Hosiery, the Boston Bazaar takes the lead. Everything in their line at the lowest prices.

Look at this line of

PARLOR STOVES!

WORLD'S JEWEL,
ART ROYAL,
RED CROSS.
GOLD COIN AND BEAVER.

The last two are ventilating Stoves, and sold exclusively
by
SNOW & LOOMIS.

Job Printing.

—:o:—

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing.

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices. [illegible]

[illegible] into Great Britain [illegible] 000,000, [illegible] cotton imports.

Rust in wheat may be caused by excess of heat and moisture, making a too sudden flow of sap which can not be properly elaborated.

Successful New Jersey gardeners apply annually about ten tons of well rotted barn yard manure to the acre to their strawberry fields, putting it on late in the fall.

Indiscriminate pruning does much harm to grape vines that perhaps as good advice as can be to many is to let vines alone during the summer, except to keep them on the trellis, and prune only in the fall or spring.

No thrifty farmer will permit coarse weeds, thistles briars or brush of any kind to grow by the roadside adjoining his fields. One or two day's work each year for two or three years with a stout bush scythe will cause these unprofitable varieties of vegetation to give place to valuable grasses.

Common grades of butter, which come into competition with oleomargarine, are having a very slow sale, and can be disposed of at very low prices. When the new oleomargarine law goes into effect Nov. 1st low grades of genuine butter, but the day for the consumption of poor butter by the majority of people has gone by.

Should there be no early frosts to destroy them there will be gathered this season the largest crop of Catabs grapes ever known in New York state. There is also another fine crop of Concord grapes in the Hudson valley. This variety of grape has never failed there, and it is proving itself to be the most profitable crop produced, notwithstanding the low prices at which they are sold.

Early sowing of wheat is not considered so important now as it was a few years ago. The fancied advantage of getting grain in the barn a few days earlier has been the origin of more failures than has any other cause. Wheat has been hurried into the ground when a week longer time in fitting the seed bed would have given a stronger and better growth in the fall, and one that would endure the winter better.

The Potato Market.

From present indications the potato crop will be very large this year in all parts of the state. Potatoes are being shipped in large quantities from some points but the price paid is so low that farmers do not care about selling at present and shippers say that there is not much money in them even at the low price paid; so the market generally speaking is dull. The price paid by buyers at present ranges from 30 to 35 cents, where there is any shipping going on. Here there is practically no market at all as no one has bought any yet, except to supply home demand. The highest price paid is 35 cents. Many potatoes are shipped on the canal from here nearly every year. No doubt this will be the case later in the season this year. Some farmers prefer to keep their potatoes until spring thus realizing a higher price for them. Quite a percentage is wasted by keeping, but even then if they are properly stored the farmer is paid in storing them. In any case there is no danger of their being any lower in the spring than they were in the fall, which is not the case with all crops.—[Rome Sentinel.

The Fowls.

At this season of the year, when prices are unusually low, many are inclined to look on the dark side of poultry keeping, but as such depression is caused by a desire to reduce stock, a point is reached late in the year at which shipments become more frequent, and prices for poultry and eggs rise until the hens begin to lay abundantly in the spring.

Before reducing stock, select all the hens that have moulted or show signs of moulting, as they will complete the process and begin to lay before cold weather comes on. Though the rule may not be infallible, yet the hen or pullet that begins to lay on the approach of winter will generally make a good winter layer, while the one that does not commence before cold weather usually postpones operations until spring. The hens intended for market, therefore, should be those that have not moulted, as moulting requires about three months.

Another point is that a moulting hen is generally fat. This is because she stores in her system the fat of the food while the mineral and nitrogenous go to the formation of feathers. Hence, a hen may be much debilitated by the shedding of new feathers, and yet be very fat. The best food for a moulting hen is oatmeal, with meat and milk, whenever such can be procured. Feed very little corn, as she should not be made very fat.—[Rural New Yorker.

Now Is the Time to Take Stock.

If farmers universally kept account with their land, charging each field with cost of cultivation, and crediting it with the net sales of product over cost of marketing, they would be surprised at the amount of land that did not pay expenses. It is this waste land, as it might be called, that is the great drawback to successful farming. In an extensive acquaintance with farmers in a good agricultural district, a shrewd observer remarked that he did not know any farm of more than fifty acres where every acre paid expenses; on most farms of 100 or more acres all the profit, where there is any, is made from ten to twenty acres. In other words, farmers would be practically better off, so far as profit is concerned, if they had half or a quarter as much land as they possess. With the smaller area they should have more working capital per acre, and this the sale of their superfluous land would give.

It often happens that poor spots in otherwise fertile fields destroy all chance of profit, and compel the farmer to work [illegible]

[illegible] graduates until her wedding day, after that she is ruled by her husband and tyrannized over by her servants. Then she is a servant unto her children until they are all married, after which she is "bossed" by her sons and daughters in law, and at last she lives and dies in loving, gentle bondage to the grandchildren who prattle about her. Yes, indeed, it's little enough of freedom a woman knows. "Oh, you poor women!" we heard among the clatter and clamor of "Vanity Fair." "Oh, you poor secret martyrs and victims, whose life is a torture, who are stretched on racks in your bedrooms, and who lay your heads down on the block daily at the drawing-room table; every man who watches your pains, or peers into those dark places where the torture is administered to you, must pity you—and—thank God he has a beard. * * * And so, if you properly tyranize over a woman you will find a ha'p'oth of kindness act upon her, and bring tears to her eyes, as though you were an angel benefitting her."—[Burdette.

For Would-Be Authors to Consider.

Think of the multitude of novels which are published every year whose authors are never heard of again, and which must needs have landed somebody in heavy loss. A sale of 400 copies in the three-volume form is by no means bad, and decidedly above the average; yet the outcome for the author would be only about £75, and he is a clever man who can produce two novels a year worth reading. Unless a writer even of fair repute is able to dispose of the serial right of his novels to advantage, he had better, so far as money making is concerned, give his attention to something else. He would probably earn more as a curate, a cab driver, or as a compositor. There is, of course, always the off chance of his making a hit, like the late Hugh Conway. But the extraordinary success of "Called Back" and the host of imitations it called into being show how very remote that chance is. Success is more generally run slowly, and by dint of pegging away, after the manner of Anthony Trollope, who, before he "struck oil" wrote several novels and a good many articles for nothing, and ten years of hard working brought him no more than $55.—[London Spectator.

Starting Out Wrong.

A newly married couple who started from Portland on a wedding trip the other day were having a hard time at last accounts. It seems that while the bridegroom was looking after the baggage at the station his best man, who was a trifle nervous, hurried the bride into the wrong car and started her for Boston one train too soon. The disconsolate husband took the next train, but got to Berwick only to find that his bride had returned to Portland. She, against the advice of friends, did not stop there, but started west again and got to Boston at the same time he again reached the starting place. At last accounts the two were hurrying backward and forward as fast as steam could take them, each frantically trying to overtake the other.—[Augusta (Me.) Journal.

The Largest Lake Steamer.

The largest lake steamer ever built in North America was launched at Chicago recently, named the Susquehanna. She is 322 feet long, 40 feet beam and 30 feet depth from the main deck to keelson. She is rigged as a four masted schooner and is to have powerful engines. As compared with the Onoko, the largest steamer now on the lakes, she is 21½ feet longer and has 12 inches more beam. The hull is constructed entirely of steel. She is capable of carrying 2,800 tons of cargo. Another vessel of about the same size is on the stocks.

What Miss Cleveland Says.

Have, first of all, a home! No matter what your career, let it start from the home and return to the home. There is measuring the length of a woman's lever; nor how it will and must reach and raise in all the great affairs of the world, in the areas of church and state and society. But however the lever lengthens and strengthens, and moves and upheaves, in the spacious fields of the future, its fulcrum can never change its place or base; and that fulcrum is the home.—[The Chautauquan.

Political Pull

Is a rather uncertain thing to depend upon as a basis for obtaining the necessaries of life. With the frequent changes of party somebody is sure to get left, so that on the whole any man of brains and and ability is really fortunate if, by missing a fat public job he is compelled to take up some such business as an agency for Dr. Foote's "Plain Home Talk," sells at all times and at all places, and often the best ground for an agency is that which has already been plowed over once or twice by an agent. There is room for all who will apply to the Murray Hill Publishing Co., 129 East 28 St., N. Y. City, and "first come, first served."

Salutations.

"How do you do?" That's English and American. "How do you carry yourself?" That's French. "How do you stand?" that's Italian. "How do you find yourself?" That's German. "How do you fare?" That's Dutch. "How can you?" That's Swedish. "How do you perspire?" That's Egyptian. "How is your stomach? Have you eaten rice?" That's Chinese. How do you have yourself?" That's Polish. "How do you live on?" That's Russian. "May thy shadow never be less!" That's Persian—and all mean much the same thing.—[Chicago Living Church.

British Capital in South America.

Nearly $450,000,000 of British capital, according to official statistics, is invested in the Argentine Republic—one-fourth the estimated wealth of the whole nation in 1884. These investments are distributed as follows: Railways, $25,- 500,000; public debt, [illegible]; banks and companies, [illegible]

[illegible] Salve [illegible] Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 24tf

A bird's eye view from Trinity church spire would disclose, it is said, 16,000 saloons in sight—12,000 in New York, and 4,000 in Jersey City, Newark and Patterson.

C. B. Campbell killed a large gray wolf in the town of Wilmurt, Herkimer county, recently, for which he is entitled to a bounty of $30 from the state.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

Some parts of Georgia are so infested with deer and wild turkeys that the people have to drive them out of the fields to preserve their crops.

Over one million boxes of Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets sold in the past twelve months, purely upon their merits. Why suffer with Chronic Constipation, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Heartburn, and Female Troubles, when H. C. Giesler offers you relief and positive cure in the Dyspepsia Tablets. He sells them on a guarantee. eow

In one year the people of this country use about 50,000,000 steel pens. If placed in a line the pens would reach from New York to Liverpool.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

The Pullman company's statement for the year ending July 31 shows surplus earnings, after payment of dividends, of 1,250,000.

Woman and Her Diseases.

is the title of an interesting illustrated treaties (160 pages) sent post-paid, for 10 cents in stamps. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

One hundred and fifty persons have been billed in Chicago the past year as being run over by the cars.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

W. W. Reed, of Winchester, Ind., writes: "One of my customers, Mrs. Louisa Pike, Bartonia, Randolph County Ind., was a long sufferer with Consumption, and was given up to die by her physicians. She heard of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption and began buying it of me. In six months time she walked to this city a distance of six miles, and is now so much improv- that she has quit using it. She feels she owes her life to it." Free trial bottles at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

Ben Folsom, Mrs. Cleveland's loquacious cousin, is to become, it is said, the Washington correspondent of some New York daily.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed a night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 51y1

Frozen milk is now given to patients suffering with irritable stomachs, and is retained when all other substances are thrown off.

CURE YOURSELF!

Don't pay large doctor's bills. The best medical book published, one hundred pages, elegant colored plates, will be sent you on receipt of three 2 cent stamps to pay the postage. Address A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

A new knitting mill, to employ 250 hands, is to be in running order at Fort Plain by January first.

How Pale You Are!

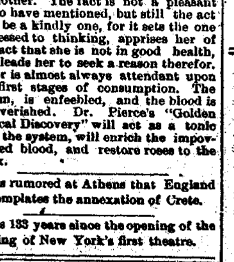
is frequently the exclamation of one lady to another. The fact is not a pleasant one to have mentioned, but still the act may be a kindly one, for it sets the one addressed to thinking, apprises her of the fact that she is not in good health, and leads her to seek a reason therefor. Pallor is almost always attendant upon the first stages of consumption. The system, is enfeebled, and the blood is impoverished. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" will act as a tonic upon the system, will enrich the impoverished blood, and restore roses to the cheek.

It is rumored at Athens that England contemplates the annexation of Crete.

It is 133 years since the opening of the opening of New York's first theatre.

Agents Wanted for the Great War Book

Just Published, entitled



THE [illegible] IN OUR CIVIL WAR,

[illegible]

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

—COAL.—

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York.

Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANÆMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest, Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

[illegible]

[illegible] Ointment [illegible] Price 50c. a box. No cure, no pay. For sale by all Druggists. 20tf

The United States has nearly three times as many doctors as England, and nearly four times as many as France in proportion to the population.

About three years ago the agent for Acker's English Remedy first called at this town and since then the number of testimonials coming to him concerning merits of the Remedy, and the many cures effected surprises. H. C. Giesler wishes it to be thoroughly understood that for colds, hoarseness, asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, all Phthisical troubles he has never known its equal, and positively guarantees it. 27eow

Last year 200,000 barrels of oysters were shipped from this country, and it is expected that this season's trade will be even larger.

SAVED HIS LIFE.

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., says he was, for many years badly afflicted with Phthisic, also diabetes; the pains were almost unendurable and would sometimes almost throw him into convulsions. He tried Electric Bitters and got relief from the first bottle and after taking six bottles was entirely cured and had gained in flesh eighteen pounds. Says he positively believes he would have died, had it not been for the relief afforded by Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by R. E. Phillips.

More than $22,000 in fines has been collected in New York city for violation of the oleomargarine law.

MY HEAD WAS FAIRLY ROTTEN,

And how much I suffered it is hard to describe. That loathsome disease, catarrh, caused the above, and the doctors said they could not relieve me. I paid hundreds of dollars, for which I received no benefit. I got more good from two bottles of Sulphur Bitters than from all the money I paid to doctors. I shall continue the Sulphur Bitters, as I have great faith that they will cure me. —[S. M. DAY, 41 Hanover St. Boston.

Charles Monckey, inventor of the Monckey wrench (ignorently called the monkey wrench,) is living in poverty in Brooklyn.

The Voice of the People.

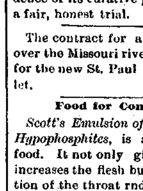
The people as a whole seldom make make mistakes, and the unanimous voice of praise which comes from those who have used Hood's Sarsaparilla, fully justifies the claims of the proprietors of this great medicine. Indeed, these very claims are based entirely on what the people say Hood's Sarsparilla has done for them. Read the abundant evidence of its curative powers, and give it a fair, honest trial.

The contract for a $1,000,000 bridge over the Missouri river at Kansas City, for the new St. Paul line, has has been let.

Food for Consumptives.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites, is a most wonderful food. It not only gives strength and increases the flesh but heals the irritation of the throat and lungs. Palatable as milk and in all wasting diseases, both for adults and children is a marvellous food and medicine.

What is this Dark Shadow



Science emerging from Darkness.

That follows us wherever we go? It is the fear of mental exhaustion that terminate either in

INSANITY or DEATH.

We as a people live fast. We are overworked, so that old age comes upon us when quite young in years. We pass sleepless nights or with a sleep that gives no rest. This is nervous exhaustion, and we require a tonic that will restore the brain and nervous system to its normal condition, bringing back youth and vigor. The NEW QUININE, called KASKINE, is the most powerful tonic known. It removes that tired and depressed feeling, gives us a good appetite, makes us feel strong and healthy, gives quiet sleep that refreshes the languid and weary.

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful.

St. Francis Hospital, N.Y. } "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Rev. Jos. Desribes, Chaplain of Charity Hospital, writes: "I will be surely, on every occasion, through conviction a most devoted promoter of Kaskine."

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered indispensible. It acts perfectly."

Dr. L. R. White, U. S. Examining Surgeon, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Glessner, has cured over 200 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says: "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

Kaskine is pleasant to take and can be used without special medical counsel. Pamphlets giving information, &c. sent on application.

Send for the great book of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine. $1 a bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

Save time and labor! Neat and Compact.

Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind that he ever saw."

—To be had only at the—

FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

10 PER CENT. INVESTMENT, SECURITY ABSOLUTE. The [illegible], Dakota, will loan your money on BOND and MORTGAGE from 8 to 10 per cent. Mortgage made to you direct. Bond payable at your own Bank or in New York as you prefer, and has for SALE COUNTY, CITY, and SCHOOL BONDS, that will net 7 to 12 per cent. Will furnish as reference the names of applicants residing in THIS COUNTY for whom it has invested money. CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED. 10m3

EXHAUSTED VITALITY,

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

[illegible] —[Columbus Evening Dispatch.

The angler sits upon the sward
And waits to feel the tug;
And there at intervals are heard
The gurgle of the jug.
—[Boston Courier.

A girl in a moment of pique
Gave her lover a slap on the chique;
Not a word did he say,
But he left her that day,
And didn't go back for a wique.
—[Boston Courier

They have made a piano of paper.
What wonders art is achieving!
If they'd make a paper performer
Life yet might be worth some one's living.
—[Tid-Bits.

Short, sharp and decisive—A tack—[Burlington Free Press.

The new fall bonnets will be V-shaped. The bills will be X-shaped.—[Burlington Free Press.

Fat old lady (in dry goods store)—I will look at your dry goods.

Clerk—Yes, ma'am. Something in double width?—[Life.

When a couple is about to elope, the young man asks: "Does your mother know your route?—[New Orleans Picayune.

Did you ever notice how they struggle to conceal the identity of hash on a bill of fare by putting it in French?—[Yonkers Statesman.

A man who is mean enough to beat a printer is mean enough to tickle his nose with a feather to save the expense of buying snuff.—[Dansville Breeze.

Grocer—I've called with that little bill, Mrs. Short.

Mrs, Short—I'm so sorry; my husband has gone to Coney Island and won't return for a week—

(Hoarse whisper from behind) Make it a month, Sarah, make it a month.—[Tid-Bits.

Stranger—"You say you have been shipwrecked four times?"

Sailor—"Aye aye, me hearty."

Stranger—"And what were your sensations when the wild waves break over you and you feel yourself sinking under the water?"

Sailor—"Damp."—[Texas Siftings.

Jones—For goodness sake, Smith, what is the matter with you? Every time I see you you are are riding around in a herdic. What are you doing?

Smith—I am going to Europe in a few weeks, and I am trying to get broken in so as not to be seasick.—[Lowell Citizen.

Physician—"I would advise you, sir, during the hot weather to take an alcohol bath every day."

Patient (eagerly) Er, inside or outside, doctor?—[Tid-Bits.

Dark stage—slow music—faint gleams of fitful light on the distant mountains. Enter Roderigo, alone. "Hist! Looks around in awful fear. Speaks: "The peanut is the old original jest nut." Dies—crashes of thunder—red fire—curtain.—[Burdette.

Father of young girl—"I should think you would be satisfied after the treatment I give you last night. I kicked you down the front steps and set the dog on you, and he came back with a big piece of your trousers. Now what do you want? Young man—I'd like that piece of cloth, please.—[Life.

Mary Jane Could Not Come.

"Young man," said a sepulchral voice as the nightcapped head of an old lady, was thrust out of the window, "what reason have you got for making a noise with that gourd and singing and disturbing the neighborhood?"

"This isn't a gourd, Mrs. Jackson; it's a mandolin, and I'm not disturbing the neighborhood, I hope. I am serenading."

"Well, I don't think it's very gentlemanly or very proper for you to be coming around here at this time of night singing out for your darling Josie to meet you at the gate and saying it so loud that everybody can hear. There ain't ary girl named Josie in this block as I know of, and our Mary Jane's got the cholera morbus awful. I wish you'd git further away."—[Chicago Tribune.

Not Very Well Fed.

"That's what I call a good dinner," remarked Bobby as he leaned back in his chair with an air of repletion.

"Bobby," said his mother, "I am ashamed of you."

The minister who was dining with the family laughed heartily.

"Bobby appreciates the good things of life," he said "like all the rest of us."

"Don't you think it was a good dinner?" Bobby asked of the minister.

"Yes, indeed. I enjoyed it very much."

"Ma said she thought you would, because she didn't suppose you got very much at home.—[New York Sun.

A Wise Choice.

"Would you like a bottle of claret, sir?" insinuatingly inquired the proprietor of a restaurant of a guest.

"Well, I dunno said the guest. What kind have you got?"

"We have the regular table claret and also some of our own private bottling."

"Both the same price?"

"Well—er—no, sir; but I'll make the price the same to you."

"Thanks. You may bring me a bottle of the regular table claret—[New York Times.

Harvest for Doctors.

Omaha doctor—No, dear, I cannot take you riding this afternoon.

Doctor's wife—Why, we haven't been out for a week.

"I know: but I am terribly busy, almost driven to death."

"Any epidemics?"

"No, but people are returning from the fashionable summer resorts.—[Omaha World.

If there ever was a specific for any one complaint then Carter's Little Liver Pills are a specific for Sick Headache, and every woman should know this. [illegible]

1st: [illegible]

2d: The proportion in which the roots, herbs, barks, etc., are mixed.

3d: The process by which the active medicinal properties are secured.

The result is a medicine of unusual strength and curative power, which effects cures hitherto unequalled. These peculiarities belong exclusively to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and are

Unknown to Others

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared with the greatest skill and care, by pharmacists of education and long experience. Hence it is a medicine worthy of entire confidence. If you suffer from scrofula, salt rheum, or any disease of the blood, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, or kidney and liver complaints, catarrh or rheumatism, do not fail to try

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all my friends as the best blood purifier on earth." WM. GAFF, druggist, Hamilton, O.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me of scrofulous humor, and done me worlds of good otherwise." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

A book containing many additional statements of cures will be sent to all who desire.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

BLUE PILLS

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately! Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored?

Don't Wait!

Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use

Sulphur Bitters!

Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

The Invalid's Friend.

IT IS Dangerous

The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

Golden Medical Discovery

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

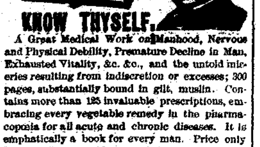
For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopœia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St. N.Y.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure By JOHN H. McALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years tax collector. Sent free to any address.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FRENCH'S HOTEL.

CITY HALL SQUARE, NEW YORK,

Opposite City Hall and the Post Office.

This Hotel is one of the most complete in its appointments and furniture of ANY HOUSE in New York City and is conducted on the European Plan.

Rooms only One Dollar per day. Half minute's walk from Brooklyn Bridge and Elevated R. R. All lines of cars pass the door. Most convenient Hotel in New York for Merchants to stop at. Dining Rooms, Cafe and Lunch Counter replete with all the luxuries at moderate prices. 9y1

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

[illegible]

HINDERCORNS.

[illegible]

[illegible] Oswego—At the [illegible] first and third [illegible] August.

Fulton—At the [illegible] in Fulton [illegible] in March, May [illegible]

Fulton—At the office of C. H. [illegible] Fulton, on the second Tuesday in [illegible] July and October.

Mexico—At the office of Hon. [illegible] Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and July, and the fourth Friday in October.

Central Square—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 30th and September [illegible]

Parish—At A. F. & J. B. [illegible]'s law office, April 30th, July 30th and Sept. 30th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New, York, on or before the 15th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 12th, 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALFRED,
Administratrix.

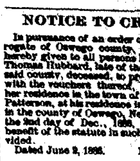
NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886.

LUCY K. HUBBARD,
Executrix.

Are You Consumptive.



Have you Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion? Use Parker's Tonic without delay. It has cured many of the worst cases. Do you suffer from pains in the chest, back or limbs? Have you symptoms of trouble with your Stomach, Liver or Kidneys? Neglect of these warnings leads to the breaking down of the vital powers. Parker's Tonic is the best remedy. Often saves life. Cures when everything else fails. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm.

"For 12 years I suffered from a hacking cough that at last disturbed me so much day and night, that I could neither rest nor sleep. Sometimes it seemed as if I would choke. My friends felt sure that consumption had fastened its deadly hold on me. I tried every kind of medicine, but nothing helped me, I grew steadily worse. Hearing at last of Parker's Tonic, I began to use it, and am thankful to say that it completely cured me."—A. PONMETZ, St. Louis, Mo.

"Though prostrated with a varied complication of diseases, and given up to die by the most skillful physicians. Parker's Tonic kept me alive and raised me up after everything else failed."—MRS. M. D. SHULTZ, Louisville, Kan.

PARKER'S TONIC,

Made by Hiscox & Co., N.Y, Sold by Druggists $1

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.

Time Table Taking Effect July 4th, 1886,

NORTHWARD.					SOUTHWARD.
5	3	1	9	STATIONS.	6	4	2	10
p m	p m	a m	a m	Leave Arrive	a m	a m	p m	p m
5 15	3 00	8 50	6 20	Jay St., N. Y.	9 40	1100	7 50	1 20
5 35	3 15	9 10	6 55	42nd St., N. Y.	9 20	1040	7 35	1110
7 46	5 17	1111	9 42	West Cornwall	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
8 13	5 47	1138	1026	Campbell Hall	7 10	[illegible]	[illegible]	7 10
8 50	6 07	1201	1100	M't'n Main St.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
8 46	6 20	1210	1123	Middletown	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	6 38	1236	1 00	Winterton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	6 43	1243	1 13	Bloom'ngb'rgh	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	6 47	1248	1 20	Wurtsboro	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
9 18	7 00	1258	1 30	Summitville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
....	7 10	1 20	....	Ellenville	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	....
[illegible]	7 19	1 19	2 00	Mountain Dale	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	7 27	1 26	2 13	Centerville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
9 53	7 35	1 39	2 26	Fallsburgh	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1000	7 42	1 46	2 40	Hurley	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1012	7 55	2 00	[illegible]	Liberty Falls	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1026	8 00	2 05	3 30	Liberty	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1030	8 13	2 20	3 50	Parksville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1042	8 25	2 40	4 16	L'v'gst'n Man'r	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1055	p m	2 55	4 27	Hockland	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1107	....	3 08	4 42	Cook's Falls	[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]
1130	....	3 31	5 10	East Branch	[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]
....	13	3 41	5 25	Fish's Eddy	[illegible]	14	[illegible]	[illegible]
1150	a m	3 54	5 36	Hancock	[illegible]	p m	[illegible]	[illegible]
1240	7 45	4 40	6 30	Walton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
9 00	7 00	5 40	p m	Delhi	....	9 35	1040	a m
1 30	8 30	5 15	[illegible]	Franklin	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	8 40	5 22	[illegible]	Sidney Centre	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
1 45	9 10	5 40	[illegible]	Sidney (Depart	1 46	7 40	1140	[illegible]
....	....	6 30	....	New Berlin	....	....	....	[illegible]
....	....	[illegible]	....	Guilford Centr	....	....	[illegible]	....
2 06	[illegible]	6 00	[illegible]	Guilford	1 20	7 12	1119	[illegible]
2 24	*944	6 18	[illegible]	Oxford	1 08	[illegible]	1104	[illegible]
2 45	1000	6 30	31	Norwich	1240	6 40	1045	50
....	39	....	....		....	32	....	....
....	a m	....	a m		....	p m	....	p m
2 50	2 15	6 35	7 30	Norwich	1230	7 20	1040	5 05
....	2 32	*645	7 43	North Norwich	....	7 08	1030	[illegible]
[illegible]	2 55	6 58	7 57	Smyrna	1208	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	3 06	7 05	8 08	Earlville	1200	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	7 18	8 15	Randallsville	1151	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Eaton	1140	[illegible]	[illegible]	4 20
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Morrisville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	4 00
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Munnsville	1117	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Community	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Oneida Castle	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Oneida	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	p m	[illegible]	[illegible]	Sylvan Beach	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	North Bay	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Cleveland	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	B'rnhard's Bay	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Constantia	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Central Square	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Caughdenoy	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Pennellville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Fulton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	....	[illegible]	[illegible]	Oswego	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
a m	p m	p m	a m	Arrive Depart	p m	p m	a m	a m

Train 1—Stops at Wurtsboro on signal, and at Winterton for New York passengers only.

Train 2—Stops at Guilford Centre for New York passengers only, and at North Norwich on signal.

Train 5—Stops at Hurley, Liberty Falls, Parksville and Cook's Falls on signal.

Train 31—Stops at Caughdenoy on signal.

Train 4—Stops at Morrisville, North Bay and Cleveland on signal; at Smyrna, Earlville, Eaton, Munnsville, Community and Bernhard's Bay for New York passengers only.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING NORTH.

Leaves Walton for Delhi [illegible] a. m., 4:46 and 8.45 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Delhi [illegible] a. m., 5:40 and 9:25 p. m. Sundays leave Walton 8:00 a. m., arrive at Delhi 9:00 a. m.

Train 27—Leaves Walton 3:30 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Sidney 4:10, Norwich 7.20 p. m.

Train [illegible]—Saturdays only, leaves Walton 7:15 p. m., arriving at Sidney [illegible] p. m.

Trains leave Sidney for New Berlin 11:15 a. m. and 7:10 p. m., stopping all stations, arriving at 1:00 and 8:33 p. m.

Train 39—Leaves Norwich [illegible] p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Oneida [illegible] p. m.

Trains leave Randallsville for Utica [illegible], 10:45 a. m., 7:15 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Utica 6:55, 11:59 a. m., 12:45 and [illegible] p. m.

Trains leave Clinton for Rome 7:30, 11:40 and 3:20 p. m., arriving at Rome 7:50 a. m., 12:25 and 6:40 p. m.

Train 55—Leaves Oneida 6:15 p. m., Sylvan Beach 6:45, arriving at North Bay [illegible] p. m.

ADDITIONAL TRAINS RUNNING SOUTH.

Train [illegible]—Leaves North Bay 7:[illegible] a. m., Sylvan Beach 7:40, arriving at Oneida [illegible]

Train [illegible]—Sundays only, leaves North Bay [illegible] p. m., Sylvan Beach [illegible], Oneida [illegible], arriving at Oneida Castle 6:15 p. m.

Train 40—Leaves Oneida [illegible] a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Norwich 12:45 p. m.

Trains leave Utica [illegible] a. m., [illegible], 4:[illegible] and [illegible] p. m., stopping at all stations on Utica Division, arriving at Randallsville [illegible] a. m., [illegible] and 11:[illegible] p. m., connecting with main line trains.

Trains leave Rome 6:15 a. m., 4:00 and 7:15 p. m., connecting at Clinton with Utica Division trains.

Train [illegible]—Leaves Norwich [illegible] a. m., Oxford 7:25, Sidney 9:45, Franklin 10:30, arriving at Walton 11:[illegible] a. m.

Train [illegible]—Sundays only, leaves Sidney [illegible] a. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at Walton 11:15 a. m.

Trains leave New Berlin for Sidney 7:[illegible] a. m. and 3:50 p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving at [illegible] a. m. and [illegible] p. m.

Trains leave Delhi for Walton [illegible] a. m., 10:40 a. m. and [illegible] p. m., stopping at all stations, arriving 7:[illegible] and 11:[illegible] a. m., [illegible] p. m. Sundays leave Delhi [illegible], arrive at Walton [illegible]

Train 57—Sundays only, leaves Oneida Castle [illegible] a. m., Sylvan Beach [illegible], arriving at North Bay [illegible]

CONNECTIONS.

Train 3—Connects at Cornwall with West Shore Express for all points north, Saratoga, Whitehall, Plattsburgh, arriving at Montreal [illegible] a. m.

Train 1—Connects at Randallsville for Utica and Rome and all stations on the Utica Division, for all stations to Utica; at Oneida with N. Y. Central for Syracuse.

Train [illegible]—Connects at Randallsville for Utica [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Feature, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 23

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

The Dying Umpire.

DETROIT FREE PRESS.

An umpire of the league nines,
Lay dying at the the plate,
And the gory rocks about him
Told the story of his fate.

He had made a rank decision,
And the crowd, in frenzy deep,
Had shuffled off his mortal coil
By rocking him to sleep.

The catcher stood beside him,
As his life blood ebbed away,
And swung his hat with vigor
To keep the crowd at bay.

The dying umpire beckoned,
And the captain of the nine
Bent over him in sorrow,
For he feared another fine.

But the umpire's words came feebly,
As the crisis was at hand,
His dimmed eyes were soon to open
In a brighter, fairer land.

Then he whispered low and sadly,
"Call the game it's getting dark;
Let it end on even even innings,
So the last run do not mark.

"I have finished watching bases;
I am numbered with the slain,
And the cry of 'rats' will never
Echo in my ears again.

"Place my hand upon the home-plate,
Let me have my little mask;
Frame a set of resolutions,
This is all I have to ask."

The dying umpire faltered,
His face turned toward the sun,
One gasp, and all was over;
It was his last home run.

They buried him at twilight
In a hole they quickly made,
And no stone marks the lonely spot
Where the weary umpire's laid.

A Return.

The charm of the golden trees,
The glow of the autumn day,
And the garden walks with their murmuring bees,
Sooth all my cares away.

My soul is sick of the strife
Where pulses never are stilled;
But here, in the rest of a simple life,
God's promise is fulfilled.

When the bramble bears its fruit,
And the mists creep over the lea,
And softens the sound of a distant flute
The sheep-bells chime to me;

When the bracken turns to gold,
And down in the winding lane
A little bird sings me the songs of old
Till the youth comes back again;

Then trouble and pain depart,
And comfort and peace draw near,
And all the foes of a timerous heart
Like panthoms disappear.

And the autumn lands grow fair
With a light that seems devine;
And the tresures I left in childhood there,
Once more are wholly mine.
—[Sarah Doudney in the Quiver.

His Dear Experience.

How does the frisky little kid
Improve each shining minute?
He finds the hive and honey hid,
And gets to prodding in it.

And when the bees attend the boy
He finds in woe intense,
The primal task of that alloy
Men call experience. —[Exchange.

The Proper Time.

When politics are getting hot
And rife are campaign lies,
Concerning plot and counter plot,
Of most gigantic size,
The papers sell like hot cakes then,
And all far-seeing business men
Resolve to advertise.
—[Boston Courier.

October.

He walks the beach at night, alone,
The silent moon smiles on his woe;
The cutting breezes round him moan,
But still he walks and murmers low;

Along the angry billows' crest
The beacon casts its sickly glow.
He lingers, yet, in vague unrest,
Why, why—oh why does he not go,
And get his overcoat. —[Tid Bits.

THE PROPER THING.

A very small Scotch plaid has made its appearance.

Black with yellow, remains a fashionable combination.

Fabrics with rough, curled surfaces, are in the minority this year.

Russian blue and green will be popular shades for costumes the coming season.

Basques are very short at the sides, pointed in front and have postilion backs.

Ivory white satin or else repped silks are employed for the richest wedding dresses.

A solitaire diamond still remains the favorite ornament for the engagement ring.

The wedding ring is a simple gold band, much more slender than those formerly worn.

Ornaments for the hair are fashionable but must be judiciously arranged to be effective.

The crowns of fall hats are of cloth, velvet, and satin, with a seam directly in the back.

New polonaises are made very full in the back breadths of the skirt, but are not much looped.

Cheviot, tweed and canvas goods will take the lead in stylish materials for general wear this fall.

Coats or overcoats for little girls show the same short waists and full skirts that are seen in their frocks.

The bridal bouquet is de rigueur of white flowers, roses, clematis, feather, jasmine, orange flowers, white lilac, and lilies of the valley.

Daisy rosettes, made of narrow orange-colored velvet ribbon, with hearts of brown plush are set in high holly wreaths around new autumn [illegible] hats of golden brown or beige color.

[illegible]

THE STORY OF A MINE.

By BRET HARTE.

[Copyrighted, 1886, by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., and published by arrangement with them.]

CHAPTER I.

WHO SOUGHT IT.

IT was a steep trail leading over the Monterey coast range. Concho was very tired, Concho was very dusty, Concho was very much disgusted. To Concho's mind there was but one relief for these insurmountable difficulties, and that lay in a leathern bottle slung over the machillas of his saddle. Concho raised the bottle to his lips, took a long draught, made a wry face, and ejaculated:

"Carajo!"

It appeared that the bottle did not contain aguardiente, but had lately been filled in a tavern near Tres Pinos by an Irishman who sold bad American whisky under that pleasing Castilian title. Nevertheless, Concho had already nearly emptied the bottle, and it fell back against the saddle as yellow and flaccid as his own cheeks. Thus re-enforced, Concho turned to look at the valley behind him, from which he had climbed since noon. It was a sterile waste bordered here and there by arable fringes and valdas of meadow land, but in the main dusty, dry and forbidding. His eye rested for a moment on a low, white cloud line on the eastern horizon, but so mocking and unsubstantial that it seemed to come and go as he gazed. Concho struck his forehead and winked his hot eyelids. Was it the Sierras or the cursed American whisky?

Again he recommenced the ascent. At times the half-worn, half-invisible trail became utterly lost in the bare black out-crop of the ridge, but his sagacious mule soon found it again, until, stepping upon a loose bowlder, she slipped and fell. In vain Concho tried to lift her from out the ruin of camp kettles, prospecting pans and picks; she remained quietly recumbent, occasionally raising her head as if to contemplatively glance over the arid plain below. Then he had recourse to useless blows. Then he essayed profanity of a secular kind, such as "Assassin," "Thief," "Beast with a pig's head," "Food for the Bull's Horns," but with no effect.

Then he had recourse to the curse ecclesiastic: "Ah, Judas Iscariot! is it thus, renegado and traitor, thou leavest me, thy master, a league from camp and supper waiting? Stealer of the Sacrament, get up!"

Still no effect. Concho began to feel uneasy; never before had a mule of pious lineage failed to respond to this kind of exhortation. He made one more desperate attempt: "Ah, defiler of the altar! lie not there! Look!" he threw his hand into the air, extending the fingers suddenly. "Behold, fiend! I exorcise thee! Ha! tremblest! Look but a little now—see! Apostate! I—I—excommunicate thee—Mula!"

"What are you kicking up such a devil of row down there for?" said a gruff voice from the rocks above.

Concho shuddered. Could it be that the devil was really going to fly away with his mule. He dared not look up.

"Come now," continued the voice, "you just let up on that mule, you d—— d old Greaser. Don't you see she's slipped her shoulder?"

Alarmed as Concho was at the information, he could not help feeling to a certain extent relieved. She was lamed, but had not lost her standing as a good Catholic.

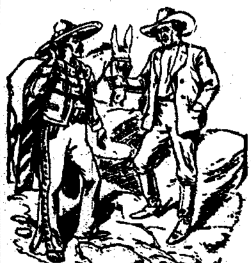
He ventured to lift his eyes. A stranger—an Americano from his dress and accent—was descending the rocks toward him. He was a slight-built man with a dark, smooth face, that would have been quite commonplace and inexpressive but for his left eye, in which all that was villainous in him apparently centered. Shut that eye, and you had the features and expression of an ordinary man; cover up those features, and the eye shown out like Eblis' own. Nature had apparently observed this too, and had, by a paralysis of the nerve, ironically dropped the corner of the upper lid over it like a curtain, laughed at her handiwork, and turned him loose to prey upon the credulous world.

"What are you doing here?" said the stranger after he had assisted Concho in bringing the mule to her feet, and a helpless halt.

"Prospecting, Senor."

The stranger turned his respectable right eye toward Concho, while his left looked unutterable scorn and wickedness over the landscape.

"Prospecting, what for?"



"Prospecting, what for?"

"Gold and silver, Senor—yet for silver most."

"Alone?"

"Of us there are four."

The stranger looked around.

"In camp—a league beyond," explained the Mexican.

"Found anything?"

"Of this—much." Concho took from his saddle bags a lump of grayish iron ore, studded here and there with dull points of pyrites. The stranger said nothing, but his eye looked a diabolical suggestion.

"You are lucky, friend Greaser."

"Sir?"

"It's silver."

[illegible]

ter and then let a drop fall from its tip in the water. The water remained unchanged.

"Now throw a little salt in the water," said the stranger.

Concho did so. Instantly a white film appeared on the surface, and presently the whole mass assumed a milky hue.

Concho crossed himself hastily, "Mother of God, it is magic!"

"It is chloride of silver, you darned fool."

Not content with this cheap experiment, the stranger then took Concho's breath away by reddening some litmus paper with the nitrate, and then completely knocked over the simple Mexican by restoring its color by dipping it in the salt water.

"You shall try me this," said Concho, offering his iron ore to the stranger; "you shall use the silver and the salt."

"Not so fast my friend," answered the stranger; "in the first place this ore must be melted, and then a chip taken and put in shape like this—and that is worth something, my Greaser cherub. No, sir, a man don't spend all his youth at Freiburg and Heidelburg to throw away his science gratuitously on the first Greaser he meets."

"It will cost—eh—how much?" said the Mexican eagerly.

"Well, I should say it would take about $100 and expenses to—to—find silver in that ore. But once you've got it there—you're all right for tons of it."

"You shall have it," said the now excited Mexican. "You shall have it of us—the four! You shall come to our camp and shall melt it—and show the silver, and—enough! Come!" and in his feverishness he clutched the hand of his companion as if to lead him forth at once.

"What are you going to do with your mule?" said the stranger.

"True, holy mother—what, indeed?"

"Look yer," said the stranger, with a grim smile, "she won't stray far, I'll be bound. I've an extra pack mule above here; you can ride on her, and lead me into camp, and to-morrow come back for your beast."

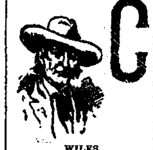
Poor honest Concho's heart sickened at the prospect of leaving behind the tired servant he had objurgated so strongly a moment before, but the love of gold was uppermost. "I will come back to thee, little one, to-morrow, a rich man. Meanwhile, wait thou here, patient one—Adios!—thou smallest of mules—Adios!"

And, seizing the stranger's hand, he clambered up the rocky ledge until they reached the summit. Then the stranger turned and gave one sweep of his malevolent eye over the valley.

Wherefore, in after years, when their story was related, with the devotion of true Catholic pioneers, they named the mountain "La Canada de la Visitacion del Diablo," "The Gulch of the Visitation of the Devil," the same being now the boundary lines of one of the famous Mexican land grants.

CHAPTER II.

WHO FOUND IT.



WILES.

CONCHO was so impatient to reach the camp and deliver his good news to his companions that more than once the stranger was obliged to command him to slacken his pace. "Is it not enough, you infernal Greaser, that you lame your own mule, but you must try your hand on mine? Or am I to put Jinny down among the expenses?" he added with a grin and a slight lifting of his baleful eyelid.

When they had ridden a mile along the ridge they began to descend again toward the valley. Vegetation now sparingly bordered the trail, clumps of chemisal, an occasional manzanita bush and one or two dwarfed "buckeyes" rooted their way between the interstices of the black-gray rock. Now and then, in crossing some dry gully, worn by the overflow of winter torrents from above, the grayish rock gloom was relieved by dull red and brown masses of color, and almost every overhanging rock bore the mark of a miner's pick. Presently, as they rounded the curving flank of the mountain, from a rocky bench below them, a thin ghost-like stream of smoke seemed to be steadily drawn by invisible hands into the invisible ether. "It is the camp," said Concho, gleefully; "I will myself forward to prepare them for the stranger," and before his companion could detain him he had disappeared at a sharp canter around the curve of the trail.

Left to himself, the stranger took a more leisurely pace, which left him ample time for reflection. Scamp as he was, there was something in the simple credulity of poor Concho that made him uneasy. Not that his moral consciousness was touched, but he feared that Concho's companions might, knowing Concho's simplicity, instantly suspect him of trading upon it. He rode on in a deep study. Was he reviewing his past life? A vagabond by birth and education, a swindler by profession, an outcast by reputation, without absolutely turning his back upon respectability, he had trembled on the perilous edge of criminality ever since his boyhood. He did not scruple to cheat these Mexicans—they were a degraded race—and for a moment he felt almost an accredited agent of progress and civilization. We never really understand the meaning of enlightenment until we begin to use it aggressively.

A few paces further on four figures appeared in the now gathering darkness of the trail. The stranger quickly recognized the beaming smile of Concho, foremost of the party. A quick glance at the faces of the others satisfied him that while they lacked Concho's good humor, they certainly did not surpass him in intellect. Pedro was a stout vaquero. Manuel was a slim half-breed and ex-convert of the Mission of San Carmel, and Miguel a recent butcher of Monterey. Under the benign influence of Concho that suspicion with which the ignorant regard strangers died away, and the whole party escorted the stranger—who had given his name as Mr. Joseph Wiles—to their camp fire. So anxious were they to begin their experiments that even the instincts of hospitality were forgotten, and it was not until Mr. Wiles—now known as "Don Jose"—[illegible]

[illegible] half savage face. Meeting that baleful glance once, Pedro growled out an oath, but could not resist a hideous fascination that caused him again and again to seek it.

The scene was weird enough without Wiles' eye to add to its wild picturesqueness. The mountain towered above—a heavy Rembrandtish mass of black shadow—sharply cut here and there against a sky so inconceivably remote that the world-sick soul must have despaired of ever reaching so far or of climbing its steel-blue walls. The stars were large, keen and brilliant, but cold and steadfast. They did not dance nor twinkle in their adamantine setting. The furnace fire painted the faces of the men an Indian red, glanced on brightly colored blanket and serape, but was eventually caught and absorbed in the waiting shadows of the black mountain, scarcely twenty feet from the furnace door. The low, half-sung, half-whispered foreign speech of the group, the roaring of the furnace and the quick, sharp yelp of the coyote on the plain below were the only sounds that broke the awful silence of the hills.

It was almost dawn when it was announced that the ore had fused. And it was high time, for the pot was slowly sinking into the fast crumbling oven. Concho uttered a jubilant "God and Liberty," but Don Jose Wiles bade him be silent and bring stakes to support the pot. Then Don Jose bent over the seething mass. It was for a moment only. But in that moment this accomplished mettallurgist, Mr. Joseph Wiles, had quietly dropped a silver half dollar into the pot!

Then he charged them to keep up the fires and went to sleep—all but one eye.

Dawn came with dull beacon fires on the near hill tops, and, far in the east, roses over the Sierran snow. Birds twittering in the alder fringes a mile below, and the creaking of wagon wheels—the wagon itself a mere cloud of dust in the distant road—were heard distinctly. Then the melting pot was solemnly broken by Don Jose, and the glowing incandescent mass turned into the road to cool.

And then the metallurgist clipped a small fragment from the mass and pounded it, and chipped another smaller piece and pounded that, and then subjected it to acid, and then treated it to a salt bath which became at once milky—and at last produced a white something—mirabile dictu!—two cents' worth of silver!

Concho shouted with joy; the rest gazed at each other doubtingly and distrustfully; companions in poverty, they began to diverge and suspect each other in prosperity. Wiles' left eye glanced ironically from the one to the other.

"Here is the $100, Don Jose," said Pedro, handing the gold to Wiles with a decidedly brusque intimation that the services and presence of a stranger were no longer required.

Wiles took the money with a gracious smile and a wink that sent Pedro's heart into his boots, and was turning away when a cry from Manuel stopped him:

"The pot—the pot—it has leaked! look! behold! see!"

He had been cleaning away the crumbled fragments of the furnace to get ready for breakfast, and had disclosed a shining pool of quicksilver!

Wiles started, cast a rapid glance around the group, saw in a flash that the metal was unknown to them, and then said, quietly:

"It is not silver."

"Pardon, senor, it is, and still molten."

Wiles stooped and ran his fingers through the shining metal.

"Mother of God—what is it, then?—magic?"

"No, only base metal." But here, Concho, emboldened by Wiles' experiment, attempted to seize a handful of the glistening mass that instantly broke through his fingers in a thousand tiny spherules, and even sent a few globules up his shirt sleeves, until he danced around in mingled fear and childish pleasure.

"And it is not worth the taking?" queried Pedro of Wiles.

Wiles' right eye and bland face were turned toward the speaker, but his malevolent left was glancing at the dull, red-brown rock on the hillside.

"No!" and turning abruptly away he proceeded to saddle his mule.

Manuel, Miguel and Pedro, left to themselves, began talking earnestly together, while Concho, now mindful of his crippled mule, made his way back to the trail where he had left her. But she was no longer there. Constant to her master through beatings and bullyings, she could not stand incivility and inattention. There are certain qualities of the sex that belong to all animated nature.

Inconsolable, footsore and remorseful, Concho returned to the camp and furnace, three miles across the rocky ridge. But what was his astonishment on arriving to find the place deserted of man, mule and camp equipage. Concho called aloud. Only the echoing rocks grimly answered him. Was it a trick? Concho tried to laugh. Ah—yes—a good one—a joke—no—no—they had deserted him! And then poor Concho bowed his head to the ground, and falling on his face, cried as if his honest heart would break.

The tempest passed in a moment; it was not Concho's nature to suffer long nor to brood over an injury. As he raised his head again his eye caught the shimmer of the quicksilver—that pool of merry antic metal that had so delighted him an hour before. In a few moments Concho was again disporting with it; chasing it here and there, rolling it in his palms and laughing with boylike glee at its elusive freaks and fancies. "Ah, sprightly one—skipjack—there thou goest—come here. This way—now I have thee, little one—come, muchacha—come and kiss me," until he had quite forgotten the defection of his companions. And even when he shouldered his sorry pack, he was fain to carry his playmate away with him in his empty leathern flask.

And yet I fancy the sun looked kindly on him as he strode cheerily down the black mountain side, and his step was none the less free nor light that he carried with him neither the brilliant prospects nor the crime of his late comrades.

(To be Continued.)

A Case of Exchange.

Jones—Ha! old fellow how are you? Just heard that you had gone into the newspaper business.

Smith—Yes just bought a country paper.

Jones—That so! Good enough. Why I guess you can give me an occasional puff, then.

Smith—Certainly. What are you [illegible]

[illegible]

Lady or Woman, Which?

It has been customary for a long time to call all women ladies. In fact the term "lady" has got such a firm hold on on the populace that it is almost a questionable piece of propriety to call a female a woman. It is not necessary to resort to the argument to prove that woman is preferable to "lady." We print a few quotations from the literature of civilization and polite society, substituting the word "lady" for "woman," just to let the casual reader know how it works.

Man that is born of a lady is of few days and full of trouble.

Ophelia—'Tis brief my lord—
Hamlet—As lady's love.

What mighty ills have not been done by lady?

Who was't betrayed the capitol? A lady.

Who lost Marc Anthony the world? A lady.

Who was the cause of a long ten years war.

And laid old Troy in ashes? Lady,
Destructive, damnable, deceitful lady.

Here are a few more:

A continual dropping on a rainy day and a contentious lady are alike.

It is better to dwell in a corner of a house top than with a brawling lady in a wide house.

Favor is deceitful, and beauty is vain, but a lady that feareth the Lord shall be praised.

No fiend in hell can match the fury of a disappointed lady.

The lady that deliberates is lost.

O lady! lovely lady, Nature made thee to temper man.

Her statute tall—I hate a dumpy lady.

A lady moved is like a fountain troubled.

'Tis lady that seduces all mankind.—[Puck.

All cases of weak or lame back, backache, rheumatism, &c., will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents.

New England Mill Treasurers.

We are told that one New England mill treasurer had fifty thousand dollars per annum. The late William Gray, jr., had fifteen thousand dollars per annum, as treasurer of two mills. Phillip Walden had seventeen thousand five hundred dollars per annum with A. T. Stewart & Co., but this was not as a mill agent or treasurer, but to lay out and see to the styles in all the mills. It is probable that Mr. Mark Steere had the largest salary ever paid to an active woolen mill agent. We have known of one gentleman with rare executive ability being offered and declining twenty thousand dollars per annum to manage a large woolen mill.—[Wade's Fiber and Fabric.

If you are tired taking the large old-fashioned griping pills, try Carter's Little Liver Pills and take some comfort. A man can't stand everything. One pill a dose.

Interesting to Cigar Dealers.

"Did you know that a cigar dealer violates the law nearly every time you buy a cigar?" asked an officer of a Gazette representative the other day.

"Well, no, I did not know it," was the scribe's response. "How does he do it?"

"Just this way," continued the officer. "You call for a cigar and the dealer takes a handful from the box, spreads them out before you, and after you have selected what you want he returns the remainder to the box. This is a violation of the law. The dealer has no right to return those cigars to the box, and he could be punished for it."—[Elmira Gazette.

A person who was a merchant in one of the small villages in Erie county in 1865 says that his books show that the following prices were paid at that time for groceries and merchandise of various kinds: Kerosene oil, $1.20 per gallon; white sugar, 30 cents per pound; gingham, 50 cents per yard; bleached sheeting, 63 cents per yard; calico, 38 cents.

Thousands of cases of Consumption are cured every year by Acker's celebrated English Remedy. It is a guaranteed preparation; if it does not help you it will cost you nothing. Try it. A single dose will show its good effect. Trial bottles 10 cts. by H. C. Giesler.

A Regular Miracle.

"I say, Jobkins, can you let me have that dollar you owe me?"

"Want it to-day, particularly?"

"Well, you see, I have the toothache."

"What has that to do with it?"

"A great shock will cure the toothache, Jobkins, and I thought perhaps, if you paid me, I—er. Thank you."—[Philadelphia Call.

We still live and feel healthy. The very disastrous effect of the Oswego county druggists' combination, upon our diet during the past year, seemed so apparent that upon consulting our bank account, and Wilcox's meat scales, we find ourselves yet, quite a ghost. The big guns of the Oswego county drug combination for the prevention of cruelty to fish, are still aimed at our council. Our diet of corn meal and onions enables us to still step heavily upon the necks of the Oswego county poor man's friends. We still hold forth at the beautiful opera house drug store and have increased our stock of Pure Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Wines, Liquors, Fancy Toilet Articles, Oils, Paints, and in fact everything pertaining to a first-class drug line. We desire to sincerely thank our many Fulton and vicinity friends who have stood by us in our past warfare, and thereby enabled us to secure a good fitting out of our clothes. Our Combination Competitors, have acquired such an affection for us that when we chance to pass them upon the streets, they greet us with the following smiling expression:

Remember our place, The Opera House Drug Store, Opposite the Stephens Opera House, Fulton, N. Y. H. C. GIESLER.

—CALL ON—
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of
STOVES AND RANGES,
Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,
ART UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,
and ACORN,
Parlor Stoves.

THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
GRAND UNIVERSAL,
HAPPY THOUGHT,
HAPPY HOME,
and DUCHESS
Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the
Howe Ventilating Stove,
which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves
I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.
Yours Respectfully,
GEO. JOHNSTON

—THE—
Howe Ventilating Stove.

A NEW STOVE. ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE. AN EXCELENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, [illegible] drops dead to the floor, is [illegible] in the stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE
Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N. Y.
[illegible] Agent

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS. Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables, Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
33 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.
Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.
Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.
Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF Ladies' Kid Button Shoes
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

LUMBER YARD.
We have in Stock a Complete Assortment of
Lumber, Lath, Shingles
&c., and in fact everything pertaining to a
FIRST-CLASS YARD.
We are prepared to furnish thoroughly Seasoned Lumber at Lowest Rates.
Call and be Convinced.
BOOMER & LOOMIS.
Corner Broadway and First Streets.

-BUY-
Hampden Watches
-AT-
W. P. OSORNE'S.
REPAIRED AT OSBORNE'S
WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY
-B-U-Y-
[illegible] P. OSBORNE'S.

[illegible] Communications must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES,

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

IT is expected that Secretary Manning will soon resume his duties as a member of the cabinet.

THE annual address delivered at Richmond by Master Workman Powderly was a masterly effort.

A CENTURY plant at St. Augustine, Fla., is about to bloom. It has reached a height of forty feet.

THE president has purchased a magnificent piano for his country home. It cost $5,000 and was made to order.

OF the $241,000,000 of the standard silver that has been coined only $60,000,000 or one quarter of it, is in circulation.

THOMAS MCCARTHY Republican, was nominated for Assembly in the third Onondaga district at Syracuse, Saturday.

HON. S. S. COX, United States Minister to Turkey, accompanied by his wife arrived in New York Sunday. He announces that he he will be a candidate for congress if he can secure the nomination.

THE Chicago anarchists were on Saturday sentenced to be hanged by Judge Gary of Chicago. Parsons, one of the condemned anarchists made an appeal of nearly six hours duration before sentence was passed. The date of the execution is fixed at the third of December next.

THE last that has skipped to Canada to help fill up the already crowded ranks of American defaulters, embezzlers, etc, is M. M. Neeld, a Chicago pork speculator. and partner in the well known packing house of J. C. Ferguson & Co. He secured about $400,000 of the funds of that firm before he took his departure.

THE new $1 silver certificates have made their appearance. They are of the regulation greenback size, handsomely engraved and bearing the profile of Martha Washington. They certify that one silver dollar has been deposited in the treasury of the United States which is payable to the bearer of a certificate on demand. Other certificates of higher denominations will be issued before long.

Henry C. Howe Re-nominated.

Hon. H. C. Howe was on Monday renominated for member of assembly at the first assembly district Republican convention held in Oswego. H. J. Daggert presided at the convention. The name of S. M. Coon was withdrawn and an informal ballot taken which resulted in H. C. Howe of this village receiving 46, H. D. McCaffrey of Oswego 21; H. A. Wilcox, Oswego, 10; S. M. Coon 1; blank 2.

Mr. Howe's nomination was then made unanimous.

South Granby.

Rev. J. Forbes of Bowens Corners preached a very forcible discourse at the school house Sunday evening. The substance of the text being Love one another, and we hope all will profit thereby.

Behm Palmer died at the home of his father in Jacksonville, last Thursday of consumption. Funeral services were held at the Baptist church in that place, Sunday, at two o'clock p. m.

Charles Peck is very low with Bright's disease of the kidneys.

Lewis Calkins and grandson of Cold Spring, spent Sunday with friends here.

The school in the Cody district opened to-day with Clarence Palmer as teacher.

There will be a box social at the school house this evening. The proceeds to go toward paying for the organ.

We are having splendid weather of late and farmers are improving it, by gathering their corn and potatoes.

Hurbert Cook is now ready to receive apples at his mill and will manufacture them into cider as fast as they come.

Gilberts Mills.

Almon Mason who has been quite sick is considerably better.

Mrs. Dr. Wright has returned to her home.

Capt. Cook is building an addition to his barn.

Farmers are complaining of damage of damage done to corn and beans by too much rain.

S. P. Mason of Oswego is visiting friends here.

Mrs. Monroe Blodget of Fulton spent a few days with friends here last week.

Dr. Burr Mason visited friends here last Sunday.

The little daughter of W. Johnson, broke her collar bone last week by being thrown from a small express wagon in which she was riding.

Mrs. Jane Evans is having a new wall built under her house—a much needed improvement.

Mrs. Kelly and mother have been visiting friends in Oswego for the past few days.

[illegible]

[illegible] good people [illegible] confess to a little feeling. Now for the benefit of this class, I went over to the navy yard and saw for myself just what we did have. The navy yard be it known is in the city of Brooklyn. It has been there so long that the Brooklynites claim it as their own peculiar property, placed there for their especial benefit. The euphonious name of Wallabout belonged only to the site of the yard. A tract of land containing 300 or more acres surrounded by a high brick wall and pierced by two gates represents the yard. Within it is laid out in avenues and streets all properly curbed and paved. To these the names of noted naval heroes are given. The buildings necessary to the storage of timber and articles of construction and equipment, machinery, boiler making, ect., line these streets. The river front of the yard is all properly faced with stone forming with the great depth of water admirable docking facilities. The largest dry dock in the country is here. This is more than 300 feet long and has been in use since 1840. To empty it requires about one hour of steady pumping by a large steam pumping engine near by. But this is merely incidental. The navy of course means the ships. That's what I went to see. In one of the ship houses a building used for building a ship on stocks before launching, is the New York. It is a huge vessel over 300 feet long. It was begun sometime during the war. The frame was set up and then left. Just north of this is the dismantled remains of the torpedo boat Intrepid. She was 50 feet long and had many screws. She was all finished once and for some cause, nobody knew what was to be lengthened. So they began that operation and there it rests. Over by one of the stone docks is the Monitor Miantonomah. She was built by John Roach and I believe completed but her turrets of which she has two did not suit so they were torn down and new ones imported from Sheffield, England. These lie on the dock. They are immense sections of a steel cylinder, 20 feet in diameter, 6 feet high and whose side is 6 inches thick. When this is to be finished, nobody knows. A dozen or so men were working on her. Then there was the Atlanta and the Boston, two new steel cruisers built by that much abused man John Roach. The Atlanta is finished and has been to sea. No regular trial trip has as yet been made but evidence of 15 or 16 miles per hour rate of speed has been shown. The Boston is the twin to the Atlanta. They may be classed as first rate war vessels. So far they have no guns mainly because there is no place in the country where sufficiently large ones can be made. There steel vessels or "tanks" as the sailors have dubbed them are not liked by the men. They are very hot and uncomfortable and even though the Atlanta has been in commission but a few weeks, desertions have already taken place.

These three, provided the Miantonomoh ever gets completed constitute the real available force of respectability near this city. There are other vessels —The Nipsic, Richmond, Powhatan, Enterprise, Dispatch, Alliance and the torpedo boat Alarm. The first four are good old-fashioned wooden ships of ante-bellum days. The Alliance only went into commission a few days ago after a thorough overhauling. She went up the river to make a trial of speed but burst her steam chest and is now back again. The most striking object in the navy yard is the receiving ship Vermont. She was once a noble vessel but her glory is now departed. Her deeds are covered over with a house three stories high and she resembles the ancient Ark. Men in gold lace abound —officers are everywhere. There is bowing and scraping, saluting and manufactured politeness. The impression one gathers from a visit is rather unsatisfying. A great nation ought to have a great navy. In this age of 100 ton guns throwing a 1,600 pound solid shot, those wooden vessels are useless except to make a show at some celebration. Just think of it only only 3 respectable iron clads to protect 20,000 miles of sea coast. It is a matter of congratulated that 3 more are expected to be ready in 18 months and the basis of a decent respectable navy worthy a great nation will then be laid.

⁂

The delay of the Anchoria in not arriving has wrought public feeling to a high pitch. To-day, however the news comes of her safety and perhaps before this reaches the reader the Anchoria will be in port. Twenty-three days is a long while to be crossing the ocean these days. The danger to an ocean steamer is not in an explosion but in the breaking of the shaft and this is the reason for the delay of the Anchoria. When about half way across she broke her shaft and has been slowly sailing having adverse winds and several storms to encounter. Having reached a point within a hundred miles from Newfoundland the Captain sent a boat ashore and thus the news reached this city. The scenes around the shipping office of this line have been painful indeed. It must needs follow that a vessel overdue with 500 souls on board would create great anxiety and the fate of the Boston and of the President is remembered. Then two, silly rumors of the insecurity of the ship always spread and these always make matters worse. The fact is remarkable that considering the great number of ocean "racers" but few are lost and an ocean trip is just as safe as one by rail.

⁂

The decision of the Court of Appeals was received with great satisfaction by the good citizens. Already Messrs Sayles, Kirk, Farley and Miller have had their day of trial set, showing that Mr. Martine is fulfilling his promise to act as soon as the court of appeals made the decision. [illegible]

[illegible] considered advisable to call a general meeting where an interchange of views might be had. Notices of such a meeting were posted and the meeting was held at the rooms in Charles Whitaker's block on Oneida street on Monday evening. Mr. E. R. Redhead was made chairman of the meeting and Mr. A. Rice, secretary. Various matters of interest were discussed and the formation of a village improvement society was perfected. An executive committee consisting of Messrs. Piper, Redhead, Rice, Bennett and Stephens, were appointed until the next meeting which is to be held next Wednesday evening at rooms hereafter to be designated. It is hoped and expected that the ladies of the village will become members and take an active part in the work of the association. The following rules to govern the association were adopted:

1st. This Association shall be called "The Fulton Improvement Association."

2. The object of this Association shall be to cultivate town pride, public spirit, quicken the social and intellectual life of the people, promote good fellowship, and secure better health by better sanitary conditions of our homes and surroundings, improve our streets, roads, public grounds, and in general to build up and beautify the whole town, and thus enhance the value of its real estate and render Fulton a still more inviting place of residence.

3. The officers of this Association shall consist of a President, Vice-President, a Treasurer, a Secretary, and an Executive committee of fifteen, six of whom shall be ladies.

4. It shall be the duty of the Executive committee to make all contracts, employ all laborers, expend all moneys, and superintend all improvements made by the Association. They shall hold meetings monthly from April to October in each year, and as much oftner as they may deem expedient.

5. Every person, who shall pay three dollars in one year or one dollar annually, and obligate himself or herself to pay the same annually for three years, shall be a member of this Association.

6. The payment of ten dollars annually for three years, or twenty-five dollars in one sum, shall constitute one a life member of this Association.

7. Five members of the Executive committee present at any meeting shall constitute a quorum.

8. No debt shall be contracted by the Executive committee beyond the amount of available means within their control, and no member of the Association shall be liable for any debt of the Association beyond the amount of his or her subscription.

9. The annual meeting of the Association shall be held on the first Wednesday of November in each year, and other meetings of the Association shall be held as often as shall be determined by the members present at the annual meeting, and at such other times as the Executive committee shall sign a call therefor. At the annual meeting, the Executive committie shall make a detailed report of all moneys received and expended during the year, the number of trees planted under their direction, and the number planted by individuals, and the doings of the committee in general.

10. This constitution may be amended at any annual meeting by a two thirds vote of the members present and voting.

Grand Opening at the Bee Hive, Oct. 14th, 15th and 16th.

Mexico, Past and Present.

F. W. Squires, the statistical authority for this county, furnishes to the Mexico Independent the following concerning town of Mexico and how it has been shorn of its territory:

"A few years ago I received a communication from the Secretary of State, giving the formation with bounds of Mexico in 1792. According to that formation, the town including the present counties of Onondaga, Cortland and the west half of Oswego; the east line running north from near Constantia village in this county to lake Ontario. The description as I received it, is given in the Oswego county history of 1877. Onondaga county was formed in 1794, which necessitated a new formation for the town of Mexico and it was accomplished in 1796, by an act of the legislature. By this second formation the town was bounded on the north by lake Ontario; on the east by the Black river in Lewis county; on the south by Fish creek, Oneida lake and river and on the west by the Oswego river.

The great town held its own in territory until 1799, when Camden, now in Oneida county was taken from it. In 1800 Watertown and Champion, now in Jefferson county, Lowville and Turin now in Lewis county, and Redfield in this county were taken off. Adams, now in Jefferson county, was taken from Mexico in 1802, and Ellisburg in 1803. Lorraine, now in Jefferson county, and Williamstown in this county, in 1804, Volney in 1806 and Constantia in 1808. New Haven in 1813 and Parish in 1828. Truly the old town of Mexico has been greatly shorn of her vast amount of territory."

Grand Opening at the Bee Hive, Oct. 14th, 15th and 16th.

COUNTY NEWS.

A great deal of sickness at present prevails in Parish. It is said that [illegible]

[illegible] The evolution of an annual report of an executive department is an interesting process. Most of the material for the report is furnished by the subordinates. The employes supply the facts and statistics, the chiefs of divisions and bureaus add comments and deductions, and a synopsis of the whole is presented to the head of the department. In matters of national importance, as for instance when the Secretary of the Treasury formulates his policy in regard to the coinage of silver he must consult with the President.

The President's message gives an epitome of the department reports, which is sometimes furnished by the heads of departments, and occasionally the President prepares it himself from the data he has culled. The messages of President Hayes had little originalty. They were largely made up of abstracts of department reports, with a discussion of a few special subjects. President Arthur wrote a greater part of his messages himself, and Mr. Cleveland does the same. The President's message is no longer, it is claimed, of much consequence in directing legislation, except as it may be taken as the announcement of the policy of the political party of which he is the representative.

Mr. Cleveland's last reception was one of the largest ever held in the east room in summer. Over five hundred people shook hands with the President. Among them was a large excursion from North Carolina. One old gentleman approached the President and smilingly said "Tar Heel, sah; glad to see you, sah."

A number of children were with the excursionists, and Mr. Cleveland seemed to exert himself to pay them special attention.

It seems that the example set by Mr. Benedict, the new Public Printer, will be followed by other departments here. It is reported that there is soon to be a thorough re-organization of the Treasury Department under the direction of Assistant Secretary Thompson; and it is believed that when Secretary Whitney returns, he intends to make a number of changes in his department.

It may not be generally known, that of all the foreign legations residing here the British is the only one that owns its legation building. The other ministers with their suites rent houses or flats, or board. The building where the British Minister resides is a hospitable looking, old fasioned mansion, situated on Connecticut Avenue, the most fashionable street in the city. The building with the ground on which it stands, is in a certain sense is British territory, and untaxable by the United States.

Minister Romero now intends to build a house to be used exclusively by legations from Mexico. The house will be located on I street, about four squares from the Executive Mansion.

The Japenese legation rents a bright red brick building just across the street from the house Secretary Lamar has recently leased. The Chinese legation occupies one of the most conspicuous houses in the city. It is a rather tawdry and tumble down failure, known as Castle Stewart. It was built for a private residence by the rich Californian ex-Senator, but it was never finished, and had remained unoccupied for years. Of late the Chinese Minister rented it. Chinamen are very fond of parks, and when there is one near, they are always to be found there, looking in open eyed surprise at the unusual sights of this strange country. The Chinese of the legation here are of the gentry and nobility of the Flowery Kingdom, and both in dress, manner, and appearance they are very superior to the laundry Chinamen, so frequently seen.

Mrs. Cleveland, always accompanied by her mother, has returned to the White House from Buffalo, where she has been spending a week. It is said that the coming society season will not begin before Congress convenes, and will be very short.

Five Hundred Dollars

is the sum Dr. Pierce offers for the detection of any calomel, or other mineral poison or injurious drug, in his justly celebrated "Pleasant Purgative Pellets." They are about the size of a mustard seed, therefore easily taken, while their operation is unattended by any griping pain. Biliousness, sick-headache, bad taste in the mouth, and jaundice, yield at once before these "little giants." Of your druggist.

SOMETHING NEW.

The improved Welt $3.00 Calf Shoe equal to the best hand sewed at
23tf COLLINS'.

A Romance.

CLEVELAND, Oswego county, Oct. 9—Antone Humez, and wife and brother Louie Humez, of this place, returning from their former home, in Belgium, where they had been on a visit, took ship at Antwerp about ten days ago. Among the passengers from there was a German girl, a stranger, who came alone to join friends in Ohio. On the way over considerable rough weather was encountered, causing the ladies to be sea sick. Although unable to converse with her at all, Louie assisted her what he could, and on their arrival in New York informed her through an interpreter that if she would take the chances she might go home with them and he would marry her. She concluded to accept his offer, and the party arrived here at 8 a. m. to-day. After breakfast the couple drove before Justice Moter, and through an interpreter were married. Humez is a glass blower, and a sober and industrious man.

[illegible]

[illegible] H. T. Steed, deputy collector of internal revenue at Phoenix, N. Y.

The special tax will be reckoned from October 1st, 1886, against those dealers who sell oleomargarine or offer it for sale on that day the act goes into effect; but against those who neither sell it nor offer it for sale on that day (Sunday, October 31,) the tax to be reckoned from November 1st, 1886, if any sales or offer for sales are made during that month. Special tax years commence May 1st, and end April 30th, following.

Special taxes under act of August 2d, are as follows:

Manufacturers of oleomargarine, per annum $600; November 1st, 1886 to April 30th, 1887, $500; wholesale dealers of oleomargarine, per annum, $480, from November 1st, 1886, to April 30th, 1887, $240; retail dealers in oleomargarine, per annum, $48; November 1st, 1886, to April 30th, 1887, $24.

All special taxpayers must procure and make return to the collector on form 11 before commencing buisness.

Dealers are especially cautioned to have stock on hand October 31st, 1886, in wooden packages containing not less than ten pounds each, with proper tax-paid stamps, marks, and brands affixed

H. C. ROGERS, Acting Com'r.
WM. A. BEACH, Collector 21st district, N. Y.

CHURCH GOING PEOPLE

Are annoyed by the Coughing of their neighbors. One bottle of Van Wert's Balsam would cure every cough in the congregation. Go to H. C. Giesler's Fulton, or Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls, and get a free sample bottle and see for yourself.

Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure cold in the head. 23m6

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

UTICA, Oct. 11.

The market to-day was somewhat excited but perplexing. Salesmen did not like the idea of taking less money than last week, and several held over until next week. Buyers claimed that there was no money in the cheese bought a week ago, and some that money was lost. On this plea the market was put down ⅜c. It would take two or three such weeks as this to bring out the stocks of those who have confidence in the market. The make has been shortened up a good deal of late, stocks are sold up unusually close all over the country, and no one fells nervous over the future. The prices of last week would probably have brought out about the same amount of cheese, but as it stands, the sales are about 2,200 boxes short. Factorymen in general conclude that their September cheese is worth 11¼ to 12c., and they will be reluctant to sell for any less.

Transactions of the day are as follows:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
5	500	11 cents
50	4,403	11¼cents
4	360	11¼cents
8	750	11⅜cents
19	1,760	11¼cents
6	858	11⅝cents
1	108	p. t.
	8,739
Farm dairy	683	com.
Total	9,422

The ruling price is 11¼c. One year ago transactions were 14,182 boxes, ruling 10c. Two years ago they were 8,402, ruling 11⅝c. If the whole country ships as lightly as Utica does, the market will be better next week. Messrs. Jack McAdam and Alex. W. Grant, both of New York, were visitors at the board to-day.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, Oct. 11.

Cheese.—There has been a rather slow trade in cheese to-day. Buyers say that too high prices were paid last week, and announced early that rates would be ½c lower to-day. The close shows the average drop to be about ⅜c., the ruling figure being 11c. As a result sales were light, many salesmen declining to sell at these figures. Some think we shall not see a return to last week's figures for some time; others are of the opinion that this decline is only temporary, and that the balance of the season's make, which to this date includes the finest cheese marketed during the year, is bound to bring as good or better rates than yet paid. The weather has been so fine and the feed of pastures so good that the quality of stock is excellent. Sales to-day are:

Lots	Boxes	Price
33	2,272	11 cents
24	1,400	11¼ cents
13	1,255	11¼ cents
1	27	11⅝ cents
7	460	Com.
88	5,474
Farm dairies	887
	6,301

Farm dairies.—Sales of farm cheese reached 887 boxes The bulk price was 11⅛c, same as last week; the full range was 10 to 11¾c, only three lots probably at 11¾c

Butter.—Butter has suffered a sharpe decline, about three cents a pound from last week's prices. The warm weather is blamed for the decline, as it is believed most dealers have all they want to carry till cooler weather prevails. There were 187 packages sold, prices ranging at 21 to 24c, very little at the latter figure and the bulk at 22 to 23c. There were sales of 15 to 20 packages fancy to the local grocery trade at 25 to 26c. No creamery sold, but 27c. was refused by two or three parties.

AT FULTON.

Twenty factories were represented at this market on Monday night. 1,600 boxes were sold at prices ranging from 11½ to 11¾ cents.

LITTLE CHILDREN

Do not cry when Dr. Van Wert's Balsam is given them. It is so sweet and palatable, they never refuse it, and it is superior to any other known remedy for Croup and Whooping Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are small and easy to take. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Hay Fever. 23m6

San Francisco will observe November 27 as Arbor day, and the school children of the city will plant 40,000 trees.

PURE WHITE CLOVER HONEY

Forms the base of Dr. Van Wert's Balsam and this being combined with the most potent remedial agents which modern medical investigation has discovered, [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] and vitalizing the blood.

Failing Health.

Ten years ago my health began to fail. I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and I am now as healthy and strong as ever.—Mrs. E. L. Williams, Alexandria, Minn.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, that it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. I have also prescribed it as a tonic, as well as an alterative, and must say that I honestly believe it to be the best blood medicine ever compounded.—W. F. Fowler, D. D. S., M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

Dyspepsia Cured.

It would be impossible for me to describe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians and tried a great many kinds of medicines, but never obtained more than temporary relief. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties more perfectly. To-day my health is completely restored.—Mary Harley, Springfield, Mass.

I have been greatly benefited by the prompt use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It tones and invigorates the system, regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, and vitalizes the blood. It is, without doubt, the most reliable blood purifier yet discovered.—H. D. Johnson, 383 Atlantic ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Price $1; six bottles, $5.

The average duration of life in this country is less than in England or France. The greatest death rate is among children, 40 per cent of which die before the age of 5. Of 100 Americans only 23 get beyond 50 and only 4 reach 80 years. Half of our population die at 20, but longevity is increasing.

Prof. Cook Heard From.

Prof. Cook lately wrore: "Having studied man and his relations fifty years, and having read Dr. E. B. Foote's 'Plain Home Talk,' I say, disinterestedly and emphatically, that it is worth its weight in gold; nay gold cannot measure its worth to humanity. It is such a book as only such a healthy, well-balanced magnificence brain can produce. Dr. Foote is one of the few doctors who, in his writhing and practice, seeks to cure, not kill; to save and prolong life, not obstruct, poison or destroy it; to teach people the structure, functions facts, forces and relations of the human brain and body, teach them the significance of life and how to make it healthy and happy also how to make the most of it.

Its information, instruction and advice in regard to parentage, marriage, social and sexual functions and relations; its facts and laws of mental, magnectic and tempermental adoptation in marriage and parentage that children may be healthy, happy and viable, etc, etc, make it more valuable to suffering humamity than my poor words can express. What a vast amount of saving information for the people; a large book of 900 pages for only $1.50.

PROF. J. H. COOK.

A statistic sharp volunteers this information; Baltimore has fewer colored people than New Orleans and 5,000 more than Washington. Baltimore and Washington together have 102,000 colored people, and Philadelphia has 32,000; Richmond, Va., 28,000; the little city of Petersburg, 12,900; Charleston 27,000; Louisville, 21,000; New York city, bot 20,000.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

As a remedy for Pulmonary Affiections and Scrofulous Diseases.

Where the digestive organs are feeble and ordinary food does not seem to nourish the child, this acts both as food and medicine, giving strength and flesh at once, and almost as palatable as milk. Take no other. 19t4.

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

For a few days longer, Draper will sell several patterns of hanging lamps at wholesale prices. 19tf

Three Months Free.

The publishers of that excellent monthly, The Housekeper, Minneapolis, Minn., offer to send it free for three months to any lady who sends them the postoffice address of twenty ladies who are keeping house. The addresses may be at one or several postoffices, but must be sent before November 15th, 1886 The Housekeeper is one of the best publications in the country.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

[illegible]

SICK

[illegible]

[illegible] TIMES' OFFERS!

$1.25 will give you one year's Subscription to THE TIMES and Four months Subscription to the

DETROIT FREE PRESS

The most original, piquant and entertaining of American Newspapers. $1.25 will also give you one year's Subscription to

THE FULTON TIMES

and one year's Subscription to the

AMERICAN FARMER,

A Sixteen page Agricultural Magazine, which is rapidly taking rank as one of the leading Agricultural Publications of this country. The same offers to old Subscribers who pay subscription to date and one year in advance.

SUBSCRIBE! SUBSCRIBE.

PRESERVE YOUR HEALTH.

ROGERS' GRAPOLINE

[illegible] "A stitch in time saves nine." Remember that the slight internal disorder of to-day may become an obstinate, incurable disease to-morrow.

Sold by all Druggists. A. H. ROGERS & CO. Geneseo, N. Y.

Real Estate and Insurance

AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 160 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2¼ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 94 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota. N. Y

☞ Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at FULTON, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

GREAT SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.

Prices Below all Competition

On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.

IN DYE STUFFS

I beat the World. Everybody will tell you. if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at

R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.

A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.

No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

Remember my motto is strictly first class goods—and prices below all Competition.

48tf R. E. PHILLIPS.

Scranton Coal!

THOROUGHLY SCREENED,

Promptly Delivered!

At the Following Prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

NEW COAL FIRM.

REMEMBER THAT

HART & CULLEN

ARE SELLING THE

Wilkesbarre and Pittston Coal.

THE BEST COAL MINED.

Leave Orders at Hart's Pottery, or Cullen's Meat Market and you will find prices very satisfactory.

Coal Delivered in Fulton or Oswego Falls.

21m3

SCHOOL OF SHORT HAND
—AND—
TYPE WRITING.
CLASSES DAY AND EVENING.
Lessons by Mail a Specialty.

Terms Moderate. For further particulars apply to

MISS MATTIE G. HAM,
66 and 67 Weiting Block,
18m3 Syracuse, N. Y.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest Rates for advertising in 1,000 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO.,
10 Spruce St., N. Y.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure. By JOHN H. MCALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years Tax Collector. Sent free to any address.

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Clyremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful CURE at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE,
No. 41, West 31st St., New York City.

OUR BABY'S FIRST YEAR, by Marion Harland, also containing much valuable information. 48 page book. Sent on receipt of 2-cent stamp by Reed and Carnrick, Mercantile Exchange Building, N. Y.

3,000 AGENTS WANTED for the NEW WORK.

GLADSTONE—PARNELL
AND THE GREAT IRISH STRUGGLE.

By the eminent author, HON. T. P. O'CONNOR, M. P. for Liverpool, and R. M. MCWADE, Esq. Endorsed by HON. C. S. PARNELL. A thrilling history of Irish oppression and the mighty struggle for Home Rule that is rocking the British Empire to its centre; also Biographies of the leaders. An entirely new work from high authority, of all absorbing interest. richly illustrated, and an immense demand. ☞ Apply quickly to
W. A. HOUGHTON & CO.,
13 East 14th St., New York.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE
BEST IN THE WORLD
☞ Get the Genuine. Sold Everywhere.

ADVERTISERS or others, who wish to examine this paper, or obtain estimates on advertising space when in Chicago, will find it on file at 45 to 49 Randolph St., the Advertising Agency of LORD & THOMAS.

FITS STOPPED FREE
[illegible]

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

[illegible]

[illegible] L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

[illegible] Express	8:18 a. m
[illegible] York and Philadelphia Express	11:28 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express	3:26 p. m
Freight and Accommodation	6:25 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express	8:15 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express	8:18 a. m.
Day Express	12:19 p. m.
Day Express	2:46 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation	6:40 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express	8:20 p. m.

The 8:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:18 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:27 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	9:57 p. m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:16	6:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19	3:24	6:29

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS.

Geo. P. Wells spent Saturday with friends in Manlius,

Miss Alice Stephens is visiting Mrs. F. David and other friends in Phœnix.

Dr. E. L. Mooney of Syracuse, passed Sunday in Fulton, the guest of C. M. Allen.

Mr. Watson, father of Mrs. D. E. Mason has been in town for a few days.

Miss Allie Case who spent a large part of the summer in Canada is at home again.

I. L. Scofield of Chenango bridge, has been the guest of Oscar Dines during the past week.

Mrs. John Forsyth of Washington and Miss Emma Forsyth of Oswego visited friends here last week.

John Franey, assistant factory inspector of this State was here Saturday inspecting the factories,

D. E. Wright, wife and son, Will started yesterday for Florida where they will spend the winter.

Hon. D. E. Ainsworth and wife of Sandy Creek, were the guests of Hon. H. C. Howe for a few days last week.

Rob't. Kirwin of the Oswego Palladium was present at the temperance demonstration of Saturday in the interest of that paper.

Miss Mary Boggs represented the Oswego Times-Express at the temperance celebration here on Saturday and spent Sunday in town the guest of Mr. and Mrs. P. Cullen.

The Rev. James B. Murray, D. D., grand chaplain of the Grand chapter of Royal Arch Masons of the State of New York, was the guest of Dr. Daniel Pardee while in town last week.

J. B. Overton, wife and daughter of New York and George Chauncy and wife of Niagara Falls were the guests of Reuben Bradshaw and family Saturday and Sunday.

The Misses Lighton, Miss Minnie O'Kief, Anna Martelle and Cora Kelly of Syracuse, also the Misses Anderson and Miss Mamie Pendergast of Phœnix, have been visiting the Misses McDonald for the past few days.

"BROWN DAY."

All kinds of brown goods in combination will be shown at F. E. BACON'S to-morrow, next week Tuesday "Blue Day," Saturday next week "Red Day."

Grand Opening at the Bee Hive, Oct. 14, 15 and 16.

For Sale.

An upright piano and some furniture, all in good condition. The above will be sold cheap. Call on Mrs. Geo. Charleton over the "Bee Hive." 28w2

The City Express.

J. P. Howe has placed upon the streets at the service of the public an express and baggage wagon. Leave orders at the news room. 22tf

FOR SALE.

The Coats residence on the North side of Rochester street between Second and Third. For terms enquire on the premises. 21t6

Just received at D. C. Draper's, a large order of imported crockery and China, and a fine line, all new patterns, China tea sets and chamber sets, which I will offer for the next 30 days at $1.00 less on chamber sets and $2.00 to $4.00 less on tea sets than any house in Oswego or Syracuse, to reduce part of over-stock. Call and see goods and prices, at 15 Oneida street. 17tf

Largest Stock!

Lowest Prices!

CLOTHING!

MEN'S UNDERWEAR.

OVERCOATS!

HATS AND CAPS.

Don't buy until you have seen our stock.

D. C. [illegible] & CO,

[illegible] Reliable One Price Dealers

A GALA DAY.

Father Mathew's Birthday Observed—Grand Reception and Banquet—Address of Welcome in the Park—Parade and Entertainment.

It is with a degree of pleasure that we chronicle one of the most successful temperance demonstrations that has ever occurred in this village. The occasion was the celebration of the birthday of Father Mathew and the entertainment of the F. M. T. Society and the society of the Sacred Heart attached to the St. Louis church of Oswego, who took part with the Fulton and Oswego Falls Societies in the festivities of the day. The Oswego Societies on their arrival at the Broadway depot were met by the local societies headed by the Fulton band proceeded to the park where an address of welcome was delivered by Father Earley. The organizations then formed in line of march in the following order: carriage, containing Father Earley, Father Auger of the St. Louis church in Oswego and A. P. Bradt of the Oswego Falls Observer, Fulton Brass Band, F. M. T. & B. Societies of Fulton and Oswego Falls, Father Mathew Society and the Society of the Sacred Heart, both of Oswego. All were in regalia and presented a fine appearance. Many of our townspeople viewed this procession with more than passing interest and looked upon the local representatives as persons who, if the good work which they have done be continued, will wield a mighty influence in this vicinity, have considerable to do with the local affairs of the village and be instrumental in wiping out much of vice and drunkenness that at present prevails.

On their arrival at Johnston's hall in Oswego Falls an address of welcome was given by Mr. Bradt, after which the societies and invited guests proceeded up stairs where a bountiful repast had been prepared for about two hundred. The repast was excellent and served in a most appropriate and commendable manner, for which the greatest credit is due Miss Mary Fitzgibbons, Miss Maggie Cullen, Miss Kate Flannery and others who assisted in the arrangements. Flowers were also beautifully arranged around the hall and a button hole bouquet placed by the plate of each guest. During the repast music was rendered by Bogue's orchestra.

In the evening a large audience assembled in the opera house to witness the entertainment. By eight o'clock not a vacant seat was to be found in the hall and standing room was at a premium. The exercises were opened with music, by Bogue's orchestra followed by "Greeting to Spring" sung by the Temperance choir of Oswego. Father Earley then stated in a few words the object of the meeting and Mr. James White, president of the F. M. T. Society of Oswego was selected as chairman for the evening. Mr. White in a few remarks expressed his thanks for the honor conferred upon him and the exercises were continued by Miss Nellie Healey of Oswego, who recited "Proud Miss McBride" in a manner that captivated the audience and secured for her a merited encore. Miss Lena Hardy of this village then sang in a charming manner the ballad "Let Me Dream Again." "Remember You'r Irish" was then sung by Miss Maggie Darby with piano accompaniment, by Miss Kirwin of Phœnix. Mr. Frank McCarthy then amused the audience with an Irish song (selected), great efforts were made to recall him but he did not respond. F. Kenyon Jones rendered some difficult selections on the piano in his usual artistic manner. The Oswego Quartette, Messrs Barnes, McGrath, Ahrens and Ratigan then sang "When the Sunnbeams Drop Their Gold." The chief event of the evening then followed—the lecture—by Father Earley—for half an hour the Rev. gentleman held the audience by his earnest and forcible discourse, music by Bogue's orchestra, Solo by Mr. Geo. Perkins and Song by Miss Anna Martelle. The latter was worthy of more than passing mention, the young lady charmed the audience by her singing and dancing and when she closed the applause did not cease until she sang "The Sweetest Little Flower." The Humorous Sketch, "Servant by Legacy" by the dramatic society of Oswego made a pleasing part of the program, after which Master John J. Frisbie of Oswego performed some difficult feats on the spring wire.

Mr. Fred Kenyon, the blind musician of this village gave, some beautiful selections on the piano during the evening which touched a tender chord in the hearts of the audience and showed him to be a skillful performer upon that instrument. Solos were rendered by Miss Grace Althouse of Lower Oswego Falls, Miss Nellie Hagan, Miss A. Lawler and Mrs. Salladan all of Oswego. Messrs. Barnes, McGrath, Ahrens and Ratigan sang "Always Take Mother's Advice." Mr. Frank McCarthy again appeared and sang an Irish song entitled "My Little Ould Dudeen." Mr. Barnes sang a sentimental song which was well received. Miss Celia Riley of Oswego gave some difficult and exceedingly fine instrumental music. Some other selections in solo and song were rendered by Oswego artists and the successful evening's entertainment closed with song by the Temperance choir of Oswego. It was midnight when the Oswego guests started for home on their special train convinced of the earnestness and good work of their brothers in the great cause of temperance.

To Be Reduced.

My very large stock of Men's Boys' and Youths' Kip and Calf Boots for Fall and Winter wear to be sold at Jobber's Prices to Reduce Stock.

A. E. NETTLETON.

Miss Grace Tucker opens her dancing school at Woodin's hall next Friday evening.

The C. L. S. C, of Lower Oswego Falls met at the home of Miss Olive Carter last Friday evening.

Mrs. W. T. Church has commenced the erection of a fine dwelling on Utica between First and Second streets.

The monthly missionary society of the M. E. church met at Mrs. E. R. Redhead's last Wednesday afternoon.

On Sunday next there will be special Sabbath school services at the M. E. church, observing "Good Tidings Day."

About twenty-five of the little friends of Mamie E. Hewitt met at her home last Friday evening to assist in celebrating her eighth birthday.

John McDougal, an old resident of Hannibal, died at that place last week Tuesday and was buried at Sterling Centre on Saturday.

Peter White and family, formerly of this village, later of Rochester, have moved to Lowell, Mich., where they will make their future home.

It is current about town that a toboggan slide will be instituted on the banks of lake Neatahwanta during the coming winter and a part of the lake kept clear for skating purposes.

The fall trotting meetings of Syracuse, Phœnix and Fulton opened in Syracuse yesterday and will be continued to-day and to-morrow. At Phœnix on the 19th, 20th and 21st and Fulton the 26th, 27th and 28th.

This evening the board of trustees of this village and also that of Oswego Falls will meet and probably decide as to what system of electric lights will be used for street lighting purposes.

It is reported that the body of a prematurely born child was found a little below the lower bridge last Wednesday. If true this matter should be properly investigated by the authorities and not allowed to pass without further thought.

The Woodhull "Eli Wheatfield" Co. opened their season at Tony Pastor's theatre New York city and have played at Albany, Troy, Utica and three nights at the Weiting opera house, Syracuse, the week of Sept. 27, drawing good houses and giving excellent satisfaction. Prices here only 35 and 50 cents.

The entertainment which was given here on Saturday evening was repeated in the basement of St. Mary's church, Oswego on Monday with the omission of some of the parts taken by members of the T. A. & B. societies of this vicinity. Father Earley was the orator. There was not room to accommodate all, and the entertainment will be repeated in the armory to-morrow evening.

This week's issue of THE TIMES contains the commencement of a new story by the celebrated author and humorist, Bret Harte, entitled "The Story of a Mine." We believe that the readers of THE TIMES will appreciate the efforts on our part in securing reading matter of a high order for the long winter evenings that are fast approaching and will us assist in increasing our large circulation.

George St. Clair, an employe of John C. VanBuren who lives about three miles north of this village shot at John Brennon of this village last Sunday while he was getting chestnuts on Van Buren's farm. Several shot lodged in Brennon's neck and others passed thro' his hat. St. Clair was arrested by officer Jones yesterday and brought before Police Justice Van Wagenen this morning. He was held for the grand jury and taken to Oswego to-day.

"BROWN DAY."

Go to F. E. BACON'S for all kinds of Brown Goods, THURSDAY, To-morrow.

TO RENT—a two story house, centrally located. Suitable for a small family Inquire at this office. 23tf

Working Hours Changed.

On last Monday morning the hours of work were changed in the Riverside & Oswego mills so that the employes now commence labor at 7 a. m., and quit at 6 p. m., with forty-five minutes for dinner. The week's labor ends on Saturday at 4:30 p. m. Formerly they commenced work at 6:30 a. m. and quit at 6:30 p.m., with one hour for dinner and the weeks work being finished at 11:30 a. m. on Saturdays. The new arrangement would naturally seem to possess advantages both to the company and to the employes, for while the number of hours per week is the same (60), the time of work per day is forty-five minutes less except on Saturdays. It destroys the formerly Saturday half-day holiday but the fact that employes may enjoy a half hours longer rest in the morning and cease their labors half an hour earlier at night ought to more than sufficiently compensate for this, especially during the winter months. We understand that the new hours of work are generally looked upon with favor by the help.

All grades of Hats and Bonnets will be shown at Bacon's to-morrow.

A Narrow Escape.

On last Thursday morning C. E. Knowles a brakeman on a coal train moving south had his foot badly crushed and narrowly escaped death at the Broadway depot. He had on a pair of shoes that had been tapped with a heavy sole the day before and while attempting to get upon a box car the bottom of the shoe was caught and held there fast but slipped along before the moving wheel until the strong shoe was burst open and the foot released. The injured man was taken into the depot and Drs. Pardee and Hall summoned. They dressed the wound and thought that the foot could be saved. Knowles was sent to his home in Syracuse on a latter train.

Want, Wealth Worth.

The lecture on last Friday evening at the M. E. church by Rev. W. Dempster Chase was fully up to expectations and was listened to with the closest attention throughout. It is an instructive and interesting lecture, filled with original thoughts, apt illustrations and eloquent appeals, Mr. Chase's style of delivery and oratorical powers are too well known in this locality to need comment. We understand that Mr. Chase has two other lectures and we hope at no distant day we may have the pleasure of listening to one of these. Over fifty dollars were realized which goes to the fund for the purchase of a furnace for the parsonage.

Regents' Examination.

The Regents' examination will occur at Fulton Union School on November 9th and 10th. Persons desiring to be examined in special studies are requested to notify Prof. Clapp so that examination papers in such studies may be sent for. Persons residing outside the district desiring examination can do so by being present when examination takes place.

PRICES TO TALK ABOUT

At the C. C. C. C.

We would ask everybody to call and examine our stock and prices before going elsewhere. If we do say it ourselves no such fine goods at such low prices can be duplicated in the state. We have the best five dollar overcoat in Syracuse. We have the best men's cassimere suit at eight dollars; other houses charge twelve for the same thing. Our men's all wool corkscrew suits in four button cutaway and sack styles at ten dollars other houses charge fifteen for. Our boys' and children's suits and overcoats are two numerous to mention. Our imported Scotch caps at 30c each; our latest style men's fur stiff hats at $1.45 other houses charge $2.25 for. For bargains in everything go to the Central City Clothing Co., 20 East Genesee Street, Syracuse, N. Y.

Grand Opening at the Bee Hive, Oct. 14th, 15th and 16th.

wanted.

A competent girl for general housework in a family of two.

MRS. I. C. CURTIS
corner Oneida and Third streets.

Special Prices For Carpets, Furniture &c.

A. A. Graff & Co., No's 61 & 63 South Salina Street, Syracuse, offer for the next 30 days, as a special bargain, 100 Parlor suits embossed plush, solid walnut frame, 7 pieces for $35.00; 75 chamber suits, 10 pieces for $25.00; 50 pieces tapestry carpet 60c a yard and 70 pieces extra super ingrain carpet 55c a yard.

We will deliver all purchasers' freight, prepaid to any part of the state. Now is the time for Bargains.

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

F. H. Leonard of the Thomson-Houston Electric Company is in town.

A large number of Fultonians attended the fair at Syracuse last week.

Read "The Story of a Mine," by Bret Harte, commenced in this number.

The new band of Oswego Falls has secured 13 new musical instruments.

Naturalization papers were granted to Allan Williams of Oswego Falls, Monday.

The Surrogate's court of Oswego county will be held at the law office of C. H. David to-morrow.

The "Eli Wheatfield" play is on the "Josh Whitcomb" order and full of funny sayings and situations.

Syracuse papers state that between 40,000 and 50,000 persons went to the county fair at Syracuse last Friday.

Walter G. Smith, editor and proprietor of the Ithaca Republican has been nominated for member of assembly in Tompkins county.

Post Schenck G. A. R. held a camp fire at their rooms last evening. Ten dollars was voted to be sent to the Charleston sufferers.

Hon. Willard Johnson has secured a government contract for dredging 200,000 cubic yards in a bay on Lake Champlain, near Whitehall.

P. Centemeri of New York city, has made F. E. Bacon his agent for the Celebrated "Centemeri" Kid Glove in Fulton. Colors and black in five buttons now on sale.

The train on the N. Y. O. & W. R. R. passing through here at 9:10 p. m., for New York now runs on Sunday but not on Saturday nights. This change went into effect on last Sunday.

The regular quarterly meeting will be held at the M. E. church on Sunday, Oct. 24. The Love Feast at 9. Preaching by the Rev. H. M. Danforth at 10:30 followed by the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

Miss Kate Frawley and Mr. John Lynch both of this village were united in marriage last Wednesday afternoon. The ceremony was performed at the Catholic church, the Rev. Father Earley officiating.

The Stephens opera house has been leased by the Youngs brothers for one year. They will take possession on the first of next month and have already secured several attractions for the coming season. They are young men who have already had considerable experience in the business and will endeavor to secure for the public first-class attractions.

Rev. Carl Stone of Mexico has been engaged to fill the pulpit of the Presbyterian church during the winter and has engaged the rooms at Mrs. Laycock's on Fourth street, formerly occupied by Dr. Hall and family. Mr. Stone has suppled the pulpit in this church for the past month or more, and it is a matter of much pleasure to the society to know that he is to remain during the winter.

OPENING DAY

FOR

-MILLINERY,-

—AT—

BACON'S,

To-Morrow,—Thursday.

We shall show the finest variety ever in Fulton.

Eli Wheatfield.

Aaron H. Woodhull and an excellent company opened a three night's engagement at the Weiting last night in a four act comedy drama, "Eli Wheatfield." The large audience present roared with laughter at the comical sayings and actions of Eli, who is a Vermont farmer on the verge of his second childhood. The part is acted to perfection by Mr. Woodhull, who presents the old man's eccentricities wonderfully true to nature and does not overdo the character. The play is similar to "Alvin Joslin" and "Josh Whitcomb" and is replete with pathos as well as wit and humor. Wallace Jackson as the Senator and Theodore W. Babcock as The Chicken deserves special mention, and Miss Carlotta Bordeaux as the maid won instant favor with the audience. Her song "A Swell of the Day" was received with much favor. The play will be presented again this and to-morrow evenings.—[Syracuse Daily Courier, Sept. 28.

Mr. Howard has secured this excellent company for Stehphens opera house, Thursday evening Oct. 21st.

Kid Gloves, Jerseys, Ruchings, Yarns, at the Boston Bazaar cheaper than anywhere else.

On [illegible] evening at [illegible] members of Oswego Lodge No. 127 F. & A. M. arrived at Fulton on a special train consisting of two cars. They were met at the depot by the members of the Hiram Lodge, who had marched with the Fulton band to that point to receive them. A procession was formed with the band at the head and proceeded to the lodge rooms which had been most elaborately decorated for the occasion, where work was commenced. The third degree was conferred upon three candidates. During the work of the evening, the Master of the lodge, Dr. I. C. Curtis was presented with a beautiful floral emblem, consisting of a square and compass and the letter G. This artistic piece of work was done by ladies whose names were withheld. We understand that a photograph of the emblem has been taken by Beals. After work adjournment was made and at eleven o'clock 136 of the 250 that were present there not being room for all at the first table sat down to one of the most elaborate and skilfully arranged banquets that was ever set in this section. Every arrangement in detail had been carefully executed and for this the greatest credit is due the ladies, Mrs. Dr. Curtis, Mrs. John Case, Mrs. Thos. Lewis, Mrs. Carrie Leonard, Mrs. R. P. Hall and Miss Eva Case who contributed so generously of their time labor and skill and had entire charge of this important part. The following was the menu:

Oysters—fried, raw, escalloped, counts, select, celery.
Chicken salad, lobster salad, salmon salad, cabbage salad.
Boned turkey with cranberry sauce, roast chicken with jelly, boiled sugar cured ham, jellied tongue.
Patatoes a la Saratoga.
Cucumber pickles, Worcestershire sauce, tomato catsup, chow chow, olives,
Tea biscuit, raised biscuit, Boston brown bread.
Lemon jelly with slicen oranges, banana jelly, currant jelly, charlotte russe.
Ice cream—lemon, chocolate, strawberry.
Cake—fig, cocoanut, sponge, angels' food, Brazil nut.
Nuts and raisins, bananas, oranges, grapes peaches, pears.
Tea, coffee, chocolate.

During the banquet fine selections of quartette music were rendered by Messrs. Lewis, Bacchus, Gilbert and Allen and solo selections by N. H. Gilbert. Mrs. N. H. Gilbert officiated at the piano during the evening in a skillful manner. Shortly before 2 a. m. the Oswego lodge started on their return home unanimous in praise of the hospitality they had received of Hiram lodge. Following are the committees who had charge of the affair.

Arrangements—T. Ferris, G. C. Webb, H. Hulett.

Reception—Dr. Pardee, R. E. Phillips, J. H. Merton.

Banquet—J. H. Case, T. D. Lewis, S. Parmalee.

Music—J. Bacchus, J. Stephens. E. Waugh.

Among those who were present and took an active part in the festivities were Master Smith of the Phœnix lodge; Dr. Milne, Hon. M. P. Neal, Prof. Treadwell and Mr. A. Cropsey of Oswego.

Grand Opening at the Bee Hive, Oct. 14th, 15th and 16th.

Some Old Settlers.

F. W. Squires furnished the Patriot last week something in regard to a few of the venerable men who have lived the longest in this county. First and foremost on the list he says is Mr. Evarts of Granby. He was born Oct. 2, 1795. He came with his father, Henry Evarts, into the county in the spring of 1798 and located on the Oswego river just below Seneca Hill in the present town of Scriba. It will therefore be seen that Evarts has lived over 88 years in the county.

The next oldest resident is the venerable David VanBuren, who was born near Battle Island, Oct. 12, 1798. He was born in the town of Mexico, then in Oneida county. In 1806 he was legislated into the town of Fredericksburg, then into Volney in 1811, and always lived very near where he was born in the present town of Volney. He has lived almost 88 years in the county. David Harmen of Oswego City was born in Redfield in 1802, and I think is third in time of residence in the county.

Freeman Gasper, the venerable Fultonian, I think will be 92 in about one month. He settled near Ives Corners, in the town of Volney in 1813. I think he is the only pensioner of the war of 1812 in town.

Norman Rowe of New Haven came to that town in 1817. He was born in Connecticut, January 2, 1795, consequently is nearly 92.

James Pete of Parish is the oldest man in the county, being now 96. He was a soldier at the battle of Waterloo, under the great Napoleon. The above named are a few of the oldest men in Oswego county, including the three oldest residents.

KID GLOVES!

Go to Bacon's and get a pair of "Centemeri," Kid Gloves, perfect fitting, choice colorings.

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots, &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by

10tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

OPENING DAYS

—AT THE—

"BEE HIVE"

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 14, 15, and 16.

—ALL THE LATEST FALL NOVELTIES IN—

CLOAKS, DRESS GOODS, SILKS, &C.

A Splendid Display.

"THE BOYS," Old and Young, are to-day admiring the display of Ready-made suits at Peebles & Cook's. The assortment is conceded to be the Finest ever shown in Fulton, and the prices are so Reasonable as to commend every suit "as a Bargain." Peebles & Cook knowing how to suit the trade of this section, and the demand for their goods is fully justified by the excellence of material and reasonableness of the rates charged.

"The Boys" old and young, big and little, black and white, rich and poor, will find something to suit them at

PEEBLES & COOK

Opposite Opera House.

CHILDREN'S CLOTHING A SPECIALTY.

Fall Racing Meeting

The fall racing meeting of the Syracuse, Phœnix and Fulton circuit occurs at Fulton on October 26, 27 and 28. Purses of $1,000 are offered, $100 of which is reserved for a special purse.

The purse in each class is $150. The races will be as follows:

First day,	purse	No. 1,	2:50	class
" "	"	" 2,	2:29	"
Sec'nd "	"	" 3,	2:36	"
" "	"	" 4,	2:44	"
Third "	"	" 5,	2:32	"
" "	"	" 6,	2:25	"

2:25 class open to trotters and pacers.

CONDITIONS:

Trotting will be mile heats, best three in five to harness. Revised rules of the National Association.

Four to enter, three to start in all trotting races.

Entrance fee 10 per cent of purse.

Purses divided 50, 25, 15 and 10 per cent.

Any horse distancing the field, or any part there of, to receive one premium only.

The right to postpone on account of bad weather reserved.

Colors furnished by the Society.

Races called each day promptly at 1 p. m.

Entries close Monday October 25th, at 10 p. m., and should be addressed to

GEO H. CURTIS, Sec'y, Syracuse, N. Y.
J. H. CASE, Sec'y Fulton, N. Y.
H. C. BREED, Sec'y Phœnix, N. Y.

LADIES, remember that F. E. Bacon's display of FINE MILLINERY is to-morrow, Thursday.

OBITUARY.

Rosette, wife of John Perchway died at her home in Oswego Falls on Wednesday, October 6th, aged 49 years. Funeral services were held at the Catholic church on Saturday and were conducted by Father Earley. She was buried at St. Mary's cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Latham died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. P. Alger, at Lower Oswego Falls on Friday, October 8th, at the age of 86 years. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. W. Dempster Chase, at the house on Sunday afternoon and the remains were interred at Mt. Adnah.

Andrew Decker died at his home in West Granby on Saturday, October 9th, aged 87 years. The funeral services were held at the church in West Granby, the Rev. Mr. Skeel, a former pastor of this church, now of Waterville, Oneida county, officiating. His remains were taken to Lysander for interment.

George VanVechten of this village died last Thursday morning, of typhoid pneumonia, aged twenty-five years. He leaves a wife and one child. Funeral services conducted by the Rev. J. C. Breaker were held at the Baptist church at 2 p. m. on Saturday last and the remains interred in Mt. Adnah.

Mark Ayles died at his home in Oswego Falls last Monday night, aged 75 years. His funeral will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from his late residence.

Died, at Syracuse, Harold Ralph infant son of Addison and Lottie Wel's, aged five days.

Geo. Mason an old and highly respected citizen of Mexico died very suddenly at his home in that village on last week Tuesday aged 82 years. He leaves a widow and nine children. Mr. and Mrs. Mason were married sixty years ago, and this is the first death in the family. His children were all expected home this week to a reunion.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Alger desire to extend their heart felt thanks to friends and neighbors who assisted them during the last illness of their mother, Mrs. M. F. Latham, also to the choir of the M. E. church who so kindly rendered their services at the funeral.

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best. To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 15tf

An Active Man or Insurance Agent Wanted in Fulton and outside towns and villages to represent an Established Life and Accident Insurance Society. Superior terms offered. Write for circular. Address Home Benefit Society, 161 Broadway, New York. 23w2

Another large line of those prime hand made Kip and Calf Boots at

23tf COLLINS'.

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the NOVELTY CUSTOM MILL recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & Redhead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any flour or feed grinding done. Flour and feed constantly on hand. Call and try [illegible]

1886. 1886.

AHEAD OF ALL!

MILTON S. PRICE,

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

The Popular Dry Goods, Carpet and Furniture Dealer.

The Great Establishment Renovated. New Decorations, &c., Mammoth Show Windows, One Great Entrance from Salina Street. The most Attractive Store in the City.

PROUD AM I TO ANNOUNCE that during forty years of business experience, I have never been so well prepared to meet the wants of the public as at the present time.

READY CASH WITH EXPERIENCED BUYERS has filled my mammouth stores, running through from Salina to Clinton Streets, with a stock of

DRY GOODS, CARPETS AND FURNITURE,

Unequaled by any Establishment in Central New York.

It would be useless in this small space to attempt an enumeration of the thousands of articles displayed.

DRY GOODS and Fancy Goods,

IN ENDLESS VARIETY.

CARPETS, RUGS, &c.,

A COMPLETE STOCK.

Furniture and Curtain Draperies,

FOR THE RICH AND POOR.

I can give you better value for your money than any other house in the City.

Do not fail, when attending the fair, to pay this establishment a visit.

MILTON S. PRICE.

Nos. 38 and 40 South Salina Street, and 29, 31 and 33 Clinton Street,

Syracuse, N. Y.

Don't miss those bargains at Draper's in Table and Hanging Lamps, China Tea Setts, and those new style (Ribbon Chamber Setts) all new goods and new prices. Call and see. 19tf

J. Wiener until recently with thh C. C. C. C. Co. of Syracuse can now be found at M. Amdursky's, Fulton, N. Y. where he will be pleased to see his old friends. Give him a call. 21tf

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 21tf

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expediously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

For Underwear and Hosiery, the Boston Bazaar takes the lead. Everything in their line at the lowest prices.

Look at this line of

PARLOR STOVES!

WORLD'S JEWEL,

ART ROYAL,

RED CROSS.

GOLD COIN AND BEAVER.

The last two are ventilating Stoves, and sold exclusively by

SNOW & LOOMIS.

Job Printing.

—:o:—

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing.

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,

—AT THE—

FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

WORTH KNOWING.

The editor of the Orange County Farmer trains his tomatoes to poles and they grow six feet high.

There are few products of the farm that have kept so near full prices as eggs through the long period of depression.

Don't be deceived in feeding corn meal to milch cows. Fed freely, it at first increases the milk flow, but soon goes to fat and lessons the milk. Many a valuable cow has been injured in this way.

Save the corn-fodder before it is injured by frost. When cut before frost, it is green and nutritious, full of starch and sugar. Frost tends to change these to woody fiber. This portion of the corn crop is often equal to the grain.

The apple orchard should be fed liberally. It is thus and by judicious pruning, that the orchard is made to pay.

The wheat crop of India is now reported at 8,000,000 bushels below the average, and at 44,000,000 bushels less than last year's fine crop.

Grass seed sown on well-pulverized soil just before a smart shower will need no other covering to cause it to germinate than that resulting from the rain.

In old times the sowing each fall of a piece of rye was so common as to be almost universal. Is there any good reason why the fall sowing of rye should be abandoned?

Some Ohio farmers claim that thy can make more money by plowing under clover and raising wheat than by cutting, curing and feeding the clover either to dairy or beef stock.

The exports of wheat from America during the first six months of 1886 shows a falling off of 8,000,000 bushels from the amount exported during the first six months of 1885.

It is claimed that rye makes the best of feed for milch cows,calves and swine. There is, it may be added, as a further point in favor of rye, no crop which is less exhaustive to the soil, or so good with which to sow grass seed.

Plow the heavy land and leave it in the rough condition so that the frost can penetrate and render it fine. There is no better agency for pulverizing tough soils than frost. It will also at the same time destroy the cut-worms.

An excellent practical farmer remarked a year or two ago that he considered a good clover seeding worth from $10 to $15 per acre. This is more than the profit of any grain crop, and it can be had when grain is sown by an outlay of $1.25 $1.50 for clover seed. Here is a profit of 1,000 per cent, in six months, without interfering with other crops.

Every practical farmer who has grown potatoes has probably learned that they keep much better in cool, well drained underground cellars, than in warm well lighted apartments. Potatoes should be dug in fair weather, and and lay exposed to the air till all moisture has been dried out of them before they are carried to the bins, the bottom of which should be raised slightly from the bottom of the cellar, so as to permit a circulation of air beneath, particularly if the bottom is damp. Shallow bins, not exceeding three feet in depth, are safer than deeper ones, as there is less liability of the potatoes heating when stored in such.

Suffolk Pigs.

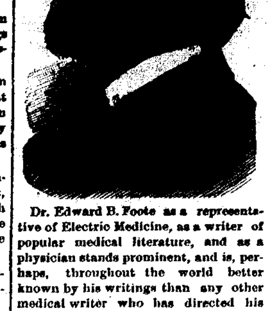
Among the small or middle races of English pigs a breed occurs which is close akin to the Essex—somewhat larger in the body and shorter in the leg, better haired and hardier. A standard authority thus describes them: "The Black Suffolks are short on the leg, long in the body, well coated with long, silky hair; the forehead broad, the nose short and slightly turned up; ears rather short but broad, with a tendency to droop forward; splendid shoulders, great jowls, body wonderfully symmetrical. The Suffolk more nearly realizes the theory of the parallelogram than any other animal we know of. The tail is set quite on a level with the hips; the hams are deep and wide." This is high praise. They are also praised for the excellence of their pork, freedom from skin diseases, and general vigor of constitution. They resemble the Essex in many points, and are equally valuable for crossing upon the larger breeds.

The really careful breeding of pigs, and the preservation of pedigrees in England, date back but comparatively few years. Pigs took their names from the counties in which they were bred, and breeders or exhibitors at shows called their pigs Suffolks or Norfolks perhaps, so it happened that some white pigs that won prizes at the shows, were imported to this country under the name of Suffolks. The pigs were good and had quite a run, but when we wanted more, we found that Suffolks as recognized in England were black, and that the high-bred, small white breed were the small Yorkshire, which were, so to speak, like those we were familiar with as Suffolks, only more so. There have been occasional importations of Black Suffolks, but we know of no herd maintained and bred pure. They probably have been crossed with the Essex, which they resemble, and which have a strong hold upon the regard of our people.—[American Agriculturist for October.

Pure Water for Cows.

Prof. Low of Cornell university, recently examined the milk from cows who had access to water from stagnant pools and found in every case the milk full of living organisms. He also found the animals themselves in a feverish condition owing to their blood being charged with the living animalculae. The Prairie Farmer has always kept before its readers the importance of providing pure water for stock, but especially for the cows; and the testimony from so distinguished an authority, as above quoted, adds emphasis to the opinions we have already expressed.—[Prairie Farmer.

Convenient pleasant, and certain in their [illegible]



Dr. Edward B. Foote as a representative of Electric Medicine, as a writer of popular medical literature, and as a physician stands prominent, and is, perhaps, throughout the world better known by his writings than any other medical writer who has directed his teachings to the people rather than the profession. Born and raised among Connecticut settlers on the "Western Reserve" in Ohio, he early began the work of many self-made men. Starting at the age of sixteen as "printer's devil" in a newspaper office, he worked his way to the editorial chair and was severally connected with the most prosperous weekly of its time in Connecticut, and the first successful morning paper in Brooklyn, N. Y., but his main impulse has always been toward the study of medicine, and to this end business enterprises were sacrificed until in apprenticeship with a noted botanical specialist, and a course of study finishing with graduation, found him prepared to follow out the bent of his life to its completion. He was among the earliest among those who advocated the publication of anatomical, physiological and hygienic books for the masses, and his success in writing interesting and popular books has been conspicuous. His first and best known book, entitled "Medical Common Sense" reached a circulation of 250,000 copies, probably because of its originality and novelty in a new field; and his subsequent writings have been mainly in the same line, "Science in Story" having been written for the purpose of providing a readable book for children, and one which should make plain to their comprehension the facts which he considered it necessary for them to know concerning their own bodies.

In speaking of the late Prof. J. S. Smith of Oxford, London, Nature remarks: "It has been said that in scientific thought, the best and most original have always been conceived before the age of thirty." This is probably true, also, of the original of this portrait. His most radical thoughts were published in his first work, written before he was twenty-nine years of age, and though his pen was never long idle, his first success has not yet been equalled by subsequent work, though his "Plain Home Talk," a revision and enlargement of "Medical Common Sense," seems likely in time to obtain a circulation rivalling that of its predecessor.

In practice Dr. Foote has alwas been independent, progressive and original, always a foe of old-fogyism and trade-unionism in medicine; once a deciple of the old Thompsonian botonical school, as opposed to mineral and blood-letting practice, and now a staunch supporter of Electicism in all that the name implies. He has been actively engaged in the practice of his profession for thirty years, and as the portrait given here is from a recent photograph, hard work appears to agree with him, and he looks equal to twenty years more of it.

To Gather and Keep Pears.

The pear harvest is a subject that is not properly considered in many instances. Pears are often allowed to remain upon the trees until they are mellow before they are gathered. They should never be allowed to fully ripen upon the tree as they will thereby lose much of their fine flavor. The proper time to gather them is when the fruit will separate readily from the tree when raised up. They should be carefully picked and spread out upon the floor or upon shelves in a cool room if you desire to keep them as long as possible. Should it be desirable to hasten the maturing of pears after picking, they can be placed in a warm room. In this manner they will color well and will become fit for eating in a very few days. An excellent method of keeping pears for a long time after gathering is to wrap each one separately in paper and pack in barrels, putting them in a cool place. Do not make the mistake that is often made of putting barrels of pears in an ice-house, if you wish them to keep, as the air above the ice is warm and moist and very favorable for hastening decay. I saw an instance of this kind where several barrels of pears, in which an occasional pear showed signs of decay, were taken from a moderately cool room and placed in an ice-house, and in two days thereafter it was a difficult matter to find one that was sound.—[Our Country Home.

Care of the Eyes.

For the care of the eyes, the following rules are laid by a noted occulist:

Keep a shade on your lamp or gas burner.

Avoid all sudden changes between light and darkness.

Never begin to read, write or sew for several minutes after coming from darkness to light.

Never read by twilight, moonlight or on cloudy days

Never read or sew directly in front of the light window or door.

It is best to let the light fall above obliquely, over the left shoulder.

Never sleep so that on first awakening the eyes shall open on the light of a window.

Do not use the eyesight by light so scant that it requires an effort to discriminate.

The moment you are instinctively prompted to rub your eyes, that moment stop rubbing them.

If the eyelids are glued together on waking up do not forcibly open them but apply salve with the finger—it is the speediest dilutant in the world; then wash your eyes and face in warm water.

N. Gould, Portland's defaulting cash[illegible]

[illegible] he could scratch up about $[illegible],000,000.

Those persons who do not need Iron, but who are troubled with Nervousness and Dyspepsia, will find in Carter's Little Nerve Pills a most desirable article. They are mostly used in combination with Carter's Little Liver Pills, and in this way often exert a most magical effect. Take just one pill of each kind immediately after eating and you will be free from Indigestion and Dyspepsia. In vials at 25 cents. Sold by all Druggists.

President Grevy is allowed 300,000 francs yearly for traveling expenses. He saves most of this, as he travels but little.

"For years I suffered from loss of appitite and indigestion, but failed to find relief until I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine entirely cured me, My appetite and digestion are now perfect."—Fred. G. Bower, 496 Seventh street, South Boston, Mass.

Mr. Henry Villard is going to start in business again in New York. His wealth is estimated at a quarter of a million.

Many forget that the hair and scalp need cleansing. Extensive use of Ayer's Hair Vigor prove that is the best cleansing agent for the hair—that it prevents dandruff and stimulates the hair to a renewed growth.

About 25,000 cattle will be driven into the Canadian northwest from the United States this season.

GOOD AND RELIABLE.

A Good and reliable medicine is Sulphur Bitters. Every spring for six years I have been troubled with boils. Since I began using sulphur bitters, I have not had a single one. You can rely on sulphur bitters every time.—Editor Weekly News.

Jerome Increase Case is the full name of "Jay-Eye-See's" owner, and he has a fortune of $5,000,000.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

Out of the thirty-two state senators elected recently in Vermont only two are lawyers

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

One of the things the cyclone did in eastern Virginia was to shuck the corn in one of the fields.

ACTIVE, PUSHING AND RELIABLE.

R. E. Phillips can always be relied up on to carry in stock the purest and best goods, and sustain the reputation of being active pushing and reliable, by recommending articles of well established merit and such as are popular. Having the agency for the celebrated Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, colds and coughs, will sell it on a positive guarantee. It will surely cure any and evry affection of the throat, lungs or chest, and in order to prove our claim we ask you to call and get a trial bottle free.

Carl Shurz has been offered 5,000 dollars a year by the Cincinnati Illustrated News, which seeks an editor.

Advice to Mothers.—Are you disturbed a night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup." 51y1

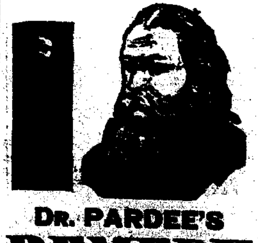
In the whole world there are 291,522 miles of railroad; in the United States, 123,110.

How Pale You Are!

is frequently the exclamation of one lady to another. The fact is not a pleasant one to have mentioned, but still the act may be a kindly one, for it sets the one addressed to thinking, apprises her of the fact that she is not in good health, and leads her to seek a reason therefor. Pallor is almost always attendant upon the first stages of consumption. The system, is enfeebled, and the blood is impoverished. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" will act as a tonic upon the system, will enrich the impoverished blood, and restore roses to the cheek.

The Pasteur Institute fund now amounts to $320,000. The Czar of Russia has given $20,000.

There are six poets in the British House of Lords. Tennyson leads.



DR. PARDEE'S

REMEDY,

(The only Reliable Blood Purifier.)

A SPECIFIC FOR

RHEUMATISM

Scrofula, Salt Rheum

Neuralgia, Ring Worm

AND ALL OTHER SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASES [illegible]

LIVER & KIDNEYS

And Cures Indigestion

[illegible]

[illegible] Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights [illegible] U. S. Patent Office [illegible] We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 5lt

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

—COAL.—

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

COAL WAY DOWN !

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest Cleanest, Best,

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c,

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

Q. RUST.

37tf

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York. Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

[illegible] from poisoning by ivy or other wild vines and shrubs. The poison is under certain circumstances readily absorbed by the blood, and paneful swellings or eruptions are caused. Such affections Hood's Sarsaparilla readily cures, as it expels all impurities from the blood. Even in cases of poisoning by Paris green, Hood's Sarsaparilla has been remarkably successful. It should be kept constantly in the house for all blood disorders. Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. and is sold by all druggists. 100 doses $1.00.

The estate left by the Miss Henrietta Lenox of New York is estimated at $10,000,000.

"100 Doses One Dollar" is true only of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it is an unanswerable argument as to strength and economy.

The running expenses of one of the principal hotels of Saratoga are $3,000 a day during the season.

SAVED HIS LIFE.

Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., says he was, for many years badly afflicted with Phthisic, also diabetes; the pains were almost unendurable and would sometimes almost throw him into convulsions. He tried Electric Bitters and got relief from the first bottle and after taking six bottles was entirely cured and had gained in flesh eighteen pounds. Says he positively believes he would have died, had it not been for the relief afforded by Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by R. E. Phillips.

A Boat which recently left the port of Boston for the Congo country carried 10,000 gallons of rum and one missionary.

MURDERED.

The body of Julius Baer was found by freighters five miles west of here Tuesday morning, in a terribly mangled condition. His head and face were smashed, so as to be hardly recognized, and numerous wounds were found on his body. Mr. Baer was agent for the great blood medicine, Sulphur Bitters. Robbery was undoubtedly the motive as he was well known to have a large sum of money on his person. As we go to press there is no clew to the perpetrators.—[Colorado Press.

Public Printer Benedict begins well. In one day he dismissed two hundred and fifty from the government printing house.

MY HEAD WAS FAIRLY ROTTEN,

And how much I suffered it is hard to describe. That loathsome disease, catarrh, caused the above, and the doctors said they could not relieve me. I paid hundreds of dollars, for which I received no benefit. I got more good from two bottles of Sulphur Bitters than from all the money I paid to doctors. I shall continue the Sulphur Bitters, as I have great faith that they will cure me.—[S. M. Day, 41 Hanover St. Boston.

Jay Gould thinks this country will have two years of plenty.

We accidentally overheard the following dialogue on the street yesterday.

Jones. Smith, why don't you stop that disgusting hawking and spitting?

Smith. How can I? You know I am a martyr to catarrh.

J. Do as I did. I had the disease in its worst form but I am well now.

S. What did you do for it?

J. I used Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It cured me and it will cure you.

S. I've heard of it, and by Jove I'll try it.

J. Do so. You'll find it at all the drug stores in town.

The Grant fund (N. Y.) has not yet reached $125,000.

Food for Consumptives.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites, is a most wonderful food. It not only gives strength and increases the flesh but heals the irritation of the throat and lungs. Palatable as milk and in all wasting diseases, both for adults and children is a marvellous food and medicine.

Charleston is daily crowded with excursionists.

Is It Really Consumption.

Many cases supposed to be radical lung disease is really one of liver complaint and indigestion, but, unless that diseased liver can be restored to healthy action, it will so clog the lungs with corrupting matter as to bring on their speedy decay, and then indeed we have consumption, which is scrofula of the lungs of the worst form. Nothing can be more happily calculated to nip this danger in the bud than is Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." By druggists.

An æronaut recently really made the journey from Cherbourgh, France, to London in a steerable ship.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

"General" Booth of the salvation army has received £4,000 of the £5,000 called for by his self-denial fund.

WONDERFUL CURES.

W. D. Hoyt & Co., wholesale and retail druggists of Rome, Ga., say: We have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery, Electric Bitters and Bucklen's Arnica Salve for two years. Have never handled remedies that sell so well, or give such universal satisfaction. There has been some wonderful cures affected by these medicines in this city. Several cases of pronounced consumption have been entirely cured by use of a few bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, taken in connection with Electric Bitters. We guarantee them always. Sold by R. E. Phillips.

CATARRH

ELY'S
CREAM BALM
COLD
HEAD
HAY-FEVER

HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM

[illegible]

[illegible]

For the swift toboggan slide.

—[Philadelphia Call.

Never gets full—The contribution box.—[Cedar Rapids Gossip.

It is more blessed to give that receive—advice.—[Philadelphia Call.

Called back—Pawned overcoats.—[Detroit Free Press.

A minister makes money on Sunday, but doesn't want anybody else to.—[Puck.

A secret is safe in the bosom of a friend—if he is a dead friend.—[Kansas City Squib.

A grave yard is not three feet.—[Waterloo Observer. Two feet is all we ever expect to get in a grave yard.—[Whitehall Times.

Mrs. Cleveland's pets for the present are the poodle dog, now so well known to fame, a canary bird and a white mouse. She may have others later.—[Baltimore Sun.

In order to get a head of Wiggins we now predict that January will be snowy. We shall point with pride to this prediction later on.—[Philadelphia Call.

Wife—"Why aren't you going to wear your dress suit, my dear?" Husband—"Not much. The last time I wore my dress suit at a party a young lady ordered me to bring her a cup of coffee and be quick about it."—[N. Y. Sun.

Talk about the "strong arm of the law," why, it isn't anywhere alongside of the mother-in-law.—[Yonkers Statesman.

There is only one good substitute for the endearment of a sister, and that iz the endearments of some other phellow's sister.—[Josh Billings.

"This is what I call a sponge bath," exclaimed Poore as he slid out of the bathrooms, and left his friends to foot the bill.—[Chicago Rambler.

"Ah, George" she murmured as they drove along the moonlit road, "am I very dear to you?" And George, as he did a little sum in mental arithmetic, in which a team and his $6 salary largely figured, softly answered very dear."—[New Haven News.

There is nothing that makes a young man who has been married about a year feel so lonesome and sad as to have to go to the store where there is a girl to whom he used to be attentive and ask her to show him some baby carriages.—[New Haven News.

A carpet-trade paper tells a story of a prespiring salesman who seemed to be unable to suit a lady after unrolling miles of his stock. When the lady remarked to her companion, "Baby likes to see him roll them out, and it is not time to take the train yet," he gave it up.—[Boston Transcript.

The ice-cream, strawberry festival and "Is-this-hot-enough-for-you" jokes have been packed away for the winter. The church festival oyster, the icy sidewalk and the big-hat-at-the theatre witticisms are being taken out of camphor and given an airing preparatory to a season of hard service.—[Boston Post.

"I understand you have had a row with Robinson, Cudleigh?" "Yaas, O, yaas,." What was it about?" "He called me an aws, don't you know, and threatened to pull my nose, bay Jawve!" "Well you didn't let him I hope?" "No, saw, I did not. But he was so dayvelish fawst I was afwaid I would have to, till he spwained his ankle and had to go home in a hansom."—[Town Topics.

"John," said the proprietor of the beach restaurant, "you'll have to take a spade and go dow to the beach and try and find a clam. The one we made the chowder with is missing. Been eaten by some of the guests I guess. By jingo, these city folks want the earth."—[Boston Courier.

Mrs. Society—Now, dearie, be a good little girl, and go to bed soon. Mamma must hurry off, now. Little Dot—Where's oo goin', mamma? Mrs. S.—I am going to a party, pet. Little Dot (gazing at the decollete costume)—Is oo goin' to dress ooself when oo gets there.—[Omaha World.

WILKINS' STAR PROVERBS.

*The heart is an acqueduct of tears.

*It is the steam that makes the car-go.

*The average politician is very real-lie-able.

*A wife at home is worth two in the street.

*A husband at home is worth two in a saloon.

*A daughter at home is worth two abroad.

*A son at home is worth two in bad company.

*Contract bad habits and expand good ones.

*The way of the good is not the weigh of a wicked tradesman.

*Education dresses the mind more comely than silks or satins.

*It requires a good many persons to hold the ladder of fame for one person climb.

*Many believe an hour at church will pay principal and interest on a week of sin.

*Man can preach with more effect to a large congregation than he can reason with himself.—[Whitehall Times.

Benefits of Laughter.

Probably there is not the remotest corner or little inlet of the minute blood vessels of the body that does not feel some wavelet from the great convulsion produced by hearty laughter shaking the central man. The blood moves more lively—probably its chemical, electric condition is distinctly modified—it conveys a different impression to all organs of the body, as it visits them on that particular mystic journey, when a man is laughing from what it does at other times. And thus it is that a good laugh lengthens a man's life by conveying a distinct and additional stimulus to the vital forces. The time may come when physicians, attending more closely than they do now to the innumerable subtle influences which the soul exerts upon its tenement of clay, shall prescribe to the torpid patient, "so many peals of laughter, as to be undergone at such and such a time," just as they do far more objectionable prescriptions—a pill or an electric or galvanic shock.—Scientific American.

100 Doses

One Dollar, Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which this can be truly said; and it is an unanswerable argument as to the strength and positive economy of this great medicine. Hood's Sarsaparilla is made of roots, herbs, barks, etc., long and favorably known for their power in purifying the blood; and in combination, proportion, and process, Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself.

"For economy and comfort we use Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. C. Brewster, Buffalo.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla takes less time and quantity to show its effect than any other preparation I ever heard of. I would not be without it in the house." Mrs. C. A. M. Hubbard, North Chili, N. Y. 100 Doses

One Dollar

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, all humors, boils, pimples, general debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints, and all affections caused by impure blood or low condition of the system. Try it.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. Lovejoy, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system has been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it." Mary L. Peele, Salem, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT

German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, depend on Sulphur Bitters, it will cure you.	Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use Sulphur Bitters.
The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using Sulphur Bitters.	$1,000 will be paid for a case where Sulphur Bitters will not assist or cure. It never fails.
Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use Sulphur Bitters. They will not then be weak and sickly.	Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on Sulphur Bitters, and health will follow.
General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use Sulphur Bitters, and you will not be troubled.	Sulphur Bitters will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.
Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.	Sulphur Bitters will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

OVER WORKED Women.

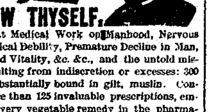
For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00. A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses: 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopœia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

PATENTS

HENRY WISE GARNETT, Attorney-at-Law, WASHINGTON, D. C.

Refers to 2d National Bank, Washington, D. C.

☞SEND FOR INVENTOR'S GUIDE.☜

ADVERTISERS by addressing GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., New York, can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of ADVERTISING in American Newspapers. ☞100 page pamphlet, 20cts.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FRENCH'S HOTEL.

CITY HALL SQUARE, NEW YORK,

Opposite City Hall and the Post Office.

This Hotel is one of the most complete in its appointments and furniture of ANY HOUSE in New York City and is conducted on the European Plan.

Rooms only One Dollar per day. Half minute's walk from Brooklyn Bridge and Elevated R. R. All lines of cars pass the door. Most convenient Hotel in New York for Merchants to stop at. Dining Rooms, Cafes and Lunch Counter replete with all the luxuries at moderate prices. 8y1

MAKE HENS LAY.

SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER

[illegible]

LEGAL.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

During the year 1886, terms of the Surrogate's court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

Phoenix—At the Surrogate's office in Phoenix on Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

Oswego—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

Pulaski—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, January 23d, and on the third Friday in March, May, June, Sept., Nov. and Dec.

Fulton—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Tuesday in January, April, July and October.

Mexico—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and July, and the fourth Friday in October.

Central Square—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 29th and September 29th.

Parish—At A. N. & J. S. Ludington's law office, April 30th, July 30th and Sept. 30th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 19th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 12th, 1886.

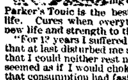
Caroline L. Alfred, Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said countr, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886. Lucy K. Hubbard, Executrix.

Are You Consumptive.



Have you Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion? Use Parker's Tonic without delay. It has cured many of the worst cases. Do you suffer from pains in the chest, back or limbs? Have you symptoms of trouble with your Stomach, Liver or Kidneys? Neglect of these warnings leads to the breaking down of the vital powers. Parker's Tonic is the best remedy. Often saves life. Cures when everything else fails. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm.

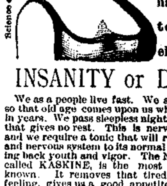
"For 12 years I suffered from a hacking cough that at last disturbed me so much day and night, that I could neither rest nor sleep. Sometimes it seemed as if I would choke. My friends felt sure that consumption had fastened its deadly hold on me. I tried every kind of medicine, but nothing helped me, I grew steadily worse. Hearing at last of Parker's Tonic, I began to use it, and am thankful to say that it completely cured me."—A. PONMETZ, St. Louis, Mo.

"Though prostrated with a varied complication of diseases, and given up to die by the most skillful physicians. Parker's Tonic kept me alive and raised me up after everything else failed."—Mrs. M. D. SHULTZ, Louisville, Kan.

PARKER'S TONIC,

Made by Hiscox & Co., N.Y. Sold by Druggists $1

What is this Dark Shadow



Science emerging from Darkness.

That follows us wherever we go? It is the fear of mental exhaustion that terminate either in

INSANITY or DEATH.

We as a people live fast. We are overworked, so that old age comes upon us when quite young in years. We pass sleepless nights or with a sleep that gives no rest. This is nervous exhaustion, and we require a tonic that will restore the brain and nervous system to its normal condition, bringing back youth and vigor. The NEW QUININE, called KASKINE, is the most powerful tonic known. It removes that tired and depressed feeling, gives us a good appetite, makes us feel strong and healthy, gives quiet sleep that refreshes the languid and weary.

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful.

St. Francis Hospital, N.Y. "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Rev. Jos. Desribes, Chaplain of Charity Hospital, writes; "I will be surely, on every occasion, through conviction a most devoted promoter of Kaskine."

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered indispensible. It acts perfectly."

Dr. L. R. White, U. S. Examining Surgeon, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Glessner, has cured over 300 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says: "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

Kaskine is pleasant to take and can be used without special medical counsel). Pamphlets giving information, &c. sent on application.

Send for the great book of testimonials unparallelled in the history of medicine. $1 a bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

Save time and labor! Neat and Compac-

Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind that he ever saw."

—To be had only at the—

FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

10 PER CENT. INVESTMENT, SECURITY ABSOLUTE. The Mortgage, Ipswich, Dakota, will loan your money on BOND and MORTGAGE from 8 to 10 per cent. Mortgage made to you direct. Bond payable at your own Bank or in New York as you prefer, and has for SALE COUNTY, CITY, and SCHOOL BONDS, that will net 7 to 12 per cent. Will furnish as reference the names of gentlemen residing in THIS COUNTY for whom it has invested money. CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED. 16m3

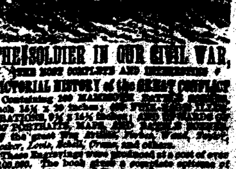
$350 PER MONTH.—Salary and commission, to competent Manager for this City or State Agency. A splendid combination. Our AUTOMATIC GAS GOVERNORS save 33 per cent, in gas bills. Our Silver Gas Lights can be attached to any fixture, instantly changing the dull, sickly, yellow flame of any gas to a soft, mellow, luminous white increasing brilliancy 50 per cent, Over 8,000 in service. Address,

THE UNION NATIONAL GAS SAVING CO.

17m3 21 East 14th St., New York.

Agents Wanted for the Great War Book

Just Published, entitled



THE SOLDIER IN OUR CIVIL WAR,

THE MOST COMPLETE AND [illegible] PICTORIAL HISTORY of the GREAT CONFLICT

[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features. Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 24

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

The Two Homes.

NATHAN D. URNER

Two homes are in sight of each other
In a green little vale that I know.
One a mansion as fair as a palace,
One a cottage in groves nestled low.
The housewife in one ever singeth,
Though her good man is often away,
In the other the lady is silent,
With her lord at her side every day.

And the woman down there in the cottage
Never mansionward looks with a sigh,
While she of the mansion oft looketh
Cottageward with a tear in her eye.
And oft, when her lord at his pastime
Or a stroll through his acres is seen,
This lady will steal to the paling
That standeth the gardens between.

She never would cross the brief limit—
She is proud and her station is pat,
While the woman beyond it is humble,
And vulgar, and poor, and all that;
But my lady down there in the paling
Just bends her proud ear to its line,
And listens in lip-parted silence,
As though for a choir of the Nine.

With eye, lip and ear attent strangely,
She lists with her heart and soul,
As though for the sweetest of music
That ever from Paradise stole.
There it is! how her breast heaves with rapture!
How she drinks in the sound as it comes!
A medley of sweet childish voices,
With a din of toy trumpets and drums.

Then a silence—a quarrel made merry—
Then a baby's fat crow over all;
Then a sweet little babel of joyance
Over mud pies or "ketcher" or ball,
And! she hangs,heart enthralled,on that music
Till the sound of her lord at the gate,
Or his yawn from his finished siesta,
Calls her back proud and sad,to her state.

So the fates that draw lines of division
Severe 'twixt the high and the low
Never fail to compensate the weaker
By some means; and the cause you now know
Why the woman down there in the cottage
Never mansionward looks with a sigh,
While she of the mansion oft looketh
Cottageward with a tear in her eye.

THE PROPER THING.

Black and white together are fashionable in jet bonnets.

Round hats come in great variety,and will be much worn.

Black mantles are worn with every variety of costume.

Round, large pompons of cut ostrich feathers are in great favor.

Plain felt bonnets are chosen the color of the suit with which they are worn.

The small capote remains the favorite shape for autumn and winter bonnets.

Beaded velvet bonnets are the most dressy choice to wear with velvet costumes.

Bonnets are trimmed high and as far forward as the face and head of the wearer will permit.

Beaded capes are worn by young girls. They reach nearly to the waist and are of fine net work.

Hair ornaments are combinations of ribbon loops thickly massed and surmounted by herons' aigrettes

Fur will be much used for trimming both house and walking costumes,light, soft fur taking the precedence.

On black silk toilets it is in order to wear full waistcoats, neck and sleeve folds of colored crepe, tinted with white laces or silk mull.

Three bread stitchings at the back and four large buttons at the wrist are the stylish features of autumn gloves; both dressed and undressed kid are used.

Shawl dresses are among the novelties of the season. They have a thick fringe and a wider border of contrasting color to the main part of the shawl.

With the small bonnets very high coiffures are worn, arranged in soft small coils on the crown of the head, with smoother fronts showing a Russian bang, or else a few curled side-locks, with a tress of hair turned back from the forehead. The French twist at the back of the head may be tight or loose as the shape of the head requires.

It is Unlucky

To be struck by lightning on Monday.

To sit on a buzz saw in motion on Friday.

To break the mirror your wife's mother gave her.

To fall down stairs with the parlor stove on Tuesday.

To speculate with other people's money and get caught.

To get wet when you fall overboard while boating on Thursday.

To dream of snakes after drinking, cider in a prohibition town.

To see a bill collector over your right shoulder on Saturday.

To see a bull-dog over your left shoulder while in your neighbors orchard.

To see your overcoat over either shoulder as you pass out of the shop of your uncle.

To bet all your money on a horse whose driver has bet his money on another.

To marry on Wednesday a girl who practices with ten-pound dumb-bells.

To spill the salt in the coffee of the man who has the carving knife.

To be one of thirteen at table when there is only food enough for six.—[Tid Bits.

Brevities.

Always ready to set 'em up—The compositor.

Never willing to give you a lift—The elevator boy.

Song of the collector—"While the raging bill ohs roll."

Invitation for an M. D.—"If you're aching call me early."

Music for the porter—The "Song of Sixpence."

An optical delusion—A spectacle frame without glasses.

A pressing engagement—Hugging your fiancee.

Motto for the hotel clerk—"There is always room at the top."

The round trip—Circumnavigating the globe.

[illegible] of the garter—Ballet night.

[illegible]—The proof-reader.

[illegible] evil—Acts of the [illegible]

THE STORY OF A MINE.

By BRET HARTE.

[Copyrighted, 1886, by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., and published by arrangement with them.]

CHAPTER III.

WHO CLAIMED IT.

THE fog had already closed in on Monterey, and was now rolling, a white, billowy sea above, that soon shut out the blue breakers below. Once or twice in descending the mountain Concho had overhung the cliff and looked down upon the curving horse shoe of a bay below him—distant, yet many miles. Earlier in the afternoon he had seen the gilt cross on the white-faced Mission flare in the sunlight, but now all was gone. By the time he reached the highway of the town it was quite dark, and he plunged into the first fonda at the wayside, and endeavored to forget his woes and his weariness in aguardiente. But Concho's head ached, and his back ached, and he was so generally distressed that he bethought him of a medico—an American doctor—lately come into town, who had once treated Concho and his mule with apparently the same medicine, and after the same heroic fashion. Concho reasoned, not illogically, that if he were to be physicked at all he ought to get the worth of his money. The grotesque extravagance of life, of fruit and vegetables in California was inconsistent with infinitesimal doses. In Concho's previous illness the doctor had given him a dozen four-grain quinine powders. The following day the grateful Mexican walked into the doctor's office cured. The doctor was gratified until, on examination, it appeared that, to save trouble, and because his memory was poor, Concho had taken all the powders in one dose. The doctor shrugged his shoulders and altered his practice.

"Well," said Dr. Guild, as Concho sank down exhaustedly in one of the doctor's two chairs, "what now? Have you been sleeping again in the tule marshes, or are you upset with commissary whisky? Come, have it out."

But Concho declared that the devil was in his stomach, that Judas Iscariot had possessed himself of his spine, that imps were in his forehead, and that his feet had been scourged by Pontius Pilate.

"That means 'blue mass,'" said the doctor, and gave it to him—a bolus as large as a musket ball, and as heavy.

Concho took it on the spot, and turned to go. "I have no money, Senor Medico."

"Never mind. It's only a dollar, the price of the medicine."

Concho looked guilty at having gulped down so much cash. Then he said timidly:

"I have no money, but I have got here what is fine and jolly. It is yours." And he handed over the contents of the precious tin can he had brought with him.

The doctor took it, looked at the shivering volatile mass, and said: "Why, this is quicksilver!"

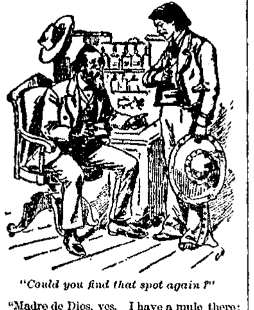
"Concho laughed. "Yes, very quick silver, so!" and he snapped his fingers to show its sprightliness.

The doctor's face grew earnest. "Where did you get this, Concho?" he finally asked.

"It ran from the pot in the mountains beyond."

The doctor looked incredulous. Then Concho related the whole story.

"Could you find the spot again?"



"Could you find that spot again?"

"Madre de Dios, yes. I have a mule there; may the devil fly away with her!"

"And you say your comrades saw this?"

"Why not?"

"And you say they afterward left you—deserted you?"

"They did, ingrates!"

The doctor arose and shut his office door. "Hark ye, Concho," he said, "that bit of medicine I gave you just now was worth a dollar. It was worth a dollar because the material of which it was composed was made from the stuff you have in that can—quicksilver or mercury. It is one of the most valuable of metals, especially in a gold mining country. My good fellow, if you know where to find enough of it, your fortune is made."

Concho rose to his feet.

"Tell me, was the rock you built your furnace of red?"

"Si, Senor."

"And brown?"

"Si, Senor."

"And crumbled under the heat?"

"As to nothing."

"And did you see much of this red rock?"

"The mountain mother is in travail with it."

"Are you sure that your comrades have not taken possession of the mountain mother?"

"As how?"

"By claiming its discovery under the mining laws, or by pre-emption?"

"They shall not."

"But how will you, single handed, fight the four; for I doubt not your scientific friend has a hand in it?"

"I will fight."

"Yes, my Concho, but suppose I take the fight off your hands. Now, here's a proposition: I will get half a dozen Americanos to go in with you. You will have to get money to work the mine—you will need funds. You shall share half with them. They will take the risk, raise the money, and protect you."

"I see," said Concho, nodding his head and winking his eyes rapidly. "Bueno!"

"I will return in ten minutes," said the doctor, taking his hat.

He was as good as his word. In ten minutes he returned with six original locators, a board of directors, a president, secretary, and a deed of incorporation of the "Blue Mass Quicksilver Mining Co." This latter was a delicate compliment to the doctor, who was [illegible]. The president added to these accessories [illegible]

In another moment Concho was in the saddle. Then the mining director lapsed into the physician.

"I hardly know," said Dr. Guild, doubtfully, "if, in your present condition, you ought to travel. You have just taken a powerful medicine," and the doctor looked hypocritically concerned.

"Ah,—the devil!" laughed Concho, "what is the quicksilver that is in to that which is out? Hoopa, la Mula!" and, with a clatter of hoofs and jingle of spurs, he was presently lost in the darkness.

"You were none to soon gentlemen," said the American alcalde, as he drew up before the doctor's door. "Another company has just been incorporated for the same location, I reckon."

"Who are they?"

"Three Mexicans—Pedro, Manuel and Miguel—headed by that d—d cock-eyed Sydney duck, Wiles."

"Are they here?"

"Manuel and Miguel, only. The others are over at Tres Pinos lally-gaging Roscommon and trying to rope him in to pay off their whisky bills at his grocery."

"If that's so we needn't start before sunrise, for they're sure to get roaring drunk."

And this legitimate successor of the grave Mexican alcaldes, having thus delivered his impartial opinion, rode away.

Meanwhile, Concho the redoubtable, Concho the fortunate, spared neither riata nor spur. The way was dark, the trail obscure and at times even dangerous, and Concho, familiar as he was with these mountain fastnesses, often regretted his sure footed Francisquita. "Care not, O Concho," he would say to himself, "'tis but a little while, only a little while, and thou shalt have another Francisquita to bless thee. Eh, skipjack, there was fine music to thy dancing. A dollar for an ounce—'tis as good as silver, and merrier." Yet for all his good spirits he kept a sharp lookout at certain bends of the mountain trail; not for assassins or brigands, for Concho was physically courageous, but for the Evil one, who, in various forms, was said to lurk in the Santa Cruz range, to the great discomfort of all true Catholics. He recalled the incident of Ignacio, a muleteer of the Franciscan friars, who, stopping at the Angelus to repeat the credo, saw Luzbel plainly in the likeness of a monstrous grizzly bear, mocking him by sitting on his haunches and lifting his paws, clasped together, as if in prayer. Nevertheless, with one hand grasping the reins and his rosary and the other clutching his whisky flask and revolver, he fared on so rapidly that he reached the summit as the earlier streaks of dawn were outlining the far-off Sierran peaks. Tethering his horse on a strip of table land, he descended cautiously afoot until he reached the bench, the wall of red rock and the crumbled and dismantled furnace. It was as he had left it that morning; there was no trace of recent human visitation. Revolver in hand, Concho examined every cave, gully and recess, peered behind trees, penetrated copses of buckeye and manzanita, and listened. There was no sound but the faint soughing of the wind over the pines below him. For a while he paced backward and forward with a vague sense of being a sentinel, but his mercurial nature soon rebeled against this monotony, and soon the fatigues of the day began to tell upon him. Recourse to his whisky flask only made him the drowsier, until at last he was fain to lie down and roll himself up tightly in his blanket. The next moment he was sound asleep.

His horse neighed twice from the summit, but Concho heard him not. Then the brush crackled on the ledge above him, a small fragment of rock rolled near his feet, but he stirred not. And then two black figures were outlined on the crags beyond.

"St-t-t!" whispered a voice. "There is one lying beside the furnace." The speech was Spanish, but the voice was Wiles'.

The other figure crept cautiously to the edge of the crag and looked over. "It is Concho, the imbecile," said Pedro, contemptuously.

"But if he should not be alone, or if he should waken?"

"I will watch and wait. Go you and affix the notification."

Wiles disappeared. Pedro began to creep down the face of the rocky ledge, supporting himself by chemisal and brushwood.

The next moment Pedro stood beside the unconscious man. Then he looked cautiously around. The figure of his companion was lost in the shadow of the rocks above; only a slight crackle of brush betrayed his whereabouts. Suddenly Pedro flung his serape over the sleeper's head, and then threw his powerful frame and tremendous weight full upon Concho's upturned face, while his strong arms clasped the blanket pinioned limbs of his victim. There was a momentary upheaval, a spasm and a struggle; but the tightly rolled blanket clung to the unfortunate man like cerements.

There was no noise, no outcry, no sound of struggle. There was nothing to be seen but the peaceful, prostrate figures of the two men darkly outlined on the ledge. They might have been sleeping in each other's arms. In the black silence the stealthy tread of Wiles in the bush above was distinctly audible.

Gradually the struggles grew fainter. Then a whisper from the crags:

"I can't see you. What are you doing?"

"Watching!"

"Sleeps he?"

"He sleeps!"

"Soundly?"

"Soundly."

"After the manner of the dead?"

"After the fashion of the dead!"

The last tremor had ceased. Pedro rose as Wiles descended.

"All is ready," said Wiles; "you are a witness of my placing the notifications?"

"I am a witness."

"But of this one?" pointing to Concho. "Shall we leave him here?"

"A drunken imbecile—why not?"

Wiles turned his left eye on the speaker. They chanced to be standing nearly in the same attitude they had stood the preceding night. Pedro uttered a cry and an imprecation, "Carramba! Take your devil's eye from me! What see you? Eh—what?"

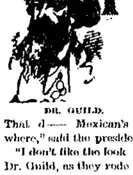
"Nothing, good Pedro," said Wiles, turning his blank right cheek to Pedro. The infuriated and half frightened ex-vaquero returned the long knife he had half drawn from its sheath, and growled surlily:

"Go on, then! But keep thou on that side, and I will on this." And so, side by side, listening, watching, distrustful of all things, but mainly of each other, they stole back and up into those shadows from which they might, like evil spirits, have been poetically evoked.

A half hour passed, in which the east brightened, flashed and again melted into gold. And then the sun came up haughtily, and a fog that had stolen across the summit in the night arose and fled up the mountain side, tearing its white robes in its guilty haste, and leaving them fluttering from tree and crag and scar. A thousand tiny blades, nestling in the crevices of rocks, nurtured in storms and rocked by the trade winds, stretched their wan and feeble arms toward Him; but Concho the strong, Concho the brave, Concho the light hearted spake not nor stirred.

CHAPTER IV.

WHO TOOK IT.



DR. GUILD.

THERE was presistent neighing on the summit. Concho's horse wanted his breakfast.

This protestation reached the ears of a party ascending the mountain from its western face. To one of the party it was familiar.

"Why, blank it all, that's Chiquita. That d—— Mexican's lying drunk somewhere," said the president of the B. M. Co.

"I don't like the look of this at all," said Dr. Guild, as they rode up beside the indignant animal. "If it had been an American, it might have been carelessness, but no Mexican ever forgets his beast. Drive ahead, boys; we may be too late."

In half an hour they came in sight of the ledge below, the crumbled furnace, and the motionless figure of Concho, wrapped in a blanket, lying prone in the sunlight.

"I told you so—drunk!" said the president.

The doctor looked grave, but did not speak. They dismounted and picketed their horses. Then crept on all fours to the ledge above the furnace. There was a cry from Secretary Gibbs. "Look yer. Some feller has been jumping us, boys. See these notices."

There were two notices on canvas affixed to the rock, claiming the ground, and signed by Pedro, Manuel, Miguel, Wiles and Roscommon.

"This was done, doctor, while your trustworthy Greaser locater—d——n him—lay there drunk. What's to be done, now?"

But the doctor was making his way to the unfortunate cause of their defeat, lying there quite mute to their reproaches. The others followed him.

The doctor knelt beside Concho, unrolled him, placed his hand upon his wrist, his ear over his heart, and then said:

"Dead."

"Of course. He got medicine of you last night. This comes of your d——d heroic practice."

But the doctor was too much occupied to heed the speaker's raillery. He had peered into Concho's protuberant eye, opened his mouth, and gazed at the swollen tongue, and then suddenly rose to his feet.

"Tear down those notices, boys, but keep them. Put up your own. Don't be alarmed; you will not be interfered with, for here is murder added to robbery."

"Murder?"

"Yes," said the doctor, excitedly, "I'll take my oath on any inquest that this man was strangled to death. He was surprised while asleep. Look here." He pointed to the revolver still in Concho's stiffening hand, which the murdered man had instantly cocked, but could not use in the struggle.

"That's so," said the president; "no man goes to sleep with a cocked revolver. What's to be done?"

"Everything," said the doctor. "This deed was committed within the last two hours; the body is still warm. The murderer did not come our way, or we should have met him on the trail. He is, if anywhere, between here and Tres Pinos."

"Gentlemen," said the president, with a slight preparatory and half judicial cough, "two of you will stay here and stick! The others will follow me to Tres Pinos. The law has been outraged. You understand the court!"

By some odd influence the little group of half-cynical, half-trifling and wholly reckless men had become suddenly sober, earnest citizens. They said: "Go on," nodded their heads, and betook themselves to their horses.

"Had we not better wait for the inquest and swear out a warrant?" said the secretary, cautiously.

"How many men have we?"

"Five."

"Then," said the president, summing up the Revised Statutes of the state of California in one strong sentence, "then we don't want no d—d warrant."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

The Little Ones.

A youngster was one day taken to the lake, and was told that the foam covered waves he saw were called whitecaps. On his return his father said: 'Well, Oscar, what did you see at the lake?" "Oh! I saw some water-hats." —[Babyhood.

A little "fresh air child" at Elkland who had never seen a cow before, was wathcing the milking process, with eyes full of astonishment. After looking on in silence for some time she drew near, and, placing her hand on the cow's distended side, exclaimed: "Why! she's chock full of it, ain't she?"—[American Rural Home.

I know two little sisters, one 5 and the other 3 years old. Eva, the older, is very much afraid of thunder, but Pet is braver. One day a lady was calling on mamma during a shower. Eva put her face in mamma's lap. "Aren't you afraid, too, Pet?" "No," the little one answered with a sunny smile. "Only if the funde'r orfle big, I hide my ears des a minit!"—[Youth's Companion.

Ministers, Lawyers, Teachers, and others whose occupation gives but little exercise, should use Carter's Little Liver Pills for torpid liver or biliousness. One is a dose.

During the four years of the American civil war, and out of the 2,772,498 men enlisted on the Union side there were 304,369 deaths of which 96,000 were either killed or died of wounds received in battle. The other 208,000 died from disease and from other causes not incident to the field of battle.

King George of Greece, has bought a [illegible]

Women will Travel.

"Has it ever occurred to you," asked a traveling man of a reporter of the Free Press at the Michigan Central passenger depot, yesterday, "that the women who travel outnumber the men in about the proportion of four to two?"

"Never thought of it."

"Well, that is a fact. You will find it so all over the United States. I never sit down in a waiting room or a passenger station that I don't count the inmates. Comes just as natural as life—a habit I have gotten into. In this room now ladies outnumber the men five to two, as you will find by counting them. It varies greatly of course, but one who has watched the thing as long as I have will say that my general average is correct."

"When I was in Europe," continued the traveling man, "a great many people spoke to me about the penchant of the American people for travel. I tell you that the women are responsible for our reputation in this regard. They will travel about the country and stand more fatigue than the men and find enjoyment in it."—[Detroit Free Press.

To get relief from indigestion, biliousness,constipation or torpid liver without disturbing the stomach or purging the bowels, take a few doses of Carter's Little Liver Pills, they will please you.

Worrying Over Things.

The older I grow, writes Zenas Dane in Good Housekeeping, the less I feel like worrying over things. I am essentially optimistic in my tendencies. Worry makes people grey and wrinkled and bald, and I cling tenaciously to my youthful looks.

I often wonder how some men will help their wrinkles to deepen and increase their baldness by flying into such tantrums when their meals are a trifle late, or their buttons are off their shirts. I know a Christain man, a "perferrer," a deacon in the church, who makes his wife's life a burden to her because of his ceaseless complaning about trifles. Do other readers know such husbands? Heaven forbid that one such has fallen to the portion of any reader of this. I call such men vicious. We allow to many trifles to vex and fret us. I once saw a man famous for his mental vigor and great learning swell up and grow purple with rage because he could not find his hat. How easily it is to make a family,wretched by his habit of whining and complaning, and scolding. Life is too short to waste any of it in useless mouthings.

The well known strengthening properties of IRON combined with other tonics and a most perfect nervine, are sound in Carter's Iron Pills, which strengthen the nerves and body,and improve the blood and corruption.

"Enlightening the World."

The torch of the statue of liberty will contain five electric lamps of 30,000 candle power, the light of which will be thrown upward. It is believed that the light will so illuminate the clouds that they will be visible for a distance of 100 miles. Four electric lights of 6,000 candle power each, will be placed at the foot of the statue, so as to illuminate it. The diadem on the head of the figure will contain incandescent lamps to give the effect of jewels.

Catarrh

Is a very prevalent, and exceedingly disagreeable disease, liable, if neglected, to develope into serious consumption. Being a constitutional disease, it requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, acting tho' the blood, reaches every part of the system, effecting a radical and permanent cure of catarrh in its most severe forms. Made only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Dairre, the housekeeper of M.Chevreul has been in his service forty years, and Isoline, the cook, thirty years.

Delicate Diseases, affecting male or female, however induced, speedily and permanently cured. Illustrated book for 10 cents in stamps. World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Count Von Blumeuthal, although 66 years old, still commands the Fourth German Army Corps, and he says he is ready for another campaign.

Don't trifle with any Throat or Lung Disease. If you have a Cough or Cold, or the children are threatened with Croup or Whooping Cough, use Acker's English Remedy and prevent further trouble. It is a positive cure, and we guarantee it. Price 10 and 50c. by H. C. Giesler.

A new billiard table ordered by W. K. Vanderbilt will cost $20,000. It will be of solid oak finished in inlaid work of Moorish design.

There is now outstanding 60,139,952 standard silver dollars.

ROYAL
ROYAL BAKING POWDER

We still live and feel healthy. The very disastrous effect of the Oswego county druggists' combination, upon our diet during the past year, seemed so apparent that upon consulting our bank account, and Wilcox's meat scales, we find ourselves yet, quite a ghost. The big guns of the Oswego county drug combination for the prevention of cruelty to fish, are still aimed at our council. Our diet of corn meal and onions enables us to still step heavily upon the necks of the Oswego county poor man's friends. We still hold forth at the beautiful opera house drug store and have increased our stock of Pure Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Wines, Liquors, Fancy Toilet Articles, Oils, Paints, and in fact everything pertaining to a first-class drug line. We desire to sincerely thank our many Fulton and vicinity friends who have stood by us in our past warfare, and thereby enabled us to secure a good fitting out of our clothes. Our Combination Competitors, have acquired such an affection for us that when we chance to pass them upon the streets, they greet us with the following smiling expression:

Remember our place, The Opera House Drug Store, Opposite the Stephens Opera House, Fulton, N. Y. H. C. GIESLER.

—CALL ON—

GEORGE JOHNSTON,

On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of

STOVES AND RANGES,

Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,	THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
ART UNIVERSAL,	GRAND UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,	HAPPY THOUGHT,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,	HAPPY HOME,
and ACORN,	and DUCHESS
Parlor Stoves.	Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the

Howe Ventilating Stove,

which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.

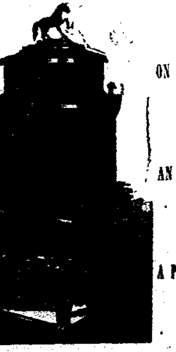
Yours Respectfully,

GEO. JOHNSTON

—THE—

Howe Ventilating Stove.

A NEW STOVE. ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.



A HANDSOME STOVE. AN EXCELENT HEATER.

AN ECONOMICAL STOVE. A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

☞A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE

Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N. Y.

F. G. Wheeler, President.
E. R. Redhead, Vice-President.
Alonzo Bradley, Sec'y & Treas.
E. L. Mudgeman, Gen. Manager.

GEO. JOHNSTON Local Agent
FULTON, N.Y.

[illegible] IN THE [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS, Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
33 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.
Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.
Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.
☞Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF Ladies' Kid Button Shoes
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
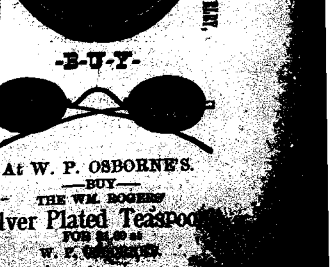
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
☞Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

LUMBER YARD.
We have in Stock a Complete Assortment of
Lumber, Lath, Shingles
&c., and in fact everything pertaining to a
FIRST-CLASS YARD.
We are prepared to furnish thoroughly Seasoned Lumber at Lowest Rates. Call and be Convinced.
BOOMER & LOOMIS.
Corner Broadway and First Streets.

-BUY-
Hampden Watches
—AT—
W. P. OSORNE'S.



REPAIRED AT OSBORNE'S.
WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY.

-B-U-Y-

At W. P. OSBORNE'S.
—BUY—
THE WM. ROGERS'
Silver Plated Teaspoons
FOR $[illegible] AT
W. P. OSBORNE'S.

THE FULTON TIMES
AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER
ISSUED EVERY WEDNESDAY
Office: [illegible] Floor, [illegible] Block, First Street—Opposite Lewis House.

TERMS—One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents a year in advance. An additional charge of fifteen cents for postage on papers going out of Oswego county.

Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES,

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

SECRETARY MANNING has resumed his official duties as Secretary of the Treasury.

REV. HENRY WARD BEECHER preached his last sermon in England, Sunday. He will soon be back to his church in Brooklyn.

THE $2 silver certificates that are to be issued will have a vignette of General Hancock in the full regimentals of a major-general.

ABRAM S. HEWITT, Theodore Rosevelt and Henry George are the candidates that will strive for the office of mayor in New York city.

A TERRIBLE fire broke out in Eastport, Maine, last Thursday, which raged furiously for ten hours and almost completely destroyed the town. The loss is estimated at $500,000. There were 62 dwellings, 8 factories, 17 wharves, 2 hotels, 5 boarding houses and 130 stores, offices and business places destroyed and about 100 families rendered homeless.

MR. POWDERLY was on Wednesday last unanimously re-elected General Master Workman of the Knights of Labor at the Richmond convention. Mr. Powderly by his cautious and conservative methods has done much good for the order. He is undoubtedly the best man for the Knights and the people at large that could be brought forward, and the Knights do well in retaining him as their chief executive officer.

RED DAY! RED DAY!
Saturday, This Week,
at
F. E. BACON'S.

Abbey's Double company will present the well known play Uncle Tom's Cabin at the opera house next Tuesday evening Oct. 26.

Eli Wheatfield.

Aaron H. Woodhull and an excellent company opened a three night's engagement at the Weiting last night in a four act comedy drama, "Eli Wheatfield." The large audience present roared with laughter at the comical sayings and actions of Eli, who is a Vermont farmer on the verge of his second childhood. The part is acted to perfection by Mr. Woodhull, who presents the old man's eccentricities wonderfully true to nature and does not overdo the character. The play is similar to "Alvin Joslin" and "Josh Whitcomb" and is replete with pathos as well as wit and humor. Wallace Jackson as the Senator and Theodore W. Babcock as The Chicken deserves special mention, and Miss Carlotta Bordeaux as the maid won instant favor with the audience. Her song "A Swell of the Day" was received with much favor. The play will be presented again this and to-morrow evenings.—[Syracuse Daily Courier, Sept. 28.

Mr. Howard has secured this excellent company for Stephens opera house, Thursday evening Oct. 21st.

The Democrats of the Second Oswego district nominated James A. Clark for Member of Assembly last Monday. He peremptorily declined the nomination.

Unveiling the Goddess.

The unveiling of the Bartholdi statue, "Liberty enlightening the World" will take place in New York on Oct. 28th, 1886, with grand and imposing ceremonies.

There will be a parade through the principal streets by United States troops, State Militia, Marines from the French and American fleet,s besides a long line of Organizations, Veterans, Firemen, and Citizens. The parade will be followed by a great Naval display in the harbor.

Many distinguished French visitors will be present including M. de Lesseps and Bartholdi, who will participate in the Ceremonies at the Statue during the afternoon, after which the French and American war vessels will salute, and a general salute will be fired from all batteries in the harbor and ashore, and the ceremonies conclude with the illumination of the statue.

The day will be celebrated as a time of general rejoicing, and in the evening there will be a magnificent display of fireworks in honor of the occasion.

Patriotic citizens will have an opportunity to participate in or witness the ceremonies, and for that purpose the N. Y. O. & W. Ry. will sell special tickets on all regular trains Oct. 26th., 27th. and 28th. at following special rates for the round trip.

Rockland and stations to Hancock, Inclusive, $4.00. Walton to Oneida, Utica and Rome, Including Delhi, New Berlin, Utica and Rome Branches, $5.00. Durhamville to Caughdenoy, Inclusive, $5.00. Caughdenoy to Oswego, Inclusive, $6.00. Tickets good to return up to and including Nov. 1st. 1886.

Just received at D. C. Draper's, a large order of imported crockery and China, and a fine line, all new patterns, China tea sets and chamber sets, which I will offer for the next 30 days at $1.00 less on chamber sets and $2.00 to $4.00 less on tea sets than any house in Oswego or Syracuse, to reduce part of overstock. Call and see goods and prices, at 15 Oneida street. 17tf.

Vienna Bakery.

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery, the largest, freshest and finest [illegible] confectionery, foreign [illegible] to be found in Fulton [illegible]

[illegible]

The members of the singing school at West Granby will give a concert on next Thursday and Friday evenings. An admission fee of ten cents will be charged.

J. Fitch of Granby Centre, whose barn was recently destroyed by fire, has received $25 from the publisher of the Mayflower. A subscriber to this paper is insured to that amount.

General J. I. Sayles commander department of N. Y. G. A. R. addressed the public at Sandy Creek last Friday evening in connection with the camp fire of Post Barney.

M. Amdursky of Fulton has opened a branch store in Parish. It is to be in charge of J. Wiener.

A mineral spring is in running order at Parish. It is said that the water tastes very similar to the Congress spring of Saratoga.

G. Williams, of Constantia, has one million feet of pine lumber, to work up in his mill this winter.

Mrs. Gaylord offers the stock, farming utensils, household furniture &c for sale to-day at public auction at her farm situated six miles north-east of this village in the town of Palermo.

George Johnson the young man caught in the act of burgarizing the store of Sargent & Son, Sandy Creek last Thursday night, was sentenced Saturday to two years and six months at hard labor in Auburn prison.

Resolution.

At a regular meeting of Hiram Lodge No. 144, F. & A. M. held in Masonic Hall, Fulton, N. Y., on Monday evening, Oct. 18, 1886, the following resolution was unanimously adopted.

Whereas this Lodge having decided to provide a banquet for the entertainment of visiting brethren on the evening of the 6th inst., did through the committee enlist the aid, sympathy and artistic skill of the ladies which resulted in such a display as was never equaled in this vicinity. Therefore be it resolved that the thanks of this Lodge be and hereby are tendered to Mrs. D. Pardee, Mrs. I. C. Curtis, Mrs. J. H. Case, Mrs. T. D. Lewis, Mrs. C. R. Nichols, Mrs. R. P. Hall, Miss Eva Case, Mrs. Carrie Leonard, Mrs. N. H. Gilbert and others who so kindly came to our assistance without which the entertainment must have been a complete failure.

Resolved, That the brethren having an opportunity shall convey to the ladies assisting as above stated the substance of this resolution.

Excursion to New York.

Bartholdi excursion to New York via D. L. & W. R. R., Oct. 26, 27, and 28, 1886, Fare for the round trip, $6.00 from Oswego and all stations south to and including Syracuse and Cortland. Fares from stations south of Cortland will be as follows: State Bridge $5.50; Marthon, $5.40; Killawog, $5.30; Lisle, $5.10; Whitney's Point, Chenango Bridge and Chenango Forks, $5.00. Tickets will be good on all regular trains on Oct. 26, 27, 28 and be valid for return passage to October 29th, inclusive, and from Baldwinsville and all stations north to Nov. 1st, inclusive. The "Bartholdi Excursion" is gotten up by the D.L. & W.R.R. Co., in order to give its patrons an opportunity to witness the ceremonies attending the inauguration of the Bartholdi Statue of Liberty Enlightening the world, which takes place Thursday, 28th. There will be a grand military, naval and civic parade in New York, which will be worth one's time and expense to see. Parties taking the morning trains will have a chance to view the world famous "Delaware Water Gap" by daylight, and now is the most delightful season of the year, as hills and vales are decked with the magnificent and picturesque foliage of early fall. The many attractions of this popular route, the superior accommodations and extremely low rate, should induce all who can spare the time, to visit the Metropolis on this auspicious occasion. For furthe information and tickets call on the nearest agent of the Lackawanna Route.

W. C. BRAYTON, Gen. Pass. Ag't. Syracuse
W. F. HOLWILL Gen. Pass. Agt. New York.

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best. To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 15tf

CHEESE MARKETS.

[From the Utica Herald.]

UTICA, Oct. 18.

September cheese is going fast. To-day's sales will not leave on the average more than three or four days of the September make to be marketed. A number of factories closed out all their September, while others have from one to six days left. The cold weather of the past week has diminished the flow of milk largely, but it will partically come up again with a warmer spell, although not to its former proportions.

The market was ¼c. off, but no one seemed disposed to hold over. There was some fear that prices might not hold up so well after the September stock was marketed, and for this reason the sales were very general. Transactions of the day were as follows:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
4	400	10½cents
63	5,204	10¾cents
9	858	11 cents
10	1,086	11⅛cents
23	2,223	11¼cents
8	837	11⅜cents
1	114	p. t.
	10,722
Farm dairy	423	com.
Total	11,145

Ruling price 10⅝. Corresponding day of last year, sales 7,834 boxes, ruling 9⅞c. Of 1884, sales 7,921, ruling price 11⅝c.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, Oct. 18.

Cheese—It being announced early in the day that prices of cheese were still lower, salesmen were disposed to hold back stocks to some extent, but as developments were made and prices named were only about ¼c. on an average lower than last week, sales were quite freely made, and the total sales is 2,200 boxes more than last week. The quality of cheese now selling here is fine, and it is fare to state that the sales at the highest figures is strictly full cream stock. Confidence in high prices is now on the wane, and factorymen are generally disposed to send their cheese forward as fast as its condition will permit. Following shows the trade of the day:

Lots	Boxes	Price
4	210	10½cents
49	3,291	10¾ cents
40	3,074	11 cents
1	50	11⅛ cents
5	566	11¼ cents
8	450	Com.
107	7,641
Farm dairies	831
	8,472

Farm Dairies.—Farm cheese sold better proportionally than factory. The amount sold is 831 boxes, for which prices ranged at 10¼ to 11⅛ cents, the bulk at 11 to 11¼c.

Butter.—There were 206 packages farm dairy butter sold at 21 to 24c, the bulk going at 23c. Twenty-four packages of creamery brought 28c.

AT FULTON.

About twenty factories were represented [illegible]

[illegible]

WASHINGTON, OCT. [illegible], 1886.

For the first time in six months the entire Cabinet is in the city. Secretary Manning resumed his official duties at the Treasury Department yesterday. It has been over six months since he was carried out of the department in an unconscious condition. He looks bright and cheerful and appeared to be glad to take up the burden of official duties again. While it is evident that his physical condition has greatly improved within the last two or three months, it is apparent from his halting pace and deliberate movements that he has by no means wholly recovered. Many of his friends fear that he will not be able to continue long to discharge the laborious duties of his office. But he appears to feel confident that his strength will hold out, if he husbands it carefully, and avoids giving too much attention to matters of routine and vexatious details. He began to-day by taking things easy. He saw only a few callers and remained in his office only a short time. The plumbing of the room in which he sits has been thoroughly overhauled.

It is understood that Mr. Manning has bestowed much thought recently on his annual report to Congress and that the main features of that document have been already formed in his own mind. It is expected that the routine work of the Department will remain in the hands of Assistant Secretaries Fairchild and Thompson; at least until after the assembling of Congress.

Apropos of the Treasury Department the Government receipts for this month amount to $14,543,000 and the expenditures during the same period amounts to $8,307,000 showing an excess of receipts of $6,340,000.

Cabinet meetings, as far as can be learned, have been devoted mainly to the question "What shall we do with him?" meaning Geronimo. The President's decision has not yet been announced but the impression is gaining ground that Geronimo with the other Apaches will be soon forwarded to Fort Marion, Fla., where the Indians from the San Carlos reservation were sent some time ago. Immediately after the surrender of Geronimo, Gen. Miles started him and his companions on their way to Florida and then so informed the military authorities at Washington, by whom the Indians were stopped at San Antonio, Tex., where they have been kept ever since, pending a decision in the matter. While such action on the part of the Government might not be taken as conclusive evidence that no other disposition can be made of them, still it would be a natural inference that the renegades will be destined to spend the remainder of their days under military control at Fort Marion, and that Gen. Miles' assurances to the hostiles as to their treatment are regarded as inviolable, and that they can not be made to suffer for their crimes, either through the civil courts or a military commission. When asked about the decision in the Geronimo case Secretary Endicott declined to give a definite answer, but laughingly said, "Oh, Geronimo is all right. We have him in safe custody and he will not get away again."

Secretary Bayard was closeted with the President when the hour for his usual Wednesday afternoon reception arrived, and for twenty minutes beyond the usual time two hundred and twenty visitors stood in a packed circle around the East room, with their gaze intent upon the corridor door, waiting for it to open as an announcement of the President's coming. When the President did put in an appearance, he went through the ordeal in his usual pleasant manner. The crowd was unusually well dressed and intelligent looking. One lady, after seeing that the little girl she led by the band had received the pleasant word he always has for children, drew back a step and in a carefully enunciated sentence said, "Allow me, Mr. President, to wish you a happy end to your Administration." The President allowed her by an inclination of his head, and continued his task. One young lady said, "I have come a thousand miles to see you, "and ended her remark in an uncontrollable giggle, which was joined in by her companions.

When Mrs. Cleveland and her mother went down to Mount Vernon on the steamer W. W. Corcoran last week, it was simply a private way, and Captain Blake had been enjoined to silence in regard to Mrs. Cleveland's presence. She, therefore, mingled freely with the numerous passengers and her identity was not discovered until one old woman evolved it from her inner perceptions, as it were. The good dame said nothing and only gazed her fill, rarely taking her eyes off of the fair young woman; but there was a pretty California girl who was too much for the gallant Captain. She made her discovery, and wished to be introduced. The request was put before Mrs. Cleveland who graciously acceded, and to the Californian's delight, a long and interesting conversation ensued. Imagine this girl, old and a granddame, relating her agreeable experience, and dilating on the amiability of our gracious first lady while looking over a portfolio of portraits of 1886, a long time ago.

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the NOVELTY CUSTOM MILL recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & Redhead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any flour or feed grinding done. Flour and feed constantly on hand. Call and try us and we guarantee satisfaction. Flour and feed delivered to any part of Fulton and Oswego Falls free of charge. 18t26.

A $20.00 Biblical Reward.

The publishers of Rutledge's Monthly offer twelve valuable rewards in their Monthly for November, among which is the following:

We will give $20.00 to the person telling us which is the longest verse in the Old Testament Scriptures, (not the revised edition), by November 10th, 1886. Should two or more correct answers be received, the REWARD will be divided. The money will be forwarded to the winner November 15th, 1886. Persons trying for the reward must send 20 cents in silver or postal notes, (no postage stamps taken) with their answer, for which they will receive the Monthly for December in which the name and address of the winner of the reward and the correct answer will be published, and in [illegible]

[illegible] Slavery Known—[illegible] Slaves of Power.

Cincinnati Times-Star.

When cocaine was discovered the medical world exclaimed "thank heaven!"

But useful as it is, it is also dangerous, especially when its use is perverted from the deadening of pain for surgical operations, to the stimulation and destruction of the human body. Its first effects are soothing and captivating, but the thralldom is the most horrible slavery known to humanity.

J. L. Stephens, M. D., of Lebanon, O., was interviewed by our reporter yesterday at the Grand Hotel, and during the conversation the doctor said: "The cocaine habit is a thousand times worse than the morphine and opium habits, and you would be astonished," he said "if you knew how frightfully the habit was increasing."

"What are its effects?"

"It is the worst constitution wrecker ever known. It ruins the liver and kidneys in half a year, and when this work is done the strongest constitution soon succumbs."

"Do you know of Dr. Underhill's case here in Cincinnati?"

"That leading physician who became a victim to the cocaine habit? Yes. His case was a very sad one, but the habit can be cured. I have rescued many a man from a worse condition."

"What worse than Dr. Underhill's?"

"Indeed, sir, far so. Justin M. Hall, A. M., M. D., president of the State Board of Health of Iowa, and a famed practitioner, and Alexander Neil, M. D., professor of surgery in the Columbus Medical College, and president of the Academy of Medicine, a man widely known, Rev. W. P. Clancey of Indianapolis, Ind., from personal experience in opium eating, etc,, can tell you of the kind of success our form of treatment wins, and so can C. H. Wilson, formerly of Cincinnati, who is now associated with me."

"Would you mind letting our readers into the secret of your methods?"

"Well, young man, you surely have a good bit of assurance to ask a man to give his business away to the public; but I won't wholly disappoint you. I have treated over 20,000 patients. In common with many eminent physicians, I, for years made a close study of the effects of the habits on the system and the organs which they most severely attack. Dr. Hall, Dr. Neil and Mr. Wilson, whom I have mentioned, and hundreds of others, equally as expert, made many similar experiments on their own behalf. We each found that these drugs worked worst destructively in the kidneys and liver; in fact, finally destroyed them. It was then apparent that no cure could be affected until those organs could be restored to health. We recently exhausted the entire range of medical science, experimenting with all known remedys for these organs, and as the result of these close investigations we all substantially agreed, though following different lines of inquiry, that the most reliable scientific preparation, was Warner's safe cure. This was the second point of the discovery. The third was our own private form of treatment, which, of course we do not divulge to the public. Every case that he have treated first with Warner's safe cure, then with our own private treatment, and followed up again with Warner's cure for a few weeks, has been successful. These habits can't be cured without using it, because the habit is nourished and sustained in the liver and kidneys. The habit can be kept up in moderation, however, if free use be also made of this great remedy."

"Yes, it is a world famed and justly celebrated specific! Like many other physicians, I used to deride the claims made for it, but I know now for a fact that it is the world's greatest blessing, having sovereign power over hitherto incurable diseases of the kidneys and liver, and when I have said that, young man, I have said nearly everything, for most diseases originate in, or are aggravated by, a depraved condition of the kidneys."

"People do not realize this, because, singular as it may seem, the kidneys may be in a very advanced stage of decomposition, and yet owing to the fact that there are but few nerves of sensation in them the subject will not experience much pain therein. On this account thousands of people die every year of kidney disease unknowingly. They have so called disorders of the head, of the heart and lungs and stomach, and treat them in vain, for the real cause of their misery is deranged kidneys and if they were restored to health the other disorders wolud soon disappear."

Dr. Stephens' experience, that can be confirmed by many thousands whom he has treated, adds only more emphasis to the experience of many hundreds of thousands all over the world, that the remedy he refers to is without any doubt the most beneficent discovery ever given to humanity.

Say, do you know H. & A. Rosenbloom are selling Ladies' Gents' & Children's underwear cheaper than ever before.

The very choicest qualities of teas, coffees and spices and all shelf groceries sold for cash at WHOLESALE PRICES at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 24tf

To Clerks and Trustees of School Districts.

There are important communications to be made to the trustees of this district for which purpose it is necessary to have their names and post office addresses. The law requires that the clerk of such district shall immediately after the annual school meeting file with the town clerk a list of the officers elected thereat with their last post office address. On examination I find that this has not in all cases been done. I trust that the matter will be attended to at once.

D. D. METCALF.

Dated Oct. 18, 1886.

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

CHURCH GOING PEOPLE

Are annoyed by the Coughing of their neighbors. One bottle of Van Wert's Balsam would cure every cough in the congregation. Go to H. C. Giesler's, Fulton, or Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls, and get a free sample bottle and see for yourself.

Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure cold in the head. 23m6

J. C. [illegible] $14,000 [illegible]

[illegible]

Potatoes are rotting somewhat.

Elmer Coe has added a coat of paint to his house.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Mason have been visiting Mr. Almon Mason of Sterling.

Our school is progressing finely under the continued charge of Miss Nettie Anderson. This is her fourth term.

Farmers are busy taking care of corn and picking apples.

John Johnson is busy buying chickens. He bought about 200 pounds of one man here.

George A. Camain has returned from the east, where he has been visiting his mother. Mrs. Camain has also returned from Mt. Pleasant.

Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Jewett leaves this week for Massachusetts to be gone for some time. Mr. Kelly has been at work there for nearly a year.

A meeting was held at the Baptist church last Wendesday evening for the purpose of organizing a Good Templars lodge. A number became members.

Mr. Bidwell is the "boss" pumpkin raiser of this locality. One of his large Sirberian pumpkins weighed 113½ pounds, measured 2 feet 11 inches from stem to blow and was 5 feet 10 inches in circumference.

Clothe your boys at our counters. Boys' Clothing is one of our Special Departments. We sell more boys' clothing than all the stores together and therefore we can sell from $1.50 to $3.00 on a suit less than our competitors.

H. & A. ROSENBLOOM.

An Active Man or Insurance Agent Wanted in Fulton and outside towns and villages to represent an Established Life and Accident Insurance Society. Superior terms offered. Write for circular. Address Home Benefit Society, 161 Broadway, New York. 23w2

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

FOR SALE.

The Coats residence on the North side of Rochester street between Second and Third. For terms enquire on the premises. 21t6

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., Oct. 13th, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, the president and full board.

The following bills were reported from the Finance Committee, audited at the amounts claimed, and the Clerk directed to draw orders for the several amounts:

Geo. F. Sharp, highway work,	$73.09
Willard Johnson, lumber,	10.08
Charles Whitaker, rent of room,	13.00
B. J. Kimball, measuring water mains,	10.00
John White, gas for streets,	67.50
" " " " jail	1.75
"The Gutta Percha and Rubber M'f'g Co." two play pipes,	13.50

A comunication was received from John White, asking for remumeration for gas escaping from a broken pipe on First-st., near Broadway, during the grading of said street. The comunication was laid on the table.

It was moved and carried that Mr. Skinner be employed to fix the pipes at the engine house at a cost not to exceed six dollars.

The supply committee, to whom was referred the matter of Rubber coats and boots for the new hose companies were given to the next meeting to report.

The committee app ointed at the last meeting to see about the coal bin at the Engine House were given further time.

Proposals were submitted by the Thomson-Houston Electric Co. for lighting the village for the term of one year, and one for the term intervening between now and the next charter election.

A proposal was received from the Fulton Schuyler Electric Light Company.

To the Honorable the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Fulton, N. Y.

The Thomson-Houston Electric Co. hereby purpose to furnish 37 or more electric arc lights to the village of Fulton according to the specifications approved by the board of trustees, for the period of one year at the rate of ($1.50) four dollars and fifty cents per light per month—Oct. 13th, 1886.

Respectfully submitted.
THOMSON-HOUSTON ELECTRIC CO.
Per F. H. Leonard, JR.

To the Honorable, the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Fulton, N. Y.

The Thomson-Houston Electric Co. hereby purpose to furnish thirty-seven or more electric arc lamps to the village of Fulton, according to specifications approved by the board of trustees for the period intervening between the time the lights can be started and the next charter election at the rate of ($2.00) two dollars per light per month.—Oct 13th, 1886.

Respectfully submitted
THOMSON-HOUSTON ELECTRIC CO.
Per F. H. LEONARD. JR.

To the Honorable, the President and Board of Trustees of the Village of Fulton, N. Y.

The Fulton Schuyler Electric Light Company hereby purpose to furnish for the use of the Village of Fulton, thirty seven arc lights of two thousand (2,000) candle power each, and light the same every night in the year from twilight until 12 o'clock midnight, said lights to be located as designated by village map or memorandum, subject to slight changes which the Board of Trustees may direct, for a term of one year, to date from completion and practical operation of the system, (or at the option of the village or its authorities from the next village election either general or special) at and for the compensation of forty-eight and 49-100 dollars (48.49) for each of said thirty-seven lights, and will furnish any additional number of lights required at the same rate. Said company also agrees to give the bonds and complete the system as required by the specifications adopted by the Board of Trustees, Sept. 30, 1886.—Dated, Fulton Oct. 13, 1886.

G. C. WEBB,
Sec'y and Treas.

It was moved and carried that a special meeting of the taxable inhabitants of this village be called for Thursday, Nov. 4th, at 7 p. m. to vote on the proposals of the Fulton Schuyler Electric Light Company.

Adjourned until Thursday, Nov. 4th, at 7 o'clock p. m.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

Special Village Meeting.

Notice is hereby given that a Special Meeting of the taxable inhabitants of the Village of Fulton, will be held at the Rooms of the Trustees of said Village, on THURSDAY EVENING, Nov. 4th, 1886.

For the purpose of submitting the question of increasing the Ordinary Expenses of the Village.

At said Meeting the following Resolution will be submitted to be voted on by ballot.

RESOLVED, That the sum of Seventeen Hundred and Ninety-four Dollars and Thirteen Cents, ($1,794.13) be raised by Tax on the Taxable Property of the Village of Fulton, for the purpose of Lighting the Public streets and Grounds of said Village with Electric Light for the term of one year. That the Board of Trustees of said Village if hereby authorized and directed to enter into Contract for the immediate Lighting of said Streets and Grounds, according to the Specifications heretofore made by said Board, under which Specifications bids have been made; payment therefor to commence at the date of the practical operation of said Lighting as approved by said Board. The Contract with any Company to provide for such additional lights as shall be required by said Board at pro-rata price, and to reserve the right and provide for the privilege of a continuation of such contract for one or more years at the option of said Board on the terms and conditions as provided in said contract for one year. The Tax voted by this resolution shall be collected by first warrant issued after the next Annual Meeting of said Village. That said Board of Trustees, if in its judgment it shall be necessary, is hereby authorized to borrow money to discharge the obligations of any Contract it may enter into, under this resolution.

Polls open from 7 to 9 p. m.
Dated October 14, 1886.

J. H. SHARP, President.
WILLARD JOHNSON,
A. P. CHASE,
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]

Day and Night

During an acute attack of Bronchitis, a ceaseless tickling in the throat, and an exhausting, dry, hacking cough, afflict the sufferer. Sleep is banished, and great prostration follows. This disease is also attended with Hoarseness, and sometimes Loss of Voice. It is liable to become chronic, involve the lungs, and terminate fatally. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral affords speedy relief and cure in cases of Bronchitis. It controls the disposition to cough, and induces refreshing sleep.

I have been a practicing physician for twenty-four years, and, for the past twelve, have suffered from annual attacks of Bronchitis. After exhausting all the usual remedies

Without Relief,

I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It helped me immediately, and effected a speedy cure.—G. Stoveall, M. D., Carrollton, Miss.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is decidedly the best remedy, within my knowledge, for chronic Bronchitis, and all lung diseases.—M. A. Rust, M. D., South Paris, Me.

I was attacked, last winter, with a severe Cold, which, from exposure, grew worse and finally settled on my Lungs. By night sweats I was reduced almost to a skeleton. My Cough was incessant, and I frequently spit blood. My physician told me to give up business, or I would not live a month. After taking various remedies without relief, I was finally two bottles of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I am now in perfect health, and able to resume business, after having been pronounced incurable with Consumption.—S. P. Henderson, Sauisburgh, Penn.

Cured By Using

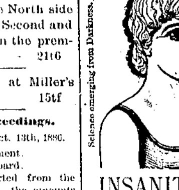
For years I was in a decline. I had weak lungs, and suffered from Bronchitis and Catarrh. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral restored me to health, and I have been for a long time comparatively vigorous. In case of a sudden cold I always resort to the Pectoral, and find speedy relief.—Edward E. Curtis, Rutland, Vt.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Bronchitis. The physician attending me became fearful that the disease would terminate in Pneumonia. After trying various medicines, without benefit, he finally prescribed Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which relieved me at once. I continued to take this medicine a short time, and was cured.—Ernest Colton, Logansport, Ind.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

What is this Dark Shadow



Science emerging from Darkness.

That follows us wherever we go? It is the fear of mental exhaustion that terminate either in

INSANITY or DEATH.

We as a people live fast. We are overworked, so that old age comes upon us when quite young in years. We pass sleepless nights or with a sleep that gives no rest. This is nervous exhaustion, and we require a tonic that will restore the brain and nervous system to its normal condition, bringing back youth and vigor. The NEW QUININE, called KASKINE, is the most powerful tonic known. It removes that tired and depressed feeling, gives us a good appetite, makes us feel strong and healthy, gives quiet sleep that refreshes the languid and weary.

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful."

St. Francis Hospital, N.Y., "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Rev. Jos. Desribes, Chaplain of Charity Hospital, writes: "I will be surely, on every occasion, through conviction a most devoted promoter of Kaskine."

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered indispensible. It acts perfectly."

Dr. L. R. White, U. S. Examining Surgeon, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Glessner, has cured over 290 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says: "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

Kaskine is pleasant to take and can be used without special medical counsel. Pamphlets giving information, &c. sent on application.

Send for the great book of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine. $1 a bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 51 Warren St., N. Y.

Godey's Lady's Book.

AN ELEGANT PREMIUM TO EVERY SUBSCRIBER.
GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK For 1887, $2.00 a Year.
Sample Copy 15 Cents.
TERMS TO CLUBS.
Extra Premiums to Club Raisers.
2 Copies $3.50; 3 Copies $4.50; 5 Copies $7.75.

For list of Premiums and terms to larger clubs, send for Sample Copy, which will give you full information.

FASHION.
$2.00 A YEAR.

GODEY'S, at the present time is admitted by press and people to be superior to any ladies' magazine in America, having the greatest variety of departments, ably edited.

CLUB RAISERS' PREMIUMS.

GODEY'S has arranged to give elegant Silver Plated Ware of superior makers as premiums, the value of which in some instances reaches over $15 for one premium. Send 15c. for Sample copy which will contain Illustrated Premiums with full particulars and terms. Address,

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

As a remedy for Pulmonary Afflictions and Scrofulous Diseases.

Where the digestive organs are feeble and ordinary food does not seem to nourish the child, this acts both as food and medicine, giving strength and flesh at once, and almost as palatable as milk. Take no other. 19t4.

Dissolution.

NOTICE is hereby given that the firm heretofore known as James Morrow & Co. is this day dissolved by mutual consent. James Morrow will hereafter carry on the business. All indebtedness to the firm will be paid to Mr. Morrow.—Dated, Fulton, Oct 7th, 1886.

24w2

A. EMERICK.
JAMES MORROW.

LITTLE CHILDREN

Do not cry when Dr. Van Wert's Balsam is given them. It is so sweet and palatable, they never refuse it, and it is superior to any other known remedy for Croup and Whooping Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are small and easy to take. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Hay Fever. 23m6

If statements are to be credited this has been a profitable year for base ball nines. The New York club cleared $100,000, Chicago $60,000, Bostons $50,000, Detroits $40,000, and Philadelphias $30,000.

PURE WHITE CLOVER HONEY

Forms the base of Dr. Van Wert's Balsam and this being combined with the most potent remedial agents which modern medical investigation has discovered, the whole forms an incomparable remedy for all throat and lung troubles. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Trial sizes free.

For torpid liver use Van Wert's Pills. Van Wert's Golden Balm is a certain cure for Catarrh. 23m6

THE TIMES' OFFERS!

$1.25 will give you one year's Subsction to THE TIMES and Four months Subscription to the

DETROIT FREE PRESS

The most original, piquant and entertaining of American Newspapers. $1.25 will also give you one year's Subscription to

THE FULTON TIMES

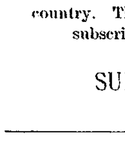
and one year's Subscription to the

AMERICAN FARMER,

A Sixteen page Agricultural Magazine, which is rapidly taking rank as one of the leading Agricultural Publications of this country. The same offers to old Subscribers who pay subscription to date and one year in advance.

SUBSCRIBE! SUBSCRIBE.

ROGERS' GRAPOLINE



Is a household name throughout the United States. It is administered as a specific, and with SUCCESS, in DYSPEPSIA, Sick HEADACHE, Nervous Debility, Liver Complaint, Billious Romittents, Bowel Complaints (especially CONSTIPATION), Cout, Cravel, RHEUMATISM, Nausea, the complaints peculiar to the maternal sex, and all types of Inflammation.

So mild is it in its operation that it can be given with perfect safety to the feeblest child; and so agreeable is it to the taste so refreshing to the palate, that children never refuse to take it. FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

A. H. ROGERS & CO. Ceneseo, N. Y.

Real Estate and Insurance

AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 34 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota. N. Y.

☞Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at FULTON, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

NEW COAL FIRM.
REMEMBER THAT
HART & CULLEN
ARE SELLING THE
Wilkesbarre and Pittston Coal.
THE BEST COAL MINED.
Leave Orders at Hart's Pottery, or Cullen's Meat Market and you will find prices very satisfactory.
Coal Delivered in Fulton or Oswego Falls.
2m3

GREAT SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.

Prices Below all Competition On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.

IN DYE STUFFS

I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at

R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.

A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.

No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

Remember my motto is strictly first class goods—and prices below all Competition.

48tf R. E. PHILLIPS.

SCHOOL OF SHORT HAND
—AND—
TYPE WRITING.
CLASSES DAY AND EVENING.
Lessons by Mail a Specialty.
Terms Moderate. For further particulars apply to
MISS MATTIE G. HAM,
66 and 67 Weiting Block,
18m3 Syracuse, N. Y.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure. By JOHN H. MCALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years Tax Collector. Sent free to any address.

FRENCH'S HOTEL.
CITY HALL SQUARE, NEW YORK,
Opposite City Hall and the Post Office.

This Hotel is one of the most complete in its appointments and furniture of ANY HOUSE in New York City and is conducted on the European Plan.

Rooms only One Dollar per day. Half minute's walk from Brooklyn Bridge and Elevated R. R. All lines of cars pass the door. Most convenient Hotel in New York for Merchants to stop at. Dining Rooms, Cafes and Lunch Counter replete with all the luxuries at moderate prices. 8y1

OUR BABY'S FIRST YEAR, by Marion Harland, also containing much valuable information. 48 page book. Sent on receipt of 2-cent stamp by Reed and Carurick, Mercantile Exchange Building, N. Y.

3,000 AGENTS WANTED for the NEW WORK.
GLADSTONE—PARNELL
AND THE GREAT IRISH STRUGGLE.

By the eminent author, HON. T. P. O'CONNOR, M. P. for Liverpool, and R. M. MCWADE, Esq. Endorsed by HON. C. S. PARNELL. A thrilling history of Irish oppression and the mighty struggle for Home Rule that is rocking the British Empire to its centre; also Biographies of the leaders. An entirely new work from high authority, of all absorbing interest, richly illustrated, and an immense demand. ☞Apply quickly to

W. A. HOUGHTON & CO.,
12 East 14th St., New York.

SCRANTON COAL!
THOROUGHLY SCREENED,
Promptly Delivered!
At the Following Prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Alice Hethington as administratrix of the goods, chattels and credits of William S. Hethington, deceased, against Josiah C. Mosher, Nellie Sears, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis and Josephine Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.—Dated this 13th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington, defendants:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. Pardon C. Williams, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 15th day of October, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego Co., N. Y. at Oswego, N. Y., on October 15, 1886.—Dated Oct. 15, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE
BEST IN THE WORLD
☞Get the Genuine. Sold Everywhere.

ADVERTISERS or others, who wish to examine this paper, or obtain estimates on advertising space when in Chicago, will find it on file at 45 to 49 Randolph St., the Advertising Agency of LORD & THOMAS.

FITS STOPPED FREE
Marvelous success.
Insane Persons Restored
Dr. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER
for all BRAIN & NERVE DISEASES. Only sure cure for Nerve Affections, Fits, Epilepsy, etc. INFALLIBLE if taken as directed. No Fits after first day's use. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free to Fit patients, they paying express charges on box when received. Send names, P. O. and express address of afflicted to DR. KLINE, 931 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa. See Druggists. BEWARE OF IMITATING FRAUDS.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES.
PICTURE FRAMES,
MOULDINGS &c.
Fulton N. Y.

SCOTT'S EMULSION
OF PURE COD LIVER OIL
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda
Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANÆMIA, [illegible] COUGHS AND [illegible] [illegible] and all WASTING [illegible] [illegible] it is marvellous in its [illegible]

Prescribed and endorsed by the [illegible] in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

DEL. LACK'WNA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express	6:18 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	11:22 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express	3:52 p. m
Freight and Accommodation	6:15 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express	8:15 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express	9:18 a. m.
Day Express	12:19 p. m.
Day Express	2:40 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation	6:20 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express	8:20 p. m.

The 9:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R.

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:13 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:27 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	9:57 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:16	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19	3:21	6:29

☞Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS.

Father Kenrney is visiting in Cortland for a few days.

Miss Mary Johnson is visiting friends in Rockford, Ill.

Mrs. Andrew Jones visited friends in Phoenix last week.

Miss Florence Markham left for her home in Utica last week.

W. C. Crombie of Cortland, is visiting his parents in this village.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Mosher spent Sunday with friends at Oswego.

Lang Foster is visiting friends in Newark, N. J., this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Judd Cary of Cortland are visiting friends in town.

Mrs. Perkins of Chicago, was the guest of Mrs. Job Bennett over Sunday.

C. S. Osgood visited in Pulaski last week the guest of his sister Mrs. A. Fisher.

Mrs. Marlon Brando and daughter returned to their home in Providence, R.I. last week.

Mrs. Hannah Fish, Mrs. H. Pooler and Mrs. Will Waugh are visiting in Rochester.

Mrs. F. D. VanWagenen returned home Saturday from a two week's visit in Schenectady.

Miss Alice M. Baker of Oneida was the guest of Mrs. A. R. Ney for a few days last week.

J. C. Dresser of the Johnson house, who has been quite sick during the past week is convalescent.

C. M. Allen is in Syracuse to-day attending the marriage of his friend, Dr. Mooney of that city.

Reuben Bradshaw and wife spent the the past week with their daughter, Mrs. George Chauncy at Niagara Falls. They returned Monday.

Dr. Francis W. Abbott of Buffalo, formerly of Fulton, spent the Sabbath with his aunt, Miss Amanda Gardner, on Cayuga street.

Mrs. Geo. Sawyer and her daughter Grace passed a few days in town last week the guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Sabin.

Mrs. Ira Parker who has been visiting friends in this locality for the past week, started Monday for St. Cloud, Minn., where her husband is now located.

Mrs. Warren Kennedy and granddaughter of Syracuse, and Miss Emily Howe of Marlboro, Mass., were the guests of A. Howe and family during the past week.

Joseph Parkhouse, who for the past ten years has been in the office of one of the street car companies of Chicago, recently resigned his position and is now at his home in this village.

If you want to see a bright store, or if you wish anything in bright colors go to Bacon's Saturday, Red Day.

TO LET—The house at the corner of Sixth and State Streets. Inquire of tf THOMAS CARR.

Farm For Sale.

Situated 6½ miles west of Fulton, 1½ miles east of South Hannibal, 80 acres, good buildings, will trade for village property. Inquire of or address
GEO. F. HOWLAND,
24w4 South Hannibal, N. Y.

SOMETHING NEW.

The improved Welt $3.00 Calf Shoe equal to the best hand sewed at
22tf COLLINS'.

The interior of the Bee Hive on their opening days last Thursday, Friday and Saturday presented a striking and pleasant contrast to the chilling and disagreeable atmosphere without its doors. The decorations and arrangements of the endless varieties of goods in this establishment were different than at former openings and we have heard the opinion expressed by several that never before were they shown to such excellent advantage, reflecting well deserved credit and praise on all that took part in the arrangement of the display. Alcoves and booths (if the names are proper) were arranged on either side of the store and assisted materially in perfecting the fine display of dress goods in combination suits, velvets, silks, &c. &c. Two figures artistically decked had a central position and attracted much attention. An extended report of the many elegant articles is out of the question, we can only make brief mention of a few. The cloak department had a full line of Ladies' and Misses' Cloaks in Seal, Plush, Astrachan and Boucle cloth, in all grades. Laces and Handkerchiefs in every color of the rainbow and of beautiful design. Hosiery, Underwear and Gloves, Table Linen and Towels in endless variety, Embroidered Robes in all colors in Irredescent and black beaded paterns, Carpets, Shawls, Blankets and Comfortables, Black and Colored Silks, in Rhadzmire, Rhadma, Trictotone Mascott and Marvellans colored and black Dress Goods in Cheviots, Vigogni, Ficille, Camels Hair, Canvas Boucle effects, Drop DeAlma and Poland Cloths, Satin Berbers, Diagonal and Stripe Serges in colors and black.

Electric Lights.

The dynamo for producing the incandescent lights of the Thomson-Houston system arrived here a few weeks since but was not put in operation until the middle of last week. The light is of a most excellent nature and is meeting with great favor among our business men. The price charged for the light is 2½ cents per light per night. We understand that some of our citizens desire to introduce it into their private houses and are negotiating with the manager to that end. These lights are being put in daily. Orders have been received from the following places of business: News room 4 lights, Kendall 10, Cullen 3, Johnson House 4, Club Room 2, Morrill Bros. 6, Goman 2, Giroux 3, Barnes & Bach 6, Dr. Loomis 2, C. Whitaker 3, Nichols & Sackett 8, Boomer 4, Wilson 3, Jones 3, Miller (hatter) 4, Hewes 2, Hanna & Co. 4. The above orders show the favor with which the incandescent lights here have been received.

The Company also have 19 arc lights in operation. The four on the street of the Village, Watson, Amdursky, Elder, Brown & Roberts, Gesler, Wilcox, Holden, Berzee, Cullen, Bloomberg, Barnes & Bach. At Oswego Falls one on the street, at Whitaker's, the Post Office and in Haynes & Switzer's store. This system of lights which is meeting with such favor is the system that should be and ultimately will be adopted for street lighting purposes.

A Youthful Celebration.

About fifteen babies with their mothers assembled at the home of Mrs. Chas Nichols on First street yesterday afternoon to celebrate the first anniversary of her son's birth. We understand that at one time the whole fifteen occupied a central position on the parlor floor and presented a very pleasant and interesting group. We were not present and therefore cannot make public through THE TIMES the best looking baby in the group an announcement that it would give us pleasure (?) to make as there was, of course, no diversity of opinion in regard to this. The little one in honor of whom this repast was given was the recipient of numerous presents—souvenirs of the occasion. The babies were taken home shortly after five and the older people, to the number of about thirty, remained for a few hours longer.

The secret of our business is small profits and large sales. It works like a charm. Ladies' and gentlemen's outfitters. H. & A. ROSENBLOOM,
Fulton, N. Y.

Democratic Caucus.

The Democratic caucus was held in the opera house hall last Saturday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by Marcus Crahan. James Caldwell was made chairman and E. Lathrop and S. McDonough secretaries. The following delegates were then elected without opposition:

County— W. D. Patterson, Smith Woodruff, John C. Dresser, Daniel Morfa, L. T. Richardson, R. R. Dodge, J. J. Bonney, G. W. Briggs, Frank Wilson, Louis Goman.

Distict—J. N. Sharp, Geo. Kellog, Willis Ney, M. Pomphret, P. Cullen, Walter Boomer, James Colwell.

Largest Stock!

Lowest Prices!

CLOTHING!

MEN'S UNDERWEAR.

OVERCOATS!

HATS AND CAPS.

Don't buy until you have seen our stock.

D. C. [illegible] & CO.

[illegible] Reliable One Price Dealers

To Be Reduced.

My very large stock of Men's Boys' and Youths' Kip and Calf Boots for Fall and Winter wear to be sold at Jobber's Prices to Reduce Stock.

A. E. NETTLETON.

Red Day at Bacon's Saturday.

Election one week from next Tuesday.

Uncle Tom's Cabin at the opera house Tuesday Oct. 26.

It is reported that a new Troy laundry is to be started here.

"Eli Wheatfield" at the opera house to-morrow evening.

A new sidewalk is being placed in front of the Patriot block.

Howorth Hibernica company at the opera house, Friday evening, October 29.

The Village Improvement Association meeting at Armory hall this evening at 7:30.

P. S. Fuller will receive the tax of school district No. 2 at one per cent until Nov. 11.

D. E. Spencer who has been sick for the past two weeks is now able to be about again.

The Democratic county convention meets in Mexico to-morrow for the purpose of nominating county officers.

The next meeting of the C. L. S. C. will be held at the home of Mrs. G. M. Salmon, Wednesday evening Oct. 27.

Rev. W. Dempster Chase will deliver his lecture "Wealth, Want, Worth" at the Mt. Pleasant church on next Friday evening.

The Father Matthew T. A. and B. Society held the first of a series of sociables at their hall in this village, last evening.

Married, Oct. 13, 1886, Egbert Lampman of Granby to Eliza Doty of Chaumont, by Rev. Jno. C. Breaker, at 54 Third street Fulton.

Gentlemen who think of buying an Overcoat, ready-made or made to order, We invite you to look through our tempting stock. H. & A. ROSENBLOOM.

Mr. Alonzo Wybron and Miss Alice Graham both of Oswego Falls were married at the residence of Willard Schafer in Brewerton last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Peebles, of the firm of Peebles & Cook has leased Mrs. A. C. Tucker's house at the corner of Second and Rochester streets and has commenced housekeeping.

John Stark accidently shot Jay Parks while hunting near West Amboy, Sunday. About forty shots were driven into the body and limbs of Parks. He is able to be about.

The steam yacht Jessie N. from Alexandria Bay arrived here to-day noon with a party of five from Poughkeepsie. They are on their way to Poughkeepsie where the yacht is to be remodeled.

M. Amdursky, clothier, of this village, opened to-day a branch clothing store in Parish. J. Wiener formerly with the C. C. C. C. Co., of Syracuse, and well known in this village will be manager of the Parish branch.

Suicide.

George Gale, a brother of Thomas Gale of Syracuse, who lives about two miles up the river, committed suicide this afternoon at one o'clock by shooting himself.

The annual fall meeting of the Syracuse, Phœnix and Fulton trotting association opened at Phœnix yesterday and will be continued to-day and to-morrow. There are thirteen entries in the 2:32 class to-morrow and seven in the 2;25 class.

Miss Grace Tucker entertained a few of her friends at her home last Monday evening. Several interesting letters, from a son of the American Minister at Pekin to Dallas Douglas a cousin of Miss Tucker, were read.

Ying Lee has added another Chinaman to his force. He arrived Monday from New York and is clad in Chinese costume, wooden shoes, &c. Ying Lee himself is not in good health, and is taking a much needed rest for a few months.

A large number have taken advantage of THE TIMES Offers and secured four months subscription to the Detroit Free Press or a year's subscription to the American Farmer. We are ready to supply as many more as may desire before the first day of November. On and after that date these offers will be void.

The Thomson-Houston Electric Co. have perfected an arc light, which is of about one third the power of the arc lights now in use. A patent has been secured on this within the past few weeks. It is said that this light will cost about sixty per cent less than those of 2,000 candle power.

Good Tidings Day was celebrated at the M. E. church last Sunday by the regular Good Tidings service for Sunday schools of this denomination. During the service the following practical statistics were brought out, namely, that during the year 1885 there were found to be 22,490 Sunday schools of that church, 246,054 officers and teachers, 1,818,032 scholars and more than 96,000 conversions.

OPENED TO-DAY
—at the—
"BEE HIVE,"
100 LADIES' JACKETS,
at prices way below actual value.
BENNETT & STEWART

Go to Tucker's crockery store for wedding and anniversary presents. 24tf

JACKETS—By looking in one of Rosenbloom's windows the young girls will find that they can get a nice fitting Jackes as well as their oldest sister.

Remember the place to buy unadulterated groceries CHEAP is at the sign of the [illegible] No. 20 [illegible] street opposite [illegible]

Brown Day at Bacon's.

Bacon, the popular dry goods merchant, is ever on the alert to accomplish something new that will give pleasure and enjoyment to his customers, whose number is legion. Last week Thursday he introduced a new feature to take the place of his regular fall opening and called it Brown Day, on which day a grand display of brown goods was made in his establishment. To make a display of brown goods so profuse that all other shades pass into oblivion for the time being, was done at Bacon's Thursday and could not be accomplished by any other than a firm with a seemingly unlimited supply of goods in stock. The show windows which are most excellent for the display of goods seemed never to appear to better advantage than while it was skillfully arranged on this day with Dress and Fancy goods of this beautiful and fashionable color. Within were brown dress goods in velvet and silks of every shade. Brown shawls in beaver and camel hair. Brown Cloaks in fine plushes and velvets. Brown Carpets, Tapestries and Draperies. Brown table cloths from the lower to the finest with napkins to match. Brown gloves of the most elegant shades of the celebrated Centemeri make. Brown home spun and Boucle goods with trimmings to match. Eder Downs in all the choice shades, etc, etc. It was the opening day in the Millinery Department and by the skillful arrangement under the supervision of Miss Mary O'Hare a display was presented that had to be seen to be appreciated. Hats and bonnets were here exhibited that would make the heart of any woman rejoice and that of her husband sad. The display of fancy feathers and ostrich tips was also complete.

Grand Fall Display

Next Friday and Saturday at the Boston Bazaar. The special feature at this opening will be the extra inducements we shall offer to all buyers in the line of Hosiery, Underwear and Gloves. Everybody is cordially invited to call and look on the largest line of goods that we have ever before displayed. Respectfully, Ney & Allen.

The Howorth Hibernica company are to appear at the opera house, Friday evening, October 29.

All wool home spun, 56 inches wide think of it, only 48cts. at
H. & A. ROSENBLOOM'S.

Not Yet Decided.

The Board held their regular meeting last Wednesday evening and received bids from the two Electric Light companies. Two proposals were offered by the Thomson-Houston company according to the specifications adopted by the Board at their previous meeting, viz.: to furnish thirty-seven or more arc lights for a year at the rate of $4.50 a light each month, or to furnish the same number of lights from the time they can be started until the next charter election at the rate of two dollars a month per light. The Fulton Schuyler Electric Light company proposed to furnish thirty-seven or more lights a year for $48.49 a light.

This company refused to bid for a short contract until the next charter election—claiming that their previous bid at the rate of $1,100 per year which was accepted at one meeting of the Board and recinded at the next was legal. Considerable discussion followed and trustee Kendrick moved that the bid of the Thomson-Houston company for a short term i. e., until the next charter election at $2.00 per light per month be accepted. This motion was seconded by trustee More. President Sharp refused to entertain the motion, by what right no one at the time or yet knows. No question as to his authority in doing this was however raised.

A motion was also put to accept the bid of the Fulton Schuyler light company. This was voted down. A motion was then made and carried that no money be expended by the village for electric lights until after the next charter election. This was carried. Discussions, various in character and eloquent in nature, followed, which were entered into by others than members of the council. The motion that no money be expended was utterly ignored or entirely forgotten. The members thought a special village meeting, where all citizens that were interested might come and vote was the only way to settle the question satisfactorily. A majority of the board wanted it put so that the people could vote on whether they would prefer the Schuyler light at $48.49 per year or the Thomson-Houston light at $54 per year, but they didn't get it. It was finally decided to vote whether the proposition of the Schuyler company should be accepted or not. The board then adjourned.

HEW TO THE LINE.

Look out for Sham Bargains.

The same old "chestnut" has again come around. Some senseless tool has advertised an insurance sale of clothing in Syracuse brought from New York. It is nothing more nor less than a lot of shoddy, worm-eaten stuff made up in Chatham St. New York and fetched to Syracuse to gull the people. Out upon such frauds and trash. Now, people know better; by going to trade at a permanent reliable house like the Central City Clothing Co. they can buy good first class goods at a lower price than shoddy; then if the goods do not fit or suit they can have their money just as cheerfully as they gave it. Our store has an established reputation for selling goods lower than any other house in Syracuse. We ask all candid people to "hew to the line" and examine our bargains before laying out one dollar for clothing, hats, caps or furnishing goods. Look for the signs C.C.C.C. 20 East Genesee St. Syracuse N. Y. and you can make no mistake.

[illegible] large line of those prime hand made Kip and Calf Boots at [illegible]

A new floor is being laid in the post-office.

E. LaPorte is building an addition to his blacksmith shop.

Rev. Carl Stone and family will occupy the Presbyterian parsonage during the winter.

The Republican convention at Oswego last Thursday, nominated John J. White for Recorder.

The case of the D. E. Clapp Wagon Co. vs. Wesley McCully is on trial at Oswego to-day.

Fred Gardner has leased the Beals property on Rochester street, between Fourth and Fifth.

The fall trotting association held a meeting last week and appointed Thos. G. Poole their chief of police.

Notice of a Special Village Meeting to be held on Thursday evening, November fourth will be found in another column.

The steam yacht "Wide Awake" makes regular trips to Syracuse every other day carrying passengers and light freight.

If you have any Furs to buy this fall you will find Rosenbloom's is the best place in town—the largest variety and lowest price.

Secure a year's subscription to the American Farmer or four months subscription to the Detroit Free Prese, free before November first.

The midland passenger and freight depots now present a fine appearance. The finishing touch which has been put on improves them materially.

The Thomson-Houston electric light was started in Seneca Falls last Saturday night and proved a success says the Seneca Falls correspondent of the Syracuse Standard.

"The Great Warren," the Magician, assisted by Miss Moor and A. Waldron are announced to give two entertainments at the opera house on Thursday and Saturday, October 28th and 30th.

Presiding Elder W. F. Markham and family of the Utica district, have taken up their residence at No. 10 Eagle street in this city. Mr. Markham's family spent the summer at Thousand Island park.—[Utica Herald.

The Village Improvement Association hold its meeting this evening at Armory hall on First street at 7:30. It is hoped and expected that all interested in village improvements will attend. The committee appointed at the last meeting will make their report this evening. Ladies are especially invited.

The schooner George M. Case, grain laden, bound from Chicago to Buffalo, floundered on Lake Erie twenty miles from Buffalo, last Thursday and three of her crew drowned. This schooner we understand was built and originally owned by George M. Case of this village and P. F. Congor now of Steele, Dak.

Mr. Ira Parker, a former resident of this village later of Waterford, N. Y., is now located at St. Cloud, Minn., where he has charge of the quarrying of material for a bridge, which he is to construct across the Missouri river for the contractors Drake & Stratten of New York city.

Although H. & A. Rosenbloom have no regular opening day, their large stock of beautiful fall goods present a beautiful appearance. Their four show windows are tastefully arranged one with an elegant line of dress goods, a second with a beautiful display of Jackets and Trimmings, a third with gents hats of the latest styles and a fourth with fine ready made fall and winter clothing. Within, in both departments of their mammoth store, their large stock of fall and winter goods is most tastefully arranged.

The Woodhull "Eli Wheatfield" company will appear at the opera house to-morrow evening. They come with excellent recommendations from the press in various cities where they have played before crowded houses. Admission 35 and 50 cents. Reserved seats on sale at Watson's.

All kinds of Dry Goods in shades of red will be shown Saturday. Go to Bacon's and brighten up.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Harriet B. Reynolds died at her home in Granby about two miles north of this village on the river road yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the 60th year of her age. Funeral services will be held at her late residence to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Reynolds was born and reared in Granby. She leaves a son and many friends to mourn her loss.

Mr. W. G. Parker died at his late residence in Lower Oswego Falls last Monday afternoon of consumption at the age of sixty-five years. Funeral services will be held from the house to-morrow afternoon at 2 p. m.

Jonah Chipman died at his home in Granby Centre on Sunday, Oct. 17, of typhoid fever, aged 72 years. The funeral services were held at his late residence yesterday. Interement was made at Mt. Adnah in this village.

Look at the
LADIES' JACKETS,
at the
"BEE HIVE."
Prices far below all competion.
BENNETT & STEWART.

A handsome line of chamber sets just received by J. COOLEY TUCKER. 24tf

For Sale.

An upright piano and some furniture, all in good condition. The above will be sold cheap. Call on Mrs. Geo. Charleton over the "Bee Hive." 23w2

Ladies, when you are in H. & A. Rosenbloom's Dry Goods department, pass under the arch into the Clothing department [illegible]

NEW YORK LETTER.

[Special to THE TIMES.]

The events of municipal politics occuring during the past week are important since they are expected to shape the future plans of each party. The different political parties have held their conventions and the mayoralty canvass may now be said to have begun. Tammany and the County Democracy have held a love feast and their candidate is Congressman Hewitt. This union is rather a forced one since Tammany outgeneraled the Counties by nominating Mr. Hewitt. The latter organization had no other resort except to endorse him. Irving Hall, however, refused to swallow this pill and they are expected to fall in line for George.

The Republicans have put up Theodore Rosevelt. The contest therefore is a triangular one. An honest man untried in politics and with untried and generally unpopular theories, against two wealthy men one of whom has been long before the people, the other having the reputation of being gifted with honesty of purpose at the expense of political advancement. The nomination of Mr. Rosevelt, I have every reason to believe was made in good faith. He will bring out the full vote of his party as also will Mr. Hewitt of his. The disturbing element is the candidacy of Henry George. Speculation is rife as to his probable vote. In former letters I gave an estimate of his vote. The general belief is as I hear it expressed, that support will come more from the Democratic ranks than from the Republican. The acceptance of Mr. George by Irving Hall adds another factor to the problem.

Mr. Hewitt and Mr. Rosevelt are both very rich men. Mr. Hewitt is the partner of Ed. Cooper in the manufacture of of iron and steel. He has represented the Gramercy Park congressional district for years. As the son-in-law of Peter Cooper he has carried out many of his plans regarding Cooper Union and has been liberal in his own behalf toward this very useful institution.

Mr. Rosevelt on the other hand is of an old Knickerbocker family who have large amounts of improved city property purchased a century ago. An immediate ancestor gave the Rosevelt hospital. The candidate is but 28 years old and six years ago represented the wealthiest of the city assembly districts at Albany. He during his three terms took strong ground in favor of reform in city government. He introduced bills into the legislature providing for such reform and many of them passed. If he is elected there will be a repitition of the Seth Low administration of Brooklyn.

⁂

A very interesting collection of pictures is now on exhibition in an uptown gallery. They are twelve in number and are known as the Sharples collection. The second syllable is pronounced like the second one of apples. The collection is of peculiar historical value containing as it does pictures of Washington, his wife, his mother, besides Mrs. Alex. Hamilton, Mrs. Rob't. Fulton and Dr. Priestly. The history of these pictures is given in a book recently published by the Scribners and I give you only a brief sketch. An English painter named Sharples received a commission to paint Washington's portrait. So in 1794 he came to New York and Washington gave him sittings both at Philadelphia and Mt. Vernon. Two portraits one a full face the other a profile were obtained. Beside these Mr. Sharples painted many others. These were bought by Robert Cory of London who was Washington's English agent. In 1880 they were on exhibition here.

These portraits certainly give one a new idea of Washington. So good a judge as Ining pronounced them very accurate. There is in the Governor's room in city hall the celebrated picpicture of Washington by Trumbull, while in the museum of art hangs Stewart's portrait. These Sharples pictures are to be exhibited in Washington and it is confidently hoped that the Government will buy them. The state of New York paid $20,000 for Washington relics of far less value.

⁂

So Henry Villard is coming back. There is a man who had a wonderful career. Villard was a newspaper writer in Germany and came to this country. After some time returned to Germany and obtained financial backing to a very large amount. He entered Wall street, took hold of the Northern Pacific and pushed it to its completion. Having made a large sum of money, he built a large mansion on Madison avenue costing very close to a round million. He got caught on the falling market and failed. This mansion however, his wife owned and recently it was sold to Whitelaw Reid the editor of the Tribune. His wife is worth several hundred thousand. Villard after his failure went back to Germany and now after two years absence comes back with fifteen or twenty millions at his back. Strange how the wheel of fortune turns.

⁂

I figured the cost of the "boodle" aldermen's trial and I came to the conclusion it would be cheaper for the county to let these fellows escape and take the $25,000 bail. Mr. Henry Sayles, whose case was to be first tried left for Canada. Despite the watchfulness of the District Attorney he slipped away and his bondsman who by the way was his brother managed to convey his real estate so that there was nothing for the sheriff to get hold of.

The bondsman was a Jefferson market butcher and his brother butchers it is said, have prevailed on Sol to pay the bail rather than bring discredit to the trade. The District Attorney has increased the bail of the remaining "boodlers" to $40,000.

⁂

The death of Harriet Lenox removes the last of that family. She and her brother Robert occupied for years an old house on Lenox Hill. It was once the farm house of the Lenox farm and is still standing. Robert Lenox was a very peculiar man. He was a member of Dr. Hull's church, and beyond his pastor, his sister and a few old friends, nobody saw him or knew him. Despite this seclusion he gave largely to charity. The magnificent Lenox library with its $50,000 collection of Shakespeare and its very valuable collection of rare books and paintings attests his liberality. His sister was much like him. Lenox and Peter Goelet were the two eccentric wealthy men of the last generation. Goelet was by nature a mechanic but his fortunate purchase of uptown property many years ago rendered labor unnecessary. [illegible] contained a room filled with all the appliances of a machine shop. Had he been a poorer man he might have invented something of great utility. He was a bachelor and left his property to his nephews and they have pulled the old building down and erected handsome trade buildings of splendid design and durable structure. WANDERER.

A Splendid Display.

"THE BOYS," Old and Young, are to-day admiring the display of Ready-made suits at Peebles & Cook's. The assortment is conceded to be the Finest ever shown in Fulton, and the prices are so Reasonable as to commend every suit "as a Bargain." Peebles & Cook knowing how to suit the trade of this section, and the demand for their goods is fully justified by the excellence of material and reasonableness of the rates charged.

"The Boys" old and young, big and little, black and white, rich and poor, will find something to suit them at

PEEBLES & COOK

Opposite Opera House.

CHILDREN'S CLOTHING A SPECIALTY.

You can get a pair of Wool Blankets, with fancy red border at from 50cts. to $1.00 under price on Saturday, Red Day, at F. E. Bacon's.

Oswego Falls.

Rev. Charles Olmstead preached his annual sermon at the Congregational church last Sunday.

Mrs. Fred Stoddard was recently presented with a fine hanging lamp by the Baker Hose Co. The lamp was purchased at J. Cooley Tucker's and is a beauty.

The time for receiving bids from the Electric Light companies has been extended until next Wednesday.

C. P. Dutcher is to open a new store at the Lower Falls.

The people at the Lower Falls are making strenuous efforts to get the village board to appropriate sufficient money to rebuild the sidewalk near the bridge. It should be done.

The Foster Bros. are enlarging their knife factory.

The following were elected delegates at the Democratic caucus held here last Saturday: County—E. M. Baker, Patrick Powers, Wm. Ingamells, Barney Burns, Daniel Sullivan, Michael Lynch, A. C. Culkins.

District—Bryan Crahan, John Blakeman, John Frawley, Fred Summerville, W. Brown, Frank Miller, Thomas McGovern.

On Saturday afternoon Mr. Edgarton and son of this village were thrown from their wagon near Minetto. The horses became frightened at the breaking of a whiffletree. The wagon had a 500 pound boiler on it which struck the young man and injured him quite severely but not dangerously.

If you wish any Scarlet Underwear for Boys or Girls, Men or Women go to F. E. Bacon's.

GO TO THE
"BEE HIVE"
If you want a Dress, Cloak, seal, Plush, Sack, or anything in the line of Dry Goods. We have double the stock and guarantee our prices lower than any store in Fulton.
BENNETT & STEWART.

Democratic Convention.

The Democratic First Assembly convention met in Oswego Monday. J. R. O'Gorman was chairman of the convention. Jas. D. Henderson of Oswego and W. J. Boomer were chosen as secretaries. On motion the chairman named the following delegates: On permanent organization, F. J. Cusick, Willard Johnson, L. P. Taylor, D. Morissey, Geo. Hewitt. To select congressional delegates, D. H. Judson, James Caldwell, Bryan Crahan of Granby: C. C. Morton Robert Gifford of Hannibal. The following were named as a district committee: Patrick Grace, Thos. Kehoe, James Gordon, John Mullen, A. Salladin, jr., Oswego; Fred Summerville, Granby; C. N. Lewis, New Haven; J. A. Byrne, Hannibal; L. P. Taylor, Oswego Town. The committee to select congressional delegates reported as follows: Willard Johnson, Volney; N. C. Brower, Hannibal; Fred Summerville, Granby; C. N. Bulger, J. R. O'Gorman, Simeon Holroyd, Oswego. Alternates—W. S. Nelson, Volney; Robert Gifford, Hannibal; L. L. Snow, New Haven; John Gardenier, C. C. Morton, W. J. Boggs, Oswego. Adopted. A. S. Page of Oswego was then unanimously nominated as Democratic candidate for the assembly.

Silk and Wool Black Goods. F. E. Bacon is the first to introduce in Fulton Priestly & Co's. Silk and Wool Black Dress Goods also Camels Hair goods. These are the finest made in quality and color. In connection with our Red Day, Saturday, we will show a number of pieces of Pruittey & Co's. Goods.

The Fulton Schuyler Electric Light Co. has ordered a machine for Incandescent lighting which will be here and in position in a few days.

All desirous of lighting with Electricity will do well to wait and see the new Incandescent light.

G. C. WEBB, Secy.

Special Prices For Carpets, Furniture &c.

A. A. Graff & Co., No's 61 & 63 South Salina Street, Syracuse, offer for the next 30 days, as a special bargain, 100 Parlor suits embossed plush, solid walnut frame, 7 pieces for $35.00; 75 chamber suits, 10 pieces for $25.00; 50 pieces tapestry carpet 60c a yard and 70 pieces extra super ingrain carpet 55c a yard.

We will deliver all purchases freight prepaid to any part of the state. [illegible]

1886. 1886.

AHEAD OF ALL!

MILTON S. PRICE,

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

The Popular Dry Goods, Carpet and Furniture Dealer.

The Great Establishment Renovated. New Decorations, &c., Mammoth Show Windows, One Great Entrance from Salina Street. The most Attractive Store in the City.

PROUD AM I TO ANNOUNCE that during forty years of business experience, I have never been so well prepared to meet the wants of the public as at the present time.

READY CASH WITH EXPERIENCED BUYERS has filled my mammoth stores, running through from Salina to Clinton Streets, with a stock of

DRY GOODS, CARPETS AND FURNITURE,

Unequaled by any Establishment in Central New York.

It would be useless in this small space to attempt an enumeration of the thousands of articles displayed.

DRY GOODS and Fancy Goods,
IN ENDLESS VARIETY.

CARPETS, RUGS, &c.,
A COMPLETE STOCK.

Furniture and Curtain Draperies,
FOR THE RICH AND POOR.

I can give you better value for your money than any other house in the City.

Do not fail, when attending the fair, to pay this establishment a visit.

MILTON S. PRICE.

Nos. 38 and 40 South Salina Street, and 29, 31 and 33 Clinton Street,

Syracuse, N. Y.

Don't miss those bargains at Draper's in Table and Hanging Lamps, China Tea Setts, and those new style (Ribbon Chamber Setts) all new goods and new prices. Call and see. 19tf

If you wish a good size Smyrna Rug in cardinal centre and fancy border for $2.50 worth $3.50, step into Bacon's Saturday, Red Day.

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 21tf

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expediously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

—THE "BEE HIVE"—
——OPENING——
Must have convinced the Ladies where to buy Dress Goods. We shall make Special Prices for Saturday.
BENNETT & STEWART.

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots. &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by
10tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

TO RENT—a two story house, centrally located. Suitable for a small family Inquire at this office. 22tf

For a few days longer, Draper will sell several patterns of hanging lamps at wholesale prices. 19tf

Look at this line of

PARLOR STOVES!

WORLD'S JEWEL,

ART ROYAL,

RED CROSS.

GOLD COIN AND BEAVER.

The last two are ventilating Stoves, and sold exclusively by SNOW & LOOMIS.

NEW HARNESS SHOP.

The Undersigned would respectfully announce to the public that he has opened a New Harness Shop and is prepared to do all kinds of

REPAIRING

—ON—

HARNESS, TRUNKS, BUGGY TOPS, CUSHIONS, &C. &C.,

☞As Cheap as the Cheapest.☜

HARNESS

OF ALL GRADES MADE TO ORDER.

A share of public patronage solicited.

Give us a Call.

C. W. [illegible]

[illegible]

WORTH KNOWING.

The New England Farmer says that farmers should sow more red top along with the timothy in their meadows.

Better sow five acres to wheat with all conditions favorable, then ten acres poorly fitted or lacking in fertility.

The best system for cropping are invariably those which call for the most thorough preparation of the soil.

If meadows must be pastured in autumn, the limit should be a good deal short of close grazing; otherwise the crop next year will be short.

There is always a fair demand for the best products of the soil, when they are obtained by skillful management there is also a fair margin of profit.

The object of fertilizing is not only to add needed elements to the soil, but to supplement those already there, and to make such chemical combinations that everything shall be available to aid the crop.

It is not good policy for farmers to keep grain long enough to have it endangered by insects. But if any are afraid an open vessel filled with bisulphide of carbon placed on top of the grain will keep them off.

One-half of the difficulties in making good butter is in the care of the milk, and not in the mode of churning. From the time the milk is drawn from the cow until the cream is ready to be churned, the strictest care is needed to keep it clean and free from exposure to odors.

Grow a garden, a small fruit orchard, keep a good flock of poultry, a few head of swine, some good milk cows, a small flock of sheep and be economical, and you will steadily become better off.

Every time you have a scuttle of ashes, scatter them around the trunks of the fruit trees. If you will begin at the end of the row and give each tree a dressing as fast as the ashes are made it will require but a short time to give all the trees the benefit of the ashes, while the labor of so doing will not be noticed.

When the sales of farm products are large the products are often supposed to correspond. But it is net results rather than gross sales that measure the profits. It may cost as much to produce and sell products as they bring in the market, in which case there is no profit. What is left after all expenses are paid is profit, whether it is much or little.

All small and defective apples in form or damaged by worms, have their best market on the farm as food for animals. If packed with sound fruit even in small proportion, they reduce the price of all often to the point of loss.

Contentment on a Farm.

The farmers of to-day, are as a rule, as intelligent and independent as any other class of people, and there is no reason in the world why they should not be content with their lot, nor why they should envy the professions or even the gentlemen of leisure of the cities. The city people have their troubles and heartaches that the farmers know not of. Many of them can scarcely get along, and their pride leads them to imitate their more wealthy neighbors, so they pinch and stint at home so they can appear well when they go out in company or on the street; yet at heart they suffer and hope on and on, but their hopes are seldom realized. The merchant and manufacturer watch the crops as anxiously as does the farmer, and if there is a failure they get the blues as badly, if not worse than the farmer. They depend upon the crops for their success in trade. If the crops fail there are long faces all around in every branch of business. The minister and lawyer, too, have their troubles; if the flock fail to give its support, or the client fails to come around, there are care and anxiety, if not worse. But the farmer who is fortunate enough to own a small farm is sure of enough to eat for himself and family, and of the best too, if he desires. He may not become wealthy, but so sure as the sun shines and the rains and dews come down from heaven in their good time, he need not suffer or even want. We believe in the country, we believe in the farm, and the farmer that is wise will be content with his condition and stick to his farm and let no other notion drive him from it to the store.—[American Farmer.

Packing Apples.

"Handle apples as you would handle eggs," is good advice. Old flour barrels unless carefully washed and dried, will impart a musty flavor to the fruit before midwinter, especially if the air in the cellar is moist. The first apples which are put in market barrels should be "faced." The facing consists in placing two or three layers on the bottom head with stems down; that is, with stems pointing towards the head. Clean bright apples of ordinary size should be selected for this purpose. The rest of the apples may be poured into the barrel. This pouring if properly done, will not injure the apples. Eggs can be poured. Use a basket with a swinging handle, one which can be lowered into the barrel and turned while there, and hold the apples back with the hand, so that they will not pour out too rapidly. Two or three times during the filling shake the barrel gently to settle the appels firmly. Face the upper head in the same manner as the lower one. It is not desireable to head up the barrel at once. Cover with boards to keep out the rain, and let the barrels stand open four or five days. It is not however, always possible to cover the barrels, in which case they may be headed up at once and turned down on their sides. In this condition they will shed water.—[American Agriculturist.

Quarters and Twenty-Cent Pieces.

A bank cashier says that the most common way of detecting a twenty-cent piece from a quarter of a dollar is by the milling on the edge of the circumference. The first thing a person does is to run his finger across the edge, and if he finds it milled he at once takes it for a quarter. This is not always a safe way, as many twenty-cent pieces have been purposely milled in order to deceive. The safest way to detect one [illegible] and the one that few [illegible] is to observe the eagle on [illegible] the quarter piece [illegible]

Master Workman Powderly.

[Robert P. Porter in Philadelphia Press.]

It was the best opportunity I have had to study both man and his methods Powderly can handle a thousand representative knights of labor as easily as an accomplished schoolmaster can the pupils over whom he presides. He is master of the situation. His word is law. He is displeased at this, does not approve that and expects a different course in the other. He has learned that one of the delegates had made an example of himself by getting drunk on the streets of Richmond Monday night, Could anything be more disgraceful? Had a delegate to that convention so little consideration for the reputation of the order? He even went so far as to name the delegation of which he was a member. He had also learned that other knights had been circulating a little red book for the purpose of defaming the character of their brothers. The circulation of that book must be stopped. Did they not know there was a grievance committee? Could they benefit the condition of labor by scurrilous attacks upon each other's character? Again he must call attention to the fact that the five minute rule for speaking must be observed. When his bell rang (and here he touched the bell) it indicated that time was up and that the delegates must sit down in the midst of a word or sentence, and he especially reminded them that, however big they might be at home, and however high they stood in the order as delegates, they were absolutely on an equality in that convention and must obey the rules. All this was said with an energy and determination that absolutely made the man with the mild blue eyes seem great among his fellow-workmen. His hatred of rum and rum-sellers makes him a terror to the drinkers of the convention. They dread to have him see them in a saloon; and yet the convention as a whole is an example of sobriety. I have seen but one knight the worse for liquor in the two days I have been here.

Eccentric Children.

The boy who likes Sunday.

The boy who is as pretty as he does.

The child who is seen and not heard.

The girl who wouldn't rather be a boy.

The boy who likes to be called "Bub."

The boy who only speaks when he is spoken to.

The boy who wouldn't rather go skating than be an angel.

The boy who minds his mother as well as his father.

The boy who prefers his sister to some other boy's sister.

The boy who goes to Sunday school because he enjoys it.

The boy who wouldn't rather wear boots than be President.

The lad who wouldn't rather be Jesse James than George Washington.

The boy who eats what is set before him and asks no questions.

The boy, however homely, saucy, naughty, noisy troublesome and disagreeable he may be, who isn't sweeter and dearer and more precious to his mother than any other child in the world.

The boy who doesn't walk in the gutter when there is any water in it, who doesn't steal rides on street cars, run away from school and play marbles "for keeps" when he is well enough to be out of doors.

The little boy who keeps his clothes clean, stays in the house on Saturday and studies his Sunday school lesson, plays with the girls, knows how to dance and always minds his parents, and knows enough to come in when it rains.

Oh, what would the world be without boys?—[Whitehall Times.

Growth of Population.

It seems but a short time since 1880—the year in which Garfield was elected—and yet in that brief space a new nation of nearly 10,000,000 souls has been added to that which called him to its head. This is an accession equal to the combined population of Greece, Servia, Switzerland and Denmark. And to go back ten years further, our new population since 1870, a date still in easy memory to most of us, equals the entire population of Spain and Portugal combined, twice exceeds that of Brazil and nearly equals that of Austria proper, or of the entire Ottoman Empire. To take another base line, the year of the war—1860, the population of the country has increased from that time 27,000,000. Side by side with this increase we need simply to give the population of the leading great powers of Europe. The United Kingdom, 34,650,000; France, 34,430,000; Germany, 45,260,000; Russia, 84,440,000; Austro-Hungary, 73,830,000; Italy, 28,000,000. Our increase of 27,000,000 equals the entire population of Portugal, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Switzerland, Greece and Servia. The population of the whole of South America is 25,000,000—[N. Y. Com. Adv.

We think we can cure a bad case of Backache quicker with one of Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters, than by any other application, and after the Backache is cured, you can still wear the plaster without discomfort for two or three weeks or longer. The combination of Smart Weed and Belladonna is a great hit, and it is hard to find any pain or ache that will not yield to it. Price 25 cents. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

Blind People.

The world's blind are computed to number about 1,000,000; or about one sightless person to every 1,400 inhabitants. In Austria one person in every 1,785 is blind; in Sweden one in every 1,418; in France one in every 1,191: in Prussia one in 1,111; in England one in 1,037. The proportion is greatest in Egypt where, in Cario, there is one blind person to every twenty inhabitants: while in New Zealand it falls to one in every 3,550 inhabitants. Germany has the greatest number of institutes for the blind, thirty-five; England has sixteen; France, thirteen: Austria-Hungary, ten; Italy, nine; Belgium, six; Australia two; while America, Asia and Africa together are said to possess only six.

Every wife and mother in the country should know the great value of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, as a blood purifier. It gives tone, health, and strength to the vital organs, corrects all irregularities, and [illegible]

Monte Carlo.

During a single season at Monte Carlo sixty-five of the victims of this infernal gambling-hell have committed suicide. This great gambling establishment nets to the company owning it several million dollars profit each month! There are sixteen tables running night and day, with an average of some twenty gamblers constantly seated or standing, each making 320 gambling every hour the year round. The playing is done very rapidly, and it is fair to say that each player stakes on an average a thousand francs, or $200 an hour, making $64,000 an hour for 320 gamblers around these tables, a total for twenty-four hours of about $1,500,000 or $45,000,000 every thirty days! The number of players run up from 18,000 to 20,000. These figures will show how the small percentage in favor of the bank counts up into the millions every month.—[Edwin Cowles in Cleveland Leader.

I Had a Dreadful Cough, and raised a considerable amount of blood and matter; besides, I was very thin, and so weak I could scarcely go about the house. This was the case of a man with consumption arising from liver complaint. He recovered his health completely by the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Thousands of others bear similar testimony.

The Brooklyn bridge receipts on a re-Monday were $2,795.72, the largest taken in a single day since the structure was opened.

Can't Sleep Nights is the complaint of thousands suffering from Asthma, Consumption, Coughs, etc. Did you ever try Acker's English Remedy? It is the best preparation known for all Lung Troubles, sold on a positive guarantee at 10c., 50c. H. C. Giesler.

Justin McCarthy, the Irish political leader and man of letters, is in New York. He will deliver 100 lectures in this country.

MURDERED.

The body of Julius Baer was found by freighters five miles west of here Tuesday morning, in a terribly mangled condition. His head and face were smashed, so as to be hardly recognized, and numerous wounds were found on his body. Mr. Baer was agent for the great blood medicine, Sulphur Bitters. Robbery was undoubtedly the motive as he was well known to have a large sum of money on his person. As we go to press there is no clew to the perpetrators.—[Colorado Press.

During the last fiscal year $38,000 was spent on the capitol extension, $35,000 on the grounds, $300,000 on the terraces and $200,000 for lighting the buildings and grounds.

GOOD AND RELIABLE.

A Good and reliable medicine is Sulphur Bitters. Every spring for six years I have been troubled with boils. Since I began using sulphur bitters, I have not had a single one. You can rely on sulphur bitters every time.—Editor Weekly News.

Forty-two new chemical elements have been discovered in the past ten years.

The reason why Acker's Blood Elixir is warranted, is because it is the best Blood Preparation known. It will positively cure all Blood Diseases, purifies the whole system, and thoroughly builds up the constitution. Remember, we guarantee it. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

Georgia negroes, according to a recent census, own $8,153,300 worth of real estate.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

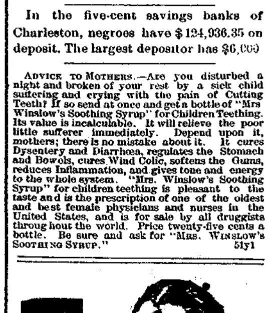
A lady in Boston in a public lecture claimed that the revolt of the thirteen colonies was inspired by Washington's mother.

ACTIVE, PUSHING AND RELIABLE.

R. E. Phillips can always be relied upon to carry in stock the purest and best goods, and sustain the reputation of being active pushing and reliable, by recommending articles of well established merit and such as are popular. Having the agency for the celebrated Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, colds and coughs, will sell it on a positive guarantee. It will surely cure any and evry affection of the throat, lungs or chest, and in order to prove our claim we ask you to call and get a trial bottle free.

In the five-cent savings banks of Charleston, negroes have $124,936.35 on deposit. The largest depositor has $6,000

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 51y1



DR. PARDEE'S

REMEDY,

(The only Reliable Blood Purifier.)

A SPECIFIC FOR

RHEUMATISM

Scrofula, Salt Rheum

Neuralgia, Ring Worm

AND ALL OTHER SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASES. IT REGULATES THE

LIVER & KIDNEYS

And Cures Indigestion

And all Diseases arising from an unhealthy condition of the system.

It has proven itself to be the most reliable remedy known for Female Weakness, and for diseases peculiar to the sex.

Send for our pamphlet of testimonials, and read of those who have been permanently cured by its use.

[illegible] your Druggist for DR. PARDEE'S REMEDY, and take no other. Price $1 per [illegible]

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest Cleanest, Best,

FOR SALE BY

O. RUST.

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c.

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

O. RUST.

37tf

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York.

Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM [illegible]

A stroke of pure good luck in business, or the sudden achievement of success and wealth by a happy hit is rare, but there are many lucky and prosperous folks who are so because they watch their opportunities and make the best of them. Mr. Koehler, of Rochester, N. Y., tried his hand at canvassing for "Plain Home Talk" and made four dollars in the first two hours. Mr. Sandford, of Maine, took 48 orders from 47 persons to whom he showed the book. Mr. Taylor, in Cleveland, took 19 orders in one day. Why do smart, capable men complain of hard times and "nothing to do" when equal opportunities are open to them? They have only to call for circulars, prospectus and terms of the Murray Hill Publishing Co., 129 East 28th street, New York City.

Why suffer with that aching head when you may be cured with Ayer's Cathartic Pills?

Send a 2 cent stamp to Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., for a set of their attractive album cards.

Statistics show that among English speaking people there are 5,750,000 Congregationalists. 8,195,000 Baptists, 10,650,000 Presbyterians, 14,000,000 Roman Catholics, 16,000,00 Methodists, and 21,305,000 Episcopalians.

For the Ladies.

Laughter is the poor man's plaster,
Making every burden light;
Turning sadness into gladness,
Darkest hour to May dawn bright.

'Tis the deepest and the cheapest
Cure for ills of this description,
But for those that woman's heir to,
Use Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription,"

Cures all weaknesses and irregularities, "bearing down" sensations "internal fever," bloating, displacements, inflammation, morning sickness and tendency to cancerous disease. Price reduced to one dollar. By druggists.

New England has 481 mills, containing 205,011 looms, 9,481,272 spindles, manufacturing 646,000,000 yards of print cloths.

If you would enjoy your dinner and are prevented by Dyspepsia, use Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. They are a positive cure for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Flatulency and Constipation. We guarantee them. 25 and 50 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

The total number of mills in the United States are 826, containing 261,228 looms and 12,280,342 spindles, manufacturing 786,000,000 yards of print cloth per annum,

Babies that are fretful, peevish, cross, or troubled with Windy Colic, Teething Pains, or Stomach Disorders, can be relieved at once by using Acker's Baby Soother. It contains no Opium or Morphine, hence is safe. Price 25 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

Janauschek advises all young women not to go on the stage. She declares that it leaves no time for domestic happiness.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills,

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

There are 15 men under the age of 30 years in Portland, Oregon, who are worth over $1.000,000 each.

Food for Consumptives

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites, is a most wonderful food. It not only gives strength and increases the flesh but heals the irritation of the throat and lungs. Palatable as milk and in all wasting diseases, both for adults and children is a marvellous food and medicine.

China intends to issue a loan for $50,000,000 for the construction of railways in the empire.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

A pinch of snuff large enough to produce a good sneeze will cure hiccough.

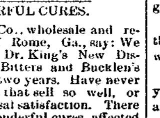
WONDERFUL CURES.

W. D. Hoyt & Co., wholesale and retail druggists of Rome, Ga., say: We have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery, Electric Bitters and Bucklen's Arnica Salve for two years. Have never handled remedies that sell so well, or give such universal satisfaction. There has been some wonderful cures affected by these medicines in this city. Several cases of pronounced consumption have been entirely cured by use of a few bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, taken in connection with Electric Bitters. We guarantee them always. Sold by R. E. Phillips.

It is claimed that muskrats damage the Erie canal $50,000 worth every year.

De Lesseps will be present at the Bartholdi statute dedication at New York.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.



CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

[illegible]

[illegible] but not one [illegible]
Crossed in the long, long [illegible].
And now the umpire may obtain
Insurance on his life.
—[Boston Courier.

"Man wants but little here below"
The statement causes mirth;
It must have been in early times,
For now he wants the earth.
—[Exchange.

Gems of thought—Where is the winter coal coming from.—[Waterloo Observer.

"The season's over" said Fogg as he capsized the pepper box.—[Boston Transcript.

An Austin boy describes heathen as "folks wot don't fight over religion."—[Texas Siftings.

An Indiana man smoked a cigar while weighing powder, and they found the cigar.—[Philadelphia Call.

Talking common sense to some men is no more productive of good than reading the Bible to a hog.—[Oil City Blizzard.

Prof. Wiggins would have been much more accurate if he had predicted a great fall of leaves in October—[Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Pennsylvania landlord seized a baby as security for rent. He is beginning to wish he hadn't.—[Burlington Free Press.

The season is over, thank heaven, when the weak young man at the picnic puts on a girl's best hat and tries to be funny.—[Puck.

Oscar Wilde says he writes his poems on an empty stomach. Æstetic, no doubt, but ordinary people will still use a desk.—[Philadelphia Call.

A little girl lately wrote to her friend: "Yesterday a little baby sister, arrived and papa is on a journey. It was but a piece of luck that mamma was at home to take care of it:—[Philadelpha Call.

"Why do you drink that vile stuff?' said a temperance man to a toper. "Because, my dear friend," was the crushing reply, "it isn't thick enough to eat." —[Washington Critic.

The papers make a great deal of talk because young George Gould works ten hours a day. Huh! If we could make as much at it as he does, we'd work till after midnight. P. S.—We do anyhow. —[Burdette.

Things one would rather have left unsaid: She—"And you are really better, professor, since you came to live in Hampstead?' He—"Oh, yes, a different man altogether." She—"How pleased all your friends will be!"—[Punch.

Young Mother—"Now, just look at the darling! Isn't he a little angel?" Crusty Bachelor Brother—"No, but I wish he was. The confonded brat kept me awake all night"—[Somerville Journal.

"The early bird catches the worm," and the early advertiser catches the trade. The merchant who does not advertise is like the early bird—gets worms.—[Newman Independent.

He stood under the window and sang "How can I leave thee?" But he did leave, and so suddenly that the dog went back of the house and wept.—[Albany Argus.

"I'm afraid that son of mine will bring my gray hairs in sorrow to the grave, if I live so long," said a lady to a sympathetic friend. "Don't be afraid, ma, said her young hopeful, poking his head in at the door. "Sooner than have that happen I'll take your hair out of the drawer some night and burn it.—[Judge.

Tramp—I have lost an arm, sir; will ——. Passer-by (in great haste—Sorry, but I haven't seen anything of it.—[New York Sun.

"There comes the press gang," remarked the old gentleman as the regular suitors of his four daughters ascended the steps.—[Chicago Merchant Traveler.

Moralities.

Cheerful looks make every dish a feast,
And 'tis that crowns a welcome.
—[Massinger.

Who dares to do all that may become a man
And dares no more, he is a man indeed.
—[Shakespeare.

Love, hope, fear and faith—these make humanity.

A really good man cannot persistently go wrong.

Gold can buy nearly everything in this world except that which a man wants the wost—viz: happiness.

Take a true view of life; be proud that you have work in the worlds busy path and do it well and honorably.

It is impossible that an ill natured man can have a public spirit, for how should he love ten thousand men who never loved one?—[Pope.

The hardest useful labor is less exhaustive in the long run, than exciting pleasures, as most of the devotees in middle life sadly confess.

Plato, hearing that some asserted he was a very bad man, said: "I shall take care so to live that nobody will believe them."—[Guardian.

A Double Charge.

"Gimme a glass of soda," said a trempish looking citizen, as he leaned up against the counter in the Ebbitt house drugstore,

"What syrup?" asked the fizzician with his hand on the throttle of the instrument.

"Strawberry and nectar cream."

The order was filled and as he tasted it testingly, he remarked:

"You get this water from the factory, don't you?"

"No, sir," said the clerk indignantly, "we do not. We charge it ourselves."

The tramp poured it all down and smacked his lips critically.

"Do you mean to tell me that you charge it right here in this store?" he inquired again.

"Certainly I do."

"Very well, just charge it. Good evening," and he slid out.—[Washington Critic.

On the Brooklyn Bridge.

While riding in the cable cars on the Brooklyn bridge one may look across and see the return cable passing in the opposite direction. As it is passing at the rate of twenty miles an hour, and, although made up of strands like a hemp rope, it appears like a smooth cord. But if the observer will look between the wheels of the car the strands will for an instant become visible, the [illegible]

A Great Victory

A Terrible Case of Scrofula Cured by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"In the winter of 1879 I was attacked with Scrofula in one of the most aggravating forms. At one time I had no less than thirteen large abscesses over and around my neck and throat, continually exuding an offensive mass of bloody matter disgusting to behold, and almost intolerable to endure. It is impossible to fully describe my sufferings, as the case was complicated with Chronic Catarrh. After three years of misery, having been treated by three physicians, I was worse than ever. Finally, on the recommendation of W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. And now, after having taken twelve bottles, within the last twelve months, the scrofulous eruptions have entirely ceased, and the abscesses have all disappeared, except the unsightly scars, which are daily becoming 'smaller by degrees, and beautifully less.' I do not know what it may have done for others, but I do know that in my case, Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved an effective specific indeed. As an evidence of my gratitude I send these facts unsolicited, and I am ready to verify the authenticity of this cure, by personal correspondence with any one who doubts it." CHARLES A. ROBERTS, East Wilson, N. Y.

This statement is confirmed by W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, N. Y., who calls the cure a great victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Send for book giving statements of many cures.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

BLUE PILLS

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately! Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored? IT IS

Don't Wait! Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use Sulphur Bitters! Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is The Invalid's Friend. The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life. It has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow, Dangerous!

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

Golden Medical Discovery

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established. Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PATENTS

HENRY WISE GARNETT, Attorney-at-Law, WASHINGTON, D. C.

Refers to 2d National Bank, Washington, D. C.

☞SEND FOR INVENTOR'S GUIDE.☜

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest Rates for advertising in 1,000 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

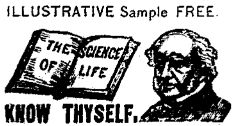
NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Clyremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful Cure at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE, No. 41, West 31st St., New York City.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY,

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopœia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

CATARRH

ELY'S
CREAM BALM
CURES COLD IN HEAD
CATARRH
ROSE-COLD
HAY-FEVER
DEAFNESS
HEADACHE
PRICE 50 CENTS
ELY BRO'S,
OWEGO N.Y.
U.S.A.

HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Is not a liquid, snuff or powder. Applied into nostrils is quickly absorbed. It cleanses the head. Allays inflammation. Heals the [illegible]

LEGAL.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

During the year 1886, terms of the Surrogate's court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

PHOENIX—At the Surrogate's office in Phoenix on Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, January 2d, and on the third Friday in March, May, June, Sept., Nov. and Dec.

FULTON—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Thursday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and July, and the fourth Friday in October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 29th and September 30th.

PARISH—At A. N. & J. S. Ludington's law office, April 30th, July 30th and Sept. 30th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New, York, on or before the 19th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 12th, 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALFRED, Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886.

LUCY K. HUBBARD, Executrix.

What is this Dark Shadow

Science emerging from Darkness.

That follows us wherever we go? It is the fear of mental exhaustion that terminate either in

INSANITY or DEATH.

We as a people live fast. We are overworked, so that old age comes upon us when quite young in years. We pass sleepless nights or with a sleep that gives no rest. This is nervous exhaustion, and we require a tonic that will restore the brain and nervous system to its normal condition, bringing back youth and vigor. The NEW QUININE, called KASKINE, is the most powerful tonic known. It removes that tired and depressed feeling, gives us a good appetite, makes us feel strong and healthy, gives quiet sleep that refreshes the languid and weary.

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful.

St. Francis Hospital, N.Y. "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Rev. Jos. Desribes, Chaplain of Charity Hospital, writes: "I will be surely, on every occasion, through conviction a most devoted promoter of Kaskine."

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered indispensible. It acts perfectly."

Dr. L. R. White, U. S Examining Surgeon, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Glessner, has cured over 200 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says: "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered."

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

Kaskine is pleasant to take and can be used without special medical counsel. Pamphlets giving information, &c. sent on application.

Send for the great book of testimonials unparallelled in the history of medicine. $1 a bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

Save time and labor! Neat and Compact.

Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind that he ever saw."

—To be had only at the—

FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

10 PER CENT. INVESTMENT, SECURITY ABSOLUTE. THE MORTGAGE, Ipswich, Dakota, will loan your money on BOND and MORTGAGE from 8 to 10 per cent. Mortgage made to you direct. Bond payable at your own Bank or in New York as you prefer, and has for SALE COUNTY, CITY, and SCHOOL BONDS, that will net 7 to 12 per cent. Will furnish as reference the names of gentlemen residing in THIS COUNTY for whom it has invested money. CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED. 16m3

$350 PER MONTH.—Salary and commission, to competent Manager for this City or State Agency. A splendid combination. Our AUTOMATIC GAS GOVERNORS save 33 per cent. in gas bills. Our Silver Gas Lights can be attached to any fixture, instantly changing the dull, sickly, yellow flame of any gas to a soft, mellow, luminous white increasing brilliancy 50 per cent. Over 8,000 in service. Address, THE UNION NATIONAL GAS SAVING CO. 17m3 21 East 14th St., New York.

Agents Wanted for the Great War Book Just Published, entitled

THE SOLDIER IN OUR CIVIL WAR,

THE MOST COMPLETE AND INTERESTING

PICTORIAL HISTORY of the GREAT CONFLICT

Containing 100 MAMMOTH BATTLE SCENES, each 14½ x 20 inches; 400 FULL-PAGE ILLUSTRATIONS, 9½ x 14½ inches; AND UPWARDS OF 500 PORTRAITS, MAPS, AND BATTLE SCENES, By the great War Artists, Forbes, Waud, Taylor, Becker, Lorie, Schell, Crane, and others.

These Engravings were produced at a cost of over $100,000. The book gives a complete epitome of the Battles, Sieges, and Strategic Movements of the opposing armies, based upon the best authority, northern and southern, making an accumulation of reliable and unbiased historical facts not possible to be obtained in any of the histories written during the progress of or since the War.

The work is carefully edited from data obtained from the most authentic authorities, and the descriptions of battles, incidents, and historical facts, are furnished by the leading Soldiers of both armies and includes biographies of the most notable Generals and Commanders.

A complete Chronological List of every skirmish, engagement, battle, and all important events, from the Election of Lincoln to the Grand Review at Washington.

Published in (2) magnificent volumes, size 12x17 inches, nearly 1,000 pages. Price, complete, $15.00.

I want One Agent in every Grand Army Post, town and county. ☞ Any person, with this book, can become a successful Agent. Full instructions to new beginners. For terms to agents, address

G. W. DILLINGHAM, Publisher, New York. Successor to G. W. CARLETON & Co.

A Magnificent Outfit Sent Free.

MAKE HENS LAY.

SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER [illegible]

WANTED—LADY [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR.
"The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image."
VOLUME 19—NUMBER 25
$1.25 a Year in Advance.
FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1886.
Single Copies Three Cents

The Amateur Photographer.

Of late there's been improvement made
In amateur photography.
Youths study this who e'r evade
Greek, Latin and geography.
Embryo artists everywhere—
We have indeed a city full.
Some pictures taken are quite fair,
But most are really pitiful

But while this lasts we are not safe,
They'll take us in all attitudes,
If at their freedom then we chafe,
They'll murmer silly platitudes.
The instruments they can conceal
In hat or other article,
And for the follies they reveal
They do not care a particle.

Perchance one has been drinking rye
And walks with some unsteadiness;
Of course the fiend is standing by.
With camera in readiness.
The spring is pressed without delay,
The picture's taken rapidly.
He shows it to his friends next day
And smiles and snickers vapidly.

On ruby lips man prints a kiss
Some day when lisping sentiment,
That any dangler lies in this
He has no great presentiment.
But, ah, the act's with danger rife—
It's taken with ability:
The picture's sent the truant wife,
And gone is all tranquility.

The direst vengeance o'er he wreaks
On characters respectable;
With camera he ever seeks
For scandals most delectable.
He takes us in some naughty place—
This man of art is pitiless.
His pictures aid our fall from grace
And leave us in a pretty mess.

Such occupations all should shun,
Though it may be a lawful one,
For when his race on earth is run
His death will be an awful one.
Some day we'll rise, we suffering men,
And seize him with avidity;
He'll play his antics ne'er again,
We'll hang him with rapidity.

—[Elliott Flower, in Chicago Herald.

Women—Men.

Women jump at conclusions and generally hit; men reason things out logically and generally miss it.

When a woman becomes flurried she feels for a fan; when a man becomes flurried he feels for a cigar.

Some women cannot pass a millinery store without looking in; some men can't pass a saloon without going in.

A woman never sees a baby without wanting to run to it; a man never sees a baby without wanting to run from it.

A woman always carries her purse in her hand so that other women will see it; a man carries his in his inside pocket so that his wife won't see it.

A man of fashion hates the rain because it derages the set of his pantaloons a woman of fashion hates it because it deranges her complexion.

When a woman wants to repair damages she uses a pin; when a man wants to repair damages he spends two hours and a half trying to thread a needle. —[Chicago Tribune.

THE PROPER THING.

Velvet striped broche silks are coming in.

Two piece fabric frocks are the rule this fall.

Short plumes tipped with pearls are revived for millinery purposes.

High collars and bands of feathers or fur are worn on almost all wraps.

New ulsters are made of light weight cloths, especially of chuddah and camel's hair cloths.

Small round capes with sling fronts in which the arms rest are very popular with young ladies.

Velvet is the choisest material for the short cloaks and will be worn in black, brown, green, red or blue.

White wings will be very popular for young ladies on all sorts of walking and driving hats, but not upon dressy bonnets.

In shape the new wraps are all short on the tournure, fitting snugly in the back with a belt underneath to hold them in place.

The wrap of the season suitable for all occasions and for old and young, is the cloth jacket which may be had in most varied shapes.

Fur-trimmed silk costumes are quite the most approved English style for the autumn. Furs will be worn earlier this season than usual.

A novelty for handsome cloaks is the cloth which is now made with nap on the outside and inside as well, and is soft and flexible as silk.

The dressy outer garments for the coming season are short cloaks covering the waist and arms well, but leaving the skirts of the costume in full view.

Pretty and becoming hats for fall wear are in two colors of straw braid, red being always one of the colors. These are trimmed in two colors of velvet or ribbon to match the hat.

The plush stripes on new woolen novelty fabrics are made to produce shaded, block, bar, flower, and leaf effects by the cut and uncut pile, creating what the merchants call "frise effects."

Purify your blood, tone up the system, and regulate the digestive organs by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists.

Hand-embroidered dress fronts sell at prices that would pay one year's rent of a farm.

Dyspepsia in its worst forms will yield to the use of Carter's Little Nerve Pills. [illegible] not only relieve present distress [illegible] strengthen the stomach and digestive apparatus.

[illegible]-fashioned, large silver card cases [illegible] grandmothers' time have come [illegible]

[illegible] languid feeling and dull [illegible] misery, disagreeable. Take [illegible] Little Liver Pills before [illegible] will find relief. They [illegible]

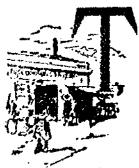
THE STORY OF A MINE.

By BRET HARTE.

[Copyrighted, 1886, by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., and published by arrangement with them.]

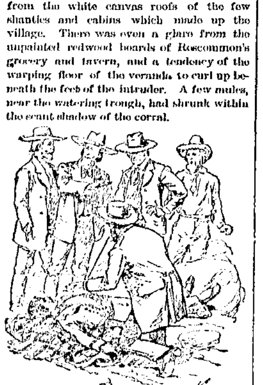
CHAPTER V.

WHO HAD A LIEN ON IT.



ROSCOMMON'S.

THE time was noon at Tres Pinos. The three pines from which it gained its name, in the dusty road and hot air, seemed to smoke from their balsamic spires. There was a glare from the road, a glare from the sky, a glare from the rocks, a glare from the white canvas roofs of the few shanties and cabins which made up the village. There was even a glare from the unpainted redwood boards of Roscommon's grocery and tavern, and a tendency of the warping floor of the veranda to curl up beneath the feet of the intruder. A few mules, near the watering trough, had shrunk within the scant shadow of the corral.



"Then we don't want no d—d warrant."

The grocery business of Mr. Roscommon, although adequate and sufficient for the village, was not exhausting or overtaxing to the proprietor. The refilling of the pork and flour barrel of the average miner was the work of a brief hour on Saturday nights, but the daily replenishment of the average miner with whisky was arduous and incessant. Roscommon spent more time behind his bar than his grocer's counter. Add to this the fact that a long shed-like extension or wing bore the legend, "Cosmopolitan Hotel. Board or Lodging by the Day or Week. M. Roscommon," and you got an idea of the variety of the proprietor's functions. The "hotel," however, was more directly under the charge of Mrs. Roscommon, a lady of thirty years, strong, truculent and good-hearted.

Mr. Roscommon had early adopted the theory that most of his customers were insane, and were to be alternately bullied or placated, as the case might be. Nothing that occurred, no extravagance of speech nor act, ever ruffled his equilibrium, which was as dogged and stubborn as it was outwardly calm. When not serving liquor, or in the interval while it was being drank, he was always wiping his counter with an exceedingly dirty towel—or indeed anything that came handy. Miners, noticing this purely perfunctory habit, occasionally supplied him slily with articles inconsistent with their service—fragments of their shirts and underclothing, flour sacking, tow, and once with a flannel petticoat of his wife's stolen from the line in he back yard. Roscommon would continue his wiping without looking up, but yet conscious of the presence of each customer. "And it's not another dhrop ye'll git, Jack Brown, until ye've wiped out the black score that stands agin ye." "And it's there ye are, darlint, and it's here's the bottle that's been lukin' for ye sins Saturday." "And fwhot hev you done with the last I sent ye, ye divil of a McCorkle, and heres me back that's brok entioiely wid dipping intil the pork barl to giv ye the best sides, and ye spending yur last cint on a taro into Gilroy. Whist! and if it's fer foighting ye are, boys, there's an illigant bit of sod beyant the corral, and it may be meself 'll come out with a shtick and be sociable."

On this particular day, however, Mr. Roscommon was not in his usual spirits, and when the clatter of horses' hoofs before the door announced the approach of strangers, he absolutely ceased wiping his counter and looked up as Dr. Guild, the president and secretary of the new company strode into the shop.

"We are looking," said the president, "for a ma. by the name of Wiles, and three Mexicans known as Pedro, Manuel and Miguel."

"Ye are?"

"We are!"

"Faix, and I hope ye'll foind 'em. And if ye'll git from 'em the score I've got agin 'em, darlint, I'll add a blessing to it."

There was a laugh at this from the bystanders, who, somehow, resented the intrusion of these strangers.

"I fear you will find it no laughing matter, gentlemen," said Dr. Guild, a little stiffly, "when I tell you that a murder has been committed, and the men I am seeking within an hour of that murder put up that notice signed by their names," and Dr. Guild displayed the paper.

There was a breathless silence among the crowd as they eagerly pressed around the doctor. Only Roscommon kept on wiping his counter.

"You will observe, gentlemen, that the name of Roscommon also appears on this paper as one of the original locaters."

"And sure, darlint," said Roscommon, without looking up, "if ye've no better ividence agin thim boys than you have forninst me, it's home ye'd betther be riding to wanst. For it's meself as hasn't stirred fut out of the store the day and noight—more betoken as the boys I've sarved kin testify."

"That's so; Ross's right," chorused the crowd. "We've been running the old man all night."

"Then how comes your name on this paper?"

"O murther! will ye listen to him, boys! As if every felly that owed me a whisky bill didn't come to me and say: 'Ah, Misther Roscommon,' or 'Moike,' as the case might be, 'sure it's an illigant shtrike I've made this day, and it's meself that has put down your name as an original locater, and yer fortune's made Mr. Roscommon, and will yer fill me up another quart for the good luck betune you and me.' Ah, but ask Jack Brown ever yan if it isn't sick that I am of his original locating."

The laugh that followed this speech, and its [illegible] application, convinced the party that [illegible] to whom the whole proceeding was delightfully farcical.

"Then I can tell you, gentlemen," said the doctor, stiffly, "that they were in Monterey last night, that they did not return on that trail this morning, and that they must have passed here at daybreak."

With these words, which the doctor regretted as soon as delivered, the party rode away.

Mr. Roscommon resumed his service and counter wiping. But late that night, when the bar was closed and the last loiterer was summarily ejected, Mr. Roscommon, in the conjugal privacy of his chamber produced a legal looking paper. "Read it, Maggie darlint, for it's meself never had the larning nor the parts."

Mistress Roscommon took the paper:

"Shure, it's law papers, making over some property to yis. O Moike! ye hav'n't been spekilating!"

"Whist! and fwhots that durty gray paper wid the sales and flourishes?"

"Faix, it bothers me intoirely. Shure it oin't in English."

"Whist! Maggie, it's a Spanish grant!"

"A Spanish grant? O Moike, and what did ye giv for it?"

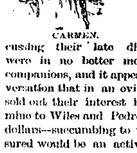
Mr. Roscommon laid his finger beside his nose, and said softly, "Whiskey!"

PART II.

IN THE COURTS.

CHAPTER VI.

HOW A GRANT WAS GOT FOR IT.



CARMEN.

WHILE the Blue Mass company, with more zeal than discretion were actively pursuing Pedro and Wiles over the road to Tres Pinos, Senors Miguel and Manuel were comfortably seated in a fonda at Monterey, smoking cigarritos and discussing their late discovery. But they were in no better mood than their late companions, and it appeared from their conversation that in an evil moment they had sold out their interest in the alleged silver mine to Wiles and Pedro for a few hundred dollars—succumbing to what they were assured would be an active opposition on the part of the Americanos. The astute reader will easily understand that the accomplished Mr. Wiles did not inform them of its value as a quicksilver mine, although he was obliged to impart his secret to Pedro as a necessary accomplice and reckless coadjutor. That Pedro felt no qualms of conscience in thus betraying his two comrades may be inferred from his recent direct and sincere treatment of Concho, and that he would, if occasion offered or policy made it expedient, as calmly obliterate Mr. Wiles—that gentleman himself never for a moment doubted.

"If we had waited but a little he would have given more—this cock-eye!" regretted Manuel querulously.

"Not a peso," said Miguel, firmly.

"And why, my Miguel? Thou knowest we could have worked the mine ourselves."

"Good, and lost even that labor. Look you, little brother. Show to me now the Mexican that has ever made a real of a mine in California. How many, eh? None! Not a one. Who owns the Mexcan's mine, eh? Americanos! Who takes money from the Mexican's mine? Americanos! Thou rememberest Briones, who spent a gold mine to make a silver one? Who has the lands and house of Briones? Americanos! Who has the cattle of Briones? Americanos! Who has the mine of Briones? Americanos! Who has the silver Briones never found? Americanos! Always the same! Forever! Ah! carramba!"

Then the Evil One evidently took it into his head and horns to worry and toss these men—comparatively innocent as they were—still further, for a purpose. For presently to them appeared one Victor Garcia, whilom a clerk of the Ayuntemiento, who rallied them over aguardiento, and told them the story of the quicksilver discovery, and the two mining claims taken out that night by Concho and Wiles. Whereat Manuel exploded with profanity and burned blue with sulphurous malediction; but Miguel, the recent ecclesiastic, sat livid and thoughtful. Finally came a pause in Manuel's bombardment, and something like this conversation took place between the cooler actors:

Miguel (thoughtfully)—When was it thou didst petition for lands in the valley, friend Victor?

Victor (amazedly)—Never! It is a sterile waste. Am I a fool?

Miguel (softly)—Thou didst. Of thy governor, Micheltorena. I have seen the application.

Victor (beginning to appreciate a rodential odor)—Si! I had forgotten. Art thou sure it was in the valley?

Miguel (persuasively)—In the valley and up the falda.*

Victor (with decision)—Certainly. Of a verity—the falda likewise.

Miguel (eyeing Victor)—And yet thou hadst not the grant. Painful is it that it should have been burned with the destruction of the other archives by the Americanos at Monterey.

Victor (cautiously feeling his way)—Posiblemente.

Miguel—It might be wise to look into it.

Victor (bluntly)—As why?

Miguel—For our good and thine, friend Victor. We bring thee a discovery; thou bringest us thy skill, thy experience, thy government knowledge—thy custom house paper!†

Manuel (breaking in drunkenly)—But for what? We are Mexicans. Are we not fated! We shall lose. Who shall keep the Americanos off?

Miguel—We shall take one American in! Ha! seest thou? This American comrade shall bribe his court, his corregidores. After a little he shall supply the men who invent the machine of steam, the mill, the furnace, ah!

Victor—But who is he—[illegible]?

Miguel—He is that man of Ireland, a good Catholic, at Tres Pinos.

Victor and Manuel (amazed)—Roscommon!

Miguel—Of the same. We shall give him a share for the provisions, for the tools, for the aguardiente. It is of the kind that the Americans have [illegible]. [illegible] that the votes are made—that the [illegible] is chosen. It is of him [illegible] alcalde in San Francisco. [illegible] church, like him.

[illegible] practical consideration and doubt. "I have a little niece," said Victor, "whose work with the pen is marvellous. If one says to her, 'Carmen, copy me this or the other one'—even if it be copper plate—look you it is done, and you cannot know of which is the original. Madre de Dios! the other day she makes me a rubric* of the governor, Pio Pico, the same, identical. Thou knowest her Miguel. She asked concerning thee yesterday."

With the embarrassment of an underbred man, Miguel tried to appear unconcerned, but failed dismally. Indeed, I fear that the black eyes of Carmen had already done their perfect and accepted work, and had partly induced the application for Victor's aid. He, however, dissembled so far as to ask:

"But will she not know?"

"She is a child."

"But will she not talk?"

"Not if I say nay, and if thou—eh, Miguel?"

This bit of flattery (which, by the way, was a lie, for Victor's niece did not incline favorably to Miguel) had its effect. They shook hands over the table. "But," said Miguel, "what is to be done must be done now." "At the moment," said Victor, "and thou shall see it done. Eh! Does it content thee? Then come!"

Miguel nodded to Manuel. "We will return in an hour; wait thou here."

They filed out into the dark, irregular street. Fate led them to pass the office of Dr. Guild at the moment that Concho mounted his horse. The shadows concealed them from their rival, but they overheard the last injunctions of the president to the unlucky Concho.

"Thou hearest?" said Miguel, clutching his companion's arm.

"Yes," said Victor. "But let him ride, my friend; in one hour we shall have that that shall arrive years before him," and with a complacent chuckle they passed unseen and unheard until, abruptly turning a corner, they stopped before a low adobe house.

It had once been a somewhat pretentious dwelling, but had evidently followed the fortunes of its late owner, Don Juan Briones, who had offered it as a last sop to the three-headed Cerberus that guarded the El Refugio Plutonean treasures, and who had swallowed it in a single gulp. It was in very bad case. The furrows of its red-tiled roof looked as if they were the results of age and decrepitude. Its best room had a musty smell; there was the dampness of deliquescence in its slow decay, but the Spanish Californians were sensible architects, and its massive walls and partitions defied the earthquake thrill, and all the year round kept an even temperature within.

Victor led Miguel through a low ante room into a plainly furnished chamber, where Carmen sat painting.

Now Mistress Carmen was a bit of a painter, in a pretty little way, with all the vague longings of an artist, but without, I fear, the artist's steadfast soul. She recognized beauty and form as a child might, without understanding their meaning; and somehow failed to make them even interpret her woman's moods, which surely were nature's, too. So she painted everything with this innocent lust of the eye—flowers, birds, insects, landscapes and figures—with a joyous fidelity, but no particular poetry. The birds never sang to her but one song, the flowers or trees spake but one language, and her skies never brightened except in color. She came out strong on the Catholic saints, and would toss you up a cleanly-shaven Aloysius, sweetly destitute of expression, or a dropsical, lethargic Madonna that you couldn't have told from an old master, so bad it was. Her faculty of faithful reproduction even showed itself in fanciful lettering, and latterly in the imitation of fabrics and signatures. Indeed, with her eye for beauty of form, she had always excelled in penmanship at the convent, an accomplishment which the good sisters held in great repute.

In person she was petite, with a still unformed girlish figure, perhaps a little too flat across the back, and with possibly a too great tendency to a boyish stride in walking. Her brow, covered by blue-black hair, was low and frank and honest; her eyes, a very dark hazel, were not particularly large, but rather heavily freighted in their melancholy lids with sleepless passion; her nose was of that unimportant character which no man remembers; her mouth was small and straight; her teeth white and regular. The whole expression of her face was piquancy that might be subdued by tenderness or made malevolent by anger. At present it was a salad in which the oil and vinegar were deftly combined. The astute feminine reader will of course understand that this is the ordinary superficial masculine criticism, and at once make up her mind both as to the character of the young lady and the competency of the critic. I only know that I rather liked her. And her functions are somewhat important in this veracious history.

She looked up, started to her feet, leveled her black brows at the intruder, but, at a sign from her uncle, showed her white teeth and spake.

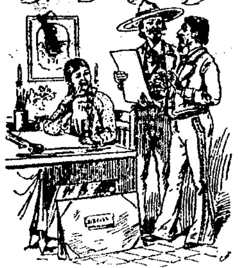
It was only a sentence, and rather a commonplace one at that; but if she could have put her voice upon her canvas, she might have retrieved the Garcia fortunes. For it was so musical, so tender, so sympathizing, so melodious, so replete with the graciousness of womanhood, that she seemed to have invented the language. And yet that sentence was only an exaggerated form of 'How d'ye do,' whined out, doled out, lisped out, or shot out from the pretty mouths of my fair countrywomen.

Miguel admired the paintings. He was struck particularly with a crayon drawing of a mule. "Mother of God, it is the mule itself! observe how it will not go." Then the crafty Victor broke in with, "But it is nothing to her writing; look, you shall tell to me which is the handwriting of Pio Pico;" and, from a drawer in the secretary, he drew forth two signatures. One was affixed to a yellowish paper, the other drawn on plain white foolscap. Of course Miguel took the more modern one with lover-like gallantry. "It is this is genuine!" Victor laughed triumphantly; Carmen echoed the laugh melodiously in childlike glee, and added, with a slight toss of her piquant head, "It is mine!" The best of the sex will not refuse a just and overdue compliment from even the man they dislike. It's the principle they're after, not the sentiment.

But Victor was not satisfied with this proof of his niece's skill. "Say to her," he demanded of Miguel, "what name thou likest, and it shall be done before thee here." Miguel was not so much in love but he perceived the drift of Victor's suggestion, and remarked that the rubric of Governor Micheltorena was exceedingly complicated and difficult. "She shall do it," responded Victor, with decision. From a file of old [illegible] papers [illegible] quickly than that. When I painted the San Antonio of the Mission San Gabriel for Father Acolti, I had to put the decay in with my oils and brushes before the good padre would accept it."

The two scamps looked at each other. It was their supreme moment. "I think I have," said Victor, with assumed carelessness, "I think I have some of the old custom house paper." He produced from the secretary a sheet of brown paper with a stamp. "Try it on that."

Carmen smiled with childish delight, tried it, and produced a marvel! "It is as magic," said Miguel, feigning to cross himself.



"It is as magic," said Miguel.

Victor's role was more serious. He affected to be deeply touched, took the paper, folded it and placed it in his breast. "I shall make a good fool of Don Jose Castro," he said; "he will declare it is the governor's own signature, for he was his friend; but have a care, Carmen! that you spoil it not by the opening of your red lips. When he is fooled I will tell him of this marvel—this niece of mine, and he shall buy her pictures. Eh, little one?" and he gave her the avuncular caress, i. e., a pat of the hand on either cheek and a kiss. Miguel envied him, but cupidity outgeneraled Cupid, and presently the conversation flagged, until a convenient recollection of Victor's—that himself and comrade were due at the Posada del Toros at 10 o'clock—gave them the opportunity to retire.

But not without a chance shot from Carmen. "Tell to me," she said, half to Victor and half to Miguel, "what has chanced with Concho? He was ever ready to bring to me flowers from the mountain and insects and birds. Thou knowest how he would sit, oh, my uncle, and talk to me of the rare rocks he had seen, and the bears and the evil spirits, and now he comes no longer, my Concho! How is this? Nothing evil has befallen him, surely?" and her drooping lids closed half pathetically.

Miguel's jealousy took fire. "He is drunk, senorita, doubtless, and has forgotten not only thee but, mayhap, his mule and pack! It is his custom, ha! ha!"

The red died out of Carmen's ripe lips, and she shut them together with a snap like a steel purse. The dove had suddenly changed to a hawk; the child-girl into an antique virago; the spirit hitherto dimly outlined in her face, of some shrewish Garcia ancestress, came to the fore. She darted a quick look at her uncle, and then, with her little hands on her rigid lips, strode with two steps up to Miguel.

"Possibly, O Senor Miguel Dominguez Perez (a profound courtesy here) it is as thou sayest. Drunkard Concho may be; but drunk or sober he never turned his back on his friend—or—(the words grated a little here)—his enemy."

Miguel would have replied, but Victor was ready. "Fool," he said, pinching his arm, "'tis an old friend. And—and—the application is still to be filled up. Are you crazy?"

But on this point Miguel was not, and with the revenge of a rival added to his other instincts, he permitted Victor to lead him away.

On their return to the fonda, they found Master Manuel too far gone with aguardiente and a general animosity to the average Americano to be of any service. So they worked alone, with pen, ink and paper, in the stuffy, cigarrito-clouded back room of the fonda. It was midnight, two hours after Concho had started, that Miguel clapped spurs to his horse for the village of Tres Pinos, with an application to Governor Micheltorena for a grant to the "Rancho of the Red Rocks" comfortably bestowed in his pocket.

(To be Continued.)

* Falda, or valda, i. e., that part of the skirt of a woman's robe that breaks upon the ground, and is also applied to the final slope of a hill, from the angle that it makes upon the level plain.

† Grants, applications and official notifications, under the Spanish government, were drawn on a stamped paper known as Custom House paper.

*The Spanish "rubric" is the complicated flourish attached to a signature, and is as individual and characteristic as the handwriting.

In point of medicinal power and excellence Hop Plasters are far ahead of all others. 25 cts.

Boston is trying a noiseless pavement of granite blocks set on concrete.

More cases of headache, biliousness, constipation, etc., can be cured in less time, with less medicine, and for less money, and for less money, by using Carter's Little Liver Pills than by any other means.

Fred Douglas and wife are attracting much attention in Liverpool.

Don't trifle with any Throat or Lung Disease. If you have a Cough or Cold, or the children are threatened with Croup or Whooping Cough, use Acker's English Remedy and prevent further trouble. It is a positive cure, and we guarantee it. Price 10 and 50c by H. C. Giesler.

Lamps of hammered silver are the latest thing in extravagant illumination.

It is rather hard on nature that women should be seen wearing artificial golden rod.

Masculine girls are going down the hill of unpopularity with great rapidity now.

ROYAL
ROYAL BAKING POWDER

We still live and feel healthy. The very disastrous effect of the Oswego county druggists' combination, upon our diet during the past year, seemed so apparent that upon consulting our bank account, and Wilcox's meat scales, we find ourselves yet, quite a ghost. The big guns of the Oswego county drug combination for the prevention of cruelty to fish, are still aimed at our council. Our diet of corn meal and onions enables us to still step heavily upon the necks of the Oswego county poor man's friends. We still hold forth at the beautiful opera house drug store and have increased our stock of Pure Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Wines, Liquors, Fancy Toilet Articles, Oils, Paints, and in fact everything pertaining to a first-class drug line. We desire to sincerely thank our many Fulton and vicinity friends who have stood by us in our past warfare, and thereby enabled us to secure a good fitting out of our clothes. Our Combination Competitors, have acquired such an affection for us that when we chance to pass them upon the streets, they greet us with the following smiling expression:

Remember our place, The Opera House Drug Store, Opposite the Stephens Opera House, Fulton, N. Y. H. C. GIESLER.

—CALL ON—
GEORGE JOHNSTON,
On Oneida Street, and examine his Fine Display of
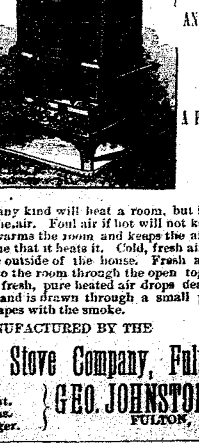
STOVES AND RANGES,
Where can be seen

THE ART GARLAND,
ART UNIVERSAL,
DENMARK,
PRINCESS ALADDIN,
and ACORN,
Parlor Stoves.

THE MAGEES MYSTIC,
GRAND UNIVERSAL,
HAPPY THOUGHT,
HAPPY HOME,
and DUCHESS
Ranges.

Among his other Attractions will be found the
Howe Ventilating Stove,
which will at no distant date take the lead of all heating stoves I am now making special bargains in them at my new store.
Yours Respectfully,
GEO. JOHNSTON

—THE—
Howe Ventilating Stove.



A NEW STOVE.
ON A NEW PRINCIPLE.
A HANDSOME STOVE.
AN EXCELENT HEATER.
AN ECONOMICAL STOVE
A PERFECT VENTILATOR.

☞ A good Base Burner of any kind will heat a room, but it also destroys and burns up the life principle of the air. Foul air if hot will not keep a person warm. The Howe Ventilating Stove warms the room and keeps the air pure. It Ventilates the room at the same time that it heats it. Cold, fresh air is taken into the Stove through a pipe from the outside of the house. Fresh air passes into the Stove, is heated and passes into the room through the open top, while the foul, impure air being heavier than fresh, pure heated air drops dead to the floor, is forced into a flue in the Stove and is drawn through a small pipe in the smoke pipe into the chimney and escapes with the smoke.

MANUFACTURED BY THE
Howe Ventilating Stove Company, Fulton, N. Y.

F. G. Weeks, President.
E. R. Redhead, Vice-President.
Almon Bristol, Sec'y & Treas.
E. L. [illegible], Gen. Manager.

GEO. JOHNSTON Local Agent
FULTON, N.Y.

[illegible] BEST IN THE [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS., Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
32 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.
Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.
Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
Opposite Gas Works,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.
☞Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

We Have Just Received
ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF Ladies' Kid Button Shoes
"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing and Cheapest Shoe
IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE
SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
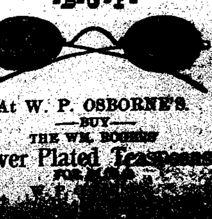
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
☞Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

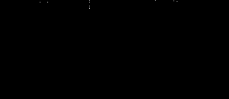
LUMBER YARD.
We have in Stock a Complete Assortment of
Lumber, Lath, Shingles
&c., and in fact everything pertaining to a FIRST-CLASS YARD.
We are prepared to furnish thoroughly Seasoned Lumber at Lowest Rates.
Call and be Convinced.
BOOMER & LOOMIS.
Corner Broadway and First Streets.

-BUY-
Hampden Watches
—AT—
W. P. OSORNE'S.



REPAIRED AT OSBORNE'S.
WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY.

-B-U-Y-



At W. P. OSBORNE'S.
—BUY—
THE WM. ROGERS
Silver Plated Teaspoons
FOR [illegible]
W. P. [illegible]

[illegible] NEWSPAPER
ISSUED EVERY WEDNESDAY
Office: Second Floor, Sanderson Block, First Street—Opposite Lewis House.

TERMS—One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents a year in advance. An additional charge of ten cents for postage on papers going out of Oswego county.

Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES.

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

THE President accompanied by Secretaries Bayard, Endicott, Postmaster General Villas and Private Secretary Lamont attended the Fair of the Virginia Agricultural Association at Richmond last Thursday.

THE St. Louis Browns have won a series with the league Maroons of the same city. They lead the American Association and defeated the Chicagos four games out of six played.

This makes them without question the champion club of the world.

TO-MORROW will occur the dedication of the Bartholdi statue on Bedloe's Island, New York harbor. The gift of the French to the American people. The chief men of our country will be present. Bartholdi, de Lessep and the French delegation arrived in New York, Monday Morning.

THE village of Farmington, Me., was almost completely destroyed by fire last Saturday. Seventy dwelling houses, offices and places of business were destroyed including three churches, two newspaper offices, the postoffice, a savings bank and the municipal court room. The loss is estimated at over a quarter of a million.

MRS. A. T. STEWART, wife of the late millionaire merchant, died suddenly at her residence in New York city last Monday morning. She was 80 years old Her funeral will be held to-morrow afternoon. Although Mrs. Stewart's name seldom came before the public, she has done much that has shown her to have been a benevolent and charitable woman.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND has nominated Daniel N. Lockwood of Buffalo to be U. S. District Attorney for the Northern District of New York in place of Martin I. Townsend of Troy. The nomination is generally conceded to be a good one.

It was Mr. Lockwood who nominated Cleveland for Mayor of Buffalo, for Governor of New York State and for President of the United States.

FOOL AND HIS MONEY SOON PART.

How true some of those old sayings are. A friend of mine paid a traveling quack $50 to cure him of Scrofula, from which he had suffered two years. He gave him a bottle of stuff which only aggravated the disease. When he went to consult him the second time the quack had left for parts unknown. Upon learning the circumstances I recommended Sulphur Bitters. Five bottles cured him.—Editor Journal and Courier.

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 21tf

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expediously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

Home Rule for Ireland

Is only a question of time and it is only a question of time when a neglected Cough will lead to Consumption. We guarantee that the timely administration of Van Wert's Balsam will stop any Cough. For sale by H. G. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are very thorough in operation. Van Wert's Golden Balm cures Catarrh without irritation.

A Mule Could Do It.

"Now, children," said the teacher of the natural history class after the peculiarities of the crab had been discussed "is there any other member of the animal kingdom that possesses the power to move rapidly backward?"

"Yes, said one of the most promising of the little scholars, "the mule kin do it—[N. Y. Sun.

Dissolution.

NOTICE is hereby given that the firm heretofore known as James Morrow & Co. is this day dissolved by mutual consent. James Morrow will hereafter carry on the business. All indebtedness to the firm will be paid to Mr. Morrow.—Dated, Fulton, Oct 7th, 1886.

3w2
A. EMERICK,
JAMES MORROW.

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 160 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm [illegible] to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 35 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

[illegible]

Mrs. Jennie [illegible] who has been visiting with her parents and friends in this vicinity during the past six or seven weeks, will return to her home in Michigan this week.

Smith & Fuller sold a car load of cabbage last week at $1.50 per hundred heads.

The Salvationists are holding meetings at the Baptist church in Jacksonville, with crowded houses every Sunday and Friday evenings. A large number have joined the ranks.

Rev. John Forbes of Bowens Corners preached at the school house in this place Sunday evening and will preach once in two weeks until further notice.

Geo. Sickles is building a barn on his farm near Ox Creek.

Hannibal Centre.

Hayner Kellog has moved his family to Mottville.

Miss Frank Kelly is sick with malarial fever. Dr. Cooley attends her.

Joe Hulett is able to be on the streets again, with the aid of crutches.

George Norton of Amsterdam was the guest of his sister, Mrs. H. C. Abbott last week.

Mrs. Deforest Eastman is sick with typhoid fever.

Charles Bracket of Louisville, Ky. has been visiting his friends in this village for the past week.

Miss Jennie Rowlee is attending the Institute at Port Byron this week.

There are to be meetings in the M. E. church of this place, every afternoon and evening of next week.

Go to Tucker's crockery store for wedding and anniversary presents. 24tf

Gilberts Mills

A. T. Mason is repairing his saw and grist mills.

A sister of Capt. Cook from Colorado, is visiting here.

George A. Cannain is quite sick. He is just able to move about.

Mr. Paine, the Evangelist, began a series of meetings here last Monday.

Overcoats and mittens are in fashion here just at present,

Almon Mason passed a part of last week in Fulton, the guest of Mrs. Ruth Sandford.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Hamlin are in Syracuse this week the guest of Mrs. Hamlin's father.

Palermo.

Miss Dora Hannan of the Palermo Centre House has been brought home from Fulton, where she has been attending school, very sick.

Henry Wellwood is very sick with a ever. Dr. Green is attending him.

A tenth wedding reception will take lace at Mr. Bert Keller's on Monday evening Nov. 1st.

Mrs. James Patrick of Lockport is in town on a visit to her relatives and friends.

The largest stock of Men's and Boys' Overcoats in Fulton can be found D. C. MORE & CO'S.

The Hat My Father Wore.

BY A. W. BELLAW.

You are looking at my daddy's old hat. Which for twenty years he wore: His father before him sported it for twenty years or more. It was intended to hand it down straight on from sire to son, t'was mentioned so in my father's will but I guess its day is done. You'll notice its shape's a little odd, but it was once in style, and its furry nap and color gray would be sure to make you smile. 'Twas strongly built, there isn't a dent to be seen in the rim or crown which shows the former proprietors had no habit of painting the town. It was never mashed o'er election news, nor kicked in an opera hall, 'twas gallantly noffed to the dames of old with a grace that would now appal. Its years endear it. I will not wear it; for how would the people roar to see me airing the old gray hat my father and grandfather wore!

Farm For Sale.

Situated 6½ miles west of Fulton, 1½ miles east of South Hannibal, 80 acres, good buildings, will trade for village property. Inquire of or address

GEO. F. HOWLAND,
24w4 South Hannibal, N. Y.

Torchy On That Point.

Algy—Do you think, my love, your father will consent to our marriage? Angely—Of course papa will be very sorry to lose me, darling. Algy—But I will say to him that instead of losing a daughter he will gain a son. Angely—I wouldn't do that, love, if you really want me. Papa has three such sons boarding here now, and he's a little touchy on that point.—[Texas Siftings.

Of 80 girls who landed at Castle Garden the other day 52 were red-headed.

EXCITEMENT IN TEXAS.

Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Texas, by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless that he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's new Discovery was sent him. Finding relief he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of Pills and two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh thirty-six pounds. Trial Bottles of this great Discovery for Consumption free at R. E. Phillips'.

Gen Boulanger is the son of an English woman and was born at Brighton.

DON'T DO IT

Said my physician, who for six months had doctored me for dyspepsia without success, when I told him I was going to try Sulphur Bitters, they will only make you worse. I did try them and now I am a well man and can eat anything. Sulphur Bitters are a great foe to doctors.—George Bastett, N. Y. C. & H. R. Railroad.

Monday night burglars entered the store of Geo. Gero of New Haven and ransacked it, taking goods to the amount of $100.

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots, &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by

10tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
[illegible]

[illegible]

George Warner, a brakeman [illegible] Y. O. & W railroad, while handling a box of knives from Foster Bros. factory had the misfortune to fall from the platform of the freight depot. The box which weighed 285 pounds fell on his hand splitting two of his fingers and jamming his hand in a terrible manner. Dr. Lee was called and dressed the wound taking twenty-two stitches in all. Warner was taken to his home in Norwich on the Saturday morning train.

The trial of Andrew Hallock for the murder of Michael Pikovoski in Liverpool on last November opened in Syracuse Monday morning. On Tuesday morning Hallock attempted to take his life in his cell by cutting his throat with the blade of a case knife. Five terrible gashes were cut in his throat. It is thought that he will recover and yet pay the penalty of his crime on the gallows.

How to Get Rich.

If you want to drive your business
And have any love for fame,
Never spare the ink and paper;
Let the people see your name.
Energy's the life of business,
Industry will always pay,
Never rest but always labor—
Advertise from day to day.

LIPPINCOTT'S.

Lippincott's Monthly Magazine comes to us this month with 193 pages of pure reading matter of the highest order.

The magazine has undergone a marked change, enlargement and improvement. Each number will now contain in addition to the regular magazine contents a complete novel by some popular author, which can be procured in no other form. The first story which appears in the November number is "Brueton's Bayou" by John Hubberton the author of "Helen's Babies" and other well known works. The December number will contain a complete novel by Frances Hodgson Burnett. After the completion of "A Bachelor's Blunder" the serial publications will be discontinued. The miscellaneous contents this month is largely devoted to journalism in all its phases. We consider this the best number that we have yet reviewed. Subscription price $3.00 per annum; Single numpers 25 cents. For sale by all newsdealers.

ST. NICHOLAS.

The November number is the first of the new volume of this popular magazine and is fully up to what was expected from its attractive prospectus. Louisa M. Alcott contributes "The Blind Lark." Some of the clever tales told by Victor Hugo, the great French poet and novelist, to his grand children have been collected and put into English for for the first time. These are most artistically illustrated. There is the opening chapter of Frances Baylor's serial "Juan and Juanita," A spirited story of a Yale-Princeton foot-ball match is described under the queer title of "Richard Carr's Baby." More Dog Stories are to be found in this number while the Brownies appear in a gymnasium. The above are a few of the many good things that are to be found in this popular monthly.

A Remarkable Case.

The following testimonial has been forwarded to W. H. Hooker & Co., proprietors of Acker's Blood Elixir, by Mrs. LaSage of this village. The case is a remarkable one. The subject was known to many in this locality and thought by them all to be beyond recovery:

Oct. 21st, 1886.

MESSRS W. H. HOOKER & CO.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable. I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir, after the use of but several bottles. He is apparently on the road to entire recovery, in the near future. I cheerfully confirm and attest to the above and believe others (from my statement) suffering, may have reason to believe in the efficacy of this excellent remedy. Very Truly,

MRS. LESAGE.
Fulton, N. Y.

Special Village Meeting.

Notice is hereby given that a Special Meeting of the taxable inhabitants of the Village of Fulton, will be held at the Rooms of the Trustees of said Village, on THURSDAY EVENING, Nov. 4th, 1886.

For the purpose of submitting the question of increasing the Ordinary Expenses of the Village.

At said Meeting the following Resolution will be submitted to be voted on by ballot.

RESOLVED, That the sum of Seventeen Hundred and Ninety-four Dollars and Thirteen Cents, ($1,794.13) be raised by Tax on the Taxable Property of the Village of Fulton, for the purpose of Lighting the Public streets and Grounds of said Village with Electric Light for the term of one year. That the Board of Trustees of said Village if hereby authorized and directed to enter into Contract for the immediate Lighting of said Streets and Grounds, according to the Specifications heretofore made by said Board, under which Specifications bids have been made; payment therefor to commence at the date of the practical operation of said Lighting as approved by said Board. The Contract with any Company to provide for such additional lights as shall be required by said Board at pro-rata price, and to reserve the right and provide for the privilege of a continuation of such contract for one or more years at the option of said Board on the terms and conditions as provided in said contract for one year. The Tax voted by this resolution shall be collected by first warrant issued after the next Annual Meeting of said Village. That said Board of Trustees, if in its judgment it shall be necessary, is hereby authorized to borrow money to discharge the obligations of any Contract it may enter into, under this resolution.

Polls open from 7 to 9 p. m.
Dated October 14, 1886.

J. N. SHARP, President.
WILLARD JOHNSON,
A. P. CHASE,
H. H. KENDRICK,
D. PARDEE,
ALEX BRADFORD,
JOHN MORE,
Trustees.

$100 A WEEK.

[illegible]

A [illegible]
And One which Appeals to Common Sense. Many Curable Cases.

[Medical Status.]

"Many persons die of Consumption who could be easily cured," says Dr. S. C. Clark, of Watertown, N. Y., "if they would go at it right. I have a new view of the disease. Consumption is not always of lung origin."

"How so? What is it then?"

"Many case of consumption are secondary. The disease itself prevails everywhere, but the best practitioners refuse to attribute it entirely to inheritance or the weather. If a person lives in the most favorable climate in the world and has a tendency to lung weakness, if certain conditions exist in the system, that climate, however favorable, will not prevent development of the disease. The disorder, in such cases is only a secondary symptom in the lungs of some other ailment, and can never be cured until approached through its source."

"Yes, doctor; but what is the method of approach?"

"If you dip your finger in the acid you burn it do you not?"

"Yes."

"If you wash this burnt finger every second with the acid, what is the result?"

"Why, constant inflammation, festering and eventual destruction of the finger."

"Precisely! Now then for my method, which commends itself to the reason and judgment of every skillful practitioner. You know certain acids are developed in the body. Well, if the system is all right these acids are neutralized or utilized and carried out. If the system is run down by excesses, anxiety, continual exposure or overwork, these acids accumulate in the blood. If there is any natural weakness in the lung, this acid attacks it, having a natural affinity for it, and if the acid is not neutralized or passed out of the system, it burns, ulcerates and finally destroys the lung. Is this clear?"

"Perfectly! But how do you prevent the accumulation of these acids in the system?"

"Irregularties of the liver and kidneys create this excess of acid and the supply can be cut off only by correcting the wrong action of these organs. The kidneys alone should carry out in quantity, in solution, enough of this acid daily which, if left in the blood would kill four men. When the stomach, the liver and the kidneys are all conspiring to increase the acid, the wonder is that weak lungs resist death as long as they do!"

"But you have not told us how you would treat such cases."

No, but I will. The lungs are only diseased as an effect of this acid or kidney poison in the blood. After having exhausted all authorized remedies to correct this condition, I was compelled, in justice to my patients, to use Warner's safe cure: though a proprietary remedy, it is now recognized, I see, by leading physicians, by Presidents of State Boards of Health and by insurance physicians, as a scientific and the only specific for the great organs in which over ninety per cent. of diseases originate or are sustained."

"Is this form of treatment successful?"

"It is wonderfully so, and for that reason I am only to willing that you should announce it to the world of consumtives."

Note by the Publishers:— We have received the above interview from H. H. Warner & Co., Rochester, N. Y., with the request that we publish it for the good of suffering people. In a foot note to their letter they say:

"The experience of Dr. Clark is not strange to us. In our correspondence we have found that many thousands of people are suffering from what they think is Consumption, whereas the real difficulty is with the liver and kidneys proven by the fact that when these organs are restored to health by the use of Warner's safe cure, the consumption disappears, and so does uremic or kidney poisoning, which causes so many symtoms of diseases that the human system is subject to. The same may be said of rheumatism, caused by an acid condition of the system. We insist upon what we always have claimed, if you remove the cause, the system will soon perfect the work already begun. Mrs. Rev. Dr. Theodore Welf, of Gettysburg, Pa., wife of the editor of the Lutheran Quarterly said her friends thought her 'far gone with Consumption,' but after a thorough treatment with Warner's safe cure, she says: 'I am perfectly well.' We can cite thousands of such cases, but one is enough. If you publish the above article, kindly send us a marked copy."

We gladly give place to the article, for if we can in any way stay the ravages of Consumption, which carries away millions yearly, it is our bounden duty so to do.] Pub.

Cleaning House.

Mrs.—away, while cleaning house, asked her husband to nail up some [ ]; he refused; she looked †† at him, told him his conduct was without ‖, then beat him with her ☞ until he saw . He now lies in ,atose state, and may soon be a subject for dis§. A man must be an* his life and life in such a way as that—[Exchange.

The Bloodthirsty Anarchists

Are foes to the health of our political institutions, but Coughs and Colds are greater foes to bodily health. Van Wert's Balsam will certainly cure all Coughs. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

Van Wert's Pills are very mild in action. Van Wert's Golden Balm is agreeable to use.

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

[illegible]

[illegible]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22, 1886.

Congress is still five weeks off; society is still quiescent; The President is taking and contemplating trips, and the Cabinet and other Government officials are still engrossed with the preparations of their annual reports.

The indifference with which Congress always receives these reports seems to have made little effect upon their length or their being freighted with suggestions. Every year the officials plunge into their literary work, some with a view of establishing a reputation as finished writers, others with the intention of bringing about reforms or changes that will give them a name as public benefactors and statesmen.

The compiling of a report by an Executive Department is an interesting process, for nearly all the clerks contribute to it. When it is issued, however, it bears the name of the head of the Department, and the condensed information it contains goes to the world looking like the industrious research and literary labor of one man.

The President made his first trip into Virginia on Thursday to attend the State Fair at Richmond. Many of the Virginians had said "He will not be there. The Chief Magistrate is always announced and thousands of the people are attracted to the Fair in consequence, but he never comes." Mrs. Cleveland was to have gone also, and other ladies of the Cabinet, but they backed out at the last moment. It was said that this change of mind was because of the rather exclusive reception that had been arranged for them at the Gubernatorial Mansion. Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland were going to Richmond to meet the people. On Wednesday next the President and his Cabinet will go to New York to attend the inaugural ceremonies of the Bartholdi statue.

And now it seems that Hon. Sunset Cox, Minister to Turkey is coming back to Washington to represent the Ninth New York District. Although he said Congress was not nearly as big as it used to be, and that he did not care much about it, it is stated that he gave the President to understand that he would very much rather return to Congress than to Turkey. He has been, during the week, dining, talking over affairs in the East with the President and making his report.

Senator Edmunds, of Vermont, who has just been re-elected, first took his seat in the United States Senate twenty years ago, and has served continuously ever since. Mr. Edmunds has long felt sure of re-election. Last winter and early spring he was apparently worried, but in May reports from Vermont were such that he began to wear the look of a man who knew in whom he trusted. Nor is it surprising that his state agreed that it would be a mistake to retire this veteran and fill his place with an inexperienced man.

Mr. Edmunds is not popular, indeed he has many enemies, for he is dogmatic, cold, and not addicted to the pursuit of friendships. The Democrats in Congress have learned to accept him as a stubborn fact and to quietly submit to many things from him, which, coming from any other man, would anger them to frenzy. It has been facetiously alleged that the Mugwumpian fondness for him is only "an acquired taste." Another puculiarity of the Senator from the Green Mountains is that he has always refused to help any of his constituents to get an office. This, of course, makes him one of the most individual of public men. Notwithstanding his great reputation for austerity and frigidity, he can bend very gracefully when occasion requires, and he is considered an especially charming dinner companion.

MASON & HAMLIN
UNRIVALED ORGANS
On the EASY PAYMENT system, from $3.25 per month up. 100 styles, $22 to $900. Send for Catalogue with full particulars, mailed free.
UPRIGHT PIANOS,
Constructed on the new method of stringing, on similar terms. Send for descriptive Catalogue.
MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.,
Boston, New York, Chicago.

CHEESE MARKET.

[From the Utica Herald.]

UTICA, Oct. 25.

The market to-day was firm, and had it not been for the fact that a considerable portion of the offerings were of the October make and slightly skimmed, the ruling would have been ½c. higher. The September stock was entirely cleaned up, and brought from 11¼ to 11½c. Early Octobers are equally fine in cases where they are not skimmed. Some factories in the northern part of the county have already closed; most of the small factories will close this week; but the larger establishments will run on until December 1st, and some of them even later than that. Transactions of the day were as follows:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
36	3,006	10¾ cents
11	1,026	11 cents
4	338	11⅛cents
16	1,123	11¼cents
8	857	11⅜cents
7	1,087	11½cents
3	410	p. t.
	7,837
Farm dairy	692	com.
Total	8,529

Ruling price 10¾. Corresponding day of last year, sales 7,734 boxes, ruling price 9⅜c. Of 1884, sales 8,905, ruling price 11½c.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, Oct. 25.

Cheese—The market is in about the same condition as last week: if anything a slightly firmer feeling prevails. The ruling price is 11c. as against 10¾c. last week, although there is not ¼c. advance in the price. The demand was very good at the prices paid. Quality of stock keeps up well, and the average date to which cheese are sold off is about October 1st. There was quite a hopeful feeling upon the market as to the future, and the belief that prices will not further decline was expressed. The transactions are:

Lots	Boxes	Price
2	63	10 cents
11	23	10¾ cents
3	200	10⅞ cents
68	4,253	11 cents
12	824	11⅛ cents
11	752	Com.
97	6,115
Farm dairies	945
	7,060

Farm Dairies.—There was a good demand for and lively trade in farm cheese. Sales of 945 boxes, were made at 10 to 11½c. Very little sold at the latter figure, the bulk going at 11¼c.

Butter.—Ninety packages of dairy butter changed hands at 20 to 24c., 23 being the ruling figure. But very little brought 24c., and that to the local trade. But four packages of creamery sold, bringing 25c.

AT FULTON.

Some twenty factories were represented at this market on Monday night and about 1,600 boxes were sold at 10½ and 11 cents most of which were sold at the former figure.

ARTISTS' MATERIALS [illegible]

SCROFULA

Humors,

I do not believe that Ayer's Sarsaparilla has an equal as a remedy for Scrofulous Humors. It is pleasant to take, gives strength and vigor to the body, and produces a more permanent, lasting, result than any medicine I ever used.—E. Haines, No. Lindale, O.

Erysipelas,

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. —W. F. Fowler, M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

Canker, and

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried all sorts of remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured. —Mary C. Amesbury, Rockport, Me.

Catarrh,

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, and getting no relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured. —Susan L. Cook, 909 Albany st., Boston Highlands, Mass.

Can be cured by purifying the blood with

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I have ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach.—Millie Jane Peirce, South Bradford, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

What is this Dark Shadow

Science emerging from Darkness.

That follows us wherever we go? It is the fear of mental exhaustion that terminate either in

INSANITY or DEATH.

We as a people live fast. We are overworked, so that old age comes upon us when quite young in years. We pass sleepless nights or with a sleep that gives no rest. This is nervous exhaustion, and we require a tonic that will restore the brain and nervous system to its normal condition, bringing back youth and vigor. The NEW QUININE, called KASKINE, is the most powerful tonic known. It removes that tired and depressed feeling, gives us a good appetite, makes us feel strong and healthy, gives quiet sleep that refreshes the languid and weary.

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful.

St. Francis Hospital, N. Y., "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Rev. Jos. Desribes, Chaplain of Charity Hospital, writes; "I will be surely, on every occasion, through conviction a most devoted promoter of Kaskine."

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered indispensible. It acts perfectly."

Dr. L. R. White, U. S. Examining Surgeon, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

Dr. L. M. Glessner, has cured over 290 patients with Kaskine after quinine and all other drugs had failed. He says: "It is undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered.".

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

Kaskine is pleasant to take and can be used without special medical counsel. Pamphlets giving information, &c. sent on application.

Send for the great book of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine. $1 a bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

TAKE THE BEST!
Complete In Every Feature.
THE UTICA HERALD

In its morning and weekly editions, is now better prepared than ever before to serve its great constituency of more than a million people in the rich and intelligent counties of Central and Northern New York.

It is able with its Hoe Web Perfecting press to meet all demands upon its circulation promptly in the city at the earliest hour, and in the adjoining country by the first trains and street cars.

ALL THE NEWS

will be presented, classified and condensed for the perusal of busy people who read no other paper, and rely upon its columns for information of movements at home and abroad.

THE MARKETS.

Financial, General, Local, and not least those relating to the Dairy and Hops, will continue to receive close attention, and will deserve the confidence of buyers and retailers, as a standard of transactions and prices.

HOME INTELLIGENCE

for Utica, Oneida county, and the twelve great counties of Central and Northern New York, is gathered by trained and experienced reporters and correspondents, whose work is not even attempted by any other journal.

WASHINGTON AND ALBANY,

the capitals of the State and Nation, are kept in communication with our readers by the freshest and fullest dispatches daily, reporting the proceedings of Congress and the Legislature, and the transactions of the departments.

EDITORIAL DISCUSSIONS

supplement the daily news, and deal with current topics which concern society, the State, the family, and the individual in every walk of life. Nothing which affects our common humanity is deemed alien to these columns. In completeness and variety the editorial pages of the UTICA HERALD will keep abreast with the intelligence and tastes and requirements of its hosts of readers.

THE LITERARY AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENTS

of this journal are almost unique in their extent and chracter, and we have abundant evidence that they are highly valued by our subscribers. Skilled men watch and report all that affects the

DAIRY AND HOPS.

The UTICA HERALD will be as it has always been

STEADFASTLY REPUBLICAN

in its political principles, and will labor for the unity of the party as essential to the public welfare. It will strive now as in all the past to deserve a welcome place in every family for its moral tone, its bright and cheerful temper, its hopes for human progress, and its regard for the aspirations of our race.

Our columns now contain

MORE READING MATTER

than ever before, and it is all carefully prepared and put in type exclusively for us. The morning edition consists of eight large full pages, while the

UTICA WEEKLY HERALD

contains all the features that render the daily edition popular, and is carefully edited to make useful and attractive the abundant space which is afforded by

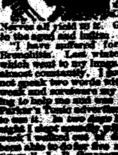
TWELVE LARGE PAGES.

☞A sample copy of either edition will be sent to any address on receipt of a postal card asking it.

TERMS.—UTICA MORNING HERALD 67 cents a month, or $2.00 for three months. UTICA WEEKLY HERALD $1.50 a year. Postage free to all subscribers.

ELLIS H. ROBERTS & CO.,
60 Genesee St., Utica, N. Y.

Strange but True.



Disease under many forms is but one thing—Bad Blood. The persistent cough lingers because the blood has insufficient healing power. Parker's Tonic cures disease by enabling the stomach to send nourishment to the blood. How simple, yet how wonderful! Troubles of the Throat, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Nerves all yield to it. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm.

"I have suffered for years with Cough and Bronchitis. Last winter I caught a severe cold which went to my lungs. For two weeks I coughed almost constantly. I could not lie down. I could not speak two words without stopping to rest, so weak and nervous was I. I could not [illegible] to help me and was giving up to die. I saw Parker's Tonic advertised in our paper, and began to use it. [illegible]

THE TIMES OFFERS!

$1.25 will give you one year's Subsection to THE TIMES and Four months Subscription to the

DETROIT FREE PRESS

The most original, piquant and entertaining of American Newspapers. $1.25 will also give you one year's Subscription to

THE FULTON TIMES

and one year's Subscription to the

AMERICAN FARMER,

A Sixteen page Agricultural Magazine, which is rapidly taking rank as one of the leading Agricultural Publications of this country. The same offers to old Subscribers who pay subscription to date and one year in advance.

SUBSCRIBE! SUBSCRIBE.

ROGERS' GRAPOLINE

Is a household name throughout the United States. It is administered as a specific, and with SUCCESS, in

DYSPEPSIA, Sick HEADACHE, Nervous Debility, Liver Complaint, Bilious Remittents, Bowel Complaints (especially CONSTIPATION), Gout, Gravel, RHEUMATISM, Nausea, the complaints peculiar to the maternal sex, and all types of Inflammation.

So mild is it in its operation that it can be given with perfect safety to the feeblest child; and so agreeable is it to the taste, so refreshing to the palate, that children never refuse to take it. FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

A. H. ROGERS & CO. Geneseo, N.Y.

ONE CENT PAYS FOR A

Postal Card. Buy one and send to THE TROY TIMES, TROY, N. Y., for a FREE Sample Copy of that unrivalled and

FAMOUS NEWSPAPER

THE TROY WEEKLY TIMES. By sending Twenty-Five Cents you can have THE TIMES mailed to any address for

THREE MONTHS on TRIAL

GREAT SPECIAL BARGAINS
—IN—
Drugs, Patent Medicines,
—AND—
DYE STUFFS
—AT—
R. E. PHILLIPS'
Drug Store.

Prices Below all Competition

On Staple Drugs, Medicines, Flavoring Extracts, Essences, and all such articles as are in common use as household or family Medicines.

IN DYE STUFFS

I beat the World. Everybody will tell you, if you want to dye easy and happy buy your Dye Stuffs at

R. E. PHILLIPS' DRUG STORE.

A full line of Genuine Patent Medicines at prices lower than ever.

No bogus or imitation goods at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

Remember my motto is strictly first class goods—and prices below all Competition.

48tf R. E. PHILLIPS.

Job Printing.

—:o:—

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing.

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,
—AT THE—
FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
the popular favorite for dressing the hair, Restoring color when gray, and preventing Dandruff. It cleanses the scalp, stops the hair falling, and is sure to please. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

HINDERCORNS.
[illegible] Hiscox & Co., N. Y.

FITS STOPPED FREE
[illegible]

NEW COAL FIRM.
REMEMBER THAT
HART & CULLEN
ARE SELLING THE
Wilkesbarre and Pittston Coal.
THE BEST COAL MINED.
Leave Orders at Hart's Pottery, or Cullen's Meat Market and you will find prices very satisfactory.
Coal Delivered in Fulton or Oswego Falls.
21m3

SCHOOL OF SHORT HAND
—AND—
TYPE WRITING.
CLASSES DAY AND EVENING.
Lessons by Mail a Specialty.
Terms Moderate. For further particulars apply to
MISS MATTIE G. HAM,
66 and 67 Weiting Block,
18n13 Syracuse, N. Y.

DYSPEPSIA.—its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure. By JOHN H. MCALVIN, Lowell, Mass., 14 years Tax Collector. Sent free to any address.

FRENCH'S HOTEL.
CITY HALL SQUARE, NEW YORK,
Opposite City Hall and the Post Office,
This Hotel is one of the most complete in its appointments and furniture of ANY HOUSE in New York City and is conducted on the European Plan.
Rooms only One Dollar per day. Half minute's walk from Brooklyn Bridge and Elevated R. R. All lines of cars pass the door. Most convenient Hotel in New York for Merchants to stop at. Dining Rooms, Cafes and Lunch Counter replete with all the luxuries at moderate prices. 8y1

OUR BABY'S FIRST YEAR, by Marion Harland, also containing much valuable information. 48 page book. Sent on receipt of 2-cent stamp by Reed and Carnrick, Mercantile Exchange Building, N. Y.

3,000 AGENTS WANTED for the NEW WORK.
GLADSTONE—PARNELL
AND THE GREAT IRISH STRUGGLE.
By the eminent author, HON. T. P. O'CONNOR, M. P. for Liverpool, and R. M. MCWADE, Esq. Endorsed by HON. C. S. PARNELL. A thrilling history of Irish oppression and the mighty struggle for Home Rule that is rocking the British Empire to its centre; also Biographies of the leaders. An entirely new work from high authority, of all absorbing interest, richly illustrated, and an immense demand. ☞Apply quickly to
W. A. HOUGHTON & CO.,
12 East 14th St., New York.

FRAZER AXLE GREASE
BEST IN THE WORLD
☞Get the Genuine. Sold Everywhere.

ADVERTISERS or others, who wish to examine this paper, or obtain estimates on advertising space when in Chicago, will find it on file at 45 to 49 Randolph St., the Advertising Agency of LORD & THOMAS.

SCOTT'S EMULSION
OF PURE COD LIVER OIL
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda
Almost as Palatable as Milk.
[illegible]

TON TIMES

LACKAWANNA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

[illegible] Express....................8:18 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express....11:28 a. m
[illegible] and Elmira Express..........[illegible] p. m
Freight and Accommodation...............5:15 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express........8:15 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express....8:18 a. m.
Day Express...........................12:19 p. m.
Day Express...........................3:49 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation.............6:49 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express.....8:20 p. m.

The 8:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express..........................7:15 a. m
Freight and Accommodation.....................8:40 a. m
Norwich Express...............................3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express...........................9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express.........................6:24 a. m
Oswego Express................................11:27 a. m.
Freight and accommodation.....................5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express............................9:57 p. m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:10	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19	3:24	6:29

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS.

Miss Libbie Osgood is visiting in St. Louis, Mo.

Benjamin Taylor of Elmira, N. Y., is visiting friends in this village.

Martin Schenck of New Haven, Conn., passed Sunday with friends here.

Henry Marchant of Port Jervis, has been in town during the past week.

Richard Carr of Skeneatles Falls spent Sunday with his family in this village.

Mrs. Spencer of Syracuse attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Phœbe Althouse.

M. M. Williams left for New York today to purchase holiday goods for his store.

Crawford Little of Fondulac, Wis, has been the guest of W. G. Gage during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Stevens of Oswego Falls left yesterday morning for a short visit to New York.

Mrs. J. C. Dresser and her niece, "Dollie" returned last week from their visit to Kingston, Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Garlock of Dayton, Ohio, have been the guests of W. F. Ingalls during the past week.

Mrs. Willis Ney returned from her visit to the East last Tuesday evening. She was summoned home on account of the illness of her husband.

Mrs. Rice and her daughter, Jennie, who have been visiting in this vicinity returned to their home in Cambridge, Washington County, last week.

Mrs. B. J. Dyer is in town. During the summer she has been living in Whitehall and with her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Colten in Newark N. J.

Marital.

W. J. Wilber of this village and Miss Mina Clark of Mt. Pleasant were married in Oswego Sunday by the Rev. J. C. Darling.

Chas. E. Brening of Springfield, O., and Cora M. Howard of Fulton, were married by Rev. Jno. C. Breaker, Oct. 23.

Just received by Schenck & Foster a cargo of No. 4 coal. As the size is very hard to obtain, those wishing it would do well to put in an early order. 25tf

SOMETHING NEW.

The improved Welt $3.00 Calf Shoe equal to the best hand sewed at
23tf COLLINS'.

A large line of Men's and Boys' Scotch and Fur Caps cheaper than ever at D. C. More & Co's.

TO LET—The house at the corner of Sixth and State Streets. Inquire of
tf THOMAS CARR.

All kinds of winter foot wear at Collins'. 25tf.

Remember the place to buy unadulterated groceries CHEAP is at the sign of the Red store No. 18 First street opposite the Lewis house.
24tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

Don't miss those bargains at Draper's in Table and Hanging Lamps, China Tea Setts, and those new style (Ribbon Chamber Setts) all new goods and new prices. Call and see. 19tf

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

[illegible] building for the next ten years will no doubt be made almost entirely in details, this has been the case for the last four or five years, since which time, the general principals of dynamo construction, have become thoroughly understood by those engaged in their manufacture, so that we have dynamos whose efficiency for converting mechanical energy into electricity is as high as ninety or ninety-five per cent., a remarkable return, considering the short time since electricity has become a commercial commodity. By way of comparison, the turbine water wheel which has been considered by mechanics the most perfect converter of energy, seldom returns in useful work over 87 per cent. of the energy in the water passed. It will be seen therefore that little improvement can be hoped for in dynamo construction so far as efficiency is concerned. The arc light is acknowledged by all as a most brilliant white light, unequaled for intensity and penetrating power by any other illuminant. This objection has been raised however, that this light for some purposes was to strong and incapable of subdivision. To overcome this objection the inventive genius of many minds has been exercised, and one of the outgrowths of all this effort, has the incandescent light, a very safe, healthful, steady and convenient illuminant for interior, or for places where it is advantageous to have the light near the object to be examined or operated upon. The objection to the incandescent system, is that at least two times the amount of energy or horse power is consumed light for light, as would be required by the arc system. This heavy loss can be suffered for some purposes, and under certain conditions owing to the advantage gained in distribution of light. Active inventors however, were not satisfied with this wasteful expenditure of power, but did not, until Prof. Thomson of the Thomson-Houston Electric Co., succeeded in producing and so successfully introducing his divided or small arcs now in use in more than fifty different cities in the United States. This was a step in the right direction whereby the brilliant two thousand candle power arc was divided and lights of twelve hundred or one thousand candle power produced. The lights have been extensively used about two years and for the last eight months in Prof. Thomson's laboratory at Lynn, Mass., even smaller lights, of about one-half the above candle power, have been used with unqualified success. This great improvement will open a new field in electric arc lighting and allow of its use under conditions not heretofore thought of. For street lighting instead of locating two thousand candle power lights a thousand or more feet apart, these small lights of five hundred candle power can be placed as often as gas posts and never farther apart than from one street corner to the next, and this too, at a price which will not exceed what is now usually paid for lighting with gas and oil lamps. Then instead of, as with two thousand candle power lights, at great distances apart, intensely brilliant in one spot and by contrast extremely dark at points between, we should have an evenly diffused light, with no one spot too bright, and every part of the street nicely lighted, notwithstanding dense foliage which is a great obstacle, to the use of large lights at considerable distances apart.

⁂

A Tax-Payer's Views.

FULTON, Oct. 25, 1886.

EDITOR FULTON TIMES,

Dear Sir:—I see by the Patriot of the 23d notice of a special election to be held at the trustees rooms on Thursday evening November 4, 1886, and that the sole and only purpose is to determine whether the village shall be lighted by electricity or not, and those in favor of lighting by electricity will vote to raise the sum of $1,794.13 for such purpose, and those who are opposed to lighting by electricity will vote against raising this sum of money to pay for it. If I understand this correctly it is to say this. Will you give the Schuyler Light Company this amount or not, at this election? This village wants electric lights why confine it to the Schuyler company. This is monoply. If you don't adopt the Schuyler light, cannot this village adopt some other? Don't be in too great a hurry. Let us have the best, we have waited so long. If you adopt the Schuyler light it is over five hundred less than their first bid. Some favor the incandescent plan, one hunor more lights upon almost every corner, of 800 candle power. I have no axe to grind, I am a tax-payer and only do this for the sole benefit of the village.

Respectfully yours,
TAX-PAYER

A handsome line of chamber sets just received by J. COOLEY TUCKER. 24tf

Largest Stock!
Lowest Prices!
CLOTHING!
MEN'S UNDERWEAR.
OVERCOATS!
HATS AND CAPS.
Don't buy until you have seen our stock.
D. C. MORE & CO.

To Be Reduced.

My very large stock of Men's Boys' and Youths' Kip and Calf Boots for Fall and Winter wear to be sold at Jobber's Prices to Reduce Stock.

A. E. NETTLETON.

George Emeny is still busily engaged in building at Oswego Falls.

The new boilers for the water works are being put in place this week.

Henry Kendall gave a free clam bake to his patrons last Saturday evening.

Presiding Elder Danforth occupied the pulpit at the M. E. church last Sunday morning.

It is said that the Father Mathew societies took in over $200 on the day of their celebration.

The Howorth Hibernica company are to appear at the opera house, Friday evening, October 29.

Read THE TIMES' offers and remember that only four days remain in which you can take advantage of them.

Several Fultonians are taking advantage of the reduced rates to visit the metropolis on business or pleasure.

C. H. David has laid a new stone sidewalk in front of his house on Buffalo street and made other improvements.

A farmer named James Sherman living at Sand Hill, committed suicide last Thursday morning by cutting his throat.

The N. Y. O. & W.; the D. L. & W. and the R. W. & O. railroads are all selling excursion tickets to New York and return for $6.

Bear in mind that you can get all kinds of job printing done at THE TIMES office in as good style and as cheap as any office in the county.

The ex-union soldiers of Oswego and adjoining counties are to hold a meeting at the court house in Oswego next Wednesday to complete their organization.

The Democratic Congressional convention of this district met at Weedsport last Saturday and nominated W. C. Beardsley of Auburn for Member of Congress.

The N. Y. O. & W. Railroad Co. will sell at public auction at their freight depot in Oneida on Wednesday, Nov. 10, a large list of unclaimed freight. The sale is to commence at 9 a. m. Terms cash.

Miss Blanche Boomer entertained a number of her friends at her home on Rochester street Friday evening. It was her sixteenth birthday and the occasion was thoroughly enjoyed by all who were present.

The N. Y. O. & W. railroad company continue to-day and to-morrow to sell tickets over their popular route to New York and return for $6.00. These tickets will be good for return passage up to and including November 1st.

The three days trotting at Phœnix last week were well attended and were considered the best that have ever been witnessed at Pendergast Park. Those who attended saw good horses, fast races and a well conducted meeting.

In another column will be found the prospectus of the Utica Morning Herald. It is useless for us to make comments upon this paper. It is well known and universally acknowledged to be one of the best edited papers in Northern New York.

The Hannibal news in an editorial of considerable length announces that it will support the Republican candidate for congress and the Democratic nominee for assembly. Rather a unique, but we think, a commendable stand to take, if their convictions are that way.

The Howorth Hibernica Company will appear at Stephens' opera house next Friday evening in their laughable Irish comedy, The Twin Jarveys, including new specialties, songs, dances, which are illustrated by beautiful scenery of Ireland. This company has 20 persons with their own Brass Band and orchestra.

"Eli Wheatfield" was presented at the opera house on last Thursday evening before a good sized audience and was the best entertainment that we have witnessed this season. The eccentric and dry remarks of "Eli" kept the audience in a roar from beginning to end. The characters of Senator Joseph King, by Wallace Jackson, Knot Martin "the Chicken" by Theo. W. Babcock and Belle Joslin by Miss Carlotta Bordeaux were especially well taken.

First Class Custom Clothing is a specialty with Peebles & Cook. In this respect they surpass any store in Northern New York in fit, quality and price. Their Ready-made and Children's Clothing is of excellent style and finish and affords some No. 1 bargains. Go to Peebles & Cook's, examine their goods and compare prices. You will then buy.

Waring, the Magician.

Waring, the great Magician, will give two of his excellent performances at the opera house on Thursday and Saturday evenings of this week. His performances are said to be marvelous in the extreme and full of fun and innocent amusement. He will be assisted by Miss Moore a well known artist. All will be able to attend as the prices are only 15 and 25 cents. No extra charge for reserved seats.

Petty Burglaries.

A number of petty burglaries have been going on in Oswego Falls during the past week. Mr. Bomal's house was entered and about $10 in money together with a watch was stolen. The cellars of Mrs. Jewett and Mrs. Fuller were entered and a quantity of fruit taken. A dress was also taken from Frank Brown's house. Early Tuesday morning an attempt was made to take a stove from W. Sammerville's piazza on second street in this village, but the burglars became frightened and let it fall from the stoop completely demolishing it.

The Improvement Society.

The Village Improvement Society were to meet last Wednesday evening at the Armory "Woodin's Hall" but owing to carelessness on the part of someone, the hall was locked up and the key could not be secured. The meeting was held in the law office of Piper & Van Wagenen and the organization of the association was perfected. The following officers were elected: D. W. Gardner, President, Mrs. Dr. Lee, 1st Vice-President, F. E. Bacon, 2d Vice-President, Arvin Rice, Secretary, C. W. Streeter, Treasurer. Executive Committee.—E. R. Redhead, Mrs. Fred Bennett, F. A. Gage, Miss Juliette Porter, Mrs. Dr. Emens, Wm. Waugh, Capt. J. S. Palmer, F. A. Emerick, Miss Eva Case, Mrs. Henry Salmon, G. S. Piper, Mrs. H. S. Gardner, C. H. David, W. H. Ross, M. A Stewart. Soliciting Committee—A. Bristol, Miss Frank French, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Case, G. W. Morton. The association then adjourned to meet at the armory this evening at 7:30.

Fulton Trotting Association

The Fall meeting of this association opened very favorably yesterday afternoon. But owing the weather the attendance was not large. Four heats were trotted in the 2:50 class in which there were eight entries, and three in the 2:29 class with four entries. The judges were L. E. Warren, T. D. Lewis, F. D. Wilson and O. J. Jennings. At the close of the fourth heat in the 2:50 class darkness settled on the track and the remaining heats were postponed until this afternoon. The following is the summary: 2:50 class best three in five in harness. Purse $150 divided.

Frank M.	1	3	4	4
Belle M.	5	6	2	1
Florence R.	8	8	8	5
W. S.	2	1	2	7
Nellie K.	6	7	7	8
Andy Mack	3	4	5	3
Alice H.	7	5	6	6
Lady Blaze	4	2	1	2

The time was first heat 2:49¼, 2d, 2:45, 3d 2:40, 4th 2:39¼.

In the 2:29 class Purity, Lady Upton and Little Volunteer each won a heat. The following is the summary. 2:29 class, best three in five in harness. Purse $1.50 divided.

Little Volunteer	2	2	1
Lady Upton	3	1	4
Purity	1	4	3
Roscoe	4	3	2

Time 2:35½, 2:35, 2:44.

The races for this afternoon have been postponed until tomorrow afternoon when the remaining heats in the 2:50 and 2:29 classes will be trotted and the 5:36 and 2:44 classes. Everything indicates that these races will be exceptionally fine. There are ten entries in the 2;36 class and eighteen in the 2:44 class.

The following are the entries for the last day's races.

2:32 CLASS.

Purity br. m, M. Flynn, Gonoknoak.
King Cetewayo, C. B. Bower, Watertown.
Dexter, ch. g. B. Helm, Watertown.
Lysander Girl, b. m. S. Pendergast, Phœnix.
Roscoe, b. g. A. E. Cornell, Syracuse.
Little Volunteer, D. M. Tappin, Baldwinsville.
A. G., C. B. Bower, Watertown.
Princes b. m., Geo. Faucett, Norwich.
Hattie Fisher, b. m., O. L. Fisher, Seneca Falls.
Milkmaid b. m., A. E. Cornell, Syracuse.

2:40 PACING RACE.

Emerald g. g., J. Eastman, Syracuse.
Nickel g. g., W. Smith, Syracuse.
Senator b. g., D. Hutchingson, Auburn.
Rosa H. g. m., R. Leonard, Fulton.
Scriba Boy, g. g., J. Otis, Fulton.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Phœbe Althouse, widow of the late Peter Althouse, died at her home in Lower Oswego Falls on Saturday Oct. 23, aged 70 years. The funeral services were held at her late residence on Monday at 2 p. m. conducted by the Rev. W. Dempster Chase and the remains interred in Mt. Adnah.

Isaac Pierce died at his home in Hannibal last Sunday morning of apoplexy aged 63 years. Mr. Pierce was a life long resident of this county and has held many positions of trust and honor in the town of Granby. His funeral was held from the church at Hannibal Centre to-day.

Warren H. Allthouse died very suddenly at his home in Volney about a mile north of this village last Sunday morning aged 56 years. He has been troubled with heart disease during the summer but on Saturday was apparant as well as usual, having worked during the day. The funeral services were held this afternoon at two o'clock.

Mrs. H. G. Lee, wife of H. G. Lee formerly of this village died at her home in Nyack, N. Y. last Sunday night of pneumonia.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

Our Wonderful Low Prices does it.

Our business this fall has been very large for the reason that we are under selling all other houses in Clothing, Hats, Caps and Furnishing goods. Our men's all wool suits at $7.00 and our genuine all wool corkscrew suits either in sacks or four button cutaways at $10.00 cannot be matched in the state. We have the best men's overcoats in the world at $5.00 and our men's all wool Moscow Beaver overcoats in in black, blue or brown at $9.70 are dandies. Don't forget our big line of boys' and children's clothing; our men's wool hats at 30cts. worth 75cts; Our genuine Scotch caps at 39cts., worth 75c.; our men's derby hats at 75 and 95cts. are worth fifty cents more. Our best Fresno overalls at 35cts. worth 65cts, and bargains all through our store.

Capital City Clothing Co., [illegible] East Genesee St., Syracuse, N. Y. C. C. C. C.

Howorth Hibernica company Friday evening of this week.

Read the amusements advertisements to be found in another column.

The court in Oswego has been in session over three weeks and the end is not yet.

Meeting of the Village Improvement Association at the Armory this evening at 7:30.

Wm. H. Flaxington of this village received his naturalization papers last Monday.

Waring, the magician at the opera house on Thursday and Saturday evenings of this week.

Sixteen persons were made members of the M. E. Church last Sunday evening and three were baptized.

H. C. Giesler already has a large stock of holiday goods in his opera house drug store. It is increasing weekly.

S. S. Leroy and family after living three years in Pennsylvania have returned to Oswego Falls, their former home.

Henry Henderson of this village has secured a position on the Lake Shore at Wilson N. Y. and left for that place Saturday.

George Emeny has the contract for building a house for Chauncey Woliver on Broadway near Fifth. It will be built at once.

James Jones has rented the store in the new Fitchett block on Broadway in Oswego Falls and will occupy his new quarters soon.

W. H. Hannan of the Palermo Centre House is to give another of his popular dancing parties at his hotel on Thanksgiving night.

Joseph Young was arrested in Syracuse Friday for stealing a quantity of clothing from an operator named Schuyler at Bernhard's Bay.

An arc light and two incandescent lights of the Thomson-Houston system have been put into the store of the popular clothiers, D. C. More & Co.

Henry Jacobs will soon start a laundry in this village. This gentleman has had 28 years experience in this business in Oswego and guarantees satisfaction.

Two hundred dollars reward is offered for the capture of Charles Bellenger, the notorious burglar, who escaped from the Onondaga county penitentiary last Wednesday.

The Howe Ventilating Stove Works are pushed to the utmost capicity to fill their orders. These stoves have received unstinted praise everywhere that they have been used.

Excursion tickets on the D. L. & W. Railroad can be secured to-day and tomorrow for New York for $6.00. They are good on all trains and valid for return passage to November 1st. inclusive.

A machine for cutting the hair form horses, goats, sheep, and other animals has been recently invented by Mr. Harry Comstock of this village. It is said to be an improvement on all clippers yet invented.

Uncle Tom's Cabin which was at the opera house last evening drew quite a large house. It is said to have been produced in a manner equal to any former production of the play in this village.

The next issue of THE TIMES will contain abstracts from a letter from Pekin, giving a description of that city and other Asiatic places, written by Edwin Denby, son of the U. S. Minister to China.

Remember that there yet remain four days in which you can get the the American Farmer for one year or the Detroit Free Press four months, free. This offer is void on and after the first day of November. Subscribe! Pay up!

The Phœnix Register says that parties from New York have been in that village to inspect goods manufactured for them by Mr. Sinclair. They were so well pleased with the facilities for manufacturing that the village possessed that they have entered into negotiations for the establishment of extensive shops there.

The Democratic county convention was held in Mexico last Thursday and the following were placed as candidates on the county ticket: For County Treasurer, James A. McKinley of Oswego; Special Surrogate Geo. W. Harmon of Oswego; Coroners, Dr. E. F. Kelly of Richland and Dr. F. H. Lawler of Williamstown; Justice of Sessions, J. M. Potter of Orwell.

The young people in this village have taken a commendable step in organizing a literary society. They met at the home of Miss Lillian, daughter of Dr. Lake, last Wednesday and elected the following officers for the society: President, William Townsend; Vice-President, Clara Chase; Secy., Elenor Gomam. Com. on Program, Addie Schenck, Bertha Taylor, Mabel Waugh, Morris Whitaker, Will Bennett; Choir, Addie Schenck, Nellie Emens, Homer Willard, Morris Whitaker, Will Townsend, Arthur Newman, Grace Osborn, Clara Chase; Pianist, Mabel Waugh.

Drop in at D. C. More & Co's. and see an elegant line of Men's Worsted Shirts at prices that will astonish you.

The Lambertville "Duck" Rubber Boot has no equal. They will not crack. Sold at Collins'. 25tf.

KNIGHTS OF LABOR
SHOES!
AT
Salmon Shoe Store,

(Special to THE TIMES.)

The [illegible] annual convention of the [illegible] engineers is attracting a degree of attention second only to the excitement incident to the municipal election. This is due to the character of the organization, its policy and its representatives. It is by far the most conservative as well as the most powerful trade society now in existence, and its influence has been very potent for good in this troublesome question of the relations of railway managers to their employes. The organization is now 23 years old and its general assembly is held in this city for the first time. Over 20,000 engineers are enrolled on its books, while more than $275,000 per year are paid for death claims. The success of this society is due largely to its chief, P. M. Antuer. To speak of the Brotherhood is to speak of Chief Antuer. He is a man of medium height, well built, his face is strongly marked, a high forehead, keen gray eye, a scotch nose and a broad mouth. He is a man who has seen perhaps 60 years and has yet the full possession of his abilities. The public meeting was largely attended and its standing in the community may be judged by the fact that the Governor of New Jersey, Leon Abbott, Dr. Talmage and Chauncey M. Depew, President of the N. Y. Central found it worth while to make addresses. The policy of this society, as outlined in the annual address of the Chief, is moderation and arbitration as a means of settlement. The estimation of this order was voiced by Mr. Depew when he said "The door of every President's office is thrown wide open and every one dismissed when you knock at the door." The organization is a model for trade societies, and these labor troubles might reach a final settlement if Chief Antuer's maxims were put into practice in the other fields instead of among the "Knights of the foot board."

⁂

With the lessons of fate of the boodle Aldermen the probability is that they will pass unheeded in the nomination of men for the local municipal legislature. The same sort of men will be nominated and the same strife to make a stamp will be found to exist as before. I asked a certain person formerly prominent in public affairs why he refused a lucrative position, paying a $3,000 salary for the office of Alderman then worth $2,000. He could not tell me the reason, but gave me a very suggestive wink. The character of men who as a rule are members of the board of Aldermen may be judged from a story that was told me. I have heard this before but I never thought it was true. However, I have met the person at whose expense it was told. It appears that a more cultured member of the board had visited Venice and saw the feasibility of the gondola as a boat for the Park lakes. So he moved that a dozen be purchased. This alderman of my acquaintance rose instantly to his feet and in a full Irish brogue moved to amend so that by purchasing a male and a female, nature could supply the city's need. The story is old but I know it to be true. Down in the eighth congressional district we have a rather mixed state of affairs. The candidates are the Hon. Tim and the Hon. Tom. The former is the present congressman and Tim Campbell is credited with having more influence with the government than any city M. C. The other is the gentleman whom Cleveland when Governor, requested John Kelly to leave at home, hence Tom O'Grady, if elected, will not be favorable to the administration. These two men both Democrats and both presumed to belong to the county democracy et. al. are the product of the public schools. Tim can make a speech but the pith of it is "What will you have?" Often in the Legislature have I seen Tom O'Grady so thoroughly sat upon that we would think he would never rise to open his mouth again, but he was on his feet in a minute. He is a wordy man and his ability to hold an audience is not questioned. The contest is developing a very funny aspect. The interest in the election may be judged by the fact that over 235,000 voters have registered. This is nearly equal to the last Presidential election when the registration was 240,000.

The candidacy of Henry George has lead the discussion into a path never before known to city campaigns. The discussion of economic questions of social science is a rare thing indeed. Yet the speeches of the candidates are in that direction. Mr. George acknowledges that he has only one end in becoming a candidate. He wants to arouse a discussion of the theories he teaches. I doubt if he expects an election, but his canvass, costing hin no more than if he was not conducting it, is a cheap way to bring his theories more prominently forward. His letters to Mr. Hewitt, in fact the correspondence, has exhibited an extent of political ability and shrewd political sarcasm seldom seen in a city election. As I remarked in a former letter, the laboring classes look upon George as a 19th century Daniel. They discuss his theories and read his books with great avidity. The professonal men, especially teachers and ministers seem to regard him as the true source of wisdom on social or political ethics. The amount of enthuseasm these persons exhibit is wonderful.

⁂

The theatracal attractions embrace among other things three ladies who come here more as professional beauties. They are Violet Cameron, Mrs. Langtry and Miss Fortescue. Mrs. Langtry is fast becoming an able actress. The first time I saw her she depended on her beauty to offset her lack of ability. Now, however, she is reversing the scale. Miss Fortescue is the beauty whom rumor said was to be the wife of Lord Garmoyle. She has a very pleasant face and is much of an actress. The probability is she will make a good run. Violet Cameron is not a great success and the peculiar management she is under, of which I told you in a former letter, is not conductive to her success Many out of town managers have canceled their contracts. Thank fortune, the theatre going public has a conscience.

⁂

Thursday will witness the grand pageant of the Goddess of Liberty. The prospects are for a memorable celebration but of that more next week.

W[illegible].

Gents, buy your Underwear of D. C. More & Co. [illegible]

EXPERIENCE

Is an expensive teacher but its lessons are impressive and lasting, and yet how many there are who learn the simplest facts by this costly method, for instance, there are many people who are impressed with the idea that their natural shrewdness is a safeguard against their being taken in by unscrupulous dealers and learn the failure at a grevious cost. Beware of sensational advertisements offering goods at half value and the dealer growing richer by the sacrifibe. Investigate any method of business and let common sense decide what is your best interest.

PEEBLES & COOK

Opposite Opera House.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 183 Fulton Street, N. Y.

Vienna Bakery.

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionery, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton. Confectionery from 12 cents upward. A fresh supply of crackers, bread and cake constantly on hand. Call and examine my stock. JOHN BARKER,
18tf 26 First st

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

FOR SALE.

The Coats residence on the North side of Rochester street between Second and Third. For terms enquire on the premises. 21t6

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

Just received at D. C. Draper's, a large order of imported crockery and China, and a fine line, all new patterns, China tea sets and chamber sets, which I will offer for the next 30 days at $1.00 less on chamber sets and $2.00 to $4.00 less on tea sets than any house in Oswego or Syracuse, to reduce part of over-stock. Call and see goods and prices, at 15 Oneida street. 17tf

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

Special Prices For Carpets, Furniture &c.

A. A. Graff & Co., No's 61 & 63 South Salina Street, Syracuse, offer for the next 30 days, as a special bargain, 100 Parlor suits embossed plush, solid walnut frame, 7 pieces for $35.00; 75 chamber suits, 10 pieces for $25.00; 50 pieces tapestry carpet 60c a yard and 70 pieces extra super ingrain carpet 55c a yard.

We will deliver all purchasers' freight, prepaid to any part of the state. Now is the time for Bargains.

For a few days longer, Draper will sell several patterns of hanging lamps at wholesale prices. 19tf

The very choicest qualities of teas, coffees and spices and all shelf groceries sold for cash at WHOLESALE PRICES at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 24tf

Stephens Opera House,

Friday Evening, Oct. 29.

Howarth's Double Show.

Hibernica, Comedy & Specialty Company

In the latest and most successful Farcial Comedy, entitled:

THE TWIN JARVEYS

OR THE

Merry Mc's and Lively O.S.

☞ A superb and grand display of unrivaled magnificent scenery in a tour through Ireland, visiting all points of Interest, North, East, South and West. No curtain falls.

GRAND STREET PARADE.

FULL BRASS BAND AND ORCHESTRA.

John Howorth, - - - Proprietor and Manager

Admission, 35 and 50 cents.

☞ Tickets for sale at Watson's Drug Store.

THE GREAT

Magician, Waring,

Will be at the

Opera House, Fulton,

TWO NIGHTS ONLY.

Thursday and Saturday,

Oct. 28th and 30th.

Admission, Only 25 and [illegible]

1886. 1886.

AHEAD OF ALL!

MILTON S. PRICE,

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

The Popular Dry Goods, Carpet and Furniture Dealer.

The Great Establishment Renovated. New Decorations, &c., Mammoth Show Windows. One Great Entrance from Salina Street. The most Attractive Store in the City.

PROUD AM I TO ANNOUNCE that during forty years of business experience, I have never been so well prepared to meet the wants of the public as at the present time.

READY CASH WITH EXPERIENCED BUYERS has filled my mammoth stores, running through from Salina to Clinton Streets, with a stock of

DRY GOODS, CARPETS AND FURNITURE,

Unequaled by any Establishment in Central New York.

It would be useless in this small space to attempt an enumeration of the thousands of articles displayed.

DRY GOODS and Fancy Goods, IN ENDLESS VARIETY.

CARPETS, RUGS, &c.,

A COMPLETE STOCK.

Furniture and Curtain Draperies,

FOR THE RICH AND POOR.

I can give you better value for your money than any other house in the City.

Do not fail, when attending the fair, to pay this establishment a visit.

MILTON S. PRICE.

Nos. 38 and 40 South Salina Street, and 29, 31 and 33 Clinton Street,

Syracuse, N. Y.

TO RENT—a two story house, centrally located. Suitable for a small family Inquire at this office. 22tf

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the NOVELTY CUSTOM MILL recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & Redhead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any flour or feed grinding done. Flour and feed constantly on hand. Call and try us and we guarantee satisfaction. Flour and feed delivered to any part of Fulton and Oswego Falls free of charge. 18t36

Look at this line of

PARLOR STOVES!

WORLD'S JEWEL,

ART ROYAL,

RED CROSS.

GOLD COIN AND BEAVER.

The last two are ventilating Stoves, and sold exclusively by

SNOW & LOOMIS.

NEW HARNESS SHOP.

The Undersigned would respectfully announce to the public that he has opened a New Harness Shop and is prepared to do all kinds of

REPAIRING

—ON—

HARNESS, TRUNKS, BUGGY TOPS, CUSHIONS, &C. &C.,

☞ As Cheap as the Cheapest.

HARNESS

OF ALL GRADES MADE TO ORDER.

A share of [illegible]

C. W. [illegible]

Cayuga St., [illegible]

[illegible] KNOWING.

Over 200 varieties of potatoes were [illegible] on the farm of a Connecticut man this year.

The new governors both of Maine and South Carolina are farmers.

Remove the seeds before feeding pumpkins to your cattle they act on the kidneys to freely.

Nine-tenths of the trouble and diseases among poultry are the result of keeping fouls too close.

Decayed grain can never be fed to fowls with safety and should be shunned.

An English expert on butter making says that streakiness is more common where salt is largely used.

Souring cream too much before churning, causes a separation of the butter fats and does not add to the quality of the the butter.

The United States Cairyman does not believe that sweet cream from a given quantity of milk, will not yield as much butter as sour cream from the same milk.

A fall market for potatoes, if it gives fair profit on cost of production, is much safer than a spring market, for there is always liability to mishaps whereby the element of uncertainity is greatly increased, and often the whole margin of profit is lost before spring opens.

It is not the quantity of butter made from which the profit is derived but the quality. The best breed of cows known will not produce good butter unless the conditions are favorable and the management perfect. The "gilt-edge" is given by the dairymen and not by the cow.

Many farmers believe that potatoes should be dug as soon as the tops were dead; potatoes are certainly not improved by lying in the ground through the fall rains, but when they commence rotting, it is better to let them remain in the ground than to dig them and have them decay in the cellar.

Don't begin feeding corn to the pigs too soon. Grass, milk, roots and refuse vegetables will be better until cold weather approaches. Warm quarters will greatly reduce the expense of feeding during the winter.

Plow the heavy land and leave it in the rough condition so that the frost can penetrate and render it fine. There is no better agency for pulverizing tough soils than frost. It will also at the same time, destroy the cut-worm.

Orchards, if managed properly will bear fruit every year. In order to have this the orchardist must manure and cultivate them constantly. This method may seem to require to much work, but it is the only successful course to pursue.

If every farmer would cut down the burdocks, docks, nettles, thistles, mulleins and other trash in the roadway along his own land, it would be a move in the right direction. The roads and the farms would both look better, and there would be fewer weeds to hoe or pull out of the corn or potato fields next year.

All plasters are not alike. Hop Plasters afford relief and cure when other kinds are worthless.

Stirring the Soil.

There is something more in stirring the soil than keeping down the grass and weeds. Not a blade of grass should be allowed to grow out of place, it is true nor should weeds be given the slightest chance, but while the losening of the soil assists in destroying such intruders yet the real benefits are derived from the air and rains. When the soil becomes hard and compact the air and heat cannot enter, and when a shower falls, unless it lasts long enough to completely soften the upper crust, the water required by the plant runs off and no benefit is derived. By keeping the earth loose the surplus water evaporates. Should a shower fall the water soaks in and a large quantity is secured compared with the soil that is compact. The air is the great agent that causes the chemical decomposition of soils, and it also disintegrates and renders soluble the plant food. If the air cannot enter the soil the substances that should be appropriated by plants remains inert, and but slowly perform the work that should be done quickly. There is another point which is overlooked. The roots of plants have a large feeding surface when the earth is loose. If it is compact, the roots are compelled to push through the soil slowly and with effort it is a loss of so much energy, that in the one sense wasted, for the physical force expended in one direction is lost, instead of being applied where the greatest benefit might have been obtained. In stirring the soil, therefore many advantages are secured. The roots have greater feeding capacity, a larger amount of moisture is secured, the air penetrates deeper, and the heat is more readily converted into force. Keep the soil loose at all times, and cultivate always after each rain.—[American Farmer.

A Lucky John Jones.

John Q. Jones, who was generally supposed to be a tramp, appeared at Ishpeming, Mich., two months ago, and after working for a while about different mines, offered 25 cents a ton for refuse rock at the Winthrop Helmatic Company's mines, the money to be paid as the rock was removed. Jones said he thought he could make a little off the rock. The company was surprised one day when Jones set a force of men at work sorting the rock and carted off the ore. Jones also bought other piles of rock at the same figure. It now transpires that the rock pans out one-half good ore, for which Jones receives $5.50 a ton. The Winthrop pile alone contained 500,000 tons of rock and netted Jones over $1,000,000. Other piles have [illegible] him about $4,000,000. The work has been conducted under the very eyes of [illegible], who have regarded [illegible] piles as worthless and paid no [illegible] to Jones. The ore has been [illegible] to Joliet, Ill.

[illegible] the [illegible] that [illegible] by the [illegible]. It speed- [illegible] of the throat, [illegible]

[illegible] decided in the Court of Common Pleas. Two brothers named Warner, each of whom was formerly a physician, have for many years conducted a corset business on Broadway and have sold their goods under the trade-mark "Dr. Warner's Coraline Corset." The defendants, Hellner and Strauss, also a Broadway firm, used on their corsets the name "Cordaline" and the plaintiffs brought a suit to restrain the infringment of their trade-mark. It was decided by Judge Allen that "Cordaline" was an unjustifiable imitation of the trade-mark "Coraline," the latter being a fancy name and not descriptive of the corset. The defendants stopped using "Coraline," but began the use of "Dr. Warren's Corset," claiming that it was the custom in the corset trade to use fictitious names of Doctors, and that there was a doctor of that name in California who had stated that his name could be used by the defendants. In a second action brought to restrain the use of "Dr. Warren" Judge Larremore holds that the plaintiffs are entitled to the protection of the family name as a trade-mark, and as there is no one connected with the defendants' business by the name of "Dr. Warren," the use of the latter named by the defendants is too closely an imitation of the defendants name and is not consistent with the good faith on the part of the defendants, and he restrains its use.

WILLIAM H. SAGE, Attorney for plaintiffs.

LIVINGSTONE GIFFORD and CHARLES F. MAC LEAN, Attorneys for Defendants.

Teasing the Baby.

"We all love papa, except Baby. Baby doesn't care for poor papa at all!"

"Yes, I do! do I, papa! says the tremulous little pipe, as if the charge were as new as terrible.

We always smiled at the quaint pharaseology, and the prick of the accusation never failed to call forth the protest in the self same terms. Looking back, now that the sensitive heart will never ache again nor the loyal lips cry out against unmerited slur, I can see what deadly earnest the trifling was to the child. Devotion to papa was part of her religion; doubt of it was sacrilege.

The evidence of her passionate attachment was interesting to us, and flattered the object. The instant flash of indignant denial deverted those to whom her trial by fire was no more than the explosion of a toy-rocket.

The cruelest teasing is that which takes effect through the affections. Baby is all emotion for his heart throws out feelers through every sense. The truth that he loves and is beloved in return makes his world. Be careful, then, how you utilize moral antennæ as the levers to accomplish ends of your own. Like unattached tendrils, they wither and drop off soon enough with the growth of the physical and mental man. While they are alive and sentient, treat them tenderly. Do not tell your child that he does not love you, for the sake of hearing him deny the charge. Let banter find other food than his preference for this or that playfellow; teach him that love is divine always and everywhere, and show how honestly you prize and reverence it.—[Marion Harland.

Labor Opportunities.

The so-called working class in this country have greatet reason to be thankful for the opportunities which surround them. We emphasize opportunities, not circumstances. The circumstances involve much of slavish dependance, vicious teachings and impulses, nonsense, foolishness and dissipation, not to mention actual turpitude clustering about such wickedness as the violent strike and aggressive boycott. But the opportunity of just, honorable and willing laborers are great, and all that ought or could be. Work of one kind or another as well as that capital to pay for it is abundant. The business of the country in unlimited enterprises more and more abounds, and everything is growing rapidly. Machinery facilities labor and increases production, which only enchances the benefit of all. There is plenty of work for every one, and for specially skilled labor and urgent demand. Whatever a man wishes and is capable of, as far as regards being a mere wage worker or capitalist, is within his attempt and reach, and all are free and equal in the race; more just, too than is thought, are the compensations of life, joining happiness to virtue and coupling misery with crime. The energetic, just and good have a paradise in America.—[Dubuque Trade Journal.

Marriage

Marriage makes a man "one with his kind." It should give a stronger impetus to all that is best and noblest in his nature, confer on him new powers, open to him new possibilities. By it man comes into his kingdom, a sovereign, yet a subject, governing and serving at one and the same time. He should prepare for it by stern self-subjection, by holding his vassal passions in leash, by weaving the woof of a fair fabric of life. Then may he search for his pearl in the s a, and give her joy loyal and lordly, intense and immortal. And the woman should be soft-souled and sweet-spirited, visiting all that is base and unworthy with noble scorn and corrosive contempt, to merit a love that is strong and tender and eternal. For she can bind or loose, cheer or chide, help or hinder in the fierce frap of life.—[Cincinnati Enquirer.

The parlor banjo all tied with bows and ribbons is the instrument never played upon.

Some of the newest bonnets are high enough to look as if borrowed from the drum major.

Jeffersonian Simplicity.

Can be practiced by using Van Wert's Balsam for all Throat and Lung diseases, as it well save unnecessary doctors bills. For sale by H. C. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are free from injurious substances. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure catarrhal Headaches.

Emperor William is extremley fond of fish and has trout on his table every day.

It is useless to attempt the cure of any disorder, if the blood is allowed to remain impure. Neuralgia and rheumatism are [illegible]

LAME BACK?

STRENGTHEN AND RESTORE IT

BY WEARING A

Hop Plaster

Why suffer with an aching back when a prompt and positive relief is at hand? The Hop Plaster completely and speedily cures backache, [illegible], Dental [illegible], Kidney Weakness, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Pleurisy, Chest Pains, Sore Lungs, Coughs, Crick and all Sudden, Sharp or Nervous pains. The soothing, pain-killing and strengthening virtues of Hops, Hemlock, [illegible] and Gums combined. Sweet and clean. Sold everywhere, 25 cts., 5 for $1.00. Mailed for price by proprietors, Hop Plaster Company, Boston, Mass.

☞ Look for the hop-vine wreath and signature of HOP PLASTER CO., on every genuine plaster. Beware of imitations and substitutions.

Very deep mourning paper, no matter who is dead, is now declared to be "excessively vulgar."

Is There a Cure For Consumption.

We answer unreservedly, yes! If the patient commences in time the use of Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," and exercises proper care. If allowed to run its course too long all medicine is powerless to stay it. Dr. Pierce never deceives a patient by holding out a false hope for the sake of pecuniary gain. "The "Golden Medical Discovery" has cured thousands of patients when nothing else seemed to avail. Your druggist has it. Send two stamps for Dr. Pierce's complete treatise on consumption with numerous testimonials. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

General Secretary Turner says there are 1,300,000 Knights of Labor in the United States.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

Gladstone received $5,000 from his publishers for his late pamphlet on the Irish question.

Can't Sleep Nights is the complaint of thousands suffering from Asthma, Consumption, Coughs, etc. Did you ever try Acker's English Remedy? It is the best preparation known for all Lung Troubles, sold on a positive guarantee at 10c., 50c. H. C. Giesler.

Freddie Gebhardt gave the order in New York for sumptuous apartments for Lily Langtry.

Food for Consumptives

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites, is a most wonderful food. It not only gives strength and increases the flesh but heals the irritation of the throat and lungs. Palatable as milk and in all wasting diseases, both for adults and children is a marvellous food and medicine.

Too many wires, bones and springs are the ruination of the alleged "human form divine."

Old and reliable Medicines are the best to depend upon. Acker's Blood Elixir has been prescribed for years for all impurities of the Blood. In every form of Scrofulous, Syphilitic or Mercurial diseases, it is invaluable. For Rheumatism, has no equal. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

A chinaman was recently admitted to the knights of labor lodge at Anderson, Pa.

THE VERDICT UNANIMOUS.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles and was cured of Rheumatism of ten years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years of experience is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at at Phillips' Drug Store.

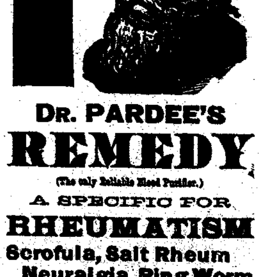
When Emperor William travels about his domain he is always accompanied by three court physicians.

South Granby.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed a night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 51y1

SABINE PASS in Texas was completely destroyed last week by the great storm that did so much damage in the West. Of the 150 houses in that village, less than six are standing and these have been moved from their foundations. The loss to property by the flood amounts to $500,000. Over ninety persons are known to have perished.

We imported $10,000,000 worth of precious stones during 1884.



DR. PARDEE'S

REMEDY

(The only Reliable Blood Purifier.)

A SPECIFIC FOR

RHEUMATISM

Scrofula, Salt Rheum

Neuralgia, Ring Worm

AND ALL OTHER SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASES. IT REGULATES THE

LIVER & KIDNEYS

And Cures Indigestion

And all Diseases arising from an enfeebled condition of the system.

It has proven itself to be the most reliable remedy known for Female Weakness, and for diseases peculiar to the sex.

Send for our pamphlet of testimonials, and read of those who have been permanently cured by its use.

☞ Ask your Druggist for DR. PARDEE'S REMEDY and take no other. Price $1 per bottle, or [illegible]

[illegible] Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

JAMES COLE,

The Old Reliable

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best.

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH,

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

☞ Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

—COAL.—

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest Cleanest, Best,

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c,

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

Q. RUST. 37tf

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM [illegible]

[illegible] engraving at the rate of about 80,000 a day.

Thousands of women bless the day on which Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" was made known to them. In all those derangements causing backache, dragging-down sensations, nervous and general debility, it is a sovereign remedy. Its soothing and healing properties render it of the utmost value to ladies suffering from "internal fever," congestion, inflammation, or ulceration. By druggists.

Mrs. Hancock's book of reminiscences of her late husband will be published during the coming winter.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

It is estimated that 18,000,000 pairs of shoes are annually manufactured in prisons.

Acker's Blood Elixir is the only Blood Remedy guaranteed. It is a positive cure for Ulcers, Eruptions or Syphilitic Poisoning. It purifies the whole system, and banishes all Rheumatic and Neuralgic pains. We guarantee it. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

Tennis tan and tennis freckles are fashionable. No pretty face should be without one or the other.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

Dr. Pierce's "Pellets"—the original "Little Liver Pills" (sugar-coated)—cure sick and bilious headache, sour stomach, and bilious attacks. By druggists.

At Night always have Acker's Baby Soother at hand. It is the only safe medicine yet made that will remove all infantile disorders. It contains no Opium or Morphine, but gives the child natural ease from pain. Price 25 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

Mrs. Clara Foltz, the lady lawyer of San Francisco, will stump California for the Democracy this fall.

WONDERFUL CURES.

W. D. Hoyt & Co., wholesale and retail druggists of Rome, Ga., say: We have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery, Electric Bitters and Bucklen's Arnica Salve for two years. Have never handled remedies that sell so well, or give such universal satisfaction. There has been some wonderful cures affected by these medicines in this city. Several cases of pronounced consumption have been entirely cured by use of a few bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, taken in connection with Electric Bitters. We guarantee them always. Sold by R. E. Phillips.

Modern feather dusters are regarded by the parlor maid as too handsome to use on furniture.

Scott's Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites.

As a remedy for Pulmonary Afflictions and Scrofulous Diseases.

Where the digestive organs are feeble and ordinary food does not seem to nourish the child, this acts both as food and medicine, giving strength and flesh at once, and almost as palatable as milk. Take no other. 19t4.

They don't call it the bustle any more, "My, what a deformity she has on!" is what they say.

An Active Man or Insurance Agent Wanted in Fulton and outside towns and villages to represent an Established Life and Accident Insurance Society. Superior terms offered. Write for circular. Address Home Benefit Society, 161 Broadway, New York. 23w2

Godey's Lady's Book.

AN ELEGANT PREMIUM TO EVERY SUBSCRIBER.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK For 1887, $2.00 a Year.

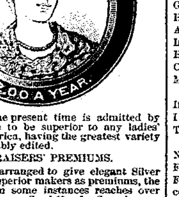
Sample Copy 15 Cents.

TERMS TO CLUBS.

Extra Premiums to Club Raisers.

2 Copies $3.50; 3 Copies $1.50; 5 Copies $7.75.

For list of Premiums and terms to larger clubs, send for Sample Copy, which will give you full information.

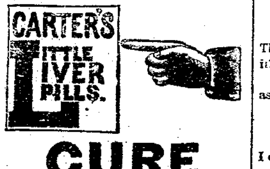


GODEY'S, at the present time is admitted by press and people to be superior to any ladies' magazine in America, having the greatest variety of departments, ably edited.

CLUB RAISERS' PREMIUMS.

GODEY'S has arranged to give elegant Silver Plated Ware of superior makers as premiums, the value of which in some instances reaches over $15 for one premium. Send 15c. for Sample copy which will contain Illustrated Premiums with full particulars and terms. Address,

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK,
Philadelphia, Pa.



CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

[illegible]

When [illegible]
[illegible] added,
[illegible]
[illegible] that are puddled.
—[Tid Bits.

A young English dandy named Guyer
Went to visit one night his Marayer,
But the near-sighted fool
Took the stove for a stool
And set his best trousers on fire.
—[Life.

Felt goods—Bent pins and carpet tacks.—[Danseville Breeze.

How to keep down taxes—sit on the tax collector.—[Burlington Free Press.

There is a man in Wisconsin who owns sixty newspapers. He is so poor that his clothes rattle when he walks.—[Burlington Free Press.

The man who wanted "little here below" went into the newspaper business. —[Charleston (Mass.) Enterprise.

A correspondent wishes to ask how editors spend their leisure hours. They spend them in working.—[New Haven News.

A fashionable young lady of New Haven intends to make her own wedding cake and her friends think seriously of taking to the woods.—[Boston Post.

An article in a contemporary is entitled "Why Editors are Rich." It is because they give a five-dollar puff with a fifty cent advertisement.—[Norristown Herald.

"An Old Subscriber" inquires what is a chestnut. Why, for instance, if we should say: "At the funeral of a brewer in Baltimore the preacher chose his text from Hebrews xx."—[Washington Post.

Subscriber—I've always wondered how it was possible for you to come down to the office after dinner and write those elegant editorials of yours on a full stomach.

Country Editor—A full stomach! What's that?—[Exchange.

The man who can roll a baby carriage down Fifth avenue and really be able to place his hand on his heart and say that he is enjoying himself may be a most estimable person but he will never be President of the United States —[Puck.

"Every nation has its customs," remarked the old lady, placidly, when informed that her sailor husband had just been eaten by cannibals.—[Texas Siftings.

Citizen (to farmer): "How are things out your way, Mr. Hayseed?" Mr. Hayseed (gloomily): They couldn't be much wuss. My wife and three cows are down with pleuro pneumonia. I refused a hundred dollars apiece for 'em only last week."—[Life.

Among the wedding presents to a Kentucky editor was a pocket-book. The poor man had to smile feebly when he saw it. Having never had any use for such an article, he certainly never will need it now that he is married.—[Lowell Citizen.

"Did you hear the new cure for hydrophobia, Mrs. Mulcahy?" "Faix I didn't, an' what is it, Mrs. O'Reilly?' "Plasther of Paris, dead, an' I'm going to thry it on little Tommy, who was hit be Heffernan's bull pup ysterday."—[San Francisce News Letter.

"Papa, what is a model," inquired little Johnny. "A model is a small likeness of anything." "And is a model man a small likenes of a man?" "A great many of them are," replied his pa musingly; "a great many of them are." —[Merchant Traveler.

When a man suddenly takes to wearing a plug hat and has an insane fondness for shaking hands with people upon the street, he ought to be carefully watched. He is developing symptoms of political ambition and is after some office.—[Fall River Herald.

Dumley—Robinson, I want your advice. Brown, I hear has referred to me as an inspired idiot. What had I better do? Robinson, thoughtfully—Well, Dumley, I think you ought to make him take back that word "inspired."—[New York Sun.

A Rather Long Address.

The following is the correct address on a letter which reached its destination in due season and created considerable interest at the time. Of course the writer of it is in the sewing machine business which absorbs a great deal of the original talent in this country:

"There's a town in the West, full of Gin mills and Crooks,
Where a very large firm makes pictures and Books;
There you'll find a redheaded stenographer, loafing,
Giving Irishmen fits, and of Englishmen boasting,
His back name is Garrow, his front name is "Bill,"
And of all in the box he's the very worst pill;
In statute he's slight, and he's medium sized.
He's an Englishman born, but naturlized.
Chicago is the town, full of Gin mills and Crooks,
Messrs. Belford & Clarke make the pictures and books,
If our good "Uncle Sam" will deliver this letter,
I will quit writing "doggrel" and try to do better.
To U. S. I fought for you "Uncle" while yet in my teens
Now I fight for my grub selling sewing machines;
For the latter I'm paid a decent amount—
For breaking your rules "Uncle," charge to account.—[1st N. Y. Mounted Rifles Vol. Cavalry.

Origin of Man.

"Mamma, are we all made of dust?"

"Yes, my son.

"I was born in January, wasn't I?"

"Yes, little boy."

"But there ain't any dust in January. The ground is all frozen in January, ain't it?"

"For Heaven's sake, Johnny, don't ask so many foolish questions."

"But I am made of dust, ain't I?"

"Yes, of course."

"Why don't I get muddy inside when I drink water?"

"O Lord, child, do give me a rest."—[Texas Siftings.

Relief from Sick Headache, Drowsiness, Nausea, Dizziness, Pain in the Side, &c., guaranteed to those using Carter's Little Liver Pills. These complaints are nearly always caused by torpid liver and constipated bowels. Restore these organs to their proper functions and the trouble ceases. Carter's Little Liver Pills will do this every time. One pill is a dose. 40 in a vial. Price 25 cents.

How on Earth Did It Get There.

Mr. Wayback—"Yes, beats all what queer thin s happen nowadays. We've got the durndest mystery you ever see in our town now."

Omaha Man—"Ah! some crime I suppose."

"Well, yes, something like that. You see, a tramp has confessed that he stole $10 from the contribution box of our church."

"Yes, but where is the mystery? You [illegible] he took it."

[illegible]

Rheumatism

It is an undisputed fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven an invaluable remedy in many severe cases of rheumatism, effecting remarkable cures by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. PROUDFOOT, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT

German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.	Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.
The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS.	$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.
Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.	Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.
General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use SULPHUR BITTERS, and you will not be troubled.	SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.
Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.	SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

OVER WORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PATENTS

HENRY WISE GARNETT, Attorney-at-Law,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
Refers to 2d National Bank, Washington, D. C.
☞SEND FOR INVENTOR'S GUIDE.☜

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest Rates for advertising in 1,000 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO.,
10 Spruce St., N. Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Clyremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful CURE at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE.
No. 41, West 31st St., New York City.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY,

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopœia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

CATARRH

ELY'S CREAM BALM
CURES COLD IN HEAD
CATARRH
ROSE-COLD
HAY-FEVER
DEAFNESS
HEADACHE
PRICE 50 CENTS
ELY BRO'S OWEGO N.Y. U.S.A.
HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Is not a liquid, snuff or powder. Applied into nostrils [illegible]

LEGAL.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

During the year 1886, terms of the Surrogate's court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

PHOENIX—At the Surrogate's office in Phoenix on Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, January 2d, and on the third Friday in March, May, June, Sept., Nov. and Dec.

FULTON—At the offices of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Thursday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and July, and the fourth Friday in October

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 20th and September 29th.

PARISH—At A. N. & J. S. Ludington's law office, April 28th, July 30th and Sept. 30th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Allred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New, York, on or before the 19th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 12th, 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALLRED,
Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886. LUCY K. HUBBARD,
Executrix.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Alice Hethington as administratrix of the goods, chattels and credits of William S. Hethington, deceased, against Josiah C. Mosher, Nellie Sears, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis and Josephine Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.—Dated this 12th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington, defendants:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. Pardon C. Williams, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 15th day of October, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego Co., N. Y., at Oswego, N. Y., on October 15, 1886.—Dated Oct. 15, 1886.

HOWE & RICE.
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

Scranton Coal!

THOROUGHLY SCREENED,

Promptly Delivered!

At the Following Prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.20
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

SCHENCK & FOSTER.

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

Save time and labor! Neat and Compact

Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind that he ever saw."

—To be had only at the—
FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

10 PER CENT. INVESTMENT, SECURITY ABSOLUTE. THE MORTGAGE, Ipswich, Dakota, will loan your money on BOND and MORTGAGE from 8 to 10 per cent. Mortgage made to you direct. Bond payable at your own Bank or in New York as you prefer, and has for SALE COUNTY, CITY, and SCHOOL BONDS, that will net 7 to 12 per cent. Will furnish as reference the names of gentlemen residing in THIS COUNTY for whom it has invested money. CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED. 16m3

$350 PER MONTH.—Salary and commission, to competent Manager for this City or State Agency. A splendid combination. Our AUTOMATIC GAS GOVERNORS save 33 per cent. in gas bills. Our Silver Gas Lights can be attached to any fixture, instantly changing the dull, sickly, yellow flame of any gas to a soft, mellow, luminous white increasing brilliancy 50 per cent. Over 8,000 in service. Address,
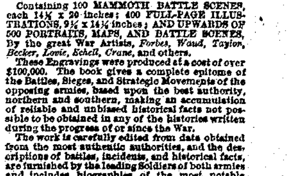
THE UNION NATIONAL GAS SAVING CO.
17m3 21 East 14th St., New York.

Agents Wanted for the Great War Book

Just Published, entitled



THE SOLDIER IN OUR CIVIL WAR,

THE MOST COMPLETE AND INTERESTING

PICTORIAL HISTORY of the GREAT CONFLICT

Containing 100 MAMMOTH BATTLE SCENES, each 14¼ x 20 inches; 400 FULL-PAGE ILLUSTRATIONS, 9¼ x 14¼ inches; AND UPWARDS OF 500 PORTRAITS, MAPS, AND BATTLE SCENES, By the great War Artists, Forbes, Waud, Taylor, Becker, Lovie, Schell, Crane, and others.

These Engravings were produced at a cost of over $100,000. The book gives a complete epitome of the Battles, Sieges, and Strategic Movements of the opposing armies, based upon the best authority, northern and southern, making an accumulation of reliable and unbiased historical facts not possible to be obtained in any of the histories written during the progress of or since the War.

The work is carefully edited from data obtained from the most authentic authorities, and the descriptions of battles, incidents, and historical facts, are furnished by the leading Soldiers of both armies and includes biographies of the most notable Generals and Commanders.

A complete Chronological List of every skirmish, engagement, battle, and all important events, from the Election of Lincoln to the Grand Review at Washington.

Published in (2) magnificent volumes, size 12x17 inches, nearly 1,000 pages. Price, complete, $15.00.

I want One Agent in every Grand Army Post, town and county. ☞ Any person, with this book, can become a successful Agent. Full instructions to new beginners. For terms to agents, address

G. W. DILLINGHAM, Publisher, New York,
Successor to G. W. CARLETON & Co.

A Magnificent Outfit Sent Free.

MAKE HENS LAY.

SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER

Is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. It is strictly a medicine to be given with food. Nothing on earth will make hens lay like it. It cures chicken cholera and all diseases of hens. Is worth its weight in gold. [illegible] book by mail free. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail for 25 cents in stamps. [illegible] $1.20. [illegible] by express, prepaid, [illegible]. DR. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, [illegible]

WANTED—LADY Active and Intelligent, to represent in her [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 26

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

Autumn.

The purple asters bloom in crowds
  In every shady nook,
And ladies' eardrops deck the banks
  Of many a babbling brook.
—[Goodale.

The woods shall wear their robes of praise,
  The south wind softly sigh;
And sweet, palm days in golden haze
  Melt down the amber sky.
—[Whittier.

The autumn wood the aster knows
  The empty nest the wind that grieves,
The sunlight breaking through the shade,
The squirrel chattering overhead,
The timid rabbit's lighter tread
  Among the rustling leaves!
—[Goodale.

Along the river's summer walk,
  The withered tufts of asters nod;
And trembles on its arid stalk
  The hoar plume of the golden-rod,
And on a ground of sombre fir,
And azure-studded juniper,
The silver birch its buds of purple shows,
And scarlet berries tell where bloomed the sweet wild rose!
—[Whittier.

The Tale of Life.

Man is to-day what man was yesterday—
  Will be to-morrow; let him curse or pray,
Drink or be dull, he learns not, nor shall learn
  The lesson that will laugh the world away.

The world as gray or just as golden shines,
  The wine as sweet or just as bitter flows
For you as me; and you, like me, may find
  Perfume or canker in the reddest rose.

The tale of life is hard to understand;
  But while the cup waits ready to your hand
Drink, and declare the summer roses blow
  As red in London as in Samarcand.

Lips are as sweet to kiss and eyes as bright
  As ever flattered Omar with delight;
English or Persian, while the mouth is fair,
  What can it matter how it says good night?
—[Justin McCarthy.

It Has Its Uses.

Out of the window a man
  Leans with a look of despair,
Listening with haggard face to a cat
  Whose melody rent the air.

But at last a ray of hope
  Lighted the man's despair.
Out of the window he leaned once more
  Into the damp night air.

And a smile of the infinite peace
  Over his features fell.
The song of the cat died out in the night
  As he rang his chestnut bell.
—[Columbus Dispatch.

Declining Years.

The man was old, the maid was young.
He wooed the maid with flattering tongue,
The man was rich but poor was she.
"Come, share my opulence," cried he.
"Though I have reached declining years,
Yet your sweet youth shall know no tears,
But brightly pass in softest ease,
If to be mine your heart decrees,
Then give to me your bonny self,
And take my station and my pelf,
The damsel coldly shook her head,
"The maid you deign to woo," she said,
"Is not so young as she appears;
She, too, has reached declining years."
—[Judge.

A LETTER FROM CHINA.

Description of the U. S. F. S. Trenton—The Chinese Waters—Peking—Other Asiatic Places.

The following is an abstract from a letter written by Edwin Denby, son of United States Minister Denby, to his friend Dallas Douglas of Evansville, Ind. Through the kindness of Miss Grace Tucker, in whose possession several of these letters, written to her cousin, now are, we have received permission to publish the following:

PEKING, Oct. 9th, 1885.

DEAR DALLAS:

* * * * *

On the evening of the 14th of Sept. we went on board the U. S. F. S. Trenton, which I believe I told you was at Yokohama waiting for us, to take us wherever father chose to go. On the morning of the 15th she steamed out of Yokohama bay for Teintsin, as papa had no time to spare to go any where else. This was undoubtedly the most pleasant part of our journey. The Trenton is so large and the accommodations so perfect that it was impossible not to enjoy it. Perhaps you would like a description of the ship, as she is a model man of war and the finest wooden vessel in the service. She is 272 feet long, 48 feet wide, and draws 23 feet of water. She has four decks, the upper called the spar deck, the second, the gun deck, the third, the berth deck, and the fourth, the orlop deck. She carries ten 17,395 lb. 18 inch rifled cannon, besides several small cannons, four 5, barreled small guns, 2 Gatling guns, and 2 solid brass saluting guns. Her crew consists of 400 sailors, about 35 officers, and a corps of marines. The sailors are armed with five shot repeating rifles, Colt's navy revolvers and cutlasses. She has three masts, the largest one hundred and sixty feet tall and the largest spar one hundred feet long. She is also provided with electric lights all over even to the lanterns, nothing else being used on the ship. In the officers' rooms there are those lamps that turn on and off, and she has two revolving search lights, one on each side, of 3,500 candle power each. These are used to throw the light on the water in search of torpedo boats, and to direct the fire against the enemy. The electricity is also used to fire the guns, and the captain in the pilot house can fire every gun in the ship at once, by pressing a button. She is provided with a twelve foot ram at her bow, for running down other ships. Her engines are 3,000 horse power and her speed fifteen miles an hour. While we were on her she was under command of Admiral Davis, whose rooms papa, mamma and the "kid" occupied. Charlie and I stayed in the wardroom with the officers. The officers live splendidly, the mess costing each one about thirty dollars a month, but they wouldn't let us pay a cent.

[illegible] over the Trenton I [illegible] Peking, which is the [illegible] we have seen yet. [illegible] quickly over this [illegible]. The [illegible] which [illegible] pass through. We were two days in this sea, and all the while completely surrounded by islands.

We passed on up through the Corea straits, once catching a glimpse of Corea, and then through the Whang Hai, the Gulf of Pechili and dropped anchor, on the 25th, thirteen miles from land opposite the mouth of the Pie Ho. The shallowness of the water forbade a nearer approach. We lay here all day waiting for a boat from shore, which came in the shape of a small tug bearing Consul Browley of Teintsin. We had all become so much attached to the Trenton and all on board of her that it seemed almost like leaving home. But we climbed over the side and took our places on the tug. As she pulled away from the side, the sailors climbed up in the rigging and gave three ringing sailors' cheers, and fifteen guns were fired, which is customary as the Minister leaves a ship.

The land is so flat here that even at thirteen miles off the shore was nowhere visible. As the tug passed the Chinese fort at the mouth of the river, the Chinese fired a salute of fifteen guns, and three Chinese boats farther up the river also saluted. Teintsin is sixty miles up the Pie Ho, and it took us until 9 o'clock at night to get there. As soon as the boat touched the shore I stepped off, and was the first one to set foot on Asiatic soil. We staid at the Astor House, the only foreign hotel in the city, and on Sunday, the 27th, continued our journey on Chinese house boats. These boats are towed by men pulling on ropes attached to the mast heads. The travel is so slow, that though the distance is but eighty miles from Teintsin yet it took us three days to reach Yung Chow the nearest river port to Peking.

The Pie Ho is a shallow river, about 100 yards wide. Its only remarkable feature is its crookedness. It is one continual S all the way to Ying Chow. We must have passed 1500 boats like our own in this little strip of water, so thick are they.

At Ying Chow we were met by Mr. Rockhill the 1st Secretary of the Legation, who had provided sedan chairs for mamma, papa and Hattie, a concern carried between two mules for Garvin, and ponies for Charlie and me. Charlie and I went on ahead of the rest with a Chinese guide to show us the way. It began to rain soon after leaving Ying Chow. To ride fifteen miles on a trotting pony through a pouring rain is not one of the most agreeable things in the world, but still, I enjoyed it. After an hour and a half's riding the Peking wall rose up in front of us. This wall is twenty-three miles long, sixty feet high and as many thick. There is a moat around it on the outside. Passing through this gate we found ourselves in the streets of Peking, the North Court of China. The streets swarm with dirty Chinamen, diminutive donkeys, and enormous camels. Everything has a high wall around it, which utterly destroys the appearance of the city, as all the beauty is on the other side. There is a street on which all the legations are situated, called legation street. The American is the last one on this street. It is walled like everything else in Peking. It occupies about one hundred square yards. There are four houses in the compound as it is called. They are all one story buildings, the best is occupied by us, the next by Mr. Rockhill and family, the third by Mr. Cheshire the interpreter, and the other is to be used as a guest house. Our house has eleven large but poorly furnished rooms in it.

I can't tell you anything about Peking as I know very little myself. Mamma and papa and Charles and Hattie have been dining out at the other legations a great deal since they came, and will continue to do so for some time. There are about twenty servants in the employ of the legation.

I am going to study Chinese, which is the hardest language in the world, and if I succeed in learning it they say that my fortune is so good as made. Yesterday father received a call from H. E. Lee Hung Chang the Viceroy. He is the biggest man physically and in power in China. He is as tall and heavier than papa, which is a good size for a Chinaman, and he has more influence with the Emperor than any one else. He came in great state surrounded by thirty horsemen and carried in a sedan chair by eight bearers.

* * * * * *

EDWIN DERBY.
U. S. Legation, Peking.

Always avoid harsh purgative pills. They first make you sick and then leave you constipated. Carter's Little Liver Pills regulate your bowels and make you well. Dose, one pill.

Mary Cecil Hay.

The death of Miss Mary Cecil Hay removes one of the most active and industrious women of letters from the ranks. Her pen was never idle, and, though her novels were not in the first flight by any means, yet they pleased a large circle of readers. She was one of the brightest and most sympathetic of women, with a keen, kind eye. She belonged to a family of sisters, who regarded her with tender admiration and studied her comfort and convenience in every possible way, so that she had advantages in her daily life for her work in the freedom from domestic cares such as most literary men, but few literary women, enjoy. One of her little peculiarities was that she did not like to be called "Miss." She requested her friends even to address their letters simply to "Mary Cecil Hay."—[London News.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if [illegible] weak and nervous, and uses Car[illegible] Pills, she cannot be, for they [illegible] like another person," [illegible]

DANGEROUS DRUGS.

How to Control Effectually All Such Horrible Habits.

Rochester, N. Y. Post-Express.

A gentleman who has spent the summer abroad said to our reporter, that the thing that impressed him most of all was the number of holidays one encounters abroad and the little anxiety the people display in the conduct of business affairs. "Men boast here," it is said, "that they work for years without a day off; in Europe that would be considered a crime."

Mr. H. H. Warner, who was present at the time, said. "This is the first summer in years that I have not spent on the water. Being too busy."

"Then I suppose that you have been advertising extensively?"

"We have always heretofore closed our laboratory during July, August and and September, but this summer we have kept it running day and night to supply the demand, which has been three times greater than ever before in our history at this season."

How do you account for this?"

"The increase has come from the universal recognition of the excellence of all our preparations. We have been nearly ten years before the public and the sales are constantly increasing while our newspaper advertising is constantly diminishing. Why, high scientific and medical authorities now publicly concede that our Warner's safe cure is the only scientific specific for kidney and liver diseases and for all the many diseases caused by them."

"Have you evidence of this?"

"Abundance! Only a few weeks ago Dr. J. L. Stephens, of Lebanon, Ohio, a specialist for the cure of narcotic, etc., habits told me that a number of eminent scientific medical men had been experimenting for years, testing and analizing all known remedies for the kidneys and liver, for as you may be aware, the excessive use of narcotics and stimulants destroys those organs, and until they can be restored to health the habits cannot be broken up! Among the investigators were such men as J. M. Hall, M. D., President of the State Board of Health of Iowa, and Alexander Neil, M. D., Professor of Surgery in the college of Physicians and Surgeons and President of the Academy of Medicine at Columbus, who after exhaustive inquiry, reported that there was no remedy known to schools or to scientific inquiry equal to Warner's safe cure!"

"Are many persons addicted to the use of deadly drugs?"

"There are forty millions of people in the world who use opium alone, and there are many hundreds of thousands in this country who are victims of morphine, opium, quinine and cocaine. They think they have no such habit about them—so many people are unconscious victims of these habits. They have pains and symptoms of what they call malaria and other diseases, when in reality it is the demand in the system for these terrible drugs, a demand that is caused largely by physicians' prescriptions which contain so many dangerous drugs, and strong spirits, and and one that must be answered or silenced in the kidneys and liver by what Dr. Stephens says is the only kidney and liver specific. He also says that moderate opium and other drug eaters, if they sustain the kidney and liver vigor with that great remedy, can keep up these habits in moderation."

"Well, does not this discovery give you a new revelation of the power of safe cure?"

"No, sir; for years I have tried to convince the public that nearly all the diseases of the human system originate in some disorder of the kidneys or liver, and hence I have logically declared that if our specific were used, over ninety per cent of those ailments would disappear. The liver and kidneys seem to absorb these poisons from the blood and become depraved and diseased."

"When these eminent authorities thus publicly admit that there is no remedy like ours to enable the kidneys and liver to throw off the frightful effects of all deadly drugs and excessive use of stimulants it is an admission of its power as great as any one could desire; for if through its influence alone the opium, morphine, quinine, cocaine and liquor habits could be overcome, what higher testimonial of its specific power could be asked for?"

You really believe then, Mr. Warner, that the majority of diseases come from kidney and liver complaints?"

"I do! When you see a person moping and groveling about, half dead and half alive, year after year, you may surely put him down as having some kidney and liver trouble."

"The other day I was talking with Dr. Fowler, the eminent oculist of this city, who said that half the patients who came to him for eye treatment were affected by advanced kidney disease. Now many people wonder why in the middle of life their eye sight becomes so poor. A thorough course of treatment with Warner's safe cure is what they need more than a pair of eye glasses. The kidney poison in the blood always attacks the weakest part of the body; with some it effects the eyes with others the head; with others the stomach or the lungs, or rheumatic disorder follows and neuralgia tears them to pieces, or they lose the powers of taste, smell or become impotent in other functions of the body. What man would not give his all to have the vigor of youth at his command?"

"The intelligent physician knows that these complaints are but symptoms; they are not the disorder, and they are symptoms not of the disease of the head, the eye or the stomach, or of virility, necessarily, but of the kidney poison in the blood and they may prevail and no pain occur in the kidneys."

It is not strange that the enthusiasm which Mr. Warner displays in the appreciation of his own remedy, which restored him to health when the doctors said he could not live six months, should become infectious and that the entire world should [illegible]

THE STORY OF A MINE.

By BRET HARTE.

[Copyrighted, 1886, by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., and published by arrangement with them.]

CHAPTER VII.

WHO PLEAD FOR IT.

THERE can be little doubt the coroner's jury of Fresno would have returned a verdict of "death from alcoholism," as the result of their inquest into the cause of Concho's death, had not Dr. Guild fought nobly in support of the law and his own convictions. A majority of the jury objected to there being any inquest at all. A sincere juryman thought it hard that whenever a Greaser pegged out in a sneakin' kind 'o way, American citizens should be taken from their business to find out what ailed him. "S'pose he was killed," said another, "thar ain't no time this thirty year he weren't, so to speak, just sufferin' for it, ez his nat'ral right ez a Mexican." The jury at last compromised by bringing in a verdict of homicide against certain parties unknown. Yet it was understood tacitly that these unknown parties were severally Wiles and Pedro; Manuel, Miguel and Roscommon proving an unmistakable alibi. Wiles and Pedro had fled to Lower California, and Manuel, Miguel and Roscommon deemed it advisable, in the then excited state of the public mind, to withhold the forged application and claim from the courts and the public comment. So that for a year after the murder of Concho and the flight of his assassins "The Blue Mass Mining Company" remained in undisturbed and actual possession of the mine, and reigned in their stead.

But the spirit of the murdered Concho would not down any more than that of the murdered Banquo, and so wrought, no doubt, in a quiet, Concho-like way, sore trouble with the "Blue Mass Company." For a great capitalist and master of avarice came down to the mine and found it fair, and taking one of the company aside, offered to lend his name and a certain amount of coin for a controlling interest, accompanying the generous offer with a suggestion that if it were not acceded to he would be compelled to buy up various Mexican mines and flood the market with quicksilver to the great detriment of the "Blue Mass Company," which thoughtful suggestion, offered by a man frequently alluded to as one of "California's great mining princes," and as one who had "done much to develop the resources of the state," was not to be lightly considered; and so, after a cautious non-consultation with the company, and a commendable secrecy, the stockholder sold out. Whereat it was speedily spread abroad that the Great Capitalist had taken hold of "Blue Mass," and the stock went up, and the other stockholders rejoiced—until the Great Capitalist found it was necessary to put up expensive mills, to employ a high salaried superintendent—in fact, to develop the mine by spending of its earnings, so that the stock quoted at 112 was finally saddled with an assessment of $50 per share. Another assessment of $50 to enable the superintendent to proceed to Russia and Spain, and examine into the workings of the quicksilver mines there, and also a general commission to the gifted and scientific Pillageman to examine into the various component parts of quicksilver, and report if it could not be manufactured from ordinary sandstone by steam or electricity, speedily brought the other stockholders to their senses. It was at this time the good fellow "Tom," the serious-minded "Dick" and the speculative but fortunate "Harry," brokers of the Great Capitalist, found it convenient to buy up, for the Great Capitailst aforesaid, the various other shares at great sacrifice.

I fear that I have bored my readers in thus giving the tiresome details of that ingenuous American pastime which my countrymen dismiss in their epigrammatic way as the "freezing-out process." And lest any reader should question the ethics of the proceeding, I beg him to remember that one gentleman accomplished in this art was always a sincere and direct opponent of the late Mr. John Oakhurst, gambler.

But for once the Great Master of Avarice had not taken into sufficient account the avarice of others, and was suddenly and virtuously shocked to learn that an application for a patent for certain lands, known as the "Red-Rock Rancho," was about to be offered before the United States land commission. This claim covered his mining property. But the information came quietly and secretly, as all of the Great Master's information was obtained, and he took the opportunity to sell out his clouded title and his proprietorship to the only remaining member of the original "Blue Mass company," a young fellow of pith, before many-tongued rumor had voiced the news far and wide. The blow was a heavy one to the party left in possession. Saddled by the enormous debts and expenses of the Great Capitalist, with a credit further injured by the defection of this lucky magnate, who was admired for his skill in anticipating a loss, and whose relinquishment of any project meant ruin to it, the single handed, impoverished possessor of the mine, whose title was contested and whose reputation was yet to be made—poor Biggs, first secretary and only remaining officer of the "Blue Mass company," looked ruefully over his books and his last transfer, and sighed. But I have before intimated that he was built of good stuff and that he believed in his work—which was well—and in himself, which was better; and so, having faith even as a grain of mustard seed, I doubt not that he would have been able to remove that mountain of quicksilver beyond the overlapping of fraudulent grants. And, again, Providence—having disposed of these several scamps—raised up to him a friend. But that friend is of sufficient importance to this veracious history to deserve a paragraph to himself.

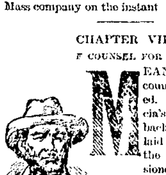
The Pylades of this Orestes was known of ordinary mortals as Royal Thatcher. His genealogy, birth and education are, I take it, of little account to this chronicle, which is only concerned with his friendship for Biggs and the result thereof. He had known Biggs a year or two previously; they had shared each other's purses, bunks, cabins, provisions, and often friends, with that perfect freedom from obligation which belonged to the pioneer life. The varying tide of fortune had just then stranded Thatcher on a desert sand hill in San Francisco with an uninsured cargo of expectations, while to Thatcher's active but not curious fancy it had apparently lifted his friend's bark over the bar in the Monterey mountains into an open quicksilver sea. So that he was considerably surprised on receiving a note from Biggs to this purport: [illegible]

[illegible] arrears for rent, heard this Macedonian cry as St. Paul did. He wrote a promissory and soothing note to his landlady, but fearing the "sweet sorrow" of a personal parting, let his collapsed valise down from his window by a cord, and, by means of an economical combination of stage riding and pedestrianism, he presented himself at the close of the third day at Biggs' door. In a few moments he was in possession of the story; half an hour later in possession of half the mine, its infelix past and its doubtful future, equally with his friend.

Business over, Biggs turned to look at his partner. "You've aged some since I saw you last," he said. "Starvation luck, I s'pose. I'd know your eyes, old fellow, if I saw them among ten thousand; but your lips are parched, and your mouth's grimmer than it used to be." Thatcher smiled to show that he could still do so, but did not say, as he might have said, that self-control, suppressed resentment, disappointment and occasional hunger had done something in the way of correcting nature's obvious mistakes and shutting up a kindly mouth. He only took off his threadbare coat, rolled up his sleeves, and saying, "We've got lots of work and some fighting before us," pitched into the affairs of the Blue Mass company on the instant

CHAPTER VIII.

F COUNSEL FOR IT.



ROSCOMMON.

MEANWHILE Roscommon had waited. Then, in Garcia's name, and backed by him, he laid his case before the land commissioner, filing the application (with forced indorsements) to Governor Micheltorena, and alleging that the original grant was destroyed by fire. And why?

It seemed there was a limit to Miss Carmen's imitative talent. Admirable as it was, it did not reach to the reproduction of that official seal, which would have been a necessary appendage to the governor's grant. But there were letters written on stamped paper by Governor Micheltorena to himself, Garcia, and to Miguel, and to Miguel's father, all of which were duly signed by the sign manual and rubric of Mrs. Governor Micheltorena Carmen de Haro. And then there was "parol" evidence, and plenty of it; witnesses who remembered everything about it—namely, Manuel, Miguel and the all-recollecting De Haro; here were details, poetical and suggestive; and Dame Quicklyish, as when his late excellency, sitting not "by a sea-coal fire," but with aguardiente and cigarros, had sworn to him, the ex-ecclesiastical Miguel, that he should grant, and had granted, Garcia's request. There were clouds of witnesses, conversations, letters and records glib and pat to the occasion. In brief, there was nothing wanted but the seal of his excellency. The only copy of that was in the possession of a rival school of renaissant art and the restoration of antiques, then doing business before the land commission.

And yet the claim was rejected! Having lately recommended two separate claimants to a patent for the same land the land commission became cautious and conservative.

Roscommon was at first astounded, then indignant, and then warlike—he was for an "appale to onst!"

With the reader's previous knowledge of Roscommon's disposition this may seem somewhat inconsistent, but there are certain natures to whom litigation has all the excitement of gambling, and it should be borne in mind that this was his first lawsuit. So that his lawyer, Mr. Saponaceous Wood, found him in that belligerent mood to which counsel are obliged to hypocritically bring all the sophistries of their profession. "Of course you have your right to an appeal, but calm yourself, my dear sir, and consider. The case was presented strongly, the evidence overwhelming on our side, but we happened to be fighting previous decisions of the land commission that had brought them into trouble; so that if Micheltorena had himself appeared in court and testified to his giving you the grant, it would have made no difference—no Spanish grant had a show then, nor will it have for the next six months. You see, my dear sir, the government sent out one of its big Washington lawyers to look into this business, and he reported frauds, sir, frauds, in a majority of the Spanish claims. And why, sir? why? He was bought, sir, bought—body and soul—by the ring!"

"And fwhot's the ring?" asked his client sharply.

"The ring is—ahem! a combination of unprincipled but wealthy persons to defeat the ends of justice."

"And sure, fwhot's the ring to do wid me grant as that thaving Mexican gave me as the collatherals for the board he was owin' me! Eh, mind that now!"

"The ring, my dear sir, is the other side. It is—ahem! always the other side."

"And why the divel haven't we a ring, too! And ain't I payin' ye five hundred dollars—and the divel of ring ye have, at all, at all! Fwhot am I payin' ye fur, eh?"

"That a judicious expenditure of money," began Mr. Wood, "outside of actual disbursements, may not be of infinite service to you I am not prepared to deny—but——"

"Look ye, Mr. Sappy Wood, it's the 'appale' I want, and the grant I'll have, more betoken as the old woman's har-rut and me own is set on it entoirely. Get me the land and I'll give ye the half of it—and it's a bargain!"

"But, my dear sir, there are some rules in our profession—technical though they may be——"

"The divel fly away wid yer profession. Sure is it better nor me own? If I've risked me provisions and me whisky, that cost me solid goold in Frisco, on that thafe Garcia's claim, bedad the loikes of ye can risk yer law."

"Well," said Wood, with an awkward smile, "I suppose that a deed for one half, on the consideration of friendship, my dear sir, and a dollar in hand paid by me, might be reconcilable."

"Now it's talkin' ye are. But who'se the felly we're foighten, that's got the ring?"

"Ah, my dear sir, it's the United States," said the lawyer with gravity.

"The states! the government is it! And is't that ye're afeared of? Sure it's the government that I fought in me own counthree, it was the government that druv me to Amerike, and is it now that I'm goin' back on me principles!"

"Your political sentiments do you great credit," began Mr. Wood.

"But fwhot's the government to do wid the appale?"

"The government," said Mr. Wood significantly, "will be represented by the district attorney."

"And who's the spalpeen?"

"It is [illegible]," said Mr. Wood slowly, "that a [illegible] otherwise gray eyes on his American lawyer. But he only said, "Ye have, eh?"

"Yes," said Wood, answering the look boldly, "and if I had the support of a number of your prominent countrymen, who are so powerful with all parties—men like you, my dear sir—why, I think you might in time become a conservative, at least more resigned to the government."

Then the lesser and the greater scamp looked at each other, and for a moment or two felt a warm, sympathetic, friendly emotion for each other, and quietly shook hands. Depend upon it there is a great deal more kindly human sympathy between two openly confessed scamps than there is in that calm, respectable recognition that you and I, dear reader, exhibit when we happen to oppose each other with our respective virtues.

"And ye'll get the appale?"

"I will."

And he did! And by a singular coincidence got the district attorneyship also. And with a deed for one-half of the "Red Rock rancho" in his pocket sent a brother lawyer in court to appear for his client, the United States, as against himself, Roscommon, Garcia, et al. Wild horses could not have torn him from this noble resolution. There is an indescribable delicacy in the legal profession which we literary folk ought to imitate.

The United States lost! Which meant ruin and destruction to the "Blue Mass Company" who had bought from a paternal and beneficent government lands which didn't belong to it. The Mexican grant, of course, ante-dated the occupation of the mine by Concho, Wiles, Pedro, et al., as well as by the "Blue Mass Company," and the solitary partners, Biggs and Thatcher. More than that, it swallowed up their improvements. It made Biggs and Thatcher responsible to Garcia for all the money the grand master of avarice had made out of it. Mr. District Attorney was apparently distressed, but resigned. Messrs. Biggs and Thatcher were really distressed and combative.

And then, to advance a few years in this chronicle, began real litigation with earnestness, vigor, courage, zeal and belief on the part of Biggs and Thatcher, and technicalities, delay, equivocation and a general Fabian-like policy on the part of Garcia, Roscommon, et al. Of all these tedious processes I note but one, which for originality and audacity of conception appears to me to indicate more clearly the temper and civilization of the epoch. A subordinate officer of the district court refused to obey the mandate ordering a transcript of the record to be sent up to the United States supreme court. It is to be regretted that the name of this Ephesian youth, who thus fired the dome of our constitutional liberties, should have been otherwise so unimportant as to be confined to the dusty records of that doubtful court of which he was a doubtful servitor, and that his claim to immortality ceased with his double-feed service. But there still stands on record a letter by this young gentleman, arraigning the legal wisdom of the land, which is not entirely devoid of amusement or even instruction to young men desirous of obtaining publicity and capital. Howbeit, the supreme court was obliged to protect itself by procuring the legislation of his functions out of its local fingers into the larger palm of its own attorney.

These various processes of law and equity, which, when exercised practically in the affairs of ordinary business, might have occupied a few months' time, dragged, clung, retrograded, or advanced slowly during a period of eight or nine years. But the strong arms of Biggs and Thatcher held possession, and possibly, by the same tactics employed on the other side, arrested or delayed ejectment, and so made and sold quicksilver, while their opponents were spending gold, until Biggs, sorely hit in the interlacing of his armor, fell in the lists, his cheek growing waxen and his strong arm feeble, and finding himself in this sore condition, and passing, as it were, made over his share in trust to his comrade and died. Whereat, from that time henceforward, Royal Thatcher reigned in his stead.

And so, having anticipated the legal record, we will go back to the various human interests that helped to make it up.

To begin with Roscommon: To do justice to his later conduct and expression, it must be remembered that when he accepted the claim for the "Red Rock rancho," yet unquestioned, from the hands of Garcia, he was careless, or at least unsuspicious of fraud. It was not until he had experienced the intoxication of litigation that he felt, somehow, that he was a wronged and defrauded man, but with the obstinacy of defrauded men, preferred to arraign some one fact or individual as the impelling cause of his wrong, rather than the various circumstances that led to it. To this simple mind it was made patent that the "Blue Mass Company" were making money out of a mine which he claimed, and which was not yet adjudged to them. Every dollar they took out was a fresh count in this general indictment. Every delay towards this adjustment of rights—although made by his own lawyer—was a personal wrong. The mere fact that there never was nor had been any quid pro quo for this immense property—that it had fallen to him for a mere song—only added zest to his struggle. The possibility of his losing this mere speculation affected him more strongly than if he had already paid down the million he expected to get from the mine. I don't know that I have indicated as plainly as I might that universal preference on the part of mankind to get something from nothing, and to acquire the largest return for the least possible expenditure, but I question my right to say that Roscommon was much more reprehensible than his fellows.

But it told upon him as it did upon all over whom the spirit of the murdered Concho brooded—upon all whom avarice alternately flattered and tortured. From his quiet gains in his legitimate business, from the little capital accumulated through industry and economy, he lavished thousands on this chimera of his fancy. He grew grizzled and worn over his self-imposed delusion; he no longer jested with his customers, regardless of quality or station or importance; he had cliques to mollify, enemies to placate, friends to reward. The grocery suffered; through giving food and lodgment to clouds of unimpeachable witnesses before the land commission and the district court, "Mrs. Ros," found herself losing money. Even the bar failed; there was a party of "Blue Mass" employes who drank at the opposite fonda, and cursed the Roscommon claim over the liquor. The calm, mechanical indifference with which Roscommon had served his customers was gone. The towel was no longer used after its perfunctory fashion; the counter remained unwiped; the disks of countless glasses marked its surface and indicated other preoccupation on the part of the proprietor. The keen gray eyes of the claimant of the "Red Rock Rancho" were always on the lookout for friend or enemy. [illegible] had sworn in his application for the "Rancho," being engaged in another case, some trifling inconsistency was discovered in his statements, which had the effect of throwing the weight of evidence to the party who had paid him most, but was instantly detected by the weaker party. Garcia's pre-eminence as a witness, an expert and general historian began to decline. He was obliged to be corroborated, and this required a liberal outlay of his fee. With the loss of his credibility as a witness bad habits supervened. He was frequently drunk, he lost his position, he lost his house, and Carmen, removed to San Francisco, supported him with her brush.

And this brings us once more to that pretty painter and innocent forger whose unconscious act bore such baleful fruit on the barren hillsides of the "Red Rock Racho," and also to a later blossom of her life, that opened, however, in kindlier sunshine.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system. They make one feel as if life was worth living.

THE PROPER THING.

Turbans of all kinds are worn.

Four button gloves are the latest fancy.

Few short draperies are seen on fall frocks.

Coiffures, bonnet and hat crowns all remain high.

Skirts are worn very short, and shorter behind than before.

Shaded feather bands trim both simple and dressy wraps and frocks.

Heliotrope, green, Suede, bright blue and gay red are the prevailing colors.

Yokes of velvet are a feature of silk dresses for autumn and winter wear.

The sides of basques are being gradually lengthened to cover the hips more deeply.

The basques of wool dresses are elaborately trimmed in front, and are as plain as possible in the back.

Gray watered silk is combined with black cashmere and black camel's hair in gowns for elderly ladies.

New contrasts in color and the use of cloths for the two colors are the features of the most elegant new gowns.

Bright red serge gowns for young ladies are half covered with braid or passementerie of an equally bright blue shade.

Most graceful and simply shaped polonaises are seen made of cloth over plaid, or blocked velvet, or plush skirts of contrasting color.

The new high-crowned, close front hoods or caps worn by little girls this winter bid fair to take the lead of all head wear for small people.

Everything in the shape of flounces is left off the new wool dresses; in the place of the foot-pleating is a straight cloth band pinked on the lower edge.

Buttons are in great variety. Those of metal have etchings and raised designs or of filagree work. The old-fashioned way of covering button moulds with the material of the dress is again revived.

Punish your passions, lest they punish you.

Honesty, like gold, is frequently used to plate base metals.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St.

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c,

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

O. RUST.

37tf

Strange but True.

Disease under many forms is but one thing—Bad Blood. The persistant cough lingers because the blood has insufficient healing power. Parker's Tonic cures disease by enabling the stomach to send nourishment to the blood. How simple, yet how wonderful! Troubles of the Throat, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Nerves all yield to it. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm.

"I have suffered for years with Cough and Bronchitis. Last winter I caught a severe cold which went to my lungs. For two weeks I coughed almost constantly. I could not lie down. I could not speak two words without stopping to rest, so weak and sore were my lungs. I could get nothing to help me and was given up to die. I saw Parker's Tonic advertised in our paper, and began to use it. In two days I felt a change. The third night I slept soundly without coughing, and in a week I walked out of doors, a thing I had not been able to do for five months. Most gratefully yours."—L. P. [illegible], Holston, Va.

"A bad cough and hemorrhage troubled me for 25 years. I have used 3 bottles of Parker's Tonic [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS, Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
32 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.
Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.
Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 13 to 3 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Godey's Lady's Book.

AN ELEGANT PREMIUM TO EVERY SUBSCRIBER.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK For 1887, $2.00 a Year. Sample Copy 15 Cents.
TERMS TO CLUBS.
Extra Premiums to Club Raisers.
2 Copies $3.50; 3 Copies $4.50; 5 Copies $7.75.
For list of Premiums and terms to larger clubs, send for Sample Copy, which will give you full information.

GODEY'S, at the present time is admitted by press and people to be superior to any ladies' magazine in America, having the greatest variety of departments, ably edited.

CLUB RAISERS' PREMIUMS.

GODEY'S has arranged to give elegant Silver Plated Ware of superior makers as premiums, the value of which in some instances reaches over $15 for one premium. Send 15c. for Sample copy which will contain Illustrated Premiums with full particulars and terms. Address,

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK,
Philadelphia, Pa.

COAL.

—GO TO—

LEWIS' COAL YARD,

OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞ Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.
☞ Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.

THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

We Have Just Received

ANOTHER LARGE INVOICE OF

Ladies' Kid Button Shoes

"Hand Made."
Best Fitting, Best Wearing
and Cheapest Shoe

IN THE COUNTY.
CALL AND SEE THEM, AT THE

SALMON SHOE STORE,
OPERA HOUSE BLOCK.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE

Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of

Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.

Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.

☞ Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

LUMBER YARD.

We have in Stock a Complete Assortment of

Lumber, Lath, Shingles

&c., and in fact everything pertaining to a

FIRST-CLASS YARD.

We are prepared to furnish thoroughly Seasoned Lumber at Lowest Rates. Call and be Convinced.

[illegible]

[illegible] TIMES
[illegible] NEWSPAPER
[illegible] EVERY WEDNESDAY
[illegible] Block, [illegible], First [illegible] Lake House.

[illegible]—One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents [illegible] in advance. An additional charge of ten cents for postage on papers going out of Oswego county.

Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES,

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

CLOSELY following the regular election occurs one of considerable local interest—one that has been talked over and discussed by Fultonians for the past two weeks more than the regular election of yesterday. It is concerning electric lights. This question, upon which the taxpayers of the village have the privilege of voting to-morrow evening, is shown in its various phases by a communication which appears in another column, and which every taxpayer should read and consider. Many of the citizens do not understand thoroughly the circumstances that have attended the discussion of this question before the village Board. In two particular points, we find that there exists in the minds of many a misapprehension; first if the resolution to be voted upon to-morrow evening is not carried that we shall be without lights. Second, that the resolution if passed does not say that you accept one light to the exclusion of all others but merely that you are to vote to raise a certain sum for Electric lights. These are two of the points that will be raised and by these endeavors will be made to induce you to vote for the resolution. They are subterfuges, instigated by old and skillful politicians who would not allow the question to go before the people in a way that they might vote upon which light they desired. Vote down the resolution. Destroy the scheme that they are trying to force upon you. Let the Trustees then take either of the lights for the short term i. e. until the next charter election. Then place the matter before the people.

THE great Bartholdi statue was unveiled in New York harbor last Thursday with imposing ceremonies. The chief addresses were made by Chauncey M. Depew and Senator Evarts, both of which were of the highest order. The big parade was participated in by nearly 20,000 men. In the evening the French delegates dined at Delmonico's, the guests of the Chamber of Commerce.

I will reduce the price on all Amberena, Wild-rose and Peach-ware, Saturday Nov. 6 '86. Also on China-Tea-Sets, Chamber-Sets and all fancy cups and saucers. Call and see goods at Draper's, Oneida St.

A Remarkable Case.

Oct. 21st, 1886.

MESSRS W. H. HOOKER & Co.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable. I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. He is apparently on the road to entire recovery, in the near future. I cheerfully confirm and attest to the above and believe others (from my statement) suffering, may have reason to believe in the efficacy of this excellent remedy. Very Truly,

MRS. LESAGE.
26m6 Fulton, N. Y.

Don't miss those bargains at Draper's in Table and Hanging Lamps, China Tea Setts, and those new style (Ribbon Chamber Setts) all new goods and new prices. Call and see. 19tf

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 21tf

The very choicest qualities of teas, coffees and spices and all shelf groceries sold for cash at WHOLESALE PRICES at J. Conley Tucker's crockery store. 24tf

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

C. F. HANCOCK,
196 West First St., Oswego, N. Y.
[illegible]

ELECTION.

Volney and Granby Vote in Full —Henry C. Howe Re-Elected— A Slightly Increased Prohibition Vote in Volney —A Very Large Vote Cast.

Yesterday was almost a perfect day and a full vote was polled. The total vote cast in this town for Member of Assemely was 1,451 as against 1,350 a year ago. Howe's vote last year was 697, yesterday 731—34 more than he received last year. Page receives in this town 645 votes. Johnson's vote in '85 was 582. Page therefore, received 63 more votes than Johnson did one year ago. The Prohibitionists on their total vote in the town for Member of Assembly made a gain of four over last year. On their other candidates a larger gain was made. In the town of Volney, Howe has a majority of 86 over Page, in Granby 49, New Haven 166, Oswego Town 151, Hannibal 101, Scriba 118. In the city of Oswego, Page has a majority over Howe of 410 making Howe's majority over Page in the whole district 261.

The following is the full summary of the town of Volney:

VOLNEY.

CONGRESS.

	Beardsley	Nutting	Howland
First Dist	257	401	47
2d "	161	320	19
3d "	73	121	21

ASSEMBLY 1ST DIST.

	Page	Howe	DuMass
First Dist	322	364	39
2d "	242	255	13
3d "	81	112	23

COURT OF APPEALS.

	Peckham	Daniels	Groo
First Dist	264	408	50
2d "	170	317	19
3d "	72	118	21

SPECIAL SURROGATE.

	Harmon	Baker	Coles
First Dist	264	406	50
2d "	171	316	19
3d "	72	119	23

COUNTY TREASURER.

	McKinley	Moore	Bond
First Dist	257	415	52
2d "	169	318	19
3d "	73	118	21

CORONER 1ST DIST

	Kelly	Nelson	McCully
First Dist	258	413	53
2d "	169	318	19
3d "	73	118	21

CORONER 2D DIST.

	Lawler	Drury	Richards
First Dist	258	414	52
2d "	169	318	19
3d "	73	118	21

JUSTICE OF SESSIONS,

	Potter	Halladay	Sairs
First Dist	258	413	52
2d "	169	318	19
3d "	73	118	21

GRANBY.

CONGRESS

	Dem. Beardsley	Rep. Nutting	Pro. Howland
First District	269	360	35
2d "	126	125

ASSEMBLY—1ST DIST.

	Page	Howe	DuMass
First District	293	314	27
2d "	126	125

COURT OF APPEALS.

	Peckham	Daniels	Groo
First District	275	349	38
2d "	126	125

SPECIAL SURROGATE.

	Harmon	Baker	Coles
First District	274	349	43
2d "	126	125

COUNTY TREASURER.

	McKinley	Moore	Bond
First District	298	357	41
2d "	126	125

CORONER 1ST DIST.

	Kelly	Nelson	McCully
First District	270	354	41
2d "	126	125

CORONER 2D DIST.

	Lawler	Dury	Richards
First District	260	355	41
2d "	126	125

JUSTICE OF SESSIONS

	Potter	Halladay	Sairs
First District	271	354	41
2d "	126	125

ELECTION NOTES.

The Democrats carried the State by about 20,000.

Eighteen out of the twenty-four aldermen elected in New York city are Democrats.

Hewitt is elected Mayor of New York city by a majority of about 20,000 over George, the next highest candidate.

The Assembly will have this year 76 Republican members and 52 Democratic members as against 78 Republicans last year and 50 Democrats.

Six hundred and twenty-eight votes were cast in the 1st district in Granby for the Constitutional convention and none against.

The vote of the candidates for mayor of New York was Hewitt, 90,296; George 67,699; Roosevelt, 60,392.

Congress will contain 20 Republicans and 14 Democrats a Republican gain of threee members.

Ohio went Republican by about 10,000.

All kinds of winter foot wear at Collins'. 25tf.

Just received at Drapers 100 of those leading $1.00 lamps—all complete with B. Burner, Illuminator and Shade. He will put the above lamps on sale Saturday at 85c. each. Remember the place 15 Oneida street, where they are selling Hanging Lamps at prices that will surprise you.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

A RARE CHANCE
To get a First-Class Illustrated Magazine, with a Premium to every subscriber. This offer is made by the Publisher of
LEISURE HOURS
Best and Cheapest Home and Fashion Magazine published.
—$1.50 per year in advance.—
[illegible]

[illegible]

M Amdursky has started a new clothing store in the Harter block.

It is a mistake that there is or has been a large amount of sickness in this place. It is very healthy here.

Several new buildings are going up here.

Regent's examinations, for the first time will take place in our academy Nov. 9. Our school is in good order and doing well. Prof. Hawkins, state visitor of teachers' classes, has visited us and found things much better than he anticipated. The class was more mature than he expected. Prof. Watkins has also visited our academic department, and he spoke very highly of its management.

South Granby.

Andrew Hodson and wife who have been spending several weeks with friends here and in this vicinity start for their home in Michigan to-morrow.

John A. Blakeman attended the unveiling ceremonies of Bartholdi's Statue of Liberty enlightening the world last week.

Will Bellows and wife of Hortontown spent Sunday with friends here.

The Good Templars will hold an oyster supper at the hall in Jacksonville next Wednesday evening. Admission 25 cents.

South Scriba.

Mrs. J. J. Peck has gone to Jersey City to spend the winter with friends.

W. H. Eggleston, formerly of Mt. Pleasant, has opened a grocery store.

It is reported that Elihu Burdick is running the Benoit Evaporator.

The new cider mill that was started here recently, is doing a good business,

The names of 456 persons appear on the assessment rolls. All of these are entitled to vote. Read carefully the communication in this issue of THE TIMES that you may vote intelligently on this important question.

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

Just received by Schenck & Foster a cargo of No. 4 coal. As the size is very hard to obtain, those wishing it would do well to put in an early order. 25tf

Central N. Y. Base Ball League.

The first annual meeting of the Central New York League will be held at the armory of the Oneida, Battery Oneida N. Y., on Monday afternoon and evening, Nov. 8. All organizations desiring membership are requested to send two delegates, with full authority to act. The business of the meeting will include the awarding of the pennant, and closing up the business of '86, reorganization for '87, electing a delegate to the convention of the national board of arbitration &c. A full representation from the clubs of '86 is especially requested. M. Cavana, Prest.

Catarrh is a constitutional disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a constitutional remedy. It cures catarrh. Give it a trial.

Lightning struck a hive of bees in Kansas the other day. The misguided lightning came out of that hive quicker than it went in, and went off into space with its tail between its legs. Moral: Never pick a quarrel when you are not acquainted with the folks.—[Texas Siftings.

* * * * Delicate diseases of either sex, however induced, speedily and permanently cured. Book 10 cents in stamps. World's Dispensary Medical association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

NEW PRINCETON REVIEW.

The November number of this Review completes its second volume. The continued success of this periodical has encouraged the publishers in adding at increased expense new features which add materially to its permanent value. First, the "Record," which gives an accurate review of events and important movements going on in the world, with some respect to the relative importance of subjects. This will appear at the close of each volume. Second, A Very Full Index, with Classifications, which are specially adapted to the purposes of the REVIEW. This we believe to be the most practical system of indexing yet devised.

The Nevember number completes the second volume of the REVIEW. For the convenience of subscribers, covers of appropriate design will be furnished, at 50 cents each, prepaid, on rebeipt

Bound Copies of Volume I., $2.50. Sent Charges Prepaid.

Single Numbers, 50 cents. $3.00 a Year.

We are in receipt of "Home Life" the first number of an illustrated monthly issued by the Home Life Publishing Co., of New York. If succeeding numbers are as good as the initial one, the magazine will take a high rank. In this the November number there are found excellent portraits of Alfred Tennyson, Lady Ashmead Bartlett, Lillie Langtry and others. The engraving "Seven Boys" is most artistically executed. Price ten cts. per copy, $1 per year.

"The Pearl" an interesting and instructive magazine is also received from the same company.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

Smart Weed and Belladonna combined with other ingredients used in the best porous plasters make Carter's S. & B. Backache Plasters the best in the market. Price 25 cents.

Don't trifle with any Throat or Lung Disease. If you have a Cough or Cold, or the children are threatened with Croup or Whooping Cough, use Acker's English Remedy and prevent further trouble. It is a positive cure, and we guarantee it. Price 10 and 50c by H. C. Giesler.

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expediously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at low cost and [illegible]. 7tf

[illegible]
From our Regular Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 30, 1886.

The only episode of the week that varied President Cleveland's Work day life was his trip to New York and participation in the "Statue of Liberty" celebration. He was accompanied by his private secretary, Colonel Lamont, and four members of his Cabinet—Secretaries Bayard, Whitney, Lamar and Postmaster General Vilas. The President and Lamar came near being left. As the time of the departure grew limited, the other members of the party took their places in the special car and became quite impatient at Mr. Cleveland's tardiness. Just at the moment for the train to start, however, he hurriedly ascended the steps of the car. A number of other officials and also of unofficial Washingtonians went to the unveiling on the Presidential train.

Rev. Byron Sunderland, the President's pastor and the man who performed his marriage ceremony, has been indulging in some plain pastorial talk. It was a sharp reply to a newspaper sensation about Deacon Patterson's removal from office, and an attempt to make trouble in the President's church. The Reverend doctor had been accused of refusing to intercede with the President in behalf of this unfortunate member of his flock, who was seeking re-instatement. Thoroughly aroused, the pastor threw off the garb of theology for the time and became an indignant man of the world. Said he, "The whole paragraph is a lie of the first water. The correspondents of the New York World from this city, from Crawford down, for some cause or other, have been lying about me and the church for some time past. This is one of the worst lies they have told yet." He stated that there was only one grain of truth mixed with this immense falsehood. There was such a man as Mr. Patterson in his church and he had been dismissed from the Treasury some time ago. But no party had been to the President about it as has been alleged and he had heard of no dissatisfaction among his members. He did not choose, however, to bandy words with such a scandal monger as the New York World. It and its minions might go on with their lies. He had lived in Washington for nearly thirty-four years and if the dastardly paper wanted to 'chaw' him up at this late day, it might 'chaw.'"

The Catholics in this city do not like the Clevelands, and their clergy are working against the administration in a quiet way. They remember certain obnoxious portions of Miss Cleveland's book, and they point to the fact the President is the son and also the brother of a Presbyterian clergyman and a regular attendant of a church in charge of another clergyman whom they allege is bitterly hostile to them. The fact that Col. Lomont, the President's most confidental adviser and bosom friend, is a loyal conscientious member of their flock, has not placated them. They interpolate their sermons, these times, with admonitions "to vote intelligently and loyally."

The growth of the city has never been more rapid than it now is, and any one who has been absent from here only a few months will notice many changes. In the north-west, the fashionable part of the city, about three hundred fine houses have been built since last spring. The majority of them are owned by wealthy people who intend to make Washington their winter home and few of them are for sale.

After the President bought his country place, it was thought there would be a vigorous rise of real estate in his neigborhood, and quite an effort was made to that end, but as yet without much success. Most of the people who are building here can go away in the summer, and they prefer to have their winter home within the city limits.

These beautiful autumn days have been partly employed by Mrs. Cleveland in her trips out to "Red Top," as the country residence has been christened. She is engaged in overseeing the decorations there and in selecting the furnishings. The house is to contain a medley of souvenirs. The household furniture of mother Folsom is to be used, also some of the President's possessions of his bachelor days, and some of the wedding presents which they did not wish should become part of the White House furnishings. Among them was a Steinway grand piano which has been ordered to "Red Top."

It is said that when the social season begins, Mrs. Cleveland intends to inaurate a number of changes in regard to White House ceremonies.

Special Village Meeting.

Notice is hereby given that a Special Meeting of the taxable inhabitants of the Village of Fulton, will be held at the Rooms of the Trustees of said Village, on THURSDAY EVENING, Nov. 4th, 1886.

For the purpose of submitting the question of increasing the Ordinary Expenses of the Village.

At said Meeting the following Resolution will be submitted to be voted on by ballot.

RESOLVED, That the sum of Seventeen Hundred and Ninety-four Dollars and Thirteen Cents, ($1,794.13) be raised by Tax on the Taxable Property of the Village of Fulton, for the purpose of Lighting the Public streets and Grounds of said Village with Electric Light for the term of one year. That the Board of Trustees of said Village if hereby authorized and directed to enter into Contract for the immediate Lighting of said Streets and Grounds, according to the Specifications heretofore made by said Board, under which Specifications bids have been made; payment therefor to commence at the date of the practical operation of said Lighting as approved by said Board. The Contract with any Company to provide for such additional lights as shall be required by said Board at pro-rata price, and to reserve the right and provide for the privilege of a continuation of such contract for one or more years at the option of said Board on the terms and conditions as provided in said contract for one year. The Tax voted by this resolution shall be collected by first warrant issued after the next Annual Meeting of said Village. That said Board of Trustees, if in its judgment it shall be necessary, is hereby authorized to borrow money to discharge the obligations of any Contract it may enter into, under this resolution.

Polls open from 7 to 9 p. m.
Dated October 14, 1886.

J. N. SHARP, President.
WILLARD JOHNSON,
A. P. CHASE,
H. H. KENDRICK,
D. PARDEE,
ALEX BRADFORD,
JOHN MORE,
Trustees.

SUMMONS,

SUPREME COURT.—County of Oswego. Alice Hethington vs. Nellie E. Sears, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Josephine Hethington, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Marcus F. Crahan, Newell W. Stowell, Smith Craver, William Craver and Josiah C. Mosher.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the Complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this Summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the County of Oswego.—Dated this 30th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and [illegible]

[illegible]

The Appetite

May be increased, the Digestive organs strengthened, and the Bowels regulated, by taking Ayer's Pills. These Pills are purely vegetable in their composition. They contain neither calomel nor any other dangerous drug, and may be taken with perfect safety by persons of all ages.

I was a great sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation. I had no appetite, became greatly debilitated, and was constantly afflicted with Headache and Dizziness. I consulted our family doctor, who prescribed for me, at various times, without affording more than temporary relief. I finally commenced taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time my digestion and appetite my bowels were regulated, and, by the time I finished two boxes of these Pills my tendency to headaches had disappeared, and I became strong and well.—Darius M. Logan, Wilmington, Del.

IMPROVED

I was troubled, for over a year, with Loss of Appetite, and General Debility. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and, before finishing half a box of this medicine, my appetite and strength were restored. —C. O. Clark, Danbury, Conn.

Ayer's Pills are the best medicine known to me for regulating the bowels, and for all diseases caused by a disordered Stomach and Liver. I suffered for over three years with Headache, Indigestion, and Constipation. I had no appetite, and was weak and nervous most of the time.

BY USING

three boxes of Ayer's Pills, and, at the same time dieting myself, I was completely cured. My digestive organs are now in good order, and I am in perfect health.—Philip Lockwood, Topeka, Kans.

Ayer's Pills have benefited me wonderfully. For months I suffered from Indigestion and Headache, was restless at night, and had a bad taste in my mouth every morning. After taking one box of Ayer's Pills, all these troubles disappeared, my food digested well, and my sleep was refreshing.—Henry C. Hemmenway, Rockport, Mass.

I was cured of the Piles by the use of Ayer's Pills. They not only relieved me of that painful disorder, but gave me increased vigor, and restored my health.—John Lazarus, St. John, N. B.

Ayer's Pills,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicine.

THE NEW QUININE.

Science emerging from Darkness.

KASKINE
WHAT THE
PHYSICIANS
SAY ABOUT IT IN
RHEUMATISM,
MALARIA, DYSPEPSIA,
NERVOUS DEBILITY,
LIVER, LUNG AND KIDNEY DISEASE.

The eminent and celebrated Dr. Glessner writes: The Kaskine Co.—DEAR SIRS—"The first greatest successes I had with Kaskine were in chills and fever, malaria, nervous debility, rheumatism, dyspepsia, and liver diseases, and I considered at that time it was undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered, but I was even then unfamiliar with its really wonderful powers in curing all the other germ diseases and disorders, particularly where the blood had become diseased or impoverished and the digestion impaired. Strictly speaking, Kaskine is the only blood purifier we have. I use it also very largely with unfailing success in all diseases peculiar to women and children. In over three hundred cases I have cured there has never been the slightest bad effect following its use, and it is far superior to any tonic or nerve medicine ever known to the medical profession."

Very truly yours,
L. M. GLESSNER, M. D., 300 East 121st St., N. Y.

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

The U. S. Examining Surgeon, Dr. L. R. White, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

St. Francis Hospital, N. Y. } "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful."

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered indispensible. It acts perfectly."

Kaskine is pleasant to take and can be used without special medical counsel.

Send for the great book of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine. $1 a bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

CHEESE MARKET.

[From the Utica Herald.]

UTICA, Nov. 1.

The cheese market to-day experienced a decided boom. The stiffening of the market in New York made sellers hold back for a considerable advance over last week's figures. Buyers are cautious for a while, but when they too began to realize that it was an advancing market all around, termes were easily made, and an unusually large quantity of cheese changed hands at encouraging figures for sellers. The rusult was that nearly 2,000 boxes were sold at an advance over last week's highest quoted price, while over 3,000 boxes more were handed over to the buyers. The market closed earlier than usual, as every body was disposed to sell at the favorable advance, and all of the unusually large amount offered were disposed of. The sales at 12 cents were for especially fine all September cheese. Transactions of the day were:

Lots	Boxes	Price
11	851	11 cents
8	790	11⅛ cents
60	5,866	11¼ cents
11	1,068	11¼ cents
3	224	11⅝ cents
8	827	11¾ cents
6	561	11⅞ cents
2	505	12 cents
1	117	p. t.
	10,809
	562	Com
	11,141

Ruling price 11¼. Corresponding day of last year, sales 7,728 boxes, ruling price 9¼c. Two years ago 6,421, ruling price 11¼c.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, Nov. 1.

[Special]—The indications of improvement in price last week were followed up to-day, and we have had a good brisk trade at about one-half cent better figures, This is quite a pleasant feature in as much as many had predicted lower prices. It will be seen that there is not a wide range in prices, showing that quality is quite uniform Sales were almost entirely early October make, and cheese that is cured sufficiently is well sold out, among factories represented upon this market. It was generally expected that 11¼c. would be the ruling price, but late sales fixed it fairly at 11½c. Sales are as follows:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price.
5	259	11 cents
20	1,931	11¼ cents
38	2,364	11½ cents
21	1,259	11¾ cents
1	50	p. t.
10	1,097	Com.
97	6,851
Farm dairy	841
Total	7,692

Farm Dairies—The sales on the morning market foot 841 boxes. Prices ranged at 10 to 11¾c., the bulk going at 11½c.

Butter—About 100 packages farm dairy butter sold from 20 to 23c., by far the largest portion at 22c. There was 25 packages of creamery sold at 24 to 25c., quite all at 24c.

AT FULTON.

About 20 factories were represented at this market last Monday evening and 1,600 boxes were offered, which were sold at 11¼ to 11½ cents. Most at the former figure.

SCHOOL OF SHORT HAND
—AND—
TYPE WRITING.
CLASSES DAY AND EVENING.
Lessons by Mail a Specialty.
Terms Moderate. For further particulars apply to
[illegible]

[illegible]

The Greatest Yet!

Instructive and Interesting Reading for the Long Winter Evenings.

SUBSCRIBE

and get some Excellent Reading Matter, Free.

TWENTY-FIVE BOOKS,

of your own selection

FREE!

To Every New Subscriber to THE TIMES, and to every Old Subscriber who pays his Subscription to date and one year in advance will receive Free any twenty-five of the following Books that he or she may select, or the whole forty-five with one year's Subscription to

THE TIMES FOR $1.50.

These books are published in neat pamphlet form, upon good paper, and printed with good type. These same books with cloth binding sell at $1.00 per volume.

By looking over the following list many books will be seen that you would like, Twenty-five of which you can secure FREE!

MARVELOUS PRICES!

BOOKS FOR THE MILLION

Complete Novels and Other Works, by Famous Authors, Almost Given Away. The following books are published in neat pamphlet form, and all are printed from good type upon good paper. They treat of a great variety of subjects, and we think no one can examine the list without finding therein many that he or she would like to possess. In cloth-bound form these books would cost $1.00 each. Each book is complete in itself.

1. The Widow Bedott Papers. This is the book over which your grandmothers laughed till they cried, and it is just as funny to-day as it ever was.
2. Winter Evening Recreations, a large collection of Acting Charades, Tableaux, Games, Puzzles, etc., for social gatherings, private theatricals, and evenings at home.
3. Back to the Old Home. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay, author of "Hidden Perils."
4. Dialogues, Recitations and Readings, a large and choice collection for school exhibitions and public and private entertainments.
5. The Standard Letter Writer for Ladies and Gentlemen, a complete guide to correspondence, giving plain directions for the composition of letters of every kind, with innumerable forms and examples.
6. The Frozen Deep. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins, author of "The Woman in White," etc.
7. Red Court Farm. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood, author of "East Lynne," etc.
8. The Lady of the Lake. By Sir Walter Scott. "The Lady of the Lake" is a romance in verse, and of all the works of Scott, none is more beautiful than this.
9. In Cupid's Net. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
10. Amos Barton. A Novel. By George Eliot, author of "Adam Bede," "The Mill on the Floss," etc.
11. Lady Gwendoline's Dream. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
12. The Mystery of the Holly Tree. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
13. The Budget of Wit, Humor and Fun, a large collection of the funny stories, sketches, anecdotes, poems, and jokes.
14. John Bowerbank's Wife. A Novel. By Miss Mulock, author of "John Halifax, Gentleman," etc.
15. The Gray Woman. A Novel. By Mrs. Gaskell, author of "Mary Barton," etc.
16. Sixteen Complete Stories by Popular Authors, embracing love, humorous and detective stories, stories of society life, of adventure, of railway life, etc., all very interesting.
17. Jasper Dane's Secret. A Novel. By Miss M. E. Braddon, author of "Aurora Floyd," etc.
18. Fancy Work for Home Adornment, an entirely new work upon this subject, containing easy and practical instructions for making fancy baskets, wall pockets, brackets, needle work, embroidery, etc., etc., profusely and elegantly illustrated.
19. Grimm's Fairy Stories for the Young. The finest collection of fairy stories published. The children are delighted with them.
20. Manual of Etiquette for Ladies and Gentlemen, a guide to politeness and good breeding, giving the rules of modern etiquette for all occasions.
21. Useful Knowledge for the Million, a handy book of useful information for all, upon many and various subjects.
22. The Home Cook Book and Family Physician, containing hundreds of excellent cooking recipes and hints to housekeepers, also telling how to cure all common ailments by simple home remedies.
23. Manners and Customs in Far Away Lands, a very interesting and instructive book of travels, describing the peculiar life, habits, manners and customs of the people of foreign countries.
24. 37 Popular Ballads. Same size as sheet music. Words of all the old and new songs.
25. Called Back. A Novel. By Hugh Conway.
26. At the World's Mercy. A Novel. By Florence Warden, author of "The House on the Marsh," etc.
27. Mildred Trevanion. A Novel. By "The Duchess," author of "Molly Bawn," etc.
28. Dark Days. A Novel. By the author of "Called Back."
29. Shadows on the Snow. A Novel. By B. L. Farjeon, author of "Bread-and-Cheese-and-Kisses," etc.
30. Leoline. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay, author of "Brenda Yorke."
31. Gabriel's Marriage. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins, author of "No Name," etc.
32. Reaping the Whirlwind. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay, author of "Old Middleton's Money," etc.
33. Dudley Carleon. A Novel. By Miss M. E. Braddon, author of "Lady Audley's Secret," etc.
34. A Golden Dawn. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne," etc.
35. Valerie's Fate. A Novel. By Mrs. Alexander, author of "The Wooing O't," etc.
36. Sister Rose. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins, author of "The Woman in White," etc.
37. Anne. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood, author of "East Lynne."
38. The Laurel Bush. A Novel. By Miss Mulock, author of "John Halifax, Gentleman," etc.
39. Robinson Crusoe. A thrilling narrative by Daniel De Foe, describing the adventures of a castaway in the South Pacific Ocean.
40. How to Make Poultry Pay. A practical and instructive series of articles by Mr. P. H. Jacobs, Poultry Editor of "The Farm and Garden," Phila.; illustrated.
41. Parlor Magic and Chemical Experiments, a book which tells how to perform hundreds of amusing tricks in magic and instructive experiments with simple agents.
42. Gems of the Poets, containing charming selections from Tennyson, Longfellow, Whittier, Byron, Shelley, Moore, Bryant, and many others.
43. Building Plans for Practical, Low-cost Houses. A full description and plans of Eight modern houses, ranging in price from $500 to $4500. Illustrated.
44. Anecdotes of Public Men—Washington, Franklin, Webster, Clay, Tilden, Lincoln, Scott, Grant, Garfield, Gladstone, Butler, Hancock, Lee, and all the leading men of the century.
45. Æsop's Fables. The work of an ancient genius. Children have read them for centuries, and grown people quote them every day.

OUR UNEQUALED OFFER.

We have arranged with the publishers of these books to furnish the whole forty-five with one year's subscription to our paper for $1.50; or we will send any five for 25 cts., or the whole forty-five for $1.50. Address all orders to publishers of

"FULTON TIMES,"
Fulton, N. Y.

In sending your Subscription, write only the NUMBERS of the books selected and they will be sent to your address, free of charge. Remember that this offer is only good during the month of November. After this month the offer is void.

Subscribe! Pay Up!

NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.

Time Table Taking Effect July 4th, 1886.

NORTHWARD.					SOUTHWARD.
5	3	1	9	STATIONS.	6	4	2	10
p m	p m	a m	a m	Leave Arrive	a m	a m	p m	p m
5 15	3 00	6 50	6 20	Jay St., N. Y.	9 40	11 00	7 50	11 20
5 25	3 15	9 10	6 55	42nd St., N. Y.	9 25	10 45	7 35	11 10
7 46	5 11	11 16	9 42	West Cornwall	7 38	8 59	5 40	8 15
8 18	5 47	11 38	10 26	Campbell Hall	7 10	8 30	5 13	7 10
8 30	6 07	12 01	11 00	M't'n Main St.	6 52	8 15	4 55	6 37
8 48	6 20	12 20	12 23	Middletown	6 50	8 13	4 55	6 15
9 02	6 38	12 36	1 00	Winterton	6 18	7 48	4 21	5 45
9 06	6 45	12 43	1 15	Bloom'ngb'rgh	6 12	7 37	4 15	5 35
9 12	6 47	12 48	1 20	Wurtsboro	6 08	7 33	4 11	5 25
9 18	7 00	12 56	1 20	Summitville	6 00	7 25	4 08	5 15
....	7 14	1 30	....	Ellenville	....	7 06	3 40	....
9 36	7 19	1 19	2 00	Mountain Dale	5 43	7 09	3 45	4 50
9 48	7 27	1 26	2 12	Centerville	5 35	6 56	3 36	4 35
9 53	7 35	1 39	2 26	Fallsburgh	5 27	6 46	3 30	4 26
10 00	7 43	1 46	2 40	Hurley	5 20	6 41	3 26	4 06
10 12	7 55	2 00	3 10	Liberty Falls	5 00	6 30	3 10	3 40
10 26	8 00	2 05	3 20	Liberty	5 04	6 25	3 05	3 30
10 30	8 15	2 20	3 50	Parksville	4 45	6 13	2 53	3 05
10 42	8 25	2 29	4 16	L'v'gst'n Man'r	4 40	6 00	2 40	2 45
10 55	p m	2 35	4 27	Rockland	4 25	a m	2 27	2 10
11 07	....	2 56	4 49	Cook's Falls	4 17	....	2 16	1 55
11 20	....	3 15	5 18	East Branch	3 58	....	1 55	1 25
....	12	3 41	5 28	Fish's Eddy	3 45	14	1 46	1 12
11 56	a m	3 54	5 58	Hancock	3 32	p m	1 35	12 55
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Walton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Delhi	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Franklin	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Sidney Centre	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Sidney (Depart)	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	New Berlin	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Guilford Centre	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Guilford	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Oxford	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Norwich	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Norwich	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	North Norwich	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Smyrna	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Earlville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Randallsville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Oneida	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

We still live and feel healthy. The very disastrous effect of the Oswego county druggists' combination, upon our diet during the past year, seemed so apparent that upon consulting our bank account, and Wilcox's meat scales, we find ourselves yet, quite a ghost. The big guns of the Oswego county drug combination for the prevention of cruelty to fish, are still aimed at our council. Our diet of corn meal and onions enables us to still step heavily upon the necks of the Oswego county poor man's friends. We still hold forth at the beautiful opera house drug store and have increased our stock of Pure Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Wines, Liquors, Fancy Toilet Articles, Oils, Paints, and in fact everything pertaining to a first-class drug line. We desire to sincerely thank our many Fulton and vicinity friends who have stood by us in our past warfare, and thereby enabled us to secure a good fitting out of our clothes. Our Combination Competitors, have acquired such an affection for us that when we chance to pass them upon the streets, they greet us with the following smiling expression:

Remember our place, The Opera House Drug Store, Opposite the Stephens Opera House, Fulton, N. Y. H. C. GIESLER.

ROGERS' GRAPOLINE

ROGERS'
GRAPOLINE

Is a household name throughout the United States. It is administered as a specific, and with SUCCESS, in DYSPEPSIA, Sick HEADACHE, Nervous Debility, Liver Complaint, Billous Remittents, Bowel Complaints (especially CONSTIPATION), Gout, Gravel, RHEUMATISM, Nausea, the complaints peculiar to the maternal sex, and all types of inflammation.

So mild is it in its operation that it can be given with perfect safety to the feeblest child; and so agreeable is it to the taste, so refreshing to the palate, that children never refuse to take it. FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

A. H. ROGERS & CO. Geneseo, N. Y.

Real Estate and Insurance

AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap, Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 94 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y

☞ Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at FULTON, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

TAKE THE BEST!
Complete In Every Feature.
THE UTICA HERALD

in its morning and weekly editions, is now better prepared than ever before to serve its great constituency of more than a million people in the rich and intelligent counties of Central and Northern New York.

It is able with its Hoe Web Perfecting press to meet all demands upon its circulation promptly in the city at the earliest hour, and in the adjoining country by the first trains and street cars.

ALL THE NEWS

will be presented, classified and condensed for the perusal of busy people who read no other paper, and rely upon its columns for information of movements at home and abroad.

THE MARKETS.

Financial, General, Local, and not least those relating to the Dairy and Hops, will continue to receive close attention, and will deserve the confidence of buyers and retailers, as a standard of transactions and prices.

HOME INTELLIGENCE

for Utica, Oneida county, and the twelve great counties of Central and Northern New York, is gathered by trained and experienced reporters and correspondents, whose work is not even attempted by any other journal.

WASHINGTON AND ALBANY,

the capitals of the State and Nation, are kept in communication with our readers by the freshest and fullest dispatches daily, reporting the proceedings of Congress and the Legislature, and the transactions of the departments.

EDITORIAL DISCUSSIONS

supplement the daily news, and deal with current topics which concern society, the State, the family, and the individual in every walk of life. Nothing which affects our common humanity is deemed alien to these columns. In completeness and variety the editorial pages of the UTICA HERALD will keep abreast with the intelligence and tastes and requirements of its hosts of readers.

THE LITERARY AND AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENTS

of this journal are almost unique in their extent and chracter, and we have abundant evidence that they are highly valued by our subscribers.

Skilled men watch and report all that affects the

DAIRY AND HOPS.

The UTICA HERALD will be as it has always been

STEADFASTLY REPUBLICAN

in its political principles, and will labor for the unity of the party, as essential to the public welfare. It will strive now as in all the past to deserve a welcome place in every family for its moral tone, its bright and cheerful temper, its hopes for human progress, and its regard for the aspirations of our race.

Our columns now contain

MORE READING MATTER

than ever before, and it is all carefully prepared and put in type exclusively for us. The morning edition consists of eight large full pages, while the

UTICA WEEKLY HERALD

contains all the features that render the daily edition popular, and is carefully edited to make useful and attractive the abundant space which is afforded by

TWELVE LARGE PAGES.

☞ A sample copy of either edition will be sent to any address on receipt of a postal card asking it.

TERMS.—UTICA MORNING HERALD 67 cents a month, or $2.00 for three months. UTICA WEEKLY HERALD $1.50 a year. Postage free to all subscribers.

ELLIS H. ROBERTS & CO.,
60 Genesee St., Utica, N. Y.

[illegible]

NEW COAL FIRM.
REMEMBER THAT
HART & CULLEN
ARE SELLING THE
Wilkesbarre and Pittston Coal,
THE BEST COAL MINED.
Leave Orders at Hart's Pottery, or Cullen's Meat Market
and you will find prices very satisfactory.
Coal Delivered in Fulton or Oswego Falls.
21m3

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing.

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

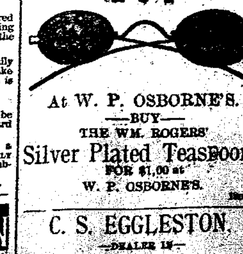
PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,

—AT THE—

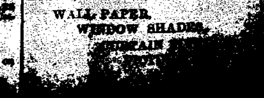
FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

-BUY-
Hampden Watches
—AT—
W. P. OSORNE'S.



REPAIRED AT OSBORNE'S.
WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY.

-B-U-Y-



At W. P. OSBORNE'S.
—BUY—
THE WM. ROGERS'
Silver Plated Teaspoons
FOR $1.00 at
W. P. OSBORNE'S.
18m4

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
[illegible]

[illegible] L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

[illegible] Express	8:18 a. m
[illegible] York and Philadelphia Express	11:[illegible] a. m
[illegible]hamton and Elmira Express	3:0[illegible] p. m
[illegible] and Accommodation	6:15 p. m
[illegible] York and Phil. Night Express	8:30 p. m

GOING NORTH.

New York and Philadelphia Express	8:15 a. m.
Day Express	12:19 p. m.
Day Express	2:46 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation	6:49 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express	9:20 p. m.

The 8:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:18 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:06 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:27 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	9:57 p. m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:16	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19	3:24	6:29

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

O. P. Conger has returned from Europe.

H. V. Spencer of Mexico passed Sunday in town.

Rev. Charles Hudson Smith was in town last Friday.

Willis Ney is again able to be out after his severe illness.

Dr. Jones and C. B. Benson of Minetto were in town Monday.

Miss Grace Tucker is visiting with friends in Phœnix this week.

Mrs. R. C. Scott of Baldwinsville is visiting her friend Mrs. Eva Williams.

Mrs. N. W. Otman visited her son Rev. Gilbert Otman at Fayetteville Sunday.

Miss Addie Roberts of Watkins is visiting Miss Carrie Bache of Lower Oswego Falls.

Mrs. Eliza Howell has been the guest of her brother, S. N. Kenyon for the past few days.

Dr. Isaac Morrill and wife of Elmira are the guests of Mrs. H. Broadwell of Oswego Falls.

Mrs. C. K. Howe who has been visiting for a few weeks in Chicago and Cincinnati returned to-day.

Dr. Thomas Kearney and bride of Rochester have been visiting their uncle Rev. Father Kearney this week.

Benjamin Taylor, who has been visiting friends here for the past week, returned to his home in Elmira to-day.

C. W. McCormick, manager of the Granby Brown stone quarry is in Indianapolis Ind. on business this week.

Mrs. J. W. Crosby, of Lower Oswego Falls, who has been visiting her daughter in Syracuse, returned home yesterday.

Mrs. Sydney Smith and her little grandchild left Saturday for Traverse City, Mich., where one of her daughters reside.

J. A. & C. G. Fisher of Cleveland, Ohio, members of the Granby Brownstone quarry company were in town last Saturday.

Mrs. J. C. Highriter, who has been spending several weeks with relatives in New York, Brooklyn and Scranton, Pa., returned to Fulton yesterday.

Mrs. Chas. R. Austin of Shelbyville, Mich., is visiting friends in town for a few weeks. Mrs. Austin has been absent from Fulton for nearly twenty years.

A. W. Farnham formerly principal of No. 2 school in our village, now of Hannibal is in poor health and has been compelled to go to Dansville for a while where he hopes his health may be improved.

Lewis Smith of Spring Valley, Minn., was the guest of Alex Bradford last Saturday. He is now visiting with his brother, Wm. Smith of Palermo. He has been absent from this locality for about forty years.

Go to F. E. Bacon's for Trimmings, different grades and colors in stock.

A large line of Men's and Boys' Scotch and Fur Caps cheaper than ever at D. C. More & Co's.

TO LET—The house at the corner of Sixth and State Streets. Inquire of
tf THOMAS CARR.

Remember the place to buy unadulterated groceries CHEAP is at the sign of the Red store No. 18 First street opposite the Lewis house.
24tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

[illegible] of the N. Y. O. & W. [illegible]—The Old Ox Frame of Thirty Years Ago.

The old landmarks of this village are slowly passing into other forms of matter, and the person of seventy or eighty years, finds little to remind him of "Ye olden time," except it be the tax levy, and the oily and slippery eel.

These profound reflections were caused by the recent removal from Second street of the buildings and rubbish to make room for a new station and freight house for the N. Y. O. & W. railroad. A few years ago this lot on the corner of Second and Cayuga streets was owned by the late Oliver French, and upon it was a blacksmith shop for doing general work. Ox shoeing was a specialty. Everybody knew "Uncle Oliver" as he was familiarly called. On this spot could be heard early and late the click of his asthmatic "bellus" and the stroke of his hammer on the anvil. When a child on going to school, we remember of stopping to see the bright fire and the sparks fly as he smote with quick nervous blows the red hot iron on the anvil. His shop was not constructed for beauty alone, but like many of his tools, for sturdy, practical work, and he would not have enjoyed a Queen Anne style if it had been given to him. He was a plain practical man, and not unmindful of passing events, but did not intrude his plans and theories upon the attention of others. He acquired with his own strong will and arm two little fortunes. One was swept away by the "Shrinkage of Values," while engaged as one of a firm in the flouring business. He courageously and nobly acquired another competence by industry and frugality, which he left to his wife and children. But what most interested us in the later portion of his life and labor on this now historic spot and attracted our attention and excited our curiosity was the shoeing of oxen and vicious mules. The old ox frame will be remembered as one of the land marks some twenty years ago, but with all its strength and care in construction, like the "one horse shay" it has vanished. The ox frame into which the ox was "enticed" by putting a long rope around his horns and the other end fastened to a windless in the opposite end of the frame, stood for years in the back part of the shop, (now occupied by the telegraph and ticket office) but the elements at last impaired the integrity of the hemlock plank and the roof covering its forbidding outlines, and like a christain gibbet against the blue sky, it stood in the foreground of Second street the wonder of the young what its use could be. It was quite an exciting spectacle to see an ox weighing more than half a ton struggling to be free, while Uncle Oliver with nail and hammer soon had a pair of shoes on each foot.

In excavating for the foundation of the new buildings some seven feet down were found wrought nails, and rusty old ox shoes and a portion of an old leather apron which the iron rust and oil had fairly preserved. These are the historic records of the past, but it is many a year since the fire upon the forge with its warm glow has gone out, and the bright sparks ceased to fly from the iron on the anvil. Well and faithfully had the old shop served its time but the march of improvement pushed to one side or buried in the rubbish the the rude implements of our fathers and the humble dwellings in which they so dilligently and earnestly wrought. David VanBruen, Freeman Gasper and G.C. Lathrop, who are now living, remember when the black bear had his home on this spot, and the "bear spring," from which Fulton and Oswego Falls now receive nearly one hundred thousand gallons of water per day, is only a mile above here; but old bruin has been driven back to Hannibal or Redfield, although his discendants like a stray tramp from John Brown's tract, occasionally awake to activity the guns and boys who with yelping curs hunt the last of an almost exterminated race. But the appearance of these early settlers and other wild animals within the corporation lines are now seen only in cages.

There is nothing left to mark the spot where once stood the old Smith shop and the plat the boys from the red schoolhouse opposite used as a play ground.

New structures have taken their place, but none more radical or beautiful than the new brick station, offices and freight house of the N. Y. O. & W. road. 120 car loads of clean sand and gravel have changed this once unsightly and malarious ground to one of beauty, convenience and health. The Village Improvement Society can freely give the railroad company the full meed of praise, as it is one of the most tasty and pleasant stations out of the large cities.

Thus as the old gives way, are we not more than compensated by what the new era brings to us?

Now, twenty or more trains per day upon rails of steel with their deafening whistle, rattle and thunder by and the hum and din of the world's traffic is along the trail of the red-man and in sight of the track of his rude bark canoe, as he guided it only a few score years ago down the river and over Oswego Falls.

Yet our eyelids are wet with tears (the "Phœnix" road burns soft coal) as we pensively and forever bid farewell to the historic old ox-frame and its associations. ROBERT STEPHENSON.

Largest Stock!
Lowest Prices!
CLOTHING!
MEN'S UNDERWEAR,
OVERCOATS!
HATS AND CAPS.
Don't buy until you have seen our stock.
D. C. MORE & CO.

To Be Reduced.
My very large stock of Men's Boys' and Youths' Kip and Calf Boots for Fall and Winter wear to be sold at Jobber's Prices to Reduce Stock.
A. E. NETTLETON.

Regents examination will be held in the public schools beginning Tuesday, November 9th.

The first entertainment under the new management at Stephens Opera House will be Duprez & Benedict's minstrels.

Forty-five dollars was appropriated by the Village Board at Oswego Falls for rebuilding the sidewalk at the approach to the lower bridge.

Vote down the resolution submitted to you concerning electric lights. It is only a way of compelling you to accept the lights of a company with which you will not be satisfied.

First Class Custom Clothing is a specialty with Peebles & Cook. In this respect they surpass any store in Northern New York in fit, quality and price. Their Ready-made and Children's Clothing is of excellent style and finish and affords some No. 1 bargains. Go to Peebles & Cook's, examine their goods and compare prices. You will then buy.

Waring the magician gave two excellent exhibitions of the art of legerdemain at the opera house before small audiences on Thursday and Saturday evenings. His tricks caused much wonder and amusement. It was an excellent entertainment for its kind.

Cloaks for Ladies,
Cloaks for Misses,
Cloaks for Children.
Now Styles opened this week at Bacon's. Velvet, Silk or Woolen Garments, long or short, low or high priced. Don't buy before looking at Bacon's.

Mrs. Isabella Alexander will on Wednesday, Nov. 10th, dispose of, at public auction a large quantity of farming utensils and farming implements, twelve tons of hay, nine milch cows and other articles at the Parker farm, three miles east of this village, and one mile south of Hull's Corners. Sale at 10 a. m.

Drop in at D. C. More & Co's. and see an elegant line of Men's Worsted Suits at prices that will astonish you.

Good Templars.

The following officers of Fulton Lodge I. O. of G. T. were installed at a regular meeting on Monday evening: C. T.—C. S. Johnson; V. T.—Miss Mila Kimball; Sec'y—M. T. Whitaker; A. S.—Miss Eva Rowlee; F. S.—Fred Rowlee; T.—Miss Minnie Hall; Chap.—Mrs. R. B. McCully; M.—Homer Willard; D. M.—Miss Addie Oliver; Sent.—Miss Carrie Jones; Guard—Geo. Campbell; R. H. S.—Mrs. S. A. Darrow; L. H. S.—Mrs. E. Van Patten; P. C. T.—Mrs. E. R. Foster.

A Serious Charge.

A serious case of criminal assault occurred in this village on last Saturday evening about ten o'clock. The assailant was Thomas McDonald a young man about twenty-eight years of age and Lizzie Baldram, a domestic the party assailed. The attempted outrage was committed on Sixth street near Buffalo, here McDonald seized the girl and a struggle lasting from ten to fifteen minutes insued, during which the clothes of the girl were nearly torn from her body. Her cries were heard by people living in that locality who went to her assistance. On Monday morning McDonald was arrested by officer Poole on a warrant sworn out by the girl charging him with an attempt to commit rape. He was brought before Police Justice VanWagenen, where he pleaded not guilty and gave $500 bail to appear for examination to-morrow evening.

Duprez & Benedict's Minstrels.

The lovers of rollicking, roaring fun, and of artistic impersonations, will have a good chance to burst their sides with laughter at the comicalities of the Duprez & Benedict Minstrels this week. This is the oldest troupe in the country, and the only troupe that season after season has reappeared with fresh sketches, fresh jokes, fresh scenes, fresh everything, and a ripple of laughter follows them from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from the Lakes to the Gulf. The company embraces many of the best and most famous Ethiopian comedians, end men, ballad singers, dancers and specialty men who have ever engaged in the business. Archie White, the veteran manager, is the sole director and proprietor of the company, and under his charge it has come to be the perfection of minstrel troupes.—[Washington Daily Republican.

Young Men Don't be in such a Hurry to go to a merchant tailor and pay seven story prices for an overcoat or a suit; first come to the C. C. C. C. and look at the fine line of suits and overcoats we are selling from $10,00 to $25.00 your tailor would charge you double the price for the same goods made up by the very same hands, and we guarantee our goods to fit and be just as stylish as any tailors. 4 C's, 20 East Genesee Street, Syracuse, N. Y.

For Sale or To Rent.

A Farm of 40 acres situated two miles north-west of Fulton, known as the Isaiah Conklin farm. Inquire at the premises. Mrs. Mina House. 20t3

KNIGHTS OF LABOR
SHOES!

Outrage vs. Monopoly.

Editor of Patriot I know the Schuyler is your favorite light, that is monopoly. I never knew before that the awarding of a contract to the highest bidder was a monopoly, when you had a chance to choose or reject all bids, neither an outrage. I take your paper regularly, every week, at $1.50 can get THE TIMES for $1.25 is this monopoly or an outrage? The Village Fathers last year let a contract to Penbridge Co. to build a bridge and instructed the attorney to draw a contract, at the next meeting they recinded the resolution and gave one or two hundred dollars more to another company. Was this monopoly? Was this an outrage? They thought it was a better company perhaps. It seems plain to me that it is an outrage when the taxable inhabitants of a village cannot say by a resolution whether they give $48.49 or $54 per light for electric lights without being partial and if I am not mistaken, the first bid of the Thomson-Houston was the cheapest bid per year. Nothing more at present, shall await the result (for or against) the resolution, and will be a quiet and peaceable citizen and pay my tax cheerfully.

TAX PAYER.

Fulton, N. Y., Nov. 1, 1886,

A Close Call.

A serious and what nearly proved a fatal accident occurred to a brakeman named James Munday on the R. W. & O. rail-road at the Broadwaw depot yesterday forenoon.

Munday was walking backward in front of the car removing a coupling when his foot was caught in the guide rail from which he was unable to extract it. He was thrown over backward and as the car was passing over him he grasped the brake rail and succeeded in getting his foot free. He clung to the rail and was carried along under the car until it was stopped. Drs. Pardee and Hall were summoned and found many bones of the leg and foot broken, and the muscles badly lacerated. A couch was secured and the injured man taken to his home in Oswego on the half past eleven passenger train. Munday was filling the place of the brakeman who had his foot so badly injured at nearly the same place a few weeks since.

Last Week's Races.

The weather could not have been worse than it was for the races of the Fulton Trotting Association. After Tuesday there was no day in which the track or weather was sufficiently favorable to continue. On Friday C. C. Chamberlin of Norwich went home with his bay mare Lady Upton, the favorite in the 2:29 class. On Saturday in spite of the heavy track and disagreeable weather the remaining heats in the 2:50 and 2:29 classes were trotted with the following as the winners. In the 2:50 class Nellie K. won Lady Blaze second, Andy Mack third. Time, 2:39¼, 2:45, 2:40, 2:39¼, 2:40, 2:41, 2:39½, 2:39½. Little Volunteer won the 2:29 race, Roscoe second, Purity third. Time, 2:35½, 2:35, 3:34½, 2:38½, 2;39¼, 2:39¼, 2:40. The races were then postponed indefinitely.

KID GLOVES!
F. E. Bacon will open another another new lot of "Centemeri" Kid Gloves on Friday of this week.

The Village Improvement Society.

This organization is progressing finely. The preliminary work has been completed, over one hundred persons have become members, and everything indicates that good work will be accomplished by the organization. A meeting will be held this evening in the session room of the Presbyterian church. D. W. Gardner, the president has been requested to give at this meeting the object, aimes and purposes of the society and as far as practable some details of a our specific work. A large attendance will undoubtedly be present.

Keep Yourself Posted—Don't Forget to Read these Prices.

We are selling more hats and caps than any three stores in Syracuse, and why is it? Because we are knocking the Hatters' big prices silly. We ask you when in town to come and see our men's wool hats 39cts., hatters charge $1.00 for. See our men's genuine fur stiff hats at 75cts., hatters charge $1.25 for. See our men's genuine fur stiff hats $1.45 all stylish shapes, hatters charge $3.50 for them. See our boys' hats at 25c., 35c., 49c., 75c., all worth nearly double the money. See our imported Scotch caps 30c., for which hatters charge 74c. See our grand bargains in fur and plush caps. Go to headquarters for hats and caps. The Central City Clothing Co., 20 East Genesee St., Syracuse, N. Y. The 4 C's.

MILLINERY DEPT.
F. E. Bacon is again receiving New Millinery. He also has an extra force in this department so that all hats and bonnets may be had on time.—We have almost everything and every style in Millinery.

The largest stock of Men's and Boys' Overcoats in Fulton can be found D. C. MORE & CO'S.

☞ The Lambertville "Duck" Rubber Boot has no equal. They will not crack. Sold at Collins'. 25tf.

Curing His Patients.

The afflicted should remember that Dr. S. Marclay will be at his office, Lewis house, Fulton, Thursday, Nov. 4th and every Thursday hereafter, where he has been located since June last. He is successful in treating consumption and chronic diseases, removes cancers without the knife. Some of his wonderful cases will be published in next week's paper. Go and see him before it is to late.

[illegible] 20t3

Thanksgiving, Thursday November 25,

Farm work is about closed for the season.

The South Granby Butter and Cheese will close next Saturday.

Read carefully THE TIMES offer for November to be found in another column.

Pensions have been awarded to Abram Mowers of Parish and to Geo. Sparks of Minetto.

Rev W. Dempster Chase is to talk to the Granby Sunday School Union, at Granby next Sunday afternoon.

The ex-union prisoners of the late war meet this afternoon at the court house in Oswego to complete their organization.

Twenty-five books by well known authors can be obtained free. See THE TIMES offer for November in another column.

Mrs. Gertrude Nichols gave a halloween party to a number of her friends at her home on Cayuga street last Saturday evening.

Remember the special village election to-morrow evening at the trustees rooms over Whitaker's meat market, Polls open from 7 to 9.

The good work of temperance is going on in this village and Oswego Falls. New members are constantly being admitted into the different lodges.

Every one interested in village improvement is invited to attend and join the Association which holds a meeting at the session room of the Presbyterian church this evening at 7:30.

There is to be a six foot picket fence placed around the grounds upon which the new N. Y. O. & W. freight and passenger depots are situated except around the parts facing Cayuga and Second streets.

The Salvation Army in this village have found it necessary to reduce their expenses and have consequently changed their quarters from Church's Hall to the third story of the McCully building on Oneida street.

The Village Board of Oswego Falls have entered into a contract with the Thompson-Houston Electric Light company to light their streets from now until April first with sixteen arc lights at the rate of $1.50 per light per month.

School Commissioner Metcalf calls upon all town clerks and trustees to see that the requirements of the law are fullfilled i. e., that the list of school officers with their postoffice address be filed with the town clerk. There are important communications to be made with the trustees of this district.

A Splendid Variety of colored Jersey stripes at 55cts, at
F. E. BACON'S.

The Howorth Hibernica company gave their entertainment last Friday evening to the largest audience that had assembled at the opera house this season. The panorama containing views of different places in Ireland was very good. The rest of the entertainment was of the nature of a variety show and scarcely worthy of mention as none of the artists excelled in their particular specialties.

ON ACCOUNT OF WARM WEATHER.

Great Big Bargains in Clothing.

On account of the continuous warm weather we are giving bigger bargains than ever in Suits, Overcoats and Pants, for men, boys and children. Come and see our prices, C. C. C. C., 20 East Genessee Street, Syracuse, N. Y.

Try the Conductor 5c. cigar, the finest 5c. cigar in town. Sold by W. J. Watson. 26w9.

Gents, buy your Underwear of D. C. More & Co. they have the largest assortment and lowest prices.

SOMETHING NEW.

The improved Welt $3.00 Calf Shoe equal to the best hand sewed at 22tf COLLINS'.

FOR SALE.

The Coats residence on the North side of Rochester street between Second and Third. For terms enquire on the premises. 21t6

TO RENT—a two story house, centrally located. Suitable for a small family Inquire at this office. 22tf

Special Prices For Carpets, Furniture &c.

A. A. Graff & Co., No's 61 & 63 South Salina Street, Syracuse, offer for the next 30 days, as a special bargain, 100 Parlor suits embossed plush, solid walnut frame, 7 pieces for $35,00; 75 chamber suits, 10 pieces for $25,00; 50 pieces tapestry carpet 60c a yard and 70 pieces extra super ingrain carpet 55c a yard.

We will deliver all purchasers' freight, prepaid to any part of the state. Now is the time for Bargains.

One Night Only.
Stephens Opera House,
YOUNGS BROS, & CO. Managers.
Tuesday Evening, Nov. 9.
The Original and World-Famed
DUPREZ & BENEDICT
MINSTRELS!
Royal Brass Band and Orchestra, and a regiment of
Eminent Artists,
Under the direction of the People's Favorite Comedian,
Archie White,
In a Program of Refined Fun, Teeming with Originality, [illegible]

[illegible] Tax Payers

The Electric Lights [illegible]—Some [illegible] the Resolution [illegible] should be Voted Down.

CITIZENS:—

This week we are to vote upon a resolution submitted by the village board in regard to Electric Lights. It is important; so important that a special election has been called. Error in reference to it, has crept into many minds and the articles in the last two issues of the Patriot have misled others. It is necessary that everyone who votes shall have a full understanding of the subject; we will therefore state some facts.

A meeting of the village board was held some time ago. This was before either the Schuyler or the Thomson-Houston company had made any bids for lighting the village. Mr. Philbrook is the local agent of the Thomson Houston company at Fulton, but does not have authority to make contracts with the village. Mr. Leonard is their agent who possesses this authority. Mr. Philbrook was informed by members of the board that no bids would be received at that meeting. This information he sent to Mr. Leonard who was consequently not present. At that meeting agents of the Schuyler company were present as was also Mr. Philbrook. A trustee while the board was in session said that both companies had representatives present and asked if they were prepared to offer bids for lighting the streets of Fulton. The representative of the Schuyler company was prepared and so stated. Mr. Philbrook of the Thomson-Houston company said that he had been informed by trustees that no bids would be received at that meeting and he had so informed Mr. Leonard, the agent authorized to bid for his company and they were therefore not prepared, but if the board would delay the matter for a few days he would have Mr. Leonard here. Certain members of the board insisted that bids should be received that night and Mr. Philbrook was given one half hour in which to prepare a bid, understanding that he was to bid for lighting the streets one year. He shortly returned and presented a statement signed by himself for the company that they would light the streets at the rate of $60 per light, knowing that the company would light at that figure. The Schuyler agent submitted a carefully prepared bid, proposing to light the village for a short term until April next at the rate of $1,100 for 37 lights, and further that they would continue lighting the village after April next at 17 cents per light per night, or $62 per light per year. Their contract also specified that they should have the exclusive right to do private lighting. This would forbid competition and create a monopoly, and was clearly beyond the authority of the board to grant. Nevertheless the board voted to accept their bid and to make a contract with the Schuyler Co. to light the village until the next general election next March. No bid for this short term was asked of Mr. Philbrook. This unwarranted and high handed action of the board created a burst of indignation from the citizens. The vote stood, for the motion to accept this bid, Johnson, Pardee, Bradford; against the motion, More, Kendrick, Chase. President Sharp broke the tie by voting to accept this monopoly bid. It seems that trustee Bradford was misinformed, or did not clearly understand the nature of the bid. He investigated the matter at once and upon learning the nature of it strenuously objected to any such acceptance. At a meeting on the Saturday following trustee Bradford made a motion to rescind the action of the last meeting and it was carried, trustees Kendrick, More, Bradford and Chase voting to rescind. Mr. Bradford's course was certainly honorable and commendable. Various meetings of the board have since been held at which there have been discussions about the Electric Lights. Trustee More has been untiring in his efforts to have both companies treated fairly and has been outspoken and fearless in his denunciations of chicanery or trickery. At the meeting before the last, trustee Kendrick introduced a motion, which was carried, to submit specifications to each company, to light the village; 1st to April next, 2d for a year. They were to submit their bids.

A representative of the Schuyler Co. arose and said that they were through bidding, that if the board did not sign their previous contract they would be sued, but we shall see that later, the company moderated and did bid.

A meeting was held and bids from both companies were received. For the short term until April next the Thomson-Houston company by their agent, Mr. Leonard, proposed to light the village for $2 per light per month, or 37 lights at the rate of $888 per year. The Schuyler Co. refused to bid for the short time. Their bid before was at the rate of $1,100 per year for 37 lights. For lighting the village for 1 year, 37 lights, the Schuyler Co. bid $1,794.13. The Thomson-Houston Company $1,998.

Trustee Kendrick made a motion to accept the bid of the Thomson-Houston Co. to light the village for the short term being $212 lower than the corresponding bid of the Schuyler Co. Mr. More seconded the motion. President Sharp said "I suspend the motion," by what authority, no one but himself knows. He certainly gets no authority under the charter nor any other book that man ever heard of. To refuse to put a motion is "gag" law. The motion should have been put by a trustee upon his refusal so to do. There was a long discussion. Trustee More and others wanted both propositions submitted to the taxpayers for them to decide; this was certainly the wise course and the only fair way. Mr. Wm. Waugh arose and said he should be ashamed to meet the taxpayers, if he were a member, with any such proposition. He thought the board were doing wrong in dilly dallying with the question, their duty was clear, they should take the lower bid, call a special election and submit it to the people. It seems to me that Mr. Waugh has not followed the discussions closely. Let us see. Here is the Schuyler company supposed to be on the verge of bankruptcy. It tried to saddle a contract on the people granting them a monopoly. Once they shut out other companies they proposed to light at the rate of $62 per light, much the highest of any bid. That is not the kind of a company a business man would want to deal with. Again here is the Thomson-Houston Company, [illegible] with and this company is willing to guarantee that they will put in a plant of machinery and buildings worth $10,-000. The Schuyler company will doubtless put their plant in at Oswego Falls. The Schuyler company proposes to light us for $1,794.13 per year, the Thomson-Houston at $1,998 per year. The difference is $204 per year, but if the latter company come, we shall receive enough in taxes upon their property to make the bids almost if not quite equal. This question of taxes must not be forgotten. The Thomson-Houston company will put in a $10,000 plant, which our assessors can tax, and our village receive the benefit from. The Schuyler company will undoubtedly put their plant in across the river and Oswego Falls will receive the benefit of taxing them. This difference of taxation we repeat, will make almost, if not equal the cost of light from each company. But careful observers have noticed that scarcely a night has passed but there has been trouble with the lights of the Schuyler company, while with the Thomson-Houston company we have yet to find the person who has aught to say against them. The incandescents of the Schuyler company are clearly inferior to those of the other company. In view of all the facts, the difference in the quality of the light, the difference in the financial standing of the companies, the questionable procedure of the Schuyler company in trying to force their light upon you to the exclusion of all others, was Mr. Waugh right in saying that the only question to submit to you citizens, was whether you would take the Schuyler light or none? But the board formed a resolution, a special meeting has been called and you are to vote, and this is what you are to vote for: Whether you will raise $1,794.13 for electric lights. That was the exact sum named in the bid of the Schuyler company. Now in plain words you are to vote whether you will raise that sum of money to accept the bid of the Schuyler company. Voting this proposition down does not mean that you favor the Thomson-Houston Co. or that you are against electric lights, but simply that you discountenance the attempt to force one company upon you to the exclusion of all others. The Patriot did not tell you this, so do not be deceived. Raising this sum $1,794.13 means that you will accept the Schuyler company. Another thing, the members of the board who have stood up for fair dealing, have allowed this proposition to come before you in this way, because as they say, it seemed the only way to get the matter before you. They do not mean that they favor this proposition. These trustees are against the proposition and expect you to vote it down. If you want fair dealing and an honest expression of the taxpayers opinion, then vote this down and vote down any and every proposition that does not give you the right to say which company's bid you will accept. Two propositions could and can be submitted to you. The charter expressly gives power to submit one or more propositions to raise money. The village attorney, W. C. Stephens, so states. There should be submitted these propositions: Whether you would raise by taxation for lighting Fulton by electric lights, $1,794.13 and another whether you would raise $1,998. It would then be left for you to say which company you would accept. Taking into account this element of taxation there is little, if any difference in the price of lights of the two companies.

The only way in which this matter should be settled is to submit the whole question to you taxpayers; to submit to you two propositions. One to raise a certain sum of money representing the bid of the Schuyler company, the other, a certain sum, representing the bid of the Thomson-Houston company. That would give the people the privilege of expressing their voice. It is the only right way to settle the matter. Some people have the idea that if they vote this proposition down we cannot get electric lights this winter. Not so; there are two propositions now before the board to light the village until April next, and either can be accepted at once. This proposition you are to vote on is to raise money to light the village for one year. You can have the lights in the mean time and vote for a year's contract next spring. Still another thing should be considered. The Thomson-Houston company has just gotten out a patent by which they divide one of these 2,000 candle power lights into 3 of about 600 candle power. Would not a 600 candle power light on every corner be better than a big light here and there. We understand that nearly every part of our village could be thoroughly lighted by these 600 candle power lights, at less cost than either bid now before the trustees. Reason the matter well yourselves. Do not submit to any proposition that does not allow you to express your voice. Vote down this and all propositions that are exclusive. Show that you mean to be fairly dealt by. Demand that both propositions be submitted to you.

E. D. VANWAGENEN.

EXPERIENCE
Is an expensive teacher but its lessons are impressive and lasting, and yet how many there are who learn the simplest facts by this costly method, for instance, there are many people who are impressed with the idea that their natural shrewdness is a safeguard against their being taken in by unscrupulous dealers and learn the failure at a grevious cost. Beware of sensational advertisements offering goods at half value and the dealer growing richer by the sacrifibe. Investigate any method of business and let common sense decide what is your best interest.
PEEBLES & COOK
Opposite Opera House.

Farm For Sale.

Situated 6½ miles west of Fulton, 1¼ miles east of South Hannibal, 80 acres, good buildings, will trade for village property. Inquire of or address
GEO. F. HOWLAND,
24w4 South Hannibal, N. Y.

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

Just received at D. C. Draper's, a large order of imported crockery and China, and a fine line, all new patterns, China tea sets and chamber sets, which I will offer for the next 30 days at $1.00 less on chamber sets and $2.00 to $4.00 less on tea sets than any house in Oswego or Syracuse, to reduce part of over-stock, Call and see goods and prices, at 15 Oneida street. 17tf

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

Vienna Bakery.

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionery, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton. Confectionery from 12 cents upward. A fresh supply of crackers, bread and cake constantly on hand. Call and examine my stock. JOHN BARKER,
18tf 26 First st

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the NOVELTY CUSTOM MILL recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & Redhead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any flour or feed grinding done. Flour and feed constantly on hand. Call and try us and we guarantee satisfaction. Flour and feed delivered to any part of Fulton and Oswego Falls free of charge. 18t26

Look at this line of
PARLOR STOVES!
WORLD'S JEWEL,
ART ROYAL,
RED CROSS.
GOLD COIN AND BEAVER.
The last two are ventilating Stoves, and sold exclusively by
SNOW & LOOMIS.

1886. 1886.
AHEAD OF ALL!
MILTON S. PRICE,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.
The Popular Dry Goods, Carpet and Furniture Dealer.
The Great Establishment Renovated, New Decorations, &c., Mammoth Show Windows, One Great Entrance from Salina Street, the most Attractive Store in the City.
PROUD AM I TO ANNOUNCE that after forty years of business experience, I have never been so well prepared to meet the wants of the public as at the present time.
READY CASH WITH EXPERIENCED BUYERS has filled my mammoth stores, running through from Salina to Clinton Streets, with a stock of
DRY GOODS, CARPETS AND FURNITURE,
Unequaled by any Establishment in Central New York.
It would be useless in this small space to attempt an enumeration of the thousands of articles displayed.
DRY GOODS and Fancy Goods,
IN ENDLESS VARIETY.
CARPETS, RUGS, &c.,
A COMPLETE STOCK.
Furniture and Curtain Draperies,
FOR THE RICH AND POOR.
I can give you better value for your money than any other house in the City.
Do not fail, when in Syracuse, to pay this establishment a visit.
MILTON S. PRICE.
Nos. 38 and 40 South Salina Street, and 29, 31 and 33 Clinton Street,
Syracuse, N. Y.

NEW HARNESS SHOP.
The Undersigned would respectfully announce to the public that he has opened a New Harness Shop and is prepared to do all kinds of
REPAIRING
—ON—
HARNESS, TRUNKS, BUGGY TOPS, CUSHIONS, &C. &C.,
☞ As Cheap as the Cheapest.
HARNESS
OF ALL GRADES MADE TO ORDER.
A share of public patronage solicited. Give us a Call.
G. W. BROWN,
Cayuga St., Opposite [illegible]

[illegible]

WORTH KNOWING.

A dust of sulphur while the dew is on is said to be effective against the striped bug.

To check onions running too much to tops bend the tops over near the ground.

By cutting all the grass they can eat and feeding to the pigs, the latter will grow rapidly.

Keep no more animals than can be comfortably accommodated—the excess is more loss than gain.

Onion seed sown now and protected with litter during the winter, will give early onions next spring.

Budding is in season whenever matured buds may be had and the bark peels readily from the stock.

Somebody says set fence and gate-corner posts in water lime and gravel, to insure solidity and durability.

It is well said that a week of exposure to the hot sun, will injure the horse rake, mower and reaper more than a whole season's use.

Calves should grow spring and summer to be worth keeping through the winter. Never stint their growth, if it is intended to raise them.

Do not plow land when it is too wet. If it unfortunately becomes cloddy, run a heavy roller over it or a "crusher," and harrow it thoroughly besore sowing it with grain.

There are few things so important on the farm as sowing good seed. A few cents saved in using seed which cannot be relied upon often causes considerable positive loss.

The last month of an animal's life has great influence upon its flesh, because the feeding during that period largely determines the flaver and quality.

There is no use of a chicken or hen having the gapes for 24 hours. A few drops of camphor and water down the throat is a sure cure.

Have you taken plenty of dry sand into the cellar in which to pack away the root crops, beets, carrots, etc.? No. Well do it at once and be sure you get a sufficient quantity, if you wish your vegetables to retain their flavor.

Orchard and Fruit Garden in November.

Caring for and disposing of the harvested crops, and extending the plantations, whether of orchard or small fruits will make this, in mild localities, a busy month. Care of what we have should be the first consideration. See that the fences and gates are made secure for winter. Young trees in windy places may have a mound of earth drawn up to their trunks to stiffen them, or they may be staked. A mound of earth a foot high will keep away mice. Trap or shoot rabbits: they are fat and good at this season. Planting trees—Where the autumn is mild, apple trees may be planted. For planting next spring, order trees now and heel them in, to be ready for planting. If not already done, make a list of the orchard so that the name of each tree may be known by its position. Keep apples in barrels under a shed until freezing weather; then take to the cellar, which should be kept open as long as possible. Cider should be made in cool weather, when fermentation can go on slowly. Prune grapevines and currant bushes, saving the prunings for cuttings. Raspberries.—Bend down the canes of tender sorts and cover with earth. Strawberries.—Cover the beds with straw. Corn stalks are a good substitute.—[American Agriculturist.

Storing Fruits and Vegetables.

It seems unfortunate that, after being to the trouble of sowing and planting vegetables and fruit trees, so many amateurs lose their crops solely from lack of knowledge how to store them for winter. In some cases their loss is not wholly through ignorence; we are sorry to say that negligence is at the bottom of the trouble. There is no secret about the methods of storing and protecting the crop for winter, and nothing but ordinary intelligence and carefulness is necessary. With vegetables it has always been our practice to have an abundance of dry sand in the cellar, or wherever we stored, and when beets, carrots, cabbage, etc., were brought in to pack the roots closely in the sand.

Fruits such as apples, pears, quinces, etc., are best stored by packing in barrels and putting in a dry place where they cannot be reached by frost. We are usually averse to using sawdust as packing material for grapes, as the fruit is apt to taste of the sawdust; wrapping each branch in tissue paper is preferable and fully as successful a way of storing.—[Our Country Home.

An Agricultural Editor.

"Ah," said the summer tourist, leaning over the fence and addressing the farmer, "may I make bold to inquire what that great quantity of green vegetation growing over there is?"

"Cert'nly, mister that's corn."

"Ah, thanks. And those large animals over beyond the fence, they're, er–."

"Cows, my friend, every one of 'em cows. Say, you don't seem to be very well posted on these 'er things."

"Perhaps not. The fact is, my business has kept me so closely confined that this is the first chance I've had to get out in the country."

"Running a bank or something like that?"

"No, sir, I am editor of an agricultural paper. I have held that position for 30 years."—[Estelline (Dak.) Bell.

A Typographical Error.

"By an unfortunate typographical error," says a Dakota newspaper, "we were made to say last week that our distinguished townsman, Prof. Kennedy, was about to fit a nobby baboon for the comfort and enjoyment of his daughter on her wedding trip over the prairie. What we meant to say was a nobby balloon. We write this with our left hand, [illegible] in our spare bed with one [illegible] closed and the other hand [illegible] an inverted chair across [illegible] for a writing-table. The [illegible] apology for the blunder [illegible] we [illegible] in penning this ar[illegible]

[illegible] who have used [illegible]

[illegible]

A young recruit recently enlisted at Camp Hancock, near Atlanta, while the country was threatening war with Mexico, and he intended to make a good soldier. One day he was on guard duty and was slowly stepping along when an officer approached. After the usual salute, the officer said:

"Let me see your gun."

The raw recruit handed over his Springfield rifle and a pleased expression stole over his face.

As the officer received the gun, he said in a tone of deepest disgust:

"You are a fine soldier. You've given up your gun, and now what are you going to do?"

The young Atlantian turned pale, and, reaching for his hip pocket, drew a big six-shooter, and preparing for business said in a voice that could not be misunderstood:

"Gimme that gun or I'll blow a hole through you in a pair 'r minutes!"

The officer instantly decided not to monkey any further with the raw recruit, and the gun was promptly surrendered.—[Atlanta Constitution.

Hears With Her Elbows, Probably.

The Bradford Era speaks of a woman who fell and "nearly severed her ears from her body." A woman who wears her ears on her body ought to be able to command a good salary in a dime museum.—[Detroit Free Press.

A ship should not be held by one anchor, nor life by a single hope.

Knowledge and timber should not be much used until they are well seasoned.

Catarrh

Is a very prevalent and exceedingly disagreeable disease, liable, if neglected, to develope into serious consumption. Being a constitutional disease, it requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the system, effecting a radicle and permanent cure of catarrh in even its most severe forms. Made only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

If a man empties his purse into his head, no one can take it away from him.

A Prize in the Lottery of life which is usually unappreciated until it is lost, is health. What a priceless boon it is, and how we ought to cherish it, that life may not be a worthless blank to us. Many of the diseases that flesh is heir to, and which make life burdensome, such as consumption (scrofula of the lungs), and other scrofulous and blood diseases, are completely cured by Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" after all other remedies have failed. Dr. Pierce's treatise on consumption mailed for ten cents in stamps. Adress, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

However small may be your possessions, there will someone to envy you them.

Backache, aching sides and kidneys, sore muscles, stitch, crick are removed by the Hop Plaster.

The best characters have a mixture of infirmities, and the worst have some redeeming virtues.

Jeffersonian Simplicity.

Can be practiced by using Van Wert's Balsam for all Throat and Lung diseases, as it will save unnessary doctors bills. For sale by H. C. Giesler samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are free from injurious substances. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Catarrhal Headaches.

Children Starving to Death

On account of their inability to digest food, will find a most marvelous food and remedy in Scott's Emulsion. Very palatable and easily digested. Dr S. W. Cohen of Waco, Texas, says: "I have used your Emulsion in Infantine wasting. It not only restores wasted tissues, but gives strength and increases the appetite." 264w

The man who fails in business and continues to live in luxury is a thief.

Old and reliable Medicines are the best to depend upon. Acker's Blood Elixir has been prescribed for years for all impurities of the Blood. In every form of Scrofulous, Syphilitic or Mercurial diseases, it is invaluable. For Rheumatism, has no equal. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

It appears from statistics that New York state has 577,490 farms of over 23,780, 734 acres, valued at $1,650,170,741.

DON'T DO IT

Said my physician, who for six months had doctored me for dyspepsia without success, when I told him I was going to try Sulphur Bitters, they will only make you worse. I did try them and now I am a well man and can eat anything. Sulphur Bitters are a great foe to doctors.—George Bastett, N. Y. C. & H. R. Railroad.

As large a demand is made on our faith by nature, as can be made by miracles.

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

$100 A WEEK.

Ladies or gentlemen desiring pleasant profitable employment write at once. We want you to handle an article of domestic use that recommends itself to every one at sight. STAPLE AS FLOUR. Sells like hot cakes. Profits 300 per cent. Families wishing to practice economy should for their own benefit write for particulars. Used every day the year round in every household. Price within reach of all. Circulars free. Agents receive SAMPLE FREE. Address DOMESTIC M'F'G CO., Marion, Ohio. 3imo3

ARTISTS' MATERIALS For every department Select Studies and all Novelties. China Fired and Gilded. LaCroix Latest Colors and Special Brushes. Kensington and Lustre Colors a Specialty. FLOWER MAKERS SUPPLIES. Best Goods. Lowest Prices. Prompt attention. PRICE LIST FREE. W. H. BAUMGRAS & CO. SYRACUSE, N. Y.

THE FAMOUS HOP PLASTERS

Clean, fragrant, curative and highly medicinal, prepared from Fresh Hops, Balsams, Extracts and Gums, spread on white muslin.

They restore and vitalize weak parts, subdue inflammation and instantly banish pain whether in the Back, Side, Hip, Leg, Kidneys, Joints, Shoulder, Chest, Breast, Stomach or Muscles. Powerfully soothing, pain allaying and strengthening. The best plaster on earth is the verdict of thousands. Mailed for price by proprietors, Hop Plaster Company, Boston, Mass.

☞Swindlers abroad! This plaster is spread on white muslin, ready for instant use. HOP PLASTER CO., signature on every plaster.

Trouble is appointed for us all here below, and there comes a time when we need more comfort and help than the things of this life can give.

FOOL AND HIS MONEY SOON PART.

How true some of those old sayings are. A friend of mine paid a traveling quack $50 to cure him of Scrofula, from which he had suffered two years. He gave him a bottle of stuff which only aggravated the disease. When he went to consult him the second time the quack had left for parts unknown. Upon learning the circumstances I recommended Sulphur Bitters. Five bottles cured him.—Editor Journal and Courier.

The trouble with the skepticism of the age is that it is not thorough enough. It questions everything but its own foundations.—[I. Munro Gibson.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

A charitable disposition expects only opportunity, not importunity, to do good and will succor upon sight unsought unto.—[Henry.

Can't Sleep Nights is the complaint of thousands suffering from Asthma, Consumption, Coughs, etc. Did you ever try Acker's English Remedy? It is the best preparation known for all Lung Troubles, sold on a positive guarantee at 10c., 50c. H. C. Giesler.

An exchange says that "the best teachers are those who learn something new themselves every day, and are not ashamed to own it.

THE VERDICT UNANIMOUS.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles and was cured of Rheumatism of ten years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years of experience is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at at Phillips' Drug Store.

We do not become righteous by doing what is righteous, but by having become righteous we do what is righteous.—[Luther.

The fortune of Mrs. Mark Hopkins is estimated at $40,000,000. It was all made by her late husband in the Central Pacific Railroad.

LITTLE CHILDREN

Do not cry when Dr. Van Wert's Balsam is given them. It is so sweet and palatable, they never refuse it, and it is superior to any other known remedy for Croup and Whooping Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are small and easy to take. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Hay Fever. 23m6

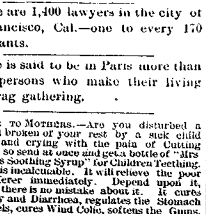
One thousand negroes have joined the church at Columbia, S. C., since the earthquake.

Skin diseases cannot be successfully treated by external applications. The proper way to cure such complaints is to purify the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Under the vitilizing influences of this medicine all the functions of the body are brought into healthy action.

There are 1,400 lawyers in the city of San Francisco, Cal.—one to every 170 inhabitants.

There is said to be in Paris more than 30,000 persons who make their living out of rag gathering.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup." 51y1



DR. PARDEE'S REMEDY,

(The only Reliable Blood Purifier.)

A SPECIFIC FOR RHEUMATISM Scrofula, Salt Rheum Neuralgia, Ring Worm AND ALL OTHER SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASES. IT REGULATES THE LIVER & KIDNEYS And Cures Indigestion.

And all Diseases arising from an enfeebled condition of [illegible]

It has proved itself [illegible] remedy [illegible]

JAMES COE,

The old Reliable

UNDERTAKER AND FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St. the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 5t1

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap! Purest Cleanest, Best,

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York. Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

WE WANT 5,000 MORE BOOK AGENTS TO SELL OUR NEW BOOK.

Secret Service OF THE POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT. By P. H. WOODWARD, late Chief of P.O. Detective Corps.

A New Book Just Published by an official of over 15 years' experience in the Secret Service, in one Magnificent Royal Octavo Volume of over 600 pages and elegantly illustrated by the best artists in the country with 200 SUPERB ENGRAVINGS.

A thrilling record of detection in the U. S. Post-Office Department; embracing sketches of Wonderful Exploits of Post-Office Inspectors in the Detection, Pursuit, and Capture of Robbers of the U. S. Mails; together with a complete description of the many ingenious and complicated contrivances of the wily and unscrupulous to defraud the public; also an accurate account of the FAMOUS STAR ROUTE FRAUDS, in which the Author had entire charge of the preparation of the evidence for the government.

AGENTS WANTED.

In every town there are Postmasters, Merchants, Mechanics, Farmers, Professional Men, and hundreds of people who want to get this thrilling book [illegible]

WINTER & CO., SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

[illegible] becomes a thread in the loom, and we see the effects when the weaving of a lifetime is unraveled.

Jeffersonian Simplicity.

Can be practiced by using Van Wert's Balsam for all Throat and Lung diseases, as it well save unnessary doctors bills. For sale by H. C. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are free from injurious substances. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure catarrhal Headaches.

When death, the great reconciler, has come, it is not our tenderness we repent of but of our severity.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

No man ever served God by doing things to-morrow; if we honor Christ and are blest, it is by the things which we do to-day.

Acker's Blood Elixir is the only Blood Remedy guaranteed. It is a positive cure for Ulcers, Eruptions or Syphilitic Poisoning. It purifies the whole system, and banishes all Rheumatic and Neuralgic pains. We guarantee it. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

James C. Flood, the Californian millionaire, has just finished a $2,000 brown stone house on Nob Hill, San Francisco.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

King Kalakaua has invited the San Francisco yachtsmen to assist him in celebrating his 50th birthday on November 16.

At Night always have Acker's Baby Soother at hand. It is the only safe medicine yet made that will remove all infantile disorders. It contains no Opium or Morphine, but gives the child natural case from pain. Price 25 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

There are said to be 11,000 lawyers in the state of New York, making one to every 455 inhabitants. France has one to every 4,762, Germany to every 6,428.

PURE WHITE CLOVER HONEY

Forms the base of Dr. Van Wert's Balsam and this being combined with the most potent remedial agents which modern medical investigation has discovered, the whole forms an incomparable remedy for all throat and lung troubles. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Trial sizes free.

For torpid liver use Van Wert's Pills. Van Wert's Golden Balm is a certain cure for Catarrh. 23m6

President Cleveland usually wears a flower on his coat lappel now, something he rarely did before he was married.

CHURCH GOING PEOPLE

Are annoyed by the Coughing of their neighbors. One bottle of Van Wert's Balsam would cure every cough in the congregation. Go to H. C. Giesler's Fulton, or Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls, and get a free sample bottle and see for yourself.

Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure cold in the head. 23m6

Seven million boys and girls attend school daily in this country.

EXCITEMENT IN TEXAS.

Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Texas, by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless that he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's new Discovery was sent him. Finding relief he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of Pills and two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh thirty-six pounds. Trial Bottles of this great Discovery for Consumption free at R. E. Phillips'.

San Francisco, Cal., boasts over one hundred millionaires.

There is said to be one blind person to every 1,400 of the earth's inhabitants.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE COD LIVER OIL And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not. [illegible]

No longer does the [illegible]
With the small hope [illegible]
—[Boston Courier.

Great joy in Noah it begat
When he came down from Ararat;
No duffer gay
Was there to say
He'd seen a far worse flood than that.
—[Tid Bits.

Life is short, but it isn't half so short as some men are all through life —[Somerville Journal.

It is no longer in style to say "chestnut." Just murmur "Wiggins."—[New Haven News.

Gladstone has only three fingers on his left hand. He could not train with Kentucky colonels for obivious reasons. —[Oil City Blizzard.

Old gentleman: "And how old are you my little man?" Little Friddie: "I am not old at all, sir, I am nearly new." —[Harper's Bazar.

We received a basket of grapes the other day from a subscriber, with the request: "Please notice these on the inside." We have done so.—[New Haven News.

A poet says, "I wish to die away from home." We don't known what his family think about the matter, but judging from the poem they must be perfectly willing.—[New Haven News.

At a ball given the other evening, at which none but blind people assisted, there were no decolette dresses worn.—[Drake's Magazine.

"Is it true that little Bazley has blown his brains out?"

"No."

"Why, I saw it in all the papers."

"It was a mistake. He blew the top of his head off; that was all.—[Town Topics.

It may be that Cæsar was right when he declared that "all Gaul is divided into three parts," but we certainly know some men who seem to have got it all, and undivided.—[Boston Post.

It will be noticed that the sea serpent is not seen any more. It has become too cold for men to lie on the shore and guzzle whiskey by the quart.—[Philadelphia Herald.

"When I go to bed," observed a Boston editor, "I always try to lie still." We have no doubt of it. He has so much practice during the day.—[New Haven News.

The Spaniards have 365 ways of cooking eggs, but they have only one way of swearing at the grocer who sells them a dozen revolutionary hen fruit.—[Goodall's Chicago Sun.

Nashville, Tenn. has organized a "Hugging Club." In this connection it may be well to remark that this office will be closed for a few days immediately after this issue of the paper.—[Rambler.

Nothing so terrifies a woman as to feel her hairpin catch on anything when she is wearing her hair that is not rooted at one end.—[Dansville Breeze.

A writer says that the sense of humor very rarely exist in children under 12 years old. The writer has never seen a five-year-old child prying open the eyes of a four-day old kitten.—[Norristown Herald.

There is a man in Wisconsin who is the owner of sixty newspapers. And still we send money to the Charleston sufferers and allow such abject poverty as this to go unrelieved.—[Lynn Saturday Union.

Why does a young man embracing his girl at the garden gate just as the old man approaches, remind you of a love scene at a theater? Because he is hugging his girl before the foot-lights. —[Pacific Jester.

Papa—"No, my dear, I would not wear tan-colored gloves. they do not match your dress." His heiress—"Dear me! neither they do (brightening), but then, you know, papa, I can get a dress and a wrap and a bonnet and a parasol to match the gloves."—[New York Graphic.

A man in West Virginia reports having seen a snake forty feet long in the act of swallowing a sheep. It is believed that about two more drinks of the stuff would have enabled him to see sheep forty feet long in the act of swallowing a snake.—[Norristown Herald.

The impossible Oscar Wilde declares that he always writes his verses on an empty stomach. That is just the trouble with them, and it fully explains their bilious flavor. If Mr. Wilde would only write them on a slab of ice all would be forgiven.—[Philadelphia Press.

A temperance paper says that "a bird's-eye view from Trinity spire, New would disclose 16,000 saloons in sight —12,000 in New York and 4,000 in Jersey City, Newark and Patterson," But does it for one moment suppose that anybody would be fool enough to climb to the top of that steeple to look for a saloon?—[Shoe and Leather Reporter.

"Who is your favorite author?" asked the literary writer. Maggie quickly replied. "The author of my being, of course; dear papa." It is unnecessary to say that papa immediately came down with the cash for the new dress which Maggie had set her heart on. —[Boston Transcript.

"Yes," said Mr. Hendricks to the minister, "I am proud of that dog. Why, he knows the different days of the week." Just then the dog began to run to a gun which stood in the corner, then back to his master, and wag his tail. "He's made a mistake this time, pa," said young Bobby; "He thinks it's Sunday."—[Harper's Bazar.

The reign of sense in medicine is shown by the popularity of Hop Porous Plaster for pains.

Wanted Quinine.

"Give me about a dollar'n-a-half's worth of quinine," said a sad-looking young man to the druggist.

"Why, what do you want so much for?"

"Well, you see, I've been around to see my girl and I've just got the worst case of snake I ever heard of. Make that an even two dollar's worth, will you?"—[Merchant Traveler.

"All Men Are Liars,"

said David of old. He was probably prompted to make the above remark after trying some unreliable catarrh remedy. Had he been permitted to live until the present day, and used Dr. Sage's Remedy, he might have had a better opinion of mankind. [illegible]

Three Peculiarities

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier and regulating medicine, is characterized by three peculiarities, namely:

1st: The combination of the various remedial agents used.

2d: The proportion in which the roots, herbs, barks, etc., are mixed.

3d: The process by which the active medicinal properties are secured.

The result is a medicine of unusual strength and curative power, which effects cures heretofore unequalled. These peculiarities belong exclusively to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and are

Unknown to Others

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared with the greatest skill and care, by pharmacists of education and long experience. Hence it is a medicine worthy of entire confidence. If you suffer from scrofula, salt rheum, or any disease of the blood, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, or kidney and liver complaints, catarrh or rheumatism, do not fail to try

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all my friends as the best blood purifier on earth." WM. GAFF, druggist, Hamilton, O.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me of scrofulous humor, and done me worlds of good otherwise." C. A. ARNOLD, Arnold, Me.

A book containing many additional statements of cures will be sent to all who desire.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

BLUE PILLS

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately. Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored?

Don't Wait! Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use Sulphur Bitters! Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

The Invalid's Friend. The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

IT IS Dangerous!

Try a Bottle To-Day! Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

Golden Medical Discovery

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PATENTS

HENRY WISE GARNETT, Attorney-at-Law, WASHINGTON, D. C.

Refers to 2d National Bank, Washington, D. C. ☞SEND FOR INVENTOR'S GUIDE.☜

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest Rates for advertising in 1,000 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful Cure at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE, No. 41 West 31st St., New York City.

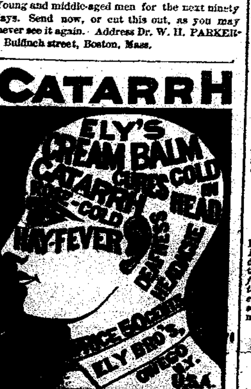
EXHAUSTED VITALITY, ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c., &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopoeia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper. ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

CATARRH



LEGAL.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

During the year 1886, terms of the Surrogate's court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

PHOENIX—At the Surrogate's office in Phoenix on Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. S. B. Smith in Pulaski, January 22d, and on the third Friday in March, May, June, Sept., Nov. and Dec.

FULTON—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Thursday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and July, and the fourth Friday in October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 29th and September 29th.

PARISH—At A. N. & J. S. Ludington's law office, April 30th, July 30th and Sept. 30th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New, York, on or before the 19th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 12th, 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALFRED, Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886. LUCY K. HUBBARD, Executrix.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Alice Hethington as administratrix of the goods, chattels and credits of William S. Hethington, deceased, against Josiah C. Mosher, Nellie Sears, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis and Josephine Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.—Dated this 12th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington, defendants:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. Pardon C. Williams, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 15th day of October, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego Co., N. Y., at Oswego, N. Y., on October 15, 1886.—Dated Oct. 15, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

Save time and labor! Neat and Compact.

Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind that he ever saw."

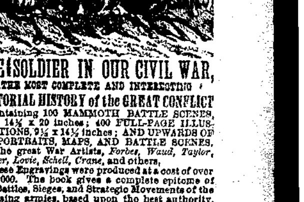
—To be had only at the—
FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

10 PER CENT. INVESTMENT, SECURITY ABSOLUTE. THE MORTGAGE, Ipswich, Dakota, will loan your money on BOND and MORTGAGE from 8 to 10 per cent. Mortgage made to you direct. Bond payable at your own Bank or in New York as you prefer, and has for SALE COUNTY, CITY, and SCHOOL BONDS, that will net 7 to 12 per cent. Will furnish as reference the names of gentlemen residing in THIS COUNTY for whom it has invested money. CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED. 16m3

$350 PER MONTH.—Salary and commission, to competent Manager for this City or State Agency. A splendid combination. Our AUTOMATIC GAS GOVERNORS save 33 per cent, in gas bills. Our Silver Gas Lights can be attached to any fixture, instantly changing the dull, sickly, yellow flame of any gas to a soft, mellow, luminous white inbreasing brilliancy 50 per cent, Over 8,000 in service. Address,

THE UNION NATIONAL GAS SAVING CO.
17m3 21 East 14th St., New York.

Agents Wanted for the Great War Book Just Published, entitled



THE SOLDIER IN OUR CIVIL WAR, THE MOST COMPLETE AND INTERESTING PICTORIAL HISTORY of the GREAT CONFLICT

Containing 100 MAMMOTH BATTLE SCENES, each 14½ x 20 inches; 400 FULL-PAGE ILLUSTRATIONS, 9½ x 14½ inches; AND UPWARDS OF 500 PORTRAITS, MAPS, AND BATTLE SCENES, By the great War Artists, Forbes, Waud, Taylor, Becker, Lovie, Schell, Crane, and others.

These Engravings were produced at a cost of over $100,000. The book gives a complete epitome of the Battles, Sieges, and Strategic Movements of the opposing armies, based upon the best authority, northern and southern, making an accumulation of reliable and unbiased historical facts not possible to be obtained in any of the histories written during the progress of or since the War.

The work is carefully edited from data obtained from the most authentic authorities, and the descriptions of battles, incidents, and historical facts, are furnished by the leading Soldiers of both armies and includes biographies of the most notable Generals and Commanders.

A complete Chronological List of every skirmish, engagement, battle, and all important events, from the Election of Lincoln to the Grand Review at Washington.

Published in (2) magnificent volumes, size 12x17 inches, nearly 1,000 pages. Price, complete, $15 00. I want One Agent in every Grand Army Post, town and county. ☞Any person, with this book, can become a successful Agent. Full instructions to new beginners. For terms to agents, address

G. W. DILLINGHAM, Publisher, New York. Successor to G. W. CARLETON & Co.

A Magnificent Outfit Sent Free.

MAKE HENS LAY.

SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER

is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. It is strictly a medicine to be given with food. Nothing on earth will make hens lay like it. It cures chicken cholera and all diseases of hens. Is worth its weight in gold. Illustrated book by mail free. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail for 25 cents in stamps. 2¼-lb. air-tight tin cans, $1; by mail, $1.20. Six cans by express, prepaid, for $5.00. DR. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

OUR BABY'S FIRST YEAR, by Marion Harland, also containing much valuable information. 48 page book. Sent on receipt of 2-cent stamp by Reed and Carnrick, Mercantile Exchange Building, N. Y.

3,000 AGENTS WANTED for the NEW WORK. GLADSTONE—PARNELL AND THE GREAT IRISH STRUGGLE. By the eminent author, HON. T. P. O'CONNOR, M. P. for Liverpool, and R. M. McWADE, Esq. Endorsed by HON. C. S. PARNELL. A thrilling history of Irish oppression and the mighty struggle for Home Rule that is rocking the British Empire to its centre; also Biographies of the leaders. An entirely new work from high authority, of all absorbing interest, richly illustrated, and with an immense demand. ☞Apply quickly to W. A. HOUGHTON & CO., 18 East 14th St., New York.

FRENCH'S HOTEL.

CITY HALL SQUARE, NEW YORK.

Opposite City Hall and the Post Office.

This Hotel is one of the most complete in its appointments and furniture of ANY HOUSE in New York City and is conducted on the European Plan.

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 27

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

At the Crossing.

He looks aristocratic,
And his pose is something grand,
As on the crowded thoroughfare
He takes his lordly stand.
His star gleams forth resplendent
On his uniform so fair,
But his look of lonely grandeur
An exiled duke might wear.

He stands a stately presence,
Amid the din and noise,
The envy and the terror
Of wayward little boys,
And when some plain old woman
To cross would fain essay,
With a calm abstracted air,
He looks the other way.

But if a fairy creature
With twinkling bangles fine,
Whose beaded garments in the sun
Like woven dewdrops shine,
So timidly advances
With what an air superb,
He soothes her pretty fears and leads
Her safely to the curb.

Thus daily at the crossing,
Our hero may be found,
The tides of toil and traffic
Encompass him around.
And still, a stately presence,
He stands amid the noise,
The envy and the terror
Of wayward little boys.
—[Texas Siftings.

Talk is cheap. Actual results count. Use Hop Porous Plasters for pains, aches and weaknesses.

Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, at Hartford, regularly attends the church of which her son is pastor.

THE STORY OF A MINE.

By BRET HARTE.

[Copyrighted, 1886, by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., and published by arrangement with them.]

CHAPTER IX.

WHAT THE FAIR HAD TO DO ABOUT IT.

THE house that Royal Thatcher so informally quitted in his exodus to the promised land of Biggs was one of those over-sized, under-calculated dwellings conceived and erected in the extravagance of the San Francisco builder's hopes, and occupied finally in his despair. Intended originally as the palace of some inchoate California Aladdin, it usually ended as a lodging house in which some helpless widow or hopeless spinster managed to combine respectability with the hard task of bread getting. Thatcher's landlady was one of the former class. She had unfortunately survived not only her husband but his property, and, living in some deserted chamber, had, after the fashion of the Italian nobility, let out the rest of the ruin. A tendency to dwell upon these facts gave her conversation a peculiar significance upon the first of each month. Thatcher had noticed this with the sensitiveness of an impoverished gentleman. But when, a few days after her lodger's sudden disappearance, a note came from him containing a draft in noble excess of all arrears and charges, the widow's heart was lifted, and the rock smitten with the golden wand gushed beneficence that shone in a new gown for the widow and a new suit for "Johnny," her son, a new oilcloth in the hall, better service to the lodgers, and, let us be thankful, a kindlier consideration for the poor little black-eyed painter from Monterey, then dreadfully behind in her room rent. For, to tell the truth, the calls upon Miss De Haro's scant purse by her uncle had lately been frequent, perjury having declined in the Monterey market through excessive and injudicious supply, until the line of demarcation between it and absolute verity was so finely drawn that Victor Garcia had remarked that "he might as well tell the truth at once and save his soul, since the devil was in the market."

Mistress Plodgitt, the landlady, could not resist the desire to acquaint Carmen De Haro with her good fortune. "He was always a friend of yours, my dear, and I know him to be a gentleman that would never let a poor widow suffer; and see what he says about you!" Here she produced Thatcher's note and read: "Tell my little neighbor that I shall come back soon to carry her and her sketching tools off by force, and I shall not let her return until she has caught the black mountains and the red rocks she used to talk about, and put the 'Blue Mass' mill in the foreground of the picture I shall order."

What is this, little one? Surely, Carmen, thou needst not blush at this, thy first grand offer. Holy Virgin! is it of a necessity that thou shouldst stick the wrong end of thy brush in thy mouth, and then drop it in thy lap? Or was it taught thee by the good Sisters at the convent to stride in that boyish fashion to the side of thy elders and snatch from their hands the missive thou wouldst read? More of this we would know, O Carmen—smallest of brunettes—speak, little one, even in thine own melodious speech, that I may commend thee and thy rare discretion to my own fair country women.

Alas, neither the present chronicler nor Mistress Plodgitt got any further information from the prudent Carmen, and must fain speculate upon certain facts that were already known.

Mistress Carmen's little room was opposite to Thatcher's, and once or twice, the doors being open, Thatcher had a glimpse across the passage of a black-haired and a sturdy, boyish little figure in a great blue apron, perched on a stool before an easel, and on the other hand, Carmen had often been conscious of the fumes of a tobacco pipe penetrating her cloistered seclusion, and had seen across the passage, vaguely enveloped in the same nicotine cloud, an American Olympian, in a rocking chair, with his feet on the mantel shelf. They had once or twice met on the staircase, on which occasion Thatcher had greeted her with a word or two of respectful yet half humorous courtesy—a courtesy which never really offends a true woman, although it often piques her self-aplomb by the slight assumption of superiority in the humorist. A woman is quick to recognise the fact that the great and more dangerous passions are always serious, and may be excused if in self-respect she is often induced to try if there be not somewhere under the skin of this laughing Mercutio the flesh and blood of a Romeo. Thatcher was by nature a defender and protector; weakness, and weakness alone, stirred the depths of his tenderness—often, I fear, only in his half-humorous aspects—and on [illegible] was pleased to place women and [illegible] for [illegible] most women worthy the winning. For a woman must always look up to the man she truly loves—even if she has to go down on her knees to do it.

Only the masculine reader will infer from this that Carmen was in love with Thatcher; the more critical and analytical feminine eye will see nothing herein that might not have happened consistently with friendship. For Thatcher was no sentimentalist; he had hardly paid a compliment to the girl—even in the unspoken but most delicate form of attention. There were days when his room door was closed; there were days days succeeding these blanks when he met her as frankly and naturally as if he had seen her yesterday. Indeed, on those days following his flight the simple-minded Carmen, being aware—heaven knows how—that he had not opened his door during that period, and fearing sickness, sudden death, or perhaps suicide, by her appeals to the landlady, assisted unwittingly in discovering his flight and defection. As she was for a few moments as indignant as Mrs. Plodgitt, it is evident that she had but little sympathy with the delinquent. And besides, hitherto she had known only Concho, her earliest friend, and was true to his memory, as against all Americanos, whom she firmly believed to be his murderers.

So she dismissed the offer and the man from her mind, and went back to her painting—a fancy portrait of the good Padre Junipero Serra, a great missionary, who, happily for the integrity of his bones and character, died some hundred years before the Americans took possession of California. The picture was fair but unsalable, and she began to think seriously of sign painting, which was then much more popular and marketable. An unfinished head of San Juan de Bautista, artificially framed in clouds, she disposed of to a prominent druggist for $50, where it did good service as exhibiting the effect of four bottles of "Jones's Freckle Eradicator," and in a pleasant and unobtrusive way revived the memory of the saint. Still, she felt weary and was growing despondent, and had a longing for the good sisters and the blameless lethargy of conventual life, and then——

He came!

But not as the prince should come on a white charger, to carry away this cruelly-abused and enchanted damsel. He was sunburned, he was bearded like "the pard;" he was a little careless as to his dress and preoccupied in his ways. But his mouth and eyes were the same, and when he repeated in his old frank, half-mischievous way the invitation of his letter, poor little Carmen could only hesitate and blush.

A thought struck him and sent the color to his face. Your gentleman born is always as modest as a woman. He ran down stairs and seizing the widowed Plodgitt, said hastily:

"You're just killing yourself here. Take a change. Come down to Monterey for a day or two with me and bring Miss De Haro with you for company."

The old lady recognized the situation. Thatcher was now a man of vast possibilities. In all maternal daughters of Eve there is the slightest bit of the chaperone and match maker. It is the last way of reviving the past.

She consented and Carmen De Haro could not well refuse.

The ladies found the "Blue Mass" mills very much as Thatcher had previously delivered it to them, "a trifle rough and mannish." But he made over to them the one tenement reserved for himself and slept with his men, or more likely under the trees. At first Mrs. Plodgitt missed gas and running water, and these several conveniences of civilization, among which I fear may be mentioned sheets and pillow cases; but the balsam of the mountain air soothed her neuralgia and her temper. As for Carmen, she rioted in the unlimited license of her absolute freedom from conventional restraint and the indulgence of her child-like impulses. She scoured the ledges far and wide alone; she dipped into dark copses and scrambled over the sterile patches of chemisal, and came back laden with the spoil of buckeye blossoms, manzanita berries and laurel. But she would not make a sketch of the "Blue Mass company's" mills on a Mercator's projection—something that could be afterwards lithographed or chromoed, with the mills turning out tons of quicksilver through the energies of a happy and picturesque assemblage of miners—even to please her padrone, Don Royal Thatcher. On the contrary, she made a study of the ruins of the crumbled and decayed red rock furnace, with the black mountain above it, and the light of a dying camp fire shining upon it, and the dull red excavations in the ledge. But even this did not satisfy her until she had made some alterations, and when she finally brought her finished study to Don Royal, she looked at him a little defiantly. Thatcher admired honestly, and then criticised a little humorously and dishonestly. "But couldn't you, for a consideration, put up a sign board on that rock with the inscription, 'Road to the Blue Mass company's new mills to the right,' and combine business with art? That's the fault of you geniuses. But what's this blanketed figure doing here, lying before the furnace? You never saw one of my miners there—and a Mexican, too, by his serape." "That," quoth Mistress Carmen, coolly, "was put in to fill up the foreground—I wanted something there to balance the picture." "But," continued Thatcher, dropping into unconscious admiration again, "it's drawn to the life. Tell me, Miss De Haro, before I ask the aid and counsel of Mrs. Plodgitt, who is my hated rival, and your lay figure and model?" "Oh," said Carmen, with a little sigh, "It's only poor Concho." "And where is Concho?" (a little impatiently.) "He's dead, Don Royal." "Dead?" "Of a verity—very dead—murdered by your countrymen." "I see—and you know him?" "He was my friend."

"Oh!"

"Truly."

"But" (wickedly), "isn't this a rather ghastly advertisement—outside of an illustrated newspaper—of my property?"

"Ghastly, Don Royal. Look you, he sleeps."

"Ay" (in Spanish), "as the dead."

Carmen (crossing herself hastily), "After the fashion of the dead."

They were both feeling uncomfortable. Carmen was shivering. But, being a woman, and tactful, she recovered her head first. "It is a study for myself, Don Royal; I shall make you another."

And she slipped away, as she thought, out of the subject and his presence.

But she was mistaken; in the evening he renewed the conversation. Carmen began to fence, not from cowardice or deceit, as the masculine reader would readily infer, but from some wonderful feminine instinct that told her to be cautious. But he got from her the fact, to him before unknown, that she was the niece of his mean antagonist, and, being a gentleman, so redoubled his attentions and his courtesy that Mrs. Plodgitt made up her mind that it was a foregone conclusion, and [illegible] as to what she should [illegible]. But that [illegible] tween them. Women—the best of them—are strong as to collateral facts, swift of deduction, but vague as children are to the exact statement or recognition of premises. It is hardly necessary to say that Carmen had never thought of connecting any act of hers with the claims of her uncle, and the circumstance of the signature she had totally forgotten.

The masculine reader will now understand Carmen's confusion and blushes, and believe himself an ass to have thought them a confession of original affection. The feminine reader will, by this time, become satisfied that the deceitful minx's sole idea was to gain the affections of Thatcher. And really I don't know who is right.

Nevertheless, she painted a sketch for Thatcher—which now adorns the company's office in San Francisco, in which the property is laid out in pleasing geometrical lines, and the rosy promise of the future instinct in every touch of the brush. Then, having earned her "wage," as she believed, she became somewhat cold and shy to Thatcher. Whereat that gentleman redoubled his attentions, seeing only in her presence a certain meprise, which concerned her more than himself. The niece of his enemy meant nothing more to him than an interesting girl—to be protected always—to be feared, never. But even suspicion may be insidiously placed in noble minds.

Mistress Plodgitt, thus early estopped of matchmaking, of course put the blame on her own sex, and went over to the stronger side—the man's.

"It's a great pity gals should be so curious," she said, sotto voce, to Thatcher, when Carmen was in one of her sullen moods. "Yet I s'pose it's in her blood. Them Spaniards is always revengeful—like the Eyetalians."

Thatcher honestly looked his surprise.

"Why, don't you see, she's thinking how all these lands might have been her uncle's but for you. And instead of trying to be sweet and—" here she stopped to cough.

"Good God!" said Thatcher, in great concern, "I never thought of that." He stopped for a moment, and then added with decision: "I can't believe it; it isn't like her."

Mrs. P. was piqued. She walked away, delivering, however, this Parthian arrow:

"Well, I hope 'tain't nothing worse."

Thatcher chuckled, then felt uneasy. When he next met Carmen she found his gray eyes fixed on hers with a curious, half-inquisitorial look she had never noticed before. This only added fuel to the fire. Forgetting their relations of host and guest, she was absolutely rude. Thatcher was quiet but watchful; got the Plodgitt to bed early, and, under cover of showing a moonlight view of the "Lost Chance Mill," decoyed Carmen out of earshot, as far as the dismantled furnace.

"What is the matter, Miss De Haro; have I offended you?"

Miss Carmen was not aware that anything was the matter. If Don Royal preferred old friends, whose loyalty of course he knew, and who were above speaking ill against a gentleman in his adversity—(oh, Carmen! fie!) if he preferred their company to later friends—why—(the masculine reader will observe this tremendous climax and tremble)—why she didn't know why he should blame her.

They turned and faced each other. The conditions for a perfect misunderstanding could not have been better arranged between two people. Thatcher was a masculine reasoner, Carmen a feminine feeler—if I may be pardoned the expression. Thatcher wanted to get at certain facts and argue therefrom. Carmen wanted to get at certain feelings and then fit the facts to them.

"But I am not blaming you, Miss Carmen," he said gravely. "It was stupid in me to confront you here with the property claimed by your uncle and occupied by me, but it was a mistake—no!" he added hastily, "it was not a mistake. You knew it and I didn't. You overlooked it before you came, and I was too glad to overlook it after you were here."

"Of course," said Carmen pettishly, "I am the only one to be blamed. It's like you men! (Mem. She was just fifteen, and uttered this awful resume of experience just as if it hadn't been taught to her in her cradle.)

Feminine generalities always stagger a man. Thatcher said nothing. Carmen became more enraged.

"Why did you want to take Uncle Victor's property, then?" she asked triumphantly.

"I don't know that it is your uncle's property."

"You—don't—know? Have you seen the application with Governor Micheltorena's indorsement? Have you heard the witnesses?" she said passionately.

"Signatures may be forged and witnesses lie," said Thatcher quietly.

"What is it you call 'forged?'"

Thatcher instantly recalled the fact that the Spanish language ha[illegible] no synonym for "forgery." The act was apparently an invention of el Diablo Americano. So he said, with a slight smile in his kindly eye:

"Anybody wicked enough and dexterous enough can imitate another's handwriting. When this is used to benefit fraud we call it 'forgery.' I beg your pardon—Miss De Haro, Miss Carmen—what is the matter?"

She had suddenly lapsed against a tree, quite helpless, nerveless, and with staring eyes fixed on his. As yet an embryo woman, inexperienced and ignorant, the sex's instinct was potential; she had in one plunge fathomed all that his reason had been years groping for.

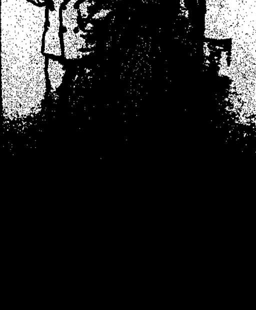
Thatcher saw only that she was pained, that she was helpless; that was enough. "It is possible that your uncle may have been deceived," he began; "many honest men have been fooled by clever but deceitful tricksters, men and women.

"Stop! Madre de Dios! Will you stop?"

Thatcher for an instant recoiled from the flashing eyes and white face of the little figure that had, with menacing and clenched baby fingers, strode to his side. He stopped. "Where is this application—this forgery?" she asked. "Show it to me!"

Thatcher felt relieved, and smiled the superior smile of our sex over feminine ignorance. "You could hardly expect me to be trusted with your uncle's vouchers. His papers of course are in the hands of his counsel."

"And when can I leave this place?" she asked passionately.



"If you consult my wishes you will stay, if only long enough to forgive me. But if I have offended you unknowingly, and you are implacable——

"I can go to-morrow at sunrise if I like?"

"As you will," returned Thatcher gravely.

"Gracias, Senor."

They walked slowly back to the house, Thatcher with a masculine sense of being unreasonably afflicted, Carmen with a woman's instinct of being hopelessly crushed. No word was spoken until they reached the door. Then Carmen suddenly, in her old, impulsive way, and in a child-like treble, sang out merrily: "Good night, O Don Royal, and pleasant dreams. Hasta manana."

Thatcher stood dumb and astounded at this capricious girl. She saw his mystification instantly. "It is for the old cat!" she whispered, jerking her thumb over her shoulder in the direction of the sleeping Mrs. P. "Good night—go!"

He went to give orders for a peon to attend the ladies and their equipage the next day. He awoke to find Miss De Haro gone, with her escort, towards Monterey. And without the Plodgitt.

He could not conceal his surprise from the latter lady. She, left alone—a not altogether unavailable victim to the wiles of our sex—was embarrassed. But not so much that she could not say to Thatcher: "I told you so—gone to her uncle * * To tell him all!"

"All. D—n it, what can she tell him?" roared Thatcher, stung out of his self-control.

"Nothing, I hope, that she should not," said Mrs. P., and chastely retired.

She was right. Miss Carmen posted to Monterey, running her horse nearly off its legs to do it, and then sent back her beast and escort, saying she would rejoin Mrs. Plodgitt by steamer at San Francisco. Then she went boldly to the law office of Saponaceous Wood, district attorney and whilom solicitor of her uncle.

With the majority of masculine Monterey Miss Carmen was known and respectfully admired, despite the infelix reputation of her kinsman. Mr. Wood was glad to see her, and awkwardly gallant. Miss Carmen was cool and business-like; she had come from her uncle to "regard" the papers in the "Red Rock Rancho" case. They were instantly produced. Carmen turned to the application for the grant. Her cheek paled slightly. With her clear memory and wonderful fidelity of perception she could not be mistaken. The signature of Micheltorena was in her own handwriting!

Yet she looked up to the lawyer with a smile: "May I take these papers for an hour to my uncle?"

Even an older and better man than the district attorney could not have resisted those drooping lids and that gentle voice.

"Certainly."

"I will return them in an hour."

She was as good as her word, and within the hour dropped the papers and a little courtesy to her uncle's legal advocate, and that night took the steamer to San Francisco.

The next morning Victor Garcia, a little the worse for the previous night's dissipation, reeled into Wood's office. "I have fears for my niece Carmen. She is with the enemy," he said thickly. "Look you at this."

It was an anonymous letter (in Mrs. Plodgitt's own awkward fist), advising him of the fact that his niece was bought by the enemy, and cautioning him against her.

"Impossible," said the lawyer; "it was only last week she sent thee $50."

Victor blushed, even through his ensanguined cheeks, and made an impatient gesture with his hand.

"Besides," added the lawyer coolly, "she has been here to examine the papers at thy request, and returned them of yesterday."

Victor gasped—"And you—you—you—gave them to her?"

"Of course!"

"All! Even the application and the signature?"

"Certainly—you sent her."

"Sent her? The devil's own daughter?" shrieked Garcia. "No! a hundred million times, no! Quick, before it is too late. Give me the papers."

Mr. Wood reproduced the file. Garcia ran over it with trembling fingers until at last he clutched the fateful document. Not content with opening it and glancing at its text and signature, he took it to the window.

"It is the same," he muttered with a sigh of relief.

"Of course it is," said Mr. Wood sharply. "The papers are all there. You're a fool, Victor Garcia!"

And so he was. And, for the matter of that, so was Mr. Saponaceous Wood, of counsel.

Meanwhile Miss De Haro returned to San Francisco and resumed her work. A day or two later she was joined by her landlady. Mrs. P. has too large a nature to permit an anonymous letter, written by her own hand, to stand between her and her demeanor to her little lodger. So she coddled her and flattered her and depicted in slightly exaggerated colors the grief of Don Royal at her sudden departure. All of which Miss Carmen received in a demure, kitten-like way, but still kept quietly at her work. In due time Don Royal's order was completed; still she had leisure and inclination enough to add certain touches to her ghastly sketch of the crumbling furnace.

Nevertheless, as Don Royal did not return, through excess of business, Mrs. Plodgitt turned an honest penny by letting his room, temporarily, to two quiet Mexicans, who, but for a beastly habit of cigarrito smoking which tainted the whole house, were fair enough lodgers. If they failed in making the acquaintance of their fair countrywoman, Miss De Haro, it was through that lady's pre-occupation in her own work, and not through their ostentatious endeavors.

"Miss De Haro is peculiar," explained the politic Mrs. Plodgitt to her guests; "she makes no acquaintances, which I consider bad for her business. If it had not been for me, she would not have known Royal Thatcher, the great quicksilver miner—and had his order for a picture of his mine!"

The two foreign gentlemen exchanged glances. One said, "Ah, God! this is bad," and the other, "It is not possible;" and then, when the landlady's back was turned, introduced themselves with a skeleton key into the then vacant bed room and studio of their fair countrywoman, who was absent sketching. "Thou observest," said Mr. Pedro, refugee, to Miguel, ex-ecclesiastic, "that this Americano is all powerful, and that this Victor, drunkard as he is, is right in his suspicions."

"Of a verity, yes," replied Miguel, "thou dost remember it was Jovita Castro who, for her Americano lover, betrayed the Sobriente claim. It is only with us, my Pedro, that the Mexican spirit, the real God and liberty, yet lives!"

They shook hands nobly and with sentimental fervor, and then went to work, i. e., the rummaging over the trunks, drawers and porto-manteaus of the poor little painter, Carmen De Haro, and even ripped up the mattress of her virginal cot. But they found not what they sought.

"What is that yonder on the easel, covered [illegible]

"In the name of God!" said Miguel, hastily, "are you trying to alarm the house?"

The ex-vaquero was trembling like a child. "Look!" he said hoarsely, "look; do you see? It is the hand of God!" and fainted on the floor.

Miguel looked. It was Carmen's partly finished sketch of the deserted furnace. The figure of Concho, thrown out strongly by the camp fire, occupied the left foreground. But to balance her picture she had evidently been obliged to introduce another—the face and figure of Pedro, on all fours, creeping toward the sleeping man.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

The Bartholdi Statute.

The land that from the rule of kings,
In freeing us, itself made free,
Our old world sister, to us brings
Her sculptured Dream of Liberty;

Unlike the shapes on Egypt's sands
Uplifted by the toil worn slave,
On freedom's soil with freemen's hands
We rear the symbol free hands gave.

O France, the beautiful! to thee
Once more a debt of love we owe;
In peace beneath thy Fleur de lis
We hail a later Rochambeau!

Rise stately symbol! holding forth
Thy light and hope to all who sit
In chains and darkness! Belt the earth
With watch fires from thy torch uplit!

Reveal the primal mandate still
Which Chaos heard and ceased to be Trace on mid air the Eternal Will
In signs of fire—"Let man be free!"

Shine far, shine free, a guiding light
To reason's ways and Virtue's aim,
A lightning flash the wretch to smite
Who shields his license with thy name!
—[John J. Whittier, in the Independent.

Fall Enjoyments.

The leaves have fallen from the trees
And clouded are the skies;
Now put away the hammock, please,
The bathing suit likewise.
The glorious summer days are gone;
To dances now we'll go,
And for amusement trip it on
The light fantastic toe.
Ah, then, while sweetly plays the band
What joy to meet her glance,
And softly press her lily hand
While gliding through the dance!
—[Boston Courier.

Winter Care of Lambs and Sheep.

From autumn to winter, from grass to hay (which probably the young animal has never seen before), the transition must be somewhat shaded off. I think it advisable to remove the lambs from the pasture early enough (depending on the season), to leave some green feed in the field for them to be returned to a few hours a day, for a week or a fortnight. It is far better to take them up in this way than to wait until a snow storm has covered the grass beyond reach, for then the commencement of housing will be so abrupt as to be likely to produce colic or stretches. Turn them out in the morning, for a few minutes' airing, and sprinkle in their racks a little of the greenest, most aromatic hay at command. I like it as green as English breakfast tea for lambs. When turned back they will eat the greater portion before noon, and then they may be driven afield for a few hours.—[American Agriculturist.

You hardly realize that is is medicine, when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills they are very small; no bad effects; all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use.

Ring the Chestnut Bell.

After Mr. Tooter Barea-tone had sung "Chasing Skeeters in the Dark," Mr. Celluloid Dickey asked of the interlocutor.

"William, can you tell me why angels' visits are like Chicago sewers?"

"I don't know, Richard," replied the interlocutor in his basso voice; "why are angels' visits like Chicago sewers?"

"Because, sir, they are phew! and far between."

The interlocutor heaved a sigh of great magnitude, and announced that Mr. Laring Geetis would sing "Down where the Sanwich Blooms."—[Indicator.

Why, These Are in Season Now, Aren't They?

Bagley—Five hundred dollars for a new piano! I Can't let you have it. Haven't a hundred dollars to my name.

Mrs. B. William, don't previricate. you had $600 last Monday to my certain knowledge.

Bagley—Susan, have you forgotten that there's been a plumber working here for two days?—[Philadelphia Call.

The Doctor's Directions.

Little Tommy had a very perverse disposition—a fact which the doctor, who was called to prescribe a course of treatment for him recently, seems to have taken fully into account. When he called two weeks after he had told Tommy what to do in order to get well, he found the boy plainly very much better. "Well, how are you, Tommy?" the doctor asked. "Oh, I'm all cured now," said Tommy with a grin. "That's very good, I'm sure." "Yes, but I didn't do a single thing that you told to, doctor." "Of course you didn't! I knew you wouldn't, and that's the reason I told you to do them," said the doctor.—[Boston Record.

My friend, look here! you know how weak and nervous your wife is, and you know that Carter's Iron Pill will relieve her, now why not be fair about it and buy her a box?

The Cowboy's Way of Putting It.

Omaha man (at a restraurant)—"May I trouble you for the salt?"

Cowboy from Wayback—"You be you'kin, stranger. Don't care for salt myself."

"I should consider it a very necessary part of diet. A Berlin scientist proves conclusively that the generous use of salt is conductive to longevity."

"Wall, there's no denyin' that fellers as is too fresh don't live long out our way.—[Omaha World.

A Strong Endowment

is conferred upon that magnificent institution, the human system, by Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery," that fortifies it against the encroachments of disease. It is the great blood [illegible]

All Get There at 7 P. M.

School teacher—"Come, Bobby, surely you can spell Kentucky—K-e-n-t—now think what comes after T."

Bobby, (in deep thought)—"Well, I don't know which you mean. There's George for sister Belle, Tommy Brown for me and the man pop always tells he will settle with in the morning.—[New York Graphic.

Only a Step.

When catarrh has progressed to a certain extent, it is only a step to that terribly fatal disease, consumption. If you have catarrh, even slightly, it is a terrible mistake to allow it to continue its course unchecked. If you will only read, you will find conclusive reasons why you should take Hood's Sarsaparilla for catarrh, in the statements of many people who have been completely cured of this disease in its most severe forms. Send for book containing abundant evidence, to C. I. Hood & Co., proprietor of Hood's Sarsaparilla, Lowell, Mass.

A Good Bookkeeper.

Smith—"Say, didn't you tell me that young Jones was a good bookkeeper?"

Fogg—"Why, yes, I believe I did."

Smith—"Well, he ain't; he can't tell an inventory from a flexible roller."

Fogg—"All I know is, that I loaned him about half of my library and he has never returned them, so I supposed he was a good bookkeeper."

Every Woman Knows Them.

The human body is much like a good clock or watch in its movements; if one goes too slow or too fast, so follow all the others, and bad time results; if one organ or set of organs works imperfectly, perversion of functional effort of all the other organs is sure to follow. Hence it is that the numerous ailments which make woman's life miserable are the direct issue of the abnormal action of the uterine system. For all that numerous class of symtoms—and every woman knows them—there is one unfailing remedy, Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription," the favorite of the sex.

Sir Charles Dilke spends three hours every day in sword practice and pistol shooting at short range.

Avoid the harsh, irritating, griping compounds so often sold as purgative medicine, and correct the irregularities of the bowels by the use of Ayer's cathartic Pills. They are invaluable as a family medicine.

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 21tf

There are 2,000 Chautauqua circles in Michigan.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St.

THE INDEPENDENT.

The Largest,
The Ablest,
The Best
Religious and Literary Newspaper in the World.

"One of the ablest weeklies in existence."—[Pall Mall Gazette, London, England.

"The most influential religious organ in the States."—[The Spectator, London, England.

"Clearly stands in the fore-front as a weekly religious magazine."—[Sunday School Times, Philadelphia.

It is a RELIGIOUS,
LITERARY,
EDUCATIONAL,
ART,
STORY,
FINANCIAL,
INSURANCE,
SCIENTIFIC,
POLITICAL,
AGRICULTURAL,
SUNDAY-SCHOOL,
NEWSPAPER

It has more and abler Contributors than any three of its contemporaries. It stands in the front rank of journalism, and every person of intelligence should read it.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One Month	$ .30	One Year	$3.00
Three Months	.75	Two Years	5.00
Four Months	1.00	Three Years	7.00
Six Months	1.50	Four Years	8.50
Nine Months	2.25	Five Years	10.00

SEND POSTAL CARD FOR A FREE SAMPLE COPY, AND CLUBBING LIST IF YOU WISH TO SUBSCRIBE FOR ANY MAGAZINES OR OTHER NEWSPAPERS AT LESS THAN PUBLISHERS' PRICES.

THE INDEPENDENT, [illegible]

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO.,
New York City.

MAKE HENS LAY.

SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER

Is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. It is strictly a medicine to be given with food. Nothing on earth will make hens lay like it. It cures chicken cholera and all diseases of hens. Is worth its weight in gold. Illustrated book by mail free. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail for 25 cents in stamps. 2¼-lb. tin cans, $1; by mail, $1.20. Six cans by express, prepaid, for $5.00. DR. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

MUNN & Co. PATENTS ESTABLISHED 1846 NEW YORK

After Forty years' experience in the preparation of more than One Hundred Thousand applications for patents in the United States and Foreign countries, the publishers of the Scientific American continue to act as solicitors for patents, caveats, trade-marks, copyrights, etc., for the United States, and to obtain patents in Canada, England, France, Germany, and all other countries. Their experience is unequaled and their facilities are unsurpassed.

Drawings and specifications prepared and filed in the Patent Office on short notice. Terms very reasonable. No charge for examination of models or drawings. Advice by mail free.

Patents obtained through Munn & Co. are noticed in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, which has the largest circulation and is the most influential newspaper of its kind published in the world. The advantages of such a notice every patentee understands.

This large and splendidly illustrated newspaper is published WEEKLY at $3.00 a year, and is admitted to be the best paper devoted to science, mechanics, inventions, engineering works, and other departments of industrial progress, published in any country. It contains the names of all patentees and title of every invention patented each week. Try it four months for one dollar. Sold by all newsdealers.

If you have an invention to patent write to Munn & Co., publishers of Scientific American, 361 Broadway, New York.

Handbook about patents mailed free.

LIPPINCOTT'S · LIPPINCOTT'S · LIPPINCOTT'S

Leads all other Magazines
In Tales of Fiction — A New Departure
Poems of Interest
Pleasing Short Stories
Interesting Miscellany — 25 cts.
Notes of Progress
NEARLY 200 PAGES IN EACH ISSUE — Choice Selections
Original Contributions
Topics of the Times
Terse Gems
A Complete New Novel — Superlative Merit
By some favorite author in each No.

Giving a library of 12 new and valuable works, worth from $15.00 to $18.00 annually, at the nominal sum of 25 cents per month. Subscription, $3.00 yearly. Stories by John Habberton, Frances Hodgson Burnett, Julian Hawthorne, Lucy C. Lillie, etc., etc., will appear in early issues.

Circulars, giving details, etc., mailed on application

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY
715 and 717 Market St., Philadelphia

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of
Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER
In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE
SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c.
Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere
O. RUST. 37tf

Strange but True.

Disease under many forms is but one thing—Bad Blood. The persistent cough lingers because the blood has insufficient healing power. Parker's Tonic cures disease by enabling the stomach to send nourishment to the blood. How simple, yet how wonderful! Troubles of the Throat, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Nerves all yield to it. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm.

"I have suffered for years with Cough and Bronchitis. Last winter I caught a severe cold which went to my lungs. For two weeks I coughed almost constantly. I could not lie down. I could not speak two words without stopping to rest, so weak and sore were my lungs. I could get nothing to help me and was given up to die. I saw Parker's Tonic advertised in our paper, and began to use it. In two days I felt a change. The third night I slept soundly without coughing, and in a week I walked out of doors, a thing I had not been able to do for five months. Most gratefully yours."—L. P. GILLENWATERS, Holstein, Va.

"A bad cough and hemorrhage troubled me for 25 years. I have used 5 bottles of Parker's Tonic and never found anything so effective. I am 66 years old, and feel like a new man."—A. ORNER, Highspire, Pa.

PARKER'S TONIC,
Made by HISCOX & CO., N.Y. Sold by Druggists $1

$100 A WEEK.

Ladies or gentlemen desiring pleasant profitable employment write at once. We want you to handle an article of domestic use that recommends itself to every one at sight. STAPLE AS FLOUR. Sells like hot cakes. Profits 300 per cent. Families wishing to practice economy should for their own benefit write for particulars. [illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS. Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables, Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
32 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.
Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.
Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Godey's Lady's Book.

AN ELEGANT PREMIUM TO EVERY SUBSCRIBER.
GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK For 1887, $2.00 a Year.
Sample Copy 15 Cents.
TERMS TO CLUBS.
Extra Premiums to Club Raisers.
2 Copies $3.50; 3 Copies $4.50; 5 Copies $7.75.
For list of Premiums and terms to larger clubs, send for Sample Copy, which will give you full information.

MIRROR OF FASHION. $2.00 A YEAR.

GODEY'S, at the present time is admitted by press and people to be superior to any ladies' magazine in America, having the greatest variety of departments, ably edited.

CLUB RAISERS' PREMIUMS.

GODEY'S has arranged to give elegant Silver Plated Ware of superior makers as premiums, the value of which in some instances reaches over $15 for one premium. Send 15c. for Sample copy which will contain Illustrated Premiums with full particulars and terms. Address,
GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK,
Philadelphia, Pa.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼to
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.
☞Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
☞Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

LUMBER YARD.

We have in Stock a Complete Assortment of
Lumber, Lath, Shingles
&c., and in fact everything pertaining to a
FIRST-CLASS YARD.
We are prepared to furnish thoroughly Seasoned Lumber at Lowest Rates.
Call and be Convinced.
BOOMER & LOOMIS.
Corner Broadway and First Streets.

SCHOOL OF SHORT HAND
—AND—
TYPE WRITING.
CLASSES DAY AND EVENING.
Lessons by Mail a Specialty.
Terms Moderate. For further particulars apply to
MISS MATTIE G. HAM,
66 and 67 Weiting Block,
18m3 Syracuse, N. Y.

MASON & HAMLIN
UNRIVALED ORGANS
[illegible]
UPRIGHT PIANOS
[illegible]

[illegible] has an electric light company. Its $50,000 stock is mostly taken by the citizens of the village.

THANKSGIVING DAY in Canada will be on November 18th, one week earlier than the day set apart for this purpose in "the States."

THE oleomargarine law went into effect on Oct. 31st. Comparatively few dealers have as yet applied for a license to sell the article.

THERE was a decided falling off of Prohibition votes in New York city this fall. The Prohibition candidate for Mayor received but 574 of the 218,706 votes cast while St. John two years ago received 1,031 votes.

HON. D. E. Ainsworth was re elected to the Assembly in the 2d district of this county by 1,400 majority, every town was carried by him except Albion. This was the home town of Dr. Cox, the Democratic candidate.

THE Philadelphia Public Herald is a paper that no publisher can be without. In a fearless manner its proprietor "Lum Smith," exposes frauds and makes known those parties that are constantly "gulling" the press and securing advertisements free by their profuse promises. The latest "dead beats" that have secured free advertising in our paper and in several other papers in this county unless they are more favored than we, are the Rutledge Pub. Co. Easton, Pa. and the Domestic Manufacturing Co., Marion, Ohio. Both of these frauds are exposed in the Herald.

SPEAKER CARLISLE had a narrow escape from defeat last week Tuesday, while Morrison, the great free trade Congressman of Illinois, failed to get there. By the defeat of Morrison the free traders lose their most zealous advocate.

THE 125 steamships plying between the United States and Europe cost $100,000,000, employ 18,750 men, spend $1,000,000 a month for coal, carry 500,000 passengers a year and earn $22,000,000 for passage money, exclusive of what is paid for freight.

IT will pay all our readers to peruse very carefully, the article elsewhere copied from the Scientific American, addressed to that dispassionate paper, and reproduced herein because of its very great value to everyone, containing some important scientific facts very plainly put.

THE attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement of Munn & Co., patent solicitors, in another column. Their name is familiar to patentees throughout the country. In connection with the publication of the Scientific American for the past forty years, they have made the drawings and specifications for more than one hundred thousand inventions, and their facilities for obtaining patents were never better than now.

Gilberts Mills.

Almon Mason was quite ill during the past week.

Geo. A. Camain is still unable to do any work.

A. T. Mason is repairing his house.

Fred Bartlett is here from Scriba to spend the winter with his sister, Mrs. G. A. Camain.

Mr. Peck has closed his factory. The ladies will now strive to bring out their pans and churns.

Mrs. W. D. Johnson made 28 lbs of butter from the milk of one cow in 31 days. The cow was fed on all the pumpkins she could eat.

Mrs. Willard and Mrs. Bradford have gone East on a visit to friends who are sick.

We are having a very interesting series of meetings here, under the charge of Elder Paine.

Mason Blodget is putting a porch on his new house.

Mrs. Wright who has been visiting here has returned to her home in Syracuse.

The Hamlin Bros., have recently placed a calendar clock in their store.

The Day of Thanksgiving.

It has long been the custom of the people of the United States on a day in each year, especially set apart for that purpose by their chief executive, to acknowledge the goodness and mercy of God and to invoke his continued care and protection. In the observance of such custom, I, Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, do hereby designate and set apart Thursday, the 25th day of November, instant, to be observed as a day of thanksgiving and prayer. On that day let all people forego their accustomed employments and assemble in their usual place of worship to give thanks to the Ruler of the universe for our continued enjoyment, for a renewal of business prosperity throughout our land, for the return which has rewarded the labor of those who till the soil, and for our progress as a people in all that makes a nation great.

And while we contemplate the infinite power of of God in earthquake, flood and storm, let the grateful hearts of those who have been shielded from harm through His mercy, be turned into sympathy and kindness toward those who have suffered through his visitations. Let us also in the midst of our thanksgiving remember the poor and needy with cheerful gifts and alms so that our service may, by deeds of charity, be made acceptable in the sight of the Lord.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington this 1st day of November in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and eleventh.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

By the President, T. F. Bayard, Secretary of State,

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

By virtue of the authority vested in me by the people of the state of N. Y., I hereby designate Thursday, the 25th day of November, instant, as a day of Thanksgiving and prayer to Almighty God. Let there be thanksgiving for the abundant harvest and the blessings of health and peace with which the year has been crowned. Let there be prayer for the continuance of all the tender mercies and the watchful care which has been divinely granted to us in the past. As we reverently gather in our churches, and cheerfully surround the firesides of our homes, in love of our homes, in love of country and of kindred, with songs and rejoicings let there be praise to the Lord. And not in word chiefly, but in deeds of kindness and active good will to those less favored than ourselves, should our thanksgiving be made manifest. Thus shall voice and heart and hand appropriately unite in a tribute of praise.

Done at the Capitol in the city of Albany, this fourth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

DAVID B. HILL.

By the Governor: William G. Rice,
Private Secretary.

Don't miss those bargains at Draper's in [illegible] and Hanging Lamps, China Tea [illegible] new style (Ribbon [illegible]) all new goods and new [illegible]. Call and see. 19tf

COUNTY NEWS.

The work of enlarging the canal locks at Hinmansville has begun.

The vote in the county this year was ninety per cent of that cast last year.

Efforts made to form an Improvement association in Phoenix have been successful.

Mr. Charles B. Wetherby and Miss Amy C. Dann both of Lower Oswego Falls were married at the M. E. parsonage, Hannibal, by the Rev. Mr. Dibble on Nov. 2.

Mrs. Eunice Gregg died at her home in Pennellville on Nov. 1st aged 78 years, she was one of the oldest and most respected inhabitants of that village.

Rev. A. J. Church D. D., lecturer for the N. Y. State Temperance Society, lectured at the Town Hall Parish last evening on the subject of temperance.

The trustees of the Central City Knife company of Phoenix have called a meeting of the stockholders for next Saturday for the purpose of increasing the capital stock of that company to $50,000.

The following is the Prohibition vote in the county on Groo for Judge of the Court of Appeals: Amboy, 12; Albion, 23; Boylston, 2; Constantia, 11; Granby, 42; Hannibal, 66; Hastings, 18; Mexico, 91; New Haven, 16; Palermo, 16; Richland, 62; Sandy Creek, 47; Schroeppel, 51; Scriba, 19; Volney 93; Orwell, 22; Oswego Town, 56; Oswego City, 16; total 663.

A Popular Literary Work.

The third volume of ALDEN'S "Cyclopedia of Universal Literature," now ready (cloth binding 60 cents, half Morocco 75 cents), contains 496 pages, and represents eighty-six of the most famous authors of the world, of all nations and languages, including among others Bossuet, Bryant, Buffon, Buckle, Burke, Boswell, Bronte, Brougham, Browning; Burns closing with Byron. There are nearly three hundred choice literary selections representing these authors—a truly wonderful amount of entertaining literature for a little money. The following are representative opinions of this work by competent literary critics:

"The third volume strengthens the good opinion formed by its predecessors. The articles, though brief, are remarkably comprehensive, presenting in a few pithy paragraphs the very facts the reader most wishes to know, while the extracts from the writings of the authors described are selected with discriminating taste. We are much pleased with the work. It bids fair to be, when completed, the best cyclopedia of literature in the language."—[The Interior, Chicago.

"Mr. Alden's idea and enterprise in the execution of it should be encouraged generously. He places in the reach of all who read, a good knowledge of the world's literature and of those who have made it, and helps them to form a good literary taste and to desire literary culture. To know what is for him to read, is the first difficulty of the self-instructor. This cyclopedia tells him, with illustrative quotations. To all it is a complete and reliable guide to the best reading."—[Commercial Advertiser, Detroit, Mich.

"The articles are remarkably comprehensive, presenting in a few pithy paragraphs the very facts the reader most wishes to know, while the extracts from the writings of the authors described are selected with descriminating taste. We are much pleased with the work."—[Standard of the Cross, Cleveland, Ohio.

The work is designed to be completed in fifteen volumes. The publisher offers a sample volume, post-paid, for the nominal price of 35 cents, on condition that within three days after receipt you will either remit the remainder of the price or return the book, in which case your money will be refunded—half Morocco binding 50 cents, on the same conditions. Descriptive catalogue of the publisher's very large list of standard books, sent free. JOHN B. ALDEN, Publisher, 393 Pearl St., New York.

CHEESE MARKET.

[From the Utica Herald.]

UTICA, Nov. 8.

The cheese market to-day was very quiet until just before its close, although last week's prices were offered from the first. The cheese sold were all Octobers, and on an average comprised about the third week in that month. Some salesmen however, had only sold the first week's make, and one had all of his Octobers still to dispose of. There are probably 8 to 10 days of October yet to be sold. The competition came from the home trade, for which this stock is wanted badly. From what we can learn the home trade is not yet stocked up for the winter, and there is a desire to get cheese before it advances still further. There were purchases made here to-day for Philadelphia, Cleveland and Chicago, and a good deal more stock would have been taken at 12c. if it had been available. The transactions are as follows.

Lots	Boxes	Price
1	65	11½cents
1	120	11¼ cents
52	3,441	11⅜ cents
17	1,610	11¾ cents
2	245	11⅞ cents
10	840	12 cents
5	691	12¼cents
1	90	p. t.
	7,105
	130	Com
	7,235

Ruling price 11⅜. Transactions of Corresponding day in 1885 were 7,657 boxes at 8¾c. for ruling. In 1884 there 8,126 boxes, ruling 11¼c. In 1883 there were 7,730 boxes, ruling 11c. The ruling is higher, therefore than for three years past.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, Nov. 8.

Cheese.—Another brisk market was experienced to-day and prices are again advanced about ½c. Both salesmen and buyers are now quite confident, as the cold weather with snow has driven all herds in this vicinity to the stable, with the result of causing a shrinkage in milk of about ¼. But salesmen sold quite freely, and but very little cheese is now held in factories in this section that is sufficiently cured to send forward. Probably October 15th is about the average date to which sales have been made by the factories. There was a good demand here to-day both the home trade and for export. Following are the sales:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
1	66	11 cents
1	33	11⅛cents
5	300	11¾cents
39	2,304	12 cents
30	2,392	12¼cents
3	526	12½cents
10	833	Com.
89	6,654
Farm dairy	374
Total	6,928

Farm Dairies—Prices for farm cheese ranged from 11 to 12c., the bulk selling at 12c.

Butter—But 45 packages of butter sold, at a range of 22 to 25c., the bulk at 23c. No creamery sold.

AT FULTON.

Fifteen factories were represented at the Fulton market on Monday night. There were 1,200 boxes sold which brought 11¾ to 12 cts. A large quantity of cheese was held over.

SCIENTIFIC TRUTH.

REGARDING THE FUNCTIONS OF AN IMPORTANT ORGAN.

Of Which the Public Knows But Little, Worthy Careful Consideration.

So the Editor of the Scientific American:

Will you permit us to make known to the public the facts we have learned during the past 8 years, concerning disorders of the human Kidneys and the organs which diseased Kidneys so easily break down? You are conducting a Scientific paper, and are unprejudiced except in favor of TRUTH. It is needless to say, no medical Journal of "Code" standing would admit these facts, for very obvious reasons.

H. H. WARNER & CO.,
Proprietors of "Warner's Safe Cure."

That we may emphasize and clearly explain the relation the kidneys sustain to the general health, and how much is dependent upon them, we propose, metaphorically speaking, to take one from the human body, place in the wash-bowl before us, and examine it for the public benefit.

You will imagine that we have before us a body shaped like a bean, smooth and glistening, about four inches in length, two in width, and one in thickness. It ordinarily weighs in the adult male, about five ounces, but is somewhat lighter in the female. A small organ? you say. But understand, the body of the average size man contains about ten quarts of blood, of which every drop passes through these filters or sewers, as they may be called, many times a day, as often as through the heart, making a complete revolution in three minutes. From the blood they separate the waste material, working away steadily night and day, sleeping or waking, tireless as the heart itself, and fully of as much vital importance; removing impurities from sixty-five gallons of blood each hour, or about forty-nine barrels each day, or 9,125 hogsheads a year! What a wonder that the kidneys can last any length of time under this prodigious strain, treated and neglected as they are?

We slice this delicate organ open lengthwise with our knife, and will roughly describe its interior.

We find it to be of a reddish-brown color, soft and easily torn; filled with hundreds of little tubes, short and thread like, starting from the arteries, ending in a little tuft about midway from the outside opening into a cavity of considerable size, which is called the pelvis or, roughly speaking, a sac, which is for the purpose of holding the water to further undergo purification before it passes down from here into the ureters, and so on to the outside of the body. These little tubes are the filters which do their work automatically, and and right here is where the disease of the kidneys first begins.

Doing the vast amount of work which they are obliged to, from the slightest irregularity in our habits, from cold, from high living, from stimulants or a thousand and one other causes which occur every day, they become somewhat weakened in their nerve force.

What is the result? Congestion or stoppage of the current of blood in the small blood vessels surrounding them, which become blocked; these delicate membranes are irritated; inflammation is set up, then pus is formed, which collects in the pelvis or sac; the tubes are at first partially, and soon are totally, unable to do their work. The pelvic sac goes on distending with this corruption, pressing upon the blood vessels. All this time, remember, the blood, which is entering the kidneys to be filtered, is passing through this terrible disgusting pus, for it cannot take any other route!

Stop and think of it for a moment. Do you realize the importance, nay the vital necessity, of having the kidneys in order? Can you expect when they are diseased or obstructed, no matter how little, that you can have pure blood and escape disease? It would be just as reasonable to expect, if a pest-house were set across Broadway and countless thousands were compelled to go through its pestilential doors, an escape from contagion and disease, as for one to expect the blood to escape pollution when constantly running through a diseased kidney.

Now, what is the result? Why, that the blood takes up and deposits this poison as it sweeps along into every organ, into every inch of muscle, tissue, flesh and bone, from your head to your feet. And whenever, from hereditary influence or otherwise, some parts of the body is weaker than another, a countless train of diseases is established, such as consumption in weak lungs, dyspepsia, where there is a delicate stomach; nervousness, insanity, paralysis or heart disease in those who have weak nerves.

The heart must soon feel the effects of the poison, as it requires pure blood to keep it in right action. It increases its stroke in number and force to compensate for the natural stimulus wanting, in its endeavor to crowd the impure blood through this obstruction, causing pain, palpitation, or an out-of-breath feeling. Unnatural as this forced labor is, the heart must soon falter, becoming weaker and weaker until one day it suddenly stops, and death from apparent "heart disease" is the verdict.

But the medical profession, learned and dignified, call these diseases by high sounding names, treat them alone, and patients die for the arteries are carrying slow death to the affected part, constantly adding fuel brought from these suppurating, pus-laden kidneys which here in our wash-bowl are very putrefaction itself, and which should have been first.

But this is not all the kidneys have to do; for you must remember that each adult takes about seven pounds of nourishment every twenty-four hours to supply the waste of the body which is constantly going on, a waste equal to the quantity taken. This, too, the kidneys have to separate from the blood with all other decomposing matter.

But you say, "My kidneys are all right. I have no pains in the back." Mistaken man! People die of kidney disease of so bad a character that the organs are rotten, and yet they have never there had a pain nor an ache.

Why? Because the disease begins, as we have shown, in the interior of the kidney, where there are few nerves of feeling to convey the sensation of pain. Why this is so we may never know.

When you consider their great work, the delicacy of their structure, the ease with which they are deranged, can you wonder at the ill-health of our men and women? Health and long life cannot be expected when so vital an organ is impaired. No wonder some writers say we are degenerating. Don't you see the great, the extreme importance of keeping the machinery in working order? Could the finest engine do even a fractional part of this work, without attention from the engineer? Don't you see how dangerous this hidden disease is? It is lurking about us constantly, without giving any indication of its presence.

The most skillful physicians cannot detect it at times, for the kidneys themselves cannot be examined by any means which we have at our command. Even an analysis of the water, chemically and microscopically, reveals nothing definite in many cases, even when the kidneys are fatally broken down. [illegible]

As you value health, or your hopes of long life free from sickness and suffering, give these organs some attention. Keep them in good condition and thus prevent (as is easily done) all disease.

Warner's Safe Cure, as it becomes year after year better known for its wonderful cures and its power over the kidneys, has done and is doing more to increase the average duration of life than all the physians and medicines known. Warner's Safe Cure is a true specific, mild but certain, harmless but energetic and agreeable to the taste.

Take it when sick as a cure, and never let a month go by if you need it, without taking a few bottles as a preventive, that the kidneys may be kept in proper order, the blood pure, that health and long life may be your blessing.

H. H. WARNER & CO.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our Regular Correspondent]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5, 1886.

The result of the elections illustrated the old Italian apothegm that it is the unexpected that happens.

There is a telegraph office in the White House and on election nights it is a busy place. Usually on such occasions a large corps of messenger boys are also kept busy carrying messages from other lines besides the Western Union to the White House. Everything had been put in order for last Tuesday night and the President sat for several hours in Col. Lamont's room, next door to the little office, and got the news direct from all parts of the country.

His greatest interest was in the New York elections and Mr. Hewitt's plurality was a matter of considerable congratulation. The Democratic losses among Congressmen in New York were, of course, unwelcome, but they were not unexpected from several districts. Finally the President retired and left Col. Lamont to struggle with the returns for the balance of the night. The latter remained at the side of the telegraph operator from eight o'clock in the evening until an early hour next morning, and naturedly sifted out of the mass of matter received those points which were of most interest to the President.

Secretary Lamar is engaged upon his annual report of the Interior Department. It is understood that he cordially endorses Commissioner Atkins' views concerning the Indians of the Indian Territory. These are that they give up tribal relations, become citizens, establish courts, enter lands, etc. Mr. Atkins is now in Colorado, making a tour of the Indian agencies. Secretary Lamar has just received information from him to the effect that the Indians there are in excellent condition. They are peaceful, contented, and making progress towards civilization.

Buffalo Bill (Mr. Wm. Cody) who is in the city, came to make his report to the Commissioner of Indian affairs. He made arrangements for securing new Indians from various tribes for his next season's show of the "Wild West." He is kind to the Redskins, pays them good wages, and is considered by the department as doing a good work towards their civilization. He is one of the few men whom the Government has allowed to employ Indians for the purpose of a show. The Indians he had with him last summer have all gone back to their tribes. Before sending them home Buffalo Bill gave each one of the women and men, a full suit of clothes in the European fashion. It is presumed that he will not undertake to exhibit the savages in Europe next year as nothing was said about taking them abroad. He would not be allowed to do so without giving heavy bonds to the Interior Department.

A few days ago an Irish member of the British House of Commons who went to the White House to be introduced to the President, was much surprised to find that no guards were on duty there. He approached the Executive Mansion very timidly and at the outer gate hesitated as if something were lacking as to ceremony. At the front door he hesitated still more and had to be urged by his escort to proceed any further. Finally when he was being led up the carpeted stairway to the President's own apartments on the second floor he started around in astonishment and asked, in an undertone, "Are there no guards on duty?"

That the President's residence should be open to all comers without lot or hindrance was something he had never dreamed of. He was still more astonished when Mr. Cleveland stood up against his desk, with crossed legs and folded arms and talked to him without any useless ceremony or nonsense. He remained to watch the afternoon reception in the East Room where the President meets three times a week at half past one, all who desire to shake hands with him. The home rule member saw the President shake hands with black and white, without distinction, and coming away from the White House he declared that he had an entirely new sense of the reality of American freedom.

Although the President feels compelled by a press of business, the preparation of his annual message etc., to deny himself to visitors between the 16th of Nov. and the meeting of Congress, the mere handshakers are not included. He will continue to meet them as usual on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. As he was starting down to the East Room to shake hands with his callers a few days ago, he was asked if he did not find it fatigueing. "No" answered Mr. Cleveland, "it is the easiest work I have to do during the whole day."

Big Cities.

London has a population of 15,000 to the square mile. Canton, China, has 35,000 inhabitants within the same area. New York, leaving out the uninhabited portion, has a population of 85,000 to the square mile. In the sixth ward there is a population of 149,000 to the square mile; in the tenth ward, 276,000.

THE CENTURY.

The November number of the Century opens with the long expected biography of Abraham Lincoln, which promises to be an unusually notable work. Theodore Roosevelt contributes an article, particularly interesting at this time, on "Machine Politics in New York City." Richard T. Auchmuty discusses "The Need of Trade Schools." The war articles are Hooker's Appointment and Removal," and "The Battle of the First Day at Gettysburg." "The Fate of a Voice" is a characteristically well written story by Mary Hallock Foote. [illegible]

Sore Eyes

The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Scrofula, which produced a painful inflammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely

Cured

My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever.—Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.—C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.

From childhood, and until within a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Phillips, Glover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three ulcers formed on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, three bottles of this medicine, have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Kendal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.

By Taking

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored, and she can now look steadily at a brilliant light without pain. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Sutherland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t

Smart Weed and Belladonna combined with other ingredients used in the best porous plasters make Carter's S. & B. Backache Plasters the best in the market. Price 25 cents.

Don't trifle with any Throat or Lung Disease. If you have a Cough or Cold, or the children are threatened with Croup or Whooping Cough, use Acker's English Remedy and prevent further trouble. It is a positive cure, and we guarantee it. Price 10 and 50c by H. C. Giesler.

A Remarkable Case.

Oct. 21st, 1886.

MESSRS W. H. HOOKER & CO.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable. I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. He is apparently on the road to entire recovery, in the near future. I cheerfully confirm and attest to the above and believe others (from my statement) suffering, may have reason to believe in the efficacy of this excellent remedy. Very Truly,

MRS. LESAGE.
26m6 Fulton, N. Y.

THE NEW QUININE.

Science emerging from Darkness.

KASKINE

WHAT THE

PHYSICIANS

SAY ABOUT IT IN

RHEUMATISM,

MALARIA, DYSPEPSIA,

NERVOUS DEBILITY,

LIVER, LUNG AND KIDNEY DISEASE.

The eminent and celebrated Dr. Glessner writes: The Kaskine Co.—DEAR SIRS—"The first greatest successes I had with Kaskine were in chills and fever, malaria, nervous debility, rheumatism, dyspepsia, and liver diseases, and I considered at that time it was undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered, but I was even then unfamiliar with its really wonderful powers in curing all the other germ diseases and disorders, particularly where the blood had become diseased or impoverished and the digestion impaired. Strictly speaking, Kaskine is the only blood purifier we have. I use it also very largely with unfailing success in all diseases peculiar to women and children. In over three hundred cases I have cured there has never been the slightest bad effect following its use, and it is far superior to any tonic or nerve medicine ever known to the medical profession."

Very truly yours,
L. M. GLESSNER, M. D., 360 East 121st St., N. Y.

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

The U. S. Examining Surgeon, Dr. L. R. White, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

St. Francis Hospital, N. Y.: "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y.: "Universally successful."

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered indispensible. It acts perfectly."

Kaskine is pleasant to take and can be used without special medical counsel.

Send for the great book of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine. $1 a bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

SPECIAL MEETING.

Fulton, N. Y., Nov. 4th, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment. Present, the president and full board. The resolution to raise the sum of $[illegible] by tax for the purpose of [illegible]

NOVEMBER OFFER.

The Greatest Yet!

Instructive and Interesting Reading for the Long Winter Evenings.

SUBSCRIBE

and get some Excellent Reading Matter, Free.

TWENTY-FIVE BOOKS,

of your own selection

FREE!

To Every New Subscriber to THE TIMES, and to every Old Subscriber who pays his Subscription to date and one year in advance will receive Free any twenty-five of the following Books that he or she may select, or the whole forty-five with one year's Subscription to

THE TIMES FOR $1.50.

These books are published in neat pamphlet form, upon good paper, and printed with good type. These same books with cloth binding sell at $1.00 per volume.

By looking over the following list many books will be seen that you would like, Twenty-five of which you can secure FREE!

MARVELOUS PRICES!

BOOKS FOR THE MILLION

Complete Novels and Other Works, by Famous Authors, Almost Given Away. The following books are published in neat pamphlet form, and all are printed from good type upon good paper. They treat of a great variety of subjects, and we think no one can examine the list without finding therein many that he or she would like to possess. In cloth-bound form these books would cost $1.00 each. Each book is complete in itself.

1. The Widow Bedott Papers. This is the book over which your grandmothers laughed till they cried, and it is just as funny to-day as it ever was.
2. Winter Evening Recreations, a large collection of Acting Charades, Tableaux, Games, Puzzles, etc., for social gatherings, private theatricals, and evenings at home.
3. Back to the Old Home. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay, author of "Hidden Perils."
4. Dialogues, Recitations and Readings, a large and choice collection for school exhibitions and public and private entertainments.
5. The Standard Letter Writer for Ladies and Gentlemen, a complete guide to correspondence, giving plain directions for the composition of letters of every kind, with innumerable forms and examples.
6. The Frozen Deep. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins, author of "The Woman in White," etc.
7. Red Court Farm. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood, author of "East Lynne," etc.
8. The Lady of the Lake. By Sir Walter Scott. "The Lady of the Lake" is a romance in verse, and of all the works of Scott, none is more beautiful than this.
9. In Cupid's Net. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
10. Amos Barton. A Novel. By George Eliot, author of "Adam Bede," "The Mill on the Floss," etc.
11. Lady Gwendoline's Dream. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
12. The Mystery of the Holly Tree. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
13. The Budget of Wit, Humor and Fun, a large collection of the funny stories, sketches, anecdotes, poems, and jokes.
14. John Bowerbank's Wife. A Novel. By Miss Mulock, author of "John Halifax, Gentleman," etc.
15. The Gray Woman. A Novel. By Mrs. Gaskell, author of "Mary Barton," etc.
16. Sixteen Complete Stories by Popular Authors, embracing love, humorous and detective stories, stories of society life, of adventure, of railway life, etc., all very interesting.
17. Jasper Dane's Secret. A Novel. By Miss M. E. Braddon, author of "Aurora Floyd," etc.
18. Fancy Work for Home Adornment, an entirely new work upon this subject, containing easy and practical instructions for making fancy baskets, wall pockets, brackets, needle work, embroidery, etc., etc., profusely and elegantly illustrated.
19. Grimm's Fairy Stories for the Young. The finest collection of fairy stories published. The children are delighted with them.
20. Manual of Etiquette for Ladies and Gentlemen, a guide to politeness and good breeding, giving the rules of modern etiquette for all occasions.
21. Useful Knowledge for the Million, a handy book of useful information for all, upon many and various subjects.
22. The Home Cook Book and Family Physician, containing hundreds of excellent cooking recipes and hints to housekeepers, also telling how to cure all common ailments by simple home remedies.
23. Manners and Customs in Far Away Lands, a very interesting and instructive book of travels, describing the peculiar life, habits, manners and customs of the people of foreign countries.
24. 57 Popular Ballads. Same size as sheet music. Words of all the old and new songs.
25. Called Back. A Novel. By Hugh Conway.
26. At the World's Mercy. A Novel. By Florence Warden, author of "The House on the Marsh," etc.
27. Mildred Trevanion. A Novel. By "The Duchess," author of "Molly Bawn," etc.
28. Dark Days. A Novel. By the author of "Called Back."
29. Shadows on the Snow. A Novel. By B. L. Farjeon, author of "Bread-and-Cheese-and-Kisses," etc.
30. Leoline. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay, author of "Brenda Yorke."
31. Gabriel's Marriage. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins, author of "No Name," etc.
32. Reaping the Whirlwind. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay, author of "Old Middleton's Money," etc.
33. Dudley Carleon. A Novel. By Miss M. E. Braddon, author of "Lady Audley's Secret," etc.
34. A Golden Dawn. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne," etc.
35. Valerie's Fate. A Novel. By Mrs. Alexander, author of "The Wooing O't," etc.
36. Sister Rose. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins, author of "The Woman in White," etc.
37. Anne. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood, author of "East Lynne."
38. The Laurel Bush. A Novel. By Miss Mulock, author of "John Halifax, Gentleman," etc.
39. Robinson Crusoe. A thrilling narrative by Daniel De Foe, describing the adventures of a castaway in the South Pacific Ocean.
40. How to Make Poultry Pay. A practical and instructive series of articles by Mr. P. H. Jacobs, Poultry Editor of "The Farm and Garden," Phila.; illustrated.
41. Parlor Magic and Chemical Experiments, a book which tells how to perform hundreds of amusing tricks in magic and instructive experiments with simple agents.
42. Gems of the Poets, containing charming selections from Tennyson, Longfellow, Whittier, Byron, Shelley, Moore, Bryant, and many others.
43. Building Plans for Practical, Low-cost Houses. A full description and plans of Eight modern houses, ranging in price from $500 to $4500. Illustrated.
44. Anecdotes of Public Men—Washington, Franklin, Webster, Clay, Tilden, Lincoln, Scott, Grant, Garfield, Gladstone, Butler, Hancock, Lee, and all the leading men of the century.
45. Æsop's Fables. The work of an ancient genius. Children have read them for centuries, and grown people quote them every day.

OUR UNEQUALED OFFER.

We have arranged with the publishers of these books to furnish the whole forty-five with one year's subscription to our paper for $1.50; or we will send any five for 25 cts., or the whole forty-five for $1.50. Address all orders to publishers of

"FULTON TIMES,"
Fulton, N. Y.

In sending your Subscription, write only the NUMBERS of the books selected and they will be sent to your address, free of charge.

Remember that this offer is only good during the month of November. After this month the offer is void.

Subscribe! Pay Up!

KNABE

PIANOFORTES,

UNEQUALED FOR

Tone, Touch, Workmanship and Durability.

WILLIAM KNABE & CO.,
Nos. 204 and 206 West Baltimore St., Baltimore,
No. 112 Fifth Avenue, New York.

BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER.

Highest Awards of Medals in Europe and America.

The neatest, quickest, safest and most powerful remedy known for Rheumatism, Pleurisy, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Backache, Weakness, colds in the chest and all aches and pains. Endorsed by 5,000 Physicians and Druggists of the highest repute. Benson's Plasters promptly relieve and cure where other plasters and greasy salves, liniments and lotions, are absolutely useless. Beware of imitations under similar sounding names, such as "Capsicum," "Capsuin," "Capsicine," as they are utterly worthless and intended to deceive. Ask for BENSON'S AND TAKE NO OTHERS. All druggists. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Proprietors, New York.

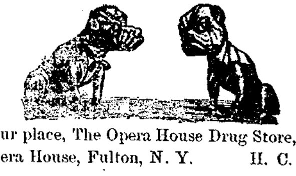
CATARRH

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Gives Relief at once and Cures Cold in Head, CATARRH, HAY FEVER. Not a Liquid, Snuff or Powder. Free from Injurious Drugs and [illegible]

We still live and feel healthy. The very disastrous effect of the Oswego county druggists' combination, upon our diet during the past year, seemed so apparent that upon consulting our bank account, and Wilcox's meat scales, we find ourselves yet, quite a ghost. The big guns of the Oswego county drug combination for the prevention of cruelty to fish, are still aimed at our council. Our diet of corn meal and onions enables us to still step heavily upon the necks of the Oswego county poor man's friends.

We still hold forth at the beautiful opera house drug store and have increased our stock of Pure Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Wines, Liquors, Fancy Toilet Articles, Oils, Paints, and in fact everything pertaining to a first-class drug line. We desire to sincerely thank our many Fulton and vicinity friends who have stood by us in our past warfare, and thereby enabled us to secure a good fitting out of our clothes. Our Combination Competitors, have acquired such an affection for us that when we chance to pass them upon the streets, they greet us with the following smiling expression:



Remember our place, The Opera House Drug Store, Opposite the Stephens Opera House, Fulton, N. Y. H. C. GIESLER.

ROGERS' GRAPOLINE

ROGERS' GRAPOLINE

Is a household name throughout the United States. It is administered as a specific, and with SUCCESS, in

DYSPEPSIA, Sick HEADACHE, Nervous Debility, Liver Complaint, Bilious Remittents, Bowel Complaints (especially CONSTIPATION), Gout, Gravel, RHEUMATISM, Nausea, the complaints peculiar to the maternal sex, and all types of Inflammation.

So mild is it in its operation that it can be given with perfect safety to the feeblest child; and so agreeable is it to the taste, so refreshing to the palate, that children never refuse to take it. FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

A. H. ROGERS & CO. Geneseo, N. Y.

Real Estate and Insurance

AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 1 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 94 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.

☞Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at FULTON, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

NEW COAL FIRM.

REMEMBER THAT

HART & CULLEN

ARE SELLING THE

Wilkesbarre and Pittston Coal.

THE BEST COAL MINED.

Leave Orders at Hart's Pottery, or Cullen's Meat Market and you will find prices very satisfactory.

Coal Delivered in Fulton or Oswego Falls.

2m3

Job Printing.

—:o:—

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing.

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,

—AT THE—

FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

A RARE CHANCE

To get a First-Class Illustrated Magazine with a Premium to every subscriber. This offer is made by the Publisher of

LEISURE HOURS

Best and Cheapest Home and Fashion Magazine published.

—$1.50 per year in advance.—

Contains each month, Fashion and Fancy Work Plates, Fashion Notes, Original Illustrated Articles, Stories, Poems, &c., Society Notes, Hints for Farm, Garden and Household. Send stamp for circular giving list of —PREMIUMS.—

G. H. HOBART, Publisher,
P. O. Box 1877. 292 Broadway, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO.

Nellie E. Sears against John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Josephine Hethington and Alice Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 4th day of November, 1886. C. H. DAVID, Plaintiff's Attorney, Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington.

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. J. C. Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 5th, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego county, at Oswego city, N. Y. Yours &c.,

C. H. DAVID,
Plff's Atty.,
Fulton, N. Y.

C. F. HANCOCK,

196 West First St., Oswego, N. Y.

—AGENT FOR THE CELEBRATED—

Decker Brothers' Matchless Pianos.

THE VERY BEST PIANOS.

Prices as low as possible consistent with the highest standard.

A RARE CHANCE.

THE AMERICAN HORSE COLLARS

Endorsed and used by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

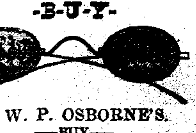
Prolong the life of the horse, are a humane invention, secure thirty per cent. more work, and are effecting a revolution. To a practical horse or harness man we will upon receipt of sample order, give the agency of this town for our business, and a continued advertisement in this paper with name [illegible]

-BUY-

Hampden Watches

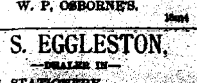
—AT—

W. P. OSORNE'S.



REPAIRED AT OSBORNE'S.
WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY.

-B-U-Y-



At W. P. OSBORNE'S.

—BUY—

THE WM. ROGERS'

Silver Plated Teaspoons

FOR $1.00 at

W. P. OSBORNE'S.

16m4

C. S. EGGLESTON,

—DEALER IN—

BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES

Wednesday, Nov. 10, 1886.

PERSONALS.

Presiding Elder Danforth was in town Sunday.

Miss Fannie Barnes is visiting friends in Oswego.

C. C. Benedict and family visited in Mexico last week.

Mrs. E. Conger of Phœnix visited friends here last week.

Mr. Chapin of the Riverside & Oswego Mills was in town last week.

A sister of father Earley has been visiting in town during the past week.

T. T. Hart and family of Lysander will spend the winter in Oswego Falls.

R. Guilds of the Syracuse Courier is at his home in this village for a few days.

Gates Willard of New York was in town visiting friends during the past week.

Mrs. Le Sage returned last week from Buffalo, where she had been visiting her daughter.

Editor Bennet of the Patriot has been in New York during the past week. He returned Monday night.

Mrs. Libbie Bellinger of Deansville, Oneida county visited at her father's J. M. Spafford, last week.

Mrs. George P. Saunders of Bradford, Pa., was in town during the past week, in attendance at the funeral of her sister Mrs. Chas. Wilkinson.

Starr Hill and C. C. Hewes left for Cleveland, Monday, with the avowed intention of destroying all the ducks that flap their wings in the vicinity of Oneida Lake.

BOX SOCIAL!

IN THE PARLORS OF THE Presbyterian

Church.

☞THIS EVENING,☜

Proceeds for the Benefit of the Needy.

Supper from 7 till 10.

ALL ARE INVITED.

Notice.

All persons indebted to me for professional services are requested to call at the office No. 6, First Street, Fulton and settle without delay, as I shall remain in town a few days for that purpose. All accounts must be settled at once or they will be placed in the hands of an attorney. W. A. HALL, M. D.
Fulton, N. Y. Oct. 8, 1886.

Work on the new station and freight house of the new Syracuse & Baldwinsville railroad at Baldwinsville has begun.

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

I will reduce the price on all Amberena, Wild-rose and Peach-ware, Saturday Nov. 6 '86. Also on China-Tea-Sets, Chamber-Sets and all fancy cups and saucers. Call and see goods at Draper's, Oneida St.

All kinds of winter foot wear at Collins'. 25tf.

Just received at Drapers 100 of those leading $1.00 lamps--all complete with B. Burner, Illuminator and Shade; He will put the above lamps on sale Saturday at 85c. each. Remember the place 15 Oneida street, where they are selling Hanging Lamps at prices that will surprise you.

Remember the place to buy unadulterated groceries CHEAP is at the sign of the Red store No. 18 First street opposite the Lewis house.
24tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

SOMETHING NEW.

The improved Welt $3.00 Calf Shoe equal to the best hand sewed at
22tf COLLINS'.

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots. &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by
10tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

The Lambertville "Duck" Rubber Boot has no equal. They will not crack. Sold at Collins'. 25tf.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

I WAS DISGUSTED

with the learned doctors after swallowing their costly medicine in vain for over a year for the relief of catarrh in the head, when I cured myself by using six bottles of Sulphur Bitters. My wife is now taking them for nervous debility.
—[Abiel Carter, Parker House, Boston.

The Village Improvement Society.

A well attended meeting of the Village Improvement Society was held last Wednesday evening in the session room of the Presbyterian church.

By invitation of the association the President, D. W. Gardner, presented some practical suggestions as to the scope and work of such a society in our midst.

First, he mentioned our homes, the desirability of making them pleasant and attractive on the exterior as well as interior, the proper attention to sanitary regulations for the promotion of health and comfort, specially emphasizing the influence which the example of every neat and tasty house and grounds had upon one's neighbors and the community in general.

Next, he dwelt upon the streets which though narrow, and poorly laid out in the beginning, might be greatly improved in appearance by preventing the luxurient growth of weeds and thistles so often seen in our highways and keeping the grass nicely cut along the walks and by the side of the roads. The unsightly places vacant but prominent in the very heart of the village are used as dumping grounds for rubbish and cast away articles of various kinds were mentioned.

Thirdly, the subject of beautifying and adorning in a simble and not expensive manner, the public grounds of the village, particularly our admirably located park, was taken up and the value to the whole village of attractive resorts where the people could enjoy the delights of nature was clearly shown.

Among the other suggestions presented was the need of a paid, instead of a volunteer, police service, and the wish that non-partisan village boards, composed of energetic, progressive men, thoroughly devoted to the best interests of the town might be elected.

The creation of a public sentiment in favor of everything that will build up and beautify our village and its surroundings was stated as the main purpose of the Improvement Society.

The remarks of the President will be the special theme for consideration at the next regular meeting.

After the address of Mr. Gardner an informal but interesting discussion of electric light question in its various phases followed. The next meeting will be held one week from to-night in the same place.

The Special Election.

The special Village Election was held last Thursday evening to decide whether the bid of the Schuyler Electric Light Company to light the village with 37 arc lights one year at $1,794.13 should be adopted or not. The resolution was voted down, 53 voting for and 207 against it. Everyone understands that the 207 taxpayers who voted against this resolution did not vote against electric lighting. It is a low estimate to say that four-fifths of these taxpayers desire to have the streets lighted by electricity and expect the trustees to enter into a contract by which such lighting may be done from now until April. There are two propositions before the board for this short term, either of which is within the amount appropriated for street lighting purposes. There is no reason therefore why the members of the board should delay in taking action and it is not probable that they will. Their meeting is to be held this evening.

Box Social.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church have made extensive preparations for a box social to be held this evening at the session room of their church. The proceeds from the social are to be used for the good of the worthy that are in need of help. All should attend and assist the ladies in this commendable work. Boxes containing refreshments will be sold, some with cards and some without. Anyone will therefore have an opportunity to enjoy the repast with his best girl if he so desires. Let there be a good a attendance.

Postponement.

On account of the fact that the parlors of the Presbyterian church will be occupied to-night, the next meeting of the Village Improvement Society will be postponed until next Wednesday evening the 17th at 7:30 p. m. It is desired that all who take an interest in the improvement of our village will be present. The practical work to be done by the society will be taken up at this meeting.

Special Meeting.

There will be held a special business meeting of the Baptist church and society next Tuesday, Nov, 16th, at 2 o'clock p. m. Each member of the church and society is earnestly requested to be present, as business of great importance is to be submitted.

Try the Conductor 5c. cigar, the finest 5c. cigar in town. Sold by W. J. Watson. 26w9.

FOR THE WINTER!

—We have one of the Largest Stocks of—

CLOTHING!

—IN OSWEGO COUNTY—

And at Prices as Low as can be found in America. We offer unusual inducements in

MEN'S AND BOYS'

SUITS AND OVERCOATS,

SCOTCH AND FUR CAPS,

Men's Underwear, Men't Flannel and Woolen Shirts, Men's Neckwear and Hosiery, Gloves, Mittens &c.

Remember, we are THE ONE PRICE DEALERS and guarantee satisfaction on every dollars worth of goods purchased of us.

D. C. MORE & CO.

To Be Reduced.

My very large stock of Men's Boys' and Youths' Kip and Calf Boots for Fall and Winter wear to be sold at Jobber's Prices to Reduce Stock.

A. E. NETTLETON.

The slaughter on buckwheat cakes has begun.

Winter came with a vengeance, last Monday morning.

"Patent Rights" at the opera house next Monday evening.

Superintendent Maertins, of R. & O. F. Mills is in town.

Box Social at the parlors of the Presbyterian church this evening.

Sam Cashman of Syracuse, is the new clerk in Amdursky's clothing store.

F. Durfey of Volney announces that he has an apple tree in full blossom.

The skating rink over Summerville's livery is now open every Saturday evening.

A box social will be held in the session room of the Presbyterian church this evening.

The canal will be closed on December 1st, unless favorable weather permits of still further navigation.

Switz Conde steam yacht, Ruth, from Oswego, passed through here yesterday on its way to Norfolk, Va.

The vote in Oswego county for a constitutional convention was 7,632 and 383 against.

Wm. Collins was arrested for assault in the third degree and sent on Saturday to the O. P. for 60 days.

The next meeting of the C. L. S. C. will be held at the home of Miss Ada M. Wright, Wednesday evening, Nov. 10.

Thomas McDonald arrested for criminal assault waived examination last Thursday and gave bail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

A meeting is to be held in Phœnix to-morrow evening for the purpose of organizing a society to encourage manufacturing industry in that village.

The Lewis house changed hands yesterday, Mr. Leonard retiring. The new landlord is Mr. A. D. Williams, formerly proprietor of the Globe Hotel, Watertown.

Twenty-five excellent books given free to every subscriber to THE TIMES. Read the offer in another column and remember that it is only good during this month.

The first entertainment at the opera house under the new management was given last evening by Duprez and Benedict's minstrels. The troupe did not give most excellent satisfaction.

A canal boat loaded with willows and owned by Osborne Brothers tipped over on account of over deck load and sank back of True's mill last Friday morning. She was pumped out later in the day.

John Gorman from Canada, was sent to the Onondaga Penitentiary for 90 days on Saturday, for vagrancy. He announced his intention of breaking into a store if he were not "sent up.".

The farm situated two miles northwest of Fulton, in the town of Granby, on the Chase road, known as the Conklin farm, together with the household furniture, stock, farming utensils &c., are offered for sale at public auction on Wednesday, Nov. 17.

On last Saturday evening a party of friends were at the home of Mrs. Martha Mosher, corner of Second and Seneca streets, when a stone was thrown through one of the windows, immediately following this came a brick through one of the other windows breaking the sash and striking one of the ladies in the room on the back, injuring her severely. Suspicion rests upon a certain person and an arrest may follow.

District Assembly Secretary J. J. Junio of Syracuse, addressed the Knights of Labor in Oswego last Friday evening. In the course of his remarks Mr. Junio referred to the recent visit of Inspector Healy to the Oswego Falls factories to inquire into the manner in which affairs were conducted, the number of children employed, &c., and said that while Healy was free to admit that the condition of affairs was bad he could do nothing. The Knights, he said, had decided to ask Gov. Hill to remove Healy and appoint a man who could do something.

To Our Readers.

We cannot too strongly urge upon our readers the necess ity of subscribing for a family weekly newspaper of the first class—such, for instance, as THE INDEPENDENT, of New York. Were we obliged to select one publication for habitual and careful reading to the exclusion of all others, we should choose unhesitatingly THE INDEPENDENT. It is a newspaper, magazine, and review, all in one. It is a religious, a literary, an educational, a story, an art, a scientific, an agricultural, a financial, and a political paper combined. It has 32 folio pages and 21 departments. No matter what a person's religion, politics or profession may be, no matter what the age, sex, employment or condition may be, THE INDEPENDENT will prove a help, an instructor, an educator. Our readers can do no less than to send a postal for a free specimen copy, or for thirty cents the paper will be sent a month, enabling one to judge of its merits more critically. Its yearly subscription is $3.00, or two years for $5.00.

Winter Apparel.

In every conceivable style, at Peebles & Cook's. The stock of overcoats displayed over their counters is the largest and finest ever shown in this town. The price on each garment is in close sympathy with the times and commends itself to the purchaser. The perfect fitting overcoats worn on our streets came from Peebles & Cook's.

For Sale or to Rent.

A Farm of [illegible]

Death by Poison.

William House, a Granby farmer, living about two miles northwest of Fulton on the Chase road died on last Thursday morning from the effects of poisoning. He was 28 years of age and had a wife and two children. His domestic relations were anything but pleasant, in fact so serious had the estrangement become between himself and wife that on the announcement of his death by poison, painful rumors were afloat as to whether death resulted from his own hand or not. Coroner Marsh took charge of the body and a post mortem examination was made by Drs. Wells and Whitaker when it was found that death resulted from strychnine instead of arsenic as has been stated by all the county papers. A jury was empaneled by Coroner Marsh consisting of D. H. Gilbert, J. A. Fitch, I. Fitch, Chas. R. Clark, Guy Candee and James Crosby, and the inquest was held in the town clerk's office at Oswego Falls on Monday forenoon. Some suspicious facts were developed and the jury asked for more witnesses to be subpoened. On yesterday forenoon the inquest was concluded and the verdict "that death was caused by poison administered by his own hand" was rendered.

Ex-Prisoners of War.

At the meeting of ex-prisoners of war held in Oswego last Wednesday, A. Cooper of Oswego was elected president of the new organization; James E. Spalding of Fulton, first vice-president; B. C. Barnes of Oswego, second vice-president; A. P. Chase of Fulton, secretary; R. B. McCully of Fulton, treasurer; Edward Lee of Oswego, chaplain, and A. Cooper, A. P. Chase, John Rowe, H. C. Beals and Albert Snell, executive committee.

A constitution and by-laws were adopted and a charter sent for. All honorably discharged soldiers or sailors who were prisoners of war and never took the oath of allegiance to the southern confederacy are elegible to membership whether in or out of the county.

The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the president and secretary.

A New Firm.

Very many are the regrets expressed by our people, in consequence of the now certain removal of Russell & Son from our midst to Fulton. Nevertheless mingled with them are voiced numberless wishes for the welfare of these gengentlemen in their new home. New faces will be seen in their places and new friendships formed, but shall we be the gainer thereby, forever will our people retain the kindiest rememberance of Russell & Son. May success attend the departing firm.—[Port Byron Chroncle.

The White Bastardy Case

The trial of William White of Hannibal indicted upon the complaint of Maggie Jacobs for seduction under promise of marriage was concluded Saturday. It resulted in the conviction of White. On Monday an arrest of judgment on the ground of new evidence was granted. The question of a new trial will be argued before Judge Churchill on November 23. This case has caused great excitement in Hannibal, public sentiment being divided as to the innocence and guilt of the party accused.

Teachers' Examinations.

Examinations for teachers who for any cause have failed to attend those already held, will be held as follows: Fulton School house, district No. 2, Saturday, November 13, 9 a. m.; Hannibal. November 20, 9 a. m.; New Haven, Saturday, November 27, 9 a. m. Teachers holding 2d grade licenses, may be examined for 1st grade at these examinations. D. D. METCALF.
Nov. 1st, 1886.

WHAT WE CLAIM.

Backed up by Proofs.

We claim we are selling Better Clothing, Hats and Caps and Furnishing Goods, for little money than any house in Central New York. We claim we have the Best Men's Suit at $5.00, the Best Cassimere Suit at $10.00 in the world. We have the best Overcoat at $5.00, the very heaviest Ulsters and Overcoats at $6.00, and the best line of Men's all wool Beavers, Melton and Churchill's Overcoats at $10.00 in the country; in Boys and Childrens Overcoats and Suits. We have hundreds of Bargains that we have not the space to mention, and now for the proof. We ask you to come and examine. Compare our prices with other houses. It will pay your expenses to the city alone what you will save by buying your Hats and Caps and furnishing goods of the Central City Clothing Co.,

20 East Genesee St.,
C. C. C. C. Syracuse, N. Y.

Curing his Patients.

Mrs. H. Nauss of Baldwinsville after many years of great pain and suffering has been cured of Neuralgia and Dyspepsia by Dr. S. C. Markley. Mr. S. Dingman of the Dingman house, Baldwinsville, has also been cured of Sciatic Rheumatism. J. W. Vincent of Baldwinsville has been cured of Bronchial affections and ulceration of stomach and liver by Dr. Markley after many physicians failed to help. Remember Dr. Markley's office is at Lewis House, Fulton every Thursday. No cure no pay.

Special Prices For Carpets, Furniture &c.

A. A. Graff & Co., No's 61 & 63 South Salina Street, Syracuse, offer for the next 30 days, as a special bargain, 100 Parlor suits embossed plush, solid walnut frame, 7 pieces for $35.00; 75 chamber suits, 10 pieces for $25.00; 50 pieces tapestry carpet 60c a yard and 70 pieces extra super ingrain carpet 50c a yard.

We will deliver all purchases freight, prepaid to any part of the state. Now is the time for [illegible]

Thanksgiving next.

Watson has fitted up the interior of his drug store.

Regents examinations are in progress in No. 2 school.

A number of sleighs made their appearance on the streets Monday.

The Catholic church of this village is to hold a fair next month.

A daughter was born to the wife of W. R. Chesbro at Ingalls Crossing, Monday.

The Salvation army moved into their new quarters in the McCully building, Oneida street, yesterday.

A benefit entertainment for Father Earley is announced for Thanksgiving evening at Stephens opera house.

Until the first of January Sunday School will be held at the M. E. church at 10 a. m., preaching commencing at 11.

Dr. S. V. Miller has moved his office from the opera house block to rooms over Whitaker's market on Oneida street.

The grading and culvert work on the new Syracuse & Baldwinsville railroad has been completed and the track is now being laid.

The street car men had an opportunity to shovel snow on Monday for the first time. There is more work of this kind to follow.

The board of town auditors met on Thursday and Friday at the Supervisor's office for the purpose of auditing accounts against the town.

Crosson's company will present the well known and popular play of "The Banker's Daughter" at the opera house on Wednesday evening, November 17th.

The Board of Supervisors are now in secession at Oswego. They will adjourn to-day probably for two or three weeks, when their regular annual session will open.

The Northern New York conference will meet in Little Falls for its next annual session, on Thursday, April 14, 1887, and will be presided over by Bishop Cyrus D. Foss.

The I. O. G. T. lodge of this town are to hold an entertainment next Monday open to a limited number of their friends. Each member has the privilege of inviting two friends.

Frank Keaney of this village who was taken to Syracuse last week on a charge of having left a board bill unpaid amounting to $41 was discharged. No case having been established against him.

A decree of the District Court has just been filed here with Clerk Watkins in the action brought by Pliny F. Conger vs. Adele M. Conger, his wife to secure divorce on ground of desertion. Judge Francis grants an absolute divorce.—[The Steele (Dak.) Ozone.

A number have taken advantage of our unrivaled book offer for this month. We are prepared to supply all new or old subscribers who wish to take advantage of the offer. Sample copies of the books may be seen by calling at this office.

Fred Sutherland, formerly of this place, now agent of the R. W. & O. R. R. at Fulton, told a visiting Clevelander, the other day, that it would be in order to congratulate him about Christmas. It is understood that the bride elect is Miss Maud Beals, of Fulton.—[Lakeside Press.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Julia A., wife of Charles Wilkinson died at her home on Seneca street last Thursday forenoon of paralysis of the brain aged 55 years. The funeral services were held at the M. E. church on Sunday at 3 p. m. the pastor Rev. W. Dempster Chase officiating. Mrs. Wilkinson was the sister of Warren Allhouse who died a short time since.

Henry N. Somersone of the oldest residents of Volney Centre died very suddenly at his home in that village last Moneay morning aged 88 years and 10 months. The funeral services were held at his late home yesterday afternoon.

Almon Cane, aged 81 years died at the home of his son-in-law L. La Due on Monday after a long sickness. Interment was made in the Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

Marsden's Patent Rights.

"Fred. Marsden's" latest production is 'Patent Rights,' a new and original comedy in three acts. The name of the play and patents are original with Mr. Le Grand, who will enact the leading role, Solomon Sharp, a character written expressly for this eccentric comedian. Sharp is a young patent rights agent, who booms his business in a novel way and has for sale a variety of quaint and ingenious patents, whose introduction in the play will be voted novel and laughable. He makes his first entrance in a country town on the cowcatcher of a locomotive. This engine will be a very realistic affair. It is constructed of brass and sheet iron, runs on a portable track, backs, whistles, and illustrates in every particular the action of the genuine machine. The agent has an article, duly protected by law, for every ludicrous purpose under the sun.

Mr. Marsden has cleverly and naturally brought these things into the action of the comedy, and yet they do not interfere with the pretty plot of a serious view which serves as the backbone for the fun that is so liberally sprinkled throughout. Topical songs have been written for Mr. Le Grand by Sidney Rosenfeld, to be used in conjunction with the play.—[New York Mirror.

[illegible]

A New York Street Romance.

[Written for THE TIMES.]

Before [illegible] friend Hal Hamilton was married [illegible] acquaintances used to accuse him [illegible] being cranky, and most everyone found him "hard to get along with." That I should find him a congenial companion was a wonder to those that knew us both. He is possessed of the average amount of personal beauty, and was at the head of a growing fruit commission house on Greenwich street. In my morning walks with him from the bridge, (we both lived in Brooklyn then) and the tramps about the city, during the holidays, I got to know him pretty thoroughly. His idea of the average woman was not very exalted, and should he bear or happen to see any strange act the "frivolous sex" was guilty of committing, his stereotyped exclaimation would be "Just like a woman! It became chronic with him, and only when an unusually smart lady chanced across his path would he relax, and then for a while would beam on her with all the ferver of a noonday sun. Again when we would meet, I of course would ask him about the last young lady, and as usual get the reply "Just like the rest of them."

* * * * *

Anyone who lives in a great city, in their travels to and fro to business, will meet the same people in about the same place every day. Should your goings, continue for a few years, the faces become so familiar that they seem like friends. You can see young faces gradually growing older, girlhood passing into womanhood, the boy's knickerbockers are changed for long trowsers, and the youth marches on to manhood. Occasionally a face is lost from view, (often forever; laid low in death) again to reappear, and in the added lines of sorrow you can read of some new life's burden. Some times a girl will drop out from the procession, and later in some park or quiet street you may by chance see her with her husband and child teaching the baby its first steps in life. Crape bands and veils have a bad habit of creeping into the line, creating silent sympathy for the wearers. New faces appear to pass you like the rest. Some times a gleam of recognition will flash from some particular eyes, but the lips refuse to speak. Thus you pass the crowd each day. You know them and yet you don't. I have often wished that I might overstep the line of etiquette and talk with a few of "the madding crowd," but the barrier is too great. Almost sure of a snub. Among the army of people that swept up Warren street from the Jersey ferries, was a demure little maid, that we always met in the City Hall Park. She was like others I have met, handsome at times and again quite common place. Changable with mood, time, or circumstances. And yet she possessed a personality that would attract a close observer, and even claim attention in a crowd. We of course knew that she was a wage worker and often as we passed would speculate as to her possible employment. I usually said "sales lady" but Hal said: "No! Nothing like that." We used to imagine that she sometimes gave us a thought, for her eyes would brighten—(partial recognition—some interest, I presume and a smile would half escape her as we passed. I could but notice that Hal was becoming interested, one morning he left me just after we passed the the young lady, and followed her across the park until she faded from sight in the cavern like entrance of City Hall. About the time that the aqueduct steal was exposed, and the Comissioner of Public Works deposed, our little lady disappeared much to the annoyance of Hal. He was truly smitten, and the schemes we hatched up to bring her forth again, were many but to no avail. She had dropped out of our lives completely, and at the end of two months I had begun to forget her, and Hal deep in the mid summer work did likewise, but somewhat against his will. His business grew and prospered, and soon he felt the need of a stenographer to help him in his office and correspondance. His advertisement brought an avalanch of answers as usual, and after looking them over, threw all but two in the waste paper basket. One was from a man, the other a woman, but the idea of being so closely associated with a female was two much for him, and he was about to cast her letter away with the rest when he thought it might pay to re-read. It was neatly written, and right to the point. "Guess I'll give the girl a chance, anyway," so he took a coin from his pocket, and tossed it in the air. "Heads she wins." Heads it was, and then he thought that it was not fair, so he made it best two in three. Heads again, and he sat down and wrote asking the young lady to call the next day. All this he kept from me, and if I had not had occasion to go into the office shortly after, would not have been introduced to Miss Otto of Jersey City. Our acquaintance grew, but of course Hal had every advantage and was sure to win. I found her to be as I had imagined, well read, sensible and alive to every thing of interest about her.

Hal contracted a habit of mixing smiles and soft insinuating words when he dictating letters, but when the remarks were at all personal, shift her work to the type writer and drown his words in the merry click of the machine.

Well! the first thing I knew, they were married. One afternoon they strolled up to the Mayor's office, and by him was wedded "for better or for worse." The marriage certificate bears the signature of his honor, and two of 'the finest" as witnesses. It was one of Hal's queer freaks. Mrs Hal did not go back to the type writer after their return from the wedding trip.

This too, was a novelty in its way. A wheel through the Berkshere hills on a social tricycle without any extra baggage. They stopped where night overtook them and resumed the journey at pleasure. Side by side they traveled through this beautiful country, so favored by nature, making hill and valley echo back their sprightly duets, and glad hearted laughter.

* * * *

I sat last week with Hal in his new home in an uptown flat, and among the questions I asked was this:

"How did you ever decide that Ermo was not like other women, and that you would be willing to spend your life with one of the frivolous creatures?" "Hush!" he said, "don't say that so loud! My ideas of women are somewhat changed, and I know that I used to slander them. [illegible]

Here It Is Again.

Another unfortunate mother has been induced to buy one of the cheap, trashy made suits so commonly sold in this town. The child has been obliged to revive at an unseemly hour, that the trowsers may receive the necessary repairs. This should be a lesson to her at least, that fair written, glibby worded advertisements of superfine clothing, do not always indicate the place to get reliable goods, but some people are loath to believe and nothing but bitter experience will convince them. Its an old story of misplaced confidence in trowsers. "A dollar saved is a dollar earned," does not apply in the purchase of children's clothing. The best is the cheapest. It is needless to say that we keep the best.

PEEBLES & COOK

Opposite Opera House.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 182 Fulton Street, N. Y.

secretary to one of the sub officers employed by the Commissioner of Public Works, and when the ring was broken up, she lost her place. I advertised for a stenographer, and she came in reply. I felt rather queer Jack, when she first went to work, but that soon left me, and I found her apt, quick to learn, possessed of a master mind. Well read on all subjects too. Well! we got along famously until I began to feel that she was essential not only to my business, but to my future welfare. My actions must have revealed my feelings, for she tried to act restrained and distant, and I was sure I was doomed to disappointment. One day I was dictating a letter to her, when all of a sudden I dropped the work and began to tell her just how much I thought of her. The poor girl, all unconscious of what was coming took down what I was saying, until it flashed on her mind the true import of my words. Then came tears, and sobs, (and if there is anything I hate to see its a a woman in tears) and before I it——"There Hal! Let me finish that story" said his wife as she entered the room. "Do you know I've got that letter yet? It begins: "Schazzo & Bicara, Malago,

Gentlemen: Please send us 200 boxes Malaga oranges on next steamer and ——" then comes a mixed mess of words foreign to the subject, but I was so busy taking it down that I did not realize their meaning until Hal had me in his arms, and made me confess that I did, and had loved him for some time. But come to dinner now, both of you for its ready, and must be spoiled while we have been talking about our former foolishness."

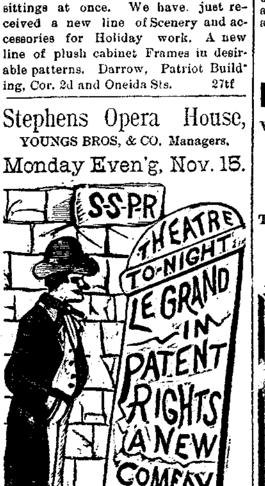
THE WANDERING JEW.

New York Nov. 6th, '86.

New Scenery.

Those desiring Photographs for the Holidays would do well to secure their sittings at once. We have just received a new line of Scenery and accessories for Holiday work. A new line of plush cabinet Frames in desirable patterns. Darrow, Patriot Building, Cor. 2d and Oneida Sts. 27tf

Stephens Opera House,
YOUNGS BROS, & CO. Managers.
Monday Even'g, Nov. 15.



NEW HARNESS SHOP.

The Undersigned would respectfully announce to the public that he has opened a New Harness Shop and is prepared to do all kinds of

REPAIRING

—ON—

HARNESS, TRUNKS, BUGGY TOPS, CUSHIONS, &C. &C.,

☞As Cheap as the Cheapest.☜

HARNESS

OF ALL GRADES MADE TO ORDER.

A share of public patronage solicited.
Give us a Call.
C. W. BROWN,
Cayuga St., Opposite [illegible] Depot.

Farm For Sale.

Situated 6½ miles west of Fulton, 1¼ miles east of South Hannibal, 80 acres, good buildings, will trade for village property. Inquire of or address
GEO. F. HOWLAND,
24w4 South Hannibal, N. Y.

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expediously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

Just received at D. C. Draper's, a large order of imported crockery and China, and a fine line, all new patterns, China tea sets and chamber sets, which I will offer for the next 30 days at $1.00 less on chamber sets and $2.00 to $4.00 less on tea sets than any house in Oswego or Syracuse, to reduce part of over-stock. Call and see goods and prices, at 15 Oneida street. 17tf

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

Vienna Bakery.

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionery, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton. Confectionery from 12 cents upward. A fresh supply of crackers, bread and cake constantly on hand. Call and examine my stock. JOHN BARKER,
18tf 26 First st

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the NOVELTY CUSTOM MILL recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & Redhead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any flour or feed grinding done. Flour and feed constantly on hand. Call and try us and we guarantee satisfaction. Flour and feed delivered to any part of Fulton and Oswego Falls free of charge. 18t26

Look at this line of

PARLOR STOVES!

WORLD'S JEWEL,

ART ROYAL,

RED CROSS.

GOLD COIN AND BEAVER.

The last two are ventilating Stoves, and sold exclusively by

SNOW & LOOMIS.

1886. 1886.

AHEAD OF ALL!

MILTON S. PRICE,

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

The Popular Dry Goods, Carpet and Furniture Dealer.

The Great Establishment Renovated. New Decorations, &c., Mammoth Show Windows, One Great Entrance from Salina Street. The most Attractive Store in the City.

PROUD AM I TO ANNOUNCE that during forty years of business experience, I have never been so well prepared to meet the wants of the public as at the present time.

READY CASH WITH EXPERIENCED BUYERS has filled my mammouth stores, running through from Salina to Clinton Streets, with a stock of

DRY GOODS, CARPETS AND FURNITURE,

Unequaled by any Establishment in Central New York.

It would be useless in this small space to attempt an enumeration of the thousands of articles displayed.

DRY GOODS and Fancy Goods,
IN ENDLESS VARIETY.

CARPETS, RUGS, &c.,

A COMPLETE STOCK.

Furniture and Curtain Draperies,

FOR THE RICH AND POOR.

I can give you better value for your money than any other house in the City.

Do not fail, when in Syracuse, to pay this establishment a visit.

MILTON S. PRICE,

Nos. 38 and 40 South Salina Street, and 29, 31 and 33 Clinton Street,

Syracuse, N. Y.

WORTH KNOWING.

Not less than 20,000,000 pounds of starch are made annually in Maine from potatoes.

The American Dairyman does not consider that coloring is an adulteration of butter.

Great Britain will need to import from 140,000,000 to 150,000,000 bushels of wheat this year.

Some of the indians in Dakota are said to be proving themselves rather successful wheat growers.

France will need from 28,000,000 to 30,000,000 bushels more of wheat this year than it has grown.

Experiments with nearly all kinds of feeding materials show that it is cheaper to use a variety than to confine the animals to a single kind.

In building piggeries or shelters of any kind for swine, be sure to provide for ample means of ventilating the same.

With proper care and skill a well-selected flock of the right kind of sheep can be made to pay 100 per cent. on their cost every year.

The demand a few years ago was for a lard hog; this has all been changed and there is now a premium on the animal with plenty of tender lean meat intermingled with the fat.

Rotten potatoes should be burned or buried. Their manurial value is small, stock will not eat them, and their presence about the premises is an invitation to disease.

Nothing else will so help the flowing milk of cows just now as a pailful of ripe apples chopped into slices and sprinkled with meal. It pays as well to grow apples for the stock—if not better—as to grow roots in the field.

It is claimed that if an animal with a potato, apple or other obstruction in the throat is made to jump over a low bar it will remove the substance instantly. The remedy is a simple one and can be applied easily.

While the weather continues fine, advantage should be taken of it in storing a few barrels of fine road dust for use in the hen-house during winter. It will keep the fowls free from vermin, and be transformed in spring into an equal bulk of rich manure. Road dust itself on much traveled roads contains considerable fertilizing material from the drippings of teams.

Never use coarse litter, as it pays to cut it with a cutter and the animals will enjoy it better, while its fine quality will render it more capable of absorbing the liquids. All bedding should be used as much for its absorbent qualities as for bedding purposes, and the labor of passing it through the cutter will be more than repaid when it comes to the time that the manure is to be hauled as it will then be fine and easier to handle.

Why Boys Should Not Be Snubbed.

Don't snub a boy because he wears shabby clothes. When Edison, the inventor of the telephone, first entered Boston he wore a pair of yellow linen breeches in the depth of winter.

Don't snub a boy because his home is plain and unpretending. Abraham Lincoln's early home was a log cabin.

Don't snub a boy because of the ignorance of his parents. Shakespeare, the world's poet, was the son of a man who was unable to write his own name.

Don't snub a boy because he chooses a humble trade. The author of the "Pilgrim's Progress" was a tinker.

Don't snub a boy because of physical disability. Milton was blind.

Don't snub a boy because of dullness in his lessons. Hograth, the celebrated painter and engraver, was a stupid boy at his books.

Don't snub a boy because he stutters. Demosthenes, the great orator of Greece, overcome a harsh and stammering voice.

Don't snub any one. Not alone because some day they may outstrip you in the race for life, but because it is neither kind, nor right, nor Christian. —[Christian Advocate.

The Proposed French Tower.

The Eiffel tower 1,000 feet high, which is to be erected in Paris for the exposition of 1889, is likely to afford plenty of excitement to Parisians before it is completed. The first step is about to be taken in ascertaining what curve is to be given to the sides. A chain or cord suspended between two points forms a catenary curve corresponding with the weight. Now it is supposed that something of the kind also occurs when the suspension is vertical. The engineers have therefore arranged to cause a balloon to ascend to the height of the proposed tower. From the boat, ropes will be hung to the ground and fixed there. From this curvature, the contour of the tower will be derived. It is a novel experiment, but, as there is some difficulty in arrnging the slope of an ordinary lighthouse, we cannot expect that a colossal tower made of iron plates, is to be designated without much deliberation.—[Scientific American.

Deaths and Births.

The average of human life is 33 years. One-quarter die before the age of 7, one-half before the age of 17. To every 1,000 persons, one only reaches to 100 years; and to every 100, only six reach 65 years; and not more than one in 500 will reach 80 years. There are on earth 1,000,000,000 of inhabitants. Of these 33,333,333 die every year; 91,824 die every day, 3,780 die every hour, and 60 per minute or one every second. These losses are about balanced by an equal number of births.

Nothing Serious.

"Papa," she said softly and blushingly, "young Mr. Simpson is in the parlor and wishes to speak to you." Then she sank into an easy chair, and her heart beat so fiercely that it made the gas fixtures rattle. Presently the old man returned. "Oh, papa," she said, "did he—what did he want?" "He wanted [illegible]

Sealskin and otter are the leading furs.

Turned-over linen collars are again fashionable.

Velveteen holds its own as a popular dress fabric.

Sand color is a new shade which combines well with bright red.

Evening gloves in delicate shades, have lace open work tops reaching far up the arm.

Morning wrappers, whether of silk or flannel, are smoothly fitted in the redingote style.

The fancy for wearing plain basques with striped skirts is economical and will be retained.

There are a number of neat checks shown in wool dress fabrics; a pretty mixture is of blue and gold.

Among the most desirable dresses for autumn and winter are those of soft twilled wool either serge or homespun.

Many of the handsomest hats and bonnets are trimmed with loops of ribbon only, no feathers or metal ornaments.

Evening dresses for young ladies this winter will be "dancing length," that is long enough to touch the floor without lying upon it.

A novelty in dress buttons are large balls of wood showing the grain, stained, highly polished, and mounted on silver and steel eyes.

Among the novelties in jewelry are gold crochet hooks and knitting needles tipped with small stones, pearls and brilliants being mostly used.

Black gros grains with short skirts or demi-trains have powdered jet revers for trimming the apron and the basque, also the high collar and the cuffs.

The new shade of black promises to be very popular; it has a peculiar Indian blue which has a suspicion of gray in it, and is invariably becoming to all complexions.

The newest finish for the neck and wrists of dresses is loops of the narrowest picot satin ribbon set in a band of of ribbon that is basted inside the collar. The loops are about an inch long, curved each against that next it, and the ribbon is that known as baby ribbon.

Quite Correct

Wasted sweetness—Buying ice cream for another fellow's girl.

Through a glass darkly—Ink.

A log cabin—The Mariner's private office.

Noted down—Eider.

An atmospheric effect—Malaria.

A legal carrier—The prison gate.

On the mend—The cobbler.

Castaway—The song of the iron moulder.

Roped in—The prize ring.

To have and to hold—The baby.

Up the spout—The plumber's profits.

False hare—Stewed cat.

Taken from the German—His baggage, at Castle Garden.—[Puck.

Soul agents—Clergymen.

Moving in high circles—Saturn.

A retired editor—One who is in bed.

A tight squeeze—Lemonade with a stick in it.

It is the trade dollar which makes the trade holler.

The music quickens when Sir Joseph and his train approaches in "Pinafore," although it is a sister, cousin, and ante movement.—[The Folio.

Size of the Statue of Liberty.

The following particulars of the dimensions of the different parts of the statue of Liberty gives an idea of its colossal size:

	Feet	Inches.
Height from base to torch	151	1
Foundation of pedestal to torch	305	6
Heel to top of head	111	6
Length of head	16	5
Index finger	8	0
Circumference at second joint	7	6
Size of finger nail....13 by 10 inches
Head, from chin to cranium	17	3
Head thickness from ear to ear	10	0
Distance across the eye	2	6
Length of nose	4	6
Right arm, length	42	0
Right arm, greatest thickness	12	0
Thickness of waist	35	0
Width of mouth	3	0
Tablet length	23	7
Tablet, width	13	7
Tablet, thickness	2	0
Height of pedestal	89	0
Square sides at base, each	62	0
Square sides of top, each	40	0
Grecian columns, above base	72	8
Height of foundation	65	0
Square sides at bottom	91	0
Square sides at top	66	7

The statue weighs 450,000 pounds, or 225 tons.

The bronze alone weighs 200,000 pounds.

Forty persons can stand comfortably in the head and the torch will hold twelve people.

The number of steps in the statue from the pedestal to the head, is 154, and the ladder leading up through the extended right arm to the torch has 54 rounds.

Where They Should Dwell.

Cooks should settle in Greece.

Fresh young men in Greenland.

Prize fighters in Wrangleland.

Angry men should go to Ireland.

Waiters should find comfort in China

The enterprisng man should be a Russian.

Scolding women should go among the Tartars.

Wicked people should stop on the road to Rouen.

Quakers should feel at home in the Friendly Islands.

Hotel keepers should settle in the Feed-ye Islands.

Profane men should travel in Mecklen Schwerin.

Hot-headed individuals should migrate to Iceland and Chili.

Married folks should content themselves in the United States.

Dress-makers might find it profitable to locate in the Basque provinces.—[H. J. Shellman in in The Judge.

Every woman who suffers from Sick Headache, and who dislikes to take bitter doses should try Carter's Little Liver Pills. They are the easiest of all medicine to take. A positive cure for the above distressing complaint; give prompt relief in [illegible]

[illegible]
HOP PLASTERS
For concentrated power and curative virtues, healing qualities, and quickness of action, they stand without an equal. Scientifically prepared from approved vegetable extracts, virtues of Fresh Hops, Gums, Balsams and Extracts, spread on white muslin. They promptly and thoroughly subdue all pains and aches that torment the human body, vitalize worn-out muscles and strengthen weak parts. Always ready for instant application. Clean, fragrant and never-failing. Hop Plasters sold by druggists and Country stores. 25 cts., 5 for $1.00. Mailed for price by proprietors,
Hop Plaster Company, Boston, Mass.
☞Beware of imitations. See what you buy. Look for hop-vine wreath and signature of HOP PLASTER COMPANY, on back of plaster and on circular around plaster.

The biggest restaurants in America are two that face Washington market, New York. One feeds 10,000 persons a day, and the other serves 8,000. The average cost of a meal in one of these mammoth dining rooms is twenty-five cents.

Children Starving to Death

On account of their inability to digest food, will find a most marvelous food and remedy in Scott's Emulsion. Very palatable and easily digested. Dr. S. W. Cohen of Waco, Texas, says: "I have used your Emulsion in Infantine wasting. It not only restores wasted tissues, but gives strength and increases the appetite." 264w

M. Bartholdi is a native of Alsace, the province which France lost after the German war of 1870-71. Since 1870 he has lived in Paris. His name is pronounced as though it were spelled Bartoldy.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

The coinage at the mints during October amounted to $910,000 gold coin, $3,000,000 standard silver dollars, $199,000 subsidiary coin and $231,000 in minor coin.

Can't Sleep Nights is the complaint of thousands suffering from Asthma, Consumption, Coughs, etc. Did you ever try Acker's English Remedy? It is the best preparation known for all Lung Troubles, sold on a positive guarantee at 10c., 50c. H. C. Giesler.

When you hear a man continually talking about himself you can make up your mind that his brain is not large enough to grasp any outside facts.

The Bloodthirsty Anarchists

Are foes to the health of our political institutions, but Coughs and Colds are greater foes to bodily health. Van Wert's Balsam will certainly cure all Coughs. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

Van Wert's Pills are very mild in action. Van Wert's Golden Balm is agreeable to use.

Dennison, the inventor of the convenient and now indispensible tag, died recently in Massachusetts. Over 225,000,000 of his tags are sold annually.

Old and reliable Medicines are the best to depend upon. Acker's Blood Elixir has been prescribed for years for all impurities of the Blood. In every form of Scrofulous, Syphilitic or Mercurial diseases, it is invaluable. For Rheumatism, has no equal. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

Ex-Senator Bruce, of Mississippi, says he is going to prepare a lecture on his experience in the senate.

I WAS DISGUSTED with the learned doctors after swallowing their costly medicine in vain for over a year for the relief of catarrh in the head, when I cured myself by using six bottles of Sulphur Bitters. My wife is now taking them for nervous debility. —[Abiel Carter, Parker House, Boston.

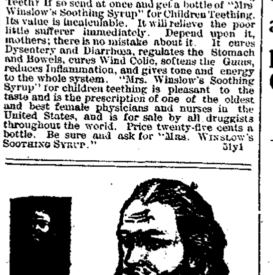
Before next June a statue of Miles Standish will frown on Boston people.

* * * * Premature decline of power in either sex, however induced, speedily and permanently cured. World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the system and in this way positively cures catarrh.

Ex-President Arthur is worth about $100,000.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup." 5ly1



DR. PARDEE'S
REMEDY
(The only Reliable Blood Purifier.)
A SPECIFIC FOR
RHEUMATISM
Scrofula, Salt Rheum
Neuralgia, Ring Worm
AND ALL OTHER SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASES. IT REGULATES THE LIVER & KIDNEYS
And Cures Indigestion
And all Diseases arising from an unhealthy condition of the system.
It has proven itself to be the most reliable remedy known for [illegible]
[illegible]

The Old Reliable
UNDERTAKER
AND
FURNITURE DEALER
Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line.
Caskets and Coffins
Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best
EMBALMING MATERIALS
And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.
Hearse and Carriages
FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.
Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

George Fassell
DEALER IN
Marble and Granite
MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES
Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.
Work Equal to Any.
Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.
Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium
Stock Lager.
☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.
A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.
Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 33m6

COAL.
The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.
The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.
Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.
J. MORE & Co,

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest Cleanest, Best,
FOR SALE BY
Q. RUST.

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,
Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

WE WANT 5,000 MORE BOOK AGENTS TO SELL OUR NEW BOOK.

Secret Service
OF THE POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT.
By T. K. WOODWARD, late Chief of P. O. Detective Corps.
A New Book Just Published by an official of over 18 years' experience in the Secret Service, in one Magnificent Royal Octavo Volume of over 600 pages and elegantly illustrated by the best artists in the country with 200 SUPERB ENGRAVINGS.
A thrilling record of detection in the U. S. Post-Office Department; embracing sketches of Wonderful Exploits of Post-Office Inspectors in the Detection, Pursuit, and Capture of Robbers of the U. S. Mails; together with a complete description of the many means and complicated contrivances of the wily and unscrupulous to defraud the public; also an accurate account of the FAMOUS STAR ROUTE FRAUDS, in which the Author had entire charge of the preparation of the evidence for the government.
AGENTS WANTED.
In every town there are Postmasters, Merchants, Mechanics, Farmers, Professional Men, and hundreds of people who will be glad to get this thrilling book. It is now having an unparalleled sale; it sells at sight to all. Men and Women Agents making from $100 to $200 a month easily. [illegible]

[illegible] improvement over the [illegible] there is an interference with the roadway.

Home Rule for Ireland

Is only a question of time and it is only a question of time when a neglected Cough will lead to Consumption. We guarantee that the timely administration of Van Wert's Balsam will stop any Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are very thorough in operation. Van Wert's Golden Balm cures Catarrh without irritation.

The hat size of Mr. Gladstone is 7⅜; Lord J. Russell, 7¼; John Bright, 7⅜; Lord Selborne, 7⅛; the Prince of Wales 7. The Scotch head is larger than the English.

Jeffersonian Simplicity.

Can be practiced by using Van Wert's Balsam for all Throat and Lung diseases, as it well save unnecessary doctors bills. For sale by H. C. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are free from injurious substances. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure catarrhal Headaches.

Simon Cameron is the only survivor of the Senate of Polk's administration now that David L. Yubee is dead.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

Katie Putnam, the actress, has an income of $10,000 from her fruit farm in Michigan.

Acker's Blood Elixir is the only Blood Remedy guaranteed. It is a positive cure for Ulcers, Eruptions or Syphilitic Poisoning. It purifies the whole system, and banishes all Rheumatic and Neuralgic pains. We guarantee it. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

Tobacconists say that there is a marked falling off in the cigarette habit in New York.

Wonderful Cures.

W. D. Hoyt Co., wholesale and retail druggists of Rome, Ga., says: We have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery, Electric Bitters and Bucklen's Arnaca Salve for two years. Have never handled remedies that sell as well or give such universal satisfaction. There have been some wonderful cures effected by these medicines in this city. Several cases of pronounced Consumption have been entirely cured by the use of a few bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, taken in connection with Electric Bitters. We guarantee them always. Sold by R. E. Phillips.

Henry George was once the private secretary of Abram S. Hewitt.

Greatly Excited.

Not a few of the citizens of Fulton have recently become greatly excited over the astonishing facts, that several of their friends who had been pronounced by their physicians as incurable and beyond all hope—suffering with that dreaded monster Consumption—have been completely cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, the only remedy that does positively cure all throat and lung diseases, Coughs, Colds, Asthma and Bronchitis. Trial bottle free at R. E. Phillips drug store, large bottles $1.

A farmer near Albany, N. Y. has raised a potato weighing fifty-five ounces.

HANDSOME VERSUS HOMELY.

Who is that fine looking lady that we just passed, Clara? Why, that is Mrs. Snow. Well there what a change; when I saw her last, her skin was so sallow and muddy looking, it is no wonder I didn't know her. What has produced that lovely complexion? I heard that she took Sulphur Bitters, the great Blood Purifier, and now would not be without them.

The Pasteur Institute fund, Paris, has reached the sum of 442,990 francs.

At Night always have Acker's Baby Soother at hand. It is the only safe medicine yet made that will remove all infantile disorders. It contains no Opium or Morphine, but gives the child natural ease from pain. Price 25 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

William Astor recently ordered a $350 baby carriage for a grandchild.

SCOTT'S
EMULSION
OF PURE COD LIVER OIL
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda
Almost as Palatable as Milk.
The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.
AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvelous in its results.
Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.
FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

PATENTS,
Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights
Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.
Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.
Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.
We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to
C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

ARTISTS' MATERIALS
For every department Select Studies and all Novelties. China Fired and Gilded. LaCroix Latest Colors and Special Brushes. Kensington and Lustre Outfits a Specialty. FLOWER MAKERS' SUPPLIES.
Best Goods. Lowest Prices. Prompt attention.
PRICE LIST FREE.
W. H. BAUSCHER & CO.,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

[illegible]
[illegible] give up Sunday beer.
—[New York Sun.

[illegible] a husband will avow
[illegible] 'cause he's too late;
But he'll get just as mad and surly
If he should come home an hour too early.
—[Tid Bits.

He's Dead.

Who is rich? And who is happy?
Who could be content with less?
Let us see—his name is—name is—
Pshaw, we've lost the man's address.
—[Washington Critic.

A favorite winter resort—before the fire.—[Boston Post.

The cold wave—When the girl's father waves you to the front door.—[Philadelphia Herald.

After all it may turn out that the only honest butter is the goat.—[New Age.

Physic beats the faith cure, because it has the inside track.—[New Orleans Picayune.

The ages of spring chickens and women are the most doubtful subjects on this little earth.—[New Haven News.

Scientists know there is no God, but they are more or less in doubt about the sea-serpent.—[Puck.

Why does the camel know more about base ball than the dromedary? Because he is a hump higher. Take this with your desert.—[Commercial Bulletin.

In the race for the prize of being called the belle of the ball it is frequently a neck-and-neck finish with society beauties.—[New Orleans Picayune.

"By the way," exclaimed Smithers, "have you two fives for a ten?"

"I have," responded Jobson.

"Then lend me one of them."—[Pittsburg Dispatch.

"How can I get rid of fleas on my cat?" asks a subscriber. Easy enough Soak the cat in four feet of water until the fleas rise to the surface. Then bury the cat.—[Burlington Free Press.

There is a revival going on in the northern part or the state and each convert gets a Waterbury watch. The plan works all right until they come to wind it and then they backslide.—[Philadelphia Call.

There is said to be a volcano in New Zealand that slings out mud. All it needs is an editor-in-chief and an office towel to become a regulation campaign organ.—[Burlington Free Press.

A physiologist says that "no man's body is as strong as his appetite." This explains why the pile of victuals a tramp can eat is bigger than the pile of wood that he can saw in a day.—[Norristown Herald.

"Is any one waiting on you?" inquired the polite salesman of a Westville maiden. "Well I can't hardly tell," she blushingly replied. "Sometimes I think there is and then again I ain't certain, but Will's so sort of funny, you know," and then she blushed again and asked to see some lace collars.—[New Haven News.

It is really refreshing to learn of the arrival of a foreign couple without the usual scandal accompaniment. We believe there are no hard things said regarding M. Bartholdi and Miss Liberty. —[Yonkers Statesman.

When the rumbling of the explosion at Bayside reached the ears of a Winchester lady she exclaimed, "John's been tryin' to pass that bad quarter again down at Purdy's. He hit the road hard that time."—[Albany Journal

"Oconomowoc," yelled the brakeman, "O'Connor may walk, may he!" exclaimed an Irishman at the other end of the car. "An faith if yez maine me, you'll have a faine time makin O'Connor walk whin he's paid $5 for this bit of pasteboard."—[St Paul Herald.

A single bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla will establish the merits of this medicine as a blood purifier. Many thousands of people are yearly cured of chronic disases by the faithful use of this remedy. It is unequaled for the cure of scrofula.

Brevities.

Easy to get the hang of—A barbed wire fence.

Sharp work—Grinding an ax.

A flat failure—A poor pancake.

"Just like him"—His photograph.

A rising man—The aeronaut.

An astronomical observation—"My stars!"

Illustrating with cuts—The exchange editor, clipping.

An insurance pointer.—"Honesty is the best policy."

A mild request—A call for a cup of restaurant coffee.

A cold wave—An indifferent response to a flirtation signal.

Only a question of time—"What o'clock is it?"

"Ah, there are new features in the case," remarked the photographer as he focused applicant number two.

Is it impossible to express an opinion on a train of thought?—[Detroit Free Press.

A lady wrote: "I dont have that awful sideache now. I applied a Hop Plaster. 25 cts.

His Head was Naked.

Little Miss Lily has been allowed to come to the table on the occasion of her mamma's birthday, after promising that she would be very, very good.

Unfortunately she was seated opposite a gentlemam who was entirely bald. After some time spent in contemplation of the phenomenon, she could not help remarking to her mother in quite an audible stage whisper:

"Oh, mamma! see that gentleman. His head is all naked.—[Judge.

The First Keen Twinge.

As the season advances, the pains and by which rheumatism makes itself known, are experenced after every exposure. It is not claimed that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a specific for rheumatism—we doubt if there is, or can be any, such remedy. But the thousands benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla, warrant us in urging others who suffer from rheumatism to take it before the first keen twinge.

By next spring the French army will have new rifles. It will cost $20,000,000.

[illegible]

[illegible] Hood's Sarsaparilla is positive, [illegible]
"For economy and comfort we use Hood's Sarsaparilla." Mrs. C. Brewster, Buffalo.
"Hood's Sarsaparilla takes less time and quantity to show its effect than any other preparation I ever heard of. I would not be without it in the house." Mrs. C. A. M. Hubbard, North Chili, N. Y. 100 Doses
One Dollar
Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, all humors, boils, pimples, general debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints, and all affections caused by impure blood or low condition of the system. Try it.
"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. Lovejoy, Lowell, Mass.
"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system has been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it." Mary L. Peele, Salem, Mass.
Hood's Sarsaparilla
Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.
100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS
THE GREAT
German Remedy.
TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.	Ladies in delicate health, who are all rundown, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.
The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS.	$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.
Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.	Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.
General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use SULPHUR BITTERS, and you will not be troubled.	SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.
Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.	SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.
Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

OVER WORKED Women
For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.
A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.
SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PATENTS
HENRY WISE GARNETT, Attorney-at-Law,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
Refers to 2d National Bank, Washington, D. C.
☞SEND FOR INVENTOR'S GUIDE.

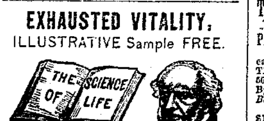
TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest Rates for advertising in 1,000 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO.
10 Spruce St., N. Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

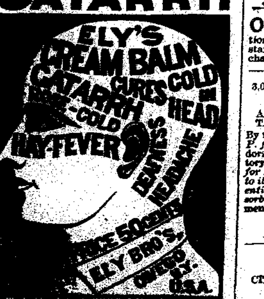
DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful Cure at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE, No. 41 West 31st St., New York City.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY;
ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



KNOW THYSELF.
A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopœia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper.
ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

CATARRH



LEGAL.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

During the year 1886, terms of the Surrogate's court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

PHOENIX—At the Surrogate's office in Phoenix on Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, January 23d, and on the third Friday in March, May, June, Sept., Nov. and Dec.

FULTON—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Thursday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and July, and the fourth Friday in October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 29th and September 29th.

PARISH—At A. N. & J. S. Ludington's law office, April 30th, July 30th and Sept. 30th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 19th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 12th. 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALFRED,
Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886. LUCY K. HUBBARD,
Executrix.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Alice Hethington as administratrix of the goods, chattels and credits of William S. Hethington, deceased, against Josiah C. Mosher, Nellie Sears, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis and Josephine Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.—Dated this 12th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington, defendants:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. Pardon C. Williams, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 15th day of October, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego Co., N. Y., at Oswego, N. Y., on October 15, 1886.—Dated Oct. 15, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT.—County of Oswego. Alice Hethington vs. Nellie E. Sears, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Josephine Hethington, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Marcus F. Craban, Newell W. Stowell, Smith Craver, William Craver and Josiah C. Mosher.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the Complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this Summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the County of Oswego.—Dated this 26th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington—defendants.

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication, pursuant to an order of Hon. John C. Churchill, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 28th day of October, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego County at Oswego, N. Y., on October 28th, 1886. Dated October 28, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys.
Office and Post Office address, Fulton, N. Y.

JUST THE THING!
CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.
Save time and labor! Neat and Compact.
Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind that he ever saw."
—To be had only at the—
FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

10 PER CENT. INVESTMENT, SECURITY ABSOLUTE.
THE MORTGAGE, Ipswich, Dakota, will loan your money on BOND and MORTGAGE from 8 to 10 per cent. Mortgage made to you direct. Bond payable at your own Bank or in New York as you prefer, and has for SALE COUNTY, CITY, and SCHOOL BONDS, that will net 7 to 12 per cent. Will furnish as reference the names of gentlemen residing in THIS COUNTY for whom it has invested money. CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED. 10m3

$350 PER MONTH.—Salary and commission, to competent Manager for this City or State Agency. A splendid combination. Our AUTOMATIC GAS GOVERNORS save 33 per cent. in gas bills. Our Silver Gas Lights can be attached to any fixture, instantly changing the dull, sickly, yellow flame of any gas to a soft, mellow, luminous white increasing brilliancy 50 per cent. Over 8,000 in service. Address,
THE UNION NATIONAL GAS SAVING CO.
17m3 21 East 14th St., New York.

Agents Wanted for the Great War Book
Just Published, entitled

THE SOLDIER IN OUR CIVIL WAR,
THE MOST COMPLETE AND INTERESTING
PICTORIAL HISTORY of the GREAT CONFLICT
Containing 100 MAMMOTH BATTLE SCENES, each 14¼ x 20 inches; 400 FULL-PAGE ILLUSTRATIONS, 9½ x 14½ inches; AND UPWARDS OF 500 PORTRAITS, MAPS, AND BATTLE SCENES. By the great War Artists, Forbes, Waud, Taylor, Becker, Lovie, Schell, Crane, and others.
These Engravings were produced at a cost of over $100,000. The book gives a complete epitome of the Battles, Sieges, and Strategic Movements of the opposing armies, based upon the best authority, northern and southern, making an accumulation of reliable and unbiased historical facts not possible to be obtained in any of the histories written during the progress of or since the War.
The work is carefully edited from data obtained from the most authentic authorities, and the descriptions of battles, incidents, and historical facts, are furnished by the leading Soldiers of both armies and includes biographies of the most notable Generals and Commanders.
A complete Chronological List of every skirmish, engagement, battle, and all important events, from the Election of Lincoln to the Grand Review at Washington.
Published in (2) magnificent volumes, size 12x17 inches, nearly 1,000 pages. Price, complete, $16.00. I want One Agent in every Grand Army Post, town and county. ☞Any person, with this book, can become a successful Agent. Full instructions to new beginners. For terms to agents, address
G. W. DILLINGHAM, Publisher, New York.
Successor to G. W. CARLETON & Co.
A Magnificent Outfit Sent Free.

OUR BABY'S FIRST YEAR, by Marion Harland, also containing much valuable information. 48 page book. Sent on receipt of 2-cent stamp by Reed and Carnrick, Mercantile Exchange Building, N. Y.

3,000 AGENTS WANTED for the NEW WORK.
GLADSTONE—PARNELL
AND THE GREAT IRISH STRUGGLE.
By the eminent author, HON. T. P. O'CONNOR, M. P. for Liverpool, and R. M. MCWADE, Esq. Endorsed by HON. C. S. PARNELL. A thrilling history of Irish oppression and the mighty struggle for Home Rule that is rocking the British Empire to its centre; also Biographies of the leaders. An entirely new work from high authority, of all absorbing interest, richly illustrated, and an immense demand. ☞Apply quickly to
W. A. HOUGHTON & CO.,
13 East 14th St., New York.

FRENCH'S HOTEL.
CITY HALL SQUARE, NEW YORK.
Opposite City Hall and the Post Office.
This Hotel is one of the most complete in its appointments and furnishings of ANY HOUSE in New York City and is conducted on the European Plan
[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 28

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

Molly Jarvis of Morley.

Queer cattle is women to deal with! Lord bless ye, yer honor, they are!
I'd sooner be faced by ten navies than tackle a woman, by far;
'Tain't only they bites and they scratches, and you mussn't give it 'em back,
But their minds are so awful perwerted—they're such an opstropolous pack!

I can hunt down a burglar and nab him, and tackle the roughest o'rough,
But when it's a female I'm after I feels like a regular muff;
For I understand men and their natures, and I knows all their fly little lays,
But there isn't a orficer breathin' as is up to all feminine ways.

They be such a darned mixture o' feelin's—they love and they hate in a breath,
They'll be false to one cove in five minits, and they'll stick to another till death.
They're the blessedest big contrydiction as ever creation has seen,
For they've got so much grand notions of honor, and yet they're so deucedly mean.

For a moment they'll tremble and shiver, and shriek if a spider comes near,
And the next they'll look death in the face, sir with never a quiver o' fear;
As to minds, they ain't got none I reckon—its heart as prompts all as they do.
Have I seen some rum things with these women? Yes, I fancy I have—one or two.

Case in point? Half a score, if you're willin'—say one—well, I'm blowed! look'ee there.
See that woman a'turning the corner—that queer-looking wench with the hair?
Case in point! Why, she'll do for a good 'un. She's as mad as a hatter, sir, now;
For a man she went out o' her senses, and it's worth yer a-hearin' tell how.

That wench there's Moll Jarvis o' Morley, the place t'other side o' the wood—
Ev'ry man in the force here knows Molly—there's pretty good reasons he should—
For the privates and sergeants and 'spectors, she flummoxed 'em all to a coon,
And she left them like open mouthed dummies a wagglin' our heads at the moon.

'Twas in this way it happened: Her husband a horrible brute of a chap,
Was arrested for smashin' her skull in and half killing the babe in her lap.
He was tried and her evidence taken; she softened it down where she could:
But the women as seed him set on her, they told how the real matter stood.

"Fifteen years," says the judge; then she fainted and Tom he growls out, with an oath,
Have a care for yourself and the brat, Moll; when I'm free I'll just finish you both."
Then she knelt and she prayed to the judges to hear what she'd gotten to say—
"Her Tom was mad drunk when he done it, and he'd never been harsh till that day."

'Twas a lie; bless your soul, why he'd whacked her and kicked her, night, morning and noon;
You'd 'a' thought as she'd dance at the sentence, and think it a merciful boon.
'Twas a squeak for a life as he'd gave her, her head was all strapped in the box,
And she trembled and shook as Tom eyed her—he eyed her that day like a fox.

Lor, but a woman's rare cattle to deal with, the first man found that to his cost,
And I reckon it's just through a woman the last man on earth'll be lost.
But that ain't my moral at present, I just wants to prove to yer face
That we pleecemen ain't nothing to go by when a woman gets into the case.

Just a month after Tom got his sentence, the news came he'd escaped from the jail;
And the whole of us all round the country was ordered to hunt on his trail.
She heard it, and went on her knees, sir and prayed as he'd get clean away,
And in less than a week we'd a notion we held Master Thomas at bay.

He was there, in them woods over yonder. Them woods is uncommonly thick,
And a man might be hidden a twelvemonth if he'd live on rank grass and a stick.
"Starve him out," says our chief, "draw a cordon of officers right round the place.
Let him choose 'twixt starvation and capture; one or other the beggar must face."

"They're a-starvin' him out," says a gossip; and Molly heard what was said,
And she shrieked and went into hysterics and cried as her husband was dead.
Till at last she could bear it no longer, so she moaned and moved west'ard one day,
For it killed her, she said, to be watching while he was a-dying that way.

Oh! a deep 'un was Molly, Lord bless you! She made us look awfully small—
"Went off to her friends." We believed her; and she never went off, sir, at all.
How she done it we never discovered; but she got in the woods, past my nose—
Got clean in the woods to that blackguard, and he got away in her clo's.

I see her come by as I fancied, and I gave her "Good evenin'" as well,
And she nodded her head and went onward—did ever you hear such a sell?
It was him in her dress and her bonnet, he went and he got slick away,
And we've never heard nowt o' the wiper, not a whisper right up to to day.

Yes, she'd gone to the woods to that villain, to the bully who'd maimed her for life,
She had gone and she'd hugged him and kissed him, I s'pose like a dutiful wife
Well, we waited a week; then come orders to beat our way right through the woods.
And to capture the chap at all hazards, and shoot him down dead if he stood.

And all as we found there was Molly, all white and as weak as a rat,
Half dressed and a'moanin' wi' terror and gnawing her hands where she sat;
She'd a stopped there and died of starvation to give him more time to get free;
I could see the jade's game in a moment, and it come like a bombshell on me.

For I saw on the face of the woman the red scar stand out on the white,
Just the mark of the fist of the villain, she'd crept there to aid in his flight;
And to think as she'd perished o'hunger and suffer the torments of hell
For the sake of the wretch who'd half killed her and injured the baby as well.

No, she wasn't charged with a-aidin' and abettin' the fellow's escape;
She was mad when we found her a-hidin' her reason was clean out o' shape.
But she's harmless enough, and she wanders and jabbers and jaws about him;
The folks about here knows her story and humors her every whim.

But don't talk to me about women; they ain't got no reason nor brains,
And the man who goes in for to grip 'em is just a big fool for his pains.
They're a blow to the force, that they are, sir: they sends all our best plans to pot,
They're a mixture o'saint and o'devil, and a darned contrydictory lot.

A Guilty Conscience Makes Cowards.

"Hey, There! You've got my umbrella. I've found it at last, have I?" exclaimed a large-sized man, in a loud and menacing tone, as he stood in a doorway in one of the principal streets one rainy morning recently while a number of pedestrians were hurrying past. A [illegible] man turned at once on hearing [illegible] and came toward him holding [illegible] making [illegible]

THE STORY OF A MINE.

By BRET HARTE.

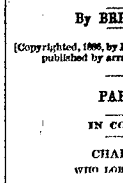
[Copyrighted, 1886, by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., and published by arrangement with them.]

PART III.

IN CONGRESS.

CHAPTER X.

WHO LOBBIED FOR IT.



GASHWILER.

IT was a midsummer's day in Washington. Even at early morning, while the sun was yet level with the faces of pedestrians in its broad, shadeless avenues, it was insufferably hot. Later the avenues themselves shone like the diverging rays of another sun—the Capitol—a thing to be feared by the naked eye. Later yet it grew hotter, and then a mist arose from the Potomac and blotted out the blazing arch above, and presently piled up along the horizon delusive thunder clouds, that spent their strength and substance elsewhere, and left it hotter than before. Toward evening the sun came out invigorated, having cleared the heavenly brow of perspiration, but leaving its fever unabated.

The city was deserted. The few who remained apparently buried themselves from the garish light of day in some dim, cloistered recess of shop, hotel or restaurant, and the perspiring stranger, dazed by the outer glare, who broke in upon their quiet, sequestered repose, confronted collarless and coatless specters of the past, with fans in their hands, who, after dreamily going through some perfunctory business, immediately retired to sleep after the stranger had gone. Congressmen and senators had long since returned to their several constituencies, with the various information that the country was going to ruin, or that the outlook never was more hopeful and cheering, as the tastes of their constituency indicated. A few cabinet officers still lingered, having by this time become convinced that they could do nothing their own way, or indeed in any way but the old way, and getting gloomily resigned to their situation. A body of learned, cultivated men, representing the highest legal tribunal in the land, still lingered in a vague idea of earning the scant salary bestowed upon them by the economical founders of the government, and listened patiently to the arguments of counsel, whose fees for advocacy of claims before them would have paid the life income of half the bench. There was Mr. Attorney General and his assistants still protecting the government's millions from rapacious hands, and drawing the yearly public pittance that their wealthier private antagonists would have scarce given as a retainer to their junior counsel. The little standing army of departmental employes—the helpless victims of the most senseless and idiotic form of discipline the world has known—a discipline so made up of caprice, expediency, cowardice and tyranny that its reform meant revolution, not to be tolerated by legislators and lawgivers, or a despotism in which half a dozen accidentally-chosen men interpreted their prejudices of preference as being that reform. Administration after administration and party after party had persisted in their desperate attempts to fit the youthful colonial garments, made by our fathers after a by-gone fashion, over the expanded limits and generous outline of a matured nation. There were patches here and there; there were grievous rents and holes here and there; there were ludicrous and painful exposures of growing limbs everywhere; and the party in power and the party out of power could do nothing but mend and patch, and revamp and cleanse and scour, and occasionally, in the wildness of despair, suggest even the cutting off the rebellious limbs that persisted in growing beyond the swaddling clothes of its infancy.

It was a capital of contradictions and inconsistencies. At one end of the avenue sat sold for a mere pittance by this little lady, whose pictures lately took the prize at a foreign exhibition, shortly after she had been half starved by a California public, and claimed by a California press as its fostered child of genius.

Of these struggles and triumphs Thatcher had no knowledge; yet he was perhaps more startled than he would own to himself when, one December day, he received this dispatch: "Come to Washington at once.—Carmen De Haro."

"Carmen De Haro!" I grieve to state that such was the preoccupation of this man, elected by fate to be the hero of the solitary amatory episode of this story, that for a moment he could not recall her. When the honest little figure that had so manfully stood up against him, and had proved her sex by afterwards running away from him, came back at last to his memory, he was at first mystified and then self reproachful. He had been, he felt vaguely, untrue to himself. He had been remiss to the self-confessed daughter of his enemy. Yet why should she telegraph to him, and what was she doing in Washington? To all these speculations it is to be said to his credit that he looked for no sentimental or romantic answer. Royal Thatcher was naturally modest and self-depreciating in his relations to the other sex, as indeed most men who are apt to be successful with women generally are, despite a vast degree of superannuated bosh to the contrary. To the half dozen women who are startled by sheer audacity into submission there are scores who are piqued by a self-respectful patience; and where a woman has to do half the wooing, she generally makes a pretty sure thing of it.

In his bewilderment Thatcher had overlooked a letter lying on his table. It was from his Washington lawyer. The concluding paragraph caught his eye—"Perhaps it would be well if you came here yourself. Roscommon is here; and they say there is a niece of Garcia's, lately appeared, who is likely to get up a strong social sympathy for the old Mexican. I don't know that they expect to prove anything by her; but I'm told she is attractive and clever, and has enlisted the sympathies of the delegation." Thatcher laid the letter down a little indignantly. Strong men are quite as liable as weak women are to sudden inconsistencies on any question they may have in common. What right had this poor little bud he had cherished—he was quite satisfied now that he had cherished her, and really had suffered from her absence—what right had she to suddenly blossom in the sunshine of power to be, perhaps, plucked and worn by one of his enemies. He did not for a moment [illegible] to his lawyer that she was in any way connected [illegible] remiss in his attention. The irritation, although momentary, was enough to decide this strong man. He telegraphed to San Francisco; and, having missed the steamer, secured an overland passage to Washington; thought better of it, and partly changed his mind an hour after the ticket was purchased; but, manlike, once having made a practical step in a wrong direction, he kept on rather than admit an inconsistency to himself. Yet he was not entirely satisfied that his journey was a business one. The impulsive, weak little Mistress Carmen had prudently scored one against the strong man.

Only a small part of the present great transcontinental railway at this time had been built, and was but piers at either end of a desolate and wild expanse as yet unbridged. When the overland traveler left the rail at Reno, he left, as it were, civilization with it; and, until he reached the Nebraska frontier, the rest of his road was only the old emigrant trail traveled by coaches of the Overland company. Excepting a part of "Devil's Canyon," the way was unpicturesque and flat; and the passage of the Rocky mountains, far from suggesting the alleged poetry of that region, was only a reminder of those sterile distances of a level New England landscape. The journey was a dreary monotony that was scarcely enlivened by its discomforts, never amounting to actual accident or incident, but utterly destructive to all nervous tissue. Insanity often supervened. "On the third day out," said Hank Monk, driver, speaking casually but charitably of a "fare"—"on the third day out, after axing no end of questions and getting no answers, he took to chewing straws that he picked outer the cushion, and kussin' to hisself. From that very day I knew it was all over with him, and I handed him over to his friends at 'Shy Ann,' strapped to the back seat, and savin' and cussin' at Ben Holliday, the gentlemanly proprietor." It is presumed that the unfortunate tourist's indignation was excited at the late Mr. Benjamin Holliday, then the proprietor of the line—an evidence of his insanity that no one who knew that large-hearted, fastidious and elegantly-cultured Californian, since allied to foreign nobility, will for a moment doubt.

Mr. Royal Thatcher was too old and experienced a mountaineer to do aught but accept patiently and cynically his brother Californian's method of increasing his profits. As it was generally understood that any one who came from California by that route had some dark design, the victim received little sympathy. Thatcher's equable temperament and indomitable will stood him in good stead, and helped him cheerfully in this emergency. He ate his scant meals, and otherwise took care of the functions of his weak human nature, when and where he could, without grumbling, and at times earned even the praise of his driver by his ability to "rough it." Which "roughing it," by the way, meant the ability of the passengers to accept the incompetency of the company. It is true there were times when he regretted that he had not taken the steamer; but then he reflected that he was one of a vigilance committee, sworn to hang that admirable man, the late Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt, for certain practices and cruelties done upon the bodies of certain steerage passengers by his line, and for divers irregularities in their transportation. I mention this fact merely to show how so practical and stout a voyager as Thatcher might have confounded the perplexities attending the administration of a great steamship company with selfish greed and brutality; and that he, with other Californians, may not have known the fact, since recorded by the commodore's family clergyman, that the great millionaire was always true to the hymns of his childhood.

Nevertheless, Thatcher found time to be cheerful and helpful to his fellow passengers, and even to be so far interesting to "Yuba Bill," the driver, as to have the box seat placed at his disposal. "But," said Thatcher in some concern, "the box seat was purchased by that other gentleman in Sacramento. He paid extra for it, and his name's on your way bill!" "That," said Yuba Bill, scornfully, "don't fetch me, even ef he chartered the whole shebang. Look yar, do you reckon I'm goin to spile my temper by setting next to a man with a game eye? And such an eye! Gewhillikins! Why, darn my skin, the other day when we were watering at Webster's, he got down and passed in front of the off leader—that yer pinto colt that's bin accustomed to Injins, grizzlies and buffalo—and I'm bless ef, when her eye tackled his, ef she didn't jist git up and rar round that I reckoned I'd hev to go down and take them blinders off from her eyes and clap on his." "But he paid his money, and is entitled to his seat," persisted Thatcher. "Mebbe he is—in the office of the kempony," growled Yuba Bill; "but it's time some folks knowed that out in the plains I run this yer team myself." A fact which was self-evident to most of the passengers. "I suppose his authority is as absolute on this dreary waste as a ship captain's in mid ocean," exclaimed Thatcher to the baleful-eyed stranger. Mr. Wiles—whom the reader has recognized—assented with the public side of his face, but looked vengeance at Yuba Bill with the other, while Thatcher, innocent of the presence of one of his worst enemies, placated Bill so far as to restore Wiles to his rights. Wiles thanked him. "Shall I have the pleasure of your company far?" Wiles asked, insinuatingly. "To Washington," replied Thatcher, frankly. "Washington is a gay city during the session," again suggested the stranger. "I'm going on business, said Thatcher, bluntly.

A trifling incident occurred at Pine Tree Crossing which did not heighten Yuba Bill's admiration of the stranger. As Bill opened the double locked box in the "boot" of the coach—sacred to Wells, Fargo & Co.'s express and the Overland company's treasures—Mr. Wiles perceived a small, black morocco portemanteau among the parcels. "Ah, you carry baggage there, too?" he said, sweetly. "Not often," responded Yuba Bill, shortly. "Ah, this then contains valuables?" "It belongs to that man whose seat you've got," said Yuba Bill, who, for insulting purposes of his own, preferred to establish the fiction that Wiles was an interloper, "and ef he reckons, in a sorter mixed kempeny like this, to lock up his portmantle, I don't know who's business it is. Who?" continued Bill, lashing himself into a simulated rage, "who in blank is running this yer team! Hey? Mebbe you think, sittin' up thar on the box seat, you are. Mebbe you think you kin see round corners with that thar eye and kin pull up for teams round corners on down grades a mile ahead?" But here Thatcher, who, with something of Launcelot's concern for Modred, had a noble pity for all infirmities, interfered so sternly that Yuba Bill stopped.

On the fourth day they struck a blinding snow storm while ascending the dreary plateau that henceforward for 400 miles was to be their roadbed. The horses, after floundering through the drift, gave out completely on reaching the next station and the prospects ahead, to all but the experienced eye, looked doubtful. A few passengers advised taking to sledges, others a postponement of the journey until the weather changed. Yuba Bill [illegible] inch of snow that falls. I'll jist skirmish round in and out o' them drifts on these four wheels whar ye can't drag one o' them flat bottomed dry goods boxes through a drift." Bill had a California whip's contempt for a sledge. But he was warmly seconded by Thatcher, who had the next best thing to experience, the instinct that taught him to read character, and take advantage of another man's experience. "Them that wants to stop kin do so," said Bill authoritatively, cutting the Gordian knot; "them as wants to take a sledge can do so, thar's one in the barn. Them as wants to go on with me and the relay will come on." Mr. Wiles selected the sledge and a driver, a few remained for the next stage, and Thatcher, with two others, decided to accompany Yuba Bill. These changes took up some valuable time; and the storm continuing, the stage was run under the shed, the passengers gathering around the station fire; and not until after midnight did Yuba Bill put in the relays. "I wish you a good journey," said Wiles, as he drove from the shed as Bill entered. Bill vouchsafed no reply, but, addressing himself to the driver, said curtly, as if giving an order for the delivery of goods, "Shove him out at Rawlings," and passed contemptuously around to the tail board of the sled, and returned to the harnessing of his relay.

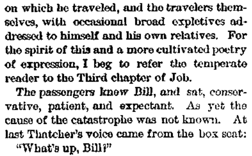
The moon came out and shone high as Yuba Bill once more took the reins in his hands. The wind, which instantly attacked them as they reached the level, seemed to make the driver's theory plausible, and for half a mile the road bed was swept clean, and frozen hard. Further on a tongue of snow, extending from a bowlder to the right, reached across their path to the height of two or three feet. But Yuba Bill dashed through a part of it, and by skillful maneuvering circumvented the rest. But even as the obstacle was passed, the coach dropped with an ominous lurch on one side, and the off fore wheel flew off in the darkness. Bill threw the horses back on their haunches; but before their momentum could be checked, the near hind wheel slipped away, the vehicle rocked violently, plunged backwards and forwards, and stopped.



Yuba Bill was on the road in an instant.

Yuba Bill was on the road in an instant with his lantern. Then followed an outbreak of profanity which I regret, for artistic purposes, exceeds that generous limit which a sympathizing public has already extended to me in the explication of character. Let me state, therefore, that in a very few moments he succeeded in disparaging the characters of his employers, their male and female relatives, the coach builder, the station keeper, the road on which he traveled, and the travelers themselves, with occasional broad expletives addressed to himself and his own relatives. For the spirit of this and a more cultivated poetry of expression, I beg to refer the temperate reader to the Third chapter of Job.

The passengers knew Bill, and sat, conservative, patient, and expectant. As yet the cause of the catastrophe was not known. At last Thatcher's voice came from the box seat:

"What's up, Bill?"

"Not a blank lynch pin in the whole blank coach," was the answer.

There was a dead silence. Yuba Bill executed a wild war dance of helpless rage.

"Blank the blank enchanted thing to blank!"

(I beg here to refer the fastidious and cultivated reader to the only adjective I have dared transcribe of this actual oath which I once had the honor of hearing. He will, I trust, not fail to recognize the old classic demon in this wild western abjurgation.)

"Who did it?" asked Thatcher.

Yuba Bill did not reply, but dashed up again to the box, unlocked the "boot" and screamed out:

"The man that stole your portmantle—Wiles!"

Thatcher laughed.

"Don't worry about that, Bill. A "biled" shirt, an extra collar and a few papers. Nothing more."

Yuba Bill slowly descended. When he reached the ground he plucked Thatcher aside by his coat sleeve:

"Ye don't mean to say ye had nothing in that bag ye was trying to get away with?"

"No," said the laughing Thatcher frankly.

"And that Wiles warn't one o' them detectives?"

"Not to my knowledge, certainly."

Yuba Bill sighed sadly, and returned to assist in the replacing of the coach on its wheels again.

"Never mind, Bill," said one of the passengers sympathizingly, "we'll catch that man Wiles at Rawlings sure;" and he looked around at the inchoate vigilance committee, already "rounding into form" about him.

"Ketch him!" returned Yuba Bill, derisively; "why we've got to go back to the station; and afore we're off agin he's pinted fur Clarmont on the relay we lose. Ketch him! H—ll's full of such ketches!"

There was clearly nothing to do but to go back to the station to await the repairing of the coach. While this was being done Yuba Bill again drew Thatcher aside:

"I allers suspected that chap's game eye, but I didn't somehow allow for anything like this. I reckoned it was only the square thing to look arter things gen'rally, and 'specially your traps. So, to purvent troubil, and keep things about ekal, ez he was goin' away, I sorter lifted this yer bag of his outer the tail board of his sleigh. I don't know as it is any exchange or compensation, but it may give ye a chance to spot him agin, or him you. It strikes me as bein' far-minded and squar'." and with these words he deposited at the feet of the astonished Thatcher the black traveling bag of Mr. Wiles.

"But, Bill—see here! I can't take this!" interrupted Thatcher hastily. You can't swear that he's taken my bag—and—and—blank it all—this won't do, you know. I've no right to this man's things, even if——"

"Hold your hosses," said Bill gravely; "I undertook to take charge o' your traps. I didn't—at least that d—d wall-eyed—That's a portmantle I don't know who's it is. Take it."

Half amused, half embarrassed, yet still [illegible] Thatcher took the bag in his hands. [illegible] caught his eye; he opened the paper hastily and perused it. The smile faded from his lips.

"Well," said Yuba Bill, "suppose we call it a fair exchange at present."

Thatcher was still examining the papers.

Suddenly this cautious, strong minded man looked up into Yuba Bill's waiting face and said quietly, in the despicable slang of the epoch and region:

"It's a go! Suppose we do."

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

CHINA!

Life in the Hillside Temples—An Ancient Bridge—Mountain Excursions—A Chinese School—Teachee Alleesamee Amelican—Slick Stealing.

[From a private letter, by Permission.]

U. S. LEGATION,
PEKING, CHINA, Sept. 8, 1886.

This letter is written at a Buddhist temple, at the foot of the mountains, about twelve miles west of Peking. The temple is called San-Shan-An-Erh (are) the "three hills of peace"—rather a good name for a vacation resort, I think. We have been here since June, as you have probably heard. It is the custom of the foreign residents of Peking, induced by the utter impossibility of spending a summer in the city walls, to hire temples for the summer and move out. The distance to the city is easily ridden in two hours, and every morning and evening numbers come and go. I say we have been here since June, which means the family. I have spent the summer in the city and only came out on the 20th of August for a month's stay.

This temple is very nicely arranged in three courtyards separated form each other. We have eleven rooms, kitchen and wash-house. Our front varanda overlooks the plain, with Peking in the distance. Away off to the right is a small river and near it the celebrated city of Lu-Kou-Chioo, the smallest walled city in China, if not in the world. There is also the bridge which Marco Polo crossed 650 years ago. It is made of white marble, with seven beautiful arches and stands to-day as it did when Marco Polo wrote his famous book of travels way backs in the thirteenth century. It is an interesting sight to see the crowded traffic there. There are trains of camels coming from the far West, from Thibet and Central Asia. There are donkeys, mules and horses, ladened with coal from the mountains There are lines of coolies, bearing their 150 pounds apiece of vegetables, fruit or merchandise, on their way to market at Peking. Both sides of the bridge are lined with a balustrade, handsomely carved, and all of marble, while on every one of the countless posts and pillars, of which this is composed, is placed a marble lion. The slabs of stone which compose the roadway of the bridge are worn with holes and ruts by the crossing of millions of feet and rains of 700 years and more. At the far end of the bridge stands a Chinese lehiu or collecting tax station. It is a little court-yard surrounded by trees, and from a tall flag-pole flies the imperial ensign, a yellow banner with a five-clawed dragon grinning in the middle. There is ample inducement for reflection by the contemplation of the scene, and the reflection is not at all uncomplimentary to a great nation and a wonderful people whom only the last two centuries have removed from the positon of the richest, most powerful and highest civilization on earth. The continuance of that bridge and of its passengers and its surroundings, unchanged through so many centuries, is an index to the character of a people on whom time seems to have no effect. My enthusiasm over that bridge has led me away from our life at the temples.

The are nine temples in the same hillside as ours. Two below us are occupied by American Missionaries. Above are five. The highest, 900 feet up, is occupied by Dr. Martin, President of the Imperial College, and I am sure you know an American. The others are occupied by the families of the English Minister, by members of the Chinese Customs, Foreign Staff and other Legation people. There are two streams of water running down the hillside in ravines covered with trees and they afford several nice bathing pools but none large enough to swim in. The road up the hillside is very devious and steep, but lined with trees and very pretty. In the afternoon everyone calls or goes for a walk. We used to ride but have given it up somewhat lately.

The pleasantest occupation to me is to take short trips to distant places in the mountains. I just came home yesterday from a very enjoyable one. There were four of us—three English Legation people and myself. We rode on Thursday afternoon to a little village six miles west and put up at an inn for the night Our baggage was brought on donkeys. The next morning, sending our ponies back to the temples, we started out on foot up and down mountain roads to a temple away off in a valley at the foot of the highest peak in the vicinity, the ascent of which was our ultimate object. At midday we arrived at the temple, tired out. I never saw such a road. We crossed four passes in succession, none less than 1,500 feet high, and after each one we had to descend and commence again at the bottom of the other. The next day early we hired a guide and started for the peak. It was four hours and a half of uphill work. The view fully repaid the effort, however, and luckily we had our lunch with us. This peak as measured by barometer is 5,000 feet above the sea and 4,400 above the level of the base. It is covered with vegetation and flowers. The yellow China lily, which is known by that name at home, is found in abundance. A very peculiar thing is that the foreign naturalists say there is a species of birch on this mountain, (Mt. [illegible]) which has never been found elsewhere. Also, there is a [illegible] butterfly by the [illegible] been found anywhere but on this and neighboring peaks. We saw the birch, but the butterfly, as may be imagined, did not come within our reach, though none of us would have known if it had. On the way down I was startled by raising two pheasants which flew leisurely away with their fine plumage glittering in the sun. Coming back, we left the guide behind and although we missed the road once we got back in good time.

There was a school in the temple where we stopped and I had a good chance of observing the methods of which I had heard and read so much. The little boys came at dawn, about half past five in the morning, and they stayed until dusk in the evening. They sit, each at his own table and study out loud. They literally bawl out the page they are at work on and the combination of eight or ten together was deafening. Their task consists in learning the sound of the Chinese characters. They learn sentence by sentence and page by page of sounds which to them are meaningless. When a scholar has learned his page he stands with his back to the teacher and shouts it off to him without the book. When he has finished the book the teacher explains to him the meaning of each character and sentence with the sound of which he is already familiar.

I can not imagine a more oppressive or monotonous task. The boys appeared, however, cheerful enough and evidently enjoyed our visit. They managed I know to steal a bottle of wine, which had been put down too far from the table, even while we were at dinner. We made a row about it on principle and accused the boys. The teacher, about an hour afterwards, drunk as a lord, came and assured us that none of his boys would do such a thing. He said the wine had been taken by some one outside. The wine being sufficiently accounted for by the condition of the teacher, and being beyond recovery evidently, we let the matter drop. On Sunday, after a dreary tramp, we finally met the ponies that had been sent out to meet us and soon arrived at our temples. We had been out three days, and came back brown and hungry as possible. The time for expeditions will soon be past. The weather is getting too cool for comfort at the hills, and within two weeks more we will be back in Peking again, and although it is very pleasant out here, the change will be agreeable.

Your friend,

* * *

Palpitation of the heart, nervousness, tremblings, nervous headache, cold hands and feet, pain in the back, and other forms of weakness are relieved by Carter's Iron Pills, made especially for the blood, nerves and complexion.

Try the Conductor 5c. cigar, the finest 5c. cigar in town. Sold by W. J. Watson. 26w9.

They Paid.

Only three Indian scalps have thus far been presented for the rewards offered in Arizona, and these were all in the hands of one man. When asked to make affidavit that they were the scalp locks of hostile Indians he replied:

"Wall, two of 'em had sot a cabin afire and killed a settler, and the other was comin' fur me with his knife, but I can't say as they wus hosstile."

The reward was promptly handed over.—[Wall Street News.

If you are tired taking the large old-fashioned griping pills, and are satisfied that purging yourself until you are weak and sick is not good common sense, then try Carter's Little Liver Pills and learn how easy it is to be free from headache, constipation, and all liver troubles. These little pills are smaller, easier to take and give quicker relief than any pill in use. Forty in a vial. One a dose. Price 25 cents.

Forty-two new chemical elements have been discovered during the past ten years.

Young men or middle-aged ones, suffering from nervous debility and kindred weaknesses should send 10 cents in stamps for illustrated book suggesting sure means of cure. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

In Greene county, Ohio, twenty widows own adjoining farms.

"The leprous distillment, whose effect
Holds such an enmity with blood of man,
That, swift as quicksilver, it courses through
The natural gates and alleys of the body," and causes the skin to become "barked about, most lazarlike, with vile and loathsome crust." Such are the effects of diseased and morbid bile, the only antidote for which is to cleanse and regulate the liver—an office admirably performed by Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery."

Astromical photography has succeeded in reproducing stars down to the thirteenth magnitude.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure. [illegible]

THE PROPER THING.

Fur boas are now in vogue.

Short basques are going out of favor.

Gloves for street wear are shorter in the wrist.

An effort is being made to revive rolling collars.

Velvet, especially black velvet will be worn for small mantles.

Heavy black cord passementaries are used on the colored cloth coats.

Black undressed kid gloves are worn. They make the hand look small.

Felt hats, with the brim faced with a contrasting color are new.

For small mantles there are four fringes made of balls of fur strung together.

Corduroy and corderine remain in favor for jackets and parts of costumes.

The winter coat or hat is chosen with reference to the coat or wrap to be worn with it.

Velvet and plush turbans promise to rival those of felt and cloth formerly worn with tailor suits.

The English tailor style is the only one suitable for new boucle, bourette, corod and rough woven woolens of this season.

The simplest and most stylish outer garment, for autumn is a tailor jacket of diagonal cloth or of the new soft finished beaver.

A broad galloon, made of narrow strips of felt braided and looped, comes in colors to match the new felts and is much used for trimming.

Pelisses of gray plush, lined with pink, are coming in vogue for babies' wear. The hood must match the pelisse, and be tied with satin strings.

Velveteen suits will be much worn by young ladies this winter. They are made in the plainest tailor style and a border of fur is liked at the foot of the lower skirt.

Deep over-skirts of double width cloth nearly conceal the lower skirt, and are still made with a funnel shaped pleat on one side, and long straight pleats on the other.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO.,
New York City.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PATENTS

HENRY WISE GARNETT, Attorney-at-Law,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
Refers to 2d National Bank, Washington, D. C.
☞SEND FOR INVENTOR'S GUIDE.☜

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest Rates for advertising in 1,000 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

MUNN & Co. PATENTS. ESTABLISHED 1846

After Forty years' experience in the preparation of more than One Hundred Thousand applications for patents in the United States and Foreign countries, the publishers of the Scientific American continue to act as solicitors for patents, caveats, trade-marks, copyrights, etc., for the United States, and to obtain patents in Canada, England, France, Germany, and all other countries. Their experience is unequaled and their facilities are unsurpassed.

Drawings and specifications prepared and filed in the Patent Office on short notice. Terms very reasonable. No charge for examination of models or drawings. Advice by mail free.

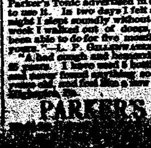
Patents obtained through Munn & Co. are noticed in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, which has the largest circulation and is the most influential newspaper of its kind published in the world. The advantages of such a notice every patentee understands.

This large and splendidly illustrated newspaper is published WEEKLY at $3.00 a year, and is admitted to be the best paper devoted to science, mechanics, inventions, engineering works, and other departments of industrial progress, published in any country. It contains the names of all patentees and title of every invention patented each week. Try it four months for one dollar. Sold by all newsdealers.

If you have an invention to patent write to Munn & Co., publishers of Scientific American, 361 Broadway, New York.

Handbook about patents mailed free.

Strange but True.



Disease under many forms is but one thing—Bad Blood. The persistant cough lingers because the blood has insufficient healing power. Parker's Tonic cures disease by enabling the stomach to send nourishment to the blood. How simple, yet how wonderful! Troubles of the Throat, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Nerves all yield to it. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm.

"I have suffered for years with Cough and Bronchitis. Last winter I caught a severe cold which went to my lungs. For two weeks I coughed almost constantly. I could not lie down. I could not speak two words without stopping to rest, so weak and sore were my lungs. I could get nothing to help me and was given up to die. I saw Parker's Tonic advertised in our paper, and began to use it. In two days I felt a change. The third night I slept soundly without coughing, and in a week I walked out of doors, a thing I had not been able to do for five months. Most gratefully yours."—L. P. [illegible], Va.

"A bad cough and hemorrhage troubled me for [illegible] years. I have used 5 bottles of Parker's Tonic and never found anything so effective. [illegible]"—A. [illegible]

PARKER'S TONIC.

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS, Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
33 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.
Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.
Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼to
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg.	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.
☞Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
☞Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

LUMBER YARD.
We have in Stock a Complete Assortment of
Lumber, Lath, Shingles
&c., and in fact everything pertaining to a
FIRST-CLASS YARD.
We are prepared to furnish thoroughly Seasoned Lumber at Lowest Rates.
Call and be Convinced.
BOOMER & LOOMIS.
Corner Broadway and First Streets.

PATENTS,
Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights
Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.
Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.
Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.
We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, adivce, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to
C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

LUMBER! LUMBER!
I have the Largest Assortment of
Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER
In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE
SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c,
Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere
O. RUST.
37tf

MAKE HENS LAY

[illegible]

[illegible] WEDNESDAY, [illegible]
[illegible] Street, [illegible] Block, First [illegible]

TERMS—One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents a year in advance. An additional charge of ten cents for postage on papers going out of Oswego County.

Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES.

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office, or moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

LIEUTENANT GENERAL SHERIDAN'S report shows that the United States army consists of 2,103 officers and 23,946 men.

GRAND Master Workman Powderly is a devout Roman Catholic, and attends mass regularly.

THERE seems to be three candidates in the field for the position of U. S. Senator. Ex-Congressman Levi P. Morton, Senator Warner Miller and Representative Frank Hiscock.

Miss Minnie Davis, daughter of Jefferson Davis, is visiting friends in Syracuse. She is known as "The daughter of the Confederacy," having been born in Richmond during the war.

A STATE temperance convention has been called to be held in Cortland on the 30th of this month and the day following. A number of distinguished men are announced to be present and address the meetings.

The long winter evenings create a demand for instructive and interesting reading, realizing this, we offer twenty-five books, free, to everyone who takes advantage of THE TIMES' offer before December first.

OVER nine thousand persons witnessed the prize fight between Sullivan and Ryan at San Francisco last Saturday night. Three desperate rounds were fought. In the third, Ryan was knocked senseless and was unable to respond when time was called.

AN Albany correspondent to the N. Y. Star says that Hon. D. E. Ainsworth of the second district in this county will make a lively canvass for Speaker in the Assembly this fall. Hon. Henry C. Howe's name has also been most favorably mentioned in connection with this position.

WINTER'S first real attempt was on Friday night. It succeeded in causing locomotives in this part of the country to do a large amount of extra puffing on Saturday and all trains on that day were from one-half to three hours late. During the storm there was a heavy sea on Lake Ontario and much damage was done.

THE LIBRARY MAGAZINE.

The Library Magazine is now issued in Weekly Parts, these being at the close of each month brought together into a monthly number. Those who receive the periodical week by week get for a cost of two cents nearly as much of well-chosen and solid reading as most persons will have time to pursue. The issue for November 13 contains the following papers: An article by Archibald Geikie giving a full account of "The Recent Volcanic eruption in New Zealand," one of the most remarkable of the modern phenomena of this class. An exhaustive paper by Mr. Andrew Lang presents a popular view of the "Egyptian Divine Myths." The Rev. J. G. Wood, perhaps the foremost Naturalist of the day, writes of "Man-Eating Tigers," in a graphic manner. A London Mechanic, gives a plain, almost homely account of "A Month in Search of Work," during which he traversed most of the great industral districts of England. There is a curious paper by Dr. Persifor Frazier, upon the Signatures of Washington, showing the manner in which he wrote the numerous extant signatures, all of which written from time to time during many years present such a remarkable uniformity. For $1.00 a year The Library Magazine gives 1,248 small quarto pages of such literary matter as here indicated. John B. Alden, Publisher, New York offers a specimen copy free to any applicant, also, free, his wonderful "Literary Revolution," catalogue of standard books.

The Central City Knife Company of Phoenix have increased their capital stock to $50,000.

Palermo.

W. H. Hannan of the Palermo Centre is to have one of his popular parties on Thanksgiving night. Those who attend will have a fine time, a good supper and will be well used.

Mrs. Dr. Green of Palermo is on the sick list, also the wife of our village blacksmith.

"Tommie", the old cat of the Palermo Centre House, is dead 18 years old.

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

I will reduce the price on all Ambesene, Wild-rose and Peach-ware, Saturday Nov. 6 '86. Also on China-Tea-Sets, Chamber-Sets and all fancy cups and saucers. Call and see goods at Draper's, Oneida St.

Just received at Drapers 100 of those leading $1.00 lamps—all complete with B. Burner, Illuminator and Shade. [illegible] of the above lamps [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] each. Remember the [illegible] where they are [illegible] lamps at prices that [illegible]

[illegible] 2819

[illegible]

[illegible] Haven November [illegible], commencing at 9 a. m.

Hon. C. W. Avery has been elected President and A. D. Kasson, Secretary of the Village Improvement Society in Phoenix.

A Driving Park Association has been organized in Cleveland. The following are the officers:—A. Knights, president; J. Flarity, vice-president; Jas. Gallagher secretary; F. F. Potter, treas.; O. Getman, G. Morenus, F. Morenus, J. J. Pain, W. Heriman, S. Kime, James Beebe, directors.

Union Thanksgiving services at Phoenix will be held at the Baptist church. Rev. A. H. Hanscom will deliver the sermon.

There are ten places in this village where liquor is sold. An average of about one to every 150 inhabitants.—[Phoenix Register.

Luther W. Hatch, a farmer, committed suicide by shooting at his home in Arlington, Va., on Oct. 29. His remains were brought to Mexico for interment on November 9.

Dr. H. D. Cogswell, of San Francisco, California, once a poor boy, a resident of Orwell, and later a school teacher in Sandy Creek, has just sent to relatives in Orwell, $1,000; part to those who from age and infirmity need help, and the balance to others younger, just starting in life, to encourage them.

The oldest person in Sandy Creek is said to be John Sherman aged 99. Other old persons are: Mrs. Clarissa Hadley, 97; Mrs. Solomon Davis, 95; Miss Electa Hedger, 94; Capt. John Smith, 91; Geo. Carpenter, 87; Jotham Newton, 90; Dennis Wheldon, 90; Peter Dingman, 90; Mrs. Sarah Cummins, 90; Mrs. Stephen Bently, 88; Mrs. Asa Carpenter, 89; Mrs. James Upton, 86; Otis Anderson, 87; Mrs. Freeman Davis, 87; Cornelius Dingman, 87; Mrs. May, 85. Nineteen others are 80 and upwards.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., Nov. 10th, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, the President and Trustees, Kendrick, Johnson, Bradford, Chase and More.

The following bills were reported correct by the Finance Committee and the same were audited at the amounts claimed:

Geo. F. Sharp, highway work,	$145.50
Button Fire Engine Co. Supplies for Fire Department,	41.10
John Cavanaugh, lamp lighting,	88.67
E. G. C. Rice, repairs on Engine House,	7.30

On motion the clerk was directed to draw an order in favor of W. J. Lovejoy, Treasurer of the Fire Department, for $200.

M. F. Crahan from the Fire Council presented a bill of $48.24, expense incurred in building a wardrobe at the Engine House. The matter was referred to the Supply Committee.

Trustee More of the Sidewalk Committee asked for the rebuilding and repairing of several sidewalks. The same was referred to the Sidewalk Committee.

D. C. Baker appeared before the Board asking for the construction of a crosswalk across First street at the foot of Rochester street. The matter was referred to the Sidewalk Committee.

On motion of Trustee Kendrick seconded by Trustee More, that the proposal of the "Thomson-Houston Electric Company" to furnish thirty-seven or more electric lamps to the village, according to specifications submitted September 30th, be accepted.

On motion, Resolved, that the Village Attorney be directed to immediately draw a contract with said Electric Company in accordance with such specifications.

On motion the Board adjourned to to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock to execute the contract.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

FULTON, N. Y., Nov. 11th, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, the President and Trustees Pardee, Kendrick, Bradford, Chase and More.

W. C. Stephens presented a Contract he had drawn for and between the Village and the Thomson-Houston Electric Company. The same was accepted by the Board and also by Mr. Philbrook on the part of the Company, coupled with the provision that the said Company be required to erect their poles, wires and apparatus for the lighting by the 30th day of December next and for each day thereafter, the lighting is not in operation the said Company to forfeit a penalty of ten dollars.

The grade for Sidewalk in front of W. G. Gage & Co's property on First street was fixed as follows: Beginning at the north line of said property, thence south on the same line as now graded or laid.

On motion the Board adjourned to Wednesday evening, Nov. 24th, 1886 at 7½ p. m.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

CHEESE MARKET.

[From the Utica Herald.]

UTICA, Nov. 15.

The market was very slow all the afternoon business apparently being quite indifferent. Several factorymen closed out their make for the season, and these lots were all full creams. This takes a number of the best factories off the board for the rest of the season. Most of the cheese sold hereafter will be partly skimmed, although here and there a factory is found where no skimming has been allowed. Most of them are now making every-other-day cheese, but when milk becomes too scarce to make more than once in three days, all the factories will close.

Full cream cheese sold at 12 to 12¼c. Following are the transactions:

Lots	Boxes	Price
42	3,494	11¾cents
1	115	11⅞cents
6	421	11¾cents
1	60	11⅞cents
50	2,063	12 cents
7	511	12¼cents
	6,664
	674	Com
	7,338

Ruling price 11¾c. Transactions of corresponding day last year 7,545 boxes ruling 8½c. Transactions in 1884, 6,238 boxes, ruling 11¾c.

At a regular meeting of the board held at 4:30 p. m., Geo. A. Smith presiding, Mr. Stark moved that there should be three more sales days, the last occurring on December 6. The motion was seconded and unimously carried.

The public cable was elevated to 61s, to-day.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, Nov. 15.

Cheese—We have had a quiet market, to-day, and trade has been light. There is no change from last week, the ruling price in both cases being 12c. The offerings and sales to-day were very light, only about half what they were a year ago to-day. In fact there are very light stocks held by the factories. The best grades were much sought for, and were firm at current figures. Everybody has renewed confidence in the trade keeping up to present rates to the close of the season, in view of the light stock and sharp demand. Trade to-day was as follows:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
1	75	11¾cents
24	1,388	12 cents
1	80	12¼cents
15	941	12⅛cents
1	100	12⅜cents
6	448	Com.
47	3,013
Farm dairy	751
Total	3,764

Farm Dairies—Sales of farm cheese amount to 751 boxes, upon which prices ranged at 11¼ @ 12½c. Only one or two lots sold at the latter price, quite a number brought 12¼c., but the ruling price was 12c.

Butter—There were 75 packages of butter sold, all farm dairy. Prices ranged at 21 @ 25c., the bulk selling at 23c.

AT FULTON.

The cheese market at this place last Monday [illegible]

From our [illegible] Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13, 1886.

Again the streets of the Capital have assumed their winter activity, and the hotel corridors show signs of the approaching session. The agile feet as well as the ponderous and gouty ones of Senators, Representatives and Politicians again press asphalt pavements, and many familiar faces and figures are seen on Pennsylvania Avenue on business, schemes or pleasure bent. Quite a large number of strangers are in town also and each day more are added to their number.

Some of the Federal office holders who have been a little too active in political work are here to make their excuses, the Benton case having made many of them anxious. Senator Vest who came some days ago is said to be trying to do something for Mr. Benton, (although the Senator denies having been solicited to do so) and other Congressmen will come to the defense of their political friends.

The Japanese Prince who has been traveling in this country with his suite, has been sight seeing in Washington for the past few days. He is a relative of the Mikado, and unlike most of the members of the Japanese Legation here, is a fine physical specimen of the almond eyed race. The party including the Princess, wear the European dress, the latter appearing in it for the first time here. She does not look entirely comfortable in it, but not so with the Prince and Grand Chamberlain. They even wear our conventional evening dress with ease and grace.

They are in love with Washington and say it is an ideal city. Its broad avenues and well paved streets with the pretty gardens dotting it, make it by far the most beautiful city in the world. They would even be happy to live here and that is high praise from them. They were enthusiastic over Niagara Falls too and thought that sight alone was worth all the sea-sickness and inconvenience that such a long trip entails.

At Salt Lake City they made a short rest. Expressing their surprise that such an institution should attain the power it has, and that there seemed to be no remedy for it, they declared that such a monstrous evil would be exterminated from Japan at all hazards. The ladies of the party were amused by the question put to them by a number of Mormon women: "How many wives has the Prince?" etc.

Yesterday the President's order excluding visitors until Congress meets except in case of important public business went into effect. He does this in order that he may find time to prepare his message. Wednesday being their last day of grace, an unusual number of politicians and Congressmen took advantage of it to press their suits. Among the callers were ex-Senator McDonald, Senator Edmunds, ex-Secretary Boutwell, Third Auditor Williams and Representatives Butterworth, Boyle, Collins, Ermentrant, Matson and Wilkins. Senator Edmunds reached the White House just as ex-Senator McDonald was coming out. They greeted one another cordially, and the usher, at this moment, threw open the second half of the double door. "You are not opening for me are you?" exclaimed Edmunds. "That's right" said the distinguished "Hoosier" "throw everything open to him" and the two political opponents separated laughingly.

The Grant relics are soon to be placed on exhibition in the National Museum. They were bequeathed to the Government by the Vanderbilt estate, as you may remember, and for several days the Superintendent of the Museum has been busy contemplating the inventory before formerally receipting for them. They fill fifteen large boxes and as soon as classified will be placed in cases manufactured especially for their reception. Owing to the large monetary value of the collection, a double guard has been stationed at the Museum at night and all burglar alarms set, it having been rumored that an effort would be made to steal the relics.

Prof. Baird, the director of the Smithsonian Institute wants $250,000 for an annex to the National Museum, and in his annual estimates asks Congress to appropriate that amount to begin its construction. He says that if such a building were ready for occupancy to-day, its entire space would be utilized at once to advantage. A hundred tons of exhibits inherited from the Centennial Exposition have remained in the boxes in which they were shipped from Philadelphia ten years ago.

A Good New York Paper.

The politics of the New York Tribune are strictly Republican. It is a great newspaper and a credit to the country and is particularly valuable for the wide range of its news and special features, and the wholesome taste which pervades its columns. It is certainly one of the safest of newspapers to be taken at home to be read by the family. It is the representative paper of the Republican party; its work in the Blaine campaign gave it almost an official character, and any Democrat who wishes to keep informed of the machinations of "the enemy," can probably gain the clearest idea of them by subscribing for the Tribune. Its discussions of practical business topics, into which politics does not enter, are excellent. The Tribune announces a "Book of Open Air Sports" of its own compilation. The great growth of athletic amusements and field sports in the United States makes this work a timely one. See prospectus in another column.

The Largest Cities.

The ten largest cities of the world, according to the latest estimates, are London, which with its suburbs, has a population of 4,764,312; Paris, 2,269,023; Canton, China, 1,500,000; Aitchi, Japan, 1,332,050; New York, 1,300,000; Berlin, 1,123,330; Tokio, Japan, 987,887; Philadelphia, 875,000; Calcutta, 766,298, and Vienna, 726,492. There are several cities in China which claim a population of 1,000,000, but as the claim is not based on any systematic enumeration they are not included in this list.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

[illegible] Association in Fulton on the 3d 4th and 5th of Dec.

It is expected that 50 or 60 delegates from the various Y. M. C. Associations in the state will be present. This convention comes by invitation of the churches of Fulton and Oswego Falls and it is expected that great good will be accomplished by the earnest evangelistic work of these Christian young men. A series of meetings beginning on Friday and continuing through Sunday will be held in the different churches, due announcement of which will be made. A committee of Arrangments has been appointed, one from each church, and the work of providing for the entertainment of the delegates in our homes will be entered upon at once. The Convention gives promise of much good and the citizens of the two villages will be glad now as heretofore, to welcome cordially such an earnest body of Christian workers.

A handsome line of chamber sets just received by J. COOLEY TUCKER. 24tf

Vienna Bakery.

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionery, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton. Confectionery from 12 cents upward. A fresh supply of crackers, bread and cake constantly on hand. Call and examine my stock. JOHN BARKER,
18tf 26 First st

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the NOVELTY CUSTOM MILL recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & Redhead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any flour or feed grinding done. Flour and feed constantly on hand. Call and try us and we guarantee satisfaction. Flour and feed delivered to any part of Fulton and Oswego Falls free of charge. 18t26

Don't miss those bargains at Draper's in Table and Hanging Lamps, China Tea Setts, and those new style (Ribbon Chamber Setts) all new goods and new prices. Call and see. 19tf

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 21tf

The very choicest qualities of teas, coffees and spices and all shelf groceries sold for cash at WHOLESALE PRICES at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 24tf

An Abstract of Expenditures

By L. T. Richardson Superintendent of Repairs upon the Oswego canal, and having charge of 23 miles of said canal extending from Oswego to Three River Point also the Oneida river improvement 20 miles.

FOR THE MONTH OF OCTOBER 1886,

Name	Res.	What for	Time.	Price	amt.
H Fralick	Ph'nix	Lock t'ding	1 m	2500	25 00
L Merry	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
H Howe	Fulton	"	1 m	2500	25 00
L Torry	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
C Surdam	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
S Darling	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
T Sweeney	Os'ego	"	1 m	3500	33 09
E Connors	"	"	1 m	3500	35 00
A Dingman	Hin'vil	"	1 m	2500	25 00
L Montague	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
D Quinn	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
O Cross	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
W Patterson	Fulton	"	1 m	2500	25 00
H Lappin	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
N Miller	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
Ed Harvey	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
W T Church	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
R H Stow	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
W Althouse	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
S Perry	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
S Storrs	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
Chas Dodge	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
J Knapp	SenHil	"	1 m	3000	30 00
J Doyle	"	"	1 m	3000	30 00
W Sereves	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
J Grautier	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
J Sheridan	Os'ego	"	1 m	2500	25 00
B Cavellier	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
C Bough	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
M Haskill	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
J Daly	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
T O'Hara	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
V'nValkenburg	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
H Halstead	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
C Buxton	C'ng'y	"	1 m	2500	25 00
A McArthur	Elb'dg	"	1 m	2500	25 00
Peter Conley	Fulton	"	1 m	1000	10 00
					949.00

STATE SHOP CHECK ROLL

John Boardman	Fult'n	Foreman	30 d	2.40	72 00
Walter Bradley	"	Carpenter	32¾ d	1.80	58 50
Charles Easton	"	"	6¾	1.60	10 80
Fred Stoddard	"	Mason	2½	2.40	6 00
James Printy	"	C Labor	2½	1.00	2 50
					149 00

The above labor was performed as follows:

30	days lock gates	59 75
3¾	days lock houses	4 50
35	days bulkhead Oswego	73 50
5	days pointing walls	8 50
73¾		149.00

STATE SCOW CHECK ROLL

E Richardson	Fulton	Foreman	1 m	50 00	50 00
Geo Barrett	"	C Labor	1 m	35 00	35 00
F Garrison	"	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
J Gilhooly	"	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
J O Lee	Ph'nix	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
M Connors	Fulton	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
Ed Sayles	"	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
J Hayden	"	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
W LaFount'in	"	Team	1 m	75 00	75 00
F Hayden	"	Cook	1 m	15 00	15 00
					385.00

The above labor was performed as follows:

80 days rep tow path & berme bank	118.44
10 days rep bridge No. 29	14.81
20 days rep lock gates	29.62
30 days bulkhead Oswego	59.23
110 days laying wall	162.90
260	385.00
Fulton Times Co., publishing abstract	4 75
Total	$1,478.75

STATE OF NEW YORK, } ss:
Oswego County. }

L. T. Richardson, Superintendent of canal repairs, and having charge of the line of canal specified in the above abstract being duly sworn, doth depose and say that the foregoing abstract, amounting to the sum of $1,478.75, is a true abstract of all vouchers taken by him, as such superintendent, during the month of October '86.

Subscribed and sworn to before me } L. T. RICHARDSON this 15 day of Nov., 1886. } Superintendent.

N.N.STRANAHAN
Notary Public.

NEW HARNESS SHOP.

The Undersigned would respectfully announce to the public that he has opened a New Harness Shop and is prepared to do all kinds of

REPAIRING
—ON—
HARNESS, TRUNKS, BUGGY TOPS,
CUSHIONS, &C. &C.,

As Cheap as the Cheapest.

HARNESS
OF ALL GRADES MADE TO ORDER.

[illegible]

[illegible] and lungs, [illegible] early and [illegible] treatment cannot be overestimated. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral may always be relied upon for the speedy cure of a Cold or Cough.

Last January I was attacked with a severe Cold, which, by neglect and frequent exposures, became worse, finally settling on my lungs. A terrible cough soon followed, accompanied by pains in the chest, from which I suffered intensely. After trying various remedies, without obtaining relief, I commenced taking Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and was Speedily Cured.

I am satisfied that this remedy saved my life.—Jno. Webster, Pawtucket, R. I.

I contracted a severe cold, which suddenly developed into Pneumonia, presenting dangerous and obstinate symptoms. My physician at once ordered the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. His instructions were followed, and the result was a rapid and permanent cure.—H. E. Simpson, Rogers Prairie, Texas.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Cold which settled on my Lungs. I consulted various physicians, and took the medicines they prescribed, but received only temporary relief. A friend induced me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking two bottles of this medicine I was cured. Since then I have given the Pectoral to my children, and consider it for Colds, Coughs, and all Throat and Lung diseases, ever used in my family.—Robert Vanderpool, Meadville, Pa.

The Best Remedy

Some time ago I took a slight Cold, which, being neglected, grew worse, and settled on my lungs. I had a hacking cough, and was very weak. Those who knew me best considered my life to be in great danger. I continued to suffer until I commenced using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Less than one bottle of this valuable medicine cured me, and I feel that I owe the preservation of my life to its curative powers.—Mrs. Ann Lockwood, Akron, New York.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is considered, here, the one great remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs, and is more in demand than any other medicine of its class.—J. F. Roberts, Magnolia, Ark.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

Good Advice.

Be patient. Patronize home industry. Don't tickle yourself in the imagination that the town's not rich enough for your blood. Are you a rich young man? Then don't be a chump. Remember that people live in other people's opinion. You've got a prejudice to fight against. Don't stump your toe on it. You can get as good clothes here as in any other town. Spend your money a home. Help to build up your town. You may want patronage some time. Try to deserve it. Make yourself a blessing to the community. It's time all chumps were dead. Be a jealous young citizen. Stir about. Let your blood circulate. Don't be a fool. Don't be a consummate ass Don't be a chump.—[Toledo Blade.

The Century and St. Nicholas.

To any desiring it we will supply The Century and THE TIMES for one year for $4.75; St. Nicholas and THE TIMES for $3.75. 28t4

A Remarkable Case.

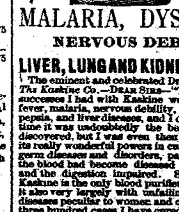
Oct. 21st, 1886.

MESSRS W. H. HOOKER & CO.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable. I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. He is apparently on the road to entire recovery, in the near future. I cheerfully confirm and attest to the above and believe others (from my statement) suffering, may have reason to believe in the efficacy of this excellent remedy. Very Truly,

MRS LESAGE.
26m6 Fulton, N. Y.

THE NEW QUININE.



Science emerging from Darkness.

KASKINE

WHAT THE PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT IT IN RHEUMATISM, MALARIA, DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS DEBILITY, LIVER, LUNG AND KIDNEY DISEASE.

The eminent and celebrated Dr. Glessner writes: The Kaskine Co.—DEAR SIRS—"The first greatest successes I had with Kaskine were in chills and fever, malaria, nervous debility, rheumatism, dyspepsia, and liver diseases, and I considered at that time it was undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered, but I was even then unfamiliar with its really wonderful powers in curing all the other germ diseases and disorders, particularly where the blood had become diseased or impoverished and the digestion impaired. Strictly speaking, Kaskine is the only blood purifier we have. I use it also very largely with unfailing success in all diseases peculiar to women and children. In over three hundred cases I have cured there has never been the slightest bad effect following its use, and it is far superior to any tonic or nerve medicine ever known to the medical profession."

Very truly yours,
L. M. GLESSNER, M.D., 260 East 121st St., N. Y.

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

The U. S. Examining Surgeon, Dr. L. R. White, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

St. Francis Hospital, N.Y.: "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y.: "Universally successful."

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered indispensable. It acts perfectly."

Kaskine is pleasant to take, and can be used without special medical counsel.

Send for the great book of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine. $1 a bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

The Greatest Yet!

Instructive and Interesting Reading for the Long Winter Evenings.

SUBSCRIBE

and get some Excellent Reading Matter, Free.

TWENTY-FIVE BOOKS,
of your own selection
FREE!

To Every New Subscriber to THE TIMES, and to every Old Subscriber who pays his Subscription to date and one year in advance will receive Free any twenty-five of the following Books that he or she may select, or the whole forty-five with one year's Subscription to

THE TIMES FOR $1.50.

These books are published in neat pamphlet form, upon good paper, and printed with good type. These same books with cloth binding sell at $1.00 per volume.

By looking over the following list many books will be seen that you would like, Twenty-five of which you can secure FREE!

MARVELOUS PRICES!
BOOKS FOR THE MILLION

Complete Novels and Other Works, by Famous Authors, Almost Given Away. The following books are published in neat pamphlet form, and all are printed from good type upon good paper. They treat of a great variety of subjects, and we think no one can examine the list without finding therein many that he or she would like to possess. In cloth-bound form these books would cost $1.00 each. Each book is complete in itself.

1. The Widow Bedott Papers. This is the book over which your grandmothers laughed till they cried, and it is just as funny to-day as it ever was.
2. Winter Evening Recreations, a large collection of Acting Charades, Tableaux, Games, Puzzles, etc., for social gatherings, private theatricals, and evenings at home.
3. Back to the Old Home. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay, author of "Hidden Perils."
4. Dialogues, Recitations and Readings, a large and choice collection for school exhibitions and public and private entertainments.
5. The Standard Letter Writer for Ladies and Gentlemen, a complete guide to correspondence, giving plain directions for the composition of letters of every kind, with innumerable forms and examples.
6. The Frozen Deep. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins, author of "The Woman in White," etc.
7. Red Court Farm. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood, author of "East Lynne," etc.
8. The Lady of the Lake. By Sir Walter Scott. "The Lady of the Lake" is a romance in verse, and of all the works of Scott, none is more beautiful than this.
9. In Cupid's Net. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
10. Amos Barton. A Novel. By George Eliot, author of "Adam Bede," "The Mill on the Floss," etc.
11. Lady Gwendoline's Dream. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
12. The Mystery of the Holly Tree. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
13. The Budget of Wit, Humor and Fun, a large collection of the funny stories, sketches, anecdotes, poems, and jokes.
14. John Bowerbank's Wife. A Novel. By Miss Mulock, author of "John Halifax, Gentleman," etc.
15. The Gray Woman. A Novel. By Mrs. Gaskell, author of "Mary Barton," etc.
16. Sixteen Complete Stories by Popular Authors, embracing love, humorous and detective stories, stories of society life, of adventure, of railway life, etc., all very interesting.
17. Jasper Dane's Secret. A Novel. By Miss M. E. Braddon, author of "Aurora Floyd," etc.
18. Fancy Work for Home Adornment, an entirely new work upon this subject, containing easy and practical instructions for making fancy baskets, wall pockets, brackets, needle work, embroidery, etc., etc., profusely and elegantly illustrated.
19. Grimm's Fairy Stories for the Young. The finest collection of fairy stories published. The children are delighted with them.
20. Manual of Etiquette for Ladies and Gentlemen, a guide to politeness and good breeding, giving the rules of modern etiquette for all occasions.
21. Useful Knowledge for the Million, a handy book of useful information for all, upon many and various subjects.
22. The Home Cook Book and Family Physician, containing hundreds of excellent cooking recipes and hints to housekeepers, also telling how to cure all common ailments by simple home remedies.
23. Manners and Customs in Far Away Lands, a very interesting and instructive book of travels, describing the peculiar life, habits, manners and customs of the people of foreign countries.
24. 57 Popular Ballads. Same size as sheet music. Words of all the old and new songs.
25. Called Back. A Novel. By Hugh Conway.
26. At the World's Mercy. A Novel. By Florence Warden, author of "The House on the Marsh," etc.
27. Mildred Trevanion. A Novel. By "The Duchess," author of "Molly Bawn," etc.
28. Dark Days. A Novel. By the author of "Called Back."
29. Shadows on the Snow. A Novel. By B. L. Farjeon, author of "Bread-and-Cheese-and-Kisses," etc.
30. Leoline. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay, author of "Brenda Yorke."
31. Gabriel's Marriage. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins, author of "No Name," etc.
32. Reaping the Whirlwind. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay, author of "Old Middleton's Money," etc.
33. Dudley Carleon. A Novel. By Miss M. E. Braddon, author of "Lady Audley's Secret," etc.
34. A Golden Dawn. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne," etc.
35. Valerie's Fate. A Novel. By Mrs. Alexander, author of "The Wooing O't," etc.
36. Sister Rose. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins, author of "The Woman in White," etc.
37. Anne. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood, author of "East Lynne."
38. The Laurel Bush. A Novel. By Miss Mulock, author of "John Halifax, Gentleman," etc.
39. Robinson Crusoe. A thrilling narrative by Daniel De Foe, describing the adventures of a castaway in the South Pacific Ocean.
40. How to Make Poultry Pay. A practical and instructive series of articles by Mr. P. H. Jacobs, Poultry Editor of "The Farm and Garden," Phila.; illustrated.
41. Parlor Magic and Chemical Experiments, a book which tells how to perform hundreds of amusing tricks in magic and instructive experiments with simple agents.
42. Gems of the Poets, containing charming selections from Tennyson, Longfellow, Whittier, Byron, Shelley, Moore, Bryant, and many others.
43. Building Plans for Practical, Low-cost Houses. A full description and plans of Eight modern houses, ranging in price from $500 to $4500. Illustrated.
44. Anecdotes of Public Men—Washington, Franklin, Webster, Clay, Tilden, Lincoln, Scott, Grant, Garfield, Gladstone, Butler, Hancock, Lee, and all the leading men of the century.
45. Æsop's Fables. The work of an ancient genius. Children have read them for centuries, and grown people quote them every day.

OUR UNEQUALED OFFER.

We have arranged with the publishers of these books to furnish the whole forty-five with one year's subscription to our paper for $1.50; or we will send any five for 25 cts., or the whole forty-five for $1.50. Address all orders to publishers of

"FULTON TIMES,"
Fulton, N. Y.

In sending your Subscription, write only the NUMBERS of the books selected and they will be sent to your address, free of charge. Remember that this offer is only good during the month of November. After this month the offer is void.

Subscribe! Pay Up!

SCHOOL OF SHORT HAND
—AND—
TYPE WRITING.
CLASSES DAY AND EVENING.
Lessons by Mail a Specialty.
Terms Moderate. For further particulars apply to
MISS MATTIE G. HAM,
66 and 67 Weiting Block,
18m3 Syracuse, N. Y.

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

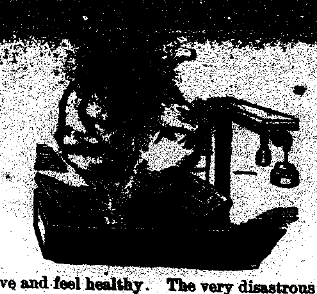
A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block containing 12 fine buildings, lots and rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jas. U. Smith estate.

[illegible]

[illegible] desiring to sell or exchange property; to have loans contracted or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on [illegible] with the undersigned at [illegible] N. Y.



We still live and feel healthy. The very disastrous effect of the Oswego county druggists' combination, upon our diet during the past year, seemed so apparent that upon consulting our bank account, and Wilcox's meat scales, we find ourselves yet, quite a ghost. The big guns of the Oswego county drug combination for the prevention of cruelty to fish, are still aimed at our council. Our diet of corn meal and onions enables us to still step heavily upon the necks of the Oswego county poor man's friends. We still hold forth at the beautiful opera house drug store and have increased our stock of Pure, Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Wines, Liquors, Fancy Toilet Articles, Oils, Paints, and in fact everything pertaining to a first-class drug line. We desire to sincerely thank our many Fulton and vicinity friends who have stood by us in our past warfare, and thereby enabled us to secure a good fitting out of our clothes. Our Combination Competitors, have acquired such an affection for us that when we chance to pass them upon the streets, they greet us with the following smiling expression:

Remember our place, The Opera House Drug Store, Opposite the Stephens Opera House, Fulton, N. Y. H. C. GIESLER.

ROGERS' GRAPOLINE

Is a household name throughout the United States. It is administered as a specific, and with SUCCESS, in DYSPEPSIA, Sick HEADACHE, Nervous Debility, Liver Complaint, Bilious Remittents, Bowel Complaints (especially CONSTIPATION), Gout, Gravel, RHEUMATISM, Nausea, the complaints peculiar to the maternal sex, and all types of inflammation. So mild is it in its operation that it can be given with perfect safety to the feeblest child; and so agreeable is it to the taste, so refreshing to the palate, that children never refuse to take it. FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

A. H. ROGERS & CO. Geneseo, N. Y.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

While THE NEW-YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE is the most expensive publication of its class in the United States, nevertheless its price is now fixed at $1 a year, the Semi-Weekly at $2; in both cases an extra copy with a club of 10.

The campaign just closed found the country in the trough of the political waves. The Republican managers have made the best struggle they could against a state of general apathy. In a few states they have been aided by the inspiring presence of a great leader, whose speeches have awakened almost the only enthusiasm anywhere shown. The result of the campaign is gratifying; its gains are an inspiration; the Democratic losses are a plain guide to the popular drift. From this time forward the country will feel the lift of the advancing wave of 1888, which, if we all do our duty, will sweep out from Washington the masqueraders now in possession, the foes of protection, equality and patriotic government. It is now the duty of all earnest and experienced workers to bend their energies toward united and hearty work for 1888. The party is to be consolidated, cheered and rallied. To this work THE TRIBUNE pledges its zealous efforts.

THE TRIBUNE offers for 1887 several excellent premiums, including

"The Tribune Book of Open Air Sports,"

A work compiled by THE TRIBUNE, especially for the young men of the United States. It is a thorough statement of the present status of Open-Air athletic amusements in America, with suggestions to beginners, the rules of every important game, the records of noted contests and the achievements of American Champions. The book will contain about 150 illustrations. Chapters are provided on Archery, Base-ball, with the record of wonderful playing and the League and Association contests, and instructions how to curve a ball; Court Tennis, Lawn Tennis, Football, Cricket, Lacrosse, Racket, Horsemanship, Cross Country Hunting, Yachting, with a discussion of sloop and Cutter, and instructions How to Design, Build and Sail a Boat; Rowing, Canoeing, Fishing, Trapping, Swimming, Hunting with Shot-gun and Rifle, Camping-out, Winter Sports, Bicycling, Amateur Photography and a few minor sports. Among the writers who have contributed are William Blaikie, Maurice Thompson, Captain Jacob A. Auger, Cavalry Instructor at West Point, David Kirby, Thomas Clapham, General George W. Wingate, Professor George Goldie, Director of Athletics of the New York Athletic Club; and a large number of private gentlemen throughout the country have furnished facts concerning the wild game and hunting sports of their several localities. No book of this character has ever been put into print in America. It is sufficiently elemental to be a "Boy's Own Book," and answer all the purposes of our manly youth, and yet will also meet the demands of adults. Will be ready for delivery December 1st. Octavo, 500 pages. Retail price $2.50. Terms, postage paid: with Weekly, 1 year, $2.50; with Semi-weekly, 1 year, $3.50; With Daily, $10.50. Only to be had in connection with yearly subscriptions to THE TRIBUNE.

Also "BLUNT'S RIFLE PRACTICE," a book for every hunter and National Guardsman; a fine WALTHAM WATCH: the low-priced WATERBURY WATCH; the two UNABRIDGED DICTIONARIES; WOOD'S MEDICINE, HYGIENE AND SURGERY, illustrated; RIDPATH'S HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES, illustrated; and YOUNG'S CONCORDANCE OF THE BIBLE.

Sample copy, giving terms in full, sent free. Order by postal card.

A Club Agent wanted wherever there is none.

THE TRIBUNE, New-York.

NEW COAL FIRM.

REMEMBER THAT

HART & CULLEN

ARE SELLING THE

Wilkesbarre and Pittston Coal.

THE BEST COAL MINED.

Leave Orders at Hart's Pottery, or Cullen's Meat Market and you will find prices very satisfactory.

Coal Delivered in Fulton or Oswego Falls.

21m3

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,

—AT THE—

FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

THE GREATEST AND THE BEST.

The Large Double Weekly, Religious and Secular

NEW YORK OBSERVER.

(Established 1823.)

UNDENOMINATIONAL, EVANGELICAL, UNSECTARIAN, AND NATIONAL.

A Safe Paper for the Family.

THE NEW YORK OBSERVER CAN BE TRUSTED.

It Stands by the Old and Tried Truths in Religion Morals, Education, and in all Public and Private Matters.

It is Conservative of all Good Things. It steadily Opposes Evil and Sin in every form. The OBSERVER is the well-known enemy of

INTEMPERANCE,
INFIDELITY,
AND ROMANISM.

It is a paper that has opinions, and can defend them; which has a faith, and holds to it. The NEW YORK OBSERVER is a living and growing Power in this land. It contains all the News of the World; The Best Thoughts of the Ablest Authors and correspondents everywhere; Poetry, Book Reviews, Notes and Queries, Departments for Teachers, Students, Business Men, Farmers, Parents and Children.

EVERY CHRISTIAN SHOULD READ IT.
EVERY PARENT SHOULD READ IT.
EVERY CITIZEN SHOULD READ IT.

Price $3.00 a year, in Advance.

Clergymen, $2.00 a year.

$1.00 commission allowed on New Subscribers.

Send for Sample Copy, free. Address,

NEW YORK OBSERVER.
29w4 New York.

-BUY-

Hampden Watches,

—AT—

W. P. OSBORNE'S.

REPAIRED AT OSBORNE'S.

WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY.

-B-U-Y-

At W. P. OSBORNE'S.

—BUY—

THE WM. ROGERS'

Silver Plated Teaspoons

FOR $1.00 at

W. P. OSBORNE'S.

O. F. HANCOCK,

196 West First St., Oswego, N. Y.

—AGENT FOR THE CELEBRATED—

Decker Brothers'

[illegible] Pianos.

C. S. EGGLESTON,

—DEALER IN—

BOOKS, STATIONERY,

WALL PAPER,

WINDOW SHADES,

[illegible]

DEL., L'KW'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express	8:18 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	11:28 a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express	3:38 p. m
Freight and Accommodation	6:15 p. m
New York and Phil. Night Express	8:15 p. m

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express	6:18 a. m.
Day Express	12:29 p. m.
Day Express	3:48 p. m.
Freight and Accommodation	6:49 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express	8:30 p. m.

The 8:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:18 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:06 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:27 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	9:57 p. m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:16	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19	3:24	6:29

☞Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS.

Dr. T.D.Stowe visited friends in town Monday.

Miss Bertha Elder will attend the musical institute at Boston this week.

Miss Hattie Sabin of Suspension bridge is visiting at her aunt's, Mrs. Boomer.

Mrs. H. C. Foster of Canandaigua, is visiting at her mother's on Cayuga street.

Willard Johnson is in Cincinnati, this week looking after his interests in that locality.

F. H. Leonard jr., representing the Thomson-Houston Electric Company is in town.

Miss Laura Lang returned last week from a visit of several months with relatives residing on the Hudson near Albany.

The Steel Works across the river are expected to be in operation soon.

A surprise party was given to Henry Whitman by his friends at Mrs. Hume's last evening. Dancing was the order of the evening and an excellent time was enjoyed.

The alleged statement of District Assembly Secretary, J. J. Junio in a recent speech at Oswego, to the effect that the condition of affairs in the Oswego Falls factories was bad, is inaccurate. Inspector Franey, not Healy, visited these mills and while here expressed himself to the effect that the mills had complied with the spirit of the law as well as any mill that he had visited in the State. The statement must have had reference to some other mill.

A meeting of the Village Improvement Society will be held this (Wednesday) evening at 7:30 in the session rooms of the Presbyterian church. A full attendance of all the members and those who wish to become members is earnestly desired. The suggestions made in the address of the President at the last meeting will be considered and some plans for practical work will be presented. It is not thought that frequent meetings will be necessary after the organization and work of the Society are thoroughly perfected. All who not only feel an interest in, but are willing to do something for the improvement of our village are specially requested to be present to-night.

New Scenery.

Those desiring Photographs for the Holidays would do well to secure their sittings at once. We have just received a new line of Scenery and accessories for Holiday work. A new line of plush cabinet Frames in desirable patterns. Darrow, Patriot Building, Cor. 2d and Oneida Sts. 27tf

For Sale or To Rent.

The new house on First street, two blocks south of Broadway.

Inquire of H. HULETT. 28tf

SOMETHING NEW.

The improved Welt $3.00 Calf Shoe equal to the best hand sewed at

23tf COLLINS'.

Oyster Supper
and Social
THIS EVENING, IN THE
Parlors of the M.E. Church
Under the Auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society.
Supper from 6 to 10.
All are Invited.

The question of consolidating the three school districts that now exist in this village and forming a Union Free School District that well include all within the limits of the corporation, has been suggested to us as matter worthy of public consideration. We think this is so and also think that the best end from an educational standpoint, will be attained when they are united into one. When this time comes, and it is only a question of time when it will be accomplished, if the village progresses in educational matters as it has and is doing in other affairs, all the people of Fulton will have a common interest and pride in the work done by the schools.

This question we are informed has has been previously considered and discussed, but we are convinced that it is a subject worthy of re-consideration and discussion and we are not alone in this belief, as many of the representative men in educational matters in the village favor its adoption. There are some obsticles in the way of the adoption of this system, all of which appear far from insurmountable.

The prosperity of a community depends largely upon the education of its people. The education of the people of Fulton in years to come will depend largely on its schools and the schools of the village will depend largely on the common school system that prevails. If therefore anything can be discovered that will benefit the village in perfecting still furthur the system of conducting the public schools, it should received the earnest consideration of every citizen. Pride in the work accomplished in one district, fear of being compelled to pay slightly higher taxes in another with other things of about equal importance should not be considered, if a step higher in educational advances can be taken and the community benefitted thereby. With an acidemic department, a part of the Fulton Union Free School, pupils could receive a business, scientific or classical education that would fit them for any walk in life and if circumstances permitted and inclinations were such the young ladies and young men could step from such a school into any college or institution of learning in the country and all within the corporation would receive the same advantages. A united school of this kind would soon fill the position which was so long and successfully held by Falley Seminary whose alumni are scattered in nearly every state of the Union. As we previously said the question has been brought to our attention and we speak of it in hopes that some one interested in educational advancement will express their views through the press on this subject. It is also a matter that could be discussed to advantage by the Village Improvement Society.

"An Evening With Ingersoll."

The above lecture is to be delivered by the eloquent orator, George R. Wendling of Illinois, at the opera house, Monday evening, Nov. 22d. This lecture has been delivered by Mr. Wendling over 700 times. As an answer to recent platform attacks upon christanity it stands unrivalled, and will retain its popularity. To this one lecture has been asigned, by many eminent Clergymen, the credit of doing more than any other single effort in our day, to destroy the teachings which the lecturer opposes. Admission 25 and 35 cents.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Ann Eliza Clark, wife of William Clark died very suddenly at her late residence, corner of Broadway and Fifth streets last Monday evening of heart disease aged 53 years. Mrs. Clark has been troubled with heart difficulty for the past ten years but appeared to be as well as usual on Monday. She assisted in preparing supper for her family at six o'clock. The first indication of anything serious was while eating supper Mr. Clark noticed that she staggered and only prevented herself from falling by grasping the handle of one of the doors. Dr. Wells was at once summoned but medical aid proved of no avail and she died about half past nine. Funeral services will be held at the house tomorrow afternoon, at 2 o'clock. The Rev. J. C. Breaker will officiate.

Miss Kattie Burgess died at her home in Lower Oswego Falls yesterday morning of Consumption, aged 19 years. Funeral services will be held from the church of the Immaculate Conception to-morrow forenoon at ten o'clock.

Mrs. Charles Ford one of the oldest residents of Parish died in that village last week aged 86 years. She was buried Friday.

The train on the "Phœnix" road, passing through here at 11:34 a. m. for Syracuse, now stops only at Fulton and Phœnix.

FOR THE WINTER!
—We have one of the Largest Stocks of—
CLOTHING!
—IN OSWEGO COUNTY—
And at Prices as Low as can be found in America. We offer unusual inducements in
MEN'S AND BOYS'
SUITS AND OVERCOATS,
SCOTCH AND FUR CAPS,
Men's Underwear, Men't Flannel and Woolen Shirts, Men's Neckwear and Hosiery, Gloves, Mittens &c.
Remember, we are THE ONE PRICE DEALERS and guarantee satisfaction on every dollars worth of goods purchased of us.

A new and full line of those Ladies Fine Imitation French Kid Button at $1.75 a pair. Above goods are to be opened to-day. Remember that every pair is a Bargain at NETTLETON'S.

Cheese factories are being closed for the season.

The Good Templars of Oswego Falls have moved into their rooms in the Fitchett block,

A teacher's examination was held by Commissioner Metcalf at No. 2 school on Saturday last.

A "chicken shoot" below the lower bridge in Oswego Falls occurred Friday. "Peanut Joe" carried away the largest number of fowls.

The Catholic fair will open in Church's hall on Tuesday, December 14 and probably be continued for the remaining nights of that week.

Frank Dilts of this village was elected Grand Worthy Patriarch of the Sons of Temperance of Western New York at the recent session held in Buffalo.

The official vote as announced by the Board of Canvassers last week for member of Assembly in this district was Howe (R.) 4,492; Page (D.) 4,259; Du Mas (P.) 237.

The Delightful New-Step Polka, by Will L. Thompson, is one of the most beautiful pieces of music ever published. Any music dealer will mail it to you on receipt of 50 cents.

Ying Lee has closed his branch laundry at Oswego Falls but still continues to serve his patrons in a highly satisfactory manner at his laundry corner of First and Oneida streets.

The Board of Supervisors met in Oswego last week and elected E. P. Barrett of Hannibal, chairman and H. D. Nutting of Parish, clerk. The regular annual meeting of the Board will convene on Monday next.

The box social held in the parlors of the Presbyterian church last Wednesday evening was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed by all. The refreshments were well gotten up and pronounced excellent. Fifty-five dollars were realized.

The ram "Adirondack," owned by Lyman Clark of Addison, Vt., arrived in town Tuesday, to be kept at J. Horatio Earll's farm for a few weeks. He is valued at $2,500. All interested in good sheep should call and see him.—[Skaneatelas Free Press.

Owing to the deep snow the street cars did not appear "down town" on Saturday and Sunday. Monday the carryall "Red Bird" was put on, but by noon the track was sufficiently cleared to allow the cars to make their regular trips. During the winter the cars will be put on runners.

Expose of That Pretended Public Investigation of the Qualities of the Baking Powders.

It is no new thing with the Royal Baking Powder Company to publish in the newspapers reading notice advertisements which have the appearance of emanating from the editor's pen.

Its most recent effort is an article from the Albany Evening Journal giving a pretended investigation as if made by the Journal of the qualities of baking powders. The following from a later issue of the same paper (August 27, 1886) so plainly stamps the whole thing as simply an advertising dodge of huge proportions that we think the public entitled to the benefit of the expose, and accordingly give it below:

"The Journal has printed analyses and reports of various baking powders as reading notices or advertisements. It has not undertaken to say of its own knowledge which is the best powder in the market. Consumers must decide for themselves."

This piece of ingenious advertising on the part of the Royal Baking Powder Company may have had its origin in the evident disappointment of the Company with its extravagant but fruitless advertising efforts to beguile the public into believing that the cream of tartar used in other baking powders contains a large percentage of tartrate of lime, when it is a fact and well known to the commercial world that all the refiners who supply this country with cream of tartar are, and have been for a long time, in a combination under an agreement between them to produce only strictly pure or ninety-nine per cent goods.

The cream of tartar used in Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder is refined by a new process which frees it entirely from tartrate of lime and every impurity, and is obtained in the pure crystals and ground in our own factory; the bi-carbonate of soda is prepared expressly for us; and to insure uniformity and absolute purity of our baking powder all the ingredients are subjected to searching chemical anayses, and none used unless proved to be perfectly pure.

Appreciating the fact that consumers have a right to know what they are using as food, we have for many years made known to the public all of the ingredients of our powder. Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, bi-carbonate of soda, and a small porton of flour used as a preservative, and does not contain ammonia, alum, acid phosphates, or any adulteration whatever.

Has the Royal Baking Powder Company, with its much advertising, ever informed the housekeepers of the country all that enters into the composition of its its powder? Or has it ever published a word openly in the defence of the use of ammonia in baking powder? Information on these points might enable the public to form an intelligent opinion in regard to the merits of this much mooted question of baking powder superiority and we would have no misgivings as to the result.

CLEVELAND BROTHERS,
ALBANY, N. Y.

Regents' Examinations.

Regents' examinations were held in No. 2 School last week. In Arithmetic which is considered the hardest of all the subjects twenty-six passed. This is an excellent showing and is most creditable to scholars and teachers. The following are the names of those that passed in Arithmetic:

Florence Bennett, Wm. G. Bennett, Clara Chase, Carrie E. Crockford, Fred Draper, Arthur Emerick, Fred J. Emeny, Emma Edwards, Herbert Flaxington, Geo. V. Green, Herbert C. Howe, Emma Hart, Fred G. Hewitt, Minnie Hubbard, Carrie A. Johnson, Bertha M. Lawrence, Lydia Matson, Arthur Newman, Gertrude Nichols, Carrie B. Nichols, Carrie B. Rogers, Abby Stephens, Nellie E. Stowe, Fred Summerville, Guy A. Waugh, Morris T. Whitaker.

"Hoodman Blind."

We announce on the authority of the managers of the opera house and the advance agent that the magnificent scenery and mechanical effects which the company carry will be used in connection with this play on Saturday evening. The play itself has had phenominal success, is fresh from Wallack's Theatre, and had a run of 300 nights at the Princess Theatre, London. The New York Herald in speaking of the play says: "Hoodman Blind was greeted by such genuine demonstrations of applause as are vouchsafed to great plays and great actors only." Reserved seats now on sale at Watson's.

The New Landlord.

The Watertown Times of last Wednesday has the following concerning the new landlord of the Lewis House:

"For some time A. D. Williams, formerly proprietor of the Globe hotel in this city, has been inspecting various hotels in this section with a view to purchasing. Yesterday, Landlord Leonard of the Lewis house, Fulton, sold the stock, furniture and fixtures of that hotel, and Mr. Williams was the purchaser. Mr. Williams is an experienced hotel man and proposes to make the Lewis house one of the best in that part of the state. For a number of years he has been engaged in the hotel business in this city. It was hoped when the Globe hotel sale took place, that he might again locate here. The friends of Mr. Williams wish him success in Fulton. He took immediate possession of the hotel. The terms of sale are private."

The Banker's Daughter.

The well known and successful play of The Banker's Daughter is to be given at the opera house this evening. The N. Y. Times of a recent date in speaking of this play says:

"After an interval of two days, the electric lighting machine having been repaired, the Third Avenue Theatre was reopened last night by Crossen's Banker's Daughter Company to a very large and demonstrative audience. The play was presented in a highly satisfactory manner, the distinctive traits of the leading characters being finely brought out. The performance, in a word, being wholly successful.

Tickets 35, 50 and 75 cts. Reserved seats on sale at Watson's.

Apron Sale.

The ladies of Zion church will hold an apron sale before the holidays. Every member of the congregation is asked to make something in the fancy article line. Those who cannot attend the weekly societies please send material for aprons when they will be made by willing hands who go each week. Society at Mrs. J. H. Woodin's Thursday, to-morrow.

THE CASE IS CLOSED.

A Unanimous Verdict

has been given by the people of central New York that we are giving bigger bargains in clothing than any other house in this country. The people say our all wool four button cutaway corkscrew suits at $10.00 and our elegant chinchilla overcoats at $10.00 are equal to other dealers $15. goods. Our men's 75 ct. working pants are daisies, and at $1.00 we sell the same pants other houses charge $1.50 for. Nowhere on earth can you get such heavy overcoats and ulsters as we are selling from six to eight dollars. Our elegant dress suits and overcoats at $15.00 equal in quality, style and fit any merchant tailor's at $30.00. Call and examine our goods and prices. Central City Clothing Co., 20 East Genesee St., Syracuse, N. Y. C. C. C. C.

Scranton coal, famous for its free burning qualities, sold only by Schenck & Foster. 28t1.

A Big Time at the
—"BOSTON BAZAAR"—
Next Saturday.
Come and see how lively we can make things. We have special bargains in
HOSIERY and UNDERWEAR.
A new lot of those $1.00 Seven Button, Embroidered back, undressed
KID GLOVES.
The biggist thing out.
100 doz. Ladies' and Gents'
HANDKERCHIEFS
just received at prices from 5c. to $2.00. These are a few of the many bargains we always have on hand.
JERSEYS, RIBBONS, YARNS.
Most Complete Stock in town.
Corsets, Plush Goods, and Hanging Lamps, it is well to call your attention to.
Yours for Bargains,
NEY & ALLEN.

Try the Conductor 5c. cigar, the finest 5c. cigar in town. Sold by W. J. Watson. 26w9.

Special Prices For Carpets, Furniture &c.

A. A. Graff & Co., No's 61 & 63 South Salina Street, Syracuse, offer for the next 30 days, as a special bargain, 100 Parlor suits embossed plush, solid walnut frames, 7 pieces for [illegible]; 25 chamber suits, [illegible]

Thanksgiving one week from tomorrow.

Boatmen report a profitable season this year.

Social and oyster supper at the M. E. church this evening.

A daughter was born to the wife of F. E. Bacon last week.

Crossen's "Banker's Daughter" at the opera house this evening.

The new house of Chauncey Woliver on Broadway near Fifth street is fast nearing completion.

Rev. W. Dempster Chase addressed the Granby S. S. Union at Lewis' Corners last Sunday afternoon.

Miss Hattie Edgarton is teaching in the school at Oswego Falls during the illness of Miss Allie VanCamp.

The Fulton brass band are to have a grand concert promenade at the opera house hall on Thanksgiving eve.

Uncle Freeman Gasper celebrated his 92 birthday last Wednesday by going to Syracuse with his daughter, Mrs. Van Buren.

A large quantity of willows have been grown in this vicinity during the past summer. They have proved a profitable crop.

The Sunday School of the Congregational church of Oswego Falls are announced to give a concert next Sunday evening.

Two weeks yet remain in which persons may secure twenty-five excellent books, free. Read THE TIMES Offer in another column.

At a meeting of the council of the Fire Department last evening a committee was appointed to make arrangements for securing electric lights for the engine houses.

The grocery firm of Russell & Son from Port Byron are to occupy the store at the corner of Broadway and First streets on the first of December.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church are to hold a social and Oyster Supper in the church this evening. Supper from 6 to 10. All are invited.

Mrs. E. G. Dodge, clairvoyant physician, well known in this village, died at her home in Oswego last Thursday. She has been in failing health for some time.

The recently organized Juiliard Good Templars brass band is announced to play in public for the first time this evening at the oyster supper given by the Good Templars of that place.

The editor of an exchange says: "The longer we run a newspaper and write about people and events, the more we realize how utterly impossible it is to scratch every man on the spot where he itches most."

The two sons of Mrs. Reuben Smith aged 10 and 13 years, who disappeared from their home in this village on the 15th of last August, have been heard from. They are in Dimmsville, Pa. Mrs. Smith is making arrangements for their return.

The Utica Herald of Monday in speaking of "The Banker's Daughter" which is to be given at the opera house this evening says, that it gave excellent satisfaction, that the company is a good one, and the play very enjoyable. This from the Herald is a good guarantee of an excellent entertainment.

Through the courtesy of Messrs. Moore & Schley, Bankers and Brokers, 26 Broad street, New York City, we have received for our office a beautiful engraving of The World's Exchanges. The engraving is done by Root & Tinker, Tribune Building and shows careful work and artistic execution.

Over 13 miles of wire and over 400 poles will be required for the construction of the electric lights in this village and Oswego Falls. Two large Turbine wheels from Holyoke, Mass., have been ordered. Wm. Patrick of Phœnix has the conract for putting these in position and also for perfecting the foundation for the new building.

The Fulton lodge I. O. G. T. celebrated the fifth anniversary of their organization at their rooms in the Kenyon block last Monday evening. The exercises were of a literary nature, consisting of declamations, recitations, select reading, vocal and instrumental music, &c. Several invited guests were present the size of the hall not admitting of a general invitation being extended.

The play of "Patent Rights" which was presented at the opera house on Monday evening had been considerably criticised before reaching here, this kept many from attending that might otherwise have been present. The locomotive appearing in the first act was the best mechanical contrivance that we have yet seen in the opera house. Some of the acting was good. The criticisms on "The Star," LeGrand, are probably just. He is undoubtedly gone on himself as an actor and is full of conceit and patent rights.

Friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. David to the number of about hirty united in forming a surprise party last evening, the occasion being the fifteenth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. David's wedding day. The surprise was complete as neither had the first intimation that they were to be visited. The "bride and groom" made it pleasant for their friends and a most enjoyable time was had. At 10:30 Mr. Joshua Strawwhacker and wife of Shingle Hollow appeared on the scene electrifying those present with their dancing, conversation, etc. Mr. and Mrs D. were the recipients of numerous gifts, slight tokens of the esteem in which they are held by their friends.

[illegible]

[illegible] considerable [illegible] are circles over the possible disposition of the magnificent collection of more than four hundred paintings; the result of the combined taste of Stewart, his wife and Judge Hilton. It is a well known fact among those who had any knowledge of the Stewart family that A. T. Stewart was estranged from his wife for several years, and that sometime before his death a reconciliation took place. During this separation she lived in a house immediately opposite to the grand mansion which the Merchant Prince erected in the north-west corner of Fifth Avenue and Thirty-Fourth street. It is generally presumed that the reconciliation caused Mr. Stewart to leave the great bulk of his property to his wife, reserving a small portion as compared with its entire amount to his nephew, Judge Hilton. The Stewart mansion was several years in building and the interior decorations in the way of frescoing, and upholstering, etc., were the work of foreign artists. It has never been changed. The work as left by the builders and decorators is without alteration. The Art gallery is on the north-west corner of the main structure and is a separate building although connected to it. It is a room 50 by 30 by 25, lighted in the usual way by skylights overhead. It would be difficult to say what was the value of its contents, and yet all the art possessions of the family are not here. In the Stewart's Saratoga Hotel is Yoon's great picture. Those who have been to Saratoga will remember it at the end of the grand saloon. But this gallery. Four pictures of note have prominent places. Rosa Bonheur's "Horse Fair"; Messioniers "Napoleon and his Army," painted in 1807; Bierstadt's "Lake of Lower California" and DaFortuny's masterpiece. These four pictures represent a value of $150,000, certainly. The second one mentioned above alone cost $60,000. The famous French masters, David Bougerlaw, Dupre, Tryou, Diatz, Ziem and the leading representatives of the American school, both in painting and sculpture have a place. The widow has provided that this magnificent collection which ought to have been left to some such institution as the Museum of art in this city or the Corcoran gallery of Washington, shall be divided among her brothers and sisters, her nieces and nephews of which I believe there are 26 in all. This separation reminds me of the fact that private collections of pictures suffer almost always this fate. When a wealthy man or woman has made a beautiful as well as representative collection, and leaves it to the care of the executors, they like the well-known saying of corporations, "have no souls." The only exception to this is the Vanderbilt collection which I believe is entailed so as to be always a part of the family mansion. Ex-Governor Morgan, Mrs. Sarah Morgan, Beriat Wall, Thomas Robinson and Harpers, had each collections that ought to have been kept on permanent exhibition, but they are scattered to the four points of the compass never again to be collected. One more fact regarding this Stewart family. They did not possess great amounts of real estate. The Chamber street and Ninth street stores on Broadway, The Metropolitan and Park Avenue hotels, Niblo's Theatre, the Glencoe Mills in Dutchess Co., and the family mansion constituted the landed wealth. The Glencoe Mills and the Chamber street store property have been sold. Personal property constituted a very large part of the $20,000,000 credited to Mrs. A. T. Stewart.

⁂

Apropos to what has been written above, I see that the relatives of Miss Harriet A. Lenox of whom I wrote recently have decided to contest her will. For forty years the public have been in ignorance of the doings of this lady, (the public are nonsensically morbid in the matter of the private affairs of persons). I suppose this contest will afford the above mentioned public a great deal of delight. How the little eccentricities and peculiarities of this most charitable lady will be discussed! But more wonderful still, what a magnificent specimen for the carrion crows of the law to pick! Then there is Samuel J. Tilden, too. What another fat bill will this estate have to pay!

⁂

It is, indeed, a sorry fact to recall that the fittest men this city can get for Aldermen are recruited from the ranks of thieves et. al., or candidates for entrance to Bloomingdale's safe retreat for lunatics. To this first class belonged Jaehne whose occupation at Sing Sing gives him time to ruminate on the mutability of life, while to the second belongs McCabe whom the eminent Dr. Wm. A. Hammond declares to be mildly insane and hence unaccountable. Thus, of the 22 Alderman who brought this city into great disgrace, three are temporarily remaining in our sister land across the St. Lawrence, two have gone over Jordan, two have been legally disposed of while the remainder with their buyers are awaiting the slow turn of Justice's wheel. Political dishonesty is receiving its reward, and as a certain enterprising gentleman of the fraternity of the baser sort who remarked "Hanging was played out in New York," found to his regret that such was not the case, so our political tricksters found that sooner or later the public conscience gets aroused and then somebody gets a just reward.

⁂

Our distinguished guests who came to the unveiling of Liberty's statue have nearly all departed. M. Bartholdi was suddenly summoned home to the deathbed of his mother whose countenance our statue is said to resemble. This sudden return is to be regretted. He was to have been the recipient of a magnificent testimonial from the reporters of the World without whose efforts the statue would not have been dedicated as soon as it was. This gift was therefore sent to M. Bartholdi, without the interesting ceremonies it otherwise would have occasioned. This gift is 3 feet high and is composed of silver. The base is a truncated pyramid of silicified wood of Arizona; upon this is a globe representation of the World, having traced in its surface the continents, mountains, lakes and rivers. Surmounting this is a life size representation of the head and torch of the artists' masterpiece. Upon the globe is the inscription, and upon the opposite sides of the base are [illegible] of Bartholdi and [illegible] obtaining the funds for the proper lighting of the statue. The probability is that when Congress meets this will be fully attended to. WANDERER.

CLOTHING!
Our sales of heavy weight Clothing during the past ten days have been very large, but our immense stock has been able to stand the attack. We have added largely to our stock during the past week, and are prepared to meet the demands of all who want Winter Clothing. Everything that is new and desirable we can show at prices lower than any other house in town. WE HAVE THE INSIDE TRACK, and are making greater efforts than ever before to please the public and retain their confidence. We are in earnest and we are bound, if good goods and low prices will draw, to have a large increase in our trade. Everyone admits that our prices are surprisingly low, and we claim an advantage over all other dealers for styles and workmanship.
PEEBLES & COOK
Opposite Opera House.

Boy's Knockabout (Trade Mark) School Shoes are not the cheapest but they are the best. Sold at Collins'. 28tf.

"Let There Be Light."

The Board held their regular meeting on last Wednesday evening and after the miscellaneous work was completed, trustee Kendrick brought up the subject of electric lights and moved that the bid of the Thomson-Houston company for the short term i. e. until next April at two dollars per month per light, be accepted. This motion was seconded by trustee More. President Sharp, contrary to expectation, said that as the tax-payeas did not feel disposed to accept the Schuyler light and clearly favored the Thomson-Houston, he would place no obstacle in the way of the board in taking any action that a majority thought advisable. The motion was then put and carried without an opposing vote, although trustee Johnson looked as if he were prepared to annihilate the whole board including the president. Before adjourning the village attorney was authorized to draw up a contract to be submitted to the board for their approval on the following (Thursday) evening. This was done and it substantially says that 37 arc lights of 2,000 candle power each, will be distributed on our streets and be in operation on or before the 20th day of December, that if they are not in operation on that date the company is to forfeit $10 to the village for each night thereafter until work is completed and the lights are in operation. This contract was accepted by the board and by Mr. Philbrook for the company.

Work was begun last Monday morning in cleaning away the rubbish for the foundation of the new building of the T. H. company, which is to be built back of the box factory. The cost to the company for the building, waterwheels, machines, wire, lamps &c. will exceed $12,000.

On the 20th of December, it is expected that the village, in addition to the 37 street lights, will have 12 arc and 220 incandescent lights, as that number has been ordered from this company. The Schuyler company also have a large number in operation. The village will therefore be lighted this winter as it never was before. Our neigobors in Oswego Falls will also have 5 arc and 150 incandescent lights in addition to the 17 for street purposes.

The committee, trustees Kendrick More, Chase and Bradford, appointed by the board to decide upon the location of the lights have decided to place them at the following points. First and Oneida; First and Cayuga; Angle of First near Willard Johnson's; First and Broadway; First and Pratt; First and Lyon; First and Fay; First near Pearman's; Second and Erie; Second and Oneida; Second and Cayuga; Second and Rochester; Second and Academy; Second and Broadway; Second and Division; Third and Seneca; Third and Cayuga; Third and Buffalo; Third and Highland; Third and State; Fourth and Erie; Fourth and Oneida; Fourth and Utica; Fourth and Academy; Fourth and Broadway; Fourth and Division; Fifth and Buffalo; Fifth and Pratt; Sixth and Seward; Sixth and Erie; Sixth and Oneida; Sixth and Broadway; Seventh and Ontario; Seventh and Utica; Seventh and Buffalo; Eighth and Oneida; Emory road on hill near Carner's.

CHEAP CORN FEED.

Gilbert & Nichols at the Fulton Mills are selling buckwheat feed for milch cows and young stock at about the price of hay. 28w2

HON. GEO. R. WELDING
—AT THE—
OPERA HOUSE,
Monday Evening, Nov. 22.
Subject:
"An Evening with Ingersoll"
General Admission, 35 and 25cts.
Reserved Seats Saturday, at Watson's 35c.

Stephens Opera House,
YOUNGS BROS, & CO. Managers.
Saturday Ev'n'g, Nov. 20.
BRADSHAW & HORRING'S
HOODMAN BLIND COMPANY
IN THE
Greatest Scenic and Dramatic Success of the Season.
WILSON BARRETT and HENRY A. JONES
Beautiful Melo-Drama
HOODMAN BLIND,

To The Public.

I propose on Saturday evening next, Nov. 20th, to have a special opening night at my restaurant on Second street. I have recently purchased a fine piano which will be used on this occasion and a free lunch will be served during the evening. There will be several sparring exhibitions by parties from Oswego and Syracuse, and also local celebraties. There will also be singing, clog and jig dancing by local talent.

MIKE CONLEY,
Proprietor.

The best is the cheapest. Hop Plaster contains active medical agents for the cure of pain.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

Remember the place to buy unadulterated groceries Cheap is at the sign of the Red store No. 18 First street opposite the Lewis house.

24tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

For Sale or To Rent.

A Farm of 40 acres situated two miles north-west of Fulton, known as the Isaiah Conklin farm. Inquire at the premises. Mrs. Mina House. 26t5

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots, &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by

10tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

The Lambertville "Duck" Rubber Boot has no equal. They will not crack. Sold at Collins'. 25tf.

Try, the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

Just received at D. C. Draper's, a large order of imported crockery and China, and a fine line, all new patterns, China tea sets and chamber sets, which I will offer for the next 30 days at $1.00 less on chamber sets and $2.00 to $4.00 less on tea sets than any house in Oswego or Syracuse, to reduce part of over-stock. Call and see goods and prices, at 15 Oneida street. 17tf

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expediously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

Look at this line of
PARLOR STOVES!
WORLD'S JEWEL,
ART ROYAL,
RED CROSS.
GOLD COIN AND BEAVER.
The last two are ventilating Stoves, and sold exclusively
by
SNOW & LOOMIS.

1886. 1886.
AHEAD OF ALL!
MILTON S. PRICE,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.
The Popular Dry Goods, Carpet and Furniture Dealer.
The Great Establishment Renovated. New Decorations, &c., Mammoth Show Windows, One Great Entrance from Salina Street. The most Attractive Store in the City.
PROUD AM I TO ANNOUNCE that during forty years of business experience, I have never been so well prepared to meet the wants of the public as at the present time.
READY CASH WITH EXPERIENCED BUYERS has filled my mammouth stores, running through from Salina to Clinton Streets, with a stock of
DRY GOODS, CARPETS AND FURNITURE,
Unequaled by any Establishment in Central New York.
It would be useless in this small space to attempt an enumeration of the thousands of articles displayed.
DRY GOODS and Fancy Goods,
IN ENDLESS VARIETY.
CARPETS, RUGS, &c.,
A COMPLETE STOCK.
Furniture and Curtain Draperies,
FOR THE RICH AND POOR.
I can give you better value for your money than any other house in the City.
Do not fail, when in Syracuse, to pay this establishment a visit.
MILTON S. PRICE.

[illegible]

WORTH KNOWING.

There is no better season to prune grape vines than about Thanksgiving time.

Professor Budd says that no seedling apples from the stock of western Europe, such as are found in the older states, will live in the northwest. Only apples from eastern Europe, notably from Russia will do that.

In the northwest lay the whole grape vine gently down flat upon the ground in November or early in December, and cover it a few inches with dirt.

Kill the roosters out of your flock as fast as they are large enough to eat. Watch when prices are best, and sell them and the unprofitable hens also.

Sweet and sour cream should never be churned together, as each requires a different temperature.

The milk of stall fed cows is richer in fats than the milk of cows that roam at large over the pastures. This is an argument in favor of soiling.

Ventilate the buildings where your poultry is kept daily, no matter how cold the day may be. Let the foul air out and let the fresh air in among the birds. Thus only can you keep them healthy in confinement.

The coming butter maker, according to the National Stockman, must have a clean mouth and breath as well as clean clothes and a clean apron, be honest, neat, smart, level-headed and able to keep accounts.

A hog pen has been patented by Mr. Lewis F. Chenowoth of Millerton, Kansas. The invention covers an improved construction in various parts and details, whereby water or fluid feed may be placed in the trough.

A New England dairyman states that he has fed green rye to his cows for three seasons, and the improvement in the quality of milk, cream and butter was very marked. He uses no coloring for his butter, and finds the green rye better than many other kinds of grass.

No domestic animals need better care or food for profitable thrift than sheep. A flock will clear a field of briars and weeds, and will enrich it, but will not live on these alone. To relish these they must have a liberal supply of bran, meal, cut clover, oil-cake meal and such ike.

Farm Possibilities.

We know not all of farm possibilities. We should know more. One of the most promising is fodder corn. On a small scale this is becoming the universal crop in the older states. There should be more of it. About half of the farmers sow it broad-cast and get a crop of fine stalks without joints or much sweetness. It should always be sown in drills and the corn should not be so thick but that the stalks will grow in a natural form, with all the joints. This makes the highest order of fodder from corn. More weight and more substance can be grow on an acre in this way than when sown broadcast. Fodder corn is the best panacea for the summer drouth.

We should go a step further and put in without delay a field of rye for early spring pasture. The sooner animals can be got out the better, and the more economical it is also. The last chance for out-door pasture is with flat turnips in the field. These crops are all of them among the easiest to grow and the least expensive. With each of them in its place, half of the expense and trouble of stock would be considered and provided for.

The feeding of crops in a green state causes less impovishment to the soil than if they were allowed to ripen. The formation of grains and seeds takes large amounts of phosphates from the soil, while the feeding the grain before seedripening does not. The way, then, to enrich the farm is to grow large quantities of succulent foods and to feed them out on the land. Soiling embraces this principle, and with soiling there is a way for more stock and more income.—[Our Country Home.

Watering Sheep.

Too much stress can hardly be laid on the importance of looking well to the matter of watering sheep in winter. "You can lead a horse to water but you cannot make him drink." This adage would hardly be true of the sheep. It will drink after awhile. When a sheep comes out of the stable a trifle chilly, with its blood stagnant after twenty-four hours' quiet, it feels touchy, and it will sniff and sample here and there in a way which is aggravating to the shepherd who is waiting on its motions. It may be fifteen minutes before it can suit itself. It may utterly refuse to drink, whereas, if it could go off and take a run of an hour or so, it would return and drink a surprising quantity. If that sheep had been shut up by an impatient shepherd, it would have suffered before twenty-four hours elapsed, and would not have eaten as freely as it ought, and consequently would have begun to lose condition.

A Shrewd Guess.

Gus Snobberly, accompanied by Charlie Clamwhopper, called on the Misses Bondclipper of Fifth Avenue. While waiting in the parlor they observed the photographs of the young ladies in an album.

"How much the two sistahs wesemble each other," remarked Charlie.

"Yes. I dah say they were twaken by the same photogwapher, don't yer know."—[Texas Siftings.

He Must Have Been Tickled.

Mrs. Yerger was dressed to go to the ball. She had on her new dress.

"You look stunning in that new dress; but, great Cæsar! what a lot of money it costs these hard times," remarked Colonel Yerger.

"Lor', Charles, what do I care for money when it comes to making you happy," replied Mrs. Yerger, with a beaming smile.—[Texas Siftings.

Excitement In Texas.

Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Tex., by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless that he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of Consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent him. Finding relief he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two [illegible]

[illegible]

Of the earlier Presidents, Washington was the wealthiest. When he died his estate at a moderate valuation was worth $800,000. Adams was a poor man but independant in his last years, thanks to the good management of his wife. Jefferson was wealthy when he became President, but lost his property and died insolvent. His home was sold and his daughter was saved from want by the generosity of South Carolina, which gave $30,000. Congress bought his library and with the proceeds his debts were paid. All of his decendants are poor. Madison left a handsome property, and was wealthy when President. Congress bought his manuscript papers, paying $30,000 for them. Mrs. Madison's son, Payne Todd, squandered her property, and in a few years after her husband's death she was poor. His estate was valued at $280,000 in 1861.

James Monroe died insolvent. He sold his Virginia estate after the death of his wife, and died in New York.

John Quincy Adams left $50,000. His successor, Andrew Jackson was a rich man for his day. The Hermitage, which he left to his adopted son, is now the property of the State. Martin VanBuren left a fine estate valued at $300,000.

James K. Polk left about half this amount and as he had no children to make use of it, his widow has enjoyed it since his death.

John Tyler was not a rich man, though he owned a fine farm in Virginia and a number of slaves. He had a large family and was so long in public life that he went to the White House poor. What he saved in office enabled him to live in comfort afterward. His second wife had means and their eight children were well educated.

Mr. Filmore by a second marriage, became a wealthy man.

Franklyn Pierce left no children to inherit his property, which was valued at $50,000.

President Buchanan was worth $250,000, which he gave to his nephews and nieces.

Abraham Lincoln's estate was valued at $75,000.

Andrew Johnson had $150,000 when he left the White House. A part of this amount was lost by the failure of the Freedman's Bank.

President Grant never had money until he became Lieutenant-General. His salary and the generous gifts of his friends made him a millionaire. All of his property was lost in the Grant-Ward failure. His wife is independant again through the sale of his book.

Hayes is very wealthy.

The gifts to Mrs. Garfield made her rich. Her husband left a small property worth not more than $40,000.

Ex-President Arthur is worth about $100,000.

Cleveland has about the same amount.

If people, troubled with colds, will take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral before going to church, they will avoid coughing. The Pectoral soothes and heals the irritated tissues, and controlls all disposition to cough.

The Little Girl and the Minister.

A little girl and her mamma occupied seats in the parlor car on a Northwestern train. On board was a reverend gentleman—a very fat, sleek man—attired in a black coat, buttoned stiffly in front and a white choker. Of course he had to strike up a conversation with the mamma—an interesting sort of a woman, by the way—by means of the little girl. Of missy he inquired if she attended Sunday-school and what lessons she remembered, and so on. In this way he learned that she had some curiosity concerning the ascension of the old patriarch in a chariot of clouds.

"And now, my little girl," he inquired, why couldn't I be taken bodily to heaven in a cloud as Elijah was?"

"B-because," the little one rejoined, with her big eyes looking over the round and well-fed form of her questioner; "because you are not built that way."—[Chicago Herald.

Catarrh is a constitutional disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a constitutional remedy. It cures catarrh. Give it a trial.

Railroad Accidents.

The following record of accidents that have occurred on the various roads of the country during the year ending October 1, is taken from the Railroad Gazette:

	Accidents.	Killed.	Injured.
October	123	36	134
November	96	19	118
December	74	31	153
January	94	40	90
February	98	21	157
March	91	49	131
April	66	82	105
May	92	23	170
June	15	13	86
July	91	23	88
August	115	31	117
September	135	31	140
Total	1,141	366	1,497
Total same months 1884-85	1,230	331	1,534
Total same months 1883-84	1,293	387	1,933
Total same months 1882-83	1,641	476	1,801

The yearly average for the four years was 1,326 accidents, 390 killed and 2,691 hurt. The monthly average for the year was 95 accidents, 37 killed and 125 injured.

Carter's Little Liver Pills will be found an excellent remedy for sick-headache. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Ask your druggist for them.

The Frog in the Tourist's Throat.

Mrs. Auglomaniac—"I cannot tell you what a treat it is to hear you talk. You have been in England so long that every word you utter reminds me of the delightful English lords and dukes I used to meet."

Returned tourist—"Pardon me, but England was the only country I did not visit."

Mrs. Auglomaniac—"Indeed! How very strange! I was sure you had unconsciously acquired the English vocal tones."

Returned tourist—"No; its only a cold in the head."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla acts directly and promptly, purifying and enriching the blood, improving the appetite, strengthening the [illegible]

LAME BACK? STRENGTHEN AND RESTORE IT BY WEARING A

Hop Plaster

Why suffer with an aching back when a prompt and positive relief is at hand? The Hop Plasters completely and speedily cure Backache, Sideache, Painful Muscles, Kidney Weakness, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Pleurisy, Chest Pains, Sore Lungs, Coughs, Crick and all Sudden, Sharp or Nervous pains. The soothing, pain-killing and strengthening virtues of Hops, Hemlock, Balsams and Gums combined. Sweet and clean. Sold everywhere, 25 cts., 5 for $1.00. Mailed for price by proprietors, Hop Plaster Company, Boston, Mass.

☞ Look for the hop-vine wreath and signature of HOP PLASTER CO., on every genuine plaster. Beware of imitations and substitutions.

The Latest Out.

A young woman employed in a millinery establishment had a painful fall a few days ago. She was standing on top of a step-ladder putting the finishing touches on a latest feminine hat, when she slipped and fell to the floor, a distance of twelve feet.—[Norristown Herald.

LITTLE CHILDREN

Do not cry when Dr. Van Wert's Balsam is given them. It is so sweet and palatable, they never refuse it, and it is superior to any other known remedy for Croup and Whooping Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are small and easy to take. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Hay Fever. 23m6

Henry Ward Beecher declares that he will not cross the Atlantic agan till there is a bridge spanning its turbulent waters.

THE COMMANDER IN CHIEF.

of the Grand Army of the Republic, Maj. George S. Merrall. Few remedies are better known in this vicinity than Sulphur Bitters; their sale has been very general throughout this section, and the number of reliable, and well attested cases of beneficial results and recovery by their use is large and undisputed.

Ex-Governor Berry of New Hampshire, 91 years old, has been making vigorous political speeches this year.

Children Starving to Death

On account of their inability to digest food, will find a most marvelous food and remedy in Scott's Emulsion. Very palatable and easily digested. Dr. S. W. Cohen of Waco, Texas, says: "I have used your Emulsion in Infantine wasting. It not only restores wasted tissues, but gives strength and increases the appetite." 25iw

Mr. Blaine purchased a fine lot of chrysanthemums at the big show in New York, for Mrs. Blaine.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

George—the youngest of the Vanderbilts—has prepared a book for publication.

Can't Sleep Nights is the complaint of thousands suffering from Asthma, Consumption, Coughs, etc. Did you ever try Acker's English Remedy? It is the best preparation known for all Lung Troubles, sold on a positive guarantee at 10c., 50c. H. C. Giesler.

The use of glass flooring, giving light to the rooms beneath, is rapidly increasing in Paris, especially just above cellars.

CHURCH GOING PEOPLE

Are annoyed by the Coughing of their neighbors. One bottle of Van Wert's Balsam would cure every cough in the congregation. Go to H. C. Giesler's Fulton, or Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls, and get a free sample bottle and see for yourself.

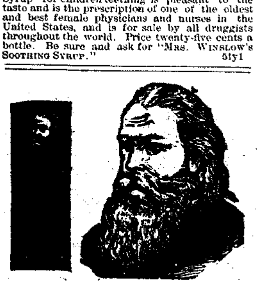
Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure cold in the head. 23m6

Jay Gould is mentioned in the London Truth as "the smartest of smart Americans."

Old and reliable Medicines are the best to depend upon. Acker's Blood Elixir has been prescribed for years for all impurities of the Blood. In every form of Scrofulous, Syphilitic or Mercurial diseases, it is invaluable. For Rheumatism, has no equal. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

A Dakota post office has been named Bartholdi in honor of the French sculptor.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 5ly1



DR. PARDEE'S REMEDY

(The only Reliable Blood Purifier.)

A SPECIFIC FOR RHEUMATISM

Scrofula, Salt Rheum Neuralgia, Ring Worm

AND ALL OTHER SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASES. IT REGULATES THE LIVER & KIDNEYS And Cures Indigestion

And all Diseases arising from an enfeebled condition of the system.

It has proven itself to be the most reliable remedy known for Female Weakness, and for diseases peculiar to the sex.

Send for our pamphlet of testimonials, and read of those who have been permanently cured by its use.

☞ Ask your Druggist for DR. PARDEE'S REMEDY and take no other. Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. [illegible]

The old [illegible]

UNDERTAKER AND FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First St. the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 5l1

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.

[illegible] Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap! Purest Cleanest, Best,

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York. Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

WE WANT 5,000 MORE BOOK AGENTS TO SELL OUR NEW BOOK.

Secret Service OF THE POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT. By P. H. WOODWARD, late Chief of P.O. Detective Corps.

A NEW BOOK JUST PUBLISHED by an official of over 15 years' experience in the Secret Service, in one Magnificent Royal Octavo Volume of over 600 pages and elegantly illustrated by the best artists in the country with 200 SUPERB ENGRAVINGS.

A thrilling record of detection in the U. S. Post-Office Department; embracing sketches of Wonderful Exploits of Post-Office Inspectors in the Detection, Pursuit, and Capture of Robbers of the U. S. Mails; together with a complete description of the many means and complicated contrivances of the wily and unscrupulous to defraud the public; also an accurate account of the FAMOUS STAR ROUTE FRAUDS, in which the Author had entire charge of the preparation of the evidence for the government.

AGENTS WANTED.

In every town there are Postmasters, Merchants, Mechanics, Farmers, Professional Men, and hundreds of people who will be glad to get this thrilling book. It sells at sight to all. Men and Women Agents making from $100 to $200 a month easily. We want an agent in every township in the U. S. and Canada. ☞ We give exclusive territory so that ANY PERSON with this phenomenal selling book, can become a successful Agent. No Competition whatever. Agents are meeting with unparalleled success. Distance no hindrance, as we give Special Terms to pay Freights. Remember, we give you exclusive sale of this book in territory assigned you. Write for our large Illustrated Circulars, containing full particulars, Special Terms to Agents, etc., sent free to all. Address immediately the Publishers,

WINTER & CO., SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

John, if I die, John, you will never marry again, will you?

John (with unnecessary earnestness)—No, indeed!

PURE WHITE CLOVER HONEY

Forms the base of Dr. Van Wert's Balsam and this being combined with the most potent remedial agents which modern medical investigation has discovered, the whole forms an incomparable remedy for all throat and lung troubles. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Trial sizes free.

For torpid liver use Van Wert's Pills. Van Wert's Golden Balm is a certain cure for Catarrh. 23m6

Six cheese weighing 11,230 pounds have been sent to Glasgow, Scotland. Two of them weigh 1,000 pounds each. They were made at Aurora, N. Y.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

All the graveyards in Paris are filled. It in said that death furnaces are a necessity there, and that cremation is daily practiced.

Acker's Blood Elixir is the only Blood Remedy guaranteed. It is a positive cure for Ulcers, Eruptions or Syphilitic Poisoning. It purifies the whole system, and banishes all Rheumatic and Neuralgic pains. We guarantee it. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

An artesian well at Northhampton, Mass., has reached a depth of 3,021 feet without finding sufficient water for the purpose intended. Its cost has been $25,000.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips.

The diamond [illegible] hard, rock-like, blue [illegible] called "blue ground," and [illegible] to be of volcanic origin.

HANDSOME VERSUS HOMELY.

Who is that fine looking lady that we just passed, Clara? Why, that is Mrs. Snow. Well [illegible] when I saw her last, her [illegible] sallow and muddy [illegible] it is no wonder I didn't know her. What has produced that [illegible] I heard that she took Sulphur Bitters [illegible] Blood Purifier [illegible] without them.

In New York [illegible] women and [illegible] two trades [illegible] per week.

At Night [illegible] Acker's Baby Soother at hand. It is the only safe medicine yet made that will remove all infantile disorders. It contains no Opium or Morphine, but gives the child natural case from pain. Price 25 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

It is estimated [illegible] are yearly used in [illegible] base balls.

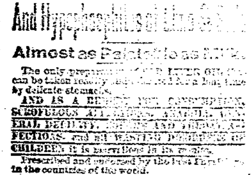
The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Bellville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at R. E. Phillips Drug Store.

Seventeen out of the thirty four candidates for aldermen in New York city were liquor dealers.

Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" perfectly and permanently cures those diseases peculiar to females. It is tonic and nervine, effectually allaying and curing those sickening sensations that affect the stomach and heart, through reflex action. The backache and "dragging down" sensations all disappear under the strengthening effects of this great restorative. By druggists.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY, ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Decline and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopoeia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF PURE COD LIVER OIL And Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda.

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANÆMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

ARTISTS' MATERIALS For every department Select Studies and all Novelties, China Fired and Gilded. LaCroix Latest Colors and Special Brushes. Kensington and Lustre Outfits a Specialty. FLOWER MAKERS SUPPLIES. Best Goods. Lowest Prices. Prompt attention. PRICE LIST FREE. W. H. BAUMGRAS & CO., SYRACUSE, N. Y.

FITS STOPPED FREE [illegible]

[illegible] I die, John, I'll be the salam [illegible] —[Detroit Free Press.

I met a girl of the [illegible]
And gently took her [illegible]
I thought I'd pop the ?
But I didn't have the sand.
—[Col. Wall.

Parasites—Eye-glasses.—[Tid-Bits.

Wire pullers—Elevator boys.—[Boston [illegible]

Poverty's mouth is a yard wide. But she keeps it shut.—[Burlington Free Press.

A friend speaks of the commercial traveler fraternity as a brass band. Wonder what he means.—[Boston Transcript.

Fond Mother—He does look like his father, doesn't he?

Mr. B.—Yes, but I shouldn't mind that as long as he is healthy.—[Life.

Many a man who thinks he is going to set the world afire finds to his sorrow that somebody has turned the hose on him.—[New Haven News.

Drum Major (facing about)—Vot you reedin' for, you feller mit de glarinet? Don't you know—[Trips over a loose cobblestone.]

Clarinet—I vas just goin' to dell you about dot stone.—[Puck.

A correspondent inquires, "Is it wrong to cheat a lawyer?" Possibly not, but it is a pretty big job to undertake.—[Boston Post.

The first time Little Sadie ate an oyster she opened her eyes in solemn astonishment and inquired: "Mamma, was it dweesed?"—[Merchant Traveler.

"That is no trifling matter," as the lawyer said when he presented his bill.—[Philadelphia Call.

A physician says "If a child does not thrive on sweet milk, boil it." This is too severe. Why not spank it?—[Philadelphia Call.

[illegible] man should call [illegible] you do? [illegible]—What sized man? [illegible]

An Atlanta man has just had a rib removed by the physicians. It is not stated whether he will have a woman made of it or sell it to the end man of a minstrel [illegible]

[illegible] asks a writer. [illegible] college graduate [illegible] news- [illegible] Tribune.

[illegible] his wife but the [illegible] but her store hair. It [illegible] the exact bound- [illegible] nowadays.—[Omaha World.

[illegible] to know "how [illegible] Procure a loaded [illegible] over the muzzle [illegible] with your toe. The [illegible] be swallowed whole.—[illegible] Free Press.

[illegible] has tamed a wasp [illegible] its back and allows it [illegible] its hand. One of these [illegible] a hard and Sir John [illegible] spent his time in some [illegible] employment.—[Burlington Free Press.

[illegible] justice of the peace who [illegible] of the twenty-eight [illegible] reversed by a higher court has [illegible] in disgust and opened a meat [illegible] says that the professional [illegible] be a distinguish- [illegible] of the bench and bar has entirely [illegible] and that a justice of the peace of to-day is of no account.—[Detroit Free Press.

Carter's Little Liver Pills will positively cure sick-headache and prevent its return. This is not talk, but truth. One pill a dose. To be had of all druggists. See advertisement.

No Wonder They Shunned Them.

[illegible]—"And so there is a real [illegible] in the Highstone Seminary?"

[illegible]—"Yes, indeed. The girls just made up their minds they wouldn't have it, and left in a bunch."

"What was the trouble dear?"

"Why, you know, last term a cooking school was added to the department."

"[illegible] You spoke very [illegible]"

"[illegible] was just splendid. [illegible] I can't see [illegible] pal, but I guess [illegible]"

"Why, what did she do?"

"Would you believe it; she actually in[illegible] that this term we must eat the things we cooked."—[Omaha World.

Good Ground.

Biley—Spakin' of religion, me wife, Mary Ann, is an infidel.

Rafferty—Sure, an' that's too bad. Why don't yez git a divorce?

Biley—On phwat grounds, Rafferty?

Rafferty—On the grounds of infidelity [illegible]—[Chicago Rambler.

Which?

A farmer living on the line of the Chicago & Alton road lately visited a lawyer in Alton and stated his case as follows:

"A train run over and killed two hogs [illegible] the company refused to pay. Now which had I better do—tear out a rail and ditch a train, or get into a fence corner with my shot gun and pop off a couple of engineers."

[illegible] five dollars for some advice [illegible] probably saved money by it.—[Wall Street News.

CURE YOURSELF.

Don't pay large doctor's bills. The best medical book published, 100 pages, elegant colored plates, will be sent you on receipt of three 2 cent stamps to pay postage. Address A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

A Cordial Invitation.

Head of the house (to young man at front door)—Haven't I told you sir, never to call here again?

Young man—Yes, sir; but I haven't called to see Miss Clara this time. I have a two month's gas bill to collect.

Head of the house (in a milder tone)—I see. You will please call again.

Catarrh

Is a very prevalent and exceedingly disagreeable disease, liable, if neglected, to develop into serious consumption. Being a constitutional disease, it requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the system, effecting a radical and permanent cure [illegible]

A Thousand [illegible] Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla

"In the winter of 1879 I was attacked with Scrofula in one of the most aggravating forms. At one time I had no less than thirteen large abscesses over and around my neck and throat, continually exuding an offensive mass of bloody matter disgusting to behold, and almost intolerable to endure. It is impossible to fully describe my sufferings, as the case was complicated with Chronic Catarrh. After three years of misery, having been treated by three physicians, I was worse than ever. Finally, on the recommendation of W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. And now, after having taken twelve bottles, within the last twelve months, the scrofulous eruptions have entirely ceased, and the abscesses have all disappeared, except the unsightly scars, which are daily becoming smaller by degrees, and beautifully less. I do not know what it may have done for others, but I do know that in my case, Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved an effective specific indeed. As an evidence of my gratitude I send these facts unsolicited, and I am ready to verify the authenticity of the cure by personal correspondence with any one who doubts it." CHARLES A. ROBERTS, East Wilson, N. Y.

This statement is confirmed by W. J. Huntley, druggist, of Lockport, N. Y., who calls the cure a great victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. Send for book giving statements of many cures.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take BLUE PILLS or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately. Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored? IT IS Dangerous!

Don't Wait! Your Kidneys are affected [illegible] Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use Sulphur Bitters! Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

The Invalid's Friend. The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

Golden Medical Discovery

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established. Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful CURE at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight years. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of others. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE, No. 41 West 31st St., New York City.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes, Prevention and Cure. By John H. McAlvin, Lowell Mass., 14 years Tax Collector. Sent free to any address.

BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER

Highest Awards of Medals in Europe and America.

The neatest, quickest, safest and most powerful remedy known for Rheumatism, Pleurisy, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Backache, Weakness, colds in the chest and all aches and pains. Endorsed by 5,000 Physicians and Druggists of the highest repute. Benson's Plasters promptly relieve and cure where other plasters and greasy salves, liniments and lotions, are absolutely useless. Beware of imitations under similar sounding names, such as "Capsicum," "Capucin," "Capsicine," as they are utterly worthless and intended to deceive. Ask for BENSON'S AND TAKE NO OTHERS. All druggists. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Proprietors, New York.

KNABE PIANOFORTES, UNEQUALED FOR Tone, Touch, Workmanship and Durability. WILLIAM KNABE & CO., Nos. 204 and 206 West Baltimore St., Baltimore. No. 112 Fifth Avenue, New York.

CATARRH
ELY'S CREAM BALM
CURES COLD IN HEAD
HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM Gives Relief at once and Cures Cold in Head, CATARRH, HAY FEVER. Not a Liquid, Snuff or Powder. Free from injurious Drugs and Offensive odors.

HAY-FEVER A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. Circulars free. ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

A RARE CHANCE. THE AMERICAN HORSE COLLARS Endorsed and used by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Prolong the life of the horse, are a humane invention, secure thirty per cent. more work, and are effecting a revolution. To a practical horse or harness man we will send on receipt of sample order, give the agency of this town for our business, and a continual advertisement in this paper with name included. [illegible] COLLAR CO.

SURROGATE'S COURT.

During the year 1886 terms of the Surrogate's court in Oswego county will be held as follows:

[illegible]—At the Surrogate's office in [illegible] the Monday of each week, except in the month of August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House in Oswego on the first and third Thursday in each month, except August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. N. B. Smith in Pulaski, January 2nd, and on the third Friday in March, May, June, Sept., Nov. and Dec.

FULTON—At the office of C. H. David, Esq., in Fulton, on the second Thursday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and July, and the fourth Friday in October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 28th and September 28th.

PARISH—At A. N. & J. S. Ludington's law office, April 30th, July 30th and Sept. 30th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 19th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 12th, 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALFRED, Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886. LUCY K. HUBBARD, Executrix.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Alice Hethington as administratrix of the goods, chattels and credits of William S. Hethington, deceased, against Josiah C. Mosher, Nellie Sears, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis and Josephine Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.—Dated this 12th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & RICE, Plaintiff's Attorneys, Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington, defendants:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. Pardon C. Williams, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 15th day of October, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego Co., N. Y., at Oswego, N. Y., on October 15, 1886.—Dated Oct. 15, 1886.

HOWE & RICE, Plaintiff's Attorneys, Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT.—County of Oswego. Alice Hethington vs. Nellie E. Sears, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Josephine Hethington, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Marcus F. Crahan, Newell W. Stowell, Smith Craver, William Craver and Josiah C. Mosher.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the Complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this Summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the County of Oswego.—Dated this 26th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & RICE, Plaintiff's Attorneys, Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington—defendants.

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication, pursuant to an order of Hon. John C. Churchill, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 28th day of October, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego County at Oswego, N. Y., on October 28th, 1886. Dated October 28, 1886.

HOWE & RICE, Plaintiff's Attorneys. Office and Post Office address, Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Nellie E. Sears against John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Josephine Hethington and Alice Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 4th day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID, Plaintiff's Attorney, Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington.

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. J. C. Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 5th, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego county, at Oswego city, N. Y.

Yours &c.,

C. H. DAVID, Pl'ffs Atty., Fulton, N. Y.

JUST THE THING! CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

Save time and labor! Neat and Compact.

Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind that he ever saw."

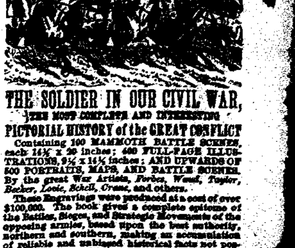
—To be had only at the—

FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

10 PER CENT. INVESTMENT, SECURITY ABSOLUTE. THE MORTGAGE, Ipswich, Dakota, will loan your money on BOND and MORTGAGE from 8 to 10 per cent. Mortgage made to you direct. Bond payable at your own Bank or in New York as you prefer, and has for SALE COUNTY, CITY, and SCHOOL BONDS, that will net 7 to 12 per cent. Will furnish as reference the names of gentlemen residing in THIS COUNTY for whom it has invested money. CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED. 16m3

$350 PER MONTH.—Salary and commission, to competent Manager for this City or State Agency. A splendid combination. Our AUTOMATIC GAS GOVERNORS save 33 per cent. in gas bills. Our Silver Gas Lights can be attached to any fixture, instantly changing the dull, sickly, yellow flame of any gas to a soft, mellow, luminous white increasing brilliancy 50 per cent. Over 8,000 in service. Address, THE UNION NATIONAL GAS SAVING CO. 17m3 21 East 14th St., New York.

Agents Wanted for the Great War Book Just Published, entitled



THE SOLDIER IN OUR CIVIL WAR,

THE MOST COMPLETE AND INTERESTING PICTORIAL HISTORY of the GREAT CONFLICT

Containing 100 MAMMOTH BATTLE SCENES, each 14½ x 20 inches; 400 FULL-PAGE ILLUSTRATIONS, 9½ x 14½ inches; AND UPWARDS OF 500 PORTRAITS, MAPS, AND BATTLE SCENES. By the great War Artists, Forbes, Waud, Taylor, Becker, Lovie, Schell, Crane, and others.

These Engravings were produced at a cost of over $100,000. The book gives a complete epitome of the Battles, Sieges, and Strategic Movements of the opposing armies, based upon the best authority, northern and southern, making an accumulation of reliable and unbiased historical facts not possible to be obtained in any of the histories written during the progress of or since the War.

The work is carefully edited from data obtained from the most authentic authorities, and the descriptions of battles, incidents, and historical facts, are furnished by the leading soldiers of both armies and includes biographies of the most notable Generals and Commanders.

A complete Chronological List of every skirmish, engagement, battle, and all important events, from the Election of Lincoln to the Grand Review at Washington.

Published in (2) magnificent volumes, size [illegible] inches, nearly 1,000 pages. Price, complete, [illegible]

I want One Agent in every Grand Army Post, town and county. Any Any person, with this Book, can become a successful Agent. Full instructions to new beginners. For terms to agents, address

G. W. DILLINGHAM, Publisher, New York. Successor to G. W. Carleton & Co.

A Magnificent Outfit Sent Free.

Smart Weed and Belladonna combined with other ingredients [illegible] best porous plasters make [illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

NINETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image."

$1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1886. VOLUME 19—NUMBER 29

Single Copies Three Cents

The Way They All Do.

She took the letter in her hand,
The envelope she keenly scanned;
The address several times she read,
"I wonder who it's from," she said;
"I know the writing very well,
But whose it is I cannot tell."
With curiosity she burned,
And straitway to the postmark turned.
"The postmark! that will end the doubt.
'Twas blurred; she could not make it out.
A dark cloud o'er her visage stole,
And keenest anguish wrung her soul.
The address she again perused;
"Who can have written it!" she mused.
She could not with the problem cope,
And as she broke the envelope,
Her last resourse, she had no better—
And then she knew who wrote the letter.
—[Boston Courier.

A Domestic Episode.

The President sat in his easy chair,
With Lamont as close as could be,
And the President's wife sat over there,
With her sewing upon her knee.

Said the President: "Dan, here's a job for you;
My head for the problems to thick.
Before you retire, I wish you to do
A sum in arithmetic.

"With twenty-five Congressmen lost this year,
Which seems to be nearly our fate,
Where will we be—say, Dan, do you hear?
In the autumn of eighty-eight?"

Dan bit at his nails and scratched his head,
For the problem puzzled him so.
"Why may be, perhaps," he stammered and said
Then declared that he didn't know.

The sweet little lady over there
Looked up, but not at the men,
And softly said, with a far-away air,
"His teeth will be cut by then."

The President looked before him straight,
And his frown made Daniel wince,
"My teeth will be cut by eighty-eight?
I thought they were cut long since."

The sweet little lady hung down her head,
So busy with seams and fells,
And blushing a little, she softly said,
"I was thinking of something else."
—[New York Sun.

The Seven Ages of Women.

All the world's a Wardrobe,
And all the girls and women merely wearers;
They have their fashions and their fantasies,
And one she in her time wears many garments
Throughout her Seven Stages. First, the baby.
Befrilled and broidered, in her nurse's arms,
And then the trim-hosed schoolgirl, with her flounces
And small-boy scorning face, tripping, skirt-waggling,
Coquettishly to school. And then the flirt,
Ogling like Circé, with a business œillade
Kept on her low-cut corset. Then a bride,
Full of strange finery, vestured like an angel,
Veiled vaporously, yet vigilant of glance,
Seeking the Woman's heaven, Admiration,
Even at the Altar's steps. And then the matron,
In fair, rich velvet, with suave satin lined,
With eyes severe, and skirts of youthful cut,
Full of dress-saws and modish instances,
To teach her girls their part. The sixth age shifts
Into the gray, yet gorgeous grandmamma,
With gold pince-nez on nose and fan at side,
Her youthful tastes still strong, and worldly wise
In sumptuary law, her quavering voice,
Prosing of Fashion and Le Follet, pipes
Of robes and bargains rare. Last scene of all,
That ends the Sex's Mode-swayed history,
In second childishness and sheer oblivion
Of youth, taste, person, all—save love of Dress!

THE PROPER THING.

Red and brown is the favorite color combination for children.

Coral brooches, necklaces, and bracelets are revived for full dress.

The soft, crepe-lisse ruches are more popular than ever for neckwear.

Black, dark gray and navy blue stockings remain in favor for street wear.

Bonnets of velvet or plush are made with high crowns in Normandy fashion.

Fancy muffs of velvet or plush to match the suit will be more popular than fur ones.

Among the most popular colors for winter costumes and bonnets are brown and blue.

Evening dresses will be made with short skirts, also with trains and demi-trains.

The corsages of evening dresses have extremely long, sharp points in front and back.

Black satin dresses of rich quality are decorated with steel or with silver passementerie.

Smooth bindings of plush, silk, Astrakhan, or fur trim the edges of stylish velvet bonnets.

Moss green, heliotrope and yellow will be the fashionable colors in silk stockings for evening wear.

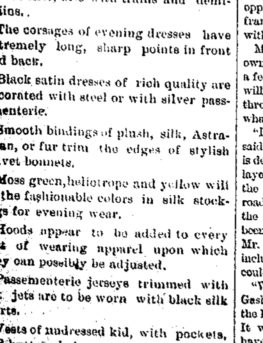
Hoods appear to be added to every sort of wearing apparel upon which they can possibly be adjusted.

Passementerie jerseys trimmed with cut jets are to be worn with black silk skirts.

Vests of undressed kid, with pockets, and buttoned close up to the throat, are worn under jackets with cutaway fronts.

Among the French novelties in dress are plain underskirts made wholly of fur. These have tunics above, made of soft wool of various kinds.

A Georgia river is said to be so low that the boats running in it are drawn by yokes of oxen.



[illegible]

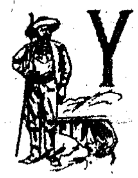
THE STORY OF A MINE.

By BRET HARTE.

[Copyrighted, 1886, by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., and published by arrangement with them.]

CHAPTER XIII.

HOW IT BECAME FAMOUS.



YUBA BILL.

YUBA BILL was right in believing that Wiles would lose no time at Rawlings. He left there on a fleet horse before Bill had returned with the broken down coach to the last station, and distanced the telegram sent to detain him two hours. Leaving the stage road and its dangerous telegraphic stations, he pushed southward to Denver over the army trail in company with a half-breed packer, crossing the Missouri before Thatcher had reached Julesburg. When Thatcher was at Omaha Wiles was already in St. Louis; and as the Pullman car containing the hero of the "Blue Mass" mine rolled into Chicago Wiles was already walking the streets of the national capital. Nevertheless he had time en route to sink in the waters of the North Platte, with many expressions of disgust, the little black portmanteau belonging to Thatcher, containing his dressing case, a few unimportant letters and an extra shirt, to wonder why simple men did not travel with their important documents and valuables and to set on foot some prudent and cautious inquiries regarding his own lost carpet bag and its important contents.

But for these trifles he had every reason to be satisfied with the progress of his plans. "It's all right," said Mrs. Hopkinson, merrily; "while you and Gashwiler have been working with your 'stock,' and treating the whole world as if it could be bribed, I've done more with that earnest, self-believing, self-deceiving and perfectly-pathetic Roscommon than all you fellows put together. Why, I've told his pitiful story, and drawn tears from the eyes of senators and cabinet ministers. More than that, I've introduced him into society, put him in a dress coat—such a figure!—and you know how the best folk worship everything that is outre as the sincere thing. I've made him a complete success. Why, only the other night, when Senator Misnaney and Judge Fitzwaddle were here, after making him tell his story—which you know, I think he really believes—I sang: 'There Came to the Beach a Poor Exile of Erin,' and my husband told me afterward it was worth, at least, a dozen votes."

"But about this rival of yours—this niece of Garcia's?"

"Another of your blunders; you men know nothing of women. Firstly, she's a swarthy little brunette, with dots for eyes; and strides like a man, dresses like a dowdy, don't wear stays, and has no style. Then, she's a single woman, and alone; and, although she affects to be an artist, and has Bohemian ways, don't you see she can't go into society without a chaperon or somebody to go with her. Nonsense."

"But," persisted Wiles, "she must have some power; there's Judge Mason and Senator Peabody, who are constantly talking about her; and Dinwiddie, of Virginia, escorted her through the Capitol the other day."

Mistress Hopkinson laughed.

"Mason and Peabody aspire to be thought literary and artistic, and Dinwiddie wanted to pique me!"

"But Thatcher is no fool——"

"Is Thatcher a lady's man?" queried the lady, suddenly.

"Hardly, I should say," responded Wiles. "He pretends to be absorbed in his swindle and devoted to his mine; and I don't think that even you—" he stopped with a slight sneer.

"There, you are misunderstanding me again, and, what is worse, you are misunderstanding your case. Thatcher is pleased with her because he has probably seen no one else. Wait till he comes to Washington and has an opportunity for comparison," and she cast a frank glance at her mirror, where Wiles, with a sardonic bow, left her standing.

Mr. Gashwiler was quite as confident of his own success with congress. "We are within a few days of the end of the session. We will manage to have it taken up and rushed through before that fellow Thatcher knows what he is about."

"If it could be done before he gets here," said Wiles, "it's a reasonably sure thing. He is delayed two days; he might have been delayed longer." Here Mr. Wiles sighed. If the accident had happened on a mountain road, and the stage had been precipitated over the abyss, what valuable time would have been saved, and success become a surety? But Mr. Wiles' functions as an advocate did not include murder; at least, he was doubtful if it could be taxed as costs.

"We need have no fears, sir," resumed Mr. Gashwiler; "the matter is now in the hands of the highest tribunal of appeal in the country. It will meet, sir, with inflexible justice. I have already prepared some remarks——"

"By the way," interrupted Wiles infelicitously, "where's your young man—your private secretary—Dobbs?"

The congressman for a moment looked confused. "He is not here. And I must correct your error in applying that term to him. I have never put my confidence in the hands of any one."

"But you introduced him to me as your secretary."

"A mere honorary title, sir. A brevet rank. I might, it is true, have thought to repose such a trust in him. But I was deceived, sir, as I fear I am too apt to be when I permit my feelings as a man to overcome my duty as an American legislator. Mr. Dobbs enjoyed my patronage and the opportunity it gave me to introduce him into public life only to abuse it. He became, I fear, deeply indebted. His extravagance was unlimited, his ambition unbounded, but without, sir, a cash basis. I advanced money to him from time to time upon the little property you so generously extended to him for his services. But it was quickly dissipated. Yes, sir, such is the ingratitude of man that his family lately appealed to me for assistance. I felt it was necessary to be stern, and I refused. I would not for the sake of his family say anything, but I have missed, sir, books from my library. On the day after he left two volumes of patent office reports and a Blue book of congress, purchased that day by me at a store on Pennsylvania avenue, were [illegible]! I had difficulty, sir, [illegible]"

[illegible]

"And you've made an enemy of him! That's bad."

Mr. Gashwiler tried to look dignifiedly unconcerned; but something in his visitor's manner made him uneasy.

"I say it is bad, if you have. Listen. Before I left here, I found at a boarding house where he had boarded, and still owed a bill, a trunk which the landlord retained. Opening it, I found some letters and papers of yours, with certain memoranda of his, which I thought ought to be in your possession. As an alleged friend of his, I redeemed the trunk by paying the amount of his bill, and secured the more valuable papers."

Gashwiler, whose face had grown apoplectically suffused as Wiles went on, at last gasped: "But you got the trunk, and have the papers?"

"Unfortunately, no, and that's why it's bad."

"But, good God! what have you done with them?"

"I've lost them somewhere on the Overland road."

Mr. Gashwiler sat for a few moments speechless, vacillating between a purple rage and a pallid fear. Then he said hoarsely:

"They are all blank forgeries—every one of them."

"Oh, no!" said Wiles, smiling blandly on his dexter side, and enjoying the whole scene malevolently with his sinister eye. "Your papers are all genuine, and I won't say are not all right, but unfortunately I had in the same bag some memoranda of my own for the use of my client, that, you understand, might be put to some bad use if found by a clever man."

The two rascals looked at each other. There is on the whole really very little honor among thieves—at least great ones—and the inferior rascal succumbed at the reflection of what he might do if he were in the other rascal's place. "See here, Wiles," he said, relaxing his dignity with the perspiration that oozed from every pore, and made the collar of his shirt a mere limp rag. "See here, we"—this first use of the plural was equivalent to a confession—"we must get them papers."

"Of course," said Wiles coolly, "if we can, and if Thatcher doesn't get wind of them."

"He cannot."

"He was on the coach when I lost them, coming east."

Mr. Gashwiler paled again. In the emergency he had recourse to the sideboard and a bottle, forgetting Wiles. Ten minutes before Wiles would have remained seated; but it is recorded that he rose, took the bottle from the gifted Gashwiler's fingers, helped himself first, and then sat down.

"Yes, but, my boy," said Gashwiler, now rapidly changing situations with the cooler Wiles; "yes, but, old fellow," he added, poking Wiles with a fat forefinger, "don't you see the whole thing will be up before he gets here."

"Yes," said Wiles gloomily, "but those lazy, easy, honest men have a way of popping up just at the nick of time. They never need hurry; all things wait for them. Why, don't you remember that on the very day Mrs. Hopkinson and I and you got the president to sign that patent, that very day one of them d——n fellows turns up from San Francisco or Australia, having taken his own time to get here—gets here about half an hour after the president had signed the patent and sent it over to the office, finds the right man to introduce him to the president, has a talk with him, makes him sign an order countermanding its issuance, and undoes all that has been done in six years in one hour."

"Yes, but congress is a tribunal that does not revoke its decrees," said Gashwiler with a return of his old manner; "at least" he added, observing an incredulous shrug in the shoulder of his companion, "at least during the session."

"We shall see," said Wiles, quietly taking his hat.

"We shall see, sir," said the member from Remus with dignity.

CHAPTER XIV.

WHAT CULTURE DID FOR IT

A SENATOR.

THERE was at this time in the senate of the United States an eminent and respected gentleman, scholarly, orderly, honorable, and radical—the fit representative of a scholarly, orderly, honorable and radical commonwealth. For many years he had held his trust with conscious rectitude, and a slight depreciation of other forms of merit; and for as many years had been as regularly returned to his seat by his constituency with equally conscious rectitude in themselves and an equal skepticism regarding others. Removed by his nature beyond the reach of certain temptations, and by circumstances beyond even the knowledge of others, his social and political integrity was spotless. An orator and practical debater, his refined tastes kept him from personality, and the public recognition of the complete unselfishness of his motives and the magnitude of his dogmas protected him from scurrility. His principles had never been appealed to by a bribe; he had rarely been approached by an emotion.

A man of polished taste in art and literature, and possessing the means to gratify it, his luxurious home was filled with treasures he had himself collected and further enhanced by the stamp of his appreciation. His library had not only the elegance of adornment that his wealth could bring and his taste approve, but a certain refined negligence of habitual use and the easy disorder of the artist's workshop. All this was quickly noted by a young girl who stood on its threshold at the close of a dull January day.

The card that had been brought to the senator bore the name of "Carmen de Haro;" and modestly in the right hand corner, in almost microscopic script, the further description of herself as "Artist." Perhaps the picturesqueness of the name and its historic suggestion caught the scholar's taste, for when to his request, through his servant, that she would be kind enough to state her business, she replied as frankly that her business was personal to himself, he directed that she should be admitted. Then intrenching himself behind his library table, overlooking a bastion of books and a glacis of pamphlets and papers, and throwing into his forehead and eyes an expression of utter disqualification for anything but the business before him, he calmly awaited the intruder.

She came, and for an instant stood, hesitatingly, framing herself as a picture in the door. Mrs. Hopkinson was right—she had "no style," unless an original and half savage gracefulness could be called so. There was a [illegible]

[illegible]

Nevertheless he felt relieved, and, rising, motioned her to a chair with a heartiness he would have scarcely shown to a Parisian toilette. And when, with two or three quick, long steps she reached his side and showed a frank, innocent but strong and determined little face, feminine only in its flash of eye and beauty of lip and chin curves, he put down the pamphlet he had taken up somewhat ostentatiously and gently begged to know her business.

I think I have once before spoken of her voice—an organ more often cultivated by my fair countrywomen for singing than for speaking, which, considering that much of our practical relations with the sex are carried on without the aid of an opera score, seems a mistaken notion of theirs—and of its sweetness, gentle inflexion, and musical emphasis. She had the advantage of having been trained in a musical language, and came of a race with whom catarrhs and sore throats were rare. So that in a few brief phrases she sang the senator into acquiescence as she imparted the plain libretto of her business—namely, a "desire to see some of his rare engravings."

Now the engravings in question were certain etchings of the early Great Apprentices of the art, and were, I am happy to believe, extremely rare. From my unprofessional view they were exceedingly bad—showing the mere genesis of something since perfected, but dear, of course, to the true collector's soul; I don't believe that Carmen really admired them either. But the minx knew that the senator prided himself on having the only 'pot hooks' of the great 'A,' or the first artistic efforts of 'B'—I leave the real names to be filled in by the connoisseur,—and the senator became interested. For the last year, two or three of these abominations had been hanging in his study, utterly ignored by the casual visitor. But here was appreciation! "She was," she added, "only a poor young artist, unable to purchase such treasures, but equally unable to resist the opportunity afforded her, even at the risk of seeming bold, or of obtruding upon a great man's privacy," etc., etc.

This flattery, which, if offered in the usual legal tender of the country, would have been looked upon as counterfeit, delivered here in a foreign accent, with a slightly tropical warmth, was accepted by the senator as genuine. These children of the sun are so impulsive! We, of course, feel a little pity for the person who thus transcends our standard of good taste and violates our conventional canon—but they are always sincere. The cold New Englander saw nothing wrong in one or two direct and extravagant compliments, that would have insured his visitor's early dismissal if tendered in the clipped metallic phrases of the commonwealth he represented.

So that in a few moments the black, curly head of the little artist and the white, flowing locks of the senator were close together bending over the rack that contained the engravings. It was then that Carmen, listening to a graphic description of the early rise of art in the Netherlands, forgot herself and put her shawl around her head, holding its folds in her little brown hand. In this situation they were, at different times during the next two hours, interrupted by five congressmen, three senators, a cabinet officer and a judge of the supreme bench—each of whom was quickly but courteously dismissed. Popular sentiment, however, broke out in the hall.

"Well, I'm blanked, but this gets me." (The speaker was a territorial delegate.)

"At this time o' life, too, lookin' over pictures with a gal young enough to be his grandchild." (This from a venerable official, since suspected of various erotic irregularities.)

"She don't handsome any." (The honorable member from Dakota.)

"This accounts for his protracted silence during the sessions." (A serious colleague from the senator's own state.)

"Oh, blank it all!" (Omnes.)

Four went home to tell their wives. There are few things more touching in the matrimonial compact than the superb frankness with which each confides to each the various irregularities of their friends. It is upon these sacred confidences that the firm foundations of marriage rest unshaken.

Of course the objects of this comment, at least one of them, were quite oblivious. "I trust," said Carmen, timidly, when they had for the fourth time regarded in rapt admiration an abominable something by some Dutch woodchopper, "I trust I am not keeping you from your great friends"—her pretty eyelids were cast down in tremulous distress—"I should never forgive myself. Perhaps it is important business of the state?"

"Oh, dear, no! They will come again—it's their business."

The senator meant it kindly. It was as near the perilous edge of a compliment as your average cultivated Boston man ever ventures, and Carmen picked it up, femininely, by its sentimental end. "And I suppose I shall not trouble you again?"

"I shall always be proud to place the portfolio at your disposal. Command me at any time," said the senator, with dignity.

"You are kind. You are good," said Carmen, "and I—I am but—look you—only a poor girl from California, that you know not."

"Pardon me, I know your country well." And indeed he could have told her the exact number of bushels of wheat to the acre in her own county of Monterey, its voting population, its political bias. Yet of the more important product before him, after the manner of book-read men, he knew nothing.

Carmen was astonished, but respectful. It transpired presently that she was not aware of the rapid growth of the silkworm in her own district, knew nothing of the Chinese question, and very little of the American mining laws. Upon these questions the senator enlightened her fully. "Your name is historic, by the way," he said pleasantly. "There was a Knight of Alcantara, a 'de Haro,' one of the emigrants with La Casas."

Carmen nodded her head quickly. "Yes; my great-great-g-r-e-a-t grandfather!"

The senator stared.

"Oh, yes. I am the niece of Victor Castro, who married my father's sister."

"The Victor Castro of the 'Blue Mass' mine!" asked the senator abruptly.

"Yes," she said quietly.

Had the senator been of the Gashwiler type he would have expressed himself, after the average masculine fashion, by a long-drawn whistle. But his only perceptible appreciation of a sudden astonishment and suspicion in his mind was a lowering of the social thermometer of the room so decided that poor Carmen looked up innocently, chilled and drew her shawl closer around her shoulders.

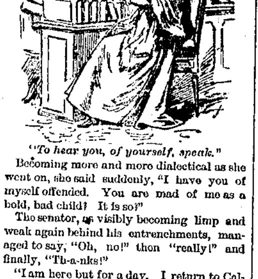
"I have something more to ask," said Carmen, hanging her head—"it is a great, oh, a very great favor."

The senator had retreated behind his [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] he was angry with her for having pleased him. Under the icy polish of his manner there were certain Puritan callosities caused by early straight lacing. He was not yet quite free from his ancestor's cheerful ethics that Nature, as represented by an Impulse, was as much to be restrained as Order represented by a Quaker.

Without apparently noticing his manner, Carmen went on, with a certain potential freedom of style, gesture and manner scarcely to be indicated in her mere words. "You know, then, I am of Spanish blood, and that what was my adopted country, our motto was 'God and Liberty.' It was of you, sir—the great Emancipator—the apostle of that Liberty—the friend of the down-trodden and oppressed—that I, as a child, first knew. In the histories of this great country I have read of you, I have learned your orations. I have longed to hear you in your own pulpit deliver the creed of my ancestors. To hear you, of yourself, speak, ah! Madre de Dios! what shall I say—speak the oration eloquent—to make the—what you call—the debate, that is what I have for so long hoped. Eh! Pardon—you are thinking me foolish—wild, eh?—a small child—eh?"



"To hear you, of yourself, speak."

Becoming more and more dialectical as she went on, she said suddenly, "I have you of myself offended. You are mad of me as a bold, bad child? It is so?"

The senator, as visibly becoming limp and weak again behind his entrenchments, managed to say, "Oh, no!" then "really!" and finally, "Th-a-nks!"

"I am here but for a day. I return to California in a day, as it were to-morrow. I shall never, never hear you speak in your place in the Capitol of this great country!"

The senator said hastily that he feared—he in fact was convinced—that his duty during this session was required more at his desk, in the committee work, than in speaking, etc., etc.

"Ah," said Carmen sadly, "it is true, then, all this that I have heard. It is true that what they have told me—that you have given up the great party—that your voice is not longer heard in the old—what you call this—eh—the old issues?"

"If any one has told you that, Miss De Haro," responded the senator sharply, "he has spoken foolishly. You have been misinformed. May I ask who——"

"Ah!" said Carmen, "I know not! It is in the air! I am a stranger. Perhaps I am deceived. But it is of all. I say to them, When shall I hear him speak? I go day after day to the Capitol, I watch him—the great emancipator—but it is of business, eh?—it the claim of that one, it is the tax, eh? it is the impost, it is the postoffice, but it is the great speech of human rights—never, never. I say, 'How arrives all this?' And some say, and shake their heads, 'Never again he speaks.' He is what you call 'played—yes, it is so, eh! —played out.' I know it not—it is a word from Bos-ton, perhaps? They say he has—eh, I speak not the English well—the party he has shaken, 'shook'—yes—he has the party 'shaken,' eh? It is right—it is the language of Bos-ton, eh!"

"Permit me to say, Miss De Haro," returned the senator, rising with some asperity, "that you seem to have been unfortunate in your selection of acquaintances, and still more so in your ideas of the derivations of the English tongue. The—er—the—er—expressions you have quoted are not common to Boston, but emanate, I believe, from the west."

Carmen De Haro contritely buried everything but her black eyes in her shawl.

"No one," he continued, more gently, sitting down again, "has the right to forecast from my past what I intend to do in the future, or designate the means I may choose to serve the principles I hold or the party I represent. Those are my functions. At the same time should occasion or opportunity—for we are within a day or two of the close of the session——"

"Yes," interrupted Carmen sadly, "I see—it will be some business, some claim, something for somebody—ah! Madre de Dios—you will not speak, and I——"

"When do you think of returning?" asked the senator, with grave politeness; "when are we to lose you?"

"I shall stay to the last—to the end of the session," said Carmen. "And now I shall go." She got up and pulled her shawl viciously over her shoulders, with a pretty pettishness, perhaps the most feminine thing she had done that evening. Possibly, the most genuine.

The senator smiled affably: "You do not deserve to be disappointed in either case; but it is later than you imagine; let me help you on the shorter distance in my carriage; it is at the door."

He accompanied her gravely to the carriage. As it rolled away she buried her little figure in its ample cushions and chuckled to herself, albeit a little hysterically. When she had reached her destination she found herself crying, and hastily, and somewhat angrily, dried her eyes as she drew up at the door of her lodgings.

"How have you prospered?" asked Mr. Harlowe, of counsel for Royal Thatcher, as he gallantly assisted her from the carriage. "I have been waiting here for two hours; your interview must have been prolonged—that was a good sign."

"Don't ask me now," said Carmen, a little savagely, "I'm worn out and tired."

"Mr. Harlowe bowed. "I trust you will be better to-morrow, for we expect our friend, Mr. Thatcher."

Carmen's brown cheek flushed slightly. "He should have been here before. Where is he? What was he doing?"

"He was snowed up on the plains. He is coming as fast as steam can carry him; but he may be too late."

Carmen did not reply.

The lawyer lingered. "How did you find the great New England senator?" he asked, with a slight professional levity.

Carmen was tired, Carmen was worried, Carmen was a little self-reproachful, and she kindled gaily. Consequently she said, fairly: "I found him a gentleman!"

(To be Continued.)

[illegible]

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion. Without injurious medication.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 182 Fulton Street, N. Y.

BOOKS, THREE CENTS EACH.

The following books are published in neat pamphlet form, many of them handsomely illustrated, and all are printed from good type upon good paper. Please examine the list and see if you do not find therein some that you would like to possess. In cloth-bound form these books would cost $1.00 each. Each book is complete in itself:

Anecdotes of the Rebellion. A collection of humorous, pathetic, and thrilling narratives of the war, stories of bivouac and battle-field, march and picket, adventures of scouts and spies, stories of prison life, of the great Generals, of Mr. Lincoln, etc.
The Life of General U. S. Grant. By W. A. PETERS. With portrait and other illustrations.
Poems, by John G. Whittier. The only cheap edition published—should be in every household. Illustrated.
Poems, by Henry W. Longfellow. No one can afford to be without this fine collection. Illustrated.
Poems, by Alfred Tennyson. This work contains some of the finest compositions of the great Poet Laureate.
Parlor Amusements. A large collection of Acting Charades, Parlor Dramas, Shadow Pantomimes, Games, Puzzles, etc., for social gatherings, public and private entertainments and evenings at home. Illustrated.
Manual of Floriculture. Teaches the best method of propagating all the different plants, tells how to cure disease and eradicate insect pests, gives directions for making beautiful floral and other devices, for window gardening, etc. Illustrated.
Guide to Needlework, Knitting and Crochet. Containing designs and directions for all kinds of Fancy Needlework, Artistic Embroidery, Lace Work, Knitting, Tatting, Crochet and Net Work. Illustrated.
Famous Detective Stories. A collection of thrilling narratives of Detective experience, many of them written by actual members of the profession.
Yankee Wit and Humor. A collection of humorous stories, sketches, poems and paragraphs, by the leading funny men of the American press. Illustrated.
The Mystery at Blackwood Grange. A Novel. By MRS. MAY AGNES FLEMING.
The Evil Genius. A Novel. By M. T. CALDOR.
The Story of a Storm. A Novel. By MRS. JANE G. AUSTIN.
Out of the Sea. A Novel. By CLARA AUGUSTA.
Agatha's History. A Novel. By MARGARET BLOUNT.
The Morwick Farm Mystery. A Novel. By WILKIE COLLINS. Illustrated.
The Last of the Ruthvens. A Novel. By Miss MULOCK. Illustrated.
A Dead Heart. A Novel. By Author of "Dora Thorne."
Out of the Depths. A Novel. By HUGH CONWAY.
The Romantic Adventures of a Milkmaid. A Novel. By THOMAS HARDY.
In the Holidays. A Novel. By MARY CECIL HAY.
The Heir to Ashley. A Novel. By MRS. HENRY WOOD.
Miss or Mrs.? A Novel. By WILKIE COLLINS. Illustrated.
More Bitter than Death. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
Carriston's Gift. A Novel. By HUGH CONWAY. Illd.
The Fatal Lilies. A Novel. By Author of "Dora Thorne."
A Shadow on the Threshold. A Novel. By MARY C. HAY.
The Curse of Carew. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
The Blatchford Bequest. A Novel. By HUGH CONWAY. Illustrated.
A Queen Amongst Women. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
The Fatal Marriage. A Novel. By Miss M. E. BRADDON.
A Tale of Sin. A Novel. By MRS. HENRY WOOD.
A Bridge of Love. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
A Passive Crime. A Novel. By "THE DUCHESS."
Ingledew House. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
The Knightsbridge Mystery. A Novel. By CHARLES READE. Illustrated.
Wedded and Parted. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
A Fortune Hunter. A Novel. By ANNIE THOMAS. Illd.
Among the Ruins. A Novel. By MARY CECIL HAY. Illd.
Rose Lodge. A Novelette. By MRS. HENRY WOOD.

☞ We will send any four of the above books by mail post-paid upon receipt of only Twelve Cents; any ten for 25 Cents; any twenty-five for 50 Cents; the entire list (40 books) for 75 Cents; the entire list bound in boards with cloth back, for $1.10. These are the cheapest books ever published and guaranteed worth three times the money asked for them. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Postage stamps taken for fractions of a dollar. As to our reliability, we refer to any newspaper published in New York, likewise to the Commercial Agencies.

Special Offer! To every one sending for the entire list of books as above, we will send, without extra charge, either sixty cents' worth of the Imperial Pinned Paper Patterns, to be selected by yourself from a catalogue which will be sent you, or The People's Home Journal, a large 16-page, 64-column illustrated literary paper, for one year. All orders filled by return mail.

Address all letters: F. M. LUPTON, Publisher, No. 3 Park Place, New York.

ONE CENT PAYS FOR A Postal Card. Buy one and send to THE TROY TIMES, TROY, N. Y., for a FREE Sample Copy of that unrivalled and

FAMOUS NEWSPAPER

THE TROY WEEKLY TIMES. By sending Twenty-Five Cents you can have THE TIMES mailed to any address for

THREE MONTHS on TRIAL

"THE IDEAL MAGAZINE"

for young people is what the papers call ST. NICHOLAS. Do you know about it,—how good it is, how clean and pure and helpful? If there are any boys or girls in your house will you not try a number, or try it for a year, and see if it isn't just the element you need in the household? The London Times has said, "We have nothing like it on this side." Here are some leading features of

ST. NICHOLAS.

for 1886-87.

Stories by Louise M. Alcott and Frank R. Stockton,—several by each author.

A Short Serial Story by Mrs. Burnett, whose charming "Little Lord Fauntleroy" has been a great feature in the past year of ST. NICHOLAS.

War Stories for Boys and Girls. Gen. Badeau, chief-of-staff, biographer, and confidential friend of Gen. Grant, and one of the ablest and most popular of living military writers, will contribute a number of papers describing in clear and vivid style some of the leading battles of the civil war. They will be panoramic descriptions of single contests or short campaigns, presenting a sort of literary picture gallery of the grand and heroic contests in which the parents of many a boy and girl of to-day took part.

The Serial Stories include "Juan and Juanita," an admirably written story of Mexican life, by Frances Courteney Baylor, author of "On Both Sides"; also, "Jenny's Boarding-House," by James Otis, a story of life in a great city.

Short Articles, instructive and entertaining, will abound. Among these are: "How a Great Panorama is Made," by Theodore R. Davis, with profuse illustrations; "Winning a Commission" (Naval Academy), and "Recollections of the Naval Academy"; "Boring for Oil" and "Among the Gas-wells" with a number of striking pictures; "Child-Sketches from George Eliot," by Julia Magruder; "Victor Hugo's Tales to his Grandchildren," recounted by Brander Matthews; "Historic Girls," by E. S. Brooks. Also interesting contributions from Mora Perry, Harriet Prescott Spofford, Joaquin Miller, H. H. Boyesen, Washington Gladden, Allice Wellington Rollins, J. T. Trowbridge, Lieutenant Frederick Schwatka, Noah Brooks, Grace Denio Litchfield, Rose Hawthorne Lathrop, Mrs S. M. B. Piatt, Mary Mapes Dodge, and many others, etc., etc.

The subscription price of ST. NICHOLAS is $3.00 a year; 25 cents a number. Subscriptions are received by booksellers and newsdealers everywhere or by the publishers. New volume begins with the November number. Send for our beautifully illustrated catalogue (free) containing full prospectus, etc., etc. THE CENTURY CO. New York.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City.

JUST THE THING!

[illegible]

THE GREATEST AND THE BEST.

The Large Double Weekly, Religious and Secular

NEW YORK OBSERVER.

(Established 1823.)

UNDENOMINATIONAL, EVANGELICAL, UNSECTARIAN, AND NATIONAL.

A Safe Paper for the Family.

THE NEW YORK OBSERVER CAN BE TRUSTED.

It Stands by the Old and Tried Truths in Religion Morals, Education, and in all Public and Private Matters.

It is Conservative of all Good Things. It steadily Opposes Evil and Sin in every form. The OBSERVER is the well-known enemy of

INTEMPERANCE, INFIDELITY, AND ROMANISM.

It is a paper that has opinions, and can defend them; which has a faith, and holds to it. The NEW YORK OBSERVER is a living and growing Power in this land. It contains all the News of the World; The Best Thoughts of the Ablest Authors and correspondents everywhere; Poetry, Book Reviews, Notes and Queries, Departments for Teachers, Students, Business Men, Farmers, Parents and Children.

EVERY CHRISTIAN SHOULD READ IT.
EVERY PARENT SHOULD READ IT.
EVERY CITIZEN SHOULD READ IT.

Price $3.00 a-year, in Advance.
Clergymen, $2.00 a-year.
$1.00 commission allowed on New Subscribers.
Send for Sample Copy, free. Address,
NEW YORK OBSERVER,
28w3 NEW YORK.

MASON & HAMLIN UNRIVALED ORGANS

On the EASY PAYMENT system, from $3.25 per month up. 100 styles, $22 to $900. Send for Catalogue with full particulars, mailed free.

UPRIGHT PIANOS,

Constructed on the new method of stringing, on similar terms. Send for descriptive Catalogue.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO., Boston, New York, Chicago.

BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER

Highest Awards of Medals in Europe and America.

The neatest, quickest, safest and most powerful remedy known for Rheumatism, Pleurisy, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Backache, Weakness, colds in the chest and all aches and pains. Endorsed by 5,000 Physicians and Druggists of the highest repute. Benson's Plasters promptly relieve and cure where other plasters and greasy salves, liniments and lotions, are absolutely useless. Beware of imitations under similar sounding names, such as "Capsicum," "Capusin," "Capsicine," as they are utterly worthless and intended to deceive. Ask for BENSON'S AND TAKE NO OTHERS. All druggists. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Proprietors, New York.

MUNN & CO. PATENTS

[illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS. Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters, etc. Nos. 40 and 42 First Street.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
33 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.
Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.
Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. G. G. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼to
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞ Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.
☞ Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
☞ Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

LUMBER! LUMBER!
I have the Largest Assortment of
Rough and Dressed!
DRY PINE LUMBER
In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE
SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c,
Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere
O. RUST.
37tf

MAKE HENS LAY.

SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. It is strictly a medicine to be given with food. Nothing on earth will make hens lay like it. It cures chicken cholera and all diseases of hens. Is worth its weight in gold. Illustrated book by mail free. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail for 25 cents in stamps. 2¼-lb. tin cans, $1; by mail, $1.20. Six cans by express, prepaid, for $5.00. DR. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

Strange but True.

Disease under many forms is but one thing—Bad Blood. The persistent cough lingers because the blood has insufficient healing power. Parker's Tonic cures [illegible] by enriching the [illegible] and nourishment to the [illegible] Lungs, Kidneys, Stomach and Nerves all yield to it. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm.

"I have suffered for years with Cough and Bronchitis. Last winter I caught a [illegible] which went to my lungs [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] EVERY WEDNESDAY [illegible] Block [illegible]

[illegible] One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents a year [illegible] advance. An additional charge of [illegible] postage on papers going out of Oswego County.

Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith.

[illegible] of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES,

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office, or moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

CHESTER A. ARTHUR, ex-President of the United States, died last Thursday morning at his residence in Lexington avenue New York city. This leaves but one ex-president, Hayes, who has held the highest honor in the gift of the people. Mr. Arthur had been ailing for sometime with a complication of diseases principally kidney troubles. A stroke of cerebral apoplexy, not wholly unexpected by his attending physicians terminated his life. His death was painless and for hours before the end came he was unconscious of his surroundings. He leaves one son Chester aged 22, and one daughter Nellie aged 14. Mr. Arthur was 56 years old at the time of his death. The primary cause of General Arthur's illness is said to have been brought on by his over work while president, that his nervous system became shattered at that time by too little sleep, care and excitement and the want of sufficient exercise. As a lawyer Mr. Arthur held a high rank, as a public officer in charge of large funds his honesty was never questioned and as president he was honored and respected for the dignified manner in which he performed the duties of this office. The funeral services of the dead ex-president were held on Monday forenoon after which the remains were taken to the Rural Cemetery at Albany. Many of the illustrious men of our Country being in attendance including President Cleveland.

COUNTY NEWS

G. W. Potter of Albion, has received during the past week a patent on a sleigh runner.

Dr. Geo. Archbold of Phœnix, has been appointed to prepare a paper on the manufacture of starch in this country, to be read before the Society of Chemical Industry of Liverpool, England, at its meeting January 5, 1887.

16,000 bushels of potatoes have been shipped by canal from Phœnix this fall.

The Cleveland G. A. R. post hold an entertainment, oyster supper and dance at App's hall in that village, next Tuesday evening.

The Lakeside Press states that there are nine places where liquor is sold in Cleveland. An average of about one to every ninety-five inhabitants.

A little six year old son of Emery Tryon, of Sandy Creek, put an eye out Tuesday while in school. It is thought he was cutting the desk with a knife and that it slipped striking his eye.

Gilberts Mills.

Thanksgiving services will be held in the Free Baptist church, Elder Denny conducting the services.

John Letson has moved into Isaac Seaman's house and will work for Elmer Coe.

Russel Brockway of Ingalls will move into A. T. Mason's tenant house.

Mrs. Dr. Coy passed Sunday with friends here,

We are abundantly blessed with rainy days this locality.

Geo. Camain and wife spent Sunday with friends at Mt. Pleasant.

S. P. Mason of Oswego has been here for a few days superintending the repairs on his farm.

Elder Paine has closed his revival meetings here. There are over twenty converts, six of whom will unite with the Free Baptist church.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Sanford called on friends here last week.

W. D. Johnson is to work for Capt. Cook until the 1st of May.

Mrs. Carrie Lumn presented her husband with a fine young daughter the other day.

Miss Nettie Anderson closes her school to-day. It is expected that she will return to teach the winter term.

Singing school is to be held in the M. E. church of this village.

1886.
New York Weekly Herald.
ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.
GREATEST AND CHEAPEST
FAMILY JOURNAL
IN THE UNITED STATES.
Always Bright and Reliable.
Every Number an Epitome of the News of the World.
The Foreign Department
Is unequaled. Latest and most accurate Cable Specials by the Commercial Cables,
[illegible]

[illegible] Special to The Times.]

Chester Alan Arthur is dead. Since the days of that dreadful responsibility thrust upon his shoulders by the assassin's shot of Guiteau, Chester A. Arthur gradually declined physically, till by a sudden stroke of apoplexy, succeeded by a few hours of semi-unconsciousness, he breathed his last on the morning of Thursday, the 18th inst. It is well known how feeble was his health for the past year. The trip to New London during the past summer benefitted him greatly, but the complication of his diseases made death a certainty at no very distant period. The political history of Gen. Arthur's life is largely connected with the party management of this state. The three and a half years of his occupancy of the office of Chief Magistrate is the exception. Born in Vermont in 1830, graduated from Union college in 1849, the principal of the Pownal (Vt.) public school, in 1850 the student of law in Judge Culver's office, and his admission to the bar in 1855 are the events of the first 25 years. Since 1858 Gen. Arthur has been a resident of this city. Early in his legal career he took more or less interest in politics, and attached himself to the Republican party in its formation. He became the friend of Ex-Gov. E. D. Morgan. The election of Morgan to the chair of Governor gave Arthur a place on the staff of the Commander-in-chief as Quartermaster General. The outbreak of the war made this office a most important one in the equipment of a quarter of a million of men, raised for the defense of the government. That his accounts should have been kept correctly and the office administered with a systematic regard for the welfare of the public speaks volumes for Gen. Arthur's great abilities as a manager. In 1869 during the administration of Gen. Grant, Arthur was made collector of the Port. The story of his contest with and removal by President Hayes is generally known. I doubt very much whether in the whole history of the Custom House management that office was any more honestly or economically administered than during the term of Gen. Arthur. True, it was a vast political machine outside of the new management of the proper collection of duties, yet as Gen. Arthur found it so he administered it, bringing his wonderful executive abilities to work to render the work done more efficient in both of the ways above mentioned. The accident that made him President caused him to carry out the same policy his predecessor had partially outlined. The charge has often been made that Arthur was a ward politician. That is not true. He lived in the 18th assembly district of this city. He was the leader of its political forces as also he was the leader of the forces in managing the city and state elections. When, however, be became president, he relinquished all this and rather dropped his old friends. This was characteristic of the man. When Quartermaster General he never permitted a contract to go to his personal friends, if the general trade could give better results. This desire to carry out the Garfield policy estranged his two best friends and political associates, Roscoe Conkling and U. S. Grant. The dismissal of collector Robertson was most heartily wished by the former while the latter desired the appointment of Gen. Beals as Secretary of the Navy. The best testimony that can be given, the greatest praise that the future will accord to Chester A. Arthur is "He was an honest man." That he should have been in public life for 30 years, occupying positions where he could have easily and without publicity obtained large wealth and leaving at his death scarcely a quarter of a million shows the uprightness of his character and the sterling honesty of his life.

As a lawyer Arthur made a reputation before the war for defending the case of a negro, ejected from a Fourth Avenue car. A colored gentleman told me recently that ex-President Arthur's name would always be gratefully remembered by the colored folks. His home was an unpretentious brownstone front on Lexington Avenue. Here he lived simply and pleasantly. In person Arthur was a very handsome man. I used to see him often on Broadway. He was fully six feet tall, broad shouldered, and weighed perhaps 200 lbs. His face had a slightly Irish cast of feature. His manner was kindly and his deportment always dignified and courteous. I presume that no man was ever rejected who had business with him.

A simple unostentatious funeral. The army and navy uniting with detachments of each to pay a tribute of respect to their late Commander-in-chief. The public men of prominence all over the land were in attendance.

Future history will assign his place which the judgment of this age cannot now properly do.

⁂

The Mayor has recently taken a step which marks a new epoch in the history of education in this city, namely, the appointment of two women as School Commissioners. There are now nearly 3,600 teachers employed in the schools of the city and nine-tenths are women. These desire a representation in the Board of Education. It is an entirely new thing here, however, it is not uncommon in other parts of the nation. The ladies are Miss Dodge and Mrs. Agnew. Miss Dodge is the granddaughter of that eminent philanthropist, the late Wm. E. Dodge. Miss Dodge has taken great interest in the subject of education generally, and especially to that of Industrial training. She is the moving spirit in the new Industrial School recently opened in the old Theological Seminary building on University place. Her practical ideas will perhaps surprise her associates in the Board, but there is this about this new departure that makes it so commendable; there will be less chance for those disreputable deals and financial possibilities that rumor so often attaches to all branches of the public service, the schools not excepted. What has here been said is also true of Mrs. Agnew. She is the wife of that eminent oculist Dr. C. A. Agnew.

⁂

Well, the agony is out at last. Two of the indicted Aldermen, to use the language [illegible]

[illegible] the rights of others they [illegible] bind themselves into what Daddy calls "a combine" to to act together as one touching all matters of politics or business. Imagine them meeting in secret and discussing, from a financial standpoint, the value of certain measures, awaiting judgment by the Common Council. They agree on a price and this price is such that each one will on the passage of a measure, be $22,000 richer. In other words, this infamous 12 barter with those who are pushing the Broadway franchise and agree for a half-million to put it through. This is the story that the trial of McQuade, and of the thirteen develops. There is no doubt now that all those over whom the District Attorney has any control will serve out a sentence in Sing Sing.

WANDERER.

Carter's Liver Pills are free from all crude and irritating matter. Contrated medicine only; very small; very easy to take; no pain; no griping; no purging.

THE BIGGEST THINGS.

Interesting Facts Useful When You Get into an Argument.

The largest theater in the world is the new Opera House in Paris. It covers nearly three acres of ground; its cubic mass is 4,287,000 feet; it cost about 100,000,000 francs. The largest suspension bridge is the one between New York city and Brooklyn; the length of the main span is 1,595 feet 6 inches; the entire length of the bridge is 5,890 feet. The loftiest active volcano is Popocatapetl—"smoking mountain"—thirty-five miles southwest of Puebla, Mexico; it is 17,748 feet above the sea level, and has a crater three miles in circumference and a thousand feet deep. The longest span of wire in the world is used for a telegraph in India, over the river Kistnah. It is more than 6,000 feet in length and is 1,200 feet high. The largest ship in the world is the Great Eastern. She is 680 feet long, 83 feet broad 60 feet deep, being 28,627 tons burden 18,915 gross and 13,344 net register.

The greatest fortress from a stategical point of view, is the famous strong hold of Gibraltar. It occupies a rocky peninsular jutting out into the sea, about three miles long three-quarters of a mile wide. One central rock rises to a height of 1,435 feet above sea level. Its northern face is almost perpendicular, while its east side is full of tremendous precipices. On the south side it terminates in what is called Europa Point. The west side is less steep than the east, and between its base and the sea is the narrow, almost level span on which the town of Gibraltar is built. The fortress is considered impregnable to military assault. The regular garrison in time of peace numbers about seven thousand.

The biggest cavern is the Mammoth Cave, in Edmonson county, Kentucky. It is near Green river, about six miles from Cave City, and twenty-eight from Bowling Green. The cave consists of a succession of irregular chambers, some of which are large, situated on different levels. Some of these are traversed by navigable branches of the subterranean Echo river. Blind fish are found in its waters.

The longest tunnel in the world is that of the St Gothard, on the line of railroad between Lucerne and Milan. The summit of the tunnel is 900 feet below the surface at Andermatt, and 6,600 feet beneath the peak of Kastelhorn of the St. Gothard group. The tunnel is 26½ feet wide, and is 18 feet 10 inches from the floor to the crown of the arched roof. It is 9½ miles longer than the Mount Cenis tunnel.

The biggest trees in the world are the mammoth trees of California. One of a grove in Tuclare county, according to measurements made by members of the State Geological Survey, was shown to be 276 feet in hight, 108 feet in circumference at base, and 76 feet at a point twelve feet above ground. Some of the trees are 376 feet high and 34 feet in diameter. Some of the largest that have been felled indicate an age of from 2,000 to 2,500 years.

The largest library is the Bibliotheque National in Paris, founded by Louis XIV. It contains 1,400,000 pamphlets, 175,000 manuscripts, 300,000 maps and charts and 150,000 coins and medals. The collection of engravings exceeds 1,300,000 contained in some 10,000 volumes. The portraits number about 100,000.

The largest desert is that of Sahara, a vast region of Northern Africa, extending from the Atlantic ocean on the west to the valley of the Nile on the east. The length from east to west is about 3,000 miles, its average breadth about 900 miles, its area about 2,000,000 square miles. Rain falls in torrents in the Sahara at intervals of five, ten and twenty years. In summer the heat during the day is excessive, but the nights are often cold. In winter the temperature is sometimes below freezing point.

The greatest pyramid is that of Cheops, one of the three pyramids forming the Memphis group, situated on a plateau about 137 feet above the level of the highest rise in the Nile. Its dimentions have been reduced by the removal of the outer portion to furnish stone for the city of Cairo. Its masonry consisted originally of 89,028,000 cubic feet, and still amounts to 82,111,000 feet. The present vertical height is 450 feet, against 479 feet originally. The total weight of the stone is estimated at 63,16,000 tons.

The largest bell in the world is the great bell of Moscow, at the foot of the Kremlin. Its circumference at the bottom is nearly 68 feet and its height more than 21 feet. In its strongest part it is 23 inches thick, and its weight has been computed to be 443,732 pounds. It has never been hung.

Hop Plasters a New England production from fresh Hops, Burgundy pitch and gums.

AT FULTON.

At this market Monday morning 13 factories were represented and less than 1,000 boxes were offered which brought from 12 to 12½ cents.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
[illegible]

[illegible] WASHINGTON, Nov. 22, 1886.

The week has been a very quiet one here. So thoroughly engrossed is the President in the preparation of his message, that he cannot endure the slightest interruption. He sees only those persons who come to the White House at his request, those whom he wishes to consult on important business. The approaches to him are carefully guarded, and he is left in seclusion with Col. Lamont.

The Capitol presents a busy scene of preparation for the approaching session. It is an immense work to renovate this great marble structure, inside and out, even once a year. Including the recent extension at its base, the marble terrace which surrounds the north, west and south sides of the capitol, replacing the grassy earth work previously there, the building covers about five acres, and one will have to walk half a mile to go around it. This improvement adds much to the height of the building and gives it a much better proportion, Formerly when seen from a distance, it looked too low for its great length and width.

An optimistic Senator says the approaching session will be one of unusual activity. He thinks the House will be in condition for harmonious, energetic action. The defeated members are free from restraint and at liberty to do what they think right, and the re-elected members have the reassuring knowledge that they have two years in which to heal over any trouble which they may make for themselves now among their constituents. He draws the inference that all the President's recomendations will carry more weight and meet more ready response than they did a year ago, and that the second session of the Forty-ninth Congress will accomplish more than the first in one half the time.

Many novelties are wandering about through the sphere of political economy now, and bills of new character will be introduced in Congress this winter. Questions relating to the wage winners of the world overshadow other things. Labor has caught the ear of mankind at last, and greatest and mightiest have paused and listened respectfully to what it has to say. Among the new schemes being earnestly pressed by political economists whose aim is to relieve the sad features in the life of the toilers, is one providing that helpless old people be cared for by the state after reaching the age of sixty-two.

To raise the requisite funds for this plan, it is proposed that youth be compelled to look out for old age in the following manner: For each child born the parents are to deposite ten dollars with the government, which is to be placed to the credit of the institution at a fair rate of, interest, and the deposits of those who die are to be transferred to the credit of the surviving members of the same class or year.

Forty dollars is the minimum sum with which a person can sustain life for one year, but in order to give old age that assistance which would relieve it from care, it is proposed to give the sum of $90 yearly to needy persons after they have passed their seventy second year, At seventy-three most persons are incapable of monual labor. but from sixty-two to seventy-three may be able to learn something, and therefore the pension can be graded in those years, increasing each succeeding year until it reaches $90, and this amount is to be continued until death.

This is of course, one of the many plans that are suggested in behalf of the poor man, but is one that will appeal to his heart. To feel that absolute want will not overtake him in the evening of life would greatly relieve the hardships of manhood, and the trying conditions of the present could be faced with greater courage.

There is no doubt that the curious question will be tugging away energetically at the heart strings of this nation before a great while and that Congress will have to deal with it or something similar. Evidently nothing can be done at the approaching short session, but the leaders of the labor movement are credited with an intention of urging the President to call an extra session of the Fiftieth Congress as soon as the present one adjourns, for the purpose of considering legislation in the interest of the workingmen.

CHEESE MARKET.

[From the Utica Herald.]

UTICA, Nov. 22.

The market to-day was tame in comparison with the more active part of the season, but the representation of salesmen was large, considering the number who sold out last week. Several other lots were closed out to-day, and all the Octobers and full creams were disposed of. Hereafter the sales will be all Novembers and part skims. Indeed the latter sold to-day as well as anything on the board. The competition for home trade was decidedly active, no less than five buyers wanting cheese for domestic markets. And the makers of night skims claim that at this time of the year their cheese is quite as good as the stock made of full milk, a claim that is backed up by the prices which they get.

Two more markets will close the season on this board. Transactions keep well up, but to-day's were swolen somewhat by offerings from outside parties. Among these was a lot of over four hundred Octobers from a factory in Oswego county. Following are the sales:

Lots	Boxes	Price
3	172	11¼ cents
41	2,035	11½ cents
4	250	11⅝ cents
4	305	11¾ cents
8	257	11⅞ cents
11	1,114	12 cents
3	300	12¼ cents
1	75	p. t.
	5,468
	330	Com
	5,798

Ruling price 11½c. Transactions of corresponding day last year 5,112 boxes ruling 8c. Transactions in 1884, 5,018 boxes, ruling 11¼c.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, Nov. 22.

CHEESE—There is little of interest to say of our market to-day. Prices remain about the same as a week ago, for the same grade of goods, the ruling figure continuing to be 12c. The market seemed a little duller and there was a wide range in quality of stock offered, and hence a wider range in prices. No every other day cheese sold above 10½c., all above this figure being every day stock or full cream. Following is the usual list of transactions:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price.
[illegible]	1,165	[illegible]
4	175	11 cents
4	132	11¼ cents
[illegible]	4,226	12 cents
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	Com.

[illegible]

[illegible] Night Sweats and Nervousness, [illegible] Appetite, should suggest the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation is most effective for giving tone and strength to the enfeebled system, promoting the digestion and assimilation of food, restoring the nervous forces to their normal condition, and for purifying, enriching, and vitalizing the blood.

Failing Health.

Ten years ago my health began to fail. I was troubled with a distressing Cough, Night Sweats, Weakness, and Nervousness. I tried various remedies prescribed by different physicians, but became so weak that I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. My friends recommended me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which I did, and I am now as healthy and strong as ever.—Mrs. E. L. Williams, Alexandria, Minn.

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, that it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease. I have also prescribed it as a tonic, as well as an alterative, and must say that I honestly believe it to be the best blood medicine ever compounded.—W. F. Fowler, D. D. S., M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

Dyspepsia Cured.

It would be impossible for me to describe what I suffered from Indigestion and Headache up to the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I was under the care of various physicians and tried a great many kinds of medicines, but never obtained more than temporary relief. After taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for a short time, my headache disappeared, and my stomach performed its duties more perfectly. To-day my health is completely restored.—Mary Harley, Springfield, Mass.

I have been greatly benefited by the prompt use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It tones and invigorates the system, regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, and vitalizes the blood. It is, without doubt, the most reliable blood purifier yet discovered.—H. D. Johnson, 383 Atlantic ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Price $1; six bottles, $5.

The Century and St. Nicholas.

To any desiring it we will supply The Century and THE TIMES for one year for $4.75; St. Nicholas and THE TIMES for $3.75. 28t4

A Remarkable Case.

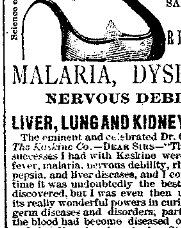
Oct. 21st, 1886.

MESSRS W. H. HOOKER & CO.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable, I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. He is apparently on the road to entire recovery, in the near future. I cheerfully confirm and attest to the above and believe others (from my statement) suffering, may have reason to believe in the efficacy of this excellent remedy. Very Truly,

MRS. LESAGE.
26m6 Fulton, N. Y.

THE NEW QUININE.



Science emerging from Darkness.

KASKINE
WHAT THE
PHYSICIANS
SAY ABOUT IT IN
RHEUMATISM,
MALARIA, DYSPEPSIA,
NERVOUS DEBILITY,
LIVER, LUNG AND KIDNEY DISEASE.

The eminent and celebrated Dr. Glessner writes: The Kaskine Co.—DEAR SIRS—"The first greatest successes I had with Kaskine were in chills and fever, malaria, nervous debility, rheumatism, dyspepsia, and liver diseases, and I considered at that time it was undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered, but I was even then unfamiliar with its really wonderful powers in curing all the other germ diseases and disorders, particularly where the blood had become diseased or impoverished and the digestion impaired. Strictly speaking, Kaskine is the only blood purifier we have. I use it also very largely with unfailing success in all diseases peculiar to women and children. In over three hundred cases I have cured there has never been the slightest bad effect following its use, and it is far superior to any tonic or nerve medicine ever known to the medical profession."

Very truly yours,
L. M. GLESSNER, M. D., 250 East 121st St., N. Y.

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

The U. S. Examining Surgeon, Dr. L. R. White, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

St. Francis Hospital, N. Y.: "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful.

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered indispensible. It acts perfectly."

Kaskine is pleasant to take and can be used without special medical counsel.

Send for the great book of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine. $1 a bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE.
Published Monthly
WITH ILLUSTRATIONS.

FIRST NUMBER READY DEC 15.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE will be in the widest sense a magazine of general literature, and each number will be fully illustrated.

Some of the most notable papers to appear during the first year are a series of UNPUBLISHED LETTERS OF THACKERAY of very great autobiographical value; ex-MINISTER E. B. WASHBURNE'S REMINISCENCES OF THE SIEGE AND COMMUNE OF PARIS; GLIMPSES AT THE DIARIES OF GOUVERNEUR MORRIS, Minister to France at the close of the last century, (giving descriptions of social life and character at the time); a collection of contemporary letters describing Early New York and New England Society.

There is much excellent fiction, including a serial by Harold Frederic; stories extending through several numbers by H. C. Bunner, J. S. of Dale, and others; and short stories by R. L. Stevenson, Joel Chandler Harris, T. A. Janvier, Miss Sarah Orne Jewett, H. H. Boyesen, [illegible] and a host of others.

[illegible]

The Greatest Yet!

Instructive and Interesting Reading for the Long Winter Evenings.

SUBSCRIBE

and get some Excellent Reading Matter, Free.

TWENTY-FIVE BOOKS,

of your own selection

FREE!

To Every New Subscriber to THE TIMES, and to every Old Subscriber who pays his Subscription to date and one year in advance will receive Free any twenty-five of the following Books that he or she may select, or the whole forty-five with one year's Subscription to

THE TIMES FOR $1.50.

These books are published in neat pamphlet form, upon good paper, and printed with good type. These same books with cloth binding sell at $1.00 per volume.

By looking over the following list many books will be seen that you would like, Twenty-five of which you can secure FREE!

MARVELOUS PRICES!

BOOKS FOR THE MILLION

Complete Novels and Other Works, by Famous Authors, Almost Given Away. The following books are published in neat pamphlet form, and all are printed from good type upon good paper. They treat of a great variety of subjects, and we think no one can examine the list without finding therein many that he or she would like to possess. In cloth-bound form these books would cost $1.00 each. Each book is complete in itself.

1. The Widow Bedott Papers. This is the book over which your grandmothers laughed till they cried, and it is just as funny to-day as it ever was.
2. Winter Evening Recreations, a large collection of Acting Charades, Tableaux, Games, Puzzles, etc., for social gatherings, private theatricals, and evenings at home.
3. Back to the Old Home. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay, author of "Hidden Perils."
4. Dialogues, Recitations and Readings, a large and choice collection for school exhibitions and public and private entertainments.
5. The Standard Letter Writer for Ladies and Gentlemen, a complete guide to correspondence, giving plain directions for the composition of letters of every kind, with innumerable forms and examples.
6. The Frozen Deep. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins, author of "The Woman in White," etc.
7. Red Court Farm. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood, author of "East Lynne," etc.
8. The Lady of the Lake. By Sir Walter Scott. "The Lady of the Lake" is a romance in verse, and of all the works of Scott, none is more beautiful than this.
9. In Cupid's Net. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
10. Amos Barton. A Novel. By George Eliot, author of "Adam Bede," "The Mill on the Floss," etc.
11. Lady Gwendoline's Dream. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
12. The Mystery of the Holly Tree. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
13. The Budget of Wit, Humor and Fun, a large collection of the funny stories, sketches, anecdotes, poems, and jokes.
14. John Bowerbank's Wife. A Novel. By Miss Mulock, author of "John Halifax, Gentleman," etc.
15. The Gray Woman. A Novel. By Mrs. Gaskell, author of "Mary Barton," etc.
16. Sixteen Complete Stories by Popular Authors, embracing love, humorous and detective stories, stories of society life, of adventure, of railway life, etc., all very interesting.
17. Jasper Dane's Secret. A Novel. By Miss M. E. Braddon, author of "Aurora Floyd," etc.
18. Fancy Work for Home Adornment, an entirely new work upon this subject, containing easy and practical instructions for making fancy baskets, wall pockets, brackets, needle work, embroidery, etc., etc., profusely and elegantly illustrated.
19. Grimm's Fairy Stories for the Young. The finest collection of fairy stories published. The children are delighted with them.
20. Manual of Etiquette for Ladies and Gentlemen, a guide to politeness and good breeding, giving the rules of modern etiquette for all occasions.
21. Useful Knowledge for the Million, a handy book of useful information for all, upon many and various subjects.
22. The Home Cook Book and Family Physician, containing hundreds of excellent cooking recipes and hints to housekeepers, also telling how to cure all common ailments by simple home remedies.
23. Manners and Customs in Far Away Lands, a very interesting and instructive book of travels, describing the peculiar life, habits, manners and customs of the people of foreign countries.
24. 37 Popular Ballads. Same size as sheet music. Words of all the old and new songs.
25. Called Back. A Novel. By Hugh Conway.
26. At the World's Mercy. A Novel. By Florence Warden, author of "The House on the Marsh," etc.
27. Mildred Trevanion. A Novel. By "The Duchess," author of "Molly Bawn," etc.
28. Dark Days. A Novel. By the author of "Called Back."
29. Shadows on the Snow. A Novel. By B. L. Farjeon, author of "Bread-and-Cheese-and-Kisses," etc.
30. Leoline. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay, author of "Brenda Yorke."
31. Gabriel's Marriage. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins, author of "No Name," etc.
32. Reaping the Whirlwind. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay, author of "Old Middleton's Money," etc.
33. Dudley Carleon. A Novel. By Miss M. E. Braddon, author of "Lady Audley's Secret," etc.
34. A Golden Dawn. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne," etc.
35. Valerie's Fate. A Novel. By Mrs. Alexander, author of "The Wooing O't," etc.
36. Sister Rose. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins, author of "The Woman in White," etc.
37. Anne. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood, author of "East Lynne."
38. The Laurel Bush. A Novel. By Miss Mulock, author of "John Halifax, Gentleman," etc.
39. Robinson Crusoe. A thrilling narrative by Daniel De Foe, describing the adventures of a castaway in the South Pacific Ocean.
40. How to Make Poultry Pay. A practical and instructive series of articles by Mr. P. H. Jacobs, Poultry Editor of "The Farm and Garden," Phila.; illustrated.
41. Parlor Magic and Chemical Experiments, a book which tells how to perform hundreds of amusing tricks in magic and instructive experiments with simple agents.
42. Gems of the Poets, containing charming selections from Tennyson, Longfellow, Whittier, Byron, Shelley, Moore, Bryant, and many others.
43. Building Plans for Practical, Low-cost Houses. A full description and plans of Eight modern houses, ranging in price from $500 to $4500. Illustrated.
44. Anecdotes of Public Men—Washington, Franklin, Webster, Clay, Tilden, Lincoln, Scott, Grant, Garfield, Gladstone, Butler, Hancock, Lee, and all the leading men of the century.
45. Æsop's Fables. The work of an ancient genius. Children have read them for centuries, and grown people quote them every day.

OUR UNEQUALED OFFER.

We have arranged with the publishers of these books to furnish the whole forty-five with one year's subscription to our paper for $1.50; or we will send any five for 25 cts., or the whole forty-five for $1.50. Address all orders to publishers of

"FULTON TIMES,"
Fulton, N. Y.

In sending your Subscription, write only the NUMBERS of the books selected and they will be sent to your address, free of charge.

Remember that this offer is only good during the month of November.

After this month the offer is void.

Subscribe! Pay Up!

SCHOOL OF SHORT HAND
—AND—
TYPE WRITING.
CLASSES DAY AND EVENING.
Lessons by Mail a Specialty.
Terms Moderate. For further particulars apply to
MISS MATTIE G. HAM,
66 and 67 Weiting Block,
18m3 Syracuse, N. Y.

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 160 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

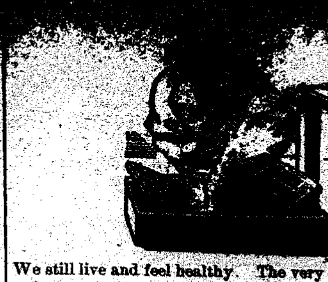
A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

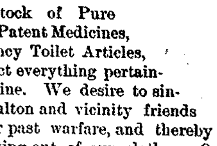
One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots and rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the [illegible] Smith estate.

[illegible]



We still live and feel healthy. The very disastrous effect of the Oswego county druggists' combination upon our diet during the past year, seemed so apparent that upon consulting our bank account, and Wilcox's meat scales, we find ourselves yet, quite a ghost. The big guns of the Oswego county drug combination for the prevention of cruelty to fish, are still aimed at our council. Our diet of corn meal and onions enables us to still step heavily upon the necks of the Oswego county poor man's friends.

We still hold forth at the beautiful opera house drug store and have increased our stock of Pure Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Wines, Liquors, Fancy Toilet Articles, Oils, Paints, and in fact everything pertaining to a first-class drug line. We desire to sincerely thank our many Fulton and vicinity friends who have stood by us in our past warfare, and thereby enabled us to secure a good fitting out of our clothes. Our Combination Competitors, have acquired such an affection for us that when we chance to pass them upon the streets, they greet us with the following smiling expression:



Remember our place, The Opera House Drug Store, Opposite the Stephens Opera House, Fulton, N. Y. H. C. GIESLER.

ROGERS' GRAPOLINE

Is a household name throughout the United States. It is administered as a specific, and with SUCCESS, in DYSPEPSIA, Sick HEADACHE, Nervous Debility, Liver Complaint, Bilious Remittents, Bowel Complaints (especially CONSTIPATION), Gout, Gravel, RHEUMATISM, Nausea, the complaints peculiar to the maternal sex, and all types of inflammation. So mild is it in its operation that it can be given with perfect safety to the feeblest child, and so agreeable is it to the taste, so grateful to the palate, that children never refuse to take it. FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

A. H. ROGERS & CO., Geneseo, N. Y.

HOLIDAY PRESENT.

READER, we are well aware you are thinking what shall I present to my Husband, Wife, Father, Mother or Friend, that they will appreciate, keep for life, something very valuable and useful, but not cost much; we answer, what is more valuable, useful and ornamental, than a LIFE-SIZE PORTRAIT. Oh yes, you will say, Life-Size Portraits cost $50 to $100. Yes, they generally do, likely no Art House in America has gained the reputation ours has for FINE ARTISTIC PORTRAITS. Our regular catalogue price for Life-sized Portraits are $40 enframed. We offer every reader of THE TIMES their choice of an India Ink, Crayon, Water Color or Pastel Portrait, Life-Size, on 30x31 stretcher, for $9.75, and [illegible] your neighborhood (provided, of course, portrait pleases you), we will place a beautiful frame, [illegible] composition gilt and 1 in. velvet (regular catalogue price $20) on portrait, FREE. Send $4.75 cash with order and we will ship by Express C. O. D., subject to examination before paying balance $5; or if you prefer to send cash in full with order, we will also make One Dozen Imperials, Satin finish, Gilt edge (regular price $6) from same original we enlarge portrait from free, thus making $54 for $9.75. This offer is made to advertise our house, create a desire of the general public for Life-Sized Portraits and secure an agent in your vicinity; only one Portrait sold to any one family at this price. Offer only good till February 1st 1887. This advertisement must accompany the order. After Feb 1st, 1887 those wishing Life-Sized Portraits must pay regular price to us or our agents, as we positively will not make this offer again. We guarantee satisfaction in every case, even if we have to make a new Portrait Free, and our reference should be sufficient guarantee we always do as we agree. We refer you to any Newspaper or Mercantile Agency, American or United States Ex. Co., Canal St., N. Y., or step in any Postoffice and examine U. S. Official Postal Guide, January, 1886 issue, and see our ad, pages 71 and 72, the largest ad. ever in the book by any one in our line. Any P. M. can inform you we must do business on the square or we could not advertise in the book. If W. C. or Pastel wanted send color hair, (sample, if possible), color Eyes, Drapery, Jewelry, Complexion, If Crayon or Ink unnecessary, "black and white used only." We can enlarge to Life-Size any kind small picture, but of course better the small one the better the portrait will be. Send money by Postal Order, Registered Letter, Postal Note, Draft on N. Y. or Express prepaid. No Portraits sent C. O. D. to Canada or west of Minn., Iowa, Mo., Ark., and La. Orders from there must be accompanied with cash in full $9.75. If you wish an amateur outfit to make Photos by Dry Plate process without experience send 24 cts for 50 page book "How to make Photos," and sample Photo made by Empire Camera. If you wish a Magic Lantern or to act as agent for our Portraits, or ask any question, enclose stamp and address EMPIRE COPYING CO., 381 CANAL St., NEW YORK.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Frank L. Sears vs. Alice M. Hethington, administratrix of William S. Hethington, deceased, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugine Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Josephine Hethington, Alice M. Hethington and Nellie E. Sears.

Action to foreclose Mortgage.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 22d day of November, 1886.
C. H. DAVID
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephene Hethington

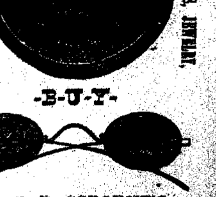
The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. J. C. Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 23d, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego county, at Oswego city, N. Y.

Yours &c.,
C. H. DAVID,
Plff's Atty.
Fulton, N. Y.

NEW COAL FIRM.
REMEMBER THAT
HART & CULLEN
ARE SELLING THE
Wilkesbarre and Pittston Coal.
THE BEST COAL MINED.
Leave Orders at Hart's Pottery, or Cullen's Meat Market and you will find prices very satisfactory.
Coal Delivered in Fulton or Oswego Falls.
3m3

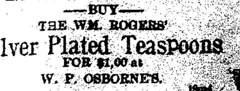
C. F. HANCOCK,
196 West First St., Oswego, N. Y.
—AGENT FOR THE CELEBRATED—
Decker Brothers'
Matchless Pianos.
THE VERY BEST PIANOS.
Prices as low as possible consistent with the highest standard.

-BUY-
Hampden Watches,
—AT—
W. P. OSORNE'S.



REPAIRED AT OSBORNE'S.
WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY,

-B-U-Y-



At W. P. OSBORNE'S.
—BUY—
THE WM. ROGERS'
Silver Plated Teaspoons
FOR $1.00 at
W. P. OSBORNE'S.
[illegible]

NEW HARNESS SHOP.
The Undersigned would respectfully announce to the public that he has opened a New Harness Shop and is prepared to do all kinds of
REPAIRING
—ON—
HARNESS, TRUNKS, BUGGY TOPS,
CUSHIONS, &C. &C.,
☞ As Cheap as the Cheapest.
HARNESS
OF ALL GRADES MADE TO ORDER.
A share of public patronage solicited.
Give us a Call,
C. W. BROWN,
CAYUGA ST., OPPOSITE MIDLAND DEPOT.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE [illegible]
MOULDINGS
[illegible]

PARKER'S
HAIR BALSAM
[illegible]

[illegible] & WESTERN R. R.

[illegible] AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

[illegible]	[illegible] a. m
[illegible] and Philadelphia Express	[illegible] a. m
[illegible] and Elmira Express	[illegible] p. m.
[illegible] and Accommodation	[illegible] p. m.
New York and Phil. Night Express	[illegible] p. m.
GOING NORTH.
New York and Philadelphia Express	[illegible] a. m.
[illegible] Express	[illegible] p. m.
[illegible] Express	[illegible] p. m.
[illegible] and Accommodation	[illegible] p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express	[illegible] p. m.

The 9:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m. trains will run Sundays.

Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:18 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m
GOING NORTH.
Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:27 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	9:57 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:10	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19	3:24	6:29

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS

Mrs. W. Morton and son are visiting friends in Mexico.

Miss Nellie Fairgrieve is visiting friends in Elmira for a few weeks.

Judge D. D. McKeon of New York city, was in town last Friday.

Henry Marchant of Port Jervis has been in town during the past week.

John Mosher of Boston Mass., formerly of this village is visiting friends in town.

Thomas Carr is in Oxford Maine, this week to be present at the marriage of his son.

Mrs James Elder, accompanied her daughter and Miss Bogue to Boston last week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Van Ostrand of Gloversville are guests of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Hubbard.

Mrs. Mary M. Holister of South Glastonbury, Conn., has been visiting at Mrs. R. B. O'Dell's.

Mrs. Amos Langdon and daughter Belle are visiting friends in Great Barrington, Massachusetts.

Mrs. J. M. Hewitt and two daughters are spending a few days with friends in Auburn and Elbridge.

Mrs. Dr. D. E. Lake returned to-day from a three weeks visit with the family of Dr. S. K. Lake of Pittsburg, Pa.

George A. Berzee and wife went to St. Johnsville last week to attend the wedding of his father, Moses Berzee to Miss Maggie Walworth of that village.

James D. Newton who has been absent in the west during the past year is home for the winter. He has located a farm in southwest Kansas and will return in the spring,

Dr. Charles R. Lee is at his home in this village after an absence of about two years in the mining town of Batopilas, Chihuahua, Mexico. He will remain about two or three months before returning to his professional duties in the far west.

You will find a fine line of Harness, Robes, Blankets, Trunks &c at the McCully Harness Shop. 29tf,

You will find the largest assortment of Holiday goods at M. M. Williams' Drug Store. 29tf

Keep Your Feet Warm. Alfred Dolye's Celebrated Felt Slippers and hoes are sold at Collins'. 28tf

SOMETHING NEW.

The improved Welt $3.00 Calf Shoe equal to the best hand sewed at COLLINS'.

Those desiring Photographs for the Holidays would do well to secure their sittings at once. We have just received a new line of Scenery and accessories for Holiday work. A new line of plush cabinet Frames in desirable patterns. Darrow, Patriot Building, Cor. 2d and Oneida Sts. 27tf

CHEAP COW FEED.

Gilbert & Nichols at the Fulton Mills are selling buckwheat feed for milch cows and young stock at about the price of hay. 28w4

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

Don't trifle with any Throat or Lung Disease. If you have a Cough or Cold, or the children are threatened with Croup or Whooping Cough, use Acker's English Remedy and prevent further trouble. It is a positive cure, and we guarantee it. Price 10 and 50c by H. C. Giesler.

[illegible] Universalist held a meeting in Akron, Ohio, in October, at which nearly one hundred clergymen were present, also lay delegates from Maine to California. Among the clergymen present were Rev's. Dr. W. S. Balch, A. A. Miner, Richard Eddy, A. Saxe, Richmond Fisk, G. H. Emerson, I. M. Atwood, E. S. Rexford, James H. Tuttle, and G. L. Demarest and others, including Rev's. E. F. Pember, R. H. Pullman, E. C. Sweetser &c., giving this large and representative convention more than ordinary significance. It has been said that the Universalist denomination are indifferent to the great question of temperance. The following preamble and resolutions were passed without a dissenting voice:—

Whereas, Intemperance is a grievous and widespread personal sin, and the traffic in intoxicating liquors one of the greatest, if not the very greatest, of social evils and national perils, so that the alternative seems clear and certain that either our American civilization must destroy the liquor traffic or be destroyed by it; therefore,

Resolved, That the trumpet of our Church should give no uncertain sound on this subject, but should voice loudly as it has voiced in the past, a positive and clear testimony against the sale and the use of intoxicating drinks; and our Church should also organize its members and utilize its resources to battle, as best it may, against this demon of strong drink.

Resolved, That under the conditions of society and life in this age and country, we are persuaded that total abstinence from alcoholic beverages is the only sure means of either curing or preventing the evils of intemperance.

Resolved, That we affectionately and earnestly call upon all who may think their moderate use of alcoholic beverages innocent, to give up such use for the sake of helping their weaker brethren, according to the royal law which St. Paul lays down: "We then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves."

Resolved, That the entire suppression of the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating beverages is the goal we should work for and the boon we should demand of the state.

Resolved, That we request the Board of Trustees to consider the advisability of a temperance association to be known as the Universalist Church Temperance Society, and to report at the next annual session of this Convention.

The resolutions were passed without dissent.

"An Evening with Ingersoll."

The audience that assembled at the opera house last Monday evening had the pleasure of listening to one of the ablest lectures that has ever been delivered in the village of Fulton. The speaker George R. Wendling was introduced to the audience by the Rev. W. Dempster Chase. The lecturer is a man of rare attainments and unmistakable abilities, and for nearly two hours retained the closest attention of those present. His theme "An Evening with Ingersoll" is one that gives abundant opportunity for deep thought and reflection, and this has been given by Mr. Wendling in preparing this lecture. His scholarly mind combined with a true belief in the Christian doctrine enables him to see clearly the fallacies of Ingersollizm and place them stripped of their thin covering clearly before the minds of his audience. He showed wherein the teachings of Plato, Solon, Socrates, Lycurgus and other ancient philosophers to whom Ingersoll points with pride as exponents of his belief, were defective. In a vivid manner he traced the progress of the church and of Christianity from the advent of Christ, century by century, down to the present time. He argued that if Ingersollism prevailed, if churches did not exist and the influence of a Supreme Being were not present, strong governments would crumble to pieces, the voice of the people would not be heard, that insurrection and rebellion would follow. He showed in an able manner from a business standpoint the disastrous results that would come to posterity, socially, financially and otherwise, if the doctrines of Ingersoll were carred out. The whole was a masterly effort and it is to be regretted that so few took advantage of the opportunity to hear the talented orator.

I will reduce the price on all Amberena, Wild-rose and Peach-ware, Saturday Nov. 6 '86. Also on China-Tea-Sets, Chamber-Sets and all fancy cups and saucers. Call and see goods at Draper's, Oneida St.

Just received at Drapers 100 of those leading $1.00 lamps—all complete with B. Burner, Illuminator and Shade. He will put the above lamps on sale Saturday at 85c. each. Remember the place 15 Oneida street, where they are selling Hanging Lamps at prices that will surprise you.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

Go to Tucker's crockery store for wedding and anniversary presents. 24tf

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

---

We Have Received Another Lot of

OVERCOATS AND SUITS,

☞ WE CAN SAVE YOU MONEY ON A ☜

Suit or Overcoat, Hats or Caps, Underwear, Gloves or Mittens, Neckwear or Hosiery.

We carry a large line of these goods and can please you.

Call and see.

[illegible] C. [illegible] & CO.,

[illegible] Lewis [illegible] Fulton, N. Y.

[illegible] get 24 books, free.

Remember W. H. Hannum's party at the [illegible] Centre house Thanksgiving evening.

No licenses have been taken out for manufacturing or selling of oleomargarine in this county.

Meeting of the Village improvement society this evening at the parlors of the Presbyterian church.

George Potter now has charge of the Fulton and Hannibal mail route having purchased it of Emil Scott.

The opera house was crowded last evening to listen to the lectures, of J. J. Junio and D. W. Daley of Syracuse.

Union Thanksgiving service to-morrow at 11 a. m. in the Presbyterian church. Rev. Chas. Olmstead will preach the sermon.

About thirty of the little friends of Master Don H. Ives met at his home last Saturday to assist him in celebrating his fifth birthday.

The work of track laying is over on the new Syracuse & Baldwinsville railroad and the work of ballasting and filling in is in progress.

The local page of the Oswego Falls Observer appeared last week printed from new self spacing type. It looks well and is an indication of well deserved prosperity.

The fall term of the public school at Oswego Falls closed last Friday with appropriate exercises. At the close of the exercises remarks were made by Commisioner Metcalf, Father Earley and Editor Bradt of the Observer.

Grand Concert Promenade by the Fulton Brass Band at Opera house hall this evening. Citizens are under great obligations to the band for out-door music and other favors. Liberal patronage should therefore be given.

On last Wednesday night during the heavy rain, the embankment of Spafford's pond was washed away causing much damage. This new dam had recently been completed and cost nearly $1,000. The old one was carried away about a year ago.

Miss Bertha Elder and Miss Frank M. Bogue left for Boston, Mass., last Thursday, to enter the New England Conservatory of Music, which is one of the best in the country. Both are well known locally for their musical abilities and will do credit to themselves and their home instructors.

The beautiful double cottage of H. N. Gilbert on Fourth street is now completed. The north part is occupied by Prof. Clapp and the south part by Mr. J. N. Whitman, proprietor of the new steel works at Lower Oswego Falls. The house is a beauty and much has been said in commendation of the style of the structure. It is an ornament to the village.

Daniel Corcoran, a cigar maker at Lower Oswego Falls was arrested last week on charges preferred by Sheriff Beadle of grand larceny in disposing of a quantity of cigars, a billiard table and other articles which had been levied on by the sheriff. An adjournment of his case was made until next Tuesday, he giving $500 bail for his appearance on that day.

Advertise by the year, says an old experienced business man. It is cheaper and yields a better return in proportion to the money invested. An advertisement should always be before the public in some shape. If it disappears it is soon forgotten; those that remain have the superiority and advantage of the competitor. There is only one excuse for the discontinuing of an advertisement—that of retiring from business.

The traveling public is not slow to take advantage of any reduction that a railroad company may make, even if it is not intended for their benefit. The D. L. & W. road reduced their fare from Syracuse to Baldwinsville last week to 25 cents. On one train the first day of the reduction five passengers for Lampsons purchased a ticket to Baldwinsville and paid for the rest of the distace on the cars. Thus getting ahead of the company just eleven cents.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

A Big Time at the
—"BOSTON BAZAAR"—
Next Saturday.
Come and see how lively we can make things. We have special bargains in
HOSIERY and UNDERWEAR.
A new lot of those $1.00 Seven Button, Embroidered back, undressed
KID GLOVES.
The biggist thing out.
100 doz. Ladies' and Gents' HANDKERCHIEFS
just received at prices from 5c. to $2.00. These are a few of the many bargains we always have on hand.
JERSEYS, RIBBONS, YARNS.
Most Complete Stock in town.
Corsets, Plush Goods, and Hanging Lamps, it is well to call your attention to.
Yours for Bargains,
NEY & ALLEN.

Try the Conductor 5c. cigar, the finest 5c. cigar in town. Sold by W. J. Watson. 26w9.

A handsome line of chamber sets just received by J. COOLEY TUCKER. 24tf

Vienna Bakery.

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionery, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton. Confectionery from 12 cents upward. A fresh supply of crackers, bread and cake constantly on hand. Call and examine my stock. JOHN BARKER, 18tf 26 First st

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. [illegible]tf

[illegible] Henry Comstock. The [illegible] are for clipping horses, while the smaller sizes can be most successfully used by barbers in cutting hair. Mr. Comstock has fitted up a shop, supplying it with the most approved machinery and there is already being manufactured one thousand machines. Orders from many cities and towns have already been received. On Saturday Mr. Comstock went to Ilion, where he had given orders to the Remingtons to make one thousand sets of knives like a pattern shown. He found a fatal defect in the manufacture and cannot use them. The urgency of his orders determined him to go to London, where the best knives for this purpose can be procured. He expects to sail to-morrow. His new "Clipper" is pronounced by experts far superior to any other in use and with close attention to their manufacture he hopes soon to build up a profitable industry in this village.—[Fulton Cor. to Standard, Tues.

Accidental Shooting.

A case of fatal shooting occurred at Hinmanville last Wednesday evening about 9 o'clock. Thomas Washer's boat and Capt. Pease's boat were both moored at Hinmanville. A son of Capt. Pease, aged 13, was on Washer's boat and stepping into the men's cabin took up a single barrelled shot gun which stood at the head of the berth, and began examining it, when almost instantly it was discharged. Just at this instant Walter Lewis, aged 20, a driver on Washer's boat was passing the open door of the room in which Pease was, and the charge from the gun took effect on his left temple and passed entirely through his head, tearing away the front part of the skull and the upper part of the cheek bones and nose, taking with them both eyes and a part of the brain. Doctor Drury of Phœnix was called and hastened to the scene, but the unfortunate lad only breathed once after his arrival.

The coroner's jury called to inquire into the cause of the death returned a verdict of accidental shooting.

The Village Improvement Society.

It is earnestly desired that there may be a full attendance at the meeting of the Village Improvement Society this evening in the session rooms of the Presbyterian church. Important subjects will be presented for discussion and it is hoped that some practical plans of work will be evolved. To make this society a success two or three hundred persons, ladies and gentlemen and young people, ought to become fully and thoroughly identified with it. If this is done much good can be accomplished. Let all come out to-night who desire an Improvement Society to live and flourish in our village.

"Forget-Me-Not."

The Eminent Artiste, Josephine Cameron, supported by a select company will produce the excellent emotional drama "Forgot-Me-Not" at the opera house next Saturday evening. Miss Cameron has created a profound sensation and most pronounced hit in this play in the large cities of the United States, South America and the West Indies. It is conceded to be the best of her large repertoire of about twenty-five legitimate plays. The managers of the opera house should be encouraged in giving the people of Fulton an opportunity to witness a performance with an actress of such well known reputation as the star. The house should be crowded.

An endless variety of Fancy Holiday Goods at M. M. Williams' drug store.

Benefit Entertainment.

The Father Mathew socities of this village and Oswego Falls unite in giving a benefit entertainment to Father Early in Stephens Opera House to-morrow evening. The entertainment will consist of musical selections, addresses, recitations, &c., a comic drama entitled "That Rascal Pat" by the Father Mathew socieities and Indian songs and acts by Nenemooska and her daughter "Little White Dove." Admission 25 cents.

Zion Church.

On Thanksgiving Day there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at half past eight in the morning. Morning Prayer and sermon at eleven o'clock.

THE FIRST PRIZE AWARDED

By the Unanimous Vote of the People of Central New York for having the very best ulster in the world for $6.00. The very best four button cutaway corkscrew suits at $10.00. The very best Chinchilla overcoat with satin sleeve lining at $16.50. The very best child's cassimere suits at $3.00. The very best imported all wool custom-made dress suits at $15.00. The very best working pants at 75c. The very best union at $1.50. The very best all wool pants at $4.00. No other house can equal the bargains always on sale at the prince of bargain houses, Central City Clothing Co. 20 East Genesee St. Syracuse, N. Y.

Post Office.

The last mail going east and west now closes at 4:45 p. m.

The post office will be open from 8 a.m. to 10 a. m. and from 3:30 to 5 p. m. on Thanksgiving.

A Card of Thanks.

I take this opportunity to return thanks to the many kind friends who were so lovingly helpful and tenderly sympathetic in our recent bereavement. "I was a stranger and ye took me in, sick and ye visited me."

MRS. S. P. CROSS.

M. M. Williams has just returned from New York with the largest assortment of Holiday Goods ever shown in Fulton. Don't fail to see them.

Special Prices For Carpets, Furniture &c.

A. A. Graff & Co., No's 61 & 63 South Salina Street, Syracuse, offer for the next 30 days, as a special bargain, 100 Parlor suits embossed plush, solid walnut frame, 7 pieces for $35.00; 75 chamber suits, 10 pieces for $35.00; 50 pieces tapestry carpet 60c a yard and 70 pieces extra super ingrain carpet 55c a yard.

We will deliver all purchases freight, prepaid to any part of the state. Now the time for Bargains.

[illegible] in Oswego on Christmas eve.

Canalers have about finished their work for the season.

The village schools have a vacation until next Monday.

The C. L. S. C. meet this evening at the home of Mrs. John Robinson.

Store windows about town are beginning to assume a holiday appearance.

The new sidewalk at the approach to the bridge in Lower Oswego Falls is a vast improvement.

Five days more remain in which advantage may be taken of our offer 25 books of your own selection, free.

E. G. Messenger, Supt. of the Howe Ventilating Stove Works, received a patent last week on a heating stove.

A. J. Thayer has been elected trustee of the Universalist society. The other trustees are Rufus Brown and Mr. Boyd of Granby.

C. O. Smith moves his family to Cortland this week where he himself has been engaged in the flour and feed business since last August.

Department cammander J. I. Sayles in an official order announces that the next annual encampment of the G. A.R. will be held in Albany February 3, 1887.

The new ticket and express office of the D. L. & W. road on First street is now used as such. It makes a pleasant and convenient waiting room for passengers desiring to take the street cars.

Thomas Carr formerly dyer of the Riverside & Oswego factories is to be married to-morrow to Miss Lena, daughter of Joseph Robinson, proprietor of the Oxford Woolen Mills of Oxford, Me.

The Oswego Falls brass band made their first appearance in public on last Wednesday evening and made a favorable impression. There are 27 members all Good Templars. They cleared about $20 from their social.

"Hoodman Blind" at the opera house last Saturday evening was witnessed by an intelligent and appreciative audience. Many present considered it the best play and the most perfect acting that they had seen in years. The scenery was excellent.

District attorney Mead and assistant district attorney Stranahan were at Hackensack, N. J., last week endeavoring to secure the release of James Dyer formerly of this village, who was convicted of criminal assault on a woman over six months ago and sentenced to six months imprisonment, a fine of $100 and costs of court, the whole amounting to about $179. Dyer during his term of incarceration became a privileged character in the Hackensack prison. He acted as sort of assistant jailor, and was allowed to go about the streets. About a week before his term expired he met the foreman of the jury that had convicted him and handled him rather roughly. Considerable indignation is held by the citizens of Hackensack against the jailor, and Dyer was held to await the action of the grand jury.

OBITUARY.

Edward Cross died at the home of his mother cor. of Oneida and Sixth streets last Friday morning of consumption aged 19 years. Funeral services were held at the Baptist church at South Richland last Monday afternoon at 2 p. m., Rev. Mr. Barnes officiating. He was the son of the late Rev. Erastus Cross, who was for over five years pastor of the Baptist church at South Hannibal;

Two 1886 Gold Medals.

Messrs. Mason & Hamlin again have the distinguished honor of having been awarded the highest gold medal over all exhibitors, American and European, both at Liverpool and Edinburgh, the two most important exhibitions of the year 1886. Since the first great Paris exhibition of 1867, the Mason & Hamlin Organs have invariably received the highest honors at all great world's exhibitions. The new mode of piano construction, invented and introduced by Mason & Hamlin in 1882, is no longer an experiment but an assured success, tested and proved, many of the best judges having pronounced it "the greatest improvement in pianos of the century." By it musical tones of remarkable brightness and purity are obtained, and tuning is required less than one-quarter as often as in the old system. An illustrated catalogue, fully explaning the improvements, will be sent free to any address.

The very choicest qualities of teas, coffees and spices and all shelf groceries sold for cash at WHOLESALE PRICES at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 24tf

PURE WHITE CLOVER HONEY

Forms the base of Dr. Van Wert's Balsam and this being combined with the most potent remedial agents which modern medical investigation has discovered, the whole forms an incomparable remedy for all throat and lung troubles. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Trial sizes free.

For torpid liver use Van Wert's Pills. Van Wert's Golden Balm is a certain cure for Catarrh. 23m6

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

Save time and labor! Neat and Compact.

Endorsed by the Postoffice Department, and recommended by the Postmaster General as the "best device of the kind that he ever saw."

—To be had only at the—
FULTON TIMES JOB OFFICE.

Stephens Opera House,

YOUNGS BROS, & CO. Managers,

ONE NIGHT ONLY.

Saturday Ev'n'g, Nov. 27.

The Young Emotional Actress,

Miss Josephine Cameron,

Supported by a Select Company in Hermann Mirivales great Masterpiece,

FORGET-ME-NOT,

She won the good opinion and applause of the audience by the thorough conception of the part and her naturalness.—New York World, Sept. 21.

[illegible]

This village has been greatly agitated during the past week. Early last Friday morning Herman C. Giesler, the well-known druggist and Deputy Sheriff Poole were arrested on a warrant sworn out by Dr. W. H. Loomis of this village, charging them with extortion and blackmail. Giesler and Poole appeared before Recorder Bulger of Oswego on Friday and gave bail to appear for examination Saturday. In the meantime a warrant was issued charging Dr. Loomis with grand larceny in stealing and taking away from the store of H. C. Giesler cigars, medicines &c., to the amount of $350. Loomis was arrested on this charge and taken before Justice Hulett, and gave bail for his appearance in the sum of $500 for Monday morning. This examination has been adjourned until Monday, Nov. 29.

On Saturday morning the case was brought up before Recorder Bulger at Oswego, Hon. H. C. Howe appearing for the defendants and Hon. N. W. Nutting and Giles S. Piper for the complainant. The case opened with a discussion on whether the court had jurisdiction in the matter. Mr. Howe claiming that the crime if any had been committed was in the village of Fulton and should be tried there. Mr. Piper showed that in this case the Fulton Police, Justice was disqualified. Mr. Howe also stated that proceedings had been commenced in Fulton against Dr. Loomis and thought that matter should be tried first. He regarded this as simply a game of bluff on the part of Dr. Loomis. These arguments and that for a postponement were overruled and the case proceeded.

John Fairgrieve, the first witness, affirmed that he was in the drug store on the Sunday in question that he saw Dr. Loomis come in but did not see Poole while there, that he went out at the request of Giesler who said that he must lock up the store.

Nicholas Murphy testified that he was in the store on Sunday the 7th and remembered that the doctor came into the store. Did not know that Poole was in the store. Went out ahead of Fairgrieve at the request of Giesler and saw Giesler lock the door and go into the alleyway which leads among other places to the back of the store.

Edward F. Kernan testified that about Nov. 10 he had a talk with Giesler in his store, that Giesler pronounced Poole to be the dandy policeman of the town, saying that he had done a little job for him but charged $75 for it which he considered rather high.

Herbert Becker, a lad aged 11 years, testified that on the evening of the 9th or 10th of this month he carried a note for Poole to Loomis that Poole told him to hurry away and not let them know who he was.

E. A. Cook of the firm of Peebles & Cook related a conversation between Dr. Loomis and Mr. Giesler last July when the former came in and asked for cigars. Witness said Giesler was sitting in a chair and without getting up said: "help yourself, 'Doc,' and keep track of all cigars taken in that way." He acknowledged a slight coolness between himself and Giesler but said it was the fault of the latter."

Dr. Loomis testified on Monday that on last July he went into Giesler's drug store and called for a cigar that Giesler told him to help himself and to keep track of them when he took them in that way. In this way, he testified that he frequently helped himself to cigars since last July and had kept track of them and during this time had treated Giesler professionally. On the 7th of November he went into the drug store for some ammonia. Giesler took the bottle and went behind the counter on on the west side of the room nearly opposite the cigar case and took down the ammonia bottle. Dr. Loomis says that he walked behind the cigar case, on the east side of the room, in plain view of Giesler, who turned around, and took out eight cigars, seven of which he placed in his pocket and the other in his mouth. The doctor claims that he then walked over to the counter where Giesler was and asked him how nuch ammonia was in the bottle and paid him ten cents for it and started to walk toward the front part of the store looking at some fancy goods. While there he heard his name spoken by somebody in the back part of the store and looking saw Poole standing near the prescription desk and he went back to see him. Poole asked him how many cigars he had taken and he said eight, and he asked if he had paid for them and the doctor says he told him of the understanding between himself and Giesler, when Poole said: "That's too thin, doctor, we have been watching you for a long time and I've caught you at last." Loomis said he told him he kept an account of the cigars taken and Poole said that sounded well, but would not appear well if published. He told the doctor he had seen him take cigars from Williams' drug store and repeatedly from Giesler's and said the best thing that he could do was to hush the matter up. He told of the mirror that had been arranged and in a few minutes attracted Giesler's attention and got him to get the other parties out of the store. When Giesler came back Poole showed him the cigars Loomis had handed him and said he had found them in his possession. Giesler said he had missed cigars and other goods for some time and suspected the witness.

When Poole first accused me of stealing cigars I told him of the arrangement Giesler had made with me. He declared that it was "bluff" on my part. He said I had better settle as there were two against one. Giesler said that $200 would not make good his loss, that I must pay that amount or they would declare to the public the circumstances under which cigars were found in my possession. I told them I would rather pay $150 than have any scandal. I gave them $100 and gave my note for $50. Witness stated that on the 10th a demand of $350 more was made. All that I said and did after the 10th was done under the advice of friends and my counsel. A memorandum was shown in which an account was kept of cigars taken in this way. The first entry being made on July 3d and the last on November 7th.

Thos. G. Poole being a defendant did not swear but stated: I went to Giesler's store Nov. 7, and seated myself [illegible] and take cigars from case. When he started toward the door, called him back and asked him how many cigars he had paid for, he said "one," he denied having cigars in his pocket. Finally took cigars from his pocket and I showed him the black pins which had been placed in the ends. He said, "you have caught me, name your price. I'll acknowledge I have stolen these cigars and am willing to pay." Loomis called Giesler and asked him to turn the parties in the store out, asked Giesler to name his price. Giesler said that he had lost from $500 to $1,000 worth or stuff. The doctor then said he would pay $250 which Giesler after some hesitancy accepted. $100 of this was paid down, a note given for $50 and a promise to pay the other $100 in a few days. The doctor then asked each of us to raise our right hand and affirm that we would never tell of what had occurred. This we did. Cross examined—There were never any threats made of arresting Dr. Loomis, nor of publishing or exposing him in any manner whatever by Mr. Giesler or myself. I wish to show cigars taken from the doctor at that time, (produces a box containing 12 cigars.) They are the identical cigars taken from the doctor on Nov. 7. They have been in my possession ever since. I did not tell Dr. Loomis on Nov. 7 that the best thing he could do was to settle it, nor did he say on that occasion that he had permission from Mr. Giesler to help himself to cigars. I did not call Mr. Giesler back and ask him to get others out of the store. Dr. Loomis beconed him to come back. I did not say anything about publishing him in the matter nor did Mr. Giesler. Nothing was said about our being two to his one or about a job being put up on him. Mr. Giesler did not say that Dr. Loomis must pay or he would declare the circumstances under which the cigars had been found, nor did I know such a statement was made. There was no other sum talked of to be paid except the $250 and that was Dr. Loomis' own offer. I said nothing about arresting Dr. Loomis except when he asked me to name my price to settle and I told him my duty was to arrest him. There was no statement by Mr. Giesler that he had to pay me $100, what he was to pay me had not then been talked of between us. Dr. Loomis did not say to me at the Lewis house corner or elsewhere that he was sorry he had paid any money. Mr. Giesler did not say doctor I want you to come and trade with me and when you want a cigar help yourself. No such conversation took place before me. I did not say "Doctor you are a good fellow you do not want to be arrested." Neither Mr. Giesler nor I said "oh, $100 would settle everything." Dr. Loomis did not tell Mr. Giesler that he, Giesler had repeatedly told him to help himself to cigars. I did not tell Mr. Giesler at his room to go and get a warrant for Dr. Loomis. I never asked the doctor to pay $300 additional, $350 or enough to make it $500 nor did Mr. Giesler in my presence ever make such demands. Knew about note Thursday evening, Nov. 11. As I was passing Mr. Giesler's store, he called me and said the doctor had not paid him the other $100 yet. He asked me if I would take a note to the doctor asking him to meet Giesler at his room that night. I said I would. He gave me a note I went out and found a boy and gave him five cents to take it to the doctor. I did not ask the doctor on Mr. Giesler's store steps if he had succeeded in raising the money yet or that Mr. Giesler wanted to see him at his room. Nothing was said on the evening of the 18th by Dr. Loomis that I should sign a receipt.

Herman C. Giesler stated: Have resided in Fulton two and a half years. Have heard the evidence of Poole and heard it read and I declare each and every statement which it contains so far as it relates to me or to Mr. Poole so far as I know as to conversations and transactions with Dr. Loomis to be true absolutely. I did not hear Mr. P. tell Dr. L. to take any cigars from his pocket, nor did I see the Dr. take cigars from his pocket, but I saw some cigars on the prescription desk after I went around there. I don't know how many cigars I saw there. I did not count them. Mr. Poole stated the truth about the money transactions and the note. All the transactions between Dr. Loomis and myself in reference to this matter between Nov. 7 and 18 both inclusive have been correctly and truthfully stated by Poole both as to conversations and to other things which were said or done in relation to this matter. I never made a demand of Dr. Loomis for $350 nor did Mr. Poole make such a demand in my presence or hearing $250 was the only sum of money spoken of as to a settlement of the matter between the parties and there was no agreement to settle for $150. Nor was there any conversation whatever in my store on Nov. 7, as to what I should pay Poole for his services. The examination adjourned till Friday at 2 p. m.

A Fine Line of Cigars at Williams' Drug Store. [illegible]

Our sales of heavy weight Clothing during the past ten days have been very large, and our immense stock has been able to stand the attack. We have added largely to our stock during the past week, and are prepared to meet the demands of all who want Winter Clothing. Everything that is new and desirable we can show at prices lower than any other house in town. WE HAVE THE INSIDE TRACK, and are making greater efforts than ever before to please the public and retain their confidence. We are in earnest and we mean business, if good goods and low prices will draw, to have a large increase in our trade. Everyone admits that our prices are surprisingly low, and we claim an advantage over all other dealers for styles and workmanship.

PEEBLES & COOK

Opposite Opera House.

For Sale or To Rent.

The new house on First street, two blocks south of Broadway.

Inquire of H. HULETT, 28tf

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the NOVELTY CUSTOM MILL recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & Redhead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any flour or feed grinding done. Flour and feed constantly on hand. Call and try us and we guarantee satisfaction. Flour and feed delivered to any part of Fulton and Oswego Falls free of charge. 18t26

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

Remember the place to buy unadulterated groceries CHEAP is at the sign of the Red store No. 18 First street opposite the Lewis house.

24tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

For Sale or To Rent.

A Farm of 40 acres situated two miles north-west of Fulton, known as the Isaiah Conklin farm. Inquire at the premises. Mrs. Mina House. 26t5

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots, &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by

10tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

The Lambertville "Duck" Rubber Boot has no equal. They will not crack. Sold at Collins'. 25tf.

Don't miss those bargains at Draper's in Table and Hanging Lamps, China Tea Setts, and those new style (Ribbon Chamber Setts) all new goods and new prices. Call and see. 19tf

Just received at D. C. Draper's, a large order of imported crockery and China, and a fine line, all new patterns, China tea sets and chamber sets, which I will offer for the next 30 days at $1.00 less on chamber sets and $2.00 to $4.00 less on tea sets than any house in Oswego or Syracuse, to reduce part of over-stock, Call and see goods and prices, at 15 Oneida street. 17tf

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expediously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

Look at this line of

PARLOR STOVES!

WORLD'S JEWEL,
ART ROYAL,
RED CROSS.
GOLD COIN AND BEAVER.

The last two are ventilating Stoves, and sold exclusively by
SNOW & LOOMIS.

1886. 1886.

AHEAD OF ALL!

MILTON S. PRICE,

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

The Popular Dry Goods, Carpet and Furniture Dealer.

The Great Establishment Renovated. New Decorations, &c., Mammoth Show Windows, One Great Entrance from Salina Street. The most Attractive Store in the City.

PROUD AM I TO ANNOUNCE that during forty years of business experience, I have never been so well prepared to meet the wants of the public as at the present time.

READY CASH WITH EXPERIENCED BUYERS has filled my mammouth stores, running through from Salina to Clinton Streets, with a stock of

DRY GOODS, CARPETS AND FURNITURE,

Unequaled by any Establishment in Central New York.

It would be useless in this small space to attempt an enumeration of the thousands of articles displayed.

DRY GOODS and Fancy Goods,

IN ENDLESS VARIETY.

CARPETS, RUGS, &c.,

A COMPLETE STOCK.

Furniture and Curtain Draperies,

FOR THE RICH AND POOR.

I can give you better value for your money than any other house in the City.

Do not fail, when in Syracuse, [illegible]

MILTON S. PRICE,

Nos. 39 and 40 [illegible]

and 20, 22 and [illegible]

SYRACUSE [illegible]

... feed for sheep, ... scarcely any- ...

... have not been cut, do it at once ... together, and pack in sawdust in ... cellar, carefully labelling ...

Sulphur and old tobacco leaves burned in the poultry houses, the houses being closed perfectly tight, will clean out the red lice.

Fattening hogs can be fed too much, as well as not enough. Feed regular and give no more than they will eat readily. Be sure to give them pure, fresh water.

In storing potatoes the first consideration is to keep them in perfect darkness; the next is that the bins should not be too deep, nor over three feet, else it produces vermin and causes them to sprout.

It is suggested that stimulating manures are to be charged with some of the potato rot. Scientists advance different theories, some thinking it the work of insects and others that it is caused largely by degeneracy and fungi.

The troublesome swelling on fowl's feet, called "bumble-foot," is caused by something like the same process that gives the barefooted youth of America "stonebruise," and may be cured by poulticing, and keeping the fowls on a soft floor for a few days.

A. B. Allen, in the Agriculturist, advocates using a moderate quantity of pumpkins in feeding swine saying that they assist digestion and enable them to more perfectly and economically turn the food into flesh. A few roots may be used instead of pumpkins, beets and carrots being preferred.

The wheat yield of the Province of Ontario for the past season was 3,500,000 bushels less than the average of the past five years; barley 50,000 bushels less oats 3,500,000 more, and peas 3,000,000.

Racks are the best thing to store apples in. They may be made of light wall strips securely fastened to posts reaching to within about four feet of the floor. The more scattered fruit is the less apt to rot. Air is essential.

We cannot be too careful of the condition of our store houses. See that they are dry and beyond the reach of frost. If damp and cold, there will be a filthy pile of rotten fruit and vegetables to clean out in the spring.

A Neglected Crop.

It would be better for us if we considered the manure made on the farm as a crop; and it is strange that we do not do so, for it is a product of the farm and has a money value as much as corn or hay or cotton. When we once consider manure as a crop, we will take just as much pride in making a big crop of manure as of corn; and we will no more allow part of the manure crop to go to waste, than we would part of the wheat or hay crop. Generally but little can be charged against the production of the manure crop; all the cost is often the expense of harvesting (gathering and storing), this crop. On the most fertile farms this crop is worth to the farmer several times the cost of harvesting it. And it is the greatest wonder of our farming that we do not start out in the fall with a determination to make a better manure crop than our neighbor, as we start out in the spring with a determination to make a better oat, potato or tobacco crop. The cleanly man will harvest a large manure crop, because he will gather up all refuse and put it in the compost heap. He will have clean stables, clean barns, clean yards—a clean farm; and cleanliness is the preserver of health. Thus we see that while the wheat or potato crop supplies strength and energy, the manure crop, closely gathered and well kept, prevents the agents of disease from stealing away that strength. Pride in the manure crop goeth before wealth and health. —[American Agriculturist.

About Stock.

The time of year will soon be at hand when stock will begin to run down, and their value will become less.

We ought all of us to contrive some way to prevent this loss in the value of our animals. It has cost a great deal of pasture to get them into fair condition, and now to let half of it disappear with the advent of frozen grass and cold weather is a pity. When we come to restore this flesh it will cost food—pounds for each single pound. We have an idea that farmers lose about half the years gain in this animal shrinkage. Can it be avoided? It can with better care and more food. We have all along advocated the plan to sell off half the stock and feed the whole of the fodder stored up to the half of the stock kept on the farm.

We feel quite sure that half of the cows kept in fine condition will make as much butter as the whole of them, poor and requiring half of the summer to get into a paying condition.

A farmer says that years ago his father carried all the milk to the house from five cows in one pail, and now he has to have two pails to carry the milk of three cows. Six steers will only bring $25 each, when wintered on the run-down system, but when growing all winter three steers may easily be made to equal in value the whole six. The same is true of pigs or almost any stock. If breeding stock can be made to hold their own, it is well, as they do not need to be fat, only strong and healthy. Do they do it?—[Our Country Home.

... Plaster will ... pain quicker and ... better ... than a dozen other kinds.

Revenge ... Sweet.

"Alibub, I've been insulted, don't you know. Weal, downright insulted."

"... don't mean it, deah boy."

"... weally. But I got w-weal ..."

"... chappie."

... Well, what then, ...

What adds a zest to summer's joy?
Is it not winter weary?
Peace would be tame without alloy,
Past grief makes solace cheery.
All cannot win though all must run
When once life's race is started;
Yet all may hear the words, "Well done,"
So never be down hearted.

Interrupted by Bill Arp.

Here is story about Bill Arp: Years ago a certain judge was a candidate for Governor, and in making a public speech remarked: "Gentlemen, the office of Governor has been pursuing me for years." Instantly William was on his feet asking to be allowed a question. The Judge declined to be interrupted.

"All right," said William with a shrug; "if you won't answer a question for one these people ain't going to vote for you, that's certain."

"Well, go on then, and ask your question," replied the judge, snappishly.

William arose. "You say," he observed, "that the office of Governor has been pursuing you for years?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, sir," said Arp solemnly, "all I've got to say is that you are gaining on it!"

As the office has not yet overtaken the judge it is presumed that he continued to gain on it.—[Atlanta Constitution.

The simplest and best regulator of the Disordered Liver in the world, are Carter's Little Liver Pills. They give prompt relief in Sick Headache, Dizziness, Nausea, &c.; prevent and cure Constipation and Piles; remove Sallowness and Pimples from the Complexion, and are mild and gentle in their operation on the bowels. Carter's Little Liver Pills are small and as easy to take as sugar. One pill a dose. Price 25 cents.

Who Was Napoleon?

Posini—"Now, speaking of great men, what do you think of Napoleon Bonaparte?"

Miss Poindexter (from Philandlphia) —"Pshaw! he was nobody. Who was his grandfather?"

Miss Bunkerhill (from Boston) "I don't think he could have amounted to much; he had no middle name."

Miss Gotham (from New York)—"How much was he worth?"

Miss Porcine (from Chicago)—"Did he make his money before the fire or since?"

Miss Monnespan (from St. Louis)—"Did he belong to one of our old French families?"—[Rambler.

Vitality and color are restored to weak and gray hair, by the use of Ayer's Hair vigor. Through its cleansing and healing qualities, prevents the accumulation of dandruff and cures all scalp diseases.

SIXTY-TWO YEARS OLD,

But not too old to be Benefited by Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy.

Rochester, N. Y., June 2d '86.

Pardee Medicine Co.

GENTS:—I have for more than a year been troubled with what I feared was or would be paralysis. My left arm, limb and side were numb, and had it not been for the severe pain I felt at times from moving about, I should have considered the entire side lifeless. I have had poor health for years, although under good treatment most of the time, but I can truthfully say that I have received more benefit from the use of Dr. Pardee's Remedy than from any and all other treatments. The pain and numbness have entirely left me, and I am gradually gaining strength.

I can conscientiously recommend your remedy to any and all similarly afflicted. Yours truly,

MRS. L. CHAPPELL,
62 Glenwood Park.

UNABLE TO WALK FOR SIX WEEKS.

Nunda, N. Y., May 20, 1886.

Pardee Medicine Co.

GENTS:—I cannot find words in which to express my feelings for the great good your excellent remedy has done my wife who for six long weeks was unable to help herself. We had four of the best physicans we could procure, but she grew worse every day until we feared she would never be any better. I received one of your pamphlets through the mail and immediately procured some of the medicine, and the third day after she began its use she could move about the house. She has now taken five bottles and is able to do her work as easily as she has in years. She cannot recommend Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy too highly, for it does all you claim for it, and is far superior to anything we have ever used. I am yours very truly, W. W. DOOVER.

Ask your druggists for Pardee's Remedy and take no other. Price $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

THE CENTURY.

For 1886-87.

THE CENTURY is an illustrated monthly magazine having a regular circulation of about two hundred thousand copies, often reaching and sometimes exceeding two hundred and twenty-five thousand. Chief among its many attractions for the coming year is a serial which has been in active preparation for sixteen years. It is a history of our own country in its most critical time as set forth in

The Life of Lincoln,

BY HIS CONFIDENTIAL SECRETARIES, JOHN G. NICOLAY AND COL. JOHN HAY.

This great work, begun with the sanction of President Lincoln, and continued under the authority of his son, the Hon. Robert T. Lincoln, is the only full and authoritative record of the life of Abraham Lincoln. Its authors were friends of Lincoln before his presidency; they were most intimately associated with him as private secretaries throughout his term of office, and to them were transferred upon Lincoln's death all his private papers. Here will be told the inside history of the civil war and of President Lincoln's administration,—important details of which have hitherto remained unrevealed, that they might first appear in this authentic history. By reason of the publication of this work,

THE WAR SERIES,

which has been followed with unflagging interest by a great audience, will occupy less space during the coming year. Gettysburg will be described by Gen. Hunter (Chief of the Union Artillery), Gen. Longstreet, Gen. E. M. Law, and others; Chickamauga, by Gen. D. H. Hill; Sherman's March to the Sea, by Generals Howard and Slocum. Generals Q. A. Gilmore, Wm. F. Smith, John Gibbon, Horace Porter, and John S. Mosby will describe special battles and incidents. Stories of naval engagements, prison life, etc., etc., will appear.

NOVELS AND STORIES.

"The Hundredth Man," a novel by Frank R. Stockton, author of "The Lady, or the Tiger?" etc., begins in November. Two novelettes by George W. Cable, stories by Mary Hallock Foote, "Uncle Remus," Julian Hawthorne, Edward Eggleston, and other prominent American authors will be printed during the year.

SPECIAL FEATURES.

(with illustrations) include a series of articles on affairs in Russia and Siberia, by George Kennan, author of "Tent Life in Siberia," who has just returned from a most eventful visit to Siberian prisons; papers on the Food Question, with reference to its bearing on the Labor Problem; English ... Religious Life in the ... Men and Women of Queen ... Clergymen, ... by the Rev. J. M. ... articles throwing light on ...

... A FREE COPY ...

PLASTERS

Clean, fragrant, curative and highly medicated, prepared from Fresh Hops, Balsams, Extracts and Gums, spread on white muslin.

They relieve and vitalize weak parts, subdue inflammation and instantly banish pain, whether in the Back, Side, Hip, Leg, Kidneys, Joints, Shoulder, Chest, Bowels, Stomach or Muscles. Powerfully soothing, pain-allaying and strengthening. The best plaster on earth in the verdict of thousands. Mailed for price by proprietors.

Hop Plaster Company, Boston, Mass.

☞Swindlers abroad! This plaster is spread on white muslin, ready for instant use. HOP PLASTER CO., signature on every plaster.

Ex-President Andrew D. White, of Cornell is said to have the finest historical library in the country. It numbers over 30,000 volumes, besides many valuable manuscripts.

Catarrh

Is a very prevalent and exceedingly disagreeable disease, liable if neglected, to develop into serious consumption. Being a constitutional disease, it requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the system, effecting a radical and permanent cure of catarrh in even its most severe forms. Made only by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Wedding receptions have gone completely out of fashion, and small breakfasts for relatives and intimate friends have taken their place, according to the New York Sun.

Home Rule for Ireland

Is only a question of time and it is only a question of time when a neglected Cough will lead to Consumption. We guarantee that the timely administration of Van Wert's Balsam will stop any Cough. For sale by H. G. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are very thorough in operation. Van Wert's Golden Balm cures Catarrh without irritation.

It is said that the widow of Senator Matt Carpenter, now on a European tour, will visit Rome and will be received into the Roman Catholic church.

THE COMMANDER IN-CHIEF.

of the Grand Army of the Republic, Maj. George S. Merrill. Few remedies are better known in this vicinity than Sulphur Bitters; their sale has been very general throughout this section, and the number of reliable, and well attested cases of beneficial results and recovery by their use is large and undisputed.

The money left ex-Judge Hilton by Mrs. Stewart in trust will amount to more than ten millions, and he can spent it as he sees fit.

Children Starving to Death

On account of their inability to digest food, will find a most marvelous food and remedy in Scott's Emulsion. Very palatable and easily digested. Dr. S. W. Cohen of Waco, Texas, says: "I have used your Emulsion in Infantine wasting. It not only restores wasted tissues, but gives strength and increases the appetite." 264w

The new Thiers statue at Marseilles is already mud-spotted by the Socialists, who have no great respect for the departed statesman.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

Mrs. E. J. Nicholson, the owner and manager of the New Orleans Picayune, is a practical journalist in all that the name implies.

Babies that are fretful, peevish, cross, or troubled with Windy Colic, Teething Pains, or Stomach Disorders, can be relieved at once by using Acker's Baby Soother. It contains no Opium or Morphine, hence is safe. Price 25 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

Saratoga has a woman bill-poster who handles the pastebrush with the skill of an expert. She inheirited the business from her husband.

Jeffersonian Simplicity.

Can be practiced by using Van Wert's Balsam for all Throat and Lung diseases, as it well save unnecessary doctors bills. For sale by H. C. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are free from injurious substances. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure catarrhal Headaches.

Rose Terry Cook, the authoress, resides in a little old-fashioned mansion near the village of Winstead, Conn.

Thousands of cases of Consumption are cured every year by Acker's celebrated English Remedy. It is a guaranted preparation; if it does not help you it will cost you nothing. Try it. A single dose will show its good effect. Trial bottles 10 cts. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

Some one has figured out that 1,000,000 dollar bills weigh 2,841 pounds.

No woman can be contented and happy if her skin is covered with pimples and bloches. These disfiguring eruptions are easily removed by means of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine is perfectly safe to take, and is a thoroughly reliable blood purifier.

Frederick Douglass goes from London to Paris and thence to Rome.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 51y1

There are 8,000 miles of overhead wires in London.

LIPPINCOTT'S · LIPPINCOTT'S · LIPPINCOTT'S

Leads all other Magazines
In Tales of Fiction — A New Departure
Poems of Interest
Pleasing Short Stories
Interesting Miscellany — 25 cts.
Notes of Progress
NEARLY — Choice Selections
200 — Original Contributions
PAGES IN EACH ISSUE — Topics of the Times
Terse Gems

A Complete New Novel ... Representative Men ... in each issue ...

UNDERTAKER

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store ... First St. the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 5ll

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 33m6

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

ADVERTISERS
can learn the exact cost of any proposed line or advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

WE WANT 5,000 MORE BOOK AGENTS TO SELL OUR NEW BOOK.

Secret OF THE POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT. Service By P. H. WOODWARD, late Chief of P. O. Detective Corps.

A NEW BOOK JUST PUBLISHED by an official of over 15 years' experience in the Secret Service, in one Magnificent Royal Octavo Volume of over 600 pages and elegantly illustrated by the best artists in the country with

200 SUPERB ENGRAVINGS.

A thrilling record of detection in the U. S. Post-Office Department; embracing sketches of Wonderful Exploits of Post-Office Inspectors in the Detection, Pursuit, and Capture of Robbers of the U. S. Mails; together with a complete description of the many means and complicated contrivances of the wily and unscrupulous to defraud the public; also an accurate account of the

FAMOUS STAR ROUTE FRAUDS,

in which the Author had entire charge of the preparation of the evidence for the government.

☞AGENTS WANTED.☜

In every town there are Postmasters, Merchants, Mechanics, Farmers, Professional Men, and hundreds of people who will be glad to get this thrilling book. It is now having an unparalled sale; it sells at sight to all. Men and Women Agents making from $100 to $200 a month easily. We want an agent in every township in the U. S. and Canada. ☞ We give instructions so that ANY PERSON with this phenomenal selling book can become a successful Agent. No Competition whatever. Agents are meeting with unparalleled success. ☞ Distance no hindrance, as we give Special Terms to pay Freights. Remember, we give you the exclusive sale of this book in territory assigned you. Write for our large Illustrated Circulars, containing full particulars, Special Terms to Agents, etc., sent free to all. Address immediately the Publishers,

WINTER & CO., SPRINGFIELD, MASS.

The Bloodthirsty Anarchists

Are foes to the health of our political institutions, but Coughs and Colds are greater foes to bodily health. Van Wert's Balsam will certainly cure all Coughs. For sale by H. C. Giesler.

Van Wert's Pills are very mild in action. Van Wert's Golden Balm is agreeable to use.

Eighty-seven per cent of the population of London do not go to church. It is estimated that the non-church goers in American cities are about 70 per cent of the population.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

Since ex-Secretary Lincoln's retirement from public life his legal practice is said to have quadrupled in volume and value.

If you would enjoy your dinner and are prevented by Dyspepsia, use Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. They are a positive cure for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Flatulency and Constipation. We guarantee them. 25 and 50 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

Mrs. Mackay's dress-makers are understood to be pledged not to duplicate her dresses for any one else.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

Edwin Booth's illness in New York cost him $2,560 a night, and that doesn't include the doctor's bill, either.

HANDSOME VERSUS HOMELY.

Who is that fine looking lady that we just passed, Clara? Why, that is Mrs. Snow. Well there what a change; when I saw her last, her skin was so sallow and muddy looking, it is no wonder I didn't know her. What has produced that lovely complexion? I heard that she took Sulphur Bitters, the great Blood Purifier, and now would not be without them.

Enough people have gone into Kansas within a year to found a city the size of Baltimore.

The reason why Acker's Blood Elixir is warranted, is because it is the best Blood Preparation known. It will positively cure all Blood Diseases, purifies the whole system, and thoroughly builds up the constitution. Remember, we guarantee it. H. C. Giesler.

New York has 10,197 saloons, 447 churches, 121 public schools, and votes accordingly.

It Astonished the Public to hear of the resignation of Dr. Pierce as Congressman to devote himself solely to his labors as a physician. It was because his true constituents were the sick and afflicted everywhere. They will find Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" a benificent use of his scientific knowledge in their behalf. Consumption, bronchitis, cough, heart disease, fever and ague, intermittent fever, dropsy, neuralgia, goitre or thick neck, and all diseases of the blood, are cured by this world-renowned medicine. Its properties are wonderful, its action magical. By druggists.

Abram S. Hewitt is sixty-four years old and sixty-four inches high.

"Say why is everything
Either at sixes or at sevens?"

Probably, my dear nervous sister, because you are suffering from some of the diseases peculiar to your sex. You have a "dragging-down" feeling, the back-ache, you are debilitated, you have pains of various kinds. Take Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" and be cured. Price reduced to one dollar. By druggists.

New York is said to be the third German city in the world.

Only $1 was received by the Grant monument committee in New York during the past month.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY,

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopoeia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL

Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

ARTISTS' MATERIALS For every department Select Studies and all Novelties. China Fired and Gilded. LaCroix Latest Colors and Special Brushes. Kensington and Lustre Outfits a Specialty. FLOWER MAKERS SUPPLIES.

Best Goods. Lowest Prices. Prompt attention.

PRICE LIST FREE.

W. H. BAUMGRAS & CO.,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

FITS STOPPED FREE

She ... the ring that bell,
For she is single yet;
But if another one should try,
She wouldn't ring "you bet."
—[Detroit Free Press.

A profane upstart—The man who sits on a pin.—[Whitehall Times.

Now is the time to look over last season's sealskin-sacque jokes, and brush the moth off them.—[Puck.

Why is a fat man like water? Because neither can run up hill.—[Burlington Free Press.

The first strike on record was made by Cain.—[Goodall's Sun.

A stopped-up geyser is an ex-spurt in its way.—[Merchant Traveler.

It is very unhealthy for a growing boy to smoke tobacco—particularly if his father catches him at it.—[Somerville Journal.

A book agent was shot in Texas the other day. Let us hear no more about the uncivilized west.—[Boston Post.

One old "Vet" to another—What were you a minor officer? Other old "Vet"—No, I was a major.—[Whitehall Times.

It is a notorious fact that a man who gets tight every day, and keeps tight all the time, is called a person of loose habits.—[Toledo American.

"Waiter, is this an old or a new herring that you brought me?" "Can't you tell?" "No." "Well, then, what difference does it make?"—[Fliegende Blatter.

Now is the season to ask your best girl if she wouldn't like a plate of ice cream. But mind you walk hurriedly by the oyster shops.—[Somerville Journal.

Trousers are to be worn longer at the knees, for which change we are very thankful, as the old style always bag there unless the wearer does his praying standing up.—[Omaha World.

It is the man who owes a year's subscription and never advertises who talks despairingly of his local paper.—[Germantown Independent.

Why do we always talk about putting on a coat and vest? Who puts on a coat before the vest? We also say shoes and stockings. What's the matter with us anyhow?—[Philadelphia Call.

"Johnny," said the country editor to the "devil," "my mother-in-law is dead and we want a crape for the door. Take the printing office towel up to the house and hang it on the knob."—[Boston Courier.

"Did you carry that prescription to old Mrs. Smith last night?" said a doctor to his office boy. "Yessir." "Did she take it?" "Yessir." "How do you know?" "Crape on the door this morning."—[Lynn Union.

Kindly Old Lady—"What's the matter, little boy?" Little Boy (crying)—"I just lost five cents." Kindly Old Lady (giving him a nickel)—"Well, here is five cents more for you, so don't cry. How did you lose it?" Little Boy (feeling better)—"I lost it pitchin' pennies." —[Harper's Bazar.

"What a lot o' style them young marryin' couples is puttin' on nowadays with their ushers and bridesmaids, and what not. When M'ria and me got hitched we got on the same old horse's back and rode hum."—[New York Journal.

An Arkansas man made a bullet out of a piece of plug tobacco and shot it through the body of a wildcat. The animal died. Here we have another forcible illustration of the fatal effects of tobacco on the system.—[Norristown Herald.

Omaha Girl.—"Pa, there is talk of forming an archery club in our set. May I join?" Omaha Pa.—"I saw a girl's archery club practicing the other day, and I am afraid I can't afford to bear my share of the expense." "Why, bows and arrows don't cost much." "No; but it takes so much lumber to build a mark."—[Omaha World.

Brace Up.

You are feeling depressed your appetite is poor, you are bothered with headache, you are figetity, nervous and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whisky, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave in worse condition than before. What you want is an alterative that will purify your blood, start healthy action of Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at R. E. Phillips' drug store.

Miss Mollie Garfield is said to be a very handsome young lady.

What Fools We Mortals Be.

Wife—"A penny for your thoughts, my dear."

Husband—"I was thinking of one of Shakspeare's sayings: 'What fools we mortals be.'"

Wife—"I suppose that does come home to you rather hard at times, but what particular recollection brought about this train of thought?"

Husband—"The recollection of our courtship, dear, when I used to call you 'Birdie.'"—[Drake's Magazine.

If sick headache is misery, what are Carter's Little Liver Pills if they will positively cure it? People who have used them speak frankly of their worth. They are small and easy to take.

To Soothe the Savage Breast.

"Mary, suppose you sing something."

"Oh, it's so late, Charlie. I'm afraid it'll awake every one."

"That's too bad," exclaimed Charlie, with every appearance of distress.

"But why do you want me to sing, dear?" she tenderly inquired.

"Why, you see," he replied, "a fellow I owe $5 to has been waiting outside all the evening for me, and I thought maybe if you'd sing a little he'd go away."—[Pittsburg Dispatch.

Their Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at R. E. Phillips' drug store as their giving away to their costumers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

Eight million umbrellas are made annually in the United States.

... "Ah, my little dear," said he, as he took a girl of 5 on his lap, "are you the oldest of the family?" "No ma'am," responded the little miss, with the usual accuracy of childhood, "my pa's older'n me."—[St. Paul Herald.

Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" are perfect preventitives of constipation. Inclosed in glass bottles, always fresh. By all druggists.

A Good Word that Works both Ways.

When a man draws a big prize in the lottery he says, "Hello!" When he draws a blank he reverses the exclamation and puts the accent strong on the other syllable.—[Cambridge Chronicle.

Rheumatism

It is an established fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has proven an invaluable remedy in many severe cases of rheumatism, effecting remarkable cures by its powerful action in correcting the acidity of the blood, which is the cause of the disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. PROUDFOOT, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT
German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.

Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.

The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS.

$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.

Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.

Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.

General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use SULPHUR BITTERS, and you will not be troubled.

SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.

Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.

SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

OVER WORKED Women

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERT'SEMENTS

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful Cure at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE, No. 41, West 31st St., New York City.

DYSPEPSIA.—Its Nature, Causes Prevention and Cure. By JOHN H. MCALVIN, Lowell Mass., 14 years Tax Collector. Sent free to any address.

KNABE

PIANOFORTES,

UNEQUALED FOR

Tone, Touch, Workmanship and Durability.

WILLIAM KNABE & CO.,
Nos. 204 and 206 West Baltimore St., Baltimore,
No. 112 Fifth Avenue, New York.

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Gives Relief at once and Cures Cold in Head, CATARRH, HAY FEVER. Not a Liquid, Snuff or Powder. Free from injurious Drugs and Offensive odors.

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. Circulars free.

ELY BROTHERS,
Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PATENTS ...

... Oswego—At the Court House in Oswego, ... first and third Tuesday in each month ... August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. ... in Pulaski, January 3d, and on the ... in March, May, June, Sept., Nov. and Dec.

FULTON—At the office of C. H. David, ... Fulton, on the second Thursday in January, ... July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and ... and the fourth Friday in October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 29th and September ...

PARISH—At A. N. & J. S. Ludington's law office, April 30th, July 30th and Sept. 30th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LaFayette Alfred, late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at her residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 19th day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated May 12th. 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALFRED,
Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the town of Volney, or to W. D. Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886. LUCY K. HUBBARD,
Executrix.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Alice Hethington as administratrix of the goods, chattels and credits of William S. Hethington, deceased, against Josiah C. Mosher, Nellie Sears, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis and Josephine Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.—Dated this 12th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington, defendants:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. Pardon C. Williams, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 15th day of October, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego Co., N. Y., at Oswego, N. Y., on October 15, 1886.—Dated Oct. 15, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT.—County of Oswego. Alice Hethington vs. Nellie E. Sears, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Josephine Hethington, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Marcus F. Cralan, Newell W. Stowell, Smith Craver, William Craver and Josiah C. Mosher.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the Complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this Summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the County of Oswego.—Dated this 26th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington—defendants.

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication, pursuant to an order of Hon. John C. Churchill, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 28th day of October, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego County at Oswego, N. Y., on October 28th, 1886. Dated October 28, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys.
Office and Post Office address, Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Nellie E. Sears against John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Josephine Hethington and Alice Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 4th day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington.

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. J. C. Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 5th, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego county, at Oswego city, N. Y. Yours &c.,

C. H. DAVID,
Pl'ffs Atty.,
Fulton, N. Y.

10 PER CENT. INVESTMENT, SECURITY ABSOLUTE. THE MORTGAGE, Ipswich, Dakota, will loan your money on BOND and MORTGAGE from 8 to 10 per cent. Mortgage made to you direct. Bond payable at your own Bank or in New York as you prefer, and has for SALE COUNTY, CITY, and SCHOOL BONDS, that will net 7 to 12 per cent. Will furnish as reference the names of gentlemen residing in THIS COUNTY for whom it has invested money. CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED. 16m3

$350 PER MONTH.—Salary and commission, to competent Manager for this City or State Agency. A splendid combination. Our AUTOMATIC GAS GOVERNORS save 33 per cent. in gas bills. Our Silvex Gas Lights can be attached to any fixture, instantly changing the dull, sickly, yellow flame of any gas to a soft, mellow, luminous white increasing brilliancy 50 per cent. Over 8,000 in service. Address,

THE UNION NATIONAL GAS SAVING CO.
17m3 21 East 14th St., New York.

Agents Wanted for the Great War Book

Just Published, entitled

THE SOLDIER IN OUR CIVIL WAR,

THE MOST COMPLETE AND INTERESTING

PICTORIAL HISTORY of the GREAT CONFLICT

Containing 100 MAMMOTH BATTLE SCENES, each 14½ x 20 inches; 400 FULL-PAGE ILLUSTRATIONS, 9½ x 14½ inches; AND UPWARDS OF 500 PORTRAITS, MAPS, AND BATTLE SCENES, By the great War Artists, Forbes, Waud, Taylor, Becker, Lovie, Schell, Crane, and others.

These Engravings were produced at a cost of over $100,000. The book gives a complete epitome of the Battles, Sieges, and Strategic Movements of the opposing armies, based upon the best authority, northern and southern, making an accumulation of reliable and unbiased historical facts not possible to be obtained in any of the histories written during the progress of or since the War.

The work is carefully edited from data obtained from the most authentic authorities, and the descriptions of battles, incidents, and historical facts, are furnished by the leading Soldiers of both armies and includes biographies of the most notable Generals and Commanders.

A complete Chronological List of every skirmish, engagement, battle, and all important events, from the Election of Lincoln to the Grand Review at Washington.

Published in (2) magnificent volumes, size 11x17 inches, nearly 1,000 pages. Price, complete, $12.00.

I want One Agent in every Grand Army Post, town and county. ☞Any person, with this book, can become a successful Agent. Full instructions to new beginners. For terms to agents, address

G. W. DILLINGHAM, Publisher, New York.
Successor to G. W. Carleton & Co.

A Magnificent Outfit Sent Free.

A RARE CHANCE.

THE AMERICAN HORSE COLLAR

Endorsed and used by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Prolong the life of the horse, are a humane ... tion, secure thirty per cent. more work, ... effecting a revolution. To a practical ... harness man we will upon receipt of ... give the agency of this town for our ... a continued advertisement in this ... name attached thereto.

Price of Sample Collar ...

Address ...

THE FULTON TIMES.

INETEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 30

1.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY DECEMBER 1, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

THE STORY OF A MINE.

By BRET HARTE.

[Copyrighted, 1886, by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., and published by arrangement with them.]

CHAPTER XV.

HOW IT BECAME UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The closing of the —— congress was not unlike the closing of the several preceding congresses. There was the same unbusiness-like, impractical haste; the same hurried, unjust and utterly inadequate adjustment of unfinished, ill-digested business, that would not have been tolerated for a moment by the sovereign people in any private interest they controled. There were frauds rushed through; there were long-suffering, righteous demands shelved; there were honest, unpaid debts dishonored by scant appropriations; there were closing scenes which only the saving sense of American humor kept from being utterly vile. The actors, the legislators themselves, knew it, and laughed at it; the commentators, the press, knew it and laughed at it; the audience, the great American people, knew it and laughed at it. And nobody for an instant conceived that it ever, under any circumstances, might be otherwise.

The claim of Roscommon was among the unfinished business. The claimant himself, haggard, pathetic, importune and obstinate, was among the unfinished business. Various congressmen, more or less interested in the success of the claim, were among the unfinished business. The member from Fresno, who had changed his derringer for a speech against the claimant, was among the unfinished business. The gifted Gashwiler, uneasy in his soul over certain other unfinished business in the shape of his missing letters, but dropping oil and honey as he mingled with his brothers, was king of misrule and lord of the unfinished business. Pretty Mrs. Hopkinson, prudently escorted by her husband, but imprudently ogled by admiring congressmen, lent the charm of her presence to the finishing of unfinished business. One or two editors, who had dreams of a finished financial business, arising out of unfinished business, were there also, like ancient bards, to record with pæan or threnody the completion of unfinished business. Various unclean birds, scenting carrion in unfinished business, hovered in the halls or roosted in the lobby.

The lower house, under the tutelage of the gifted Gashwiler, drank deeply of Roscommon and his intoxicating claim, and passed the half-empty bottle to the senate as unfinished business. But, alas! in the very rush, and storm, and tempest of the unfinishing business, an unlooked-for interruption arose in the person of a great senator whose power none could oppose, whose right to free and extended utterance at all times none could gainsay. A claim for poultry, violently seized by the army of Sherman during his march through Georgia, from the hencoop of an alleged loyal Irishman, opened a constitutional question, and with it the lips of the great senator.

For seven hours he spoke eloquently, earnestly, convincingly. For seven hours the old issues of party and policy were severally taken up and dismissed in the old forcible rhetoric that had early made him famous. Interruptions from other senators, now forgetful of unfinished business, and wild with reanimated party zeal; interruptions from certain senators mindful of unfinished business and unable to pass the Roscommon bottle, only spurred him to fresh exertion. The tocsin sounded in the senate was heard in the lower house. Highly excited members congregated at the doors of the senate and left unfinished business to take care of itself.

Left to itself for seven hours, unfinished business gnashed its false teeth and tore its wig in impotent fury in corridor and hall. For seven hours the gifted Gashwiler had continued the manufacture of oil and honey, whose sweetness, however, was slowly palling upon the congressional lip; for seven hours Roscommon and friends beat with impatient feet the lobby and shook fists, more or less discolored, at the distinguished senator. For seven hours the one or two editors were obliged to sit and calmly compliment the great speech which that night flashed over the wires of a continent with the old electric thrill. And, worse than all, they were obliged to record with it the closing of the —— congress, with more than the usual amount of unfinished business.

A little group of friends surrounded the great senator with hymns of praise and congratulations. Old adversaries saluted him courteously as they passed by with the respect of strong men. A little woman with a shawl drawn over her shoulders, and held with one small brown hand, approached him timidly:

"I speak not the English well," she said gently, "but I have read much. I have read in the plays of your Shakespeare. I would like to say to you the words of Rosalind to Orlando when he did fight: 'Sir, you have wrestled well, and have overthrown more than your enemies.'" And with these words she was gone.

Yet not so quickly but that pretty Mrs. Hopkinson, coming—as Victrix always comes to Victor, to thank the great senator, albeit the faces of her escorts were shrouded in gloom—saw the shawled figure disappear.

"There," she said, pinching Wiles mischievously, "there! that's the woman you were afraid of. Look at her. Look at that dress. Ah, heavens! look at that shawl! Didn't I tell you she had no style?"

"Who is she?" said Wiles sullenly.

"Carmen de Haro, of course," said the lady vivaciously. "What are you hurrying away so for? You're absolutely pulling me along."

Mr. Wiles had just caught sight of the travel-worn face of Royal Thatcher among the crowd that thronged the staircase. Thatcher appeared pale and distrait; Mr. Harlowe, his counsel, at his side, rallied him.

"No one would think you had just got a new lease of your property, and escaped a great swindle. What's the matter with you? [illegible] de Haro passed us just now. It was she [illegible] spoke to the senator. Why did you not [illegible] her?"

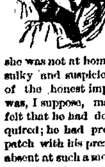
"[illegible] was thinking," said Thatcher gloomily.

"[illegible], you take things coolly! And certainly you are not very demonstrative towards the woman who saved you to-day. [illegible] as you live, it was she who drew [illegible] of the senator."

[illegible] reply, but moved away. [illegible] Carmen de Haro, and was [illegible]

CHAPTER XVI.

AND WHO FORGOT IT.



It was somewhat inconsistent with Royal Thatcher's embarrassment and sensitiveness that he should, on leaving the Capitol, order a carriage and drive directly to the lodgings of Miss De Haro. That on finding she was not at home, he should become again sulky and suspicious, and even be ashamed of the honest impulse that led him there, was, I suppose, manlike and natural. He felt that he had done all that courtesy required; he had promptly answered her dispatch with his presence. If she chose to be absent at such a moment, he had at least done his duty. In short, there was scarcely any absurdity of the imagination which this once practical man did not permit himself to indulge in, yet always with a certain consciousness that he was allowing his feelings to run away with him—a fact that did not tend to make him better humored, and rather inclined him to place the responsibility of the elopement on somebody else. If Miss De Haro had been home, etc., etc., and not going into ecstacies over speeches, etc., etc., and had attended to her business, i. e., being exactly what he had supposed her to be—all this would not have happened.

I am aware that this will not heighten the reader's respect for my hero. But I fancy that the imperceptible progress of a sincere passion in the matured strong man is apt to be marked with even more than the usual haste and absurdity of callous youth. The fever that runs riot in the veins of the robust is apt to pass your ailing weakling by. Possibly there may be some immunity in inoculation. It is Lothario who is always self-possessed and does and says the right thing, while poor honest Cœlebs becomes ridiculous with genuine emotion.

He rejoined his lawyer in no very gracious mood. The chambers occupied by Mr. Harlowe were in the basement of a private dwelling once occupied and made historic by an Honorable Somebody, who, however, was remembered only by the landlord and the last tenant. There were various shelves in the walls divided into compartments, sarcastically know as "pigeon holes," in which the dove of peace had never rested, but which still perpetuated in their legends the feuds and animosities of suitors now but common dust together. There was a portrait, apparently of a cherub, which on nearer inspection turned out to be a famous English lord chancellor in his flowing wig. There were books with dreary, unenlivening titles—egotistic always, as recording Smith's opinions on this and Jones' commentaries on that. There was a handbill tacked on the wall, which at first offered hilarious suggestions of a circus or a steamboat excursion, but which turned out only to be a sheriff's sale. There were several oddly shaped packages in newspaper wrappings, mysterious and awful in dark corners, that might have contained forgotten law papers or the previous week's washing of the eminent counsel. There were one or two newspapers, which at first offered entertaining prospects to the waiting client, but always proved to be a law record or a supreme court decision. There was the bust of a late distinguished jurist, which apparently had never been dusted since he himself became dust, and had already grown a perceptibly dusty mustache on his severely judicial upper lip. It was a cheerless place in the sunshine of day; at night, when it ought by every suggestion of its dusty past to have been left to the vengeful ghosts, the greater part of whose hopes and passions were recorded and gathered there; when in the dark the dead hands of forgotten men were stretched from their dusty graves to fumble once more for their old title deeds; at night, when it was lit up by flaring gaslight, the hollow mockery of this dissipation was so apparent that people in the streets, looking through the illuminated windows, felt as if the privacy of a family vault had been intruded upon by body-snatchers.

Royal Thatcher glanced around the room, took in all its dreary suggestions in a half weary, half indifferent sort of way, and dropped into the lawyer's own revolving chair as that gentleman entered from the adjacent room.

"Well, you got back soon, I see," said Harlowe briskly.

"Yes," said his client, without looking up, and with this notable distinction between himself and all other previous clients, that he seemed absolutely less interested than the lawyer. "Yes, I'm here; and, upon my soul, I don't exactly know why."

"You told me of certain papers you had discovered," said the lawyer suggestively.

"Oh, yes," returned Thatcher with a slight yawn. "I've got here some papers somewhere"—he began to feel in his coat pocket languidly—"but, by the way, this is a rather dreary and God-forsaken sort of place! Let's go up to Welcker's, and you can look at them over a bottle of champagne."

"After I've looked at them, I've something to show you, myself," said Harlowe; "and as for the champagne, we'll have that in the other room, by and by. At present I want to have my head clear, and yours too—if you'll oblige me by becoming sufficiently interested in your own affairs to talk to me about them."

Thatcher was gazing abstractedly at the fire. He started. "I dare say," he began, "I'm not very interesting; yet it's possible that my affairs have taken up a little too much of my time. However—" he stopped, took from his pocket an envelope, and threw it on the desk—"there are some papers. I don't know what value they may be; that is for you to determine. I don't know that I've any legal right to their possession—that is for you to say, too. They came to me in a queer way. On the overland journey here I lost my bag, containing my few traps and some letters and papers 'of no value,' as the advertisements say, 'to any but the owner.' Well, the bag was lost, but the stage driver declares that it was stolen by a fellow passenger—a man by the name of Giles, or Stiles, or Biles——"

"Wiles," said Harlowe earnestly.

"Yes," continued Thatcher, suppressing a yawn; "Yes, I guess you're right—Wiles. Well, the stage driver, finally believing this, goes to work and quietly and unostentatiously steals—I say, have you got a cigar?"

"I'll get you one."

Harlowe disappeared in the adjoining room.

Thatcher dragged Harlowe's heavy, revolving desk-chair, which never before had been removed from its sacred position, to the fire, and began to poke the coals abstractedly.

[illegible], reinforced with cigars and [illegible]

"Nonsense! When I'm busy I often sit here and write until after midnight. It's so quiet!"

"D—mnably so!"

"Well, to go back to the papers. Somebody stole your bag, or you lost it. You stole ——"

"The driver stole," suggested Thatcher, so languidly that it could hardly be called an interruption.

"Well, we'll say the driver stole, and passed over to you as his accomplice, confederate or receiver, certain papers belonging ——"

"See here, Harlowe, I don't feel like joking in a ghostly law office after midnight. Here are your facts. Yuba Bill, the driver, stole a bag from this passenger, Wiles, or Smiles, and handed it to me to insure the return of my own. I found in it some papers concerning my case. There they are. Do with them what you like."

Thatcher turned his eyes again abstractedly to the fire.

Harlowe took out the first paper.

"A-w, this seems to be a telegram. Yes, eh? 'Come to Washington at once. Carmen de Haro.'"

Thatcher started, blushed like a girl, and hurriedly reached for the paper.

"Nonsense. That's a mistake. A dispatch I mislaid in the envelope."

"I see," said the lawyer dryly.

"I thought I had torn it up," continued Thatcher after an awkward pause. I regret to say that here that usually truthful man elaborated a fiction. He had consulted it a dozen times a day on the journey, and it was quite worn in its enfoldings. Harlowe's quick eye had noticed this, but he speedily became interested and absorbed in the other papers. Thatcher lapsed into contemplation of the fire.

"Well," said Harlowe, finally turning to his client, "here's enough to unseat Gashwiler, or close his mouth. As to the rest, it's good reading—but I needn't tell you—no legal evidence. But it's proof enough to stop them from ever trying it again—when the existence of this record is made known. Bribery is a hard thing to fix on a man; the only witness is naturally particeps criminis;—but it would not be easy for them to explain away this rascal's record. One or two things I don't understand: What's this opposite the Hon. X's name, 'Took the medicine nicely, and feels better!' and here, just in the margin, after Y's, 'Must be labored with?'"

"I suppose our California slang borrows largely from the medical and spiritual profession," returned Thatcher. "But isn't it odd that a man should keep a conscientious record of his own villainy?"

Harlowe, a little abashed at his want of knowledge of American metaphor, now felt himself at home. "Well, no. It's not unusual. In one of those books yonder there is the record of a case where a man, who had committed a series of nameless atrocities, extending over a period of years, absolutely kept a memorandum of them in his pocket diary. It was produced in court. Why, my dear fellow, one half of our business arises from the fact that men and women are in the habit of keeping letters and documents that they might — I don't say, you know, that they ought, that's a question of sentiment or ethics—but that they might destroy."

Thatcher half mechanically took the telegram of poor Carmen and threw it in the fire. Harlowe noticed the act and smiled.

"I'll venture to say, however, that there's nothing in the bag that you lost that need give you a moment's uneasiness. It's only your rascal or fool who carries with him that which makes him his own detective."

"I had a friend," continued Harlowe, "a clever fellow enough, but who was so foolish as to seriously complicate himself with a woman. He was himself the soul of honor, and at the beginning of their correspondence he proposed that they should each return the other's letters with their answer. They did so for years, but it cost him ten thousand dollars and no end of trouble after all."

"Why?" asked Thatcher simply.

"Because he was such an egotistical ass as to keep the letter proposing it, which she had duly returned, among his papers as a sentimental record. Of course somebody eventually found it."

"Good night," said Thatcher, rising abruptly. "If I stayed here much longer I should begin to disbelieve my own mother."

"I have known of such hereditary traits," returned Harlowe with a laugh. "But come, you must not go without the champagne." He led the way to the adjacent room, which proved to be only the ante-chamber of another, on the threshold of which Thatcher stopped with genuine surprise. It was an elegantly furnished library.

"Sybarite! Why was I never here before?"

"Because you came as a client; to-night you are my guest. All who enter here leave their business, with their hats, in the hall. Look; there isn't a law book on those shelves; that table never was defaced by a title deed or parchment. You look puzzled? Well, it was a whim of mine to put my residence and my workshop under the same roof, yet so distinct that they would never interfere with each other. You know the house above is let out to lodgers. I occupy the first floor with my mother and sister, and this is my parlor. I do my work in that severe room that fronts the street; here is where I play. A man must have something else in life than mere business. I find it less harmful and expensive to have my pleasure here."

Thatcher had sunk moodily in the embracing arms of an easy chair. He was thinking deeply; he was fond of books, too, and, like all men who have fared hard and led wandering lives, he knew the value of cultivated repose. Like all men who have been obliged to sleep under blankets and in the open air, he appreciated the luxuries of linen sheets and a frescoed roof. It is, by the way, only your sick city clerk or you dyspeptic clergyman, who fancy that they have found in the bad bread, fried steaks, and frowzy flannels of mountain picnicing the true art of living. And it is a somewhat notable fact that your true mountaineer or your gentleman who has been obliged to honestly "rough it," does not, as a general thing, write books about its advantages, or implore their fellow mortals to come and share their solitude and their discomforts.

Thoroughly appreciating the taste and comfort of Harlowe's library, yet half envious of its owner, and half suspicious that his own earnest life for the past few years might have been different, Thatcher suddenly started from his seat and walked towards a parlor easel, whereon stood a picture. It was Carmen de Haro's first sketch of the furnace and the mine.

"I see you are taken with that picture," said Harlowe, pausing with the champagne bottle in his hand. "You show your good taste. It's been much admired. Observe how splendidly that firelight plays over the sleeping face of that figure, yet brings out by very contrast [illegible] Those rocks are [illegible]; what a [illegible] You [illegible]

Spanish lover of hers, whom she believed to have been murdered there. It's a ghastly fancy, isn't it?"

Two things annoyed Thatcher; first the epithet "lover," as applied to Concho by another man; second, that the picture belonged to him; and what the d—l did she mean by——

"Yes," he broke out finally; "but how did you get it?"

"Oh, I bought it of her. I've been a sort of patron of her ever since I found out how she stood towards us. As she was quite alone here in Washington, my mother and sister have taken her up, and have been doing the social thing."

"How long since?" asked Thatcher.

"Oh, not long. The day she telegraphed you she came here to know what she could do for us, and when I said nothing could be done except to keep congress off, why she went and did it. For she, and she alone, got that speech out of the senator. But," he added, a little mischievously, "you seem to know very little about her?"

"No—I—that is—I've been very busy lately," returned Thatcher, staring at the picture. "Does she come here often?"

"Yes, lately, quite often; she was here this evening with mother; was here, I think, when you came."

Thatcher looked intently at Harlowe. But that gentleman's face betrayed no confusion. Thatcher refilled his glass a little awkwardly, tossed off the liquor at a draught, and rose to his feet.

"Come, old fellow, you're not going now. I shan't permit it," said Harlowe, laying his hand kindly on his client's shoulder. "You're out of sorts. Stay here with me to-night. Our accommodations are not large, but are elastic. I can bestow you comfortably until morning. Wait here a moment, while I give the necessary orders."

Thatcher was not sorry to be left alone. In the last half hour he had become convinced that his love for Carmen de Haro had been in some way most dreadfully abused. While he was hard at work in California, she was being introduced in Washington society by parties with eligible brothers, who bought her paintings. It is a relief to the truly jealous mind to indulge in plurals. Thatcher liked to think that she was already beset by hundreds of brothers.

He still kept staring at the picture. By and by it faded away in part, and a very vivid recollection of the misty, midnight, moonlit walk he had once taken with her came back, and refilled the canvas with its magic. He saw the ruined furnace; the dark, overhanging masses of rock, the trembling intricacies of foliage, and, above all, the flash of dark eyes under a mantilla at his shoulder. What a fool he had been! Had he not really been as senseless and stupid as this very Concho, lying here like a log? And she had loved that man! What a fool she must have thought him that evening! What a snob she must think him now!

He was startled by a slight rustling in the passage, that almost ceased as he turned. Thatcher looked toward the door of the outer office, as if half expecting that the lord chancellor, like the commander in "Don Juan," might have accepted his thoughtless invitation. He listened again; everything was still. He was conscious of feeling ill at ease and a trifle nervous. What a long time Harlowe took to make his preparations. He would look out in the hall. To do this it was necessary to turn up the gas. He did so, and in his confusion turned it out!

Where were the matches? He remembered that there was a bronze something on the able that, in the irony of modern decorative taste, might hold ashes or matches, or anything of an unpicturesque character. He knocked something over, evidently the ink—something else—this time a champagne glass. Becoming reckless, and now groping at random in the ruins, he overturned the bronze Mercury on the center table, and sat down hopelessly in his chair. And then a pair of velvet fingers slid into his, with the matches, and this audible, musical statement:

"It is a match you are seeking? Here is of them."

Thatcher flushed, embarrassed, nervous—feeling the ridiculousness of saying "Thank you" to a dark somebody—struck the match, beheld by its brief, uncertain glimmer Carmen de Haro beside him, burned his fingers, coughed, dropped the match, and was cast again into utter darkness.

"Let me try!"

Carmen struck a match, jumped briskly on the chair, lit the gas, jumped lightly down again, and said: "You do like to sit in the dark—eh? So am I—sometimes—alone."

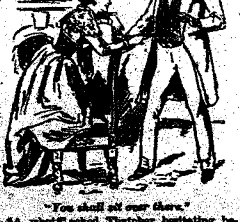
"Miss de Haro," said Thatcher, with sudden, honest earnestness, advancing with outstretched hands, "believe me, I am sincerely delighted, overjoyed, again to meet——"

She had, however, quickly retreated as he approached, ensconcing herself behind the high back of a large antique chair, on the cushion of which she knelt. I regret to add also that she slapped his outstretched fingers a little sharply with her inevitable black fan as he still advanced.

"We are not in California. It is Washington. It is after midnight. I am a poor girl, and I have to lose—what you call—'a character.' You shall sit over there"—she pointed to the sofa—"and I shall sit here"—she rested her boyish head on the top of the chair—"and we shall talk, for I have to speak to you, Don Royal."

Thatcher took the seat indicated, contritely, humbly, submissively. Carmen's little heart was touched; but she still went on over the back of the chair.

"Don Royal," she said, emphasizing each word at him with her fan, "before I saw you —ever knew of you—I was a child. Yes, I was but a child! I was a bold, bad child—and I was what you call a—a—'forgaire'!"



"You shall sit over there."

"A what?" asked Thatcher, hesitating between a smile and a sigh.

"A forgaire!" continued Carmen, demurely. "I did of myself write the names of other [illegible]," when Carmen was excited she lost the control of the English tongue; "I did write [illegible] found that it was so—of a verity—but not all the time. Look at me not now, Don Royal—it is a 'forgaire' you stare at."

"Carmen!"

"Hoosh! Shall I have to hit you again?" I did overlook all the papers. I found the application; it was written by me. There."

She tossed over the back of her chair an envelope to Thatcher. He opened it.

"I see," he said gently, "you repossessed yourself of it!"

"What is that—'r-r-r-e—possess?'"

"Why!"—Thatcher hesitated—"you got possession of this paper—this innocent forgery—again."

"Oh! You think me a thief as well as a forgaire. Go away! Get up. Get out."

"My dear girl——"

"Look at the paper! Will you? Oh, you silly!"

Thatcher looked at the paper. In paper, handwriting, age and stamp it was identical with the formal, clerical application of Garcia for the grant. The indorsement of Micheltorena was unquestionably genuine. But the application was made for Royal Thatcher. And his own signature was imitated to the very life.

"I had but one letter of yours wiz your name," said Carmen, apologetically; "and it was the best poor me could do."

"Why, you blessed little goose and angel," said Thatcher, with the bold, mixed metaphor of amatory genius, "don't you see——"

"Ah, you don't like it—it is not good?"

"My darling!"

"Hoosh! There is also an 'old cat' up stairs. And now I have here a character. Will you sit down? Is it of a necessity that up and down you should walk and awaken the whole house? There!"—she had given him a vicious dab with her fan as he passed. He sat down.

"And you have not seen me nor written to me for a year?"

"Carmen!"

"Sit down, you bold, bad boy. Don't you see it is of business that you and I talk down here; and it is of business that ozzer people up stairs are thinking. Eh?"

"D—n business! See here, Carmen, my darling, tell me"—I regret to say he had by this time got hold of the back of Carmen's chair—"tell me, my own little girl, about—about that senator. You remember what you said to him?"

"Oh, the old man? Oh, that was business! And you say of business, 'd—n.'"

"Carmen!"

"Don Royal!"

* * * * * *

Although Miss Carmen had recourse to her fan frequently during this interview, the air must have been chilly, for a moment later, on his way down stairs, poor Harlowe, a sufferer from bronchitis, was attacked with a violent fit of coughing, which troubled him all the way down.

"Well," he said, as he entered the room, "I see you have found Mr. Thatcher, and shown those papers. I trust you have, for you've certainly had time enough. I am sent by mother to dismiss you all to bed."

Carmen, still in the arm chair, covered with her mantilla, did not speak.

"I suppose you are by this time lawyer enough to know," continued Harlowe, "that Miss De Haro's papers, though ingenious, are not legally available, unless——"

"I chose to make her a witness. Harlowe, you're a good fellow! I don't mind saying to you that these are papers I prefer that my wife should not use. We'll leave it for the present—unfinished business."

They did. But one evening our hero brought Mrs. Royal Thatcher a paper containing a touching and beautiful tribute to the dead senator.

"There, Carmen, love, read that. Don't you feel a little ashamed of your—your—your lobbying——"

"No," said Carmen promptly. "It was business—and if all lobbying business was as honest—well?——"

THE END.

Lippincott's Monthly Magazine.

To the December number of Lippincott's Monthly Magazine, Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett contributes the complete novel, "Miss Defarge," a study of-life in the household of a dissolute, spendthrift English lord, which affords ample scope for both pathos and humor. E. P. Roe, the most popular of all American novelists, contributes a story in his characteristic vein, entitled "A Ghost on Christmas Eve." A delightful little extravaganza is Seawell Sidney's "Maid Marian." The literary auto-biography is furnished by John Habberton, who writes with modesty and dignity, and with a humor and good humor that are very captivating. Another auto-biographical sketch of unique interest is that in which Charlotte Adams tells "How I Became an Artist's Model." Junius Henri Browne, in "Newspaperism Reviewed," makes a very clever, entertaining and good-tempered answer to Conde Piallen's article article on "Newspaperism," in the November number. Frank G. Carpenter discusses "The Presidents as Gastronomers," and gives a good deal of curious information gathered from authentic sources. The departments of Monthly Gossip and Book Talk are as bright as ever. The poetry is furnished by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Charles L. Hildreth, William H. Hayne, Mark Mallow and Helen Gray Cone. "A Bachelor's Blunder," by W. E. Norris, is concluded in this number, and in future the publication of serial stories will be entirely discontinued, a complete novel being furnished with every number.

ROYAL
ROYAL BAKING POWDER
ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Jane M'Crea.

Although being aware that the reading public are acquainted with the history of this lovely young lady yet it may not be deemed out of place to refresh the mind with a few incidents connected with her tragic fate.

Miss M'Crea was the daughter of a clergyman who died in New Jersey before the revolution. After her parent's death she came to reside with her brother whose home was a short distance below Fort Edward on the Hudson. Here she formed an acquaintance with a young gentleman by the name of Jones to whom it was supposed she was engaged to be married. When the war commenced Jones, took the side of the British and became a Lieutenant in Burgoyne's army.

Fort Edward is situated on the east bank of the Hudson and at the time referred to was surrounded by a plain of considerable extent which was cleared of wood and cultivated.

On the road leading to the north at a little distance from the fort is the house which at the commencement of the war was occupied by Mrs. M'Neil, a widow and an acquaintance of Mrs. M'Crea with whom she was staying. A little farther on at the summit of the hill is a beautiful never failing spring of water, the hill being covered with trees and shrubs and a majestic pine spreading its branches over the spring. A picket was stationed at a short distance on the hill.

Early one morning the picket guard was attacked by a party of Indians who rushed through the woods, rending the air with their hideous yells. One of the guard whom they had captured was standing near the spring looking down the hill and saw a small party of Indians coming with Mrs. M'Crea and Mrs. M'Neil. This party had hardly joined the other Indians when there appeared to be much agitation with harsh words and violent jestures until they finally engaged in a furious quarrel and beat each other with their muskets.

In the midst of the fight of the savages a chief turned toward Miss M'Crea and instantly buried his tomahawk in her brain. Grasping her hair he instantly took off her scalp and with a yell of exultation brandished it in the air. At this instant the quarrel ceased and the fort having been alarmed, the Indians repaired to General Frazier's encampment taking with them Mrs. M'Neil, also taking with them the scalp of Mrs. M'Crea which they presented to her lover. A message was sent to her brother with the affecting intelligence who soon carried and took the remains which had been thrown by the Indians into a ravine near the spring and had them interred in the old burial ground in the present village of Fort Edward and on the bank of the Champlain canal.

Tradition relates and with seeming truth that through some means she had been advised by Jones to remain in the house of Mrs. M'Neil until an opportunity should present itself to meet him although she had been reminded of her danger by the people of the fort. It is said that when they saw the Indians coming to the house they were frightened and attempted to escape, but one of the Indians holding up a letter their fears were calmed, and Miss M'Crea on opening the letter found it to be from her lover with a request that she should put herself in charge of the Indians who would guard her safely to the British camp, Jones having promised them a prize for so doing.

Unfortunately two chiefs acting independently of each other had united in the enterprise and quarreled about the division of the prize and to end the dispute committed the dreadful deed. The chief seeming not to comprehend the object of his mission and regarding her in the light of a prisoner supposed her scalp would be an acceptable trophy. Jones had unconsciously brought about her death and with these terrible reflections mingled with blasted hopes he was heart broken and in a few years sank into the grave.

The inhabitants of Fort Edward have long since removed the remains of Miss M'Crea from their former resting place and placed them in a beautiful cemetery a mile north of the village.

The ceremony was solemn and impressive. A procession of young people followed the remains thus exhibiting an honorable proof of their respect for the dead.

The Hudson winds around the brow of the old fort and flows on with all its former majesty. At this point are seen the beautiful Adirondacks in the distance. The grounds of the fort are strewn with brick of which the fort was constructed, the brick having been imported from Holland.

After visiting the fort I repaired to the house once occupied by Mrs. M'Neil. Entering the yard I saw sitting in the small porch a venerable and very aged gentleman who answered to the appellation of Esquire Rogers. He seemed to be in a pensive mood, but becoming acquainted with the object of my visit immediately threw of the shadow that had momentarily bound him, his eyes sparkled with their wonted brilliancy and he became very communicative saying that he was not disposed to make any changes in the former construction of the house except that he had fastened the two parts of the massive double door together, the hinges reaching nearly across the width, and the fireplace with the same old crane and hooks. The general aspect of the interior being that of ease, comfort and modest luxury. The appearance of modern taste contrasting strangely with the ancient structure. Esquire Rogers is a man of considerable wealth, whose grandson and his wife have the superintendance of the household, although the old [illegible] [illegible] the road. The memorable pine having been shorne of its branches by visitors and also by the winds of many years has at last disappeared nothing remaining but the stump, from which I took a splinter as a memento, and sitting under the shade of the beautiful trees which surround the sacred spot, which seemed to chant a requiem for the departed. The dark ravine just below my feet and a dense thicket just beyond, which seemed as though I might almost see the savage forms emerging from the thicket. Rising from my shady seat I looked for a cup and finding none I removed my glove and kneeling down I dipped up water and drank from my hand at the historic spring. The spring has been laid up with brick and a rough covering over it. The spring is utilized by pipes leading under ground to many of the dwellings of the village of Fort Edward. Following the same road north to the distance of a mile I came to the cemetery. The grave is near the front entrance and is marked by a high broad slab of very ancient appearance telling of her tragic death and that it was presented by her niece. Fresh flowers had been recently placed upon the grave thus perpetuating the memory of the lonely Jane M'Crea.

MRS. E. V. B.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO.,
New York City.

THE GREATEST AND THE BEST.

The Large Double Weekly, Religious and Secular

NEW YORK
OBSERVER.
(Established 1823.)

UNDENOMINATIONAL, EVANGELICAL, UNSECTARIAN, AND NATIONAL.

A Safe Paper for the Family.

THE NEW YORK OBSERVER
CAN BE TRUSTED.

It Stands by the Old and Tried Truths in Religion Morals, Education, and in all Public and Private Matters.

It is Conservative of all Good Things. It steadily Opposes Evil and Sin in every form. The OBSERVER is the well-known enemy of

INTEMPERANCE,
INFIDELITY,
AND ROMANISM.

It is a paper that has opinions, and can defend them; which has a faith, and holds to it. The NEW YORK OBSERVER is a living and growing Power in this land. It contains all the News of the World: The Best Thoughts of the Ablest Authors and correspondents everywhere; Poetry, Book Reviews, Notes and Queries. Departments for Teachers, Students, Business Men, Farmers, Parents and Children.

EVERY CHRISTIAN SHOULD READ IT.
EVERY PARENT SHOULD READ IT.
EVERY CITIZEN SHOULD READ IT.

Price $3.00 a-year, in Advance.
Clergymen, $2.00 a-year.
$1.00 commission allowed on New Subscribers.
Send for Sample Copy, free. Address.

NEW YORK OBSERVER,
New York.

2Sw3

MASON & HAMLIN
UNRIVALED ORGANS

On the EASY PAYMENT system, from $3.25 per month up. 100 styles, $22 to $900. Send for Catalogue with full particulars, mailed free.

UPRIGHT PIANOS,

Constructed on the new method of stringing, on similar terms. Send for descriptive Catalogue.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO.,
Boston, New York, Chicago.

BENSON'S CAPCINE
POROUS PLASTER

Highest Awards of Medals in Europe and America.

The neatest, quickest, safest and most powerful remedy known for Rheumatism, Pleurisy, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Backache, Weakness, colds in the chest and all aches and pains. Endorsed by 5,000 Physicians and Druggists of the highest repute. Benson's Plasters promptly relieve and cure where other plasters and greasy salves, liniments and lotions, are absolutely useless. Beware of imitations under similar sounding names, such as "Capsicum," "Capsuin," "Capsicine," as they are utterly worthless and intended to deceive. Ask for BENSON'S AND TAKE NO OTHERS. All druggists. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Proprietors, New York.

LIPPINCOTT'S—LIPPINCOTT'S—LIPPINCOTT'S

Leads all other Magazines
In Tales of Fiction
Poems of Interest
Pleasing Short Stories
Interesting Miscellany
Notes of Progress
Choice Selections
Original Contributions
Topics of the Times
Terse Gems
Superlative Merit

A New Departure
25 cts.
NEARLY 200 PAGES IN EACH ISSUE

A Complete New Novel by some favorite author in each No.

Giving a library of 12 new and valuable works, worth from $15.00 to $18.00 annually, at the nominal sum of 25 cents per month. Subscription, $3.00 yearly. Stories by John Habberton, Frances Hodgson Burnett, Julian Hawthorne, Lucy C. Lillie, etc., etc., will appear in early issues. Circulars giving details, etc., mailed on application.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY,
[illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS., Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Eggleston's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
32 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.

Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. S. S. WHITAKER, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON
Office in drug store on Broadway in Oswego Falls. Office hours from 6 to 9 a. m.; 12 to 2 and 7 to 9 p. m.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼to
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.

☞Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.

THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE

Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of

Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.

Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.

☞Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, adivce, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

LUMBER! LUMBER!

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed.
DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c,

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

O. RUST.

37tf

MAKE HENS
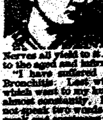
LAY.

SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER

is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. It is strictly a medicine to be given with food. Nothing on earth will make hens lay like it. It cures chicken cholera and all diseases of hens. Is worth its weight in gold. Illustrated book by mail free. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail for 25 cents in stamps. 2¼-lb. tin cans, $1; by mail, $1.20. Six cans by express, prepaid, for $5.00. DR. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

Strange but True.



Disease under many forms is but one thing—Bad Blood. The persistent cough lingers because the blood has insufficient healing power. Parker's Tonic cures disease by enabling the stomach to send nourishment to the blood. How simple, yet how wonderful! Diseases of the Throat, Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Stomach and Nerves all yield to it. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm.

"I have suffered for years with Cough and Bronchitis. Last winter I caught a severe cold which went to my lungs. For two weeks I coughed almost constantly, I could not lie down. I could not speak two words without stopping to [illegible]

[illegible] Coats a [illegible] charge of ten [illegible] persons going out of Oswego [illegible] must be accompanied by a [illegible] or a private guarantee of good [illegible]

[illegible] advertising made known on application [illegible] or by letter.

[illegible] printing of all kinds neatly and promptly [illegible] at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as [illegible] matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to The Times.

F. D. VanWagenen,
Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office, or moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[Thackeray.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

Henry M. Stanley, the African explorer, is in New York, having returned to America after an absence of thirteen years. A banquet was given him on Saturday evening, over which Whitelaw Reid presided.

A big steal of all the registered letters and valuable packages contained in twenty-two sacks of English and American mail was made on a train in Belgium last Saturday. The robbery was cleverly effected. A new padlock was substituted for the broken one, and this threw the officers off the scent until the terminus was reached. Five travelers from Dover are suspected. The value of the money and diamonds taken is put at $200,000.

Dr. John P. Gray, Superintendent of the State Lunatic Asylum at Utica died Monday afternoon shortly before three o'clock from a disease affecting his heart and kidneys which was aggravated by a difficulty in breathing, arising from a pistol wound received about four years ago at the hands of a discharged patient. Dr. Gray stood at the head of his profession in this country as an expert on insanity. He was an important witness for the government in the trial of Guiteau who shot President Garfield. Dr. Gray was over 60 years of age.

Thirst for glory impelled Miss Sadie Allen, aged 18, to make the perilous trip through the whirlpool rapids at Niagara last Sunday. She accompanied George Hazlett of Buffalo, in the torpedo shaped barrel, in which he had previously made the trip and is thoroughly cured of her desire for glory. This is the fourth time that this perilous journey has been made in safety. A man, named William Kurz, also jumped from the Brooklyn bridge on Monday with the intention of committing suicide, in his descent he turned two somersaults and struck the water flat on his back. Although he is terribly broken up the chances are that he will recover. It is fast becoming evident that the Rapids and the Brooklyn bridge do not "fill the bill." That aspirants for dime museum honors will have to turn their attention to other points and might attain renown by jumping either from the torch of the Bartholdi statue or from the top of the Washington monument.

During the great Bi-Centennial celebration at Albany, in July, the Albany Evening Journal printed a magnificent souvenir of the event. The leading feature of it is the colored illustrations of the grand Bi-Centennial Pageant, after the style of the Mardi Gras. The souvenir is superbly printed in colors, and is mailed to any address for 15 cents, by The Journal Co., Albany, N. Y. It is a large, handsome book, well worth preservation in any library.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure now on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials. Address,

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

☞Sold by Druggists, 75 cts.

Boy's Knockabout (Trade Mark) School Shoes are not the cheapest but they are the best. Sold at Collins'. 25tf

Two Schooners Ashore.

The schooner Comanche, Capt. William Becker, was dismasted last week [illegible] and had been drifting on the [illegible] four days when Saturday night she [illegible] ashore at Point Peninsula. She [illegible] in Oswego by William Becker [illegible] Albert Quonce and carried a [illegible] of corn. Four trips were made [illegible] schooner to save the crew, and all [illegible] the vessel except the captain, [illegible] on the last trip coming toward [illegible] the boat filled and "Fred" [illegible] twenty-six [illegible] on the rescue, [illegible]

[illegible] to all [illegible] S. FOX [illegible]
117 North [illegible], Baltimore, Md.

COUNTY NEWS.

A new trial has been granted in the case of William White of Hannibal, convicted of seduction.

The Oswego Baptist Missionary Union holds its semi-annual meeting in the Baptist church at Central Square today.

The commission of the Mexico postmaster is one of the thirty-nine in the state that expires between Dec. 1 and March 4, 1887.

Burr Wood, a well known base bal pitcher whose parents live at Central Square died of diphtheria at the Arcade hotel, Canastota, yesterday morning.

Mrs. Henry Walace, aged 55 years, fell on a stove at her home in Oswego, Monday night and was burned to death.

Rev. H. M. Danforth, Presiding Elder in the Oswego district, preached at the M. E. Church in Pulaski on Thanksgiving evening.

Amos Dalrymple and Thomas Putnam went out in the Hayfly, South Scriba, for a hunt last Friday and brought back a fox, shot by Mr. Dalrymple, which weighed 19¾ pounds.

Saturday, Judge Churchill granted a divorce to Seth S. Eaton. The parties were married in Scriba several years ago and lived together but a short time.

Mr. A. A. Beardsley and Miss Maud E. Black both of Constantia were married at the residence of the bride's parents on November 21.

Henry Lawrence died at his home in this village at 11:30 to-day aged 41 years.

Palermo.

Mrs. James Patrick of Lockport who has been visiting in Palermo for some time, returned to her home on Saturday last.

The Thanksgiving party at the Palermo Centre house was well attended notwithstanding the stormy night and bad roads, sixty couple were present and everything passed off nicely as usual.

Gilbert Fletcher, foreman in W. H. Hannan's mill who has been very bad with the rheumatism, is gaining very slowly. He is a member of the G. A. R. Post of Vermillion and they are giving him good care.

Mrs. D. H. Trimble has had a very fine monument erected in the cemetery at Palermo Centre for her husband, L. L. Gilman.

F. H. Dolbear has returned home from South Granby where he has been making cheese during the past summer.

Bowen's Corners.

The cheese factory at Bowen's Corners closed two weeks ago. Cheeses were closed out last week Monday at 12⅛ cts.

W. H. Merriam has gone to Phoenix where he will remain most of the winter.

Frank Youngs and wife have returned to their farm at Palermo.

The Singing school is now an assured success with about 65 scholars. Mr. Graham of Fulton is the instructor. They meet every Thursday evening in the school house.

The newly organized band is doing very nicely. They serenaded E. Williams last week.

Miss Hattie Arnold who was taken sick at Plainville recently, has been taken home and is gaining very fast.

The annual cheese meeting of the stockholders of Bowen's Corners factory will be held in about two weeks.

The district school opened the winter term on last week Wednesday with a large attendance under the charge of A. J. Rogers.

W. H. Tompkins has rented his farm for 5 years to a Mr. Forth from near Ingalls crossing.

Liberty Arnold and family had a family gathering at their home on Thanksgiving day.

The marriage of Mr. Erwin Harris and Miss Minnie McCausey occurred at the home of the bride's parents in this village on Tuesday evening November 23. About forty guests were present. The marriage ceremony was performed by Elder Forbes.

Volume IV. of Alden's Cyclopedia of Literature.

This certainly is a great work of extraordinary popular interest, and it would be very strange if at its low price it should not receive an immense circulation. Though it will extend probably to 15 volumes, and will include representative selections (with biographical sketches) from nearly 2,000 of the most famous author of the world, of all ages and all nations, yet it is easily within the reach of any one able to invest so small a sum as 10 cents a week.

"The fourth volume of this excellent cyclopedia is the richest, so far. It goes from 'Cable' to 'Clarke.' For some reason, known only to Galton and other curious writers, the letter C is apparently favorable to genius. Here we find such poets as Caedmon Calderon, Callimachus, Camoens, Campbell, and Chatterton; we listen to such preachers as Chalmers, Chrysostom, and Chapin; Carlyle and Clarendom dispute for honors of history; Calvin wears the laurels of the incomparable theologian; although Cheever, Chillingworth, Channing, and Freeman Clarke are his near neighbors, and Cicero bears off the palm for oratory, while Caxton sets up his printing-press in Westminster, and, a few pages after, Crevantes launches the the immortal 'Don Quixote.' This is a delightful volume, with something in it to suit every taste."—[National Baptist, Philadelphia.

"The general excellence of this valuable work is fully maintained in the volume just received. The marvelous cheapness of this edition has placed it within the reach of many who are overjoyed to call such a work their own."—[Oregonian, Portland, Oregon.

"The present volume has eighty subjects, of whom twenty are American, which shows the attention given to American literature. The undertaking should receive the support of every one having use for reference to authors and [illegible] of the [illegible] public, [illegible] of the world's literature."—[The [illegible]

A [illegible] will [illegible] on hand for [illegible]

OBITUARY.

Sarah, daughter of Louis Lavine, died at her parents home in Oswego Falls, Monday, of inflammatory rheumatism, aged 13 years. Funeral services were held this afternoon from the Congregational church. Rev. Mr. Olmstead officiated.

The funeral of Mrs. Clorinda Pulman took place from the home of A. D. Langdon at Lower Oswego Falls yesterday at 10 a. m. She was 86 years old and a sister of the late Joel Crosby. Burial was in the cemetery near the Sixteenth district school house in Volney.

Henry Boardman died very suddenly early Monday morning from the effects of an apolectic stroke, aged 56 years and 11 months. Funeral services were held at the house at 9:30 this morning and the remains taken to Albion for burial. Mr. Boardman was about town as usual on Saturday and on Sunday morning was clean off his sidewalk when he received the shock from which he never recovered.

Henrietta Reynolds died at her home in West Granby, Monday afternoon of cancer, aged 38 years. Funeral services will be held at the house to-morrow at 11 a. m., and interment will be made in Jacksonville.

The Patriot block had a narrow escape from the fire this morning. The efficient work of the firemen alone saved it from the fate of the neighboring buildings.

"The Farmers' Poultry Raising Guide."

This is the title of a new and valuable book on poultry raising for profit. This book answers in advance every possible question in respect to keeping and caring for poultry, and gives in the plainest possible manner all needed instructions to enable beginners or old hands to carry on the business successfully, and make money. If you desire to know how to make hens lay the year round; how to fatten market poultry quickly; how to dress and ship poultry and sell eggs to obtain the highest prices; how to build inexpensive hen houses and yards; how to discover, prevent and cure all diseases of poultry; how to select and obtain choice breeds, and how men and women of long experience in the business make money, then send at once for a copy of the Farmers' Poultry Raising Guide, published by I. S. Johnson & Co., 22 Custom House St., Boston, Mass. Price 25 cents. This book is profusely illustrated with engravings of model poultry houses and runs, also many of the best breeds of hens, ducks, turkeys and geese. This work presents a matter of supreme importance to everybody, but especially to women, children and invalids, for there is probably no way by which a small but constant cash income can be secured with so little effort as by keeping and caring for hens. From now until next March the price of eggs will advance higher and higher each month. Do not, therefore delay, but send at once and get a copy of this valuable book. During the season of high prices the hens should be kept busy. For 60 cts. in stamps, Johnson & Co. will send postpaid a copy of The Farmers' Poultry Raising Guide and two 25-ct. packs of Sheridan's Powder to make hens lay, or they will send a 2¼ pound tin can of Powder at regular rate ($1.20) and a copy of the Guide free.

We recommend Carter's Iron Pills to every woman who is weak nervous and discouraged; particularly those who have thin, pale lips, cold hands and feet, and who are without strength or ambition. These are the cases for which Carter's Pills are specially prepared, and this class can not use them without benefit. Valuable for men also. In metal boxes. at 50 cents. Sold by druggists or sent by mail. See advertisement elsewhere.

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

Fulton, N. Y., Nov. 24th, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, the President and Trustees, Pardee, Kendrick, Bradford, Chase and More.

The minutes of the last two meetings read and approved.

The following bills were reported correct by the Finance Committee and the Clerk directed to draw orders on the proper funds for the amounts claimed:

Geo. F. Sharp, highway work,		$22.98
John More & Co., coal trustees room	$5.15
" " " jail,	9 80	14 95
H. Skinner, Supt. Repair Water Pipes, Engine House,		5.50
John Cavanaugh, labor at Engine House,		4.70
" " lighting lamps,		38.67

The bill of George Johnston was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Trustee Pardee presented the report of James T. Gardiner of a plan for the sewerage of the village. The report was accompanied by a detail working plan made by Mr. Gardiner in accordance with the action of the board of May 26th last—with his bill of $340 for the services rendered.

The supply committee to whom tre matter of rubber coats and boots for the new hose companies was referred reported that the cost of the same would approximate $27.

On motion the committee were authorized to procure the same.

E. E. Hart appeared before the Board, complaing of a sluiceway across Pratt street near First.

The matter was referred to the committee on streets.

The Clerk was instructed to notify W. D. Patterson to build his sidewalk on Second-st., at the junction of Oneida-st.

The Collector asked for the extension of his warrant for sixty days.

The same was done.

On motion the Board adjourned for two weeks.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 21tf

Just received at Drapers 100 of those leading $1.00 lamps—all complete with B. Burner, Illuminator and Shade. He will put the above lamps on sale Saturday at [illegible] each. Remember the place at Oneida street, where they are selling Hanging Lamps at prices that will surprise you.

[illegible] the [illegible] departments, but [illegible] the [illegible] of rain. There were family reunions and dinners that [illegible] the highest culinary skill of each household; religious services at the churches; closed Government Departments and liberated clerks, while at orphan asylums and public institutions the inmates enjoyed additions to their ordinary bill of fare, through the generosity of the charitable.

The city has a sombre appearance now on account of the Arthur mourning. Flags fly at half mast from hundreds of staffs, and public buildings are heavily draped in black. It is quite an item of expense to the Government to put up official mourning. It took twenty men three days to drape the Patent Office alone. Each of its big pillars, and there are forty-eight in all, required forty yards of bunting. Altogether about 6,000 yards were used by the Interior Department at a cost not far from $1,500. When this Department was draped for Gen. Grant the cost was nearly $1,700. But a great deal of new material was purchased at that time, some of which was utilized for Vice-President Hendricks, and some of which is now being used for the third time. Of course the expense of draping the Interior Department is greater than that of any other, because it includes the Patent Office, Indian Office, Pension Bureau, Bureau of Education, the Geological Survey, and others which are all in separate buildings.

The cost of draping the other Departments is about $150 or $175 each. The Superintendent of the Post Office Department, for instance, is disposed to economize. He buys the bunting and employs his own men and carpenters to do the work, looking after it himself. The bunting used cost thirty cents a yard. It remains up for thirty days and then it is taken down and such of it as is not tattered and faded by the wind and rain is packed away for the next occasion of public sorrow.

The President has completed portions of his message to Congress, and has read them to the Cabinet. The message will be shorter this year than last, which is a kind of reform that will be approved by everybody. The President's friends as well as his alleged enemies are kept busy denying what the newspapers accuse them of saying and thinking and planning and attempting. His old law partner, Mr. Bissell, who has just been here, denies ever having sought to influence the President in making appointments. He says Mr. Cleveland, whom he knew as Sheriff, Mayor, and Governor, always discharged the duties of these offices without much advice or assistance, and he believes he will be equally successful in his present trust. He also denies having advised the President to sell his country place as quickly as possible because of the gossip about the syndicate formed over the property to advance real estate in that direction.

And Senator Edmunds, the President's so-called bitter foe, denies some things. He denies that he is preparing an attack to be made this winter upon the President's Civil Service policy, and he says the attempt to criticize Mr. Cleveland in connection with the purchase of of his country home is unfair. The extensive improvements contemplated in the direction of "Oak View" have become a public necessity and the subject came up in Congress long before the President had ever seen the place.

One of Senator Edmunds' constituents is indignant at the allegation that the Senator intends to become a candidate for the Presidency in 1888. He says Mr Edmunds has a loftier ambition, namely: To represent Vermont in the United States Senate; and the Green Mountain State will allow him that privilege as long as he lives. "Why," asked he, "should a great statesman want a small position, like that of dispensing petty offices, to which the President has degenerated?"

This reminds me of what Joseph Howard, Jr., says about journalism and politics. He thinks Mr. Cummings, the New York journalist recently elected to Congress, is taking a step in the wrong direction by forsaking an honorable position in that sphere in order to go to Congress. Mr. Cummings explains his reasons for coming to Congress by saying that he simply wants to get behind the scenes in politics in order to make himself more competent and useful in journalism. He has no intention of giving up his newspaper work. The experienced will be of great advantage to Mr. Cummings, but it is not certain his constituents will approve his motive.

The members of the Fire Department are under great obligations to Dr Bacon, who generously supplied them with coffee during the fire this morning.

I will reduce the price on all Amberena, Wild-rose and Peach-ware, Saturday Nov. 6 '86. Also on China-Tea-Sets, Chamber-Sets and all fancy cups and saucers. Call and see goods at Draper's, Oneida St.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All [illegible]

[illegible] pink and that Gilberts Mills was making a survey of it. When this has been completed a plan for its improvement would be submitted to the association. The meeting was an interesting one throughout. The next meeting is to be held next Wednesday evening in the session room of the M. E. church.

Gilberts Mills.

Old Simon Gordon is quite sick.

Mrs. Evans is at home at present.

The Rev. Mr. Beaman, wife and daughter and Dr. Wright and wife, all of Syracuse spent Thanksgiving at Capt Cook's.

The aged Mr. Benedict's funeral services were held at the Free Baptist church last Friday, Mr. Denny officiated.

Axes and saws are the fashionable things seen on our streets at present and "How many cords of wood did you cut?" the salutation.

There was quite a gathering at X. A. Willards's Thanksgiving day. Five generations were present.

Rev. E. O. Denny preached at Oswego Falls last Sunday evening.

Looks Like a Poem but Isn't.

An irate female seeks admittance to the editor's sanctum.

"But, I tell you, Madam," protests the attendant: "that the editor is too ill to talk to any one today."

"Never mind, you let me in. I'll do the talking."

—[Puck.

The Century and St. Nicholas.

To any desiring it we will supply The Century and The Times for one year for $4.75; St. Nicholas and The Times for $3.75. 28t4

A Remarkable Case.

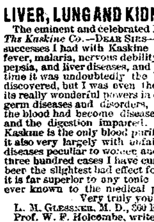
Oct. 21st, 1886.

Messrs W. H. Hooker & Co.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable. I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. He is apparently on the road to entire recovery, in the near future. I cheerfully confirm and attest to the above and believe others (from my statement) suffering, may have reason to believe in the efficacy of this excellent remedy. Very Truly,

Mrs LeSage.
26m6 Fulton, N. Y.

THE NEW QUININE.



Science emerging from Darkness.

KASKINE

WHAT THE PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT IT IN RHEUMATISM,

MALARIA, DYSPEPSIA,

NERVOUS DEBILITY,

LIVER, LUNG AND KIDNEY DISEASE.

The eminent and celebrated Dr. Glessner writes: The Kaskine Co.—Dear Sirs—"The first greatest successes I had with Kaskine were in chills and fever, malaria, nervous debility, rheumatism, dyspepsia, and liver diseases, and I considered at that time it was undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered, but I was even then unfamiliar with its really wonderful powers in curing all the other germ diseases and disorders, particularly where the blood has become diseased or impoverished and the digestion impaired. Strictly speaking, Kaskine is the only blood purifier we have. I use it also very largely with unfailing success in all diseases peculiar to women and children. In over three hundred cases I have cured there has never been the slightest bad effect following its use, and it is far superior to any tonic or nerve medicine ever known to the medical profession."

Very truly yours,
L. M. Glessner, M. D., 300 East 121st St., N. Y.

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

The U. S. Examining Surgeon, Dr. L. R. White, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

St. Francis Hospital, N. Y. "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful."

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered indispensible. It acts perfectly."

Kaskine is pleasant to take and can be used without special medical counsel.

Send for the great book of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine. $1 a bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St. N. Y.

Real Estate and Insurance

AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block, containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot at Oneida St. [illegible] to be [illegible] Will exchange for a [illegible] in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Camden, N. Y.

☞ Parties desiring to sell or rent property [illegible] obtain [illegible] are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at Fulton, N. Y. [illegible]

[illegible] PILLS.

[illegible] the stomach [illegible] properly, use Ayer's Pills. They are invaluable.

For some years I was a victim to Liver Complaint, in consequence of which I suffered from General Debility and Indigestion. A few boxes of Ayer's Pills restored me to perfect health.—W. T. Brightney, Henderson, W. Va.

For years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than anything else, to my bowels. These Pills are mild in action, and do their work thoroughly. I have used them with good effect, in cases of Rheumatism, Kidney Trouble, and Dyspepsia. —G. F. Miller, Attleborough, Mass.

Regulate

Ayer's Pills cured me of Stomach and Liver troubles, from which I had suffered for years. I consider them the best pills made, and would not be without them.—Morris Gates, Downsville, N. Y.

I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice, and was so dangerously ill that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor.—John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebraska.

Last spring I suffered greatly from a troublesome humor on my side. In spite of every effort to cure this eruption, it increased until the flesh became entirely raw. I was troubled, at the same time, with Indigestion, and distressing pains in

The Bowels.

By the advice of a friend I began taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time I was free from pain, my food digested properly, the sores on my body commenced healing, and, in less than one month, I was cured. —Samuel D. White, Atlanta, Ga.

I have long used Ayer's Pills, in my family, and believe them to be the best pills made.—S. C. Darden, Darden, Miss.

My wife and little girl were taken with Dysentery a few days ago, and I at once began giving them small doses of Ayer's Pills, thinking I would call a doctor if the disease became any worse. In a short time the bloody discharges stopped, all pain went away, and health was restored. —Theodore Esling, Richmond, Va.

Ayer's Pills,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Sold by all Dealers in Medicine.

1886.

New York Weekly Herald

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

GREATEST AND CHEAPEST

FAMILY JOURNAL

IN THE UNITED STATES.

Always Bright and Reliable.

Every Number an Epitome of the News of the World.

The Foreign Department.

Is unequaled. Latest and most accurate Cable Specials by the Commercial Cables.

[illegible]

Special Features.

Practical Farming, [illegible]
Art, Literature, [illegible]
Art, Religion, [illegible]
INFORMATION [illegible]

JAMES GORDON BENNETT,
New York Herald,
29m2 New York City.

NEW HARNESS SHOP.

The Undersigned would respectfully announce to the public that he has opened a New Harness Shop and is prepared to do all kinds of

REPAIRING

—OF—

HARNESS, TRUNKS, BUGGY TOPS, CUSHIONS, &C. &C.,

[illegible]

HARNESS

OF ALL GRADES MADE TO ORDER.

A share of public patronage solicited.
Give us a Call,

C. W. BROWN,
Cayuga St., Opposite Midland Depot.

CHEESE MARKET.

[From the Utica Herald.]

Utica, Nov. 29.

It was a d[illegible] market day [illegible] than it will be next Monday, when most of the [illegible] will be sold. There is little to be said about transactions. The majority of them were every other day skims. although there are a few full milk classes at 11½ to 12¼c. One transaction between two buyers was composed of 1,350 boxes September and October cheese at 12¼c., delivered in New York. It is claimed that this is a New York transaction and ought not to be quoted here, so we do not include it in our table. Several factories closed out their season's make to-day, but quite a number stayed away in order to be present the last day, when their cheese will be ready to go. Transactions of the day are as follows:

Lots	Boxes	Price
19	[illegible]	10[illegible] cents
2	1[illegible]	[illegible] cents
5	[illegible]	11½ cents
6	4[illegible]	12 cents
1	[illegible]	11¾ cents
1	1[illegible]	12¼ cents
	2,273
	361	Com
	2,633

Ruling price 10¼c. Transactions of corresponding day in 1885 were 2,753 boxes ruling 8c. In 1884, 3,707 boxes, ruling 11c.

We are requested to give notice that a formal meeting of the board will be held next Monday at 3 p. m., when resolutions on the oleomargarine question will be passed.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

Little Falls, Nov. 29.

Cheese—This market for the current year is so to speak on its last legs. About three thousand boxes were sold to-day, but inquiry reveals the fact that little cheese remains unsold, and it is believed that a couple of weeks more will clear out all the stock in this section. A large portion of sales to-day were of every other day cheese, but at the same time a considerable sprinkling of every day stock increased the prices on many lots.

The figures for the day are as follows:

Lots	Boxes	Price
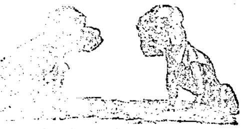
14	669	10¾ cents
8	551	11⅛ cents
14	606	11¼ cents
1	66	11¾ cents
5	338	12 cents
6	430	Com.
48	2,925
Farm dairy	375
Total	3,3[illegible]

Farm Dairies—The prices on farm dairy cheese ranged from 10¾ to 11⅝c., with the bulk at 11¼c.

Butter—[illegible] packages of butter sold at 20 [illegible]. Bulk at 20c.

We still live and feel healthy. The very disastrous effect of the Oswego county druggists' combination, upon our diet during the past year, seemed so apparent that upon consulting our bank account, and Wilcox's meat scales, we find ourselves yet, quite a ghost. The big guns of the Oswego county drug combination for the prevention of cruelty to fish, are still aimed at our council. Our diet of corn meal and onions enables us to still step heavily upon the necks of the Oswego county poor man's friends. We still hold forth at the beautiful opera house drug store and have increased our stock of Pure Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Wines, Liquors, Fancy Toilet Articles, Oils, Paints, and in fact everything pertaining to a first-class drug line. We desire to sincerely thank our many Fulton and vicinity friends who have stood by us in our past warfare and thereby enabled us to secure a good fitting out of our clothes. Our Combination Competitors have acquired such an affection for us that when we chance to pass them upon the streets, they greet us with the following smiling expression:



Remember the place, The Opera House Drug Store, Opposite the Stephens Opera House, Fulton, N. Y. H. C. GIESLER.

[illegible] Oswego, N. Y.

BOOKS, THREE CENTS EACH.

The following books are published in neat pamphlet form, many of them handsomely illustrated, and all are printed from good type upon good paper. Please examine the list and see if you do not find therein some that you would like to possess. [illegible] Each book is complete in itself:

Anecdotes of the Rebellion. [illegible]
The Life of General [illegible]
Poems, by John G. Whittier. [illegible]
Poems, by Henry W. Longfellow. [illegible]
Poems, by Alfred Tennyson. [illegible]
Parlor Amusements. [illegible]
Manual of Floriculture. [illegible]
Guide to [illegible] Knitting and Crochet. [illegible]
Famous Detective Stories. A collection of thrilling narratives of detective experience, many of them written by actual members of the police.
Yankee Wit and Humor. A collection of humorous stories, sketches, poems and paragraphs, by the leading funny men of the American press. Illustrated.
The Mystery of Blackwood Grange. A Novel. By Mrs. May Agnes Fleming.
The Evil Genius. A Novel. By M. T. Caldor.
The Story of a Storm. A Novel. By [illegible] Austin.
Out of the Sea. A Novel. By Clara Augusta.
[illegible] A Novel. By Margaret Blount.
The Heat [illegible] Farm Mystery. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins. Illustrated.
The Last of the Ruthvens. A Novel. By Miss Mulock. Illustrated.
A Dead Heart. A Novel. By Author of "Dora Thorne."
Out of the Depths. A Novel. By Hugh Conway.
The Romantic Adventures of a Milkmaid. A Novel. By Thomas Hardy.
In the Holidays. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay.
The Heir to Ashley. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood.
"Yes or No?" A Novel. By Wilkie Collins. Illustrated.
More Bitter than Death. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
Carriston's Gift. A Novel. By Hugh Conway. Ill'd.
The Fatal Lilies. A Novel. By Author of "Dora Thorne."
A Shadow on the Threshold. A Novel. By Mary C. Hay.
The Curse of Carew. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
The Blatchford Bequest. A Novel. By Hugh Conway. Illustrated.
A Queen Amongst Women. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
The Fatal Marriage. A Novel. By Miss M. E. Braddon.
A Tale of Sin. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood.
A Bridge of Love. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
A Passive Crime. A Novel. By "The Duchess."
Ingledew House. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
The Knightsbridge Mystery. A Novel. By Charles Reade. Illustrated.
Wedded and Parted. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
A Fortune Hunter. A Novel. By Annie Thomas. Ill'd.
Among the Ruins. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay. Ill'd.
Rose Lodge. A Novelette. By Mrs. Henry Wood.

☞ We will send any four of the above books by mail post-paid upon receipt of only Twelve Cents; any ten for 25 Cents; any twenty-five for 50 Cents; the entire list (50 books) for 75 Cents; the entire list bound in boards with cloth back, for $1.00. [illegible] As to our reliability, [illegible]

Special Offer! [illegible] Patterns, to be selected by yourself from a catalogue which will be sent you, or The People's Home Journal, a large 16-page, 64-column illustrated literary paper for one year. [illegible]

Address all letters: F. M. LUPTON, Publisher, No. 5 Park Place, New York.

C. F. HANCOCK,

196 West First St., Oswego, N. Y.

—AGENT FOR THE CELEBRATED—

Decker Brothers'

Matchless Pianos.

THE VERY BEST PIANOS.

Prices as low as is consistent with the highest standard.

NEW COAL FIRM.

REMEMBER THAT

HART & CULLEN

ARE SELLING THE

Wilkesbarre and Pittston Coal.

THE BEST COAL MINED.

Leave Orders at Hart & [illegible] and you will find prices very [illegible]
Coal Delivered in Fulton or Oswego [illegible]

SWAYNE'S PILLS

THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES CONQUERED BY SWAYNE'S WILD CHERRY

SWAYNE'S VERMIFUGE THE CHILDREN'S MEDICINE.

TO KEEP HEALTHY
1. EXERCISE DAILY
2. EAT GOOD FOOD
3. BE CHEERFUL
4. USE SWAYNE'S PILLS.

SWAYNE'S PANACEA PURIFIES SYPHILITIC BLOOD.

LONDON HAIR RESTORER (ENGLISH) DR. SWAYNE & SON SOLE AGENT.

OINTMENT

THE GREAT CURE FOR ITCHING PILES

& SKIN HUMOR

SYMPTOMS—Moisture, intense itching and stinging, most at night—worse by scratching—very distressing. If allowed to continue tumors form which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in many cases removes the tumors. Sent by mail for 50 cts.

DR. SWAYNE'S MEDICINES OLDEST IN U. S.

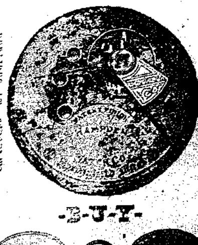
PREPARED ONLY BY DR. SWAYNE & SON, PHILADELPHIA. SOLD BY DRUGGISTS.

-BUY-

[illegible] Watches,

—AT—

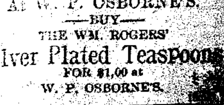
W. P. OSBORNE'S.



REPAIRED AT OSBORNE'S.

WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY,

-B-U-Y-



At W. P. OSBORNE'S.

—BUY—

THE WM. ROGERS'

Silver Plated Teaspoons

FOR $1,00 at

W. P. OSBORNE'S.

SCHOOL OF SHORT HAND

—AND—

TYPE WRITING.

CLASSES DAY AND EVENING

Lessons by Mail a Specialty.

Terms Moderate. For further [illegible] apply [illegible]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, N. Y., notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Hannah E. Beck late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present the same, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, William D. Patterson at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the [illegible] day of June, [illegible] or they will lose the benefit of [illegible] and pro[illegible]

[illegible] & W[illegible] R. R.

[illegible]

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

[illegible] Philadelphia Express......[illegible]
[illegible] and Elmira Express......[illegible]
[illegible] Accommodation......[illegible]
[illegible] and Phil. Night Express......8:38 p. m.

GOING NORTH.

[illegible] York and Philadelphia Express......8:18 a. m.
[illegible]......12:19 p. m.
[illegible]......5:49 p. m.
[illegible] and Accommodation......6:49 p. m.
[illegible] York and Philadelphia Express......9:39 p. m.
[illegible] 8:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will [illegible] Sundays.
[illegible] cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARE, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express......7:13 a. m
Freight and Accommodation......8:40 a. m
Norwich Express......3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express......9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express......6:24 a. m
Oswego Express......11:27 a. m.
Freight and accommodation......5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express......9:57 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:16	5:21
For Oswego,	9:10	1:19	5:24	6:29

☞Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 5 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS

Chas. Coon of Vernon Centre is visiting friends in town.

Miss Kittie McDonald visited friends in Phoenix last week.

Miss Ella Harrington visited friends in Phoenix last week.

Major D. Tarbell of Ithaca passed last Friday in this village.

L. T. Cahill of Albany, state bank examiner, was in town Friday and Saturday.

N. S. Allen spent Sunday in town the guest of his father-in-law, N. E. Burdick.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Slausen of Mexico are with their ill brother, U. T. Lawrence.

Miss Matie Munsell of Central Square has been visiting her friend Miss Margie Earr of this village.

Sumner McDonough left Monday to fill a position in the Government printing office at Washington.

Miss Marion Rogers of Napanee, Canada who has been visiting Miss Ada Thayer returned home yesterday.

P. Calkins left Monday for Ogdensburg to set up a stave machine for J. M. Maguire of that city. He will be gone about four weeks.

R. P. Hall is quite ill with malarial fever.

Mrs. Otto Schultz has been seriously ill for the past week.

Children's Cloaks!
Ladies' Cloaks!
In great variety and very cheap at
F. E. BACON'S.

Turn this around and see if you are interested in it.

Are you in want of a Trunk or Satchel, Cutter or Robe, Harness or Horse blanket, Bells or Whip or anything usually kept in a first-class harness store. If so we can make it interesting for you if you will call at the old stand of McCully's on Oneida Street.

Yours Truly,
R. P. McCULLY.

SOMETHING NEW.

The improved Welt $3.00 Calf Shoe equal to the best hand sewed at

COLLINS'.

Those desiring Photographs for the Holidays would do well to secure their sittings at once. We have just received a new line of Scenery and accessories for Holiday work. A new line of plush cabinet Frames in desirable patterns. Darrow, Patriot Building, Cor. 2d and Oneida Sts. 27tf

Keep Your Feet Warm. Alfred Dolye's Celebrated Felt Slippers and hoes are sold at Collins'. 28tf

CHEAP COW FEED.

Gilbert & Nichols at the Fulton Mills are selling buckwheat feed for milch cows and young stock at about the price of hay. 28w4

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

Don't trifle with any Throat or Lung Disease. If you have a Cough or Cold, or the children are threatened with Croup or Whooping Cough, use Acker's English Remedy and prevent further trouble. It is a positive cure, and we guarantee it. Price 10 and 50c by H. C. Giesler.

A handsome line of chamber sets just received by J. COOLEY TUCKER. 24tf

You will find the largest assortment of Holiday goods at M. M. Williams' Drug Store. 29tf

[illegible] of the T. A. B. Societies of Fulton and Oswego Falls. The entertainment was for the benefit of the Rev. Father Earley and this was a sufficient guarantee for a crowded house as all citizens regardless of sect and creed are desirous to encourage this zealous young priest in his great work for temperance and good order. Before the entertainment commenced the Fulton Brass tendered a serenade to the Reverend gentleman and the societies. When they finished, Father Earley thanked them for himself and the societies. The entertainment consisted of the following program:

Grand March......Parker's Orchestra
Selections......Indian Princess and White Dove
Song......Jeremiah Connors
Dialogue......Matie Allen and Grace Althouse
Select Ballad......George Perkins
Recitation—Death Doomed......Kittie E. McDonald
Banjo Solos......Parker Bros
Song......Maggie Darby
Selection......Miss Anna Martell, Syracuse
Recitation—Lips that Touch Liquor Must Never touch Mine......Anna Bogue
Solo......Lena Hardy
Solo......Thomas Wilcox
Selection......Miss Nellie Healy
Song—McNally's Row of Flats......Chas McCaffrey
Piano Solo......Miss Kerwin, Phœnix
Waltz......Orchestra

Then followed an address by Father Earley in his usual earnest vein, which was followed by the drama "That Rascal Pat" with the following cast:

Pat McNoggerly, a handy servant......J. Connors
Major Puffjacket, on half pay......Michael Nealis
Charles Livingstone, poor but ambitious......A. E. LaPorte
Lora, niece to Puffjacket, and in love......with Charles......Anna Bogue
Nancy, her maid in love with Pat......Mary Burke

The selections in the entertainment were good and the parts taken well sustained. The exhibition showed that Fulton and Oswego Falls have much musical and dramatic talent.

OBITUARY.

James German Reynolds died at his home in Granby three miles north of this village, on Wednesday Nov. 24 after a long and lingering illness, aged 75 years. Mr. Reynolds was one of the old settlers in this locality and was a prominent and respected citizen. A wife and three children survive him. Funeral services were held at his late residence on Monday afternoon and the remains interred in the family plot at Lewis Cemetery.

MEMORIAL RECORD.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank, of Fulton, on the 26th of November, 1886, the following minutes were read and approved:

This day's gathering impresses us with the sad consciousness that our circle is again broken by death. Three seats are vacant to-day. Surely the messages have followed each other swiftly—three since the opening of spring—first in the death of Mr. Gillespie, April 13th, then Mr. Carrier's on the 27 of the following month, and now that of James G. Reynolds, whose death occurred on Wednesday, the 24th inst. at his home in Granby.

Some incidents are marked [illegible] exceptional, touching Mr. Reynolds' connection with the directorship of this institution; his term of service upon this board has been of greater length than that of any other [illegible] who has been connected with the institutions having been first elected a director in 1853, when it was a State organization under the title of "Oswego River Bank" and re-elected at each annual meeting thereafter to the present time making twenty-eight years of continuous service. Only three persons out of the thirteen composing the Board at the time of his first election are now living, and Mr. Reynold's death leaves but one in the directorship who was then a member of it.

Standing to-day in the shadow of this last great sorrow, a retrospect of this past recalls to our recollection very many with whom our deceased friend so long associated in the earlier history of this bank. But one by one have the links been broken connecting the generation past with that of the present, in the life of the institution entrusted to our watch-care.

In the oversight and management of the affairs of the bank, Mr. Reynolds was active, careful and vigilant; while kindness and courtesy characterized his intercourse with his fellow associates.

Unitedly, we tender the family of our deceased friend, our sympathy in their bereavement and sorrow.

And now be it ordered that these minutes be placed upon the records of the bank and a copy furnished for publication.

D. W. GARDNER, President.
AMOS YOUMANS, Cashier.

The Boston Bazaar

is making things lively. Stand and hanging lamps way down, chimneys 3c each, cups and saucers every style. Tinware almost given away. Come in and keep the ball rolling. Low prices mean many customers.

Fire was discovered about [illegible] past three this morning issuing from the upper story of the Hightster building on Oneida street. An alarm was quickly sounded and the firemen with unusual alacrity appeared on the scene. Everything worked in perfect order and the efficiency of the water works was fully shown. The hydrant in front of the water works office was used, two streams from the hydrant corner of First and Oneida streets, and a stream from the hydrant corner of Second and Cayuga streets. Streams were also used from steamers No. 1 and No. 2. For over two hours, Hose companies Nos. 1, 2 and 3 and the two steamers did most effective service and averted what would otherwise have been a much more destructive conflagration. As it was the building in which the fire originated occupied by C. A. Miller, the Hatter and Freese, the Jeweler, and the one next west of it owned by D. W. Gardner and occupied by D. C. Draper, were completely gutted. The greatest loss was sustained by Mr. Draper, who had in a large stock of holiday goods. He estimates his loss at about $8,000 on which there was an insurance of $4,300. Mr. Miller's stock was nearly all removed from the lower part of the building, but is in a damaged condition. In the upper story he had stored a large quantity of wool, hides, mittens &c, all of which were destroyed. This stock was partially covered by insurance. Much of Mr. Freese's stock was scattered about and on this there was no insurance. He estimates his loss at between $500 and $600. The buildings, the property of C. A. Miller and of D. W. Gardner were nearly covered by insurance. The origin of the fire was doubtless spontaneous combustion as it broke out in a part of the building where there had been no fire in years.

Electric Lights.

Work for the construction of the electric lights for the village is progressing. Mr. Philbrook, agent for the company, informs us that everything will be in running order by the 20th of this month, the limit set by the board. A 200 light incandescent machine and 200 incandescent globes arrived Monday. The whole plant for the arc lights has been shipped by freight from the works of the company and is expected soon. Work was begun Monday morning in stripping the poles and getting them ready, 200 of these are already here. The erection of the poles and the stringing of the wires will probably be let out by contract and a large force of men put on when everything is in readiness. Wm. Patrick of Phœnix commenced work on the foundation of the new building, which he has contracted to build, but was compelled to desist for the present on account of high water.

Navigation closed on the canals last night at midnight it having been opened for navigation just 215 days this season.

A fire alarm was sounded shortly after one o'clock last Friday morning. The steamer "Wide Awake" which has been making trips between Fulton and Syracuse was found to be on fire but it was extinguished without much loss.

The ladies of Zion church will hold their Apron Sale next week at a time and place to be hereafter designated. It is requested that the articles for the sale be left at Mrs. James Sheridan's on Cayuga street by Monday next.

R. A. Stowell & Co., who have stores at Syracuse and Ogdensburg and formerly one at Fulton have re-opened in the store formerly occupied as Marchant's furniture store, on First street, and are making a very large display of Holiday Goods &c. Call and see them.

Rev. Father Earley was presented with a purse amounting to $145, by the business men of Fulton and Oswego Falls, in addition to that received from the benefit entertainment on Thanksgiving evening, a recognition of his untiring labors in the cause of temperance.

Manager Pierce of the Academy of Music desires us to announce that Edwin Booth is to appear at the above house, Dec. 24th, and that if enough will signify their intention to attend on that evening, he will run a special train. This an opportunity that should not be lost of seing the greatest of living tragedians. If a sufficient number inform us by postal or otherwise, we will be pleased to report to Manager Pierce, and a special train will be run for their accommodation.

Stamped Linens!
Towels! Tidies!
Tray Cloths! Doilies!
&c., &c.
The Cheapest line yet, at
F. E. BACON'S.

Safe for Sale.

One of the best combination fire-proof safes. Just as good as new and for one-half the price. Enquire of

R. P. McCULLY, at the Harness Shop.

A Grand Free Entertainment will be given at M. Conley's on Second street. Saturday evening, December 4. Prof. Bausman will play selections on the piano. Prof. Whipple 1st violin; Prof. LaGree 2d violin. Singing during the evening by Messrs. Powels of Fulton and Degan of Syracuse and others. Jigs, Reels, and Clog Dancing, by Messrs. Conway late of Robbins circus, and Hammond of Oswego. No sparring on this occasion, allowed. Free lunch. Everyone invited to attend.

M. CONLEY, Prop.

The Boston Bazaar

Sells Hosiery, Underwear Gloves, Mittens, Corsets and a full line of fancy dry goods, cheaper than any store in town.

An endless variety of Fancy Holiday Goods at M. M. Williams' drug store.

Try the Conductor 5c. cigar, the finest 5c. cigar in town. Sold by W. J. Watson. 26w9.

[illegible]

There is [illegible] of the [illegible]

[illegible] in which Mr. Giesler [illegible] on the stand and said that Mrs. Dr. Loomis called at the store three times in one forenoon and was the person referred to by Kevnan. She passed the store several times in the evening. [This refers to the statement that Giesler asked him to stay in the store and he did no want to see the party alone.] This closed the defence. The case was then submitted.

Recorder Bulger said that he considered the case a proper one for the investigation of the grand jury and accordingly would hold the defendants, Giesler and Poole, and require them to furnish bail in the sum of $500 each. The case was considered continued until this afternoon at 2 o'clock to give the defendan opportunity to furnish bail.

The charge of grand larceny against Dr. Loomis has also been postponed several times and is now set down for Monday morning, when it will come up before Justice Hulett.

Jury Drawing.

The following list of trial jurors to attend a session of the county court to be held at the court house in Oswego, commencing Monday, December 6th, have been drawn:

John Blake, W. D. Sweetland, P. W. Slatterly, John Glynn, Michael Sweeney John Riley, Daniel Foley, Gard T. Lyon, M. P. Neal, H. A. Wilcox, Lawrence Burns, Christopher Partridge, Richard Hawkins, Oswego; Lester Halladay, Charles M. Smith, Hiel Powers, New Haven; Eugene Bladgett, E. C. Pasco, John Beil, jr., Earnest Pease, James H. Martin, Oswego Town; William D. Edgerton, Jas. Edwards, Granby; David Pettis, Jay VanDorn, Ira Foster, Levi Moyer, William Gates, Schroeppel; Noah Barlow, Charles P. Sapard, Hannibal; William Blakeman, Charles Hobien, Amos H. Baldwin, Volney; Albert E. Andrews, George W. Dennis, Palermo.

Thanksgiving Services.

Union services were held in the Presbyterian church on Thanksgiving day. Rev. Charles Olmstead of the Congregational church, in Oswego Falls delivered the sermon taking his text from 1st Corinthians, 4th chapter and 7th verse "and what hast thou that thou didst not receive." Rev. Mr. Stone of the Presbyterian church; Rev. Mr. Chase of the Methodist church; Rev. Mr. Breaker of the Baptist church and Rev. Mr. Fulford of the Free Methodist assisted in the services. Services at Zion church were held in the morning at 8:30 and at 11, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Goodyear.

Teacher's Association.

The teachers of the town of Volney will hold an Association at No. 2, Fulton, Dec. 11 beginning at 9:30 a. m., and continuing through the day. There will been exercise in each of the following subjects, Arithmetic, Grammar, Geography and Physiology. All teachers of the town are expected to be present and join in the work of the day. Please bring note books and pencils.

D. D. METCALF, Commissioner.

I. O. O. F.

The first Reception of the Odd Fellows of this village is to be held at their rooms in the Dexter block to-morrow evening. These receptions are to be held every two weeks during the winter. The following are the committees: Of Reception: E. C. Wolcott, J. C. Dresser, T. Wilson, W. J. Boomer. Floor Managers: T. Wilson, C. Bissett, E. Hare.

Free Art Exhibition.

A Free Art and Mechanical Exhibition commences at Beals' Photograph Rooms to-day and continues for three days and evenings. To this the public is cordially invited to attend. A fine display of Arrasene, Chenille and Tinsel Embroidery and other work executed on the Davis Sewing Machine will be on exhibition and free instruction will be given for doing the same.

We are selling a very fine Gents' Merino Sock for 45cts. regular price 65cts. Take a look at them at F. E. BACON'S.

Card of Thanks.

The Father Mathew Temperance Societies of Oswego Falls and Fulton desire to return to the public our appreciation of the kind manner and enthusiastic sentiment therein expressed on the night of the 25th of November in Stephens opera house. We also tender a vote of thanks to the Oswego Falls Julliard Brass Band and the Fulton Cornet Band, who so kindly volunteered their services and to those who so zealously responded to make our entertainment a grand success. By order of Committee.

What's the Matter

with the Boston Bazaar? Nothing. They are all right and showing the largest and finest line of fancy dry goods, Mittens, Holiday Goods and Hanging lamps ever opened in this town. Come in and see how lively we are going to make things during the month of December.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

Florentine Silk, cut in any length at F. E. BACON'S

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best. To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 30tf.

M. M. Williams has just returned from New York with the largest assortment of Holiday Goods ever shown in Fulton. Don't fail to see them.

FOR SALE.

Cedar posts, New ash rails, Cordwood, Three-year-old colt, Yoke steers nearly 3 years old. Six miles north-east of Fulton. G. G. IVES. 1t

Special Prices For Carpets, Furniture &c.

A. A. Graff & Co., No's 61 & 63 South Salina Street, Syracuse, offer for the next 30 days, as a special bargain, 100 Parlor suits embossed plush, solid walnut frame, 7 pieces for $35.00; 75 chamber suits, 10 pieces for $25.00; 50 pieces tapestry carpet 60c a yard and 70 pieces extra super ingrain carpet 55c a yard.

We will deliver all purchases freight, prepaid to any part of the state. Now the time for Bargains.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t

[illegible]

An attempt is being made to re-organize the Sons of Veterans in this village.

The winter term of the public school commenced Monday with a large attendance.

Robert H. Gere of the Syracuse Herald spent Thanksgiving with his parents in this village.

Don't fail to hear the gifted party at the opera house on Saturday evening, Miss Brown and Herr Schiebel.

J. J. Van Doren is proprietor of the electric light plant at Phœnix. The Thomson-Houston system will be used.

Three locks are being extended to double their present length on the Oswego canal, lock 5 at Mud Lock; lock 1 at Phœnix and lock 6 at Hinmansville.

Josephine Cameron made a great hit at the opera house Saturday night in "Forget-Me-Not." The large audience were delighted with the play and acting.

Miss Brown, who is to give us a choice entertainment of recitals and costume impersonations has been before the public for several years with great acceptance.

Herr Schiebel, who appears at the opera house, on Saturday evening next is a member of the G. A. R., a veteran, who takes great pride in being "an old soldier."

MARRIED—Thursday, November 25, 1883, at the home of Thomas DeLong, by Rev. W. Dempster Chase, Wilford E. DeLong of Fulton, and Susan Beeman of Hannibal.

District assembly No. 152, Knights of Labor, met on Saturday evening at the rooms of the local assembly in this village. Quite a delegation from Syracuse were present.

It seems that Phœnix is favored with two detachments of the Salvation Army Captain Foster with a number of followers has withdrawn from the regular army and proposes to import some new "talent" according to the Chronicle.

Attention is called to the advertisement of C. S. Ball, the well-known jeweler and silversmith of Syracuse, who offers prizes amounting to $80 to parties sending in the largest number of words made up from the words "C. S. Ball jeweler," before Jan'y, 1, 1877.

Jas. Lyons of Oswego wishes to announce to his Friends and Patrons in Fulton and Oswego Falls, that he is no longer employed by the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company and in future can be found at the Union Pacific Tea Co's. Headquarters No. 19 West Bridge St. Oswego N. Y. Mr. Lyons will call as usual on his old customers to receive orders, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding, and hopes by furnishing a superior article of teas and coffees to retain their good will and patronage.

The electric lights in Oswego Fall are to be placed at the following points: "At Lower Falls: At the end of the bridge looking up and down 1st Street; on Hannibal street near Mr. Waugh's and one block east of the D. L. & W. railroad; on Waldradt street near the school house; on Worth street near the corner of 5th street; on R. R. street near Mr. Eggleston's and at the corner of 1st and Peat Bed streets.

At Upper Falls: Corner 1st and Broadway and corner 4th and Broadway; corner of Beech and 31 and Chestnut and 3d; corner 1st and Oak and 4th and Oak; corner 4th and Kellogg.

"Centemeri" Gents' Kid Gloves we have just received,
F. E. Bacon.

Northern N. Y. Convention of Young Men's Christian Association.

"The annual convention of the Association of northern New York will be held in this village Dec. 3—5. The convention will open Friday evening with a devotional meeting and an address by Rev. Dr. Robinson, of Rochester. The following topics will be discussed, brief addresses or papers opening each:

Why special work for young men.

Possibility of such work in small towns.

The workers' training class, its object, etc.

How to prepare for and conduct young men's meetings.

How ladies can aid the Association

"Give the boys a chance."

Committee difficulties, how overcome.

Gymnastics without a Gymnasium.

The White Cross work.

What our Associations are doing in New York State for young men.

The only place in town to get shell oysters is at John Partrick's on First street. A fresh supply received every other day. 30tf.

A Fine Line of Cigars at Williams Drug Store. 29tf

The very choicest qualities of teas, coffees and spices and all shelf groceries sold for cash at WHOLESALE PRICES at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 24tf

The Boston Bazaar

is showing the finest line of plush goods ever seen in Fulton. Albums, dressing cases, shaving cases, and boxes, mirrors, picture frames and many other novelties.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

Go to Tucker's crockery store for wedding and anniversary presents. 24tf

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

Just received at D. C. Draper's, a large order of imported crockery and China, and a fine line, all new patterns, China tea sets and chamber sets, which I will offer for the next 30 days at $1.00 less on chamber sets and $2.00 to $4.00 less on tea sets than any house in Oswego or Syracuse, to reduce part of over-stock. Call and see goods and prices, at 15 Oneida street. 17tf

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expeditiously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. [illegible]

[illegible] with whom the dead President affiliated. Next to the present incumbent of the White House, no one attracted more attention than Mr. Blaine. Those who saw him on the day of the funeral were surprised as much as was your correspondent to see the very evident effect which the mental anxiety of two years ago caused, provided of course, they had not seen him since that memorable campaign of 1884. Mr. Blaine's hair and beard are as white as snow. The chief charm however, of the Maine statesman is the peculiar glance of his eye. I know of no public man or political leader who has more power over his facial expression or whose eyes seem to take in or "size up" if you will, the person with whom he is conversing than Mr. Blaine. A friend of the writer visited Mr. Blaine during the campaign of '84 on a mission that was partly political and mostly personal. He was an entire stranger to the candidate, but my friend said, that he was instantly put at his ease by the apparent personal interest Mr. Blaine manifested for his wellfare. The meeting at Mr. Arthur's between Mr. Blaine and Mr. Edmonds is being variously commented upon among the politicians. It happened in this way: Mr. Blaine entered the room where Mr. Edmonds was sitting. The gentleman in charge of the funeral, Col. McMichael remarked that there was no need for an introduction. Mr. Edmonds thereupon offered his hand which Mr. Blaine refused. Turning upon his heel he went up stairs to the chamber of the dead, and immediately thereafter left the room. Perhaps Mr. Blaine thought that he was performing his duty. I remember it was said of the poet Bryant that he never shook hands except with his most intimate friends and treated all others with more or less coldness.

Apropos to the above I heard a story which I here repeat. Not far from the Fifth Avenue hotel is a store devoted to gentleman's supplies in the way of wearing apparel. Mr. Blaine called the other morning and while making his purchases the clerk remarked "Mr. Blaine, I voted for you in 1884 and I hope that you will give me a chance again." Mr. Blaine laughed and said, "I don't know about that. I am afraid not." It is one of those stories that may be taken as indicating which way the Presidential wind blows.

⁂

One of our Presidents used to sing "Why should the spirit of mortal be proud" and it struck me quite forcibly that certain well-known New York families have no reason to feel especially proud of their pedigree and to hold themselves aloof from those families whose wealth has been recently acquired. Let us look back a few years—The original Astor was a pack peddler and traded in furs; Gilsey kept a tavern; Rhinelander a sugar house; Commodore Vanderbilt was a ferryman between the battery and Staten Island and so you might name fifty more, all of whom acquired the immense estates which their decendants now snobbishly enjoy by honest endeavor in some respectable though manual employment. There recently came under my observation a case which illustrates what I mean.

Down in Nassau street is a rather elderly man possessed with an endless amount of energy and bustle. I don't need to tell you what the business is, but on the same site his present store stands, he began in 1865 to sell a few blank books and writing paper.

The whole establishment he wheeled up Nassau street on a wheelbarrow. The building which occupied the lot had been burned and the owner agreed to sell it and take the money in small payments.

This man did his business in a small shanty during the day and during the night dug out the cellar of the building he afterward erected, and which he used for a store till he had money enough to build. I don't meen to prolong the yarn, but to-day he owns a beautiful farm on the edge of the Hackensack meadows in Jersey, a beautiful house and most charming surroundings. He has not forgotten the days of his small beginnings but his children affect many airs and much of that which is said to appertain to culture and refinement, but which in the reality is the reflection of snobbery and the beginning of that disease Anglomania. The culture and refinement do not need a long pedigree nor yet is it the direct outgrowth of large wealth.

⁂

McQuade's trial has ended in failure. It's too bad. Who's to blame? The court. Why? Because he failed to charge as he should. The impression left by the Recorder's charge was that His Honor had not the slightest doubt of the jury's agreeing on a verdict of guilty and made his charge so that the jury might disregard the evidence of two members of the "combine" Duffy and Fulgraff. That these two men may be regarded as competent witnesses there can be no doubt, since the code gives distinct permission. The whole question seems to turn on whether the testimony of Fulgraff is corroborated. This point of law seemed to have been forgotten by the Recorder, and hence the disappointment and what is more startling, the jury standing nine to three for an acquittal over the failure last week. To-day the re-trial begins. The Recorder is angry and the District Attorney has his energies at their highest pitch. If McQuade is not found guilty the other indicted Aldermen are safe.

* *

Mr. Edwin Booth has been giving us the pleasure of seeing him once more in Shakesperian drama. For some years past Edwin Booth has been making the very serious mistake of permitting himself to be supported by inferior artists on the fallacious ground that thereby his own part would be all the grander. Irving's visit to America taught Booth a lession he has not failed to profit by. His company was superb and the acting a perfect harmony. Booth never did better and that is saying a great deal, since his health is far from good. On one evening he was compelled to relinquish his engagement altogether at a personal loss of some $2,500. The story is that on the night before he attended a century club dinner and that the punch for which that club is justly famous [illegible] imbibers. Many a stronger man than Mr. Booth has succumbed to its influence. It has a most seductive flavor—A taste that is so enticing one is under its demoniacal influence ere one knows it. There is however, no question of Mr. Booth's being now the king actor of Shakesperian drama.

⁂

Next week I shall give you an account of Munkacsy's great picture, now on public exhibition and which is attracting much attention especially in the religious world. WANDERER.

The Clothing offered by Peebles & Cook is Genuine, in every respect. In the first place, the quality of material is excellent. No Shoddy or second-rate goods are offered. The Clothing is completed so as to compare with anything that is turned out in the line called "custom made." Every piece of clothing sold by Peebles & Cook is warranted. Their stock is large and accessions are being made to it every day. Their line of Christmas Clothing is the finest ever seen here.

☞Gentlemen will do well to look at the styles and learn the prices that rule.

PEEBLES & COOK
Opposite Opera House.

The Lambertville "Duck" Rubber Boot has no equal. They will not crack. Sold at Collins'. 25tf.

Just received a fresh cargo of Scranton Coal. SCHENCK & FOSTER.

—FOR THE—
HOLIDAY SEASON!
SNOW & LOOMIS,
have a fine assortment of
POCKET CUTLERY,
CARVERS, SKATES,
SCISSORS and ROBES.
—Also a Novelty in—
FUR RUGS.

Stephens Opera House,
YOUNGS BROS, & CO. Managers.
ONE NIGHT ONLY.
Saturday Even'g, Dec. 4.
THE FAVORITE IMPERSONATOR
Miss NELLIE A. BROWN,
—ASSISTED BY—
Herr Shiebel, of Berlin,
In a Varied Program of Musical Selections, Recitals and Impersonations in Costume.

A Refined Entertainment that pleases all.

Miss Brown is highly endorsed by the clergy and press of the country.

Admission	25 cents.
Reserved Seats	35 cents.
Children under twelve	15 cents.

Reserved Seats on Sale at Watson's.

A SEARCH
FOR WORDS!

With the view of arousing a lively interest in the use of words, and calling attention to my LARGE and ELEGANT STOCK of WATCHES, DIAMONDS, JEWELRY, SILVER and PLATED WARE, FANCY GOODS, etc. etc., now ready for the Holidays, I offer the following TEN VALUABLE PRIZES, now on exhibition at store, Vanderbilt Square:—

To the party sending on or before January 1st, 1887, the largest list of regular words in legitimate use that can be made up from the words "C. S. BALL, JEWELER," I will present a Gold Stem Winding Watch, valued at	$30.00
Second Largest, a Fine Enameled Iron Clock, valued at	20.00
Third largest, One Dozen Knives and Forks, (own make) valued at	5.00
Fourth largest, a Silver-Plated Cake Basket, valued at	5.00
Fifth to Tenth, inclusive, Set of Silver-Plated Knives, valued at	2.50

Printed rules governing the search will be sent on application by postal card or otherwise to

C. S. BALL, JEWELER & SILVERSMITH, Syracuse, N. Y.

For Sale or To Rent.

The new house on First street, two blocks south of Broadway. Inquire of H. HULETT. 28tf

Novelty Custom Mill,

E. G. Hubbard having leased the NOVELTY CUSTOM MILL recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & Redhead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any flour or feed grinding done. Flour and feed constantly on hand. Call and try us and we guarantee satisfaction. Flour and feed delivered to any part of Fulton and Oswego Falls free of charge. 18t26

Don't miss those bargains at Draper's in Table and Hanging Lamps, China Tea Setts, and those new style (Ribbon Chamber Setts) all new goods and new prices. Call and see. 19tf

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

Remember the place to buy unadulterated groceries CHEAP is at the sign of the Red store No. 18 First street opposite the Lewis house.

24tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

For Sale or To Rent.

A Farm of 40 acres situated two miles north-west of Fulton, known as the Isaiah Conklin farm. Inquire at the premises. Mrs. Mina House. 26t5

1886. 1886.
AHEAD OF ALL!
MILTON S. PRICE,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.
The Popular Dry Goods, Carpet and Furniture Dealer.

The Great Establishment Renovated. New Decorations, &c., Mammoth Show Windows, One Great Entrance from Salina Street. The most Attractive Store in the City.

PROUD AM I TO ANNOUNCE that during forty years of business experience, I have never been so well prepared to meet the wants of the public as at the present time.

READY CASH WITH EXPERIENCED BUYERS has filled my mammouth stores, running through from Salina to Clinton Streets, with a stock of

DRY GOODS, CARPETS AND FURNITURE

Unequaled by any Establishment in Central New York.

It would be useless in this small space to attempt an enumeration of the thousands of articles displayed.

DRY GOODS and Fancy Goods,
IN ENDLESS VARIETY.

CARPETS, RUGS, &c.,
A COMPLETE STOCK.

Furniture and Curtain Draperies,
FOR THE RICH AND POOR.

I can give you better value for your money than any other house in the City.

Do not fail, when in Syracuse, to pay this establishment a visit.

MILTON S. PRICE.
Nos. 38 and 40 South Salina Street, and 29, 31 and 33 Clinton Street,
Syracuse, N. Y.

--GRAND RE-OPENING--
Opposite Lewis House, of
STOWELL'S GREAT
25 Cent Bargain Store.
In store formerly Marchant's Furniture Store, First St., Fulton, N. Y., with the most Complete Line of
HOLIDAY GOODS!
Of every description ever seen in Fulton, consisting of
TOYS, DOLLS, GAMES, FANCY GOODS,
CHINA CUPS AND SAUCERS, VASES,
BASKETS, NOTIONS, &C.
At very lowest prices. Also a complete line of TINWARE, GLASSWARE, HOSIERY,
MITTENS, GLOVES, CUTLERY,
PLATED WARE, &c., &c.

☞Make your Holiday Purchases early while the assortment is complete, and avoid the crowd.

R. A. STOWELL & Co.
FULTON, N. Y.
Other Stores 91 South Salina St. Syracuse, and [illegible]

We Have Received Another Lot of
OVERCOATS AND SUITS,
☞WE CAN SAVE YOU MONEY ON A☜
Suit or Overcoat, Hats or Caps,
Underwear, Gloves or Mittens,
Neckwear or Hosiery.
We carry a large line of these goods and can please you.
Call and see.
C. [illegible] & CO.

[illegible] disease, and therefore requires [illegible] constitutional treatment. Hall's [illegible] Cure, manufactured by F. J. [illegible] & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the [illegible] constitutional cure now on the [illegible]. It is taken internally in doses [illegible] drops to a teaspoonful. It [illegible] directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one [illegible] dollars for any case it fails [illegible]. Send for circular and testimonials. Address,

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, 75 cts.

[illegible] Knockabout (Trade Mark) [illegible] Shoes are not the cheapest but [illegible] are the best. Sold at Collins'. 20tf

[illegible] Commanche, Capt. Wil[illegible]

[illegible]lation. Though it will extend probably to 15 volumes, and will include representative selections (with biographical sketches) from nearly 2,000 of the most famous author of the world, of all ages and all nations, yet it is easily within the reach of any one able to invest so small a sum as 10 cents a week.

"The fourth volume of this excellent cyclopedia is the richest, so far. It goes from 'Cable' to 'Clarke.' For some reason, known only to Galton and other curious writers, the letter C is apparently favorable to genius. Here we find such poets as Cædmon Calderon, Callimachus, Camoens, Campbell, and Chatterton; we listen to such preachers as Chalmers, Chrysostom, and Chapin; Carlyle and Clarendon dispute for honors of history; Calvin wears the laurels of the incomparable theologian; although Cheever, Chillingworth, Channing, and Freeman Clarke are his near neighbors, and Cicero bears off the palm for oratory, while Caxton sets up his printing-press in Westminster, and, a few pages after, Cervantes launches the the immortal 'Don Quixote.' This is a delightful volume, with something in it to suit every taste."—[National Baptist, Philadelphia.

"The general excellence of this valuable work is fully maintained in the volume just received. [illegible]

The bill of George Johnston was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Trustee Pardee presented the report of James T. Gardiner of a plan for the sewerage of the village. The report was accompanied by a detail working plan made by Mr. Gardiner in accordance with the action of the board of May 28th last—with his bill of $240 for the services rendered.

The supply committee to whom the matter of rubber coats and boots for the new hose companies was referred reported that the cost of the same would approximate $27.

On motion the committee were authorised to procure the same.

E. E. Hart appeared before the Board, complaining of a sidewalk across Pratt street near First.

The matter was referred to the committee on streets.

The Clerk was instructed to notify W. D. Patterson to build his sidewalk on Second-st., at the junction of Oneida-st.

The Collector asked for the extension of his warrant for sixty days.

The same was done.

On motion the Board adjourned for two weeks.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 31tf [illegible]tion of giving up his newspaper work. The experienced will be of great advantage to Mr. Cummings, but it is not certain his constituents will approve his motive.

The members of the Fire Department are under great obligations to Dr Bacon, who generously supplied them with coffee during the fire this morning.

I will reduce the price on all Amberena, Wild-rose and Peach-ware, Saturday Nov. 6 '86. Also on China-Tea-Sets, Chamber-Sets and all fancy cups and saucers. Call and see goods at Draper's, Oneida St.

Job Printing.

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most reasonable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CARDS, [illegible]

[illegible] ever known to the medical profession."
Very truly yours,
L. M. GLESSNER, M. D., 260 East 121st St., N. Y.

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

The U. S. Examining Surgeon, Dr. L. R. White, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

St. Francis Hospital, N. Y. } "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful."

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered indispensible. It acts perfectly."

Kaskine is pleasant to take and can be used without special medical counsel.

Send for the great book of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine. $1 a bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St. N. Y.

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than the one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several good houses and [illegible] lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

[illegible]

[illegible] away in order to be present the last day, when their cheese will be ready to go. Transactions of the day are as follows:

Lots	Boxes	Price
19	1,1[illegible]	10½ cents
2	1[illegible]	10¾ cents
5	4[illegible]	11½ cents
6	4[illegible]	10 cents
1	[illegible]	11¼ cents
1	190	12¼ cents
	2,[illegible]78
	3[illegible]	Com
	2,6[illegible]

Ruling price 10½c. Transactions of corresponding day in 1885 were 2,783 boxes ruling 8c. In 1884, 3,707 boxes, ruling 11c.

We are requested to give notice that a formal meeting of the board will be held next Monday at 8 p. m., when resolutions on the oleomargarine question will be passed.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

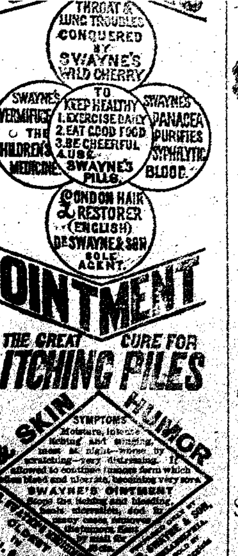
LITTLE FALLS, Nov. 29.

Cheese—This market for the current year is so to speak on it's last legs. About three thousand boxes were sold to-day, but inquiry reveals the fact that little cheese remains unsold, and it is believed that a couple of weeks more will clear out all the stock in this section. A large portion of sales to-day were of every other day cheese, but at the same time a considerable sprinkling of every day stock increased the prices on many lots.

The figures for the day are as follows:

Lots	Boxes	Price
14	660	10½ cents
6	351	11 cents
14	[illegible]	11 cents
1	[illegible]	11 cents
[illegible]	[illegible]	12 cents
4	[illegible]	Com.
[illegible]	[illegible]
Farm dairy	[illegible]
Total	[illegible]

[illegible]



THROAT & LUNG TROUBLES CONQUERED BY SWAYNE'S WILD CHERRY
SWAYNE'S VERMIFUGE THE CHILDREN'S MEDICINE
TO KEEP HEALTHY 1. EXERCISE DAILY 2. EAT GOOD FOOD 3. BE CHEERFUL 4. USE SWAYNE'S PILLS
SWAYNE'S PANACEA PURIFIES SYPHALYTIC BLOOD
LONDON HAIR RESTORER (ENGLISH) DR SWAYNE & SON SOLE AGENT.
OINTMENT
THE GREAT CURE FOR ITCHING PILES
SKIN HUMOR
SYMPTOMS
SWAYNE'S OINTMENT
U. S.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

[illegible]

-BUY-

Hampden Watches,

—AT—

W. P. OSORNE'S.

REPAIRED AT OSBORNE'S.
WARNER OPERA HOUSE

-B-U-Y-

At W. P. OSBORNE'S.

—BUY—

THE WM. ROGERS'

Silver Plated Teaspoons

FOR $1.00 at

W. P. OSBORNE'S.

SCHOOL OF SHORT [illegible]

—AND—

TYPE WRITING

[illegible]

[illegible] 3:10 p. m. and 5:15 p. m. trains will [illegible] attached to night express for [illegible] Philadelphia.

A. H. [illegible], Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

[illegible] Day Express......7:18 a. m
[illegible] and Accommodation......8:40 a. m
[illegible] Express......3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express......9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express......6:24 a. m
Oswego Express......11:27 a. m.
Freight and accommodation......5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express......9:37 p.m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:16	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19	3:24	6:29

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS

Chas. Coon of Vernon Centre is visiting friends in town.

Miss Kittie McDonald visited friends in Phoenix last week.

Miss Ella Harrington visited friends in Phœnix last week.

Major D. Tarbell of Ithaca passed last Friday in this village.

L. T. Cahill of Albany, state bank examiner, was in town Friday and Saturday.

N. S. Allen spent Sunday in town the guest of his father-in-law, N. E. Burdick.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Slauson of Mexico are with their ill brother, H. T. Lawrence.

Miss Matie Munsell of Central Square has been visiting her friend Miss Margie Barr of this village.

Sumner McDonough left Monday to fill a position in the Government printing office at Washington.

Miss Marion Rogers of Napanee, Canada who has been visiting Miss Ada Thayer returned home yesterday.

P. Calkins left Monday for Ogdensburg to set up a stave machine for J. M. Maguire of that city. He will be gone about four weeks.

R. P. Hall is quite ill with malarial fever.

Mrs. Otto Schultz has been seriously ill for the past week.

Children's Cloaks!
Ladies' Cloaks!
In great variety and very cheap at
F. E. BACON'S.

Turn this around and see if you are interested in it.

Are you in want of a Trunk or Satchel, Cutter or Robe, Harness or Horse blanket, Bells or Whip or anything usually kept in a first-class harness store. If so we can make it interesting for you if you will call at the old stand of McCully's on Oneida Street.

Yours Truly,
R. P. McCULLY.

SOMETHING NEW.

The improved Welt $3.00 Calf Shoe equal to the best hand sewed at COLLINS'.

Those desiring Photographs for the Holidays would do well to secure their sittings at once. We have just received a new line of Scenery and accessories for Holiday work. A new line of plush cabinet Frames in desirable patterns. Darrow, Patriot Building, Cor. 2d and Oneida Sts. 27tf

Keep Your Feet Warm. Alfred Dolye's Celebrated Felt Slippers and hoes are sold at Collins'. 28tf

CHEAP COW FEED.

Gilbert & Nichols at the Fulton Mills are selling buckwheat feed for milch cows and young stock at about the price of hay. 28w4

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

Don't trifle with any Throat or Lung Disease. If you have a Cough or Cold, or the children are threatened with Croup or Whooping Cough, use Acker's English Remedy and prevent further trouble. It is a positive cure, and we guarantee it. Price 10 and 50c. by H. C. Giesler.

A handsome line of chamber sets just received by J. COOLEY TUCKER. 24tf

You will find the largest assortment of Holiday goods at M. M. Williams' Drug Store. 29tf

[illegible] was a [illegible] for a crowded house [illegible] to encourage this zealous young priest in his great work for temperance and good order. Before the entertainment commenced the Fulton Bras tendered a serenade to the Reverend gentleman and the societies. When they finished, Father Earley thanked them for himself and the societies. The entertainment consisted of the following program:

Grand March	Parker's Orchestra
Selections	Indian Princess and White Dove
Song	Jeremiah Connors
Dialogue	Matie Allen and Grace Althouse
Select Ballad	George Perkins
Recitation—Death Doomed	Kittie E. McDonald
Banjo Solos	Parker Bros
Song	Maggie Darby
Selection	Miss Anna Martell, Syracuse
Recitation—Lips that Touch Liquor Must Never touch Mine	Anna Bogue
Solo	Lena Hardy
Solo	Thomas Wilcox
Selection	Miss Nellie Healy
Song—McNally's Row of Flats	Chas McCaffrey
Piano Solo	Miss Kerwin, Phœnix
Waltz	Orchestra

Then followed an address by Father Earley in his usual earnest vein, which was followed by the drama "That Rascal Pat" with the following cast:

Pat McNoggerly, a handy servant....J. Connors
Major Puffjacket, on half pay......Michael Nealis
Charles Livingstone, poor but ambitious ......A. E. LaPorte
Lura, niece to Puffjacket, and in love ......with Charles....Anna Bogue
Nancy, her maid in love with Pat....Mary Burke

The seclections in the entertainment were good and the parts taken well sustained. The exhibition showed that Fulton and Oswego Falls have much musical and dramatic talent.

OBITUARY.

James German Reynolds died at his home in Granby three miles north of this village, on Wednesday Nov. 24 after a long and lingering illness, aged 75 years. Mr. Reynolds was one of the old settlers in this locality and was a prominent and respected citizen. A wife and three children survive him. Funeral services were held at his late residence on Monday afternoon and the remains interred in the family plot at Lewis Cemetery.

MEMORIAL RECORD.

At a meeing of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank, of Fulton, on the 26th of November, 1886, the following minutes were read and approved:

This day's gathering impresses us with the sad consciousness that our circle is again broken by death. Three seats are vacant to-day. Surely the messages have followed each other swiftly—three since the opening of spring—first in the death of Mr. Gillespie, April 13th, then Mr. Carrier's on the 27 of the following month, and now that of James G. Reynolds, whose death occurred on Wednesday, the 24th inst. at his home in Granby.

Some incidents are marked and exceptional, touching Mr. Reynolds connection with the directorship of this institution; his term of service upon this board has been of greater length than that of any other (save one) who has been connected with the institutions having been first elected a director in 1858, when it was a State organization under the title of "Oswego River Bank" and re-elected at each annual meeting thereafter to the present time making twenty-eight years of continuous service. Only three persons out of the thirteen composing the Board at the time of his first election are now living, and Mr. Reynold's death leaves but one in the directorship who was then a member of it.

Standing to day in the shadow of this last great sorrow, a retrospect of this past recalls to our recollection very many with whom our deceased friend so long associated in the earlier history of this bank. But one by one have the links been broken connecting the generation past with that of the present, in the life of the institution entrusted to our watch-care.

In the oversight and management of the affairs of the bank, Mr. Reynolds was active, careful and vigilant; while kindness and courtesy characterized his intercourse with his fellow associates.

Unitedly, we tender the family of our deceased friend, our sympathy in their bereavement and sorrow.

And now be it ordered that these minutes be placed upon the records of the bank and a copy furnished for publication.

D. W. GARDNER, President.
AMOS YOUMANS, Cashier.

The Boston Bazaar

is making things lively. Stand and hanging lamps way down, chimneys 3c each, cups and saucers every style. Tinware almost given away. Come in and keep the ball rolling. Low prices mean many customers.

[illegible] Oneida streets [illegible] everything worked in perfect order and the efficiency of the water works was fully shown. The hydrant in front of the water works office was used, two streams from the hydrant corner of First and Oneida streets, and a stream from the hydrant corner of Second and Cayuga streets. Streams were also used from steamers No. 1 and No. 2. For over two hours, Hose companies Nos. 1, 2 and 3 and the two steamers did most effective service and averted what would otherwise have been a much more destructive conflagration. As it was the building in which the fire originated occupied by C. A. Miller, the Hatter and Freese, the Jeweler, and the one next west of it owned by D. W. Gardner and occupied by D. C. Draper, were comlepely gutted. The greatest loss was sustained by Mr. Draper, who had in a large stock of holiday goods. He estimates his loss at about $8,000 on which there was an insurance of $4,300. Mr. Miller's stock was nearly all removed from the lower part of the building, but is in a damaged condition. In the upper story he had stored a large quantity of wool, hides, mittens &c. all of which were destroyed. This stock was partially covered by insurance. Much of Mr. Freese's stock was scattered about and on this there was no insurance. He estimates his loss at between $500 and $600. The buildings, the property of C. A. Miller and of D. W. Gardner were nearly covered by insurance. The origin of the fire was doubtless spontaneous combustion as it broke out in a part of the building where there had been no fire in years.

Electric Lights.

Work for the construction of the electric lights for the village is progressing. Mr. Philbrook, agent for the company, informs us that everything will be in running order by the 20th of this month, the limit set by the board. A 200 light incandescent machine and 200 incandescent globes arrived Monday. The whole plant for the arc lights has been shipped by freight from the works of the company and is expected soon. Work was begun Monday morning in stripping the poles and getting them ready, 300 of these are already here. The erection of the poles and the stringing of the wires will probably be let out by contract and a large force of men put on when everything is in readiness. Wm. Patrick of Phœnix commenced work on the foundation of the new building, which he has contracted to build, but was compelled to desist for the present on account of high water.

Navigation closed on the canals last night at midnight it having been opened for navigation just 215 days this season.

A fire alarm was sounded shortly after one o'clock last Friday morning. The steamer "Wide Awake" which has been making trips between Fulton and Syracuse was found to be on fire but it was extinguished without much loss.

The ladies of Zion church will hold their Apron Sale next week at a time and place to be hereafter designated. It is requested that the articles for the sale be left at Mrs. James Sheridan's on Cayuga street by Monday next.

R. A. Stowell & Co., who have stores at Syracuse and Ogdensburg and formerly one at Fulton have re-opened in the store formerly occupied as Marchant's furniture store, on First street, and are making a very large display of Holiday Goods &c. Call and see them.

Rev. Father Earley was presented with a purse amounting to $145. by the buisness men of Fulton and Oswego Falls, in addition to that received from the benefit entertainment on Thanksgiving evening, a recognition of his untiring labors in the cause of temperance.

Manager Pierce of the Academy of Music desires us to announce that Edwin Booth is to appear at the above house, Dec. 24th, and that if enough will signify their intention to attend on that evening, he will run a special train. This an opportunity that should not be lost of seing the greatest of living tragedians. If a sufficient number inform us by postal or otherwise, we will be pleased to report to Manager Pierce, and a special train will be run for their accommodation.

Stamped Linens!
Towels! Tidies!
Tray Cloths! Doilies!
&c., &c.
The Cheapest line yet, at
F. E. BACON'S.

Safe for Sale.

One of the best combination fire-proof safes. Just as good as new and for one-half the price. Enquire of

R. P. McCULLY, at the Harness Shop.

A Grand Free Entertainment will be given at M. Conley's on Second street, Saturday evening, December 4. Prof. [illegible]

[illegible] stated at the [illegible] to by Keenan. She passed [illegible] and times in the evening. [This refers to the statement that Giesler asked him to stay in the store and he did no want to see the party alone.] This closed the defence. The case was then submitted.

Recorder Bulger said that he considered the case a proper one for the investigation of the grand jury and accordingly would hold the defendants, Giesler and Poole, and require them to furnish bail in the sum of $500 each. The case was considered continued until this afternoon at 2 o'clock to give the defendan opportunity to furnish bail.

The charge of grand larceny against Dr. Loomis has also been postponed several times and is now set down for Monday morning, when it will come up before Justice Hulett.

Jury Drawing.

The following list of trial jurors to attend a session of the county court to be held at the court house in Oswego, commencing Monday, December 6th, have been drawn:

John Blake, W. D. Sweetland, P. W. Slatterly, John Glynn, Michael Sweeney John Riley, Daniel Foley, Gard T. Lyon, M. P. Neal, H. A. Wilcox, Lawrence Burns, Christopher Partridge, Richard Hawkins, Oswego; Lester Halladay, Charles M. Smith, Hiel Powers, New Haven; Eugene Blodgett, E. C. Pasco, John Bell, jr., Earnest Pease, James H. Martin, Oswego Town; William D. Edgerton, Jas. Edwards, Granby; David Pettis, Jay VanDorn, Ira Foster, Levi Moyer, William Gates, Schrœppel; Noah Barlow, Charles P. Shepard, Hannibal; William Blakeman, Charles Holden, Amos H. Baldwin, Volney; Albert E. Andrews, George W. Dennis, Palermo.

Thanksgiving Services.

Union services were held in the Presbyterian church on Thanksgiving day. Rev. Charles Olmstead of the Congregational church, in Oswego Falls delivered the sermon taking his text from 1st Corinthians, 4th chapter and 7th verse "and what hast thou that thou didst not receive." Rev. Mr. Stone of the Presbyterian church; Rev. Mr. Chase of the Methodist church; Rev. Mr. Breaker of the Baptist church and Rev. Mr. Fulford of the Free Methodist assisted in the services. Services at Zion church were held in the morning at 8:30 and at 11, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Goodyear.

Teacher's Association.

The teachers of the town of Volney will hold an Association at No. 2, Fulton, Dec. 11 beginning at 9:30 a. m., and continuing through the day. There will be an exercise in each of the following subjects. Arithmetic, Grammar, Geography and Physiology, All teachers of the town are expected to be present and join in the work of the day. Please bring note books and pencils.

D. D. METCALF, Commissioner.

I. O. O. F.

The first Reception of the Odd Fellows of this village is to be held at their rooms in the Dexter block to-morrow evening. These receptions are to be held every two weeks during the winter. The following are the committees: Of Reception; E. C. Wolcott, J. C. Dresser, T. Wilson, W. J. Boomer. Floor Managers: T. Wilson, C. Bisnett, E. Hare.

Free Art Exhibition.

A Free Art and Mechanical Exhibition commences at Beals' Photograph Rooms to-day and continues for three days and evenings. To this the public is cordially invited to attend. A fine display of Arrasene, Chenille and Tinsel Embroidery and other work executed on the Davis Sewing Machine will be on exhibition and free instruction will be given for doing the same.

We are selling a very fine Gents' Merino Sock for 45cts. regular price 65cts. Take a look at them at F. E. BACONS.

Card of Thanks.

The Father Mathew Temperance Societies of Oswego Falls and Fulton desire to return to the public our appreciation of the kind manner and enthusiastic sentiment therein expressed on the night of the 25th of November in Stephens opera house. We also tender a vote of thanks to the Oswego Falls Juilliard Brass Band and the Fulton Cornet Band, who so kindly volunteered their services and to those who so zealously responded to make our entertainment a grand success. By order of Committee.

What's the Matter

with the Boston Bazaar? Nothing. They are all right and showing the largest and finest line of fancy dry goods, Mittens, Holiday Goods and Hanging lamps ever opened in this town. Come in and see how lively we are going to make things during the month of December.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

Florentine Silk, cut in any length at F. E. BACON'S

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best. To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 30tf.

The winter term of the public school commenced Monday with a large attendance.

Robert H. Gere of the Syracuse Herald spent Thanksgiving with his parents in this village.

Don't fail to hear the gifted party at the opera house on Saturday evening, Miss Brown and Herr Schiebel.

J. I. Van Doren is proprietor of the electric light plant at Phœnix. The Thomson-Houston system will be used.

Three locks are being extended to double their present length on the Oswego canal, lock 5 at Mud Lock; lock 1 at Phœnix and lock 6 at Hinmansville.

Josephine Cameron made a great hit at the opera house Saturday night in "Forget-Me-Not." The large audience were delighted with the play and acting.

Miss Brown, who is to give us a choice entertainment of recitals and costume impersonations has been before the public for several years with great acceptance.

Herr Schiebel, who appears at the opera house, on Saturday evening next is a member of the G. A. R., a veteran, who takes great pride in being "an old soldier."

MARRIED—Thursday, November 25, 1886, at the home of Thomas DeLong, by Rev. W. Dempster Chase, Wilford E. DeLong of Fulton, and Susan Beeman of Hannibal.

District assembly No. 152, Knights of Labor, met on Saturday evening at the rooms of the local assembly in this village. Quite a delegation from Syracuse were present.

It seems that Phœnix is favored with two detachments of the Salvation Army Captain Foster with a number of followers has withdrawn from the regular army and proposes to import some new "talent" according to the Chronicle.

Attention is called to the advertisement of C. S. Ball, the well-known jeweler and silversmith of Syracuse, who offers prizes amounting to $80 to parties sending in the largest number of words made up from the words "C. S. Ball jeweler," before Jan'y, 1, 1877.

Jas. Lyons of Oswego wishes to announce to his Friends and Patrons in Fulton and Oswego Falls, that he is no longer employed by the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company and in future can be found at the Union Pacific Tea Co's. Headquarters No. 19 West Bridge St. Oswego N. Y. Mr. Lyons will call as usual on his old customers to receive orders, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding, and hopes by furnishing a superior article of teas and coffees to retain their good will and patronage.

The electric lights in Oswego Fall are to be placed at the following points:

"At Lower Falls: At the end of the bridge looking up and down 1st Street; on Hannibal street near Mr. Waugh's and one block east of the D. L. & W. railroad; on Waldradt street near the school house; on Worth street near the corner of 5th street; on R. R. street near Mr. Eggleston's and at the corner of 1st and Peat Bed streets.

At Upper Falls: Corner 1st and Broadway and corner 4th and Broadway; corner of Beech and 3d and Chestnut and 3d; corner 1st and Oak and 4th and Oak; corner 4th and Kellogg.

"Centemeri" Gents' Kid Gloves we have just received,
F. E. Bacon.

Northern N. Y. Convention of Young Men's Christian Association.

The annual convention of the Association of northern New York will be held in this village Dec. 3—5. The convention will open Friday evening with a devotional meeting and an address by Rev. Dr. Robinson, of Rochester. The following topics will be discussed, brief addresses or papers opening each:

Why special work for young men.

Possibility of such work in small towns.

The workers' training class, its object, etc.

How to prepare for and conduct young men's meetings.

How ladies can aid the Association "Give the boys a chance."

Committee difficulties, how overcome.

Gymnastics without a Gymnasium.

The White Cross work.

What our Associations are doing in New York State for young men.

The only place in town to get shell oysters is at John Partrick's on First street. A fresh supply received every other day. 30tf.

A Fine Line of Cigars at Williams Drug Store. 29tf

The very choicest qualities of teas, coffees and spices and all shelf groceries sold for cash at WHOLESALE PRICES at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 24tf

The Boston Bazaar

is showing the finest line of plush goods ever seen in Fulton. Albums, dressing cases, shaving cases, and boxes, mirrors, [illegible]

[illegible] White House [illegible] Those who saw him on the day of the funeral were surprised much as was your correspondent to see the very evident effect which the mental anxiety of two years ago caused, provided of course they had not seen him since that memorable campaign of 1884. Mr. Blaine's hair and beard are as white as snow. The chief charm however, of the Maine statesman is the peculiar glance of his eye. I know of no public man or political leader who has more power over his facial expression or whose eyes seem to take in or "size-up" if you will, the person with whom he is conversing than Mr. Blaine. A friend of the writer visited Mr. Blaine during the campaign of '84 on a mission that was partly political and mostly personal. He was an entire stranger to the candidate, but my friend said, that he was instantly put at his ease by the apparent personal interest Mr. Blaine manifested for his wellfare. The meeting at Mr. Arthur's between Mr. Blaine and Mr. Edmonds is being variously commented upon among the politicians. It happened in this way: Mr. Blaine entered the room where Mr. Edmonds was sitting. The gentleman in charge of the funeral, Col. McMichael remarked that there waf no need for an introduction. Mr. Edmonds thereupon offered his hand which Mr. Blaine refused. Turning upon his heel he went up stairs to the chamber of the dead, and immediately thereafter left the room. Perhaps Mr. Blaine thought that he was performing his duty. I remember it was said of the poet Bryant that he never shook hands except with his most intimate friends and treated all others with more or less coldness.

Apropos to the above I heard a story which I here repeat. Not far from the Fifth Avenue hotel is a store devoted to gentleman's supplies in the way of wearing apparel. Mr. Blaine called the other morning and while making his purchases the clerk remarked "Mr. Blaine, I voted for you in 1884 and I hope that you will give me a chance again." Mr. Blaine laughed and said, "I don't know about that. I am afraid not." It is one of those stories that may be taken as indicating which way the Presidential wind blows.

⁂

One of our Presidents used to sing "Why should the spirit of mortal be proud" and it struck me quite freibly that certain well-known New York families have no reason to feel especially proud of their pedigree and to hold themselves aloof from those families whose wealth has been recently acquired. Let us look back a few years—The original Astor was a pack peddler and traded in furs; Gilsey kept a tavern; Rhinelander a sugar house; Commodore Vanderbilt was a ferryman between the battery and Staten Island and so you might name fifty more, all of whom acquired the immense estates which their decendants now snobbishly enjoy by honest endeavor in some respectale though manual employment. There recently came under my observation a case which illustrates what I mean.

Down in Nassau street is a rather elderly man possessed with an endless amount of energy and bustle. I don't need to tell you what the business is, but on the same site his present store stands, he began in 1865 to sell a few blank books and writing paper.

The whole establishment he wheeled up Nassau street on a wheelbarrow. The building which occupied the lot had been burned and the owner agreed to sell it and take the money in small payments.

This man did his business in a small shanty during the day and during the night dug out the cellar of the building he afterward erected, and which he used for a store till he had money enough to build. I don't meen to prolong the yarn, but to-day he owns a beautiful farm on the edge of the Hackensack meadows in Jersey, a beautiful house and most charming surroundings. He has not forgotten the days of his small beginnings but his children affect many airs and much of that which is said to appertain to culture and refinement, but which in the reality is the reflection of snobbery and the beginning of that disease Anglomania. The culture and refinement do not need a long pedigree nor yet is it the direct outgrowth of large wealth.

⁂

McQuade's trial has ended in failure. It's too bad. Who's to blame? The court. Why? Because he failed to charge as he should. The impression left by the Recorder's charge was that His Honor had not the slightest doubt of the jury's agreeing on a verdict of guilty and made his charge so that the jury might disregard the evidence of two members of the "combine" Duffy and Fulgraff. That these two men may be regarded as competent witnesses there can be no doubt, since the code gives distinct permission. The whole question seems to turn on whether the testimony of Fulgraff is corroborated. This point of law seemed to have been forgotten by the Recorder, and hence the disappointment and what is more startling, the jury standing nine to three [illegible]

[illegible]

The Clothing offered by Peebles & Cook is Genuine, so to speak. In the first place, the quality of material is [illegible]. No Shoddy or second-rate goods are offered. The Clothing is completed so as to compare with anything that is turned out in the line called "custom made." Every piece of clothing sold by Peebles & Cook is warranted. Their stock is large and accessions are being made to it every day. Their line of Christmas Clothing is the finest ever seen here.

☞ Gentlemen will do well to look at the styles and learn the prices that rule.

PEEBLES & COOK
Opposite Opera House.

imbibers. Many a stronger man than Mr. Booth has succumbed to its influence. It has a most seductive flavor—A taste that is so enticing one is under its demoniacal influence ere one knows it. There is however, no question of Mr. Booth's being now the king acter of Shakesperian drama.

⁂

Next week I shall give you an account of Mimkacey's great picture, now on public exhibition and which is attracting much attention especially in the religious world.

WANDERER.

The Lambertville "Duck" Rubber Boot has no equal. They will not crack. Sold at Collins'. 25tf.

Just received a fresh cargo of Scranton Coal. SCHENCK & FOSTER.

—FOR THE—

HOLIDAY SEASON!

SNOW & LOOMIS,

have a fine assortment of

POCKET CUTLERY,
CARVERS, SKATES,
SCISSORS and ROBES.
—Also a Novelty in—
FUR RUGS.

Stephens Opera House,
YOUNGS BROS, & CO. Managers.
ONE NIGHT ONLY.
Saturday Even'g, Dec. 4.
THE FAVORITE IMPERSONATOR
Miss NELLIE A. BROWN,
—ASSISTED BY—
Herr Shiebel, of Berlin,
In a Varied Program of Musical Selections, Recitals and Impersonations in Costume.
A Refined Entertainment that pleases all.

Miss Brown is highly endorsed by the clergy and press of the country.

Admission	25 cents.
Reserved Seats	35 cents.
Children under twelve	15 cents.

Reserved Seats on Sale at Watson's.

A SEARCH
FOR WORDS!

With the view of arousing a lively interest in the use of words, and calling attention to my LARGE and ELEGANT STOCK of WATCHES, DIAMONDS, JEWELRY, SILVER and PLATED WARE, FANCY GOODS, etc. etc., now ready for the Holidays, I offer the following TEN VALUABLE PRIZES, now on exhibition at store, Vanderbilt Square:—

To the party sending on or before January 1st, 1887, the largest list of regular words in legitimate use that can be made up from the words "C. S. BALL, JEWELER," I will present a Gold Stem Winding Watch, valued at	$30.00
Second Largest, a Fine Enameled Iron Clock, valued at	20.00
Third largest, One Dozen Knives and Forks, (own make) valued at	5.00
Fourth largest, a Silver-Plated Cake Basket, valued at	5.00
Fifth to Tenth, inclusive, Set of Silver-Plated Knives, valued at	2.50

Printed rules governing the search will be sent on application by postal card or otherwise to

C. S. BALL, JEWELER & SILVERSMITH, Syracuse, N.Y

For Sale or To Rent.

The new house on First street, two blocks south of Broadway.

Inquire of H. HULETT. 28tf

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the NOVELTY CUSTOM MILL recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & Redhead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any flour or feed grinding done. Flour and feed constantly on hand. Call and try us and we guarantee satisfaction. Flour and feed delivered to any part of Fulton and Oswego Falls free of charge. 18t26

Don't miss those bargains at Draper's in Table and Hanging Lamps, China Tea Setts, and those new style (Ribbon Chamber Setts) all new goods and new prices. Call and see. 19tf

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

Remember the place to buy unadulterated groceries CHEAP is at the sign of the Red store No. 18 First street opposite the Lewis house.

24tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

For Sale or To Rent.

A Farm of 40 acres situated two miles north-west of Fulton, known as the Isaiah Conklin farm. Inquire at the premises. Mrs. Mina House. 26t5

1886. 1886.

AHEAD OF ALL!

MILTON S. PRICE,

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

The Popular Dry Goods, Carpet and Furniture Dealer.

The Great Establishment Renovated. New Decorations. &c., Mammoth Show Windows, One Great Entrance from Salina Street. The most Attractive Store in the City.

PROUD AM I TO ANNOUNCE that during forty years of business experience, I have never been so well prepared to meet the wants of the public as at the present time.

READY CASH WITH EXPERIENCED BUYERS has filled my mammoth stores, running through from Salina to Clinton Streets, with a stock of

DRY GOODS, CARPETS AN D FURNITURE

Unequaled by any Establishment in Central New York.

It would be useless in this small space to attempt an enumeration of the thousands of articles displayed.

DRY GOODS and Fancy Goods,
IN ENDLESS VARIETY.

CARPETS, RUGS, &c.,
A COMPLETE STOCK.

Furniture and Curtain Draperies,
FOR THE RICH AND POOR.

I can give you better value for your money than any other house in the City.

Do not fail, when in Syracuse, to pay this establishment a visit.

MILTON S. PRICE.

Nos. 38 and 40 South Salina Street, and 29, 31 and 33 Clinton Street,

Syracuse, N. Y.

We Have Received Another Lot of

[illegible]OATS AND SUITS,

--GRAND RE-OPENING--

Opposite Lewis House, of

STOWELL'S GREAT

25 Cent Bargain Store.

In store formerly Marchant's Furniture Store, First St. [illegible] tional disease, and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure now on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials. Address,

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75 cts.

Boy's Knockabout (Trade Mark) School Shoes are not the cheapest but they are the best. Sold at Collins'. 28tf

Two Schooners Ashore.

The schooner Comanche, Capt. William Becker, was dismasted last week Monday and had been drifting on the lake four days when Saturday night she went ashore at Point Peninsula. She was owned in Oswego by William Becker and Albert Quonce and carried a cargo of corn. Four trips were made by a schooner to save the crew, and all left the vessel except the captain. on the last trip coming toward the boat filled and "Fred" lation. Though it will extend probably to 15 volumes, and will include representative selections (with biographical sketches) from nearly 2,000 of the most famous author of the world, of all ages and all nations, yet it is easily within the reach of any one able to invest so small a sum as 10 cents a week.

"The fourth volume of this excellent cyclopedia is the richest, so far. It goes from 'Cable' to 'Clarke.' For some reason, known only to Galton and other curious writers, the letter C is apparently favorable to genius. Here we find such poets as Cædmon Calderon, Callimachus, Camoens, Campbell, and Chatterton; we listen to such preachers as Chalmers,Chrysostom, and Chapin; Carlyle and Clarendom dispute for honors of history; Calvin wears the laurels of the incomparable theologian; although Cheever,Chillingworth, Channing, and Freeman Clarke are his near neighbors, and Cicero bears off the palm for oratory, while Caxton sets up his printing-press in Westminster, and, a few pages after, Crevantes launches the the immortal 'Don Quixote.' This is a delightful volume, with something in it to suit every taste."—[National Baptist, Philadelphia.

"The general excellence of this valuable work is fully maintained in the volume just received. The marvelous cheapness of this edition has placed it within the reach of many who are overjoyed to call such a work their own."—[Oregonian, Portland, Oregon.

"The present volume has eighty subjects, of whom twenty are American, which shows the attention given to American literature. The undertaking should receive the support of every one

The bill of George Johnston was referred to the Committee on Finance.

Trustee Pardee presented the report of James T. Gardiner of a plan for the sewerage of the village. The report was accompanied by a detail working plan made by Mr. Gardiner in accordance with the action of the board of May 26th last—with his bill of $340 for the services rendered.

The supply committee to whom tre matter of rubber coats and boots for the new hose companies was referred reported that the cost of the same would approximate $27.

On motion the committee were authorized to procure the same,

E. E. Hart appeared before the Board, complaing of a sluiceway across Pratt street near First.

The matter was referred to the committee on streets.

The Clerk was instructed to notify W. D. Patterson to build his sidewalk on Second-st., at the junction of Oneida-st.

The Collector asked for the extension of his warrant for sixty days.

The same was done.

On motion the Board adjourned for two weeks.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 21tf

Just received at Drapers 100 of those leading $1.00 lamps—all complete with B. Burner, Illuminator and Shade. He will put the above lamps on sale Saturday at 89c. each. Remember the place 18 Oneida street, where they are selling Hanging Lamps at prices that will surprise you.

tion of giving up his newspaper work. The experienced will be of great advantage to Mr. Cummings, but it is not certain his constituents will approve his motive.

The members of the Fire Department are under great obligations to Dr Bacon, who generously supplied them with coffee during the fire this morning.

I will reduce the price on all Amborena, Wild-rose and Peach-ware, Saturday Nov. 6 '86. Also on China-Tea-Sets, Chamber-Sets and all fancy cups and saucers. Call and see goods at Draper's, Oneida St.

Job Printing.

—:o:—

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the latest style at the ever known to the medical profession."

Very truly yours,
L. M. GLESSNER, M. D., 350 East 121st St., N. Y.

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

The U. S. Examining Surgeon, Dr. L. R. White, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

St. Francis Hospital, N. Y. "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful.

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered indispensible. It acts perfectly."

Kaskine is pleasant to take and can be used without special medical counsel.

Send for the great book of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine. $1 a bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St. N. Y.

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2¼ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jas. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 84 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.

Parties desiring to sell or rent property or to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at Fulton, N. Y.

away in order to be present the last day, when their cheese will be ready to go. Transactions of the day are as follows:

Lots	Boxes	Price
19	1,1[illegible]	10⅝ cents
2	1[illegible]	11⅛ cents
5	4[illegible]	11¼ cents
6	48[illegible]	12 cents
1	[illegible]	11¾ cents
1	100	12¼ cents
	2,273
	3[illegible]	Com
	2,63[illegible]

Ruling price 10⅝c. Transactions of corresponding day in 1885 were 2,783 boxes ruling 8c. In 1884, 3,707 boxes, ruling 11c.

We are requested to give notice that a formal meeting of the board will be held next Monday at 3 p. m., when resolutions on the oleomargarine question will be passed.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, Nov. 29.

Cheese—This market for the current year is so to speak on it's last legs. About three thousand boxes were sold to-day, but inquiry reveals the fact that little cheese remains unsold, and it is believed that a couple of weeks more will clear out all the stock in this section. A large portion of sales to-day were of every other day cheese, but at the same time a considerable sprinkling of every day stock increased the prices on many lots.

The figures for the day are as follows:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
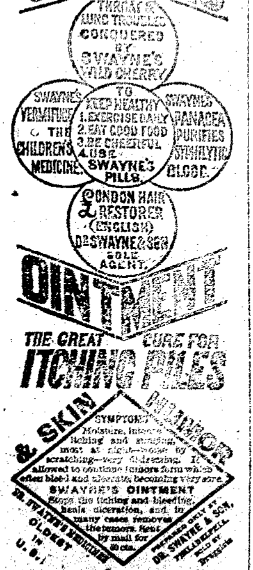
14	699	10⅝ cents
8	521	11⅛ cents
14	896	11¼ cents
1	66	11⅜ cents
5	308	12 cents
6	435	Com.
48	2,925
Farm dairy	375
Total	3,3[illegible]

Farm Dairies—The prices on farm dairy cheese ranged from 10⅛ to 11¾c., with the bulk at 11¼c.

Butter—Sixty-one packages of butter sold at 20 cents. Bulk at 20c.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM



THROAT & LUNG TROUBLES CONQUERED BY SWAYNE'S WILD CHERRY
SWAYNE'S VERMIFUGE THE CHILDREN'S MEDICINE
TO KEEP HEALTHY 1. EXERCISE DAILY 2. EAT GOOD FOOD 3. BE CHEERFUL 4. USE SWAYNE'S PILLS
SWAYNE'S PANACEA PURIFIES SYPHILYTIC BLOOD.
LONDON HAIR RESTORER (ENGLISH) DR SWAYNE & SON SOLE AGENT.
OINTMENT
THE GREAT CURE FOR ITCHING PILES
& SKIN DISORDER
SYMPTOMS Moisture, intense itching and stinging; most at night—worse by scratching—very distressing. If allowed to continue tumors form which often bleed and ulcerate, becoming very sore. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT Stops the itching and bleeding, heals ulceration, and in many cases removes the tumors. Sent by mail for 50 cts.
DR. SWAYNE'S MEDICINES OLDEST IN U. S.
PREPARED ONLY BY DR. SWAYNE & SON, PHILADELPHIA. SOLD BY DRUGGISTS

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

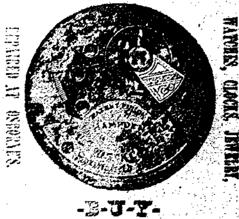
In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, N. Y., notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Hannah H. Beck late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, William D. Patterson at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York on or before the 1st day of June, 1887, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

-BUY-

Standard Watches,

—AT—

W. P. OSBORNE'S.



-B-U-Y-

SPECTACLES

At W. P. OSBORNE'S.

—BUY—

THE WM. ROGERS'

Silver Plated Teaspoons

FOR $1,00 at

W. P. OSBORNE'S.

SCHOOL OF SHORT HAND

—AND—

TYPE WRITING.

CLASSES DAY AND EVENING

Lessons by Mail a Specialty.

Terms Moderate. For further particulars apply to Fulton, Nov. 30, 1886.

ROME, WATERTOWN & OGDENSBURG R. R.

SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Oswego and Philadelphia Express .... 11:13 a. m.
Syracuse and Elmira Express .... 3:32 p. m.
Syracuse and Accommodation .... 5:29 p. m.
New York and Phil. Night Express .... 8:15 p. m.

GOING NORTH

New York and Philadelphia Express .... 6:18 a. m.
Express .... 12:19 p. m.
Express .... 2:48 p. m.
Mails and Accommodation .... 6:48 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express .... 8:39 p. m.

The 6:18 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express .... 7:13 a. m
Freight and Accommodation .... 8:40 a. m
Norwich Express .... 3:06 p. m
N. Y. Night Express .... 9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express .... 6:21 a. m
Oswego Express .... 11:27 a. m.
Freight and accommodation .... 5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express .... 9:57 p. m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:16	6:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19	6:24	9:29

Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS

Chas. Coon of Vernon Centre is visiting friends in town.

Miss Kittie McDonald visited friends in Phœnix last week.

Miss Ella Harrington visited friends in Phœnix last week.

Major D. Tarbell of Ithaca passed last Friday in this village.

L. T. Cahill of Albany, state bank examiner, was in town Friday and Saturday.

N. S. Allen spent Sunday in town the guest of his father-in-law, N. E. Burdick.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Slouson of Mexico are with their ill brother, H. T. Lawrence.

Miss Matie Munsell of Central Square has been visiting her friend Miss Margie Barr of this village.

Sumner McDonough left Monday to fill a position in the Government printing office at Washington.

Miss Marion Rogers of Napanee, Canada who has been visiting Miss Ada Thayer returned home yesterday.

P. Calkins left Monday for Ogdensburg to set up a stave machine for J. M. Maguire of that city. He will be gone about four weeks.

R. P. Hall is quite ill with malarial fever.

Mrs. Otto Schultz has been seriously ill for the past week.

Children's Cloaks!
Ladies' Cloaks!
In great variety and very cheap at
F. E. BACON'S.

Turn this around and see if you are interested in it.

Are you in want of a Trunk or Satchel, Cutter or Robe, Harness or Horse blanket, Bells or Whip or anything usually kept in a first-class harness store. If so we can make it interesting for you if you will call at the old stand of McCully's on Oneida Street.

Yours Truly,
R. H. McCULLY.

SOMETHING NEW.

The improved Welt $3.00 Calf Shoe equal to the best hand sewed at

COLLINS'.

Those desiring Photographs for the Holidays would do well to secure their sittings at once. We have just received a new line of Scenery and accessories for Holiday work. A new line of plush cabinet Frames in desirable patterns. Darrow, Patriot Building, Cor. 2d and Oneida Sts. 27tf

Keep Your Feet Warm. Alfred Dolye's Celebrated Felt Slippers and hoes are sold at Collins'. 28tf

CHEAP COW FEED.

Gilbert & Nichols at the Fulton Mills are selling buckwheat feed for milch cows and young stock at about the price of hay. 28w4

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

Don't trifle with any Throat or Lung Disease. If you have a Cough or Cold, or the children are threatened with Croup or Whooping Cough, use Acker's English Remedy and prevent further trouble. It is a positive cure and we guarantee it. Price 10 and 50c by H. C. Giesler.

A handsome line of chamber sets just received by J. COOLEY TUCKER. 24tf

You will find the largest assortment of Holiday goods at M. M. Williams' Drug Store. 29tf

The opera house was not even standing room at the opera house on Thanksgiving evening at the musical and dramatic entertainment of the T. A. B. Societies of Fulton and Oswego Falls. The entertainment was for the benefit of the Rev. Father Earley and this was a sufficient guarantee for a crowded house as all citizens regardless of sect and creed are desirous to encourage this zealous young priest in his great work for temperance and good order. Before the entertainment commenced the Fulton Brass tendered a serenade to the Reverend gentleman and the societies. When they finished, Father Earley thanked them for himself and the societies. The entertainment consisted of the following program:

Grand March .... Parker's Orchestra
Selections .... Indian Princess and White Dove
Song .... Jeremiah Connors
Dialogue .... Matie Allen and Grace Althouse
Select Ballad .... George Perkins
Recitation—Death Doomed .... Kittie E. McDonald
Banjo Solos .... Parker Bros
Song .... Maggie Darby
Selection .... Miss Anna Martell, Syracuse
Recitation—Lips that Touch Liquor Must Never touch Mine .... Anna Bogue
Solo .... Lena Hardy
Solo .... Thomas Wilcox
Selection .... Miss Nellie Healy
Song—McNally's Row of Flats .... Chas McCaffrey
Piano Solo .... Miss Kerwin, Phœnix
Waltz .... Orchestra

Then followed an address by Father Earley in his usual earnest vein, which was followed by the drama "That Rascal Pat" with the following cast:

Pat McNoggerly, a handy servant .... J. Connors
Major Puffjacket, on half pay .... Michael Nealis
Charles Livingstone, poor but ambitious .... A. E. LaPorte
Lora, niece to Puffjacket, and in love with Charles .... Anna Bogue
Nancy, her maid in love with Pat .... Mary Burke

The selections in the entertainment were good and the parts taken well sustained. The exhibition showed that Fulton and Oswego Falls have much musical and dramatic talent.

OBITUARY.

James German Reynolds died at his home in Granby three miles north of this village, on Wednesday Nov. 24 after a long and lingering illness, aged 75 years. Mr. Reynolds was one of the old settlers in this locality and was a prominent and respected citizen. A wife and three children survive him. Funeral services were held at his late residence on Monday afternoon and the remains interred in the family plot at Lewis Cemetery.

MEMORIAL RECORD.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank, of Fulton, on the 26th of November, 1886, the following minutes were read and approved:

This day's gathering impresses us with the sad consciousness that our circle is again broken by death. Three seats are vacant to-day. Surely the messages have followed each other swiftly—three since the opening of spring—first in the death of Mr. Gillespie, April 13th, then Mr. Carrier's on the 27 of the following month, and now that of James G. Reynolds, whose death occurred on Wednesday, the 24th inst, at his home in Granby.

Some incidents are marked and exceptional, touching Mr. Reynold's connection with the directorship of this institution; his term of service upon this board has been of greater length than that of any other (excepting one) who has been connected with the institutions having been first elected a director in 1858, when it was a State organization under the title of "Oswego River Bank" and re-elected at each annual meeting thereafter to the present time making twenty-eight years of continuous service. Only three persons out of the thirteen composing the Board at the time of his first election are now living, and Mr. Reynold's death leaves but one in the directorship who was then a member of it.

Standing to-day in the shadow of this last great sorrow, a retrospect of this past recalls to our recollection very many with whom our deceased friend so long associated in the earlier history of this bank. But one by one have the links been broken connecting the generation past with that of the present, in the life of the institution entrusted to our watch-care.

In the oversight and management of the affairs of the bank, Mr. Reynolds was active, careful and vigilant; while kindness and courtesy characterized his intercourse with his fellow associates.

Unitedly, we tender the family of our deceased friend, our sympathy in their bereavement and sorrow.

And now be it ordered that these minutes be placed upon the records of the bank and a copy furnished for publication.

D. W. GARDNER, President.
AMOS YOUMANS, Cashier.

The Boston Bazaar

is making things lively. Stand and hanging lamps way down, chimneys 3c each, cups and saucers every style. Tinware almost given away. Come in and keep the ball rolling. Low prices mean many customers.

We Have Received Another Lot of
OVERCOATS AND SUITS,

Fire this Morning. Miller's Hat Store, and Freese's Jewelry Store, all Destroyed.

Fire was discovered about half past three this morning issuing from the upper story of the Highriter building on Oneida street. An alarm was quickly sounded and the firemen with unusual alacrity appeared on the scene. Everything worked in perfect order and the efficiency of the water works was fully shown. The hydrant in front of the water works office was used, two streams from the hydrant corner of First and Oneida streets, and a stream from the hydrant corner of Second and Cayuga streets. Streams were also used from steamers No. 1 and No. 2. For over two hours, Hose companies Nos. 1, 2 and 3 and the two steamers did most effective service and averted what would otherwise have been a much more destructive conflagration. As it was the building in which the fire originated occupied by C. A. Miller, the Hatter and Freese, the Jeweler, and the one next west of it owned by D. W. Gardner and occupied by D. C. Draper, were comlepely gutted. The greatest loss was sustained by Mr. Draper, who had in a large stock of holiday goods. He estimates his loss at about $3.000 on which there was an insurance of $4,500. Mr. Miller's stock was nearly all removed from the lower part of the building, but is in a damaged condition. In the upper story he had stored a large quantity of wool, hides, mittens &c. all of which were destroyed. This stock was partially covered by insurance. Much of Mr. Freese's stock was scattered about and on this there was no insurance. He estimates his loss at between $500 and $600. The buildings, the property of C. A. Miller and of D. W. Gardner were nearly covered by insurance. The origin of the fire was doubtless spontaneous combustion as it broke out in a part of the building where there had been no fire in years.

Electric Lights.

Work for the construction of the electric lights for the village is progressing. Mr. Philbrook, agent for the company, informs us that everything will be in running order by the 20th of this month, the limit set by the board. A 200 light incandescent machine and 200 incandescent globes arrived Monday. The whole plant for the arc lights has been shipped by freight from the works of the company and is expected soon. Work was begun Monday morning in stripping the poles and getting them ready. 390 of these are already here. The erection of the poles and the stringing of the wires will probably be let out by contract and a large force of men put on when everything is in readiness. Wm. Patrick of Phœnix commenced work on the foundation of the new building, which he has contracted to build, but was compelled to desist for the present on account of high water.

Navigation closed on the canals last night at midnight it having been opened for navigation just 215 days this season.

A fire alarm was sounded shortly after one o'clock last Friday morning. The steamer "Wide Awake" which has been making trips between Fulton and Syracuse was found to be on fire but it was extinguished without much loss.

The ladies of Zion church will hold their Apron Sale next week at a time and place to be hereafter designated. It is requested that the articles for the sale be left at Mrs. James Sheridan's on Cayuga street by Monday next.

R. A. Stowell & Co., who have stores at Syracuse and Ogdensburg and formerly one at Fulton have re-opened in the store formerly occupied as Marchant's furniture store, on First street, and are making a very large display of Holiday Goods &c. Call and see them.

Rev. Father Earley was presented with a purse amounting to $145, by the buisness men of Fulton and Oswego Falls, in addition to that received from the benefit entertainment on Thanksgiving evening, a recognition of his untiring labors in the cause of temperance.

Manager Pierce of the Academy of Music desires us to announce that Edwin Booth is to appear at the above house, Dec. 24th, and that if enough will signify their intention to attend on that evening, he will run a special train. This an opportunity that should not be lost of seing the greatest of living tragedians. If a sufficient number inform us by postal or otherwise, we will be pleased to report to Manager Pierce, and a special train will be run for their accommodation.

Stamped Linens!
Towels! Tidies!
Tray Cloths! Doilies!
&c., &c.
The Cheapest line yet, at
F. E. BACON'S.

Safe for Sale.

One of the best combination fire-proof safes. Just as good as new and for one-half the price. Enquire of

R. P. McCULLY, at the Harness Shop.

A Grand Free Entertainment will be given at M. Conley's on Second street, Saturday evening, December 4. Prof.

Tuesday. On Tuesday, however, the continuation of the examination was held before Recorder Bulger, in which Mr. Giesler re-appeared on the stand and said that Mrs. Dr. Loomis called at the store three times in one forenoon and was the person referred to by Kernan. She passed the store several times in the evening. [This refers to the statement that Giesler asked him to stay in the store and he did no want to see the party alone.] This closed the defence. The case was then submitted.

Recorder Bulger said that he considered the case a proper one for the investigation of the grand jury and accordingly would hold the defendants, Giesler and Poole, and require them to furnish bail in the sum of $500 each. The case was considered continued until this afternoon at 2 o'clock to give the defendan opportunity to furnish bail.

The charge of grand larceny against Dr. Loomis has also been postponed several times and is now set down for Monday morning, when it will come up before Justice Hulett.

Jury Drawing.

The following list of trial jurors to attend a session of the county court to be held at the court house in Oswego, commencing Monday, December 6th, have been drawn:

John Blake, W. D. Sweetland, P. W. Slatterly, John Glynn, Michael Sweeney John Riley, Daniel Foley, Gard T. Lyon, M. P. Neal, H. A. Wilcox, Lawrence Burns, Christopher Partridge, Richard Hawkins, Oswego; Lester Halladay, Charles M. Smith, Hiel Powers, New Haven; Eugene Blodgett, E. C. Pasco, John Bell, jr., Earnest Pease, James H. Martin, Oswego Town; William D. Edgerton, Jas. Edwards, Granby; David Pettis, Jay VanDorn, Ira Foster, Levi Moyer, William Gates, Schrœppel; Noah Barlow, Charles P. Shepard, Hannibal; William Blakeman, Charles Holden, Amos H. Baldwin, Volney; Albert E. Andrews, George W. Dennis, Palermo.

Thanksgiving Services.

Union services were held in the Presbyterian church on Thanksgiving day, Rev. Charles Olmstead of the Congregational church, in Oswego Falls delivered the sermon taking his text from 1st Corinthians, 4th chapter and 7th verse "and what hast thou that thou didst not receive." Rev. Mr. Stone of the Presbyterian church; Rev. Mr. Chase of the Methodist church; Rev. Mr. Breaker of the Baptist church and Rev. Mr. Fulford of the Free Methodist assisted in the services. Services at Zion church were held in the morning at 8:30 and at 11, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Goodyear.

Teacher's Association.

The teachers of the town of Volney will hold an Association at No. 2, Fulton, Dec. 11 beginning at 9:30 a. m., and continuing through the day. There will be an exercise in each of the following subjects, Arithmetic, Grammar, Geography and Physiology. All teachers of the town are expected to be present and join in the work of the day. Please bring note books and pencils.

D. D. METCALF, Commissioner.

I. O. O. F.

The first Reception of the Odd Fellows of this village is to be held at their rooms in the Dexter block to-morrow evening. These receptions are to be held every two weeks during the winter. The following are the committees: Of Reception: E. C. Wolcott, J. C. Dresser, T. Wilson, W. J. Boomer. Floor Managers: T. Wilson, C. Bisnett, E. Hare.

Free Art Exhibition.

A Free Art and Mechanical Exhibition commences at Beals' Photograph Rooms to-day and continues for three days and evenings. To this the public is cordially invited to attend. A fine display of Arrasene, Chenille and Tinsel Embroidery and other work executed on the Davis Sewing Machine will be on exhibition and free instruction will be given for doing the same.

We are selling a very fine Gents' Merino Sock for 45cts. regular price 65cts. Take a look at them at F. E. BACONS.

Card of Thanks.

The Father Mathew Temperance Societies of Oswego Falls and Fulton desire to return to the public our appreciation of the kind manner and enthusiastic sentiment therein expressed on the night of the 25th of November in Stephens opera house. We also tender a vote of thanks to the Oswego Falls Juilliard Brass Band and the Fulton Cornet Band, who so kindly volunteered their services and to those who so zealously responded to make our entertainment a grand success. By order of Committee.

What's the Matter

with the Boston Bazaar? Nothing. They are all right and showing the largest and finest line of fancy dry goods, Mittens, Holiday Goods and Hanging lamps ever opened in this town. Come in and see how lively we are going to make things during the month of December.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

Florentine Silk, cut in any length at F. E. BACON'S

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best. To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 30tf.

Christmas three weeks from next Saturday.

An attempt is being made to re-organize the Sons of Veterans in this village.

The winter term of the public school commenced Monday with a large attendance.

Robert H. Gere of the Syracuse Herald spent Thankgiving with his parents in this village.

Don't fail to hear the gifted party at the opera house on Saturday evening, Miss Brown and Herr Schiebel.

J. J. Van Doren is proprietor of the electric light plant at Phœnix. The Thomson-Houston system will be used.

Three locks are being extended to double their present length on the Oswego canal, lock 5 at Mud Lock; lock 1 at Phœnix and lock 6 at Hinmansville.

Josephine Cameron made a great hit at the opera house Saturday night in "Forget-Me-Not." The large audience were delighted with the play and acting.

Miss Brown, who is to give us a choice entertainment of recitals and costume impersonations has been before the public for several years with great acceptance.

Herr Schiebel, who appears at the opera house on Saturday evening next is a member of the G. A. R., a veteran, who takes great pride in being "an old soldier."

MARRIED—Thursday, November 25, 1883, at the home of Thomas DeLong, by Rev. W. Dempster Chase, Wilford E. DeLong of Fulton, and Susan Beeman of Hannibal.

District assembly No. 152, Knights of Labor, met on Saturday evening at the rooms of the local assembly in this village. Quite a delegation from Syracuse were present.

It seems that Phœnix is favored with two detachments of the Salvation Army Captain Foster with a number of followers has withdrawn from the regular army and proposes to import some new "talent" according to the Chronicle.

Attention is called to the advertisement of C. S. Ball, the well-known jeweler and silversmith of Syracuse, who offers prizes amounting to $80 to parties sending in the largest number of words made up from the words "C. S. Ball jeweler," before Jan'y, 1, 1877.

Jas. Lyons of Oswego wishes to announce to his Friends and Patrons in Fulton and Oswego Falls, that he is no longer employed by the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company and in future can be found at the Union Pacific Tea Co's. Headquarters No. 19 West Bridge St. Oswego N. Y. Mr. Lyons will call as usual on his old customers to receive orders, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding, and hopes by furnishing a superior article of teas and coffees to retain their good will and patronage.

The electric lights in Oswego Fall are to be placed at the following points:

"At Lower Falls: At the end of the bridge looking up and down 1st Street; on Hannibal street near Mr. Waugh's and one block east of the D. L. & W. railroad; on Waldradt street near the school house; on Worth street near the corner of 5th street; on R. R. street near Mr. Eggleston's and at the corner of 1st and Peat Bed streets.

At Upper Falls: Corner 1st and Broadway and corner 4th and Broadway; corner of Beech and 3d and Chestnut and 3d; corner 1st and Oak and 4th and Oak; corner 4th and Kellogg.

"Centemeri" Gents' Kid Gloves we have just received,
F. E. Bacon.

Northern N. Y. Convention of Young Men's Christian Association.

The annual convention of the Association of northern New York will be held in this village Dec. 3—5. The convention will open Friday evening with a devotional meeting and an address by Rev. Dr. Robinson, of Rochester. The following topics will be discussed, brief addresses or papers opening each:

Why special work for young men.

Possibility of such work in small towns.

The workers' training class, its object, etc.

How to prepare for and conduct young men's meetings.

How ladies can aid the Association

"Give the boys a chance."

Committee difficulties, how overcome.

Gymnastics without a Gymnasium.

The White Cross work.

What our Associations are doing in New York State for young men.

The only place in town to get shell oysters is at John Partrick's on First street. A fresh supply received every other day. 30tf.

A Fine Line of Cigars at Williams Drug Store. 29tf

The very choicest qualities of teas, coffees and spices and all shelf groceries sold for cash at WHOLESALE PRICES at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 24tf

The Boston Bazaar

is showing the finest line of plush goods ever seen in Fulton. Albums, dressing cases, shaving cases, and boxes, mirrors,

The funeral of Gen. Arthur as a matter of course called together a large number of the nation's representative men, particularly those of the party with whom the dead President affiliated. Next to the present incumbent of the White House, no one attracted more attention than Mr. Blaine. Those who saw him on the day of the funeral were surprised as much as was your correspondent to see the very evident effect which the mental anxiety of two years ago caused, provided of course, they had not seen him since that memorable campaign of 1884. Mr. Blaine's hair and beard are as white as snow. The chief charm however, of the Maine statesman is the peculiar glance of his eye. I know of no public man or political leader who has more power over his facial expression or whose eyes seem to take in or "size up" if you will, the person with whom he is conversing than Mr. Blaine. A friend of the writer visited Mr. Blaine during the campaign of '84 on a mission that was partly political and mostly personal. He was an entire stranger to the candidate, but my friend said, that he was instantly put at his ease by the apparent personal interest Mr. Blaine manifested for his wellfare. The meeting at Mr. Arthur's between Mr. Blaine and Mr. Edmonds is being variously commented upon among the politicians. It happened in this way: Mr. Blaine entered the room where Mr. Edmonds was sitting. The gentleman in charge of the funeral, Col. McMichael remarked that there waf no need for an introduction. Mr. Edmonds thereupon offered his hand which Mr. Blaine refused. Turning upon his heel he went up stairs to the chamber of the dead, and immediately thereafter left the room. Perhaps Mr. Blaine thought that he was performing his duty. I remember it was said of the poet Bryant that he never shook hands except with his most intimate friends and treated all others with more or less coldness.

Apropos to the above I heard a story which I here repeat. Not far from the Fifth Avenue hotel is a store devoted to gentleman's supplies in the way of wearing apparel. Mr. Blaine called the other morning and while making his purchases the clerk remarked "Mr. Blaine, I voted for you in 1884 and I hope that you will give me a chance again." Mr. Blaine laughed and said, "I don't know about that. I am afraid not." It is one of those stories that may be taken as indicating which way the Presidential wind blows.

⁂

One of our Presidents used to sing "Why should the spirit of mortal be proud" and it struck me quite freibly that certain well-known New York families have no reason to feel especially proud of their pedigree and to hold themselves aloof from those families whose wealth has been recently acquired. Let us look back a few years—The original Astor was a pack peddler and traded in furs; Gilsey kept a tavern: Rhinelander a sugar house; Commodore Vanderbilt was a ferryman between the battery and Staten Island and so you might name fifty more, all of whom acquired the immense estates which their decendants now snobbishly enjoy by honest endeavor in some respectale though manual employment. There recently came under my observation a case which illustrates what I mean.

Down in Nassau street is a rather elderly man possessed with an endless amount of energy and bustle. I don't need to tell you what the business is, but on the same site his present store stands, he began in 1865 to sell a few blank books and writing paper.

The whole establishment he wheeled up Nassau street on a wheelbarrow. The building which occupied the lot had been burned and the owner agreed to sell it and take the money in small payments.

This man did his business in a small shanty during the day and during the night dug out the cellar of the building he afterward erected, and which he used for a store till he had money enough to build. I don't meen to prolong the yarn, but to-day he owns a beautiful farm on the edge of the Hackensack meadows in Jersey, a beautiful house and most charming surroundings. He has not forgotten the days of his small beginnings but his children affect many airs and much of that which is said to appertain to culture and refinement, but which in the reality is the reflection of snobbery and the beginning of that disease Anglomania. The culture and refinement do not need a long pedigree nor yet is it the direct outgrowth of large wealth.

⁂

McQuade's trial has ended in failure. It's too bad. Who's to blame? The court. Why? Because he failed to charge as he should. The impression left by the Recorder's charge was that His Honor had not the slightest doubt of the jury's agreeing on a verdict of guilty and made his charge so that the jury might disregard the evidence of two members of the "combine" Duffy and Fulgraff. That these two men may be regarded as competent witnesses there can be no doubt, since the code gives distinct permission. The whole question seems to turn on whether the testimony of Fulgraff is corroborated. This point of law seemed to have been forgotten by the Recorder, and hence the disappointment and what is more startling, the jury standing nine to three

GENUINE!

The Clothing offered by Peebles & Cook is Genuine, in every respect. In the first place, the quality of material is excellent. No Shoddy or second-rate goods are offered. The Clothing is completed so as to compare with anything that is turned out in the line called "custom made." Every piece of clothing sold by Peebles & Cook is warranted. Their stock is large and accessions are being made to it every day. Their line of Christmas Clothing is the finest ever seen here.

☞Gentlemen will do well to look at the styles and learn the prices that rule.

PEEBLES & COOK
Opposite Opera House.

imbibers. Many a stronger man than Mr. Booth has succumbed to its influence. It has a most seductive flavor—A taste that is so enticing one is under its demoniacal influence ere one knows it. There is however, no question of Mr. Booth's being now the king actor of Shakesperian drama.

⁂

Next week I shall give you an account of Mimkacey's great picture, now on public exhibition and which is attracting much attention especially in the religious world. WANDERER.

The Lambertville "Duck" Rubber Boot has no equal. They will not crack. Sold at Collins'. 25tf.

Just received a fresh cargo of Scranton Coal. SCHENCK & FOSTER.

—FOR THE—

HOLIDAY SEASON!
SNOW & LOOMIS,

have a fine assortment of

POCKET CUTLERY,
CARVERS, SKATES,
SCISSORS and ROBES.
—Also a Novelty in—
FUR RUGS.

Stephens Opera House,

YOUNGS BROS, & CO. Managers.

ONE NIGHT ONLY.

Saturday Even'g, Dec. 4.

THE FAVORITE IMPERSONATOR

Miss NELLIE A. BROWN,

—ASSISTED BY—

Herr Shiebel, of Berlin,

In a Varied Program of Musical Selections, Recitals and Impersonations in Costume.

A Refined Entertainment that pleases all.

Miss Brown is highly endorsed by the clergy and press of the country.

Admission	25 cents.
Reserved Seats	35 cents.
Children under twelve	15 cents.

Reserved Seats on Sale at Watson's.

A SEARCH
FOR WORDS!

With the view of arousing a lively interest in the use of words, and calling attention to my LARGE and ELEGANT STOCK of WATCHES, DIAMONDS, JEWELRY, SILVER and PLATED WARE, FANCY GOODS, etc. etc., now ready for the Holidays, I offer the following TEN VALUABLE PRIZES, now on exhibition at store, Vanderbilt Square:—

To the party sending on or before January 1st, 1887, the largest list of regular words in legitimate use that can be made up from the words "C. S. BALL, JEWELER," I will present a Gold Stem Winding Watch, valued at	$30.00
Second Largest, a Fine Enameled Iron Clock, valued at	20.00
Third largest, One Dozen Knives and Forks, (own make) valued at	5.00
Fourth largest, a Silver-Plated Cake Basket, valued at	5.00
Fifth to Tenth, inclusive, Set of Silver-Plated Knives, valued at	2.50

Printed rules governing the search will be sent on application by postal card or otherwise to

C. S. BALL, JEWELER & SILVERSMITH, Syracuse, N. Y

For Sale or To Rent.

The new house on First street, two blocks south of Broadway.

Inquire of H. HULETT. 28tf

Novelty Custom Mill,

E. G. Hubbard having leased the NOVELTY CUSTOM MILL recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & Redhead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any flour or feed grinding done. Flour and feed constantly on hand. Call and try us and we guarantee satisfaction. Flour and feed delivered to any part of Fulton and Oswego Falls free of charge. 18t26

Don't miss those bargains at Draper's in Table and Hanging Lamps, China Tea Setts, and those new style (Ribbon Chamber Setts) all new goods and new prices. Call and see. 19tf

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

Remember the place to buy unadulterated groceries CHEAP is at the sign of the Red store No. 18 First street opposite the Lewis house.

24tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

For Sale or To Rent.

A Farm of 40 acres situated two miles north-west of Fulton, known as the Isaiah Conklin farm. Inquire at the premises. Mrs. Mina House. 26t5

1886. 1886.

AHEAD OF ALL!

MILTON S. PRICE,

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

The Popular Dry Goods, Carpet and Furniture Dealer.

The Great Establishment Renovated. New Decorations. &c., Mammoth Show Windows, One Great Entrance from Salina Street. The most Attractive Store in the City.

PROUD AM I TO ANNOUNCE that during forty years of business experience, I have never been so well prepared to meet the wants of the public as at the present time.

READY CASH WITH EXPERIENCED BUYERS has filled my mammouth stores, running through from Salina to Clinton Streets, with a stock of

DRY GOODS, CARPETS AND FURNITURE

Unequaled by any Establishment in Central New York.

It would be useless in this small space to attempt an enumeration of the thousands of articles displayed.

DRY GOODS and Fancy Goods,

IN ENDLESS VARIETY.

CARPETS, RUGS, &c.,

A COMPLETE STOCK.

Furniture and Curtain Draperies,

FOR THE RICH AND POOR.

I can give you better value for your money than any other house in the City.

Do not fail, when in Syracuse, to pay this establishment a visit.

MILTON S. PRICE.

Nos. 38 and 40 South Salina Street, and 29, 31 and 33 Clinton Street,

Syracuse, N. Y.

--GRAND RE-OPENING--
Opposite Lewis House, of
STOWELL'S GREAT
25 Cent Bargain Store.

In store formerly Marchant's Furniture Store, First St., Fulton.

[illegible] to destroy the [illegible] by the application [illegible] will accomplish it. [illegible] plant, when healthy, matures [illegible] that is perfectly safe to feed to all [illegible] stock. It is better food for milk [illegible] corn meal, being more nitrogenous [illegible] more cooling.

The last month or so of a pig's life has a great influence upon the flesh of the animal. You can put on the frame all through the year, but the flavor is largely determined by the feeding during the latter period of the fattening. The same is true of all animals.

The worst possible place to keep garden seeds is in a tight glass jar or bottle. Seeds so kept do not grow well. It is true they are secure from mice, but it is much better to put them in paper or cotton sacks and devise some other method for heading off the mice.

Beet roots are commonly too dry if kept in an ordinary cellar. They shrivel and lose weight and value unless some dirt is mixed with them and thrown over them to exclude drying air. Again, the temperature must be kept only a little above freezing, or they will sprout and grow before spring.

Poultry require more and heartier feeding in cold than in warm weather. Look out for roup and colds this month. Give your birds fresh water daily, and once or twice a week drop into the drinking vessels a little cayenne pepper. This is an excellent tonic, and it is warming to the crop in severe weather, but you must not use it too plentifully.

Early Chickens.

Incubators are used by experts with success, but farmers and ordinary poultry keepers are rarely successful with these machines. The American Agriculturist describes a brooder which can be used by anybody. Eighty degrees is quite enough warmth for newly hatched chicks, which are taken from the nest as they come out, and are placed in the brooder until all the brood is out, when they may be removed to a warm, glazed coop, with the hen. All that is required is to have a warm part of the buildings or an attic room for the setting hens, and glazed coops set in a sunny place out of doors for the chicks when they come from the brooder. The brooder is a wooden box eighteen inches square or thereabouts, one end opening as a door and closing tight, lined with hair felt, or blanket cloth and having a shelf in the middle, and a glass in the upper half of the door, so that the chicks may be seen. A tin heater having handles and a screw-opening to put in the hot water, fits into the lower part, which is also lined with the felt or double blanket. The heater is filled with boiling water and put in its place, wrapped in a piece of blanket to keep the heat and moderate it. A nest, covered with a sheet of paper, which can be removed when soiled, is put on the shelf. A pasteboard box, upon half-inch cleats make a good nest. A thermometer is kept in the nest, so that the warmth may be regulated by putting more blanket over the heater, or by ventilating the brooder by holes in the door, closed by corks. Chipped eggs will be batched in such a brooder; weak chicks may be saved, and all the losses by chicks being crushed in the nest are avoided. The heat is admitted to the nest by holes in the shelf.

If you once try Carter's Little Liver Pills for sick headache, biliousness or constipation you will never be without them. They are purely vegetable; Small and easy to take, all druggists sell them.

Water for Stock in Winter.

A large proportion of the food of our animals is used to keep up the temperature of the body to about one hundred degrees. Cold weather, damp barnyards, cracks in the barn or sheds, want of bedding and exposure to storms, greatly increase the consumption of food to no good purpose. Much more regard is now paid to the comfort of our stock in these respects that formerly. We think, however, many fail to realize the loss of food sustained by compelling animals to drink ice-cold water. Water as it comes fresh from the well has a temperature of about fifty-five degrees. When allowed to stand until frozen over and the ice then broken, and pieces of ice suffered to remain in the water, the temperature speedily falls to thirty-five degrees. Experiments are reported which seem to show that it pays to artificially warm the drinking water for milch cows. Be this as it may, no one can doubt that water at fifty-five degrees is cold enough for health. The water that an animal drinks has to be raised to the temperature of its body, say one hundred degrees. And, of course, it requires much more fuel in food to raise a pailful of water from thirty-five degrees to one hundred degrees than a pailful of fresh water from fifty-five degrees to one hundred degrees. If the heat required to warm the pailful of water twenty degrees was derived from hay, or straw, or grain, the loss would not in many cases be severely felt. But, as a matter of fact, this heat is obtained from the consumption of fat and flesh, or butter and cheese. This is expensive fuel. We are aware that it is not always easy to furnish animals water free from ice. We fill the trough with water, and the cows and sheep, and horses do not drink as much as we expected, and the [illegible] there is a thick layer of ice upon the water. In such a case [illegible] the ice in as large pieces as possible and pull them out with a potato [illegible]. Do not leave them to [illegible] the water. Pump plenty of [illegible] for the animals.—[American [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

'Tis pleasant to sit in the cool porch door,
When your haying is finished as you've seen,
Looking out o'er your beautiful fields of grass
That sway to and fro in the breeze;
But not quite so pleasant to start with your scythe,
Ere the morning sun shines o'er the land
And work till your clothes are completely wet through,
And blisters shall cover your your hand.

In keeping a dairy there's surely delight
And it speaks of contentment and plenty
To see a large stable well filled with choice cows,
Say, numbering from fifteen to twenty;
And yet it seems hard, when you've worked from the dawn
Till the sun disappears from your sight,
To think of the cows you have yet got to milk
Before you retire for the night.

In raising young pigs there is surely a charm,
When they sell at the present high price,
And of all the young stock which a farmer can raise,
There's nothing that look's half so nice.
How cheerful one feels as he leaves them at night,
The encouraging number of eleven!
But his joys slightly wane when he goes out next day
And of live ones can count only seven!

'Tis pleasant to sit by a warm winter fire,
When the night draws its curtains around,
With wife and children to make home complete,
And peace and contentment abound;
But ecstacy fades when you shoulder your ax,
And trudge off a mile through the snow,
While the cutting west wind drives the snow in your face,
So you scarcely can see where you go.

But no one disputes that the former is blessed
With true independence and labor—
Whose food don't depend on the whim of mankind,
Like that of his mercantile neighbor;
For God in his mercy, looks down from above,
And paternally gives him his bread,
Provided—he works sixteen hours every day,
And devotes only six to his bed.

THE PROPER THING.

Boucle jackets are very popular.

Badger is the latest fancy in furs.

Pompons of cut feathers are popular.

Silver and blue fox furs are again in favor.

Linen collars with turned over points are popular.

Merino is revived as a fashionable dress fabric.

Initials in the lower left-hand corner of note paper is the latest.

Very fine handkerchiefs with scalloped edges are new and dainty.

Very large fur buttons and bands of fur are used on suits of plain cloth.

The long Newmarket and short walking jacket, to be fashionable, should be of checked cloth.

Small boys from four to eight years of age wear kilt suits, or else short trousers take the place of the kilt skirt.

Velveteen, corduroy and cordereine, kindred fabrics, are all used to excess for children's best "coats" and frocks.

The favorite caps for very small boys are the Russian turban, the Florentine page, the Neapolitan, and the Tam o' Shanter Scotch cap.

Elaborate embroidery is not so much in vogue as simpler stitches, feather or brierwork or polka dots on collars, cuffs and vests of house-dresses, or above the hems of children's skirts. Like braiding, silk embroidery is done in simple designs to give an "all over" effect.

Collars of dresses are becoming higher and higher, and this winter will reach their limit at the chin, recalling the collar formerly worn by retired military subordinates. Sometimes this collar is trimmed to resemble a necklace, with embroidery and drops of jet or old silver.

Do you suffer from indigestion, or loss of appetite? Are you troubled with liver or kidney complaint? Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation purifies and vitalizes the blood, thus restoring health and strength to the digestive and assimilative organs. Try it.

Mrs. Mary Pleasants, colored, of San Francisco is worth $250,000.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phœbe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and soreness, and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth, and removed completely all disease and pain." Try a bottle, only 50c. at R. E. Phillips' Drug Store.

THE CENTURY.

For 1886-87.

The Century is an illustrated monthly magazine having a regular circulation of about two hundred thousand copies, often reaching and sometimes exceeding two hundred and twenty-five thousand. Chief among its many attractions for the coming year is a serial which has been in active preparation for sixteen years. It is a history of our own country in its most critical time as set forth in

The Life of Lincoln,

BY HIS CONFIDENTIAL SECRETARIES, JOHN G. NICOLAY AND COL. JOHN HAY.

This great work, begun with the sanction of President Lincoln, and continued under the authority of his son, the Hon. Robert T. Lincoln, is the only full and authoritative record of the life of Abraham Lincoln. Its authors were friends of Lincoln before his presidency; they were most intimately associated with him as private secretaries throughout his term of office, and to them were transferred upon Lincoln's death all his private papers. Here will be told the inside history of the civil war and of President Lincoln's administration,—important details of which have hitherto remained unrevealed, that they might first appear in this authentic history. By reason of the publication of this work, which has been followed with unflagging interest by a great audience, will occupy less space during the coming year. Gettysburg will be described by Gen. Hunter (Chief of the Union Artillery), Gen. Longstreet, Gen. E. M. Law, and others; Chickamauga, by Gen. D. H. Hill; Sherman's March to the Sea, by Generals Howard and Slocum. Generals Q. A. Gillmore, Wm. F. Smith, John Gibbon, Horace Porter, and John S. Mosby will describe special battles and incidents. Stories of naval engagements, prison life, etc., etc., will appear.

THE WAR SERIES,

NOVELS AND STORIES.

"The Hundredth Man," a novel by Frank R. Stockton, author of "The Lady, or the Tiger?" etc., begins in November. Two novelettes by George W. Cable, stories by Mary Hallock Foote, "Uncle Remus," Julian Hawthorne, Edward Eggleston, and other prominent American authors will be printed during the year.

SPECIAL FEATURES

(with illustrations) include a series of articles on affairs in Russia and Siberia, by George Kennan, [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

Beware of imitations. See what you buy. Look for hop-vine wreath, and signature of HOP PLASTER COMPANY, on back of plaster and on circular around plaster.

SIXTY-TWO YEARS OLD,

But not too old to be Benefitted by Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy.

Rochester, N. Y., June 2d '86.

Pardee Medicine Co.

Gents:—I have for more than a year been troubled with what I feared was or would be paralysis. My left arm, limb and side were numb, and had it not been for the severe pain I felt at times from moving about, I should have considered the entire side lifeless. I have had poor health for years, although under good treatment most of the time, but I can truthfully say that I have received more benefit from the use of Dr. Pardee's Remedy than from any and all other treatments. The pain and numbness have entirely left me, and I am gradually gaining strength.

I can conscientiously recommend your remedy to any and all similarly afflicted.

Yours truly,
MRS. L. CHAPPELL,
62 Glenwood Park.

UNABLE TO WALK FOR SIX WEEKS.

Nunda, N. Y., May 20, 1886,

Pardee Medicine Co.

Gents:—I cannot find words in which to express my feelings for the great good your excellent remedy has done my wife who for six long weeks was unable to help herself. We had four of the best physicans we could procure, but she grew worse every day until we feared she would never be any better. I received one of your pamphlets through the mail and immediately procured some of the medicine, and the third day after she began its use she could move about the house. She has now taken five bottles and is able to do her work as easily as she has in years. She cannot recommend Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy too highly, for it does all you claim for it, and is far superior to anything we have ever used. I am yours very truly, W. W HOOVER.

Ask your druggists for Pardee's Remedy and take no other. Price $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Claus Spreckles, the sugar king, has had a row with King Kalakaua and has returned in a huff all the decorations which that monarch has bestowed upon him.

How often do we hear of the sudden and fatal termination of a case of croup, when a young life might have been saved by the prompt use of Ayer's Cherry Pictoral. Ayer's Almanac for the new year is out. Get one.

The New York World is said to pay Julian Hawthorne $5,000 a year.

Home Rule for Ireland

s only a question of time and it is only question of time when a neglected Cough will lead to Consumption. We guarantee that the timely administration of Van Wert's Balsam will stop any Cough. For sale by H. G. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are very thorough in operation. Van Wert's Golden Balm cures Catarrh without irritation.

Pauline Nelson, a German servant girl in Indianapolis, has been left $250,000 by her uncle in the fatherland.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

Mr. Leland Stanford is conspicuous for being the only Senator who displays absolutely no jewelry on his person.

Babies that are fretful, peevish, cross, or troubled with Windy Colic, Teething Pains, or Stomach Disorders, can be relieved at once by using Acker's Baby Soother. It contains no Opium or Morphine, hence is safe. Price 25 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

The man who dug the graves for three husbands of Mrs. Foster, of Green Bay, became her husband this summer.

A GENEROUS FIRM.

We are informed that the proprietors, Messrs. A. P. Ordway & Co., recently sent three dozen of their reliable medicine, Sulphur Bitters, to the Catholic Home for the Aged, which is highly appreciated by the directors and inmates. "As ye sow, so shall ye reap."—Editor Catholic Union.

The ministers of Minneapolis, Minn., have withdrawn their invitation to Sam Jones to visit that city and hold a revival.

Jeffersonian Simplicity.

Can be practiced by using Van Wert's Balsam for all Throat and Lung diseases, as it well save unnecessary doctors bills. For sale by H. C. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are free from injurious substances. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure catarrhal Headaches.

Mrs. Cleveland is an active member of the Horsewoman's Club of Washington.

Tennyson's "May Queen"

Who knows but if the beautiful girl who died so young had been blessed with Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" she might have reigned on many another bright May-day. The "Favorite Prescription" is a certain cure for all those disorders to which females are liable.

The standing armies of six European states cost last year $500,000,000.

Thousands of cases of Consumption are cured every year by Acker's celebrated English Remedy. It is a guaranteed preparation; if it does not help you it will cost you nothing. Try it. A single dose will show its good effect. Trial bottles 10 cts. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

The young society men of Washington will powder their hair this winter.

Advice to Mothers.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child [illegible]

[illegible]

FURNITURE DEALER

[illegible]

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 5tf

---

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.

Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.
Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4 40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

WE WANT 5,000 MORE BOOK AGENTS TO SELL OUR NEW BOOK.

Secret Service OF THE POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

By P. H. WOODWARD, late Chief of P. O. Detective Corps.

A New Book Just Published by an official of over 15 years' experience in the Secret Service, in one Magnificent Royal Octavo Volume of over 500 pages and elegantly illustrated by the best artists in the country with

200 SUPERB ENGRAVINGS.

A thrilling record of detection in the U. S. Post-Office Department; embracing sketches of Wonderful Exploits of Post-Office Inspectors in the Detection, Pursuit and Capture of Robbers of the U. S. Mails; together with a complete description of the ingenious and complicated contrivances of the [illegible] to defraud the public; also [illegible]

AGENTS WANTED.

In every town there are Postmasters, Merchants, Mechanics, Farmers, Professional Men, and hundreds of people who will be glad to get this thrilling book [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are small and easy to take. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Hay Fever. 23m6

Mrs. Ann Pope, the widow of Gen. John Pope, who recently died at Nashville, Tenn., has left $30,000 to Presbyterian churches.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

The aged Baroness Burdett-Coutts is to accompany her young husband on his tour of this country planned for next spring.

If you would enjoy your dinner and are prevented by Dyspepsia, use Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. They are a positive cure for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Flatulency and Constipation. We guarantee them. 25 and 50 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

Mrs. George B. McClellan will winter in Rome, where her daughter and son expect to receive many social attentions.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

The throne on which Queen Victoria sat when she opened the Liverpool Exhibition is now for sale.

The reason why Acker's Blood Elixir is warranted, is because it is the best Blood Preparation known. It will positively cure all Blood Diseases, purifies the whole system, and thoroughly builds up the constitution. Remember, we guarantee it. H. C. Giesler.

Col. Charles Chaille Long says that he believes Gen. Gordon is still alive somewhere in the equatorial regions of Africa.

CHURCH GOING PEOPLE

Are annoyed by the Coughing of their neighbors. One bottle of Van Wert's Balsam would cure every cough in the congregation. Go to H. C. Giesler's Fulton, or Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls, and get a free sample bottle and see for yourself.

Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure cold in the head. 23m6

G. P. Morosini, father of the missing Victoria Schilling, says that his daughter is well and happy, traveling with a rich family in Europe.

RULES

for the care of the sick. How to cure disease, its symptoms and causes, and other information of great value will be found in old Dr. Kaufmann's great book 100 pages, fine colored plates. Send three 2 cent stamps to pay postage to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive a copy free.

A cabbage two feet through and weighing forty pounds elicits complimentary notices from the California press.

It Should be Generally Known.

that the multitude of diseases of a scrofulous nature generally proceed from a torpid condition of the liver. The blood becomes impure because the liver does not act properly and work off the poison from the system, and the certain results are blotches, pimples, eruptions swellings, tumors, ulcers, and kindred affections, or settling upon the lungs and poisoning their delicate tissues, until ulceration, breaking down, and consumption is established. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" will, by acting upon the liver and purifying the blood, cure all these diseases.

The Pasteur institute fund in Paris now amounts to $288,400.

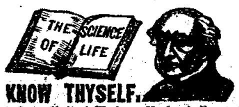
For 20 years Henry F. Balcom, of Shirley, Mass., suffered with rheumatism. He found no relief until he took Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Fifty thousand bushels of peanuts are stored at St. Louis.

Dwyer Bros. won $208,549 with their horses last season.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopœia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, [illegible]

[illegible]

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

[illegible]

Clever girl, that Miss Bridie McGinn,
She can play on the Spanish guitar,
But while than she doth play,
(Now don't give it away)
She will puff on a 5c. cigar. —Life.

A fashion item says shoes are the same as in the spring. They are a little more worn, however.—[Lowell Courier.

An exchange publishes a poem entitled, "Smile when You Can." We do.—Boston Post.

"This beats me," as the egg remarked when it saw the spoon.—[Boston Commercial Bulletin.

"Hey, Jimmy! where did yer git der medal—for parlor skatin?"

"No, I didn't. It's a champion medal. I can spit furder dan any man in de ward!"—[Judge.

"A rolling stone gathers no moss," but when it is a grindstone it can just break the heart of the farmer's boy who wants to go a-fishing.—[Boston Commercial Bulletin.

"Baliff," said an Arkansas Judge, "will you please inform the jury that there will be a horse race in Merrick's pasture at 3 o'clock?" The jury had been out for 48 hours, but in less than 30 minutes they came into court with a verdict.—[Omaha World.

A little arithmetic shows that a mince pie suitable for the Bartholdi Goddess of Liberty's mouth would have to be thirty feet in diameter.—[Springfield Union.

"Patrick, you told me you needed the alcohol to clean the mirrors with, and here I find you drinking it." "Faix, mum, it's a drinkin' it and brathing on the glass oi'm a doin'."—Life.

There is a strong suspicion afloat out West that the reason Bartholdi made his statue bare-headed is because to put a hat on her of the present fashion would make her about three hundred feet higher.—[St. Paul Herald.

"Do you take me for an idiot?" said an irate husband to his sarcastic wife. "No love," she replied sweetly. "What has any poor idiot ever done to me that I should libel it that way."—[Washington Critic.

"They wouldn't let me work, Susan, 'cause I'm out with them knights, and wasn't a 'union' man."

"Lawks, Jabez, I can stand your being out wid 'em not, but jest take your penshun papers round an' show 'em you was a union man an' always will be."—[Harper's Weekly.

Backache is almost instantly relieved by wearing one of Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Try one and be free from pain. Price 25 cents.

How to describe a girl's luncheon in three words? Giggle, gabble, gobble.

"THE IDEAL MAGAZINE"

for young people is what the papers call St. Nicholas. Do you know about it,—how good it is, how clean and pure and helpful? If there are any boys or girls in your house will you not try a number, or try it for a year, and see if it isn't just the element you need in the household? The London Times has said, "We have nothing like it on this side." Here are some leading features of

ST. NICHOLAS.

for 1886-87.

Stories by Louise M. Alcott and Frank R. Stockton,—several by each author.

A Short Serial Story by Mrs. Burnett, whose charming "Little Lord Fauntleroy" has been a great feature in the past year of St. Nicholas.

War Stories for Boys and Girls. Gen. Badeau, chief-of-staff, biographer, and confidential friend of Gen. Grant, and one of the ablest and most popular of living military writers, will contribute a number of papers describing in clear and vivid style some of the leading battles of the civil war. They will be panoramic descriptions of single contests or short campaigns, presenting a sort of literary picture gallery of the grand and heroic contests in which the parents of many a boy and girl of to-day took part.

The Serial Stories include "Juan and Juanita," an admirably written story of Mexican life, by Frances Courtenay Baylor, author of "On Both Sides"; also, "Jenny's Boarding-House," by James Otis, a story of life in a great city.

Short Articles, instructive and entertaining, will abound. Among these are: "How a Great Panorama is Made," by Theodore R. Davis, with profuse illustrations; "Winning a Commission" (Naval Academy), and "Recollections of the Naval Academy"; "Boring for Oil" and "Among the Gas-wells" with a number of striking pictures; "Child Sketches from George Elliot," by Julia Magruder; "Victor Hugo's Tales to his Grandchildren," recounted by Brander Matthews; "Historic Girls," by E. S. Brooks. Also interesting contributions from Mora Perry, Harriet Prescott Spofford, Joaquin Miller, H. H. Boyesen, Washington Gladden, Allice Wellington Rollins, J. T. Trowbridge, Lieutenant Frederick Schwatka, Noah Brooks, Grace Denio Litchfield, Rose Hawthorne Lathrop, Mrs S. M. B. Piatt, Mary Mapes Dodge, and many others, etc., etc.

The subscription price of St. Nicholas is $3.00 a year; 25 cents a number. Subscriptions are received by booksellers and newsdealers everywhere or by the publishers. New volume begins with the November number. Send for our beautifully illustrated catalogue (free) containing full prospectus, etc., etc. THE CENTURY CO. New York.

SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE.

Published Monthly
WITH ILLUSTRATIONS.

FIRST NUMBER READY DEC 15.

Scribner's Magazine will be in the widest sense a magazine of general literature, and each number will be fully illustrated.

Some of the most notable papers to appear during the first year are a series of Unpublished Letters of Thackeray of very great autobiographical value; ex-Minister E. B. Washburne's Reminiscences of the Siege and Commune of Paris; Glimpses at the Diaries of Gouverneur Morris, Minister to France at the close of the last century, (giving descriptions of social life and character at the time); a collection of contemporary letters describing Early New York and New England Society.

There is much excellent fiction, including a serial by Harold Frederick; stories extending through several numbers by H. C. Bunner, J. S. of Dale, and others; and short stories by R. L. Stevenson, Joel Chandler Harris, T. A. Janvier, Miss Jewett, Octave Thanet, H. H. Boyesen, Miss Crosby, and a host of others.

Notable special papers to be published very early are General F. A. Walker's on Socialism; Dr. William Hayes Ward's on Babylonian Cylinders; Mr. John C. Ropes' on the Portraits of Cæsar; Captain Greene's on Coast Defence, etc., etc.

Scribner's Magazine will be published at $3.00 a year, or 25 cents a copy. Subscriptions may be sent to any newsdealer or bookseller, or to

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS, Publishers,
743 and 745 Broadway.
New York.

ARTISTS' MATERIALS For every department Select Studies and all Novelties. China Fired and Gilded. LaCroix Latest Colors and Special Brushes. Kensington and Lustro Outfits a Specialty. FLOWER MAKERS SUPPLIES. Best Goods. Lowest Prices. Prompt attention. PRICE LIST FREE.

W. H. BAUEGRAS & CO.,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

$350 PER MONTH.—Salary and commission, to competent Manager for this City or State Agency. A splendid combination. Our [illegible]

[illegible]

THE UNION NATIONAL GAS SAVING CO. [illegible] New York.

JUST THE THING!

[illegible]

[illegible] 3d: [illegible] The result is [illegible] and curative powers, which effects cures hitherto unequalled. These peculiarities belong exclusively to Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Unknown to Others

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared with the greatest skill and care, by pharmacists of education and long experience. Hence it is a medicine worthy of entire confidence. If you suffer from scrofula, salt rheum, or any disease of the blood, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, or kidney and liver complaints, catarrh or rheumatism, do not fail to try

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla to all my friends as the best blood purifier on earth." Wm. Gaff, druggist, Hamilton, O.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me of scrofulous humor, and done me worlds of good otherwise." C. A. Arnold, Arnold, Me.

A book containing many additional statements of cures will be sent to all who desire.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

BLUE PILLS

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately. Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored? [illegible]

IT IS

Dyspepsia

Don't Wait! Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use

Sulphur Bitters!

Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is

The Invalid's Friend.

The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

Golden Medical Discovery

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

KNABE

PIANOFORTES,
UNEQUALED FOR
Tone, Touch, Workmanship and Durability.
WILLIAM KNABE & CO.,
Nos. 204 and 206 West Baltimore St., Baltimore,
No. 112 Fifth Avenue, New York.

CATARRH

ELY'S CREAM BALM Gives Relief at once and Cures Cold in Head, CATARRH, HAY FEVER Not a Liquid, Snuff or Powder. Free from injurious Drugs and Offensive odors.

HAY-FEVER

A particle is applied into each nostril and is agreeable to use. Price 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cts. Circulars free. ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N. Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

PATENTS

HENRY WISE GARNETT, Attorney-at-Law, WASHINGTON, D. C.
Refers to 2d National Bank, Washington, D. C.
SEND FOR INVENTOR'S GUIDE.

TO ADVERTISERS.—Lowest Rates for advertising in 1,000 good newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

A RARE CHANCE.

THE AMERICAN HORSE COLLARS

Endorsed and used by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals:

Prolong the life of the horse, are a humane invention, secure thirty per cent. more work, and are effecting a revolution. To a practical horse or harness man we will upon receipt of sample order, give the agency of this town for our business, and a continued advertisement in this paper with name attached thereto.

Price of Sample Collar $3.50.

Address
THE AMERICAN HORSE COLLAR CO.
30 Warren St., New York.

---

10 PER CENT. INVESTMENT, SECURITY ABSOLUTE. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of [illegible] Surrogate of Oswego County, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Lafayette Alfred, late of the town of [illegible], said county, deceased, to present the same with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her residence in the village of [illegible], in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the [illegible] day of Nov., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided. Dated May 12th, 1886.

CAROLINE L. ALFRED, Administratrix.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego county, New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Thomas Hubbard, late of the town of Volney, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at her residence in the town of Volney, or to [illegible] Patterson, at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 2nd day of Dec., 1886, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated June 2, 1886. LUCY E. HUBBARD, Executrix.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—County of Oswego. Alice Hethington as administratrix of the goods, chattels and credits of William S. Hethington, deceased, against Josiah C. Mosher, Nellie Sears, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis and Josephine Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.—Dated this 13th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & RICE, Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington, defendants:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. Pardon C. Williams, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 15th day of October, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego Co., N. Y., at Oswego, N. Y., on October 15, 1886.—Dated Oct. 15, 1886.

HOWE & RICE, Plaintiff's Attorneys.
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—County of Oswego. Alice Hethington vs. Nellie E. Sears, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Josephine Hethington, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Marcus F. Craban, Newell W. Stowell, Smith Craver, William Craver and Josiah C. Mosher.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the County of Oswego.—Dated this 26th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & RICE, Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington—defendants.

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. John C. Churchill, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 28th day of October, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego County at Oswego, N. Y., on October 28th, 1886. Dated October 28, 1886.

HOWE & RICE, Plaintiff's Attorneys.
Office and Post Office address, Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—County of Oswego. Nellie E. Sears against John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Josephine Hethington and Alice Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego. Dated this 4th day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID, Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington.

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. J. C. Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 6th, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego county, at Oswego city, N. Y. Yours &c.,

C. H. DAVID.
Pl'ffs Atty.,
Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—County of Oswego. Frank L. Sears vs. Alice H. Hethington, administratrix &c. of William S. Hethington, deceased, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Josephine Hethington, Alice M. Hethington and Nellie E. Sears.

Action to foreclose Mortgage.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego. Dated this 2nd day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID, Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

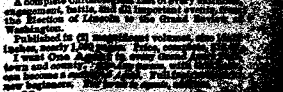
To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington.

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. J. C. Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 23d, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego county, at Oswego city, N. Y. Yours &c.,

C. H. DAVID,
Pl'ffs Atty,
Fulton, N. Y.

Agents Wanted for the Great War Book

Just Published, entitled



THE SOLDIER IN OUR CIVIL WAR,

THE MOST COMPLETE AND INTERESTING PICTORIAL HISTORY of the GREAT CONFLICT. Containing 100 MAMMOTH BATTLE SCENES, each 14½ x 20 inches; 400 FULL-PAGE ILLUSTRATIONS, 9½ x 14½ inches; and UPWARDS OF 500 PORTRAITS, MAPS, AND BATTLE SCENES, By the great War Artists, Forbes, Waud, Taylor, Becker, Lovie, Schell, Crane, and others. [illegible]

[illegible]

A Magnificent Outfit Sent [illegible]

C. S. EGGLESTON

BOOKS, STATIONERY, WALL [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]
FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY DECEMBER 8, 1886.

[illegible]
[illegible] go rush to [illegible] drink!
[illegible] thou canst not fly from thought! thy curse shall be—to think!
Remember me! remember all my long-enduring love
That link'd itself to perfidy; the vulture and the dove!
Remember in thy utmost need I never once did shrink,
But clung to thee confidingly; thy curse shall be—to think!
Then go! that thought would render thee a dastard in the fight,
That thought, when thou art tempest tossed, will fill thee with affright!
In some vile dungeon may'st thou lie, and counting each cold link
That binds thee to captivity, thy curse shall be—to think!
Go seek the merry banquet hall, where younger maidens bloom,
The thought of me shall make thee there endure a deeper gloom;
That thou shalt turn the festive cup to poison while you drink,
And while false smiles are on thy cheek, thy curse shall be— to think!
Forget me! false one, hope it not! when minstrels touch the string
The memory of other days will gall thee while they sing;
The air I used to love will make thy onward conscience shrink—
Aye, ev'ry note will have its sting, thy curse shall be—to think!
Forget me! no, that shall not be! I'll haunt thee in thy sleep,
In dreams thou'lt cling to slimy rocks that overhang the deep;
Thou'lt shriek for aid! my feeble arm shall hurl thee from the brink,
And when thou wak'st in wild dismay, thy curse shall be—to think!
—[Inez C. Field.

In Exile.

I see a fireside far away;
I count each dear, accustomed chair,
The gentle glance, the faces gay—
I see it all and would be there.

The children climb their father's knees;
The mother strokes her baby's hair;
In happy groups of twos and threes
They laugh and chat—would I were there.

The lamp its mellow radiance sheds;
The firelight flickers softly where
Two little brown and golden heads
Are lowly bent at evening prayer.

What of the lonely leagues between?
I see it plain—I see it fair!
I see, who am myself unseen—
For oh! my homesick heart is there!
—[Anna F. Burnham in Good Housekeeping.

THE PROPER THING.

Among novelties are jackets of undyed sealskin.

Long boas of light fluffy fur are in great vogue.

The Normandy cloaks and capes are worn by the smallest girls.

Fur pelerines or round capes reach almost to the waist-line.

Dresses with overskirts are not put on till girls are in their teens.

Black Persian lamb-skin is very fashionable for jackets and mantles.

Sealskin jackets are short, jaunty coats that fit as smoothly as tailor-made cloth jackets.

Thin-soled white satin shoes for brides are displayed. Dead gold and silver beads ornament the toe.

Muffs are larger than those used last winter and are quite plain, without pendants at the ends.

Unique plush corsets, for winter wear, are in blue, red and old gold colors; nothing less than real lace ornaments them.

The darts upon the basques and bodices of every sort are carried up uncommonly high to give a slender, long-waisted effect.

Fanciful waists, puffed and cuffed sleeves and very full skirts without trimming are the features of winter frocks for little girls.

Sealskin sacques are greatly improved in shape, being more closely fitted about the waist and arranged to slope gracefully over the tournure.

Thoughts.

Even the weakest man is strong enough to enforce his convictions.—Goethe.

Everything good in a man thrives best when properly recognized.—J. G. Holland.

He that brings most of use into his life lives the longest.—Rev. C. L. Guild.

Activity may lead to evil, but inactivity cannot be lead to good.—Hannah More.

The highest exercise of charity is charity toward the uncharitable.—Buckminster.

Those who act right walk with the laws and with all the deepest processes of the universe.—Phillips Brooks.

Nothing is more ruinous to a man than when he is mighty enough in any thing to right himself without right.—[illegible]

[illegible] death the great reconciler, has [illegible] it is never our tenderness that we [illegible] of, but our severity.—George [illegible]

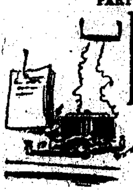
[illegible]

THE GREAT DEADWOOD MYSTERY.

BY BRET HARTE.

[Copyrighted 1886, by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., and published by arrangement with them.]

PART I.



It was growing quite dark in the telegraph office at Cottonwood, Tuolumne county, California. The office, a box-like enclosure, was separated from the public room of the Miners' hotel by a thin partition; and the operator, who was also news and express agent at Cottonwood, had closed his window, and was lounging by his news stand preparatory to going home. Without, the first monotonous rain of the season was dripping from the porches of the hotel in the waning light of a December day. The operator, accustomed as he was to long intervals of idleness, was fast becoming bored.

The tread of mud-muffled boots on the veranda, and the entrance of two men, offered a momentary excitement. He recognized in the strangers two prominent citizens of Cottonwood; and their manner bespoke business. One of them proceeded to the desk, wrote a dispatch, and handed it to the other interrogatively.

"That's about the way the thing p'ints," responded his companion assentingly.

"I reckoned it only squar to use his dientikal words?"

"That's so."

The first speaker turned to the operator with the dispatch.

"How soon can you shove her through?"

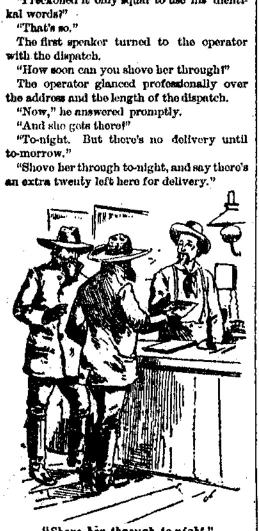
The operator glanced professionally over the address and the length of the dispatch.

"Now," he answered promptly.

"And she gets there?"

"To-night. But there's no delivery until to-morrow."

"Shove her through to-night, and say there's an extra twenty left here for delivery."



"Shove her through to-night."

The operator, accustomed to all kinds of extravagant outlay for expedition, replied that he would lay this proposition, with the dispatch, before the San Francisco office. He then took it and read it—and re-read it. He preserved the usual professional apathy—had doubtless sent many more enigmatical and mysterious messages—but nevertheless, when he finished, he raised his eyes inquiringly to his customer. That gentleman, who enjoyed a reputation for equal spontaneity of temper and revolver, met his gaze a little impatiently. The operator had recourse to a trick. Under the pretence of misunderstanding the message, he obliged the sender to repeat it aloud for the sake of accuracy, and even suggested a few verbal alterations, ostensibly to insure correctness, but really to extract further information. Nevertheless, the man doggedly persisted in a literal transcript of his message. The operator went to his instrument hesitatingly.

"I suppose," he added half questioningly, "there ain't no chance of a mistake. This address is Rightbody, that rich old Bostonian that everybody knows. There ain't but one?"

"That's the address," responded the first speaker coolly.

"Didn't know the old chap had investments out here," suggested the operator, lingering at his instrument.

"No more did I," was the insufficient reply.

For some few moments nothing was heard but the click of the instrument, as the operator worked the key, with the usual appearance of imparting confidence to a somewhat reluctant hearer who preferred to talk himself. The two men stood by, watching his motions with the usual awe of the unprofessional. When he had finished they laid before him two gold pieces. As the operator took them up he could not help saying:

"The old man went off kinder sudden, didn't he? Had no time to write?"

"Not sudden for that kind o' man," was the exasperating reply.

But the speaker was not to be disconcerted. "If there is an answer—" he began.

"There ain't any," replied the first speaker, quietly.

"Why?"

"Because the man es sent the message is dead."

"But it's signed by you two."

"On'y es witnesses—eh?" appealed the first speaker to his comrade.

"On'y es witnesses," responded the other.

The operator shrugged his shoulders. The business concluded, the first speaker slightly relaxed. He nodded to the operator, and turned to the bar room with a pleasing social impulse. When their glasses were set down empty the first speaker, with a cheerful condemnation of the hard times and the weather, apparently dismissed all previous proceedings from his mind, and lounged out with his companion. At the corner of the street they stopped.

"Well, that job's done," said the first speaker, by way of [illegible] social [illegible] of parting.

[illegible]

[illegible] reflective pause, coldly communicated the fact that a stranger was waiting without—as he ought. Despite the lateness of the hour, there was a slight glow from the windows, clearly not enough to warm the messenger with indications of a festivity within, but yet bespeaking, as it were, some prolonged though subdued excitement. The sober servant who took the dispatch, and receipted for it as gravely as if witnessing a last will and testament, respectfully paused before the entrance of the drawing room. The sound of measured and rhetorical speech, through which the occasional catarrhal cough of the New England coast struggled, as the only effect of nature not wholly repressed, came from its heavily-curtained recesses; for the occasion of the evening had been the reception and entertainment of various distinguished persons, and, as had been epigrammatically expressed by one of the guests, "the history of the country" was taking its leave in phrases more or less memorable and characteristic. Some of those valedictory axioms were clever, some witty, a few profound, but always left as a genteel contribution to the entertainer. Some had been already prepared, and, like a card, had served and identified the guest at other mansions.

The last guest departed, the last carriage rolled away, when the servant ventured to indicate the existence of the dispatch to his master, who was standing on the hearth rug in an attitude of wearied self-righteousness. He took it, opened it, read it, re-read it, and said:

"There must be some mistake! It is not for me. Call the boy, Waters."

Waters, who was perfectly aware that the boy had left, nevertheless obediently walked toward the hall door, but was recalled by his master.

"No matter—at present!"

"It's nothing serious, William?" asked Mrs. Rightbody, with languid wifely concern.

"No, nothing. Is there a light in my study?"

"Yes. But before you go, can you give me a moment or two?"

Mr. Rightbody turned a little impatiently toward his wife. She had thrown herself languidly on the sofa; her hair was slightly disarranged, and part of a slippered foot was visible. She might have been a finely formed woman; but even her careless deshabille left the general impression that she was severely flanneled throughout, and that any ostentation of womanly charm was under vigorous sanitary surveillance.

"Mrs. Marvin told me to-night that her son made no secret of his serious attachment for our Alice, and that, if I was satisfied, Mr. Marvin would be glad to confer with you at once."

The information did not seem to absorb Mr. Rightbody's wandering attention, but rather increased his impatience. He said hastily that he would speak of that to-morrow, and partly by way of reprisal, and partly to dismiss the subject, added:

"Positively James must pay some attention to the register and the thermometer. It was over 70 degs. to-night, and the ventilating draft was closed in the drawing room."

"That was because Professor Ammon sat near it, and the old gentleman's tonsils are so sensitive."

"He ought to know from Dr. Dyer Doit that systematic and regular exposure to draughts stimulates the mucous membrane; while fixed air over sixty degrees invariably——"

"I am afraid, William," interrupted Mrs. Rightbody, with feminine adroitness, adopting her husband's topic with a view of thereby directing him from it; "I'm afraid that people do not yet appreciate the substitution of bouillon for punch and ices. I observed that Mr. Spondee declined it, and, I fancied, looked disappointed. The fibrine and wheat in liqueur glasses passed quite unnoticed, too."

"And yet each half drachm contained the half-digested substance of a pound of beef. I'm surprised at Spondee!" continued Mr. Rightbody, aggrievedly. "Exhausting his brain and nerve force by the highest creative efforts of the Muse, he prefers perfumed and diluted alcohol flavored with carbonic acid gas. Even Mrs. Faringway admitted to me that the sudden lowering of the temperature of the stomach by the introduction of ice ——"

"Yes; but she took a lemon ice at the last Dorothea reception, and asked me if I had observed that the lower animals refused their food at a temperature over sixty degrees."

Mr. Rightbody again moved impatiently towards the door. Mrs. Rightbody eyed him curiously.

"You will not write, I hope! Dr. Keppler told me to-night that your celebral symptoms interdicted any prolonged mental strain."

"I must consult a few papers," responded Mr. Rightbody, curtly, as he entered his library.

It was a richly furnished apartment, morbidly severe in its decorations, which were symptomatic of a gloomy dyspepsia of art, then quite prevalent. A few curios, very ugly, but providentially equally rare, were scattered about. There were various bronzes, marbles and casts, all requiring explanation, and so fulfilling their purpose of promoting conversation and exhibiting the erudition of their owner. There were souvenirs of travel with a history, old bric-a-brac with a pedigree, but little or nothing that challenged attention for itself alone. In all cases the superiority of the owner to his possessions was admitted. As a natural result nobody ever lingered there, the servants avoided the room and no child was ever known to play in it.

Mr. Rightbody turned up the gas and from a cabinet of drawers, precisely labeled, drew a package of letters. These he carefully examined. All were discolored and made dignified by age, but some, in their original freshness, must have appeared trifling, and inconsistent with any correspondent of Mr. Rightbody. Nevertheless, that gentleman spent some moments in carefully perusing them, occasionally referring to the telegram in his hand. Suddenly there was a knock at the door. Mr. Rightbody started, made a half-conscious movement to return the letters to the drawer, turned the telegram face downwards, and then, somewhat harshly, exclaimed:

"Who? Whom is it? Come in."

[illegible]

"I suppose we must talk over to-morrow," he hesitated, "this matter of yours and Mr. Marvin's—Mrs. Marvin has formally spoken to your mother."

Miss Alice lifted her bright eyes intelligently, but not joyfully, and the color of action, rather than embarrassment, rose to her round cheeks.

"Yes, he said she would," she answered, simply.

"At present," continued Mr. Rightbody, still awkwardly, "I see no objection to the proposed arrangement."

Miss Alice opened her round eyes at this. "Why, papa, I thought it had been all settled long ago! Mamma knew it, you knew it. Last July mamma and you talked it over."

"Yes, yes," returned her father, fumbling his papers; "that is—well, we will talk of it to-morrow." In fact, Mr. Rightbody had intended to give the affair a proper attitude of seriousness and solemnity by due precision of speech and some apposite reflections, when he should impart the news to his daughter, but felt himself unable to do it now. "I am glad, Alice," he said at last, "that you have quite forgotten your previous whims and fancies. You see we are right."

"Oh! I dare say, papa, if I'm to be married at all, that Mr. Marvin is in every way suitable."

Mr. Rightbody looked at his daughter narrowly. There was not the slightest impatience nor bitterness in her manner; it was as well regulated as the sentiment she expressed.

"Mr. Marvin is"—he began.

"I know what Mr. Marvin is," interrupted Miss Alice; "and he has promised me that I shall be allowed to go on with my studies the same as before. I shall graduate with my class; and, if I prefer to practice my profession, I can do so in two years after our marriage."

"In two years!" queried Mr. Rightbody, curiously.

"Yes. You see, in case we should have a child, that would give me time enough to wean it."

Mr. Rightbody looked at this flesh of his flesh, pretty and palpable flesh as it was; but, being confronted as equally with the brain of his brain, all he could do was to say meekly:

"Yes, certainly. We will see about all that to-morrow."

Miss Alice rose. Something in the free, unfettered swing of her arms, as she rested them lightly, after a half yawn, on her lithe hips, suggested his next speech, although still distrait and impatient.

"You continue your exercise with the health-lift yet, I see."

"Yes, papa; but I had to give up the flannels. I don't see how mamma could wear them. But my dresses are high-necked, and by bathing I toughen my skin. See!" she added, as with a child-like unconsciousness, she unfastened two or three buttons of her gown, and exposed the white surface of her throat and neck to her father, "I can defy a chill."

Mr. Rightbody, with something akin to a genuine, playful paternal laugh, leaned forward and kissed her forehead.

"It's getting late, Ally," he said parentally, but not dictatorily. "Go to bed."

"I took a nap of three hours this afternoon," said Miss Alice, with a dazzling smile, "to anticipate this dissipation. Good-night, papa. To-morrow, then."

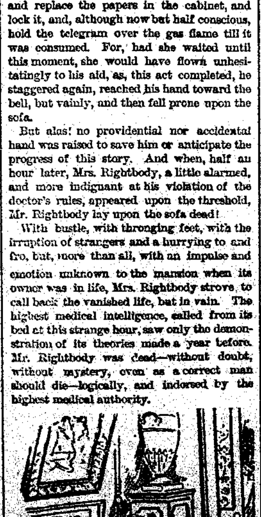
"To-morrow," repeated Mr. Rightbody, with his eyes still fixed upon the girl vaguely. "Good-night."

Miss Alice tripped from the room, possibly a trifle the more light-heartedly that she had parted from her father in one of his rare moments of illogical human weakness. And perhaps it was well for the poor girl that she kept this single remembrance of him, when, I I fear, in after years, his methods, his reasoning and indeed all he had tried to impress upon her childhood, had faded from her memory.

For, when she had left, Mr. Rightbody fell again to the examination of his old letters. This was quite absorbing; so much so, that he did not notice the footsteps of Mrs. Rightbody on the staircase as she passed to her chamber, nor that she had paused on the landing to look through the glass half-door on her husband, as he sat there with the letters beside him, and the telegram opened before him. Had she waited a moment later, she would have seen him rise, and walk to the sofa with a disturbed air and a slight confusion; so that, on reaching it, he seemed to hesitate to lie down, although pale and evidently faint. Had she still waited, she would have seen him rise again with an agonized effort, stagger to the table, fumblingly refold and replace the papers in the cabinet, and lock it, and, although now but half conscious, hold the telegram over the gas flame till it was consumed. For, had she waited until this moment, she would have flown unhesitatingly to his aid, as, this act completed, he staggered again, reached his hand toward the bell, but vainly, and then fell prone upon the sofa.

But alas! no providential nor accidental hand was raised to save him or anticipate the progress of this story. And when, half an hour later, Mrs. Rightbody, a little alarmed, and more indignant at his violation of the doctor's rules, appeared upon the threshold, Mr. Rightbody lay upon the sofa dead!

With bustle, with thronging feet, with the irruption of strangers and a hurrying to and fro, but, more than all, with an impulse and emotion unknown to the mansion when its owner was in life, Mrs. Rightbody strove to call back the vanished life, but in vain. The highest medical intelligence, called from its bed at this strange hour, saw only the demonstration of its theories made a year before. Mr. Rightbody was dead—without doubt, without mystery, even as a correct man should die—logically, and indorsed by the highest medical authority.



[illegible] to "Seventy-four and Seventy-five," Cottonwood. In a few hours he received the following enigmatical response:

"A horse thief named Josh Slabbs was lynched yesterday morning by the vigilantes at Deadwood."

(To be Continued.)

We indorse all the proprietors have said relative to the merits of Salvation Oil. It is the greatest cure on earth for pain. Price only 25 cents.

Yarborough House, Raleigh, N. C.
I have used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for my children; it is the golden remedy. —Mrs. Dr. Blackwell.

Chunks of Wisdom for Wives.

Always remember that you are married to a man and not to a god; be prepared for imperfections.

Once in a while let your husband have the last word; it will gratify him and be no particular loss to you.

Do be reasonable; it is a good deal to ask under some circumstances; reasonable women are rare—be rare.

Anticipate the discovery by your husband that you are "only a woman," if you were not he would not care about you.

Remember that servants are made of the same material as you are; a little coarser grained, perhaps but the same material.

Let your husband read a newspaper at breakfast table; it is unsocial, but then it is only a trifle after all, and he likes it.

Read something in the papers besides fashion notes and society columns, have some knowledge of what is going on in foreign countries.

Try and forget yourself; as to your husband, forget that you married him; and remember that he married you; he will then probably do the reverse.

Be a companion to your husband if he is a wise man; and if he is not, try to make him become your companion. Raise his standard do not let him lower yours.

Let your husband know more than you do once in a while; it keeps up his self-respect, and you will be none the worse for admitting that you are not actually infallible.

Respect your husband's prejudices, respect his relations, especially his mother—she is not less his mother because she is your mother-in-law; she loved him before you did.

A Remarkable Case.

Oct. 21st, 1886.

MESSRS W. H. HOOKER & Co.:

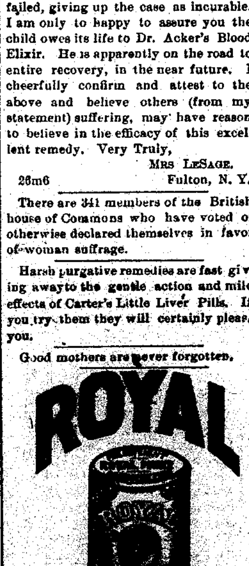
Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable. I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. He is apparently on the road to entire recovery, in the near future. I cheerfully confirm and attest to the above and believe others (from my statement) suffering, may have reason to believe in the efficacy of this excellent remedy. Very Truly,

MRS LESAGE.
26m6 Fulton, N. Y.

There are 341 members of the British house of Commons who have voted or otherwise declared themselves in favor of woman suffrage.

Harsh purgative remedies are fast giving away to the gentle action and mild effects of Carter's Little Liver Pills. If you try them they will certainly please you.

Good mothers are never forgotten.



ROYAL
[illegible]

[illegible]
[illegible] N. Y.
[illegible] N. Y.

HOLIDAY PRESENT. READER, we are well aware you are thinking what shall I present to my Husband, Wife, Father, Mother or Friend, that they will appreciate, long for something very valuable and useful, but not cost much; we answer, what is more valuable, useful and ornamental, than a Life-Size Portrait. Oh yes, you will say, Life-Size Portraits cost $50 to $100. Yes, they generally do, likely no Art House in America has gained the reputation ours has for FINE ARTISTIC PORTRAITS. Our regular catalogue price for Life-sized Portraits are $40 unframed. We offer every reader of THE TIMES their choice of an India Ink, Crayon, Water Color or Pastel Portrait, Life-Size, on 28x34 stretcher, for $9.75, and if you agree to show our portrait to your friends and do all in your power to obtain us a good agent in your neighborhood (provided, of course, portrait pleases you), we will place a beautiful frame, 2½ in. composition gilt and 1 in. velvet (regular catalogue price $6) on portrait, FREE. Send $4.75 cash with order and we will ship by Express C. O. D., subject to examination before paying balance $5; or if you prefer to send cash in full with order, we will also make One Dozen Imperials, Satin finish, Gilt edge (regular price $6) from same original we enlarge portrait from free, thus making $54 for $9.75. This offer is made to advertise our house, create a desire of the general public for Life-Sized Portraits and secure an agent in your vicinity; only one Portrait sold to any one family at this price. Offer only good till February 1st 1887. This advertisement must accompany the order. After Feb 1st, 1887 those wishing Life-Sized Portraits must pay regular price to us or our agents, as we positively will not make this offer again. We guarantee satisfaction in every case, even if we have to make a new Portrait Free, and our reference should be sufficient guarantee we always do as we agree. We refer you to any Newspaper or Mercantile Agency, American or United States Ex. Co., Canal St., N. Y., or step in any Postoffice and examine U. S. Official Postal Guide, January, 1886 issue, and see our ad. pages 71 and 72, the largest ad. ever in the book by any one in our line. Any P. M. can inform you we must do business on the square or we could not advertise in the book. If W. C. or Pastel wanted send color hair, (sample, if possible), color Eyes, Drapery, Jewelry, Complexion, if Crayon or Ink unnecessary, "black and white used only." We can enlarge to Life-Size any kind small picture, but of course better the small one the better the portrait will be. Send money by Postal Order, Registered Letter, Postal Note, Draft on N. Y. or Express prepaid. No Portraits sent C. O. D. to Canada or west of Minn., Iowa, Mo., Ark., and La. Orders from there must be accompanied with cash in full $9.75. If you wish an amateur outfit to make Photos by Dry Plate process without experience send 24 cts for 50 page book "How to make Photos," and sample Photo made by Empire Camera. If you wish a Magic Lantern or to act as agent for our Portraits, or ask any question, enclose stamp and address EMPIRE COPYING CO., 381 CANAL St., NEW YORK.

BOOKS, THREE CENTS EACH.

The following books are published in neat pamphlet form, many of them handsomely illustrated, and all are printed from good type upon good paper. Please examine the list and see if you do not find therein some that you would like to possess. In cloth-bound form these books would cost $1.00 each. Each book is complete in itself:

Anecdotes of the Rebellion. A collection of humorous, pathetic, and thrilling narratives of the war, stories of bivouac and battle-field, march and picket, adventures of scouts and spies, stories of prison life, of the great Generals, of Mr. Lincoln, etc.
The Life of General U. S. Grant. By W. A. Peters. With portrait and other illustrations.
Poems, by John G. Whittier. The only cheap edition published—should be in every household. Illustrated.
Poems, by Henry W. Longfellow. No one can afford to be without this fine collection. Illustrated.
Poems, by Alfred Tennyson. This work contains some of the finest compositions of the great Poet Laureate.
Parlor Amusements. A large collection of Acting Charades, Parlor Dramas, Shadow Pantomimes, Games, Puzzles, etc., for social gatherings, public and private entertainments and evenings at home. Illustrated.
Manual of Floriculture. Teaches the best method of propagating all the different plants, tells how to cure disease and eradicate insect pests, gives directions for making beautiful floral and other devices, for window gardening, etc. Illustrated.
Guide to Needlework, Knitting and Crochet. Containing designs and directions for all kinds of Fancy Needlework, Artistic Embroidery, Lace Work, Knitting, Tatting, Crochet and Net Work. Illustrated.
Famous Detective Stories. A collection of thrilling narratives of Detective experience, many of them written by actual members of the profession.
Yankee Wit and Humor. A collection of humorous stories, sketches, poems and paragraphs, by the leading funny men of the American press. Illustrated.
The Mystery at Blackwood Grange. A Novel. By Mrs. May Agnes Fleming.
The Evil Genius. A Novel. By M. T. Caldor.
The Story of a Storm. A Novel. By Mrs. Jane G. Austin.
Out of the Sea. A Novel. By Clara Augusta.
Agatha's History. A Novel. By Margaret Blount.
The Morwick Farm Mystery. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins. Illustrated.
The Last of the Ruthvens. A Novel. By Miss Mulock. Illustrated.
A Dead Heart. A Novel. By Author of "Dora Thorne."
Out of the Depths. A Novel. By Hugh Conway.
The Romantic Adventures of a Milkmaid. A Novel. By Thomas Hardy.
In the Holidays. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay.
The Heiress of Hilldrop. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood.
Miss or Mrs.? A Novel. By Wilkie Collins. Illustrated.
More Bitter than Death. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
Gabriel's Gift. A Novel. By Hugh Conway. Ill'd.
The Fatal Lilies. A Novel. By Author of "Dora Thorne."
A Shadow on the Threshold. A Novel. By Mary C. Hay.
The Curse of Carew. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
The Blatchford Bequest. A Novel. By Hugh Conway. Illustrated.
A Queen Amongst Women. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
The Fatal Marriage. A Novel. By Miss M. E. Braddon.
A Tale of Sin. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood.
A Bridge of Love. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
A Passive Crime. A Novel. By "The Duchess."
Ingledew House. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
The Knightsbridge Mystery. A Novel. By Charles Reade. Illustrated.
Wedded and Parted. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
A Fortune Hunter. A Novel. By Annie Thomas. Ill'd.
Among the Ruins. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay. Ill'd.
Rose Lodge. A Novelette. By Mrs. Henry Wood.

We will send any four of the above books by mail post-paid upon receipt of only Twelve Cents; any ten for 25 Cents; any twenty-five for 50 Cents; the entire list (40 books) for 75 Cents; the entire list bound in boards with cloth back, for $1.10. These are the cheapest books ever published and guaranteed worth three times the money asked for them. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Postage stamps taken for fractions of a dollar. As to our reliability, we refer to any newspaper published in New York, likewise to the Commercial Agencies.

Special Offer! To every one sending for the entire list of books as above, we will send, without extra charge, either sixty cents' worth of the Imperial Pinned Paper Patterns, to be selected by yourself from a catalogue which will be sent you, or The People's Home Journal, a large 16-page, 64-column illustrated literary paper, for one year. All orders filled by return mail.
Address all letters: F. M. LUPTON, Publisher, No. 2 Park Place, New York.

ROGERS' GRAPOLINE
Is a household name throughout the United States. It is administered as a specific, and with SUCCESS, in DYSPEPSIA, Sick HEADACHE, Nervous Debility, Liver Complaint, Bilious Remittents, Bowel Complaints (especially CONSTIPATION), Gout, Gravel, RHEUMATISM, Nausea, the complaints peculiar to the maternal sex, and all types of inflammation.
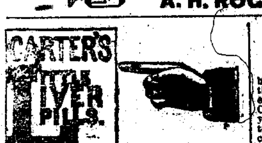
So mild is it in its operation that it can be given with perfect safety to the feeblest child; and so agreeable is it to the taste, so refreshing to the palate, that children never refuse to take it. FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.
A. H. ROGERS & CO. Geneseo, N.Y.



CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
CURE
Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing
SICK
Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured
HEAD
Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head
ACHE
Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.
Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills makes a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.
CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City.

THE CENTURY.
For 1886-87.
THE CENTURY is an illustrated monthly magazine having a regular circulation of about two hundred thousand copies, often reaching and sometimes exceeding two hundred and twenty-five thousand. Chief among its many attractions for the coming year is a serial which has been in active preparation for sixteen years. It is a history of our own country in its most critical time as set forth in
The Life of Lincoln,
BY HIS CONFIDENTIAL SECRETARIES, JOHN G. NICOLAY AND COL. JOHN HAY.
This great work, begun with the sanction of President Lincoln, and continued under the authority of his son, the Hon. Robert T. Lincoln, is the only full and authoritative record of the life of Abraham Lincoln. Its authors were friends of Lincoln before his presidency; they were most intimately associated with him as private secretaries throughout his term of office, and to them were transferred upon Lincoln's death all his private papers. Here will be told the inside history of the civil war and of President Lincoln's administration,—important details of which have hitherto remained unrevealed, that they might first appear in this authentic history. By reason of the publication of this work,
THE WAR SERIES,
which has been followed with unflagging interest by a great audience, will occupy less space during the coming year. Gettysburg will be described by Gen. Hunt (Chief of the Union Artillery), Gen. Longstreet, Gen. E. M. Law, and others; Chickamauga by Gen. D. H. Hill; Sherman's March to the Sea, by Generals Howard and Slocum. Generals Q. A. Gillmore, Wm. F. Smith, John Gibbon, Horace Porter, and John S. Mosby will describe special battles and incidents. Stories of naval engagements, prison life, etc., etc., will appear.
NOVELS AND STORIES.
"The Hundredth Man," a novel by Frank R. Stockton, author of "The Lady, or the Tiger?" etc., begins in November. Two novelettes by George W. Cable, stories by Mary Hallock Foote, "Uncle Remus," Julian Hawthorne, Edward Eggleston, and other prominent American authors will be printed during the year.
SPECIAL FEATURES
[illegible]
PRICES. A FREE COPY.
[illegible]
THE CENTURY CO. New York.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
PATENTS
[illegible]
TO ADVERTISERS. [illegible] GEO. P. ROWELL & CO. [illegible] N. Y.
C. F. HANCOCK,
196 West First St., Oswego, N. Y.
[illegible]
Decker Brothers
[illegible]

Single Copies [illegible]
Business Cards.
[illegible]
PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
32 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.
Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.
Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ ton	¼ to
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.
Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.
THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE
Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.
And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.
Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.
Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

PATENTS,
Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights
Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.
Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.
Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.
We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to
C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

LUMBER! LUMBER.
I have the Largest Assortment of
Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER
In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE
SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c.
Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere
O. RUST.

MAKE HENS LAY
[illegible]

[illegible] Fulton, N. Y., at [illegible] in advance or [illegible] to The Times.

F. D. VanWagenen,
Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

[illegible]

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.

[Thackeray.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

WASHINGTON LETTER

(From our Regular Correspondent)

Washington, Dec. 4, 1886.

About the time this letter reaches you the two houses of the Forty-Ninth Congress will meet and open in the usual way for the short busy session. The rush of Congressmen to the city, and of the crowd that always follows them, began yesterday, and will continue for the next month. The indications are that there will be a pretty full representation of both Senators and Congressmen on next Monday, when the gavels fall simultaneously in both ends of the Capitol.

The question which excites the most attention in the minds of the members who are coming in, is whether anything can or will be done with the tariff this winter. The high-protectionists are bound that there shall be no reduction of purely protective duties, if it can be prevented. The reform leaders are as anxious that some deference shall be paid to the promises of the party to which the majority belong. One of the things which the President is credited with saying in regard to the tariff is that it should be arranged with reference to economic interests instead of political conditions, that as a party issue it is distracting, and as experience for several long and fruitless years, has shown, leads to no practical results, nor even points out practical methods of reform.

A Pennsylvania member-elect of the Fiftieth Congress, who has been here during the week, was talking about the surplus millions and about the probability of the Administration being able to submit a plan for their reduction. He thinks a great deal will depend upon what the President will say and he thinks the President has before him now the greatest opportunity of his life. "It amounts to a crime," said he, "to heap up needless taxes in the Treasury in time of peace, and if the President takes a bold stand against it he will have the country to back him.

Just at this time the President is giving the last polishing strokes to his message with which he has been wrestling for the last few weeks. He has had a very hard time with the figures of those surplus millions, and in trying to solve the problem for reducing those needless taxes,—so hard a time, indeed, that he has grown nervous and irritable and explosive over the work, to the great consternation of his obsequious attendants. Secretary Manning's annual report will deal almost exclusively with the surplus and the best method of reducing the taxes, and it will be interesting to see whether he or the President can produce the best financial matter.

The report of the Postmaster General was before the public more than a week ago, but the report of Secretary Endicott will not amount to anything this year, nor will that of the Attorney General. Secretary Bayard will make no report, but will represent the State Department by sending to Congress the diplomatic dispatches of the year. He is not discouraged, however, by the indifference shown at the last session of Congress to his recommendations. Secretary Whitney will ask for five more millions this year in addition to what has already been given for a new navy, and Secretary Lamar will reiterate his views on the settlement of the Indian problem.

He advocates a generous policy on the part of the Government towards its wards, and at the same time recommends such measures as will result in their becoming independent of its fostering care. Our Indian policy, he [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] W. G. Tucker, of the Albany Medical College, and [illegible] Mason [illegible]. Messrs. Tucker and Mason, the Journal stated, had been directed to procure from dealers in Albany and Troy packages of baking powder, to analize and critically examine them, and to make their reports of facts found entirely without bias or favor.

The report proved a matter of interest and importance, and was widely copied and commented upon. From the facts presented housekeepers had no difficulty in determining for themselves the best and most wholesome baking powder to use. The Journal, its facts having been questioned by a local baking powder manufacturer, returns to the subject and publishes the following interesting interview with Prof. Tucker. The facts above stated are emphasized in the most breezy manner:

A Journal reporter recently visited Prof. Tucker for the purpose of gaining further information in reference to the baking powder question. He was found in the extensive laboratory of the Medical College, hard at work, but good-naturedly submitted to an inquisitorial interview, the substance of which, here given, will be found of interest.

"Doctor," said the reporter "it appears that one of our local baking powder manufacturers attempts to discredit the report some time ago published in the Journal with reference to baking powders, for which the analytical examinations were made by yourself and Prof. Mason. Were your analysis and opinion printed correctly?"

"They were," replied Prof. Tucker, "literally."

"Is there any part of the report or of your views expressed therein, that you would modify.

"Not a word. My examination was most carefully and accurately made; the deductions I drew from the tests were the inevitable ones, and the opinions I expressed were unquestionably correct."

"You say, Doctor, that the Royal baking powder is superior to any other baking powder which you have examined?"

"That is my report."

"Have you examined many other baking powders?

"Quite a number."

"Wherein, Doctor, consists this superiority which you find in the Royal over other brands?"

"As stated in my report, in the great purity of its ingredients, in the unquestioned propriety and wholesomeness of its ingredients, in the exact proportions of the same, and the chemical accuracy and skill with which they have been combined. As I said before, it is, I believe, a baking powder 'unequaled for purity, strength and wholesomeness.'"

"Doctor, the Journal's lady readers would like you to inform them what are the peculiar virtues of a good baking powder over other and more old-fashed methods of raising bread, biscuit and cake?"

"That would require a long answer, something in the nature of a lecture. Briefly, however, the advantage of such a baking powder over yeast consists in the quicker work it accomplishes, in the preservation of some of the best elements of the flour, which are destroyed in the production of the carbonic acid gas by the use of yeast, and in the absolute certainty of sweet, light and digestable food. Over other methods for quick raising, the merits of a pure baking powder are great. It is always ready for use, the acid and the alkali are combined in exact proportions to produce definite results, or to render the largest amount of leavening gas and leave nothing more than a neutral residuum, which is not the result where cream of tartar and soda are bought seperately and mixed in the kitchen, for it will always occur where this is done that one or the other of these substances predominate, making the food yellow, heavy, bitter and unwholesome. Besides, the cream of tartar which can be procured by the housekeeper is mostly adulterated, adding to the uncertainty of the results or the unwholesomeness of the food. All these difficulties are avoided in the use of a pure, properly-made baking powder."

"Will baking powders keep? How long will they hold their strength?"

"If properly made, until used. A perfect baking powder must combine superlative strength with power to retain it indefinitely. Baking powders generally are robbed of the necessary preserving agent in order to give greater strength, or else have their efficiency largely destroyed by the addition of large quantities of flour to prevent premature decomposition. The method by which both these qualities are retained in the highest degree produces the perfect article, and that I believe is only accomplished in the Royal baking powder. [illegible]

[illegible]

"Then those manufacturers who advertise that their powder does not contain it."—

"Confess that their powder lacks a most useful, wholesome and excellent ingredient."

"They say its origin is filthy?"

"Its origin and methods of preparation are no more filthy than are the origin and preparation of bread. All this talk about ammonia in baking powder and its filthy origin is the veriest rubbish. A man disgraces himself when he lends himself to any such statements. It is particularly unfair for baking powder manufacturers to seek to prevert the truth, or prejudice the ignorant or unwary by statements that it is either harmful or dirty. Ammonia exists in the very air we breathe, and is largely present in nature as a wholesome substance."

COUNTY NEWS.

C. B. Benson of Minetto has been elected a director of the N. Y. O. & W. railroad.

The Granby Sunday School Union held their annual meeting at Dexterville last Sunday afternoon. Rev. W. Dempster Chase and others addressed the meeting.

The Minetto Shade Cloth company have fitted up a public reading room for their employes.

The original Jubilee Singers, from Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn., are to give a concert at the Presbyterian church in Hannibal next Tuesday evening.

A successful festival was held by the G. A. R. post of Cleveland on last week Tuesday. The receipts from the same amounted to $51.70.

Robert Wright a member of the life saving crew was killed by the cars at Fletcher's crossing three miles east of Oswego last Thursday afternoon. He was about 29 years old, married and lived near Texas.

Major A. Sparks of Sandy Creek, who is now eighty years old, has dug over six hundred wells. He began to dig when twenty years of age. He dug the first well for John Beadle's father in Orwell in 1826.

Commander J. I. Sayles, who is at the head of the G. A. R. in this state is to speak in Orwell on Monday evening Dec. 20.

S. S. Rogers recently received 21 years back pay on a pension and will hereafter receive $8 per month.

The remains of the late Robt. M. McGuire, who lost his life in Alberquerque, New Mexico at the hands of a desperado, whom he was trying to arrest, were brought to Oswege, his former home, last Thursday. The funeral services were held Sunday.

The new combination of Smart Weed and Belladonna, as used in Carter's Backache Plasters has proved to be the best that could be made. Try one of these popular plasters in any case of weak or lame back, backache, rheumatism, neuralgia, soreness of the chest or lungs, &c., and you will be surprised and pleased by the promt relief. In bad cases of chronic dyspepsia, a plaster over the pit of the stomach, stops the pain at once. Ask for Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents.

Regular dinner at Kendall's every day for 20 cents.

Hannibal Centre.

A box festival will be held at Mrs. Delaney Bracket's, Friday night, Dec. 17. A general invitation is extended to to all.

Mrs. Marie Gifford attempted suicide on Sunday last by taking opium. Dr. Cooley was called and she is reported out of danger.

The singing school is now held in James' hall

Another dancing party will be held at the Caton house next Friday night.

Jay Mcrae has moved into Levi Bracket's tenant house.

Wm. Allen of Oswego Falls is teaching our winter term of school in the senior department and Fanny Rogers in the lower room.

"I Feel So Well."

"I want to thank you for telling me of Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription," writes a lady to her friend. "For a long time I was unfit to attend to the work of my household. I kept about but I felt thoroughly miserable. I had terrible backaches, and bearing-down sensations across me and was quite weak and discouraged, I sent and got some of the medicine after receiving your letter, and it has cured me. I hardly know myself. I feel so well"

Go and see the Silk and Alpaca Umbrellas that D. C. More & Co. have for the holidays.

Boy's Knockabout (Trade Mark School Shoes are not the cheapest but they are the best. Sold at Collins'. 28tf

Try the Conductor 5c. cigar, the finest 5c. cigar in town. Sold by W. J. Watson. 26w9.

Vienna Bakery.

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionery, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton. Confectionery from 10 cents upward. A fresh supply of crackers, bread and cake constantly on hand. Call and examine my stock. John Barker,
26 First st

Don't [illegible] Throat or [illegible] If you have a Cold, Cough [illegible]

[illegible]

Mrs. Rachel Eckman died at the home of her daughter Mrs. R. R. Slater, on Sunday, Dec. 5, aged 85 yrs. and 11 months. Short services were held at the house yesterday forenoon after which the remains were taken to South Onondaga for burial.

James Gregg, an esteemed resident of the town of Schroeppel, for many years town assessor, died suddenly early yesterday morning.

Slight changes in time went into effect on all the railroads passing through Fulton on Monday, Dec. 6th.

Dr. J. A. Miles, of Oswego who was seriously injured in his flouring mill near Oswego, yesterday, died early this morning.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure now on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure Send for circular and testimonials. Address,

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

☞Sold by Druggists, 75 cts.

30w4

I will reduce the price on all Amberena, Wild-rose and Peach-ware, Saturday Nov. 6 '86. Also on China-Tea-Sets, Chamber Sets and all fancy cups and saucers. Call and see goods at Draper's, Oneida St.

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 21tf

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria,

CHEESE MARKET.

[From the Utica Herald.]

Utica, Dec. 6.

Although there was a goodly attendance of members at the board to-day, only a few of them had cheese to sell. In fact, the offerings were lighter than was anticipated, which is accounted for by the fact that several of the large establishments that are still manufacturing, held back their cheese. They will all close the last of this week, and prefer to keep their stock until it is all cured and then sell it in a lump. The market was exceedingly dull, the few lots that were closed out making no stir, and receiving but small competition. We learned of one lot of skims that were consigned last week and sold at 12c. Transactions were as follows:

Lots	Boxes	Price
11	568	10¾cents
8	125	11 cents
2	136	11⅛ cents
1	110	11¼cents
	939
	386	Com
	1,385

Ruling price 10¾c. Sales at 11c., and upward were of full cream stock, No market at this time last year.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

Little Falls, Dec. 6.

Cheese—There is scarcely anything of interest to say in regard to the cheese trade here. The offerings continue to diminish in quantity, while the quality of most of the stock is poorer. Prices, in view of the quality, are kept up and are firm. Some buyers have stepped out entirely, for the season, but there are still plenty more who seem as anxious as ever to secure the stock offered. Most of the sales to-day close up the balance of the season's make of the respective factories; but little if any of it will be shipped at present, as the weather is too cold. Below is a list of transactions:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
8	767	11 cents
4	221	11¼cents
7	390	11¼cents
1	54	11¼cents
3	287	12 cents
23	1,719
Farm dairy	220
Total	1,939

Farm Dairies.—Prices for farm cheese sold today range at 10 to 11¼c., some quite poor lots selling. The amount was only 220 boxes.

Butter—There were but 52 packages of butter sold, all farm dairy. Prices very from 18 to 22c., most sales at 21c.

An elegant line of Hammered Brass Goods at M. M. Williams' Drug Store. 31tf

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expediously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well." Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c. per box by [illegible]

[illegible] Cigar. 26w9

[illegible] It is the best [illegible] Opera House [illegible]

[illegible] Bronchitis [illegible] lungs, and terminate fatally. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral affords speedy relief and cure in cases of Bronchitis. It controls the disposition to cough, and induces refreshing sleep.

I have been a practicing physician for twenty-four years, and, for the past twelve, have suffered from annual attacks of Bronchitis. After exhausting all the usual remedies

Without Relief,

I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It helped me immediately, and effected a speedy cure.—G. Stoveall, M. D., Carrollton, Miss.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is decidedly the best remedy, within my knowledge, for chronic Bronchitis, and all lung diseases.—M. A. Rust, M. D., South Paris, Me.

I was attacked, last winter, with a severe Cold, which, from exposure, grew worse and finally settled on my Lungs. By night sweats I was reduced almost to a skeleton. My Cough was incessant, and I frequently spit blood. My physician told me to give up business, or I would not live a month. After taking various remedies without relief, I was finally two bottles of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I am now in perfect health, and able to resume business, after having been pronounced incurable with Consumption.—S. P. Henderson, Saulsburgh, Penn.

Cured By Using

For years I was in a decline. I had weak lungs, and suffered from Bronchitis and Catarrh. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral restored me to health, and I have been for a long time comparatively vigorous. In case of a sudden cold I always resort to the Pectoral, and find speedy relief.—Edward E. Curtis, Rutland, Vt.

Two years ago I suffered from a severe Bronchitis. The physician attending me became fearful that the disease would terminate in Pneumonia. After trying various medicines, without benefit, he finally prescribed Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which relieved me at once. I continued to take this medicine a short time, and was cured.—Ernest Colton, Logansport, Ind.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $5.

An Abstract of Expenditures

By L. T. Richardson Superintendent of Repairs upon the Oswego canal, and having charge of 23 miles of said canal extending from Oswego to Three River Point also the Oneida river improvement 20 miles.

FOR THE MONTH OF NOVEMBER 1886.

Name	Res.	What for	Time.	Price	amt.
H Fralick	Ph'nix	Lock t'ding	1 m	2500	25 00
L Merry	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
H Howe	Fulton	"	1 m	2500	25 00
L Torry	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
C Surdam	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
S Darling	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
T Sweeney	Os'ego	"	1 m	3500	35 00
E Connors	"	"	1 m	3500	35 00
A Dingman	Hin'vil	"	1 m	2500	25 00
L Montague	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
D Quinn	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
O Cross	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
W Patterson	Fulton	"	1 m	2500	25 00
H Lappin	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
N Miller	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
Ed Harvey	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
W T Church	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
R H Stow	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
W Althouse	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
S Perry	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
S Storrs	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
Chas Dodge	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
J Knapp	SenHill	"	1 m	3000	30 00
G Doyle	"	"	1 m	3000	30 00
W Sereves	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
J Grautier	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
J Sheridan	Os'ego	"	1 m	2500	25 00
B Cavellier	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
C Bough	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
T Redmond	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
J Daly	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
T O'Hara	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
V'nValkenburg	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
H Halstead	"	"	1 m	2500	25 00
C Boxton	C'ug'y	"	1 m	2500	25 00
A McArthur	Elucid	"	1 m	2500	25 00
Peter Conley	Fulton	"	1 m	1000	10 00
					910.00

STATE SHOP CHECK ROLL

John Boardman	Fult'n	Foreman	18-6d	2 40	45 00
Walter Bradley	"	Carpenter	36-6d	1 80	60 75
D Webster	"	Team	1¼ d	2 40	3 00
			53-6d		108 75

The above labor was performed as follows:

15 days bulkhead	27 00
25 days pier	52 50
12-4 days lock gate	26 25
1-2 days towing state boat	3 00
53-6d	108 75

Fulton Times Co., publishing abstract 4 75

STATE SCOW CHECK ROLL

E Richardson	Fulton	Foreman	1 m	50 00	50 00
Geo Barrett	"	C Labor	1 m	35 00	35 00
F Garrison	"	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
J Gilhooly	"	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
J O Lee	Ph'nix	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
M Connors	Fulton	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
Ed Sayles	"	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
J Hayden	"	"	1 m	35 00	35 00
W LaFount'in	"	Team	1 m	75 00	75 00
F Hayden	"	Cook	1 m	15 00	15 00
					385.00

The above labor was performed as follows:

100 days bulkhead Oswego	148 07
90 days piers	133 26
30 days rep bridge	44 43
30 days rep towpath	44 43
10 days rep lock	14 81
260	385.00
Total	$1,453.50

State of New York, } ss.:
Oswego County. }

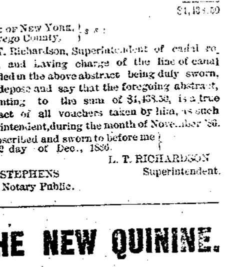
L. T. Richardson, Superintendent of canal repairs, and having charge of the line of canal specified in the above abstract being duly sworn, doth depose and say that the foregoing abstract, amounting to the sum of $1,453.50, is a true abstract of all vouchers taken by him, as such superintendent, during the month of November '86.

Subscribed and sworn to before me
this 2 day of Dec., 1886.

L. T. RICHARDSON
Superintendent.

M. F. STEPHENS
Notary Public.

THE NEW QUININE.



Science emerging from Darkness.

KASKINE

WHAT THE PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT IT IN RHEUMATISM,

MALARIA, DYSPEPSIA,
NERVOUS DEBILITY,
LIVER, LUNG AND KIDNEY DISEASE.

The eminent and celebrated Dr. Giessner writes: The Kaskine Co.—Dear Sirs—"The first greatest successes I had with Kaskine were in chills and fever, malaria, nervous debility, rheumatism, dyspepsia, and liver diseases, and I considered at that time it was undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered, but I was even then unfamiliar with its really wonderful powers in curing all the other grave diseases and disorders, particularly where the blood has become diseased or impoverished and the digestion impaired. Strictly speaking, Kaskine is the only blood purifier we have. I use it also very largely with unfailing success in all diseases peculiar to women and children. In over three hundred cases I have cured there has never been the slightest bad effect following its use, and it is far superior to any tonic or nerve medicine ever known to the medical profession."

Very truly yours,

L. M. Gleassner, M. D., [illegible] St., N. Y.

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to [illegible]

[illegible] Dr. L. R. White, [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] has had the long [illegible]

A Good Templar's society was organized here last evening.

Miss Bessie Griffin is still visiting with friends here. Long may she remain.

A donation for the pastor will be held in the Free Baptist church on Thursday the 16th.

The sister of Capt. Cook is preparing to leave for her western home.

Excellent sleighing here.

Willis D. Johnson was in North Mexico with friends for a few days last week.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK. By the Grace of God Free and Independent. To Asa Chapman, Bowens Corners, Oswego county, N. Y.; Chas. D. Herrington, Laura M. Wilcox, Anna Chapman, Eunice Blake, George Blake, South Hannibal, Oswego County, N. Y.; Emeline King, Norman H. Haviland, Edgar O. Chapman, Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y.; Louise Perry, Lilly Dawley, South Richland, Oswego county, N. Y.; Aaron Chapman, Horace Chapman, Samuel Chapman, Red Creek, Wayne county, N. Y.; Jane Paddock, North Wolcott, Wayne county; John C. Chapman, John S. Chapman, John G. Haviland, Stephen Haviland, West Hoosick, Rensselaer county, N. Y.; Asa B. Chapman, Boyntonville, Rensselaer county, N. Y.; Crocker Chapman, Cora M. Chapin, Hoosic Falls, Rensselaer county, Lydia A. Moses, Hoosic, Rensselaer county, N. Y.; Nathaniel Cottrel, Pittstown, Rensselaer Co. N. Y.; Sarah Herrington, Anna Newcomb, Ettie Phillips, Ellen Case, Johnsonville, Rensselaer county, N. Y.; William C. Chapman, Calvin E. J. Carpenter, Cambridge, Washington Co., N. Y.; Nathan Case, Greenwich, Washington county, N. Y.; James H. Chapman, Gansevort, Saratoga county, N. Y.; William Haviland, Pompey, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Maria Nash, Cigerville, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Homer Dunham, Horace Dunham, Plank Road, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Mary Cowell, Westbury, Cayuga county, N. Y.; John E. Chapman, Belle Chapman, Martville, Cayuga county, N. Y.; Abert Hallett, Hermon, St. Lawrence county, N. Y.; Marshall Herrington, Rochester, Monroe county, N. Y.; Alice Behnke, St. Paul, Minn; Ira Chapman, Arnold Hulett, Almon Hulett, George Hulett, Beaver Creek, Rock county, Mich.; Sidney Baker, Washington, D. C.; Mary Parks, Desoto, Jefferson county, Mo.; Mary A. Hall, Brookfield, Linn county, Mo.; Sarah Matilda Cottrell, New Ashford, Mass.; Susan A. Helling, Lincoln, Neb.; Hellen A. Helling, Bennington, Vt.; Arthur C. Hoag, North Pownal, Vt.; Horace Hallett, Stockton, Cal.; Courtland Chapman, Sherbyville, Allegan county, Mich.; Roxana Keat, Lowell, Kent county, Mich.; George F. Leonard, Nelson Leonard, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Elijah D. Leonard, Cass. A. Leonard, Chester M. Leonard, Sidney W. Leonard, Elizabeth Burges, Kenosha, Kenosha county, Wis.; Elisha Crandall, Terrils Corners, Waushara county, N. Y.; Betsy Cottrell, John C. Cottrell, Warren Cottrell, Danforth Cottrell, Pete Plaine, Benton county, Iowa; Ornila [illegible] Walker, Linn county, Iowa; Stephen [illegible], Chetopa, Labette county, Kan.; Sarah Lace, [illegible], Linn county, Kan.; Sarah [illegible], Linn Co., Kan.; Nathan [illegible], Bradford county, Penn.; [illegible] Towanda, Bradford county, Penn.; Joseph Southwick, Hoogston, [illegible]; John Herrington, [illegible] Hawkins, Flandreau, Moody county, [illegible] and next of kin of Jonah Chapman, late of the Town of Granby, in the County of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting.

Whereas, Merritt Miller, of the town of Hannibal, in the County of Oswego, has lately made application to our Surrogate of the County of Oswego, to have a certain instrument in writing relating to real and personal estate, duly proved as the last Will and Testament of said Jonah Chapman deceased; therefore, you, and each of you, are cited and required personally to be and appear before our said Surrogate, at his office, in the Village of Phoenix, in said County of Oswego, on the 24th day of January, 1887, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend to the probate of said instrument as the last Will and Testament of said deceased.

And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or, if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

In testimony whereof, We have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis David, Surrogate of said county, at the village of Phoenix, in said county, the 30th day of November, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

[L. S.]

L. J. CARRIER,
Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

—IF YOUR—

HORSE IS LAME

USE DR. J. S. MARKHAM'S

"Spavin Cure."

—IF HE HAS—

Sore Feet or Contracted Hoofs,

Use Dr. J. S. Markham's

FOUNDER OINTMENT.

☞They are a sure cure. For sale at the DRUG STORES.

31m6

Real Estate and Insurance AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block containing 12 fine buildings, lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jas. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot 94 Oneida St., place needs to be examined to be appreciated. Will exchange for a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, Oneida, or Canastota, N. Y.

☞Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to obtain insurance, are invited to call on or correspond with the undersigned at Fulton, N. Y.

C. W. STREETER,
Patriot Building, Oneida Street.

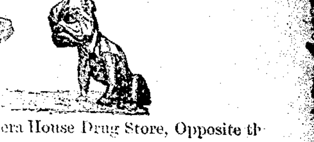
NEW YORK ONTARIO & WESTERN RAILWAY.

Time Table Taking Effect Nov. 21st, 1886.

5	3	1	9	STATIONS.	6	4	2	10
NORTHWARD.					SOUTHWARD.
p m	p m	a m	a m	Leave Arrive	a m	p m	p m	p m
5 25	3 55	9 00	5 30	Jay St., N. Y.	9 40	11 45	7 50	11 20
5 40	4 10	9 15	5 45	42nd St., N. Y.	9 25	10 45	7 25	11 10
7 45	6 07	11 12	9 42	West Cornwall	7 22	8 53	5 40	8 15
8 14	6 35	11 38	10 28	Campbell Hall	7 10	8 36	5 13	7 10
8 36	6 53	12 01	11 00	M't'n Main St.	6 52	8 14	4 55	8 25
8 48	7 07	12 20	12 53	Middletown	6 50	8 13	4 53	6 25
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Winterton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Bloom'ngb'rgh	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Wurtsboro	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Summitville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Ellenville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Mountain Dale	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Centerville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Fallsburgh	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Hurley	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Liberty Falls	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Liberty	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Parksville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	L'v'gst'n Man'r	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Rockland	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Cook's Falls	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	East Branch	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Fish's Eddy	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Hancock	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Walton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Delhi	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Franklin	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Sidney Centre	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Sidney Depart	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	New Berlin	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Guilford Centre	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Guilford	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Oxford	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Norwich	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Norwich	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	North Norwich	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Smyrna	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Earlville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Randallsville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Eaton	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	Morrisville	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

We still live and feel healthy. The very disastrous effect Oswego county druggists' combination, upon our diet during the past year, seemed so apparent that upon consulting our bank account, and Wilcox's meat scales, we find ourselves yet, quite a ghost. The big guns of the Oswego county drug combination for the prevention of cruelty to fish, are still aimed at our council. Our diet of corn meal and onions enables us to still step heavily upon the necks of the Oswego county poor man's friends.

We still hold forth at the beautiful opera house drug store and have increased our stock of Pure Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Wines, Liquors, Fancy Toilet Articles, Oils, Paints, and in fact everything pertaining to a first-class drug line. We desire to sincerely thank our many Fulton and vicinity friends who have stood by us in our past warfare, and thereby enabled us to secure a good fitting [illegible] of our clothes. Our Combination Competitors, have acquired such an affection for us that when we chance to pass them upon the streets, they greet us with the following smiling expression:



Remember our place The Opera House Drug Store, Opposite the Stephens Opera House, Fulton, N. Y. H. C. GIESLER.

Job Printing.

—:o:—

We are prepared to do all kinds of

Job Printing,

with neatness and dispatch on the most favorable terms.

PRICE LISTS, BILL HEADS,
LETTER HEADS, PAMPHLETS,
DODGERS, HANGERS,
CASES, COMPLAINTS,
POINTS, OPINIONS,
TICKETS, PROGRAMS,
POSTERS, INVITATIONS,
WEDDING CARDS,
ORDER OF DANCES,
&c., &c.

All printed in the best style at the Lowest Prices,

—AT THE—

FULTON TIMES OFFICE.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE,

While THE NEW-YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE is the most expensive publication of its class in the United States, nevertheless its price is now fixed at $1 a year, the Semi-Weekly at $2; in both cases an extra copy with a club of 10.

The campaign just closed found the country in the trough of the political wave. The Republican managers have made the best struggle they could against a state of general apathy. Just let [illegible] they have been aided by the inspiring presence of a great leader, whose speeches have awakened almost the only enthusiasm anywhere shown. The result of the campaign is gratifying; its gains are an inspiration; the Democratic losses are a plain guide to the popular drift. From this time forward the country will feel the lift of the advancing wave of 1888, which, if we all do our duty, will sweep out from Washington the marauders now in possession, the foes of protection, equality and patriotic government. It is now the duty of all earnest and experienced workers to bend their energies toward united and hearty work for 1888. The party is to be consolidated, cheered and rallied. To this work THE TRIBUNE pledges its zealous efforts.

THE TRIBUNE offers for 1887 several excellent premiums, including

"The Tribune Book of Open Air Sports."

A work compiled by THE TRIBUNE, expressly for the young men of the United States. It is a thorough [illegible] of the present state of Open-Air athletic amusements in America, with suggestions to beginners, the rules of every important game, the records of noted events and the achievements of American Champions. The book will contain about 150 illustrations. [illegible] practiced on Archery, Baseball, with the records of wonderful playing and the League and Association contests, and instructions how to curve a ball; Court Tennis, Lawn Tennis, Football, Cricket, Lacrosse, Racket, Horsemanship, Cross Country Hunting, Yachting, with a discussion of Sloop and Cutter, and instructions How to Design, Build and Sail a Boat; Rowing, [illegible], Fishing, Trapping, Swimming, Hunting with Shotgun and Rifle, Camping-out, Winter Sports, Bicycling, Amateur Photography and a few other Sports. Among the writers who have contributed are William Blaikie, Maurice Thompson, Captain Jacob A. Auger, Cavalry Instructor at West Point, David Kirby, Thomas Clapham, General George W. Wingate, Professor George Goldie, Director of Athletics of the New York Athletic Club; and a large number of private gentlemen throughout the country have furnished facts concerning the wild game and hunting sports of their several localities. No book of this character has ever been put into print in America. It is sufficiently elemental to be a "Boy's Own Book," and answer all the purposes of our manly youth, and yet will also meet the demands of adults. Will be ready for delivery December 1st. Octavo, 500 pages. Retail price $2.50. Terms, postage paid; with Weekly, 1 year, $2.50; with Semi-weekly, 1 year, $3.50; With Daily, $10.50. Only to be had in connection with yearly subscriptions to THE TRIBUNE.

Also "Blunt's [illegible] Practice," a book for every hunter and National Guardsman; a fine Waltham Watch; the low-priced Waterbury Watch; the two Unabridged Dictionaries; Wood's Medicine, Hygiene and Surgery, Illustrated; Ridpath's History of the United States, Illustrated; and Young's Concordance of the Bible.

Sample copy, giving terms in full, sent free. Order by postal card.

A Club Agent wanted wherever there is none.

THE TRIBUNE, New-York.

SALESMEN WANTED!

We are in want of a few more good men to canvass for the sale of choice varieties of Nursery Stock. To men who can make a success of the business we can pay good salaries or commission and give permanent employment. We have many new and choice specialties both in the fruit and ornamental line which others do not handle.

Address at once, with references,

MAY BROTHERS,
NURSERYMEN,
Rochester, N. Y.

31w6

C. F. HANCOCK,
196 West First St., Oswego, N. Y.
—AGENT FOR THE CELEBRATED—
Decker Brothers' Matchless Pianos.

NEW HARNESS SHOP.

The undersigned would respectfully announce to the public that he has opened a New Harness Shop and is prepared to do all kinds of

REPAIRING

—ON—

HARNESS, TRUNKS, BUGGY TOPS, CUSHIONS, &C. &C.,

[illegible] Cheap as the Cheapest.

HARNESS

OF ALL GRADES MADE TO ORDER

A share of public patronage solicited. Give us a Call,

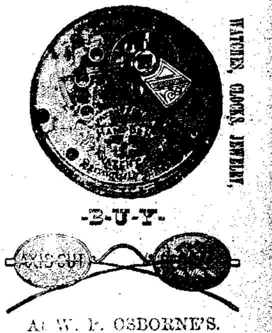
C. W. BROWN,
CAYUGA ST., OPPOSITE MIDLAND DEPOT.

-BUY-

[illegible] Watches,

—AT—

W. P. OSBORNE'S.



WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY.

-B-U-Y-

At W. P. OSBORNE'S.

—BUY—

THE WM. ROGERS'

Silver Plated Teaspoons

FOR $1.00 at

W. P. OSBORNE'S.

13m4

1886.

New York Weekly Herald

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

GREATEST AND CHEAPEST

FAMILY JOURNAL

IN THE UNITED STATES.

Always Bright and Reliable.

Every Number an Epitome of the News of the World.

The Foreign Department.

Is unequaled. Latest and most accurate Cable Specials by the Commercial Cables.

Fullest Telegraphic Reports of all Current Events.

Special Features.

Practical Farming; Articles on Science, Art, Literature, the Drama, Music, Art, Religion, Fashion and Chess.

INFORMATION ON ALL SUBJECTS.

Address,

JAMES GORDON BENNETT,
New York.

29w2

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAINS,

[illegible]
GOING SOUTH.
[illegible] Philadelphia Express [illegible]
[illegible] Express [illegible]
[illegible] Night Express [illegible]
GOING NORTH.
[illegible] and Philadelphia Express [illegible]
[illegible] Philadelphia Express [illegible]
[illegible] a. m., and 8:18 p. m., trains will [illegible]
[illegible] cars attached to night express for [illegible] and Philadelphia.
A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.
New York Day Express..................7:18 a. m
Freight and Accommodation...........9:40 a. m
Norwich Express.........................3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express.....................9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.
Ontario Night Express...................6:34 a. m
Oswego Express...........................11:05 a. m.
Freight and accommodation............5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express.....................9:57 p. m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:31	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19	3:30	6:20

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

PERSONALS

H. Bacchus of Chicago, Ill., is in town.

J. Smith of Richland visited his uncle, Philetus Smith last week.

Mrs. T. H. Marvin of Warner is visiting her father, J. R. Loomis.

Dr. and Mrs. I. C. Curtis spent a day in Phoenix last week the guest of Dr. Mason.

Mrs. Eva Williams has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Sawyer, of Syracuse for a few days.

Norman Hubbard of Brooklyn passed Sunday in this village the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. David.

Miss Mary Johnson returned last week from Rockford, Ill., and Springfield, O., where she has been visiting friends for the past six weeks.

M. M. Williams has just returned from New York with the largest assortment of Holiday Goods ever shown in Fulton. Don't fail to see them.

Great Bargains in Overcoats at D. C. More & Co's.

Children's Cloaks!
Ladies' Cloaks!
In great variety and very cheap at
F. E. BACON'S.

SOMETHING NEW.

The improved Welt $3.00 Calf Shoe equal to the best hand sewed at COLLINS'.

Those desiring Photographs for the Holidays would do well to secure their sittings at once. We have just received a new line of Scenery and accessories for Holiday work. A new line of plush cabinet Frames in desirable patterns. Darrow, Patriot Building, Cor. 2d and Oneida Sts. 27tf

Keep Your Feet Warm. Alfred Dolye's Celebrated Felt Slippers and Shoes are sold at Collins'. 28tf

Regular dinner at Kendall's every day for 20 cents.

More Goods for 25c at Williams' than any place in Oswego county. 31tf

CHEAP COW FEED.

Gilbert & Nichols at the Fulton Mills are selling buckwheat feed for milch cows and young stock at about the price of hay. 28w4

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

Special Prices For Carpets, Furniture &c.

A. A. Graff & Co., No's 61 & 63 South Salina Street, Syracuse, offer for the next 30 days, as a special bargain, 100 Parlor suits embossed plush, solid walnut frame, 7 pieces for $35,00; 75 chamber suits, 10 pieces for $25.00; 50 pieces tapestry carpet 60c a yard and 70 pieces extra super ingrain carpet 55c a yard.

We will deliver all purchasers' freight, prepaid to any part of the state. Now the time for Bargains.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 23t

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots, &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by
10tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

A handsome line of chamber sets just received by J. COOLEY TUCKER. 24tf

You will find the largest assortment of Holiday goods at M. M. Williams' Drug Store. 29tf

[illegible] at the young men of Fulton and Oswego Falls, and made many of them look at themselves in a clearer, stronger light than is apt to shine upon them. Shall we again and always slip along in the old groove and forget "that young man." Very much less of value swinging on the beam, were its value tied up in mill or merchandise, would crowd us to be careful that little or nothing should be lost. Can we not in some way put together into one bundle these impressions and use them to purpose? Ought we not to face this question in a prompt practical way? The rich resources in these hundreds of young men must not be wasted. Such waste may finally bankrupt the community or commonwealth beyond redemption. How many will say in the name of society, fireside and the Master, we will plan and do brave, generous things? Perhaps we are not ready for the Young Men's Christian Association work, but therefore shall we do nothing? I know a community with less wealth and less population than Fulton has, where the ladies rented and furnished a nice suit of rooms. In these rooms are an organ, papers, magazines and a growing library and much besides in the line of safe amusements, which will win young lives from saloon and street and hold them within good surroundings. Every Saturday night there are choice exercises, which give the young people an opportunity to do and enjoy. Occasionally there are simple refreshments furnished. The rooms are like a genuine home. A lady takes charge of these rooms, which are open from two until five in the afternoon and from seven until ten in the evening. This is from the report at the end of the year. "The ladies are now pleasantly settled in their new quarters. Since the organization of this reading room one year ago, they have received from all sources $975.62; they have expended for all purposes $741.35; leaving a balance in the treasury of $231.27. They have 365 volumes in the library, besides all the principal papers, daily and weekly and magazines. Last week they received 67 volumes from Mrs. C. E. Hotchkiss, formerly president of the association, now residing in Brooklyn. These books were purchased by Mrs. Hotchkiss with money contributed by the ladies to a fund known as the "Hotchkiss fund," in honor of Mrs. Hotchkiss, who took a very active interest in the organization from its infancy." All this has been done while the men talked "a block;" talked "a library building" talked "endowment" talked and did nothing. The whole enterprise is in the hands of a committee consisting of three from each church. This arrangement prevents seeming sectarian influence and makes the whole community responsible for the success; leaving no opening for dangerous methods to enter. No exhortation is needed. All can see that nothing expensive is necessarily involved, and yet that there would be the germ of good growth if our soil and sunlight will let it grow. Such rooms will give welcome and inspiration to those who otherwise must sit amid unhealthy influences. After so few months in Fulton I should be slow to advise. These sentences are only to invite thought. Who can survey the right path? Who will tell us what to do?

W. DEMPSTER CHASE.

Stamped Linens!
Towels! Tidies!
Tray Cloths! Doilies!
&c., &c.
The Cheapest line yet, at
F. E. BACON'S.

Holiday Slippers at Wholesale Prices at The Salmon Shoe Store Opera Block. 31w2

Safe for Sale.

One of the best combination fire-proof safes. Just as good as new and for one half the price. Enquire of
R. B. McCULLY, at the Harness Shop.

When you trade with D. C. More & Co., you get just what you pay for and good value too.

THE BOSTON BAZAAR

will down them all with the largest stock of Holiday Goods ever shown in Fulton. Don't buy your Christmas presents until you have seen their new novelties.

An endless variety of Fancy Holiday Goods at M. M. Williams' drug store.

Regular dinner at Kendall's every day for 20 cents.

A [illegible]
A " " " Oxford Tie Slipper,
A " " " Embroidered Slipper,
A Man's Button, Lace or Congress Shoe,
A " Fine Calf Boot,
A " Fine Patent Leather Oxford Tie,
A " " " " Pump,
A " " Embroidered Slipper,
A Fine line of Boys' Youths' Misses' and Children's Shoes and Slippers.
A bove are a few of many sensible articles we can offer for A Holiday Trade.

A. E. NETTLETON.

The mercury was six below zero Sunday morning.

Old Papers 5 cents a dozen at THE TIMES office.

"Lady Audley's Secret," to-morrow evening at the opera house.

Mrs. Carry Howard is seriously ill. Drs. Haviland and Lake are attending her.

The winter term of school at Lower Oswego Falls commenced Monday with the same teachers.

D. C. Draper now occupies the store on First street recently used by C. W. Blount as Commission rooms.

J. Cooley Tucker has considerably improved during the past week, but is yet unable to go out of the house.

A society of Christian endeavor has been organized in the Methodist and Baptist churches of this village.

Willis Ney is improving from his severe illness. He took a short ride Monday for the first time in two weeks.

The Salvation army are as enthusiastic in their new quarters in the McCully building as they were in their former quarters.

Justin McCarthy, the great Irish parliamentarian and author, lectures in Syracuse to-morrow evening on "The Cause of Ireland."

Mr. Thos. Wilson and Miss Flora Chipman were married at the Presbyterian parsonage by the Rev. Carl Stone on Wednesday Dec. 1.

Notice to "Searchers of Words." To prevent and correct any misunderstanding under rule 8, the words "only twice" are added. C. S. Ball.

Schenck & Foster have received during the past week a cargo of unusually dry, bright stove and chestnut coal, fresh from the mines.

Fred Spafford is cofferdaming his pond in hopes of retaining the water for ice, which is said to be better than any other in this locality.

It is stated that the steamer, "Wide Awake," will be enlarged this winter, and next spring will resume regular trips between here and Syracuse.

The Free Masons held a banquet at the Lewis house last Friday evening. A number of visiting brethren from Oswego and neighboring towns were present.

The President's annual message which was published in full in nearly all the dailies, should be read by every intelligent citizen and especially the young men of the country.

D. J. Freese, the jeweler, has moved into the part of Lathrop's store on First St. formerly occupied by W. P. Hillock. C. A. Miller has his stock stowed away and may not open again until spring.

Miss Addie Titus, well known in this village as one of the twin daughters of Rev. S. W. Titus, formerly pastor of the Baptist church, is to be married in Detroit, Mich., this week to Arthur Wingraves of that city.

The Josephine Cameron Company will produce the fine emotional drama, "Lady Audley's Secret," at the opera house to-morrow evening. This well-known actress and excellent company were here about two weeks ago and gave splendid satisfaction.

Giesler, the druggist, exhibited a monkey in one of his store windows for a few days during the past week. The The weather might have become cold enough to freeze the mercury but it could not be cold enough to freeze some that constantly collected in front of the windows to watch the antics of the animal.

The entertainment at the opera house last Saturday evening was abruptly brought to a close by the alarm of fire. A majority of those present seemed to consider it an excellent opportunity to escape. Prof. Spencer is a good elocutionist but the other two in the company were so far overrated that the talent which they did possess was not appreciated.

Snow and ice have made the sidewalks extremely dangerous in the village and the utmost caution must be used to prevent falls. The steps on the sidewalk in front of Goman's barber shop are particularly dangerous and should receive the attention of the street commissioner or we predict that more than one broken limb will be the result of this negligence before the advent of spring.

The Boston Bazaar

has the largest stock, and sells goods cheaper than any other store in Fulton. This is what "the people" say, and what the people say is so.

WANTED.—Local and General Agents in each town and city of the Union on Salary or Commission, to solicit orders from business men, for our elegant, new style, nickle plated and low priced door plates. Circulars, Testimonials, References, &c., sent on application.
[illegible] PLATE CO.,
[illegible], Mich.

Y. M. C. A. Convention.

The Young Men's Christian association of northern New York, opened their annual convention at 9:30 a. m. on Saturday in the Presbyterian church. Delegates were present from Ogdensburg, Gouverneur, Watertown, Rochester, Rome, Syracuse and Norwich. State Secretary, Rev. Geo. A. Hall, presided at the morning session. C. E. Hurlbart, secretary of the Watertown association, presided in the afternoon, and secretary Arnold of Rochester in the evening. Among the papers were: "Why undertake special work for young men?" "Possibility of work in small towns." "The workers' training class." "How ladies can aid the association;" "Boys' work." "Committee difficulties," "Gymnastics without a Gymnasium."

On Sunday the pulpits, in the different churches, were occupied by delegates. In the morning Gen. Sec'y, A. S. Durston of Syracuse, at the Methodist; Sec'y., C. E. Hurlburt of Watertown at the Presbyterian; and State Sec'y., Geo. A. Hall at the Baptist. In the afternoon platform exercises for young were held at the M. E. church, under the charge of Mr. Durston, in which Mr. Tanner, Gen. Sec'y. at Ogdensburg and Mr Green, Railroad Sec'y. at Norwich took part. Services for boys at the Presbyterian church under the charge of assistant Sec'y. Hardy of Rome and at the Baptist church, service for young ladies under the charge of State Sec'y. Hall. In the evening union services were held at the Methodist Church. This was under the charge of State Sec'y. Hall. Remarks were made by ass't. Sec'y. Hardy of Rome, Railroad Sec'y. Green of Norwich, Secy. Durston of Syracuse, with closing remarks by Mr. Hall. This was followed by a good bye service which lasted for 20 or 25 minutes.

The meetings were well attended and enjoyed. The delegates of the Northern N. Y., association returned to their homes feeling encouraged by the work that had been accomplished during the year.

Fire at Oswego Falls.

On Saturday night between 10 and 11 o'clock, the house on First street, Oswego Falls, near the factory, occupied by Richard Tobin, took fire, it is thought by an explosion of a lamp and was entirely destroyed with most of its contents. Several factory girls who boarded in the house lost most of their clothes and some money. Johnson Hose, No. 2 of this village, got the first stream on the fire and did good service. There was no insurance on the house except a policy of $200 held by Mrs. O'Keefe, of whom the house had been purchased.

The Lawrence C. L. S. C.

The next meeting of the Lawrence C. L. S. C. will be held this evening the home of Mrs. A. Emerick on First street. The program will be as follows: Quotations from Milton. Questions on English History. The "Study of Mountains," read from the Chautauquan. Jack Horner, An extract from Mother Goose for grown folks. Questions on English Literature. A selection read from Hans Christian Anderson. A selection from Dickens' Christmas Carols.

G. A. R. Election.

At the regular annual meeting of Post Schenck, No. 271 G. A. R., held at their rooms last evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Com—A. J. Osborn; S. V.—J. S. Painter; J. V.—M. F. Crahan; C.—Geo. Ward; Surgeon.—D. Pardee; Q. M.—J. F. Cooper; O. D.—J. P. Kelly; O. G.—W. Ellis. The delegates chosen to attend the Encampment to be held at in Albany were G. V. Emens and Geo. Fassell; Alternates, F. C. Mosher and C. S. Murphy.

Catholic Fair.

This fair commences next Tuesday evening at Church's hall and will be continued every evening for the remainder of the week. There will be beautiful musical selections, and other attractions every evening. The Fulton Cornet and the Oswego Falls Brass bands will be in attendance. A grand success is assured.

Apron Sale.

The ladies of Zion Church will hold their apron sale in the Good Templar's Hall, Kenyon block, to-morrow evening. Supper from 5 to 9 p. m. An excellent time is anticipated as the ladies have done everything to make the affair a social success.

Take Notice.

The meeting of the Fulton Improvement society announced for this evening is postponed. Due notice will be given for the next meeting.

Have you seen Schenck & Foster's system of screening coal? It is far more efficient than the old fashioned way of hand screening.

You can find the best assortment of Mufflers and Silk Handkerchiefs at D. C. More & Co's.

Florentine Silk, cut in any length at F. E. BACON'S

The Boston Bazaar
is showing the finest line of plush goods ever seen in Fulton. Albums, dressing cases, shaving cases, [illegible]

Buy Gloves and mittens of D. C. More & Co.

Read Stowell's advertisement in another column.

☞ Josephine Cameron to-morrow evening at the opera house.

The Catholic Fair commences next Tuesday at Church's hall.

The interior of the Lewis House is undergoing a thorough renovation under the new management.

The examination of Dr. W. H. Loomis upon the charge of grand larceny has been postponed until Monday next.

Look out for attractive windows. Many of our merchants are receiving large quantities of holidays goods.

G. E. Prosser, formerly of Fulton, is closing out his business in Lyons and will move to some larger city in the west.

For $31.50 cash down, you can have a good, new Cutter, new Robe, new Harness and Whip at the McCully Harness store.

T. O'Brien has a large stock of pine kindling wood on hand. Orders can be left at Nettleton's shoe store or at the Broadway depot.

Snow has interfered considerably with the operations on the street railway during the past week. For a couple of days carryalls were run in place of the cars.

MARRIED.—At the home of the bride's father, H. D. Partrick on Cayuga street, Fulton, N. Y., Tuesday December 7, 1886, by the Rev. W. Dempster Chase, Coley M. Haven of Chicago, to Lillian Partrick of Fulton.

Miss Ellen E. Eldred, of Laurens, N. Y., will deliver a temperance address in the Good Templar's hall at Oswego Falls this evening; Subject: "Young man make your record clear." The last and dying words of John B. Gough.

The attention of our readers is call to the advertisments of the Boston Bazaar. They have an excellent stock of Holiday Goods and are worthy of the liberal patronage that they are receiving. Opening days Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The first social reception of the Odd Fellows at their rooms in the Dexter block last Thursday evening was well attended in spite of the unfavorable weather and a most enjoyable time is reported. These socials are to be continued every two weeks during the winter.

A sale of fancy and useful articles will be held at the home of Mrs. M. P. Schenck next Friday evening, under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Mission Band of the Baptist church. Refreshments will be served during the evening. All are cordially invited.

At the meeting of the Oswego Baptist Missionary Union which commenced in Central Square on Wednesday last Mrs. C. H. Streeter and Miss Jane Porter both of this village took an active part the former leading the devotional exercises and the latter presenting a paper on "The Congo Mission."

Our readers should be on their guard in receiving silver dollars. A counterfeit is in circulation which would readily be taken by any one who was not on the lookout for counterfeits. It is dated 1884, is a trifle thicker than the genuine and is considerably lighter. A genuine silver dollar and a silver dime weigh together exactly one ounce avoirdupois, while it requires a silver quarter with this counterfeit to weigh an ounce.

The Best Rubber Goods in town can be found at the Salmon Shoe Store Opera Block. 31w2

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to return thanks to the friends whose sympathy was expressed by so many kind attentions during our late affliction.

MRS. MARIA T. LAWRENCE.
MARY L. LAWRENCE.

Greatest bargains in Hosiery and Underwear at D. C. More & Co's.

We are selling a very fine Gents' Merino Sock for 45cts. regular price 65cts. Take a look at them at F. E. BACONS.

The only place in town to get shell oysters is at John Partrick's on First street. A fresh supply received every other day. 30tf.

The Lambertville "Duck" Rubber Boot has no equal. They will not crack. Sold at Collins'. 25tf.

Don't buy Fur or Scotch caps of anyone but D. C. More & Co.

The very choicest qualities of teas, coffees and spices and all shelf groceries sold for cash at WHOLESALE PRICES at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 24tf

SANTA CLAUS
In Town Again!

He stops at the Boston Bazaar and everyone coming in to their opening this week Thursday, Friday and Saturday, will see the largest line of Holiday Goods and Gifts ever opened in Fulton. We cannot give you any idea of the many different things we carry. Can only ask you to come in and see for yourselves. [illegible]

The [illegible] good people, that is to say, our [illegible] and respectable citizens, that to successfully lodge in a public officer who has violated his oath and prostituted his office for personal and political aggrandizement, so that punishment might be meeted out for the transgression requires a wonderful deal of patience and a very large proportion of quiet effective detective work. The events of the past week, so far as they have related to the re-trial of McQuade show how true the above statement is. A whole week has passed away. How much has been accomplished? Not much, only a jury has been selected. The great trouble with the trial of such an office holder as McQuade is the difficulty of obtaining proper proof. The mere fact that two of the witnesses, or better perhaps to say, the fact that any witness which the people may bring forward must be one of the clique with whom McQuade was an associate has a rather opposite influence upon the minds of many of the talesmen who, last week, were examined as to their fitness for jury duty. A very large per cent of them looked with suspicion upon such testimony. That accounts for the long time which the Court of General Sessions has been compelled to occupy. I have often thought of the Senate Investigation of last spring and have wondered in the light of the events of the last few week at the amount of perjury which that investigation developed. That, too, has its influence and may be considered the main stay of the defense in the trial of McQuade. Yet this famous 1884 Board of Alderman, looking at them from the enlightened standpoint of to-day, one can almost see how nicely and with what judicious care they erected their fortifications against any possible advance of an army of investigating citizens. Let's look at it. The peculiarity of our large population devolves the selection of the jury lists upon an officer known as the Commissioner of Jurors. He prepares the lists in the spring from the directors, the assessor's rolls, and from any other source he can obtain the names of the male citizens. These he summons to his office and examines them as to their qualifications. If acceptable, they are set apart in lists for the different courts, and the names from these lists are placed upon slips of paper put in the wheel; and the drawing is performed in the usual manner in the presence of the judge, the sheriff and county clerk. The present commissioner is Charles Rielly who has affiliated with the same political organization that the Boodlemen belong. He is a politician, pure and simple. He became McQuade's bondsman. It don't require any great sagacity or any surprising keenness of vision to see that this man could do something to aid the defense in their rather difficult task of cleaning their generally considered guilty client. The lists of the talesmen for the retrial were published, and on the examination of one of those drawn, he revealed the not astonishing fact that he had been approached as to his personal feelings, regarding the guilt or innocence of McQuade. The person who was guilty of this act has been arrested and I presume that the penalty of the law will be enforced. The queer thing is that this attempt of influencing a talesman emanates from one of the indicted men, ex-Alderman Farley.

Well the mill of justice grinds slowly in this city, but it nevertheless grinds; so let us be glad that some attempt to punish wrong doing is now in progress.

⁂

The instances of placing single pictures on special exhibition is rather exceptional. True, there are several galleries devoted to the exhibition of collections, whether simply as an art exhibit, or as an exhibit, having a sale as the immediate end in view. The exhibition of the painting "Christ before Pilate" is therefore, a rather exceptional thing. The exhibition is in an old church in Twenty-third street. This church has had a rather strange history. It was used by a wealthy congregation for years. They sold it and Salme Morse obtained possession with the intention of producing the Passion Play for which Ober-Ammergau is so justly celebrated. This the religious community raised very powerful objections. Morse gave it up, and eventually as the result of the pecuniary loss took his own life. It has since been occupied by a congregation of Paulists. But the picture. The picture is one of many which Munkacsy, the great Hungarian painter, has painted. It is a canvas 22 by 17 feet having depicted more than twenty figures, all of which are life size or nearly so. The scene is the Judgment Hall of Pilate. Pilate is sitting in judgment upon the case. Before him is the figure of Christ and that is the central figure of the picture. Grouped to the left of the Savior are the chief men of the Jewish nation, while to the rear and to the right are the Roman soldiers. The first view you get of the picture transfixes you. It is one of those paintings so exquisitely painted, so harmoniously colored that you become enchanted with it. It attracts and holds the observer. It is a picture never to be forgotten when once seen. The figure of Christ is a different conception than those the world is already familiar. True there is the ideal head of Christ as such great painters as Raphael, Angelo and Murillo imagined him to be, Munkacsy has conceived a different one. It has the idea of manly beauty and of Divine compassion one is inclined to regard the face of Christ to possess. Jewish it is, yet not distinctively so. One sees courage shining from the eyes, firmness represented by the mouth, a look of resignation and dignified carriage. Pilate however, appears in the garb of a thorough Roman. His face is one that you would expect a noble Roman to possess. Not a remarkable face, only it is so strangely in keeping with the usual type that Rome in her best days of power presented. It is clouded with doubt. Fear, I think one sees most strongly represented. The figure is a true ideal of the character which history represents Pilate to have possessed. But the other figures. The faces of the Jewish accusers are represented as expressing all the hate they undoubtedly felt. Some of them are terrible in their passionate demand for the Savior's life. As a whole the [illegible] affected by the picture. Certain it is that this portion of our populace are largely among those who visit the place of exhibition. Among those who have given it the greatest study outside of the members of the artist fraternity is Rev. Dr. Floyd.

But the artist, what of him? He comes at the time of this exhibition and is being received very generally. He is regarded as a great painter. Funny isn't it that some of our most successful men are Hungarians? Munkacsy has however, assumed the name of his native town as his patronimic. He is especially a painter of religious pictures. No modern collection of pictures is complete without a Munkacsy, and his visit and this exhibition will make a greater market for the production of his genius. Munkacsy is a rather peculiar looking man. Tall, broad-shouldered, pleasant looking. He has the true Hungarian feature. As he sat at the festive board of a club dinner given in his honor, you would imagine he had some connection with an electrical machine by which his hair stood up perfectly straight. Apart from this peculiarity, he is remarkably sociable—a perfect gentleman.

Art is a well paid production here. The foreign artists think the New York millionaires are their especial patrons but I am happy to say American artists are gaining ground rapidly. The day is not far distant when these high prices will be baid to the leaders of our own art fraternity.

WANDERER.

The Clothing offered by Peebles & Cook [illegible] respect. In the first place, the quality of material is [illegible]. No Shoddy or second-rate goods are offered. The Clothing is completed so as to compare with anything that is turned out in the line called "custom made." Every piece of clothing sold by Peebles & Cook is warranted. Their stock is large and accessions are being made to it every day. Their line of Christmas Clothing is the finest ever seen here.

☞ Gentlemen will do well to look at the styles and learn the prices that rule.

PEEBLES & COOK

Opposite Opera House.

"Contemeri" Gents' Kid Gloves we have just receiv ed,
F. E. Bacon.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

—THE MANAGERS OF THE—

OPERA HOUSE,

have been able to secure the return of the

Josephine Cameron Co.

FOR

Thursday Evening, Dec. 9,

—THIS WEEK—

In a play never before presented here.

"Lady Audley's Secret."

A First-Class Entertainment is guaranteed.

Reserved Seats now on sale at Watson'
35 Cents.
General Admission 35 and 25cts.

A SEARCH
FOR WORDS!

With the view of arousing a lively interest in the use of words, and calling attention to my LARGE and ELEGANT STOCK of WATCHES, DIAMONDS, JEWELRY, SILVER and PLATED WARE, FANCY GOODS, etc. etc., now ready for the Holidays, I offer the following TEN VALUABLE PRIZES, now on exhibition at store, Vanderbilt Square:—

To the party sending on or before January 1st, 1887, the largest list of regular words in legitimate use that can be made up from the words "C. S. BALL, JEWELER," I will present a Gold Stem Winding Watch, valued at $30.00
Second Largest, a Fine Enameled Iron Clock, valued at 20.00
Third largest, One Dozen Knives and Forks, (own make) valued at 5.00
Fourth largest, a Silver-Plated Cake Basket, valued at 5.00
Fifth to Tenth, inclusive, Set of Silver-Plated Knives, valued at 2.50
Printed rules governing the search will be sent on application by postal card or otherwise to

C. S. BALL, JEWELER & SILVERSMITH, Syracuse, N. Y

For Sale or To Rent.

The new house on First street, two blocks south of Broadway.
Inquire of H. HULETT. [illegible]

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the NOVELTY CUSTOM MILL, recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & [illegible] Lead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any flour or feed grinding done. Flour and feed constantly on hand. Call and try us and we guarantee satisfaction. Flour and feed delivered to any part of Fulton and Oswego Falls free of charge. [illegible]

Don't miss those bargains at Draper's in Table and Hanging Lamps, China Tea Setts, and those new style (Granite Chamber Setts) all new goods and new prices. Call and see. [illegible]

Free at Draper's with one pound of baking powder, Large fancy dishes, sugar and creamer, or butter and spoon holder. Nice table lamps all complete, and hundreds of other useful presents given with tea, coffee, and baking powder, for a few days.

Remember the place to buy unadulterated groceries CHEAP is at the sign of the Red store No. 16 First street opposite the Lewis house.
24tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

A Fine Line of Cigars at Williams' Drug Store. [illegible]

Just received at D. C. Draper's, a large order of imported crockery and China, and a fine line, all new patterns, China tea sets and chamber sets, which I will offer for the next 30 days at $1.00 less on chamber sets and $2.00 to $4.00 less on tea sets than any house in Oswego or Syracuse, to reduce part of over-stock. Call and see goods and prices, at 15 Oneida street. [illegible]

1886. 1886.

AHEAD OF ALL!

MILTON S. PRICE,

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

The Popular Dry Goods, Carpet and Furniture Dealer.

The Great Establishment Renovated, New Decorations, &c., Mammoth Show Windows. One Great Entrance from Salina Street. The most Attractive Store in the City.

PROUD AM I TO ANNOUNCE that during forty years of business experience, I have never been so well prepared to meet the wants of the public as at the present time.

READY CASH WITH EXPERIENCED BUYERS has filled my mammoth stores running through from Salina to Clinton Streets, with a stock of

DRY GOODS, CARPETS AND FURNITURE

Unequaled by any Establishment in Central New York.

It would be useless in this small space to attempt an enumeration of the thousands of articles displayed.

DRY GOODS and Fancy Goods, IN ENDLESS VARIETY.

CARPETS, RUGS, &c.,

A COMPLETE STOCK.

Furniture and Curtain Draperies,

FOR THE RICH AND POOR.

I can give you better value for your money than any other house in the City.

Do not fail, when in Syracuse, to pay this establishment a visit.

MILTON S. PRICE.

Nos. 38 and 40 South Salina Street, and 29, 31 and 33 Clinton Street,

Syracuse, N. Y.

Santa Claus' Headquarters
-OUR HOLIDAY OPENING-

Was a Grand Success. Thousands have already seen our Grand Display of

HOLIDAY GOODS!

The universal exclamation is, "What an immense assortment of nice goods for Christmas Presents, and how very cheap they are." We kindly invite everybody to call and look through our store and get our prices on

TOYS, DOLLS, GAMES, [illegible]
CHINA CUPS AND SAUCERS, [illegible]
BASKETS, NOTIONS, &C.

WORK STANDS, FANCY GOODS, [illegible]
CHAIRS, HAND SLEDS, DOLL CA[illegible]
PHOTOGRAPH and SCRAP A[illegible]
TINWARE, GLASSWARE, [illegible]
FURNISHING GOODS, [illegible]
☞ Special Prices to [illegible]

R. A. [illegible]

* * * * * * * * * * * *

HOLIDAY PRESENTS!

That Your Gentlemen Friends will Appreciate.

—AN IMMENSE STOCK OF—

MENS' AND BOYS'

SUITS AND OVERCOATS,

Fur Caps, Mufflers, Silk Handkerchiefs, Neckties, Gloves, Mittens, Hosiery, Underwear, Scarf Pins, Cuff Buttons, Silk and Alpaca Umbrellas, &c.

D. C. MORE & CO.

[illegible] stock of [illegible] goods for the Holiday Trade and [illegible] quality.

[illegible] begin to grow poor again.

[illegible] the nurseryman uses first a [illegible] head for pressing apples into [illegible]. Several newspapers [illegible] employed instead, under the [illegible] head. The cushioned head [illegible] are removed after the [illegible] and the permanent [illegible] fastened down.

Timothy seed has ruled remarkably low for a number of years. It is seldom that more than four or five bushels of seed can be got per acre, and usually much less. It is a very exhaustive crop, as the grass has to remain uncut until ripened, when the vitality of the root is nearly destroyed. But the timothy, after threshing, will make passable hay for horses, and it is this use of the hay which enables the seed to be sold at present prices.

It is not a good plan, though a very common one, to get suckers and sprout from the roots of old trees and graft them for orchard planting. One difficulty with this plan is that the plague of suckers is always cursing a man whose trees are thus procured. The root of a sucker is long and horizontal. Whenever it is cut off or in any way injured, new suckers will speedily appear. In seedlings the mass of fine roots near the centre is evenly distributed on each side, and with proper cultivation may be kept far enough down not to be disturbed.

No matter how many cows are in a dairy, each one's milk should be set by itself. In this way the difference in size and form of butter globules which often exist in different cows will not affect the yield of butter. With three or four cows in the height of the season it will be necessary to churn every day, and it might as well be churning one cow's cream every three or four days, as to put all in together. If this plan were generally adopted, one-half the cows would be weeded out within a year as not worth keeping, and this greatly to the profit of their owners.

Crops of the Country.

Mr. Dodge statician to the department of agriculture, states that the area of Indian corn in the United States has increased 20 per cent. within the past six years. Corn occupies more than half the area in cereals and produces greater value than any other crop, except grasses, for hay and pasture. According to the last crop report, the average yield this season is 22 bushels per acre, or 1,665,000,000 bushels.

The wheat yield for the country is estimated to be about 450,000,000 or 12¼ bushels per acre. Rye will yield a little less than wheat, or 11.8 bushels per acre. The oat crop was badly damaged in several of the large producing states. The average yield is estimated at about 26½ bushels per acre, which insures a crop of over 600,000,000 bushels. The general average of the barley crop 23.4 per acre, which is above the average for a series of years. Buckwheat promises a product exceeding 11,000,000 bushels. The average yield for the hay crop is close upon 45,000,000 tons. The potato crop shows higher yields in the east and lower in the west than last year, giving a product for the whole country of 163,000,000 bushels.

Arrangements for Feeding Poultry.

Troughs are unnecessary. A long board, with a small block under each end, is sufficient. Distribute the soft food on this evenly, from one end to the other, and as soon as the fowls have finished feeding, wash off the board, and stand it on end out of the way. This insures cleanliness. Water should be changed several times a day, and should be given in a vessel that will exclude the feet of the fowls. Feed very early in the morning and as late in the afternoon as possible. In the morning, feed finely-chopped grass, radish tops, mustard, or any other green food at hand, mixed with corn-meal, to which may be added, a proportion of salt, fine bran, and wheat middlings, half-and-half, mixed with milk, if milk can be obtained. If milk cannot be had, buy beef heads or cracklings of the butcher, boil them and use the water for mixing. Meat is always welcomed by fowls. At noon, feed hard grains, such as a mixture of wheat, corn and oats, [illegible] buckwheat, and at night feed whole corn.—[Farmers' Guide.

[illegible] Record. [illegible] produced [illegible] ever [illegible] Edward Bright of [illegible] died at the [illegible] was a grocer [illegible] a good fat [illegible] before his death [illegible] He was five [illegible] high and five feet six [illegible] Around the [illegible] inches [illegible] two feet ten [illegible] inches [illegible]

[illegible] with white [illegible] in the pot.

[illegible] of the escaped convict—"Ex[illegible] and a big pen."

Sound judgment—Decisions at a [illegible] doctor.

Rich rhymes—Lines on the death of a millionaire.

The home stretch—Putting up the clothes line.

A fitting tribute—A present of a suit of clothes.

A tip top story—The hotel clerk's reasons for lodging you in the attic.

A lame excuse—A one-legged soldier's application for a pension.

The whirl of society—A round dance. —[Detroit Free Press.

Derangement of the liver, with constipation, inbure the complexion, induce pimples, sallow skin, etc. Remove the cause by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. One a dose.

The Letter Sheet Envelope.

The new letter sheet envelopes have been placed on sale at the different post offices. The popular impression that these envelops are sold at two cents is erroneous. A single envelope costs three cents. Following is the schedule of rates:

Single sheets	$ .03
Two seets	05
Three sheets	07
Four sheets	10
Five sheets	12
Six sheets	14
Seven sheets	17
Eight sheets	19
Nine sheets	21
Ton Sheets	23
Twenty-five sheets	58
Fifty sheets	1 15
One hundred sheets	2 30
Five hundred sheets	11 50
One thousand sheets	23 00

Don't disgust everybody by hawking, blowing and spitting, but use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and be cured.

Where to Reside.

A good place for Anarchists—Bombay.

No ring there—Belfast.

Free from riots—Concord.

A rural resort for milkmen—Cowes.

A retreat for scholding women—Shrewsbury.

Affords rare facilities to fugitives escaping from justice—Hyde Park.

A desirable place for inquisitive people—Pekin.

Where one may find plenty of game—Lyons.

A popular resort for gamblers—Lucknow.

The first in importance—Leeds.

It has no fascination for dogs—Bologna—[Life.

All "Played Out."

"Don't know what ails me lately. Can't eat well,—can't sleep well. Can't work, and don't enjoy doing anything. Ain't really sick, and I really ain't well. Feel all kind o' played out, someway." That is what scores of men say every day. If they would take Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" they would soon have no occasion to say it. It purifies the blood, tones up the system and fortifies it against disease. It is a great anti-bilious remedy as well.

To the Dogs, With the Q's.

A western exchange tells its readers how to mind their "P's" in the following paragraph: "Persons who patronize papers should pay promptly, for the pecuniary prospects of the press possess a pecuniary power in pushing forward public prosperity. If the printer is paid promptly, and his pocketbook kept plethoric by prompt paying patrons, he puts his pen to paper in peace; his paragraphs are more pointed; he paints his pictures of passing events in more pleasing colors, and the perusal of his paper is a pleasure to the people. Paste this piece of proverbial philosophy in some place where all persons can perceive it.

There are many forms of nervous debility in men, that yield to the use of Carter's Iron Pills. Those who are troubled with nervous weakness, night sweats, &c., should try them.

Where He Had Canvassed.

Publisher—"You think you can canvass for my paper with success?"

Applicant—"Oh, yes, sir."

Publisher—"I'll engage you, as I am rather impressed in your favor. By the way—for what papers have you canvassed?"

"For none sir."

"Eh? why, you gave me to understand you had experience as a canvasser?"

"In a pork house, sir. I used to canvas hams."—[Philadelphia Call.

After Diptheria.

Diptheria is a terrible disease, requiring the greatest medical skill to effect a complete cure. Even when its power is broken, it clings to the patient with great persistency, and often leaves the system poisoned and prostrated. Just here Hood's Sarsaparilla does a vast amount of good, expelling impurities from the blood, giving it richness and vitality, while it renovates and strengthens the system.

Jeffersonian Simplicity.

Can be practiced by using Van Wert's Balsam for all Throat and Lung diseases, as it will save unnecessary doctors bills. For sale by H. C. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are free from injurious substances. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure catarrhal Headaches.

It is said that the eldest daughter of the Prince of Wales is [illegible] girl in London.

[illegible]

[illegible] Dr. Pardee's Remedy than from any and all other treatments. The pain and numbness have entirely left me, and I am gradually gaining strength.

I can conscientiously recommend your remedy to any and all similarly afflicted.

Yours truly,
MRS. L. CHAPPELL,
63 Glenwood Park.

UNABLE TO WALK FOR SIX WEEKS.

Nunda, N. Y., May 20, 1886.

Pardee Medicine Co.

GENTS:—I cannot find words in which to express my feelings for the great good your excellent remedy has done my wife who for six long weeks was unable to help herself. We had four of the best physicans we could procure, but she grew worse every day until we feared she would never be any better. I received one of your pamphlets through the mail and immediately procured some of the medicine, and the third day after she began its use she could move about the house. She has now taken five bottles and is able to do her work as easily as she has in years. She cannot recommend Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy too highly, for it does all you claim for it, and is far superior to anything we have ever used. I am yours very truly, W. W HOOVER.

Ask your druggists for Pardee's Remedy and take no other. Price $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

The Baroness Burdett-Coutts is quite as much in love with her yonng husband as ever. He, upon his part, rather likes being an old woman's darling.

Home Rule for Ireland

s only a question of time and it is only question of time when a neglected Cough will lead to Consumption. We guarantee that the timely administration of Van Wert's Balsam will stop any Cough. For sale by H. G. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are very thorough in operation. Van Wert's Golden Balm cures Catarrh without irritation.

There are about 200,000 people in Scotland who speak Gaelic in preference to English. In many of the schools the Gaelic is taught first and English afterward.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

Miss Bayard Taylor inherits her father's talent, but it leans toward art. She will study this winter at Munich.

Babies that are fretful, peevish, cross, or troubled with Windy Colic, Teething Pains, or Stomach Disorders, can be relieved at once by using Acker's Baby Soother. It contains no Opium or Morphine, hence is safe. Price 25 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

Mrs. Harriet Tulman Davis, the famous union scout and friend of the slave in ante-war times, is over sixty.

A GENEROUS FIRM.

We are informed that the proprietors, Messrs. A. P. Ordway & Co., recently sent three dozen of their reliable medicine, Sulphur Bitters, to the Catholic Home for the Aged, which is highly appreciated by the directors and inmates. "As ye sow, so shall ye reap."—Editor Catholic Union.

Miss Winnie Davis is to visit Washington this winter and will be presented at the White House by Secretary Lamar.

Thousands of cases of Consumption are cured every year by Acker's celebrated English Remedy. It is a guaranted preparation; if it does not help you it will cost you nothing. Try it. A single dose will show its good effect. Trial bottles 10 cts. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

Queen Victoria's dessert service of old Severs—the finest in the world—is valued at $250,000.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed a night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 51y1

The best paid of New York's 200,000 working women average $7 a week.

THE NEW-YORK TIMES.

THE BEST AMERICAN NEWSPAPER

THE TIMES is a Newspaper for intelligent men and women.

It concerns itself as little as possible with the froth or the dregs of life, and aims to give its readers something more attractive and profitable than a daily chronicle of human follies and frailties.

The really important, wholesome, and interesting news of the day is presented with unsurpassed completeness and accuracy by THE TIMES.

Voters, whatever their party or their politics, will find THE TIMES of great value for the fullness of its information and the frankness of its comment upon public affairs; and THE TIMES has abundant evidence that its treatment of leading issues of the day meets with increasing approval.

The WEEKLY edition of THE TIMES contains all the current news condensed from the dispatches and reports of the daily edition, besides literary matter, discussions upon agricultural topics by practical farmers, full and accurate market reports of prices for farm produce, live stock, &c., and a carefully prepared WEEKLY WOOL MARKET.

No other New-York Newspaper so completely meets the wants of country readers.

Terms to Mail Subscribers Postpaid.

DAILY, exclusive of Sunday, per year....$6.00
DAILY, including Sunday, per year....7.50
SUNDAY ONLY, per year....1.50
DAILY, 6 months, with Sunday....3.75
DAILY, 6 months, without Sunday....3.00
DAILY, 1 month, with or without Sunday....75

THE WEEKLY TIMES.

[illegible]

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best.

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 51t

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street Old Universalist Church Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium Stock Lager.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

—COAL.—

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!

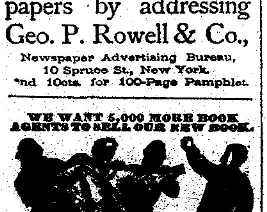
Purest Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

ADVERTISERS can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co., Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St., New York. Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

WE WANT 5,000 MORE BOOK AGENTS TO SELL OUR NEW BOOK.



Secret Service

By P. H. WOODWARD, late Chief of P. O. Detective Corps.

OF THE POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

[illegible]

[illegible] is smoker, his path that of an old man.

LITTLE CHILDREN

Do not cry when Dr. Van Wert's Balsam is given them. It is so sweet and palatable, they never refuse it, and it is superior to any other known remedy for Croup and Whooping Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are small and easy to take. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Hay Fever. 23m6

According to Sam Jones it's got so now that if you steal $5 they'll put you in a jail, but if you steal $10,000 they'll call you a colonel.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

The old fashioned colored wafer for sealing envelopes, 1776 style, are again coming into use among the leaders of New York City fashions.

If you would enjoy your dinner and are prevented by Dyspepsia, use Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. They are a positive cure for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Flatulency and Constipation. We guarantee them. 25 and 50 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

New York city markets now handle large quantities of opossum meat, a demand for it having suddenly sprung up among the epicureans.

BUCKLEN'S ARNICA SALVE.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by R. E. Phillips. 34tf

The longest time recorded in the annals of physics in which a man existed without food was sixty-one days.

The reason why Acker's Blood Elixir is warranted, is because it is the best Blood Preparation known. It will positively cure all Blood Diseases, purifies the whole system, and thoroughly builds up the constitution. Remember, we guarantee it. H. C. Giesler.

Queen Victoria has now, thanks to Princess Beatrice, the round number of thirty living grandchildren.

CHURCH GOING PEOPLE

Are annoyed by the Coughing of their neighbors. One bottle of Van Wert's Balsam would cure every cough in the congregation. Go to H. C. Giesler's Fulton, or Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls, and get a free sample bottle and see for yourself.

Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure cold in the head. 23m6

Of New York's former Governors five are still living—Fish, Hoffman, Robinson, Cornell and Cleveland.

RULES

for the care of the sick. How to cure disease, its symptoms and causes, and other information of great value will be found in old Dr. Kaufmann's great book 100 pages, fine colored plates. Send three 2 cent stamps to pay postage to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive a copy free.

Gen. Guerzoni, a staff officer and secretary and biographer of Gen. Garibaldi, is dead.

PURE WHITE CLOVER HONEY

Forms the base of Dr. Van Wert's Balsam and this being combined with the most potent remedial agents which modern medical investigation has discovered, the whole forms an incomparable remedy for all throat and lung troubles. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Trial sizes free.

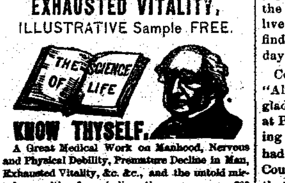
For torpid liver use Van Wert's Pills. Van Wert's Golden Balm is a certain cure for Catarrh. 23m6

The Sultan of Muscat has sent a chestnut horse to Queen Victoria.

For forty years, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has been demonstrated to be the most reliable remedy in use, for coughs, colds and lung diseases. Slight colds should not be neglected. The Pectoral will prevent their becoming chronic.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY,

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopœia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

[illegible]

[illegible]

How to get ahead—Go to bed tight.—[Puck.

A vice few pursue—advice.—[Hartford Times.

"Have a chew?"

"No; I don't chew."

"Don't you?"

"No; I doubt you."—[Yonkers Statesman.

"This soots me," said the head of the family as he was putting up the stovepipe.—[Philadelphia Call.

A man should believe only half he hears. It makes a good deal of difference which half, however.—[Burlington Free Press.

Silence may be golden, but it doesn't necessarily make a millionaire of a mute. —[Philadelphia Call.

A Cincinnati man shot his wife the other night in the jaw. This is a vital spot—in women.—[Washington Critic.

"What time did John go away last night, Mary Ann?"

"It was a quarter of twelve, father."

Three, she said to herself, is a quarter of twelve.—[Harper's Bazar.

When a New Zealand young man proposes to a girl they rub noses. Down in Kentucky the girls would require asbestos nose coverings.—[Oil City Blizzard.

The rockers on a chair never stick out half so far behind at any other time as when a man is prowling around in the dark barefooted.—[Dansville Breeze.

Father—Have you named your dog yet, Johnnie? Son—Yeth, thir; I'm going to call him after you. Father—That's not very complimentary, my son. Son—It's all right; he won't know enough to care.—[Tid-Bits.

A Maine minister was recently treed by a bear and kept there for an hour. He says he will never preach a long sermon again in his life.—[Burlington Free Press.

English milliners are said to have discovered a way of making bonnets of tissue paper so that the bonnet itself will not cost over 10 cents, the remaining $20 going for trimming, as usual —[Omaha World.

"Don't you think my moustache becoming?" asked young Lollipop of his big sister the other night. "You affect a shocking use of auxiliaries lately," she replied; "yes, I think it is coming." —[Life.

The bald-headed man has one satisfaction anyhow. No wayward son of his can bring his gray hairs in a row to the grave.—[Somerville Journal.

Sam Small says it takes more money to paint a nose red than it does to paint the capitol at Washington with the the best white lead in the world. It may be a more costly job but it lasts longer.—[Burlington Free Press.

Barnum offers $20,000 for the skin of a sea serpent, and an Arcola man is trying to hatch a sixty foot snake from a jug of election whiskey. He don't have much trouble in growing the snake, but it puzzles him to keep the whiskey from getting away.—[Newman Independent.

A London correspondent says: "You cannot be asked to the queen's ball unless you have been at court the same year." That settles it. We shall not look for an invitation this season. Owing to a rush of job work we could not have attended anyway.—[Norristown Herald.

A remantic young woman's heart is like a moon; it changes frequently, but it always has a man in it.—[Hartford Sunday Journal.

As her father was hanging around, he merely said: "I will see you in 'dew' time," and she knew he meant in the evening.—[Lowell Citizen.

Delinquent Subscriber (to country editor)—"Why is your paper referred to as a "patent inside?" Editor (gloomily) —"It doesn't refer to the paper; it refers to me." Delinquent Subscriber—"You?" Editor—Yes. If I hadn't a patent inside I'd starve to death.—[Puck.

Tramp (to gentleman in City Hall Park)—"Will you kindly allow me to glance at your paper for a moment, sir? I am anxious to see the weather predictions". Gentleman (handing him the paper)—"Certainly are you interested in the weather?" Tramp—"Yes, sir. I live principally on wind, and I want to find out what I'm to have for dinner today.—[Life.

Country editor (to brother editor)—"Ah! good morning, brother Shears; glad to see you; and how are things up at Pigville?" Brother Shears—"Flourishing just at present; but last month we had the hog cholera pretty bad." Country editor—"I am sorry to hear that; but you are looking well now, brother Shears."—[Medical and Surgical Reporter.

Tone up the system and improve the appetite by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It will make you feel like a new person. Thousands have found health, and relief from suffering, by the use of this great blood purifier, when all other means fail.

He Didn't Wait.

"Is the editor in?" asked a large, fierce looking man with a horsewhip in his hand, as he burst into the sanctum.

"No, sir," answered the office boy. "He's gone down to Smith's saloon to clean out the place with a howitzer. Will you wait until he returns?"

But the fierce man had fled, and, as the editor crawled out from underneath the table, he softly murmured:

"I'll have to raise that boy's salary next year."—[Carl Pretzel.

Discharged.

Magistrate—The young woman says that your continued staring at her annoyed her exceedingly.

Prisoner—I [illegible]

[illegible] "Hood's Sarsaparilla takes the lead [illegible] quantity to show its effect than any other preparation I ever heard of. I would not be without it in the house." MRS. C. A. HUBBARD, North Chili, N. Y. 100 Doses

One Dollar

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures scrofula, salt rheum, all humors, boils, pimples, general debility, dyspepsia, biliousness, sick headache, catarrh, rheumatism, kidney and liver complaints, and all affections caused by impure blood or low condition of the system. Try it.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. I took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself entirely cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla did me an immense amount of good. My whole system had been built up and strengthened, my digestion improved, and my head relieved of the bad feeling. I consider it the best medicine I have ever used, and should not know how to do without it." MARY L. PEELE, Salem, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT

German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Billious Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.	Ladies in delicate health, who are all rundown, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.
The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS.	$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.
Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.	Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.
General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use SULPHUR BITTERS, and you will not be troubled.	SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.
Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.	SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

OVER WORKED Women.

For "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated school teachers, milliners, seamstresses, housekeepers, and over-worked women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all restorative tonics. It is not a "Cure-all," but admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most potent Specific for all those Chronic Weaknesses and Diseases peculiar to women. It is a powerful, general as well as uterine, tonic and nervine, and imparts vigor and strength to the whole system. It promptly cures weakness of stomach, indigestion, bloating, weak back, nervous prostration, debility and sleeplessness, in either sex. Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists under our positive guarantee. See wrapper around bottle. Price $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

A large treatise on Diseases of Women, profusely illustrated with colored plates and numerous wood-cuts, sent for 10 cents in stamps. Address, WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

SICK HEADACHE, Bilious Headache, and Constipation, promptly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pellets, 25c. a vial, by druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FARM on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Clyremont, Virginia.

KNABE

PIANOFORTES,

UNEQUALED FOR

Tone, Touch, Workmanship and Durability.

WILLIAM KNABE & CO.,

Nos. 204 and 206 West Baltimore St., Baltimore, No. 112 Fifth Avenue, New York.

A RARE CHANCE.

THE AMERICAN HORSE COLLARS

Endorsed and used by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Prolong the life of the horse, are a humane invention, secure thirty per cent. more work, and are effecting a revolution. To a practical horse or harness man we will upon receipt of sample order, give the agency of this town for our business, and a continued advertisement in this paper with name attached thereto.

Price of Sample Collar $6.50.

Address

THE AMERICAN HORSE COLLAR CO.

23 Warren St., New York.

10 PER CENT, INVESTMENT, SECURITY ABSOLUTE. THE MORTGAGE, Ipswich, Dakota, will loan your money on BOND and MORTGAGE from 8 to 10 per cent. Mortgage made to you direct. Bond payable at your own Bank or in New York as you prefer, and has for SALE COUNTY, CITY, and SCHOOL BONDS, that will net 7 to 12 per cent. Will furnish as reference the names of gentlemen residing in THIS COUNTY for whom it has invested money. CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED. 16m3

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful Cure at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE,

MASON & HAMLIN

UNRIVALED ORGANS

On the EASY PAYMENT system, from $3.25 per month up. [illegible] Send for Catalogue with full particulars, mailed free.

UPRIGHT PIANOS,

Constructed on the new method of stringing, on similar terms. Send for descriptive Catalogue.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO., Boston, New York, Chicago.

CATARRH ELY'S CREAM BALM

Gives Relief at once and Cures Cold in Head, CATARRH, HAY FEVER. [illegible]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of [illegible] Surrogate of Oswego County, N. Y., notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against [illegible] Beck late of the village of [illegible] deceased, to present their [illegible] vouchers thereof to the subscriber [illegible] Patterson at his residence in the [illegible] in the county of Oswego, New York [illegible] the 7th day of June, 1887 [illegible] benefit of the statute in such case [illegible] vided.

Dated Dec. 1, 1886.

WILLIAM [illegible]
HARRIET L. [illegible]

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Alice Hethington as administratrix of the goods, chattels and credits of William S. Hethington, deceased, against Josiah C. Mosher, [illegible] John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis and Josephine Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 19th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys.

Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington, defendants:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. Pardon C. Williams, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 15th day of October, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego County, N. Y., at Oswego, N. Y., on October [illegible], 1886. Dated Oct. 15, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys,

Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT.—County of Oswego. Alice Hethington vs. Nellie E. Sears, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Josephine Hethington, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Marcus F. Craban, Newell W. Stowell, Smith Craver, William Craver and Josiah C. Mosher.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the County of Oswego.—

Dated this 26th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys.

Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington—defendants.

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication, pursuant to an order of Hon. John C. Churchill, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 28th day of October, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego County at Oswego, on October 28th, 1886. Dated October 28, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys.

Office and Post Office address, Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Nellie E. Sears against Josephine Hethington, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Josephine Hethington and Alice Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 4th day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,

Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. J. C. Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 5th, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego County, at Oswego city, N. Y.

Yours &c.,
C. H. DAVID,
Pltffs Atty,
Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Frank L. Sears vs. Alice M. Hethington, administratrix &c. of William S. Hethington, deceased, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Josephine Hethington, Alice M. Hethington and Nellie E. Sears.

Action to foreclose Mortgage.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 22d day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,

Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. J. C. Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 23d, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego County, at Oswego city, N. Y.

Yours &c.,
C. H. DAVID,
Pltffs Atty,
Fulton, N. Y.

"THE IDEAL MAGAZINE"

for young people is what the papers call St. Nicholas. Do you know about it, how clean and pure and helpful? If there are any boys or girls in your home, get a single number, or try it for a year, and see if it isn't the element you need in the household. The London Times has said, "We have nothing like it on this side." Here are some leading features for

ST. NICHOLAS.

for 1886-87.

Stories by Louisa M. Alcott and Frank R. Stockton,—several by each author.

A Short Serial Story by Mrs. Burnett, whose charming "Little Lord Fauntleroy" was a great feature in the past year of St. Nicholas.

War Stories for Boys and Girls. [illegible] chief-of-staff, biographer, and confidential friend of Gen. Grant, and one of the most popular of living military writers, [illegible] a number of papers describing [illegible] style some of the leading battles [illegible] They will be panoramic descriptions of contests or short campaigns, [illegible] literary picture gallery of the [illegible] contests in which the parents of the boy and girl of to-day took part.

The Serial Stories include "Juan and Juanita," an admirably written story of Mexican life, by Frances Courtenay Baylor, author of "On Both Sides"; also, "Jenny's Boarding-House," by James Otis, a story of life in a great city.

Short Articles, instructive and entertaining, will abound. Among these are: "How a Great Panorama is Made," by Theodore Wores, with profuse illustrations; "Winning a Commission" (Naval Academy), and "Recollections of the Naval Academy"; "Boring for Oil" and "Among the Gas-wells," with a number of illustrations; "Child Sketches from George Eliot," by Julia Magruder; "Victor Hugo's Tales to his Grandchildren," recounted by Brander Matthews; "Historic Girls," by E. S. Brooks. Also interesting contributions from [illegible] Washington Gladden, [illegible] J. T. Trowbridge, Lieutenant [illegible] Noah Brooks, Grace Denio Litchfield, Rose Hawthorne Lathrop, Mrs S. M. B. Piatt, Mary Mapes Dodge, and many others, etc., etc.

The subscription price of St. Nicholas is $3.00 a year; 25 cents a number. Subscriptions are received by booksellers and newsdealers everywhere, or by the publishers. New volume begins with the November number. Send for our beautifully illustrated catalogue (free), containing full prospectus, etc., etc. THE CENTURY CO., New York.

BENSON'S POROUS PLASTER

[illegible]

THE FULTON TIMES.

TEENTH YEAR. "The Abstract and Brief Chronicle of the Time, to Show Virtue Her Own Features, Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER [illegible]

.25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY DECEMBER 15, 1886. Single Copies, [illegible]

In Church.

"Life is short!" the preacher cried
From his pulpit up on high.
Jameson heard, and softly sighed:
"True! ah, true! And so am I."

"Life is real!" the preacher said.
Jameson nodded. Vain regrets
Bowed in patience his head,
"So," he sighed, "are all my debts."

"Life is earnest!" next he heard,
Cold sweat oozed through all his pores.
"Yes," he whispered, "that's the word.
So are all my creditors."
—[Somerville Journal.

Pressing Three Suits.

"Oh! tailor, press my suit to-day,"
The young man cried in sorrow;
"Because my girl expects that I
Will press my suit to-morrow."

"These clothes I wear are are thin and old,
And scarcely worth a hooter,
And such a suitor as I am
I'm sure would never suit her."

"Of course," the tailor said with glee,
To see the young man's sorrow;
"My lawyer has your last year's bills, He'll press the suit to-morrow."
—[Washington Critic.

Never Again.

There are gains for all our losses,
There are balms for all our pain;
But when youth, the dream, departs
It takes something from our hearts,
And it never comes again.

We are stronger, and are better,
Under manhood's sterner reign;
Still we feel that something sweet
Followed youth, with flying feet,
And Will never come again.

Something beautiful is vanished,
And we sige for it in vain;
We seek it everywhere,
On the earth and in the air,
But it never comes again!
—[R. H. Stoddard.

The First Baby.

Do you notice that young fellow—
Eyes of blue and moustache yellow?
He's so happy that he can't conceal his joy.
Why?
He's a daddy!
He's a papa!
He's the father of a bouncing baby boy.

What a grin expands his features
As he greets his fellow-creatures
When he meets them in the morning coming down
My!
How he slaps you!
How he grips you!
He is certainly the craziest man in town.

And he never tires of telling
What the baby weighed, or dwelling
On its beauty or rare intelligence.
Yet—
We'll not tell him,
Though we're certain
That it's like all other babes in looks and sense.
—[Columbus Dispatch.

Every nervous person should try Carter's Little NERVE Pills. They are made specially for nervous and dyspeptic men and women, and are just the medicine needed by all persons who, from any cause, do not sleep well, or who fail to get proper strength from their food. Cases of weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, nervous and sick headache, &c., readily yield to the use of the Little Nerve Pills, particularly if combined with Carter's Little Liver Pills. In vials at 25 cents.

There are 96,000 women on the pension rolls as widows, dependents or relatives of deceased soldiers.

A Remarkable Case.

Oct. 21st, 1886.

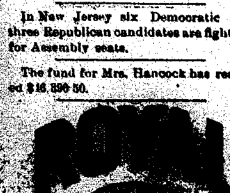
MESSRS W. H. HOOKER & Co.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable. I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. He is apparently on the road to entire recovery, in the near future. I cheerfully confirm and attest to the above and believe others (from my statement) suffering, may have reason to believe in the efficacy of this excellent remedy. Very Truly,

MRS LESAGE,
26m6 Fulton, N. Y.

In New Jersey six Democratic and three Republican candidates are fighting for Assembly seats.

The fund for Mrs. Hancock has reached $16,896.50.



THE GREAT DEADWOOD MYSTERY.

BY BRET HARTE.

[Copyrighted 1886, by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., and published by arrangement with them.]

PART II.

ALICE.

THE spring of 1874 was retarded in the California Sierras; so much so that certain eastern tourists who had early ventured into the Yosemite valley found themselves, one May morning, snowbound against the tempestuous shoulders of El Capitan. So furious was the onset of the wind at the Upper Merced canyon, that even so respectable a lady as Mrs. Rightbody was fain to cling to the neck of her guide to keep her seat in the saddle; while Miss Alice, scorning all masculine assistance, was hurled, a lovely chaos, against the snowy wall of the chasm. Mrs. Rightbody screamed; Miss Alice raged under her breath, but scrambled to her feet again in silence.

"I told you so!" said Mrs. Rightbody, in an indignant whisper, as her daughter again ranged beside her. "I warned you especially, Alice, that—that——"

"What?" interrupted Miss Alice, curtly.

"That you would need your chemiloons and high boots," said Mrs. Rightbody, in a regretful undertone, slightly increasing her distance from the guides.

Miss Alice shrugged her pretty shoulders scornfully, but ignored her mother's implication.

"You were particularly warned against going into the valley at this season," she only replied, grimly.

Mrs. Rightbody raised her eyes impatiently.

"You know how anxious I was to discover your poor father's strange correspondent, Alice. You have no consideration."

"But when you have discovered him—what then?" queried Miss Alice.

"What then?"

"Yes. My belief is that you will find the telegram only a mere business cipher, and all this quest mere nonsense."

"Alice! Why, you yourself thought your father's conduct that night very strange. Have you forgotten?"

The young lady had not, but, for some far-reaching feminine reason, chose to ignore it at that moment, when her late tumble in the snow was still fresh in her mind.

"And this woman, whoever she may be," continued Mrs. Rightbody.

"How do you know there's a woman in the case?" interrupted Miss Alice, wickedly, I fear.

"How do—I—know—there's a woman!" slowly ejaculated Mrs. Rightbody, floundering in the snow at the unexpected possibility of such a ridiculous question. But here her guide flew to her assistance, and stopped further speech. And, indeed, a grave problem was before them.

The road that led to their single place of refuge—a cabin, half hotel, half trading post, scarce a mile away—skirted the base of the rocky dome, and passed perilously near the precipitous wall of the valley. There was a rapid descent of a hundred yards or more to this terrace-like passage; and the guides paused for a moment of consultation, coolly oblivious, alike to the terrified questioning of Mrs. Rightbody, or the half insolent independence of the daughter. The elder guide was russet bearded, stout and humorous; the younger was dark bearded, slight and serious.

"Ef you kin git young Bunker Hill to let you tote her on your shoulders, I'll get the madam to hang on to me," came to Mrs. Rightbody's horrified ears as the expression of her particular companion.

"Freeze to the old gal, and don't reckon on me if the daughter starts in to play it alone," was the enigmatical response of the younger guide.

Miss Alice overheard both propositions; and, before the two men returned to their side, that high-spirited young lady had urged her horse down the declivity.

Alas! at this moment a gust of whirling snow swept down upon her. There was a flounder, a mis-step, a fatal strain on the wrong rein, a fall, a few plucky but unavailing struggles, and both horse and rider slid ignominiously down toward the rocky shelf. Mrs. Rightbody screamed. Miss Alice, from a confused debris of snow and ice, uplifted a vexed and coloring face to the younger guide, a little the more angrily, perhaps, that she saw a shade of impatience on his face.

"Don't move, but tie one end of the 'lass' under your arms, and throw me the other," he said, quietly.

"What do you mean by 'lass'—the lasso?" asked Miss Alice, disgustedly.

"Yes, ma'am."

"Then why don't you say so?"

"Oh, Alice!" reproachfully interpolated Mrs. Rightbody, encircled by the elder guide's stalwart arm.

Miss Alice deigned no reply, but drew the loop of the lasso over her shoulders, and let it drop to her round waist. Then she essayed to throw the other end to her guide. Dismal failure! The first fling nearly knocked her off the ledge; the second went all wild against the rocky wall; the third caught in a thorn bush, twenty feet below her companion's feet. Miss Alice's arm sunk helplessly to her side, at which signal of unqualified surrender, the younger guide threw himself half way down the slope, worked his way to the thorn bush, hung for a moment perilously over the parapet, secured the lasso, and then began to pull away at his lovely burden. Miss Alice was no dead weight, however, but steadily half-scrambled on her hands and knees to within a foot or two of her rescuer. At this too familiar proximity, she stood up, and leaned a little stiffly against the line, causing the guide to give an extra pull, which had the lamentable effect of landing her almost in his arms. As it was, her intelligent forehead struck his nose sharply, and I regret to add, [illegible]

the forearm which you have. See!" She squared her shoulders slightly, and turned the blaze of her dark eyes full on his. "Experience, indeed! A girl can learn anything a boy can."

Apprehension took the place of ill-humor in her hearer. He turned his eyes hastily away, and glanced above him. The elder guide had gone forward to catch Miss Alice's horse, which, relieved of his rider, was floundering toward the trail. Mrs. Rightbody was nowhere to be seen. And these two were still twenty feet below the trail!

There was an awkward pause.

"Shall I pull you up the same way?" he queried. Miss Alice looked at his nose, and hesitated. "Or will you take my hand?" he added, in surly impatience. To his surprise, Miss Alice took his hand, and they began the ascent together.

But the way was difficult and dangerous. Once or twice her feet slipped on the smoothly worn rock beneath; and she confessed to an inward thankfulness when her uncertain feminine handgrip was exchanged for his strong arm around her waist. Not that he was ungentle; but Miss Alice angrily felt that he had once or twice exercised his superior masculine functions in a rough way; and yet the next moment she would have probably rejected the idea that she had even noticed it. There was no doubt, however, that he was a little surly.

A fierce scramble finally brought them back in safety to the trail; but in the action Miss Alice's shoulder, striking a projecting bowlder, wrung from her a feminine cry of pain, her first sign of womanly weakness. The guide stopped instantly.

"I am afraid I hurt you?"

She raised her brown lashes, a trifle moist from suffering, looked in his eyes, and dropped her own. Why, she could not tell. And yet he had certainly a kind face, despite its seriousness; and a fine face, albeit unshorn and weather beaten. Her own eyes had never been so near to any man's before, save her lover's; and yet she had never seen so much in even his. She slipped her hand away, not with any reference to him, but rather to ponder over this singular experience, and, somehow, felt uncomfortable thereat.

Nor was he less so. It was but a few days ago that he had accepted the charge of this young woman from the elder guide, who was the recognized escort of the Rightbody party, having been a former correspondent of her father's. He had been hired like any other guide, but had undertaken the task with that chivalrous enthusiasm which the average Californian always extends to the sex so rare to him. But the illusion had passed; and he had dropped into a sulky, practical sense of his situation, perhaps fraught with less danger to himself. Only, when appealed to by his manhood or her weakness, he had forgotten his wounded vanity.

He strode moodily ahead, dutifully breaking the path for her in the direction of the distant canyon, where Mrs. Rightbody and her friend awaited them. Miss Alice was first to speak. In this trackless, uncharted terra incognita of the passions, it is always the woman who steps out to lead the way.

"You know this place very well. I suppose you have lived here long?"

"Yes."

"You were not born here—no?"

A long pause.

"I observe they call you 'Stanislaus Joe.' Of course that is not your real name?" (Mem.—Miss Alice had never called him anything, usually prefacing any request with a languid, "O-er-er, please, mister-er-a!" explicit enough for his station.)

"No."

Miss Alice (trotting after him, and bawling in his ear)—What name did you say?

The man (doggedly)—I don't know.

Nevertheless, when they reached the cabin, after a half-hour's buffeting with the storm, Miss Alice applied herself to her mother's escort, Mr. Ryder.

"What's the name of the man who takes care of my horse?"

"Stanislaus Joe," responded Mr. Ryder.

"Is that all?"

"No. Sometimes he's called Joe Stanislaus."

Miss Alice (satirically)—I suppose it's the custom here to send young ladies out with gentlemen who hide their names under an alias?

Mr. Ryder (greatly perplexed)—Why, dear me, Miss Alice, you allers 'peared to me as a gal as was able to take keer ——

Miss Alice (interrupting with a wounded, dove-like timidity)—Oh, never mind, please!

The cabin offered but scanty accommodation to the tourists; which fact, when indignantly presented to Mrs. Rightbody, was explained by the good-humored Ryder from the circumstance that the usual hotel was only a slight affair of boards, cloth and paper, put up during the season, and partly dismantled in the fall. "You couldn't be kept warm enough there," he added. Nevertheless Miss Alice noticed that both Mr. Ryder and Stanislaus Joe retired there with their pipes, after having prepared the ladies' supper, with the assistance of an Indian woman, who apparently emerged from the earth at the coming of the party, and disappeared as mysteriously.

The stars came out brightly before they slept; and the next morning a clear, unwinking sun beamed with almost summer power through the shutterless window of their cabin, and ironically disclosed the details of its rude interior. Two or three mangy, half-eaten buffalo robes, a bearskin, some suspicious looking blankets, rifles and saddles, deal tables and barrels made up its scant inventory. A strip of faded calico hung before a recess near the chimney, but so blackened by smoke and age that even feminine curiosity respected its secret. Mrs. Rightbody was in high spirits, and informed her daughter that she was at last on the track of her husband's unknown correspondent. "Seventy-four and Seventy-five represent two members of the vigilance committee, my dear, and Mr. Ryder will assist me to find them."

"Mr. Ryder!" ejaculated Miss Alice, in scornful astonishment.

"Alice," said Mrs. Rightbody, with a suspicious assumption of sudden distance, "you injure yourself, you injure me, by this exclusive attitude. Mr. Ryder is a friend of your [illegible] was not in good temper, but she felt it necessary to say something.

"I hope the hotel offers better quarters for travelers than this in summer," she began.

"It does."

"Then this does not belong to it?"

"No, ma'am."

"Who lives here, then?"

"I do."

"I beg your pardon," stammered Miss Alice, "I thought you lived where we hired—where we met you—in—in— You must excuse me."

"I'm not a regular guide; but as times were hard, and I was out of grub, I took the job."

"Out of grub!" "job!" And she was the "job." What would Henry Marvin say? It would nearly kill him. She began herself to feel a little frightened, and walked towards the door.

"One moment, miss!"

The young girl hesitated. The man's tone was surly, and yet indicated a certain kind of half-pathetic grievance. Her curiosity got the better of her prudence, and she turned back.

"This morning," he began hastily, "when we were coming down the valley, you picked me up twice."

"I picked you up?" repeated the astonished Alice.

"Yes, contradicted me; that's what I mean; once when you said those rocks were volcanic, once when you said the flower you picked was a poppy. I didn't let on at the time, for it wasn't my say; but all the while you were talking I might have laid for you——"

"I don't understand you," said Alice haughtily.

"I might have entrapped you before folks. But I only want you to know that I'm right, and here are the books to show it."

He drew aside the dingy calico curtain, revealed a small shelf of bulky books, took down too large volumes—one of botany, one of geology—nervously sought his text, and put them in Alice's outstretched hands.

"I had no intention," she began, half proudly, half embarrassedly.

"Am I right, miss?" he interrupted.

"I presume you are, if you say so."

"That's all, ma'am. Thank you!"

Before the girl had time to reply he was gone. When he again returned it was with her horse, and Mrs. Rightbody and Ryder were awaiting her. But Miss Alice noticed that his own horse was missing.

"Are you not going with us?" she asked.

"No, ma'am."

"Oh, indeed!"

Miss Alice felt her speech was a feeble conventionalism, but it was all she could say. She, however, did something. Hitherto it had been her habit to systematically reject his assistance in mounting to her seat. Now she awaited him. As he approached she smiled and put out her little foot. He instantly stooped, she placed it in his hand, rose with a spring and for one supreme moment Stanislaus Joe held her unresistingly in his arms. The next moment she was in the saddle, but in that brief interval of sixty seconds she had uttered a volume in a single sentence:

"I hope you will forgive me!"

He muttered a reply, and turned his face aside quickly as if to hide it.

Miss Alice cantered forward with a smile, but pulled her hat down over her eyes as she joined her mother. She was blushing.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

Scrofulous humors, erysipelas, canker, and catarrh can be cured by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "I have used this medicine in my family, for scrofula and know, if it is taken persistently, it will eradicate this terrible disease"—W. F. Fowler, M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

THE PROPER THING.

Vests must be very narrow when long.

No feathers are used on the newest bonnets and turbans.

Brown in light shades is the favorite color for boucle jackets.

Circle cloaks are worn only by elderly women of conservative tastes.

Dress bonnets are of white velvet with the crown done in embroidery.

New vests of pleated surah in colors, are put on a plain corsage to make it more dressy.

Mask veils are made deep enough to curve low on the chin, and are scalloped along the edge.

White poplin trimmed with white plush is spoken of as one of the popular stuffs for children,s wear.

The prettiest jet bonnets are in fine lattice patterns of small beads made over black, red or white velvet.

For plain black dresses diagonal wool draped over a pinked skirt of black bengaline is a stylish combination.

Jet bonnets are particularly stylish when trimmed with pearl gray feathers and jet and steel pins and combs.

Puffed bands of point d' esprit with fine satin ribbon run in the net are French trimmings for the neck and sleeves of dark dressy toilettes.

Jabots of lace are revived for the front of dresses, being added to a dog-collar of lace or of ribbon, and fashioned very irregularly, two large square bows covering most of the right side, with the jabot frilling on the left.

MRS. RUTH BROWN, Coldwater, Mich., if you write, enclosing a stamp, will tell you it is true that in July, 1885, she "was suddenly Paralyzed, and became entirely Blind, as her doctors claimed from an Enlargement and Inflammations of the Kidneys and Liver. She was in an unconscious state for two weeks; face and body bloated, with agonizing Pain; could not keep anything on her stomach; irregular action of the heart. Physicians pronounced her case incurable. Within a few weeks the Paralysis left her, Bloat went down, Enlargement of the Liver Subsided, action of the heart became regular, and she became well in three months and has felt in good condition ever since." Warner's safe cure did this amazing work for her and she will tell you so.

He Was Hungry.

Angel Child—Say, Mrs. Wiggins, if we asks you to stay to dinner, you stay. Will you?

Mrs. Wiggins—Why? Would you like to have me stay, my little boy?

Angel Child—You bet I would. So [illegible]

THE GIANT OF MEDICINES.

The Most Effective and Popular Remedy Ever Discovered.

WHY IS IT SO EFFECTIVE IN SO MANY DIFFERENT DISEASES?

WHY one remedy can affect so many cases is this: The diseases have a common cause, and a remedy that can affect the cause, permantly cures all the diseases. Unlike any other organ in the body, the Kidney when diseased, may itself be free from pain, and the very fact that it is not painful leads many people to deny that it is diseased. But Medical Authorities agree that it can be far gone with disease and yet give forth no pain, because it has few if any nerves of sensation, and these are the only means of conveying the sense of pain; thus unconsciously diseased it affects the entire system. We do not open a watch to see if it is going or is in good order: We look at the hands, or note the accuracy of its time. So we need not open the kidney to see if it is diseased. We study the condition of the system. Now then, KIDNEY DISEASE produces any of the following Common and Unsuspected

SYMPTOMS: Backache; Unusual desire to urinate at night; Fluttering, and pain in the heart; Tired Feelings; Unusual amount of Greasy Froth in water; Irritated, hot and dry skin; Fickle Appetite; Scalding sensations; Acid, bitter taste, with furred tongue in the Morning; Headache and Neuralgia; Abundance of pale, or scanty flow of dark colored water; Sour stomach; Heartburn with Dyspepsia; Intence pain, upon sudden excitement, in the Small of the back; Deposite of mucus some time after urination; Loss of memory; Rheumatism, chills and fever and Pneumonia; Dropsical Swellings; Red or white brick dust, albumen and tube casts in the water; Constipation, alternating with looseness; Short breath, Pleurisy and Bronchial affections; Yellowish pale skin, etc.

These are only the chief disorders or symptoms caused by a diseased condition of the kidneys. Now then, isn't it clear to you that the kidneys, being the cause of all these derangements, if they are restored to health by the great specific "Warner's Safe Cure," the majority of the above ailments will disappear? There is NO MYSTERY ABOUT IT. It does cure many bad states of the system precisely as we have indicated. Now when the kidneys are diseased, the albumen, the life property of the blood, escapes through their walls and passes away in the water, while the urea, of the kidney posison, remains, and it is this kidney poison in the blood, that circulating throughout the entire body, affects every organ, and produces all of the above symptoms.

Therefore, we say confidently that "Warner's Safe Cure" is THE MOST EFFECTIVE MEDICINE EVER DISCOVERED for the human race. It is the common remedy which, overcoming a common cause, removes the greatest possible number of evil effects from the system. Let us note a few of these diseases and how they are affected by kidney poison, and cured by

"WARNER'S SAFE CURE."

CONSUMPTION. In a great many cases Consumption is only the effect of a diseased condition of the system and not an original disease; if the kidneys are inactive and there is any natural weakness in the lungs, the kidney poison attacks their substance and eventually they waste away and are destroyed. Dip your finger in acid and it is burned. Wash the finger every day in acid and it soon becomes a festered sore and is eventually destroyed. The kidney poison acid in the blood has the same destructive effect upon the lungs: For this reason a person whose kidneys are ailing will have grave attacks of Pneumonia in the Spring of the year, Lung fevers, Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Pleurisy, etc., at all seasons of the year. Rectify the action of the kidneys by "Warner's Safe Cure," as many hundreds of thousands have done and you will be surprised at the improvement in the condition of the lungs.

IMPAIRED EYESIGHT. Kidney acid with some persons has an especial affinity for the optic nerve, and though we have never urged it as a cure for disordered eye-sight, many persons have written us expressing surprise that after a thorough course of treatment with "Warner's Safe Cure," their eye-sight has been vastly improved. In fact, one of the best occulists in the country says that half the patients that come to him with bad eyes, upon examination, he discovers are victims of kidney disorder. We have no doubt that the reason why so many people complain of failing eye-sight early in life, is that all unconscious to themselves, their kidneys have been out of order for years, and the kidney poison is gradually ruining the system.

OPIUM HABITS. It is a well-known fact, recently shown anew, that opium, morphine, cocaine, whisky, tobacco and other enslaving habits capture their victims by their paralyzing effects upon the kidney and liver. In these organs the appetite is developed and sustained, and the best of authorities state that the habits cannot be gotten rid of until the kidneys and liver are restored to perfect health. For this purpose, the leading medical authorities, after a thorough examination of all claimants for the honor of being the only specific for those organs, have awarded the prize to "Warner's Safe Cure."

RHEUMATISM. Every reputable physician will tell you that rheumatism is caused by an acid condition of the system. With some it is uric acid, or kidney poison; in others it is lithic acid, or liver poison. This acid condition is caused by inactivity of the kidneys and liver, false action of the stomach and food assimulating organs. It affects old people more than young people because the acid has been collecting in the system for years and finally the system becomes entirely acidfied. These two acids produce all the various forms of rheumatism. "Warner's Safe Cure" acting upon the kidneys and liver, neutralizing the acid and correcting their false action, cures many cases of rheumatism. "Warner's Safe Rheumatic Cure," alternating with the use of "Warner's SAFE Cure" completes the work.

BLADDER DISORDERS. Gross and other high medical authorities say that most of the bladder diseases originate with false action of the kidneys and urinary tract. Uric acid constantly coursing through these organs inflames and eventually destroys the inner membrane producing the intense suffering. Sometimes this kidney acid solidifies in the kidneys in the form of Gravel, which in its descent to the bladder produces kidney colic. Sometimes the acid solidifies in the Bladder, producing calculous or Stone. "Warner's Safe Cure" has restored thousands of cases of inflammation and catarrh of the bladder and has effectively corrected the tendency to the formation of gravel and stone. It chellenges comparison with all other remedies in this work. Buy to-day,

"WARNER'S SAFE CURE."

CONGESTION. Congestion is a collecting together of blood in any one place. If there is loss of nervous action in any organ the blood vessels do not allow the blood to circulate and it stagnates. If this condition exists very long the collecting blood clots and eventually destroys the organ. Many persons are unconscious victims of this very common condition. The heart, determined as it is to force blood into every part of the system, has to work harder to get it through the clogged organ, and eventually the Heart breaks down and palpatation, excessive action, rush of blood to the head, distressing headaches, indicate that the Congestion has become chronic and is doing damage to the entire system. Congestion of the kidneys is one of the commonest of complaints and is the beginning of much chronic misery. "Warner's Safe Cure" will remove it.

FEMALE COMPLAINTS. What we have said about Congestion applies with peculiar force to the above complaints. They are as common as can be, and as every doctor can tell you, most of them begin in this congestive condition of the system, which, not being regularly corrected, grows into disease and produces these countless sufferings which can be alluded to but not described in a public print. Thousands have been permanently cured.

BLOOD DISORDERS. It is not strange that so many, many people write us that since they have given themselves thorough treatment with "Warner's Safe Cure" their thick and turgid blood their heavy blotched, irritable skin have disappeared under its potent influence. The kidney poison in the blood thickens it. It is not readily purified in the lungs, and the result is the impurities come out of the surface of the body, and if there is any local disease all the badness in the blood seems to collect there. Our experience justifies us in the statement that "Warner's Safe Cure" is "the greatest blood purifier known." The treatment must be very thorough.

Stomach Disorders. Many people complain more or less throughgout the year with stomach disorders: Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Waterbrash, heat and distress in the stomach, sharp pains, frequent aches, want of appetite, lack of energy. Now, these are exactly the conditions that will be produced in the stomach when the blood is filled with kidney poison: People dose themselves with all sorts of stomach reliefs, but get no better. They never will get better until they give their attention to a thorough revival of kidney and liver action by means of the only specific—"Warner's Safe Cure."

Constipation, Piles; These distressing ailments, more common among one class than the other, are not original disorders, but are but are secondary to imperfect action of the kidneys and liver. The natural cathartic is bile, which is taken from the blood by the liver. If the liver fails the bile is not forth coming and the person gets into a constipated habit. This, eventually followed by piles, is almost always an indication of congested liver, and a breaking down of the system. Remove the congestion, revive the liver and restore the kidneys by the use of "Warner's Safe Cure," and these constitutional secondary diseases disappear.

Headaches; Many people suffer untold agonies all their lives with headache. They try every remedy in vain, for they have not struck the case. With some temperments, kidney acid in the blood, in spite of all that can be done, will irritate and inflame the brain and produce intense suffering. Those obstinate headaches which do not yield readily to local treatment, may be regarded quite certainly as of kidney origin.

These Are Scientific Facts; and from the way we have set them forth, it will be plainly seen, that the statement we make, that "Warner's Safe Cure" is the "most effective remedy ever discovered for the greatest number of human diseases," is justified. It is not a remedy will out a reputation. Its sales for the past year have been greater than ever, and the advertising thereof less than ever, showing incontestibly that the merit of the medicine has given it a permanent place and value.

People have a dreadful fear of Bright's disease, but we can tell them from our experience that it is ordinary kidney disease that produces no pain that is to-day the greatest enemy of the human race; great and powerful, because in nine cases out of ten, its presence is not suspected by either the physician or the victim! The prudent man who finds himself year after year troubled with little odd aches and ailments that perplex him, ought not to hesitate a moment as to the real cause of his disease. If he will give himself thorough constitutional treatment with "Warner's Safe Cure" and "Warner's Safe Pills," he will get a new [illegible]

NEW HARNESS SHOP.

The Undersigned would respectfully announce to the public that he has opened a New Harness Shop and is prepared to do all kinds of

REPAIRING
—ON—
HARNESS, TRUNKS, BUGGY TOPS, CUSHIONS, &C. &C.,

☞ As Cheap as the Cheapest.

HARNESS

OF ALL GRADES MADE TO ORDER.

A share of public patronage solicited.
Give us a Call,

C. W. BROWN,
CAYUGA ST., OPPOSITE MIDLAND DEPOT.

SALESMEN WANTED!

We are in want of a few more good men to canvass for the sale of choice varieties of Nursery Stock. To men who can make a success of the business we can pay good salaries or commission and give permanent employment. We have many new and choice specialties both in the fruit and ornamental line which others do not handle.

Address at once, with references,

MAY BROTHERS,
NURSERYMEN,
31w6 Rochester, N. Y.

1886.

New York Weekly Herald

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

GREATEST AND CHEAPEST

FAMILY JOURNAL

IN THE UNITED STATES.

Always Bright and Reliable.

Every Number an Epitome of the News of the World.

The Foreign Department, Is unequaled. Latest and most accurate Cable Specials by the Commercial Cables,

Fullest Telegraphic Reports of all Current Events

Special Features.

Practical Farming; Articles on Science, Art, Literature, the Drama, Music, Art, Religion, Fashion and Chess,

INFORMATION ON ALL SUBJECTS.

Address,
JAMES GORDON BENNETT,
NEW YORK HERALD,
29w2 New York City.

THE CENTURY.

For 1886–87.

THE CENTURY is an illustrated monthly magazine having a regular circulation of about two hundred thousand copies, often reaching and sometimes exceeding two hundred and twenty-five thousand. Chief among its many attractions for the coming year is a serial which has been in active preparation for sixteen years. It is a history of our own country in its most critical time as set forth in

The Life of Lincoln,

BY HIS CONFIDENTIAL SECRETARIES, JOHN G. NICOLAY AND COL. JOHN HAY.

This great work, begun with the sanction of President Lincoln, and continued under the authority of his son, the Hon. Robert T. Lincoln, is the only full and authoritative record of the life of Abraham Lincoln. Its authors were friends of Lincoln before his presidency; they were most intimately associated with him as private secretaries throughout his term of office, and to them were transferred upon Lincoln's death all his private papers. Here will be told the inside history of the civil war and of President Lincoln's administration,—important details of which have hitherto remained unrevealed, that they might first appear in this authentic history. By reason of the publication of this work,

THE WAR SERIES,

which has been followed with unflagging interest by a great audience, will occupy less space during the coming year. Gettysburg will be described by Gen. Hunter (Chief of the Union Artillery), Gen. Longstreet, Gen. E. M. Law, and others; Chickamauga, by Gen. D. H. Hill; Sherman's March to the Sea, by Generals Howard and Slocum. Generals Q. A. Gilmore, Wm. F. Smith, John Gibbon, Horace Porter, and John S. Mosby will describe special battles and incidents. Stories of naval engagements, prison life, etc., etc., will appear

NOVELS AND STORIES.

"The Hundredth Man," a novel by Frank R. Stockton, author of "The Lady, or the Tiger?" etc., begins in November. Two novelettes by George W. Cable, stories by Mary Hallock Foote, "Uncle Remus," Julian Hawthorne, Edward Eggleston, and other prominent American authors will be printed during the year.

SPECIAL FEATURES

(with illustrations) include a series of articles on affairs in Russia and Siberia, by George Kennan, author of "Tent Life in Siberia," who has just returned from a most eventful visit to Siberian prisons; papers on the Food Question, with reference to its bearing on the Labor Problem; English Cathedrals; Dr. Eggleston's Religious Life in the American Colonies; Men and Women of Queen Anne's Reign, by Mr. Oliphant; Clairvoyance, Spiritualism, Astrology, etc., by the Rev. J. M. Buckley, D. D., editior of the Christian Advocate; astronomical papers; articles throwing light on Bible history, etc.

PRICES. A FREE COPY.

Subscription price, $4.00 a year, 35 cents a number. Dealers, postmasters, and the publishers take subscriptions. Send for our beautifuly illustrated 24-page catalogue (free), containing full prospectus, etc., including a special offer by which new readers can get back numbers to the beginning of the War Series at a very low price. A specimen copy (back number) will be sent on request. Mention this paper.

Can you afford to be without THE CENTURY.

THE CENTURY CO., NEW-YORK.

NEW COAL FIRM.

REMEMBER THAT
HART & CULLEN
ARE SELLING THE
Wilkesbarre and Pittston Coal.
THE BEST COAL MINED.
Leave Orders at Hart's Pottery, or Cullen's Meat Market and you will find prices very satisfactory.
Coal Delivered in Fulton or Oswego Falls.
8tf

C. S. EGGLESTON.

—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
[illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS., Fine Job Printers, First Street, over Appleton's book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. [illegible], [illegible] Stables, [illegible] etc. No 40 and 42 [illegible] Street.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
32 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.

Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 8 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

COAL.

—GO TO—

LEWIS' COAL YARD,

OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.25
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.25
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.20
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.20
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞ Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.

☞ Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.

THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

NEW STORE

NEW GOODS!

NEWELL R. COLE

Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of

Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.

Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.

☞ Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

LUMBER! LUMBER.

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c.

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

O. RUST.

C. F. HANCOCK,

196 West First St., Oswego, N. Y.
—AGENT FOR THE CELEBRATED—

Decker Brothers' Matchless Pianos.

THE VERY BEST PIANOS.

Prices as low as possible consistent with the highest standard.

MAKE
HENS
LAY.

[illegible] Sent [illegible]
[illegible] charge of ten [illegible] out of Oswego [illegible]
[illegible] by a [illegible] of good [illegible]
[illegible] known on application [illegible] by letter.
Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly [illegible] prices.
Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.
Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES,
F. D. VANWAGENEN, Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

> I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.
>
> [THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

THE time is now at hand when the live and energetic merchant is beginning to reap the harvest that the holiday season affords. It is a time when a merchant strives to outdo his competitor in the particular branch of business in which he may be, and to display goods that will attract and please the thrifty as well as the luxurious, the plain as well as the fastidious. As Christmas approaches each one feels as though this friend and that one should be remembered by some slight gift as a token of remembrance. The result is that in anticipation of this an abundant stock of tastefully arranged goods is everywhere to be found. The active merchants of this village are prepared to supply the wants of Fultonians and all in this locality. The quantity and quality of goods displayed we venture to say is not surpassed if equaled by any village of its size in the state. This being the case they should receive the patronage from all in this locality and the encouragement to which they are entitled in their efforts to please the public. While we wish well to all, we especially desire that those may reap the golden harvest whose advertisements appear in THE TIMES and whose interest we desire to further. Therefore to the thousands of people who are contemplating the purchase of Christmas and New York's gifts we would call attention to the advertisements of our local merchants found in these columns. They represent the best and most successful business men in our community and are certainly worthy of of your patronage.

IN ANOTHER PART of this issue, we present a large advertisement headed "The Giant of Medicines." It goes without saying, that H. H. Warner & Co. have educated the people of this country to the belief, which is rational and well founded, that a vast majority of human diseases originate in improper action allowing the blood to become filled with uric and lithic acids, or kidney and liver waste, which inflame and irritate all the organs and thereby produces so many different diseases: Hence a remedy that will correct the false action of the kidneys and liver and neutralize the acids of the system, very naturally cures all the diseases caused by this excess of acid in the blood. At this holiday season no present would be more acceptable to any suffering friend than a case of a dozen bottles of the wonderfully effective Warner's safe cure. The proprietors do not ask you to believe what they say, but frankly tell you to write to those whose testimonials are published and to ask your friends and neighbors what they think of this great remedy. That shows how great is their confidence in the favor of the public, on which they reckon because of the merits of their preparation.

Special Holiday Excursion.

The New York, Ontario & Western Ry. always have something good in store for their patrons.

They now announce a special Holiday excursion to New York, to take place on Dec. 23, 1886, tickets good to return on any regular train, up to and including Monday, Jan. 3d, 1887, at the very low rate of $6.00 from Franklin and stations north including Oneida, Utica and Rome, and from Durhamville and stations north to Oswego $7.00.

These tickets cover a period of 10 days and include the holiday week. This is all that could be desired, affording ample time to visit friends in adjacent places, as well as all the points of interest in the city.

New York will be at the height of the of the festive season, the displays and decorations of the various stores exceed any [illegible] before attempted, and approach [illegible] near our ideas of fairyland [illegible] ingenuity can make it. T[illegible] places of amusement also present special attractions for the benefit of visitors.

The [illegible] & W. have now an excellent road [illegible], new hard coal locomotives, [illegible] coaches, and a more enjoyable route could not be selected.

A[illegible] Water Sets $2.80 [illegible] SYLVESTER'S

D. C. [illegible] opened at No. 34 First Street [illegible] south of Lang's Furniture [illegible] with a large stock of Fresh [illegible] where he will be glad to see [illegible] and new ones. The damaged stock in Oneida St. store will [illegible] on sale until next week.

[illegible] On First street near the Lewis [illegible] of spectacles. The owner [illegible] the same by calling at this office and paying for local.

[illegible] 5c. cigar, the finest [illegible]. Sold by W. J. [illegible]

[illegible] Carter's Little [illegible] you would [illegible]

[illegible] will be held at the Castle, River House, Caughdenoy, on Christmas eve.

A New England supper was held at the M. E. church Bowens Corners last evening for the benefit of Rev. John Forbes.

The first social reception of "The Falcon Club" of Phoenix, will be held at the opera house in that village on next Friday evening.

Rev. W. F. Petit, wife and child, of South Bend, Ind., formerly residents of his vicinity, visited friends at West Monroe, Mexico and other places in this county last week.—[Central Square News.

A social promenade will be held at Hannan's Hall, Palermo, on New Year's eve. Committee, C. H. Wood, J. H. Hanly, A. J. Bequillard, Gilford Mace. Floor Manager E. T. Babcock, W. H. Hannan, Proprietor. Bogue's Band will be in attendance. The usual good time is anticipated.

Isaac M. Rurey of Palermo has been arrested on complaint of his wife charged with taking letters addressed to her from the Vermillion post-office and opening them. He was held to $500 bail for appearance Dec. 21. Rurey and his wife have not lived together for some time.

Never defer until to-morrow what should be attended to to-day. A slight cough shouldn't be neglected when Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will cure it.

The readers of our publication are requested to use Salvation Oil for any and all pains. It is a sure cure and costs only 25 cents.

A Hundred Famous Authors.

To be exact, one hundred and two famous authors find place in the fifth volume of the "Cyclopedia of Universal Literature," now issued. The list is headed by Mary Cowden Clark of England, living, and closes with Cyprian, of Carthage, A. D. 200-258. Between these appear the names of no less than thirty-two American authors (which shows the importance of the work in this respect), including the names of S. L. Clemens (Mark Twain), Robert Collyer, J. Fenimore Cooper, Henry Clay, Bishop Coxe, F. S. Cozzens (author of Sparrowgrass Papers), F. M. Crawford, and George Wm. Curtis. French literature is represented by Cousin and Compte, Chinese by Confucius, Italian by Colonna—and thus the whole world is brought under tribute. The Record of Philadelphia says: "The plan of work is certainly original, and excellent judgement has been shown both in the choice of authors and of subjects." The Christian Union pronounces it "excellent." The Argus and Patriot of Vermont says: "The project is an admirable one. When completed the student and general reader will have a complete Cyclopedia of all there is valuable in the whole range of literature." The form in which it is issued is as superior as it is unique, the volumes are handy the type is all that can be desired, and the binding is in the very best taste. Perhaps the most remarkable feature about the work is its low cost—only 30 cents for paper, 50 cents for cloth, 60 cents for half Morocco bound volumes of nearly 500 pages each, and even from these prices large reductions are made to early purchasers. Relying upon the intrinsic merits of the work the publisher offers a specimen volume in cloth for 25 cents, or in half Morocco 32 cents (postage 8 cents extra), on condition that within three days after receipt you will remit the remainder of the price or return the volume. The work is planned to be completed in fifteen volumes. The publisher's 64-page descriptive catalogue of standard and popular works is sent free to any applicant. Address John B. Alden, Publisher, New York or Chicago.

MR. J. J. BAYNE, 53 Lake Avenue, Rochester, N. Y., will tell you if you write, enclosing stamp, that this wonderful story is true: "In 1882 I was taken to Clifton Springs Sanitarium, in a most deplorable condition, with congestion of the liver, constant cold hands and feet, rushing of blood to the head, purple spots on my face, and my skin was as yellow as a lemon. The slightest food could not be taken, without such distress and spasms that my screams could be heard a long distance. I had prolapsus very severely, profuse leucorrhœa, and uterine ulceration so that I could not wear a supporter. The doctors said that I had the worst case they ever saw. In two months I lost 40 pounds of flesh, and suffering all the time from intense headaches, and unable to obtain sleep, while cold, clammy sweats would break out over my body frequently. Under the operation of Warner's safe cure my skin cleared up and I began to gain flesh, and was able to walk one full mile. My case created such an interest at the Sanitarium that Warner's safe cure has since been prescribed for its patients with good results. I never was so healthy in my life."

Masonic Officers.

At the regular annual meeting of Fulton Chapter No. 167, R. A. M., held last evening, the officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: D. Pardee, M.E.H.P.; S. Parmelee, E.K.; J. H. Merton, E. S.; R. E. Phillips, Treas.; C. A. Miller, Secy.; T. D. Lewis, C. of the H.; T. Ferris, P.S.; J. M. Campbell, R. A. C.; G. A. Berzee, M of 3d V.; C. Nichols, M of the 2d V.; W. J. Watson, M of 1st V.; A. M. Roe, Chaplain; C. D. Branch, Tiler. Most Excellent High Priest Pardee, installed the officers into their several stations.

Dr. Loomis Gives Bail.

The examination of Dr. Warren Loomis was to have been held yesterday morning before Justice Hulett. The parties appeared in the justice's room at the proper time and an adjournment was asked to enable the doctor to attend the convention of the County Medical Society in Oswego, of which he is president. The opposing parties did not wish to further adjourn the matter and the doctor waived examination and gave bail in the sum of $500 to appear before the grand jury.

The action of Carter's Little Liver Pills is pleasant, mild and natural. They gently stimulate the liver, and regulate the bowels, but do not purge. They are sure to please. [illegible]

[illegible] Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11, 1886.

Since I last wrote you Congress met, and amid its usual cordial greetings and floral tributes, read the President's message and went to work. On opening day large crowds of people, not deterred by unpropitious weather, filled the galleries and looked down with interest and amusement upon the scenes enacted upon the floor. In the House for an hour before the gavel fell, groups of members crowded the cloak rooms, blockaded the aisles, chatted, laughed, exchanged congratulations on success in the recent elections or condolence upon defeat. Victors twitted the vanquished, and defeated members jokingly commiserated with victors upon their failure to throw off the burdens of public life.

The Senate, which is never given to demonstration under any circumstances, met quietly and shook hands as if it had only separated yesterday instead of four months ago. But these scenes and happenings are now things of the past and I will not dwell upon them.

As to the President's message which Senators and Members refrain from commenting upon until after they had read it themselves, there are various opinions. The Republicans are disposed to criticise its length and some of them accuse Mr. Cleveland of having sacrificed conciseness to a desire to please conflicting elements of his party. Their criticism is not more severe however, than opposing political sentiment is generally regarded as calling for.

The Democrats are disposed to praise the document with the exception of that part relating to silver, which creates some diversity of comment. The tariff reformers contend that the President has committed himself to reform, while some of the protectionists regard his views as conservative enough to suit them. When Chairman Randall asked how he liked the message, he replied that he was very well pleased with it. "What do you think of the tariff section of it?" "Oh, I am very well pleased with the message," the leader of the protectionist Democrats repeated. "That is the only opinion I have given."

Members of Congress always think at the beginning of a new session that they are going to do a great deal of work. Each man hopes to get some action upon his pet project. Those who want to reform the tariff are particularly eager and energetic. The strong position taken by the President upon the subject has given them new courage. The members have come back free and ready to work with no fear of a campaign before them, and there is every reason why much should be accomplished. A great deal of the long session is always taken up by committee work; now, this work is done and everything is ready for legislation.

It is thought by members of the House Judiciary Committee, that the Edmunds polygamy bill will be passed this [illegible] ter in a modified form. The Edmunds bill would confiscate the church property as well as disestablish the church, but the bill as modified by the House committee will respect the rights of property, while it will disestablish the Mormon Church and pluck polygamy out by the roots.

It appears that Capt. Eads and his associates have concluded to give up their plea for Government aid, and will undertake to build their ship railway across the isthmus with their own money and in their own way. This company can be independent, and face every body squarely in the face whether the enterprise succeeds or fails. The many annoyances incidental to Government supervision of the work will be avoided and all the money made will go into the pockets of the stock holders.

The Senate has shown its great gallentry by paying its attention first to ladies. The House settled down to business with the subject of the Electorial Count, but the Senate, lead by Senator Blair of New Hampshire, who advocates temperance, national education and female suffrage, took up the proposed amendment to the Constitution extending that boon to women. It was a singular fact that while Mr. Blair was eloquently pleading their cause, not more than a score of ladies were in the gallery to smile down gratitude upon his effort.

The Senator proposes to ask a vote on the question at an early day, and whatever may be the result, women who want to vote cannot complain of neglect for this approach in behalf of their necessities was made on the third day of the session.

Senator Edmunds is also early in the field with a memorial favoring a constitutional amendment that will enable Congress to make marriage and divorce laws uniform in all states. How will the legal fraternity down East and West like this?

South Granby.

Mrs. Geo. S. White and Mrs. S. K. Bowen intend to go to Columbia City this week on a visit.

Rev. John Forbes of Bowen's Corners will preach in the school house at this place next Sunday evening.

The Salvationists are doing lively business at Little Utica and Jacksonville. They are holding four meetings per week and get new recruits at every meeting.

S. Bowen has a singing class at the school house Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

The last dividend of the South Granby butter and cheese factory netted the patrons over $1.53 for every 100 pounds of milk. The following statement shows what was done through the season. They received 1,159,418 pounds of milk from which they made 9,670 pounds of butter and 108,231 pounds of cheese. The average price received for butter for the season was 19⅝ cents and the average price received for cheese was $.0883 making the milk net the patrons for the season $.838 for every 100 pounds.

An endless variety of Fancy Holiday Goods at M. M. Williams' drug store.

Regular dinner at Kendall's every day for 20 cents.

Those desiring Photographs for the Holidays would do well to secure their [illegible]

[illegible] The following are from the town of Volney: John Bundy, Almond L. Beardsley, Homer Buddin, Delos A. Dana, Harvey L. Bowen, Birney Clark, John Calkins, Orlando Cole, Norris R. Dines, E. Delos Diston, Wm. W. Gillespie, Geo. Kelly, Geo. Littlefield, Thomas D. Lewis, Clark Nichols, W. Henry Owen, Wm. S. Osborne, Albert Paddock, Asa Sanford, Henry Sanford, Morris S. Whitney, Alexander C. Whetmore, Edward C. Waugh, D. Allen Waterman.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure now on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials. Address,

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

☞Sold by Druggists, 75 cts.

30w4

GENERAL NEWS

Of seventeen cities in the State of Massachusetts that held elections last week, thirteen voted for "No License."

Henry M. Stanley the African explorer, has faith in the future of the Congo region.

Pedestrian O'Leary of Chicago, defeated W. A. Hoagan, of Auburn, in a 300 mile walk for a purse of $500 by three laps, finishing at 10:15 p. m., Saturday. The contest began Thursday evening in Utica.

Charles Brown and Cora Sibley were married Saturday evening at Manister, Mich. After the ceremony a social dance was enjoyed about two hours. The bridal couple were dancing together when the groom fell dead from heart disease.

Twenty-seven English life savers were drowned Sunday by the capsizing of their lifeboat, while going to a wrecked vessel. Evidently the English patent self-righting lifeboat is not as perfect as it might be.

Philip Handy of Syracuse, a negro, beat his wife almost to death with an axe and a potato masher on Monday. The cause was jealousy. Handy gave himself up to the police. He is a butcher and a powerfully built negro about 26 years old, while his wife is but 18. It is thought that the woman will die of her injuries.

The petitions for commutation of the sentence of Mrs. Roxalana Druse, condemned to death on the scaffold December 27 for the murder of her husband in Herkimer county, was taken before Governor Hill Saturday. The hearing lasted two hours, and Governor Hill gave the matter very close attention. The governor said that at an early date he would consider the case and announce his decision later.

The death of Congressman Dowdney of New York swells to twelve the death list of the Forty-ninth Congress. It is as follows: Vice-President Hendricks, Senators Miller of California and Pike of New Hampshere; Representatives Ellwood of Illinois, Rankin of Wisconsin, Hahn of Louisiana, Beach, Arnot, Dowdney of New York, Price of Wisconsin, Cole of Maryland and Duncan of Pennsylvania.

COL. JOSEPH H. THORNTON, of Cincinnati, O., an honored war veteran, was for 18 years a victim of that old soldiers' complaint, chronic diarrhœa. Two dozen bottles of Warner's safe cure restored his liver to health and cured his ailment. His daughter was very ill of an obstinate disorder, which the best physicians failed to relieve. She had also palpitation of the heart, intense pains in the head, nervous dyspepsia, and all her vital organs were involved. By three months' faithful home treatment with Warner's safe cure, alone, she was fully restored to health. That was two years ago. The cure was permanent. Col. Thornton will tell you it is true if you write him and inclose a stamped envelope.

Appreciative Managers.

The complimentary passes to newspaper men by the managers of a recent county fair, in Michigan read as follows:

"This ticket, probably, has been paid for a dozen times over by the paper to which it is issued. It will be honored in the hands of any man, woman or child, white, black, red or yellow, who favors the association by presenting it. It is good for entrance and grand stand, and the bearer, if driving, will be entitled to pass a team free. The association recognizes the fact that its splendid success is owing largely, if not wholly, to the notices so freely given it by the press, and while we cannot render an equivalent in cash, we return our grateful thanks."

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

An elegant line of Hammered Brass Goods at M. M. Williams' Drug Store. 31tf

Remember the place to buy unadulterated groceries CHEAP is at the sign of the Red store No. 18 First street opposite the Lewis house.

24tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

The only place in town to get shell oysters is at John Partrick's on First street. A fresh supply received every other day. 20tf.

[illegible]

[illegible] lighted by electricity. Work is to be begun this week.

The biggest thing out is what the druggists term Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup; its sale is enormous and it has never been known to fail. Price 25 cents.

It is well to remember that the oldest cases of rheumatism and neuralgia have been speedily cured by Salvation Oil. Price 25 cents.

It is probable that the Supervisor's committee on jails will report favorably on the erection of a new county jail at Oswego.

Twenty or more canal boats are clustered together in their winter quarters just below the Oneida street canal bridge.

The employes of the stove works will take life easy for about a month.

D. C. Draper has opened at No. 34 First St., 1st door south of Lang's Furniture store, with a large stock of Fresh groceries, where he will be glad to see his old customers and new ones. The damaged stock in Oneida St. store will not be on sale until next week.

Merchants! People!

Let every merchant sell as cheaply as it is possible for him to do and live.—Let him meet every price that he has reason to believe is truthfully reported from out of town. Sell all your Holiday Goods. Let us stop every objection to home tranding. Fultonians awake! Stand by your home merchants if they carry out the above suggestions. Do the same amount of shopping here as you do in larger cities for one article and you will as a rule find it. Tell the merchant in all candor where you think his stock is deficient. If you have heard of any new article that has not come to his notice, tell him and he will thank you. Tell him you expect to buy to-day if you find that which pleases you. Let every body show an interest in their home merchants. Stir them up. Try it on Frank Bacon first he will stand it.

PROPRIETOR H. B. KINNEY, Weldon House, Earlville, N. Y., was run down by overwork and threatened with Bright's disease, followed by stone in the kidney and bladder, which produced intense pain and spasms. A council of physicians did him no good. He passed fresh blood from the urinary organs. Everything else failing, he was finally fully restored to health by Warner's safe cure, as hundreds of thousands of other acute sufferers have been. Don't take Warner's word for it. Write Mr. Kinney (enclosing stamp), and ask your friends and neighbors about Warner's safe cure.

Send THE FULTON TIMES to your absent friend one year as a Christmas gift. It is a present that will be appreciated by any that are acquainted with Fulton and are interested in its steady advance in progress and improvements.

Try Carter's Little Nerve Pills for any case of nervousness, sleeplessness, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia, &c., relief is sure. The only nerve medicine for the price in market. In vials at 25 cents.

Novelty Custom Mill,

E. G. Hubbard having leased the NOVELTY CUSTOM MILL recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & Redhead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any flour or feed grinding done. Flour and feed constantly on hand. Call and try us and we guarantee satisfaction. Flour and feed delivered to any part of Fulton and Oswego Falls free of charge. 18t26

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., Dec. 8th, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, the President and Trustees, More, Bradford and Chase.

It was moved and carried that Section 41 of chapter 5 of the village ordinances be printed. Said section reads as follows:

"No person shall use any small or horse sled, or sled without horses for the amusement of sliding on any of the sidewalks or in any of the streets of this village under a penalty of two dollars for each offence.

It shall be the duty of the police force to see that this ordinance is inforced."

On motion the Board adjourned to Wednesday evening next at 7½ p. m.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

A clear head is indicative of good health and regular habits. When the body is languid, and the mind works Ayer's Cathartic Pills will assist in the recovery of physical buoyancy and mental vigor.

DAIRY MARKET.

[From the Utica Herald.]

Although the exports of cheese has fallen to a low ebb the past week, the market retains all of its former firmness. The stocks on hand at different points are estimated at the produce exchange to be in round numbers 160,000 to 125,000 boxes in New York, 70,000 boxes in Liverpool, 125,000 boxes in London and 175,000 boxes in Canada, with moderate stock at other points. These are far from being excessive figures, and they encourage holders to look for better prices this winter. Nobody questions that stocks in the country are sold up closely.

The butter trade is in a more healthy state than for some time past. The market seems to be well cleared up in New York, and there is a good demand for the fatter makes of grass butter, as well as for a perfectly fresh made article. Dairy butter is selling in the country at 20 to 22c., while creamery brings from 23 to 25c. Whatever is to be said of oleomargarine sales elsewhere, it is true of Utica that not a pound is or has been sold here for a year and a half at least. The last we know of as being put in market here, was publicly exposed and sold as oleo. and on its merits. But as soon as the dealer was informed that he could be fined under the state law, he quit the business at once, saying that he wanted no law suit with the state on his hands.

Following is our usual table of cheese quotations:

	Ricpts	Exp	Cable	Freight	Price
Dec. 13,'84	40,645	14,135	53s	40s	12¾c.
Dec. 12,'85	25,085	7,419	45s	30s	9¼c.
Dec. 11,'86	13,273	4,730	63s	35s	15c.

AT LITTLE FALLS.

LITTLE FALLS, Dec. 13.

Cheese—There was rather more cheese offered here to-day than had been expected. There was we believe, but one lot of every day cheese sold, the M. Getman factory at 13c. The balance were late ends of various grades. There appeared to be a good demand and sale for all of it and prices continue firm. Following are the sales:

Lots.	Boxes.	Price
[illegible]	[illegible]	10 cents
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	11 cents
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	Com.

[illegible]

Ayer's Sarsaparilla [illegible] for Humors. [illegible] to take, gives strength and vigor to the body, and produces a more permanent, lasting, result than any medicine I ever used.—E. Haines, No. Lindale, O.

Humors,

Erysipelas,

I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for Scrofula, and know, if it is taken faithfully, it will thoroughly eradicate this terrible disease.—W. F. Fowler, M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

Canker, and

For forty years I have suffered with Erysipelas. I have tried all sorts of remedies for my complaint, but found no relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After taking ten bottles of this medicine I am completely cured.—Mary C. Amesbury, Rockport, Me.

Catarrh,

I have suffered, for years, from Catarrh, which was so severe that it destroyed my appetite and weakened my system. After trying other remedies, and getting no relief, I began to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, in a few months, was cured.—Susan L. Cook, 909 Albany st., Boston Highlands, Mass.

Can be cured by purifying the blood with

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is superior to any blood purifier that I have ever tried. I have taken it for Scrofula, Canker, and Salt-Rheum, and received much benefit from it. It is good, also, for a weak stomach.—Millie Jane Peirce, South Bradford, Mass.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Price $1; six bottles, $5.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO.,
New York City.

THE NEW QUININE.

KASKINE

WHAT THE PHYSICIANS SAY ABOUT IT IN

RHEUMATISM,

Science emerging from Darkness.

MALARIA, DYSPEPSIA,

NERVOUS DEBILITY,

LIVER, LUNG AND KIDNEY DISEASE.

The eminent and celebrated Dr. Glessner writes: The Kaskine Co:—DEAR SIRS—"The first greatest successes I had with Kaskine were in chills and fever, malaria, nervous debility, rheumatism, dyspepsia, and liver disease, and I [illegible] at that time it was undoubtedly the best medicine ever discovered, but I was even more familiar with its really wonderful [illegible] the other germ diseases and [illegible] the blood had become [illegible] and the digestion [illegible]. Kaskine is the only [illegible]. I use it also very largely with [illegible] success in all diseases peculiar to women and children. In over three hundred cases I have cured there has never been the slightest bad effect following its use, and it is far superior to any tonic or nerve medicine ever known to the medical profession."

Very truly yours,

L. M. GLESSNER, M. D., 650 East 121st St., N. Y.

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never produces the slightest injury to the hearing or constitution."

The U. S. Examining Surgeon, Dr. L. R. White, writes: "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

St. Francis Hospital, N.Y.: "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y.: "Universally successful."

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered indispensable. It acts perfectly."

Kaskine is pleasant to take and can be used without special medical counsel.

Send for the great book of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine. $1 a bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

Vienna Bakery.

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionery, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton. Confectionery from 12 cents upward. A fresh supply of crackers, bread and cake constantly on hand. Call and examine my stock. JOHN BARKER,

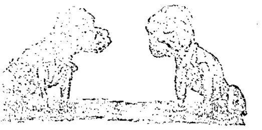
18tf 26 First st

Wm. Rogers Silver Knives only $1.43 a set at Sylvesters'. 32t3

The Work Progressing.

The setting of poles and stretching of wire for the electric lights was let out by contract to Messrs. Whalen and Dean of Oswego. These gentlemen commenced on Monday morning with a gang of 16 experienced men upon the work and if the weather is at all propitious their work will be completed before Monday next. Thirty-three poles were set on Monday and seventy on Tuesday. To-day, they are at work across the river. All the poles north of Cayuga street have been set and these with all those of Oswego Falls will make one circuit. This circuit will be lighted by a new and latest improved 45 arc light dynamo which arrived yesterday and is being placed in position to-day. The other circuit in the village, all south of Cayuga street, will [illegible]

We still live and feel healthy. The very disastrous effect of the Oswego county druggists' combination, upon our diet during the past year, seemed so apparent that upon consulting our bank account, and Wilcox's meat scales, we find ourselves yet, quite a ghost. The big guns of the Oswego county drug combination for the prevention of cruelty to fish, are still aimed at our council. Our diet of corn meal and onions enables us to still step heavily upon the necks of the Oswego county poor man's friends. We still hold forth at the beautiful opera house drug store and have increased our stock of Pure Drugs, Chemicals, Patent Medicines, Wines, Liquors, Fancy Toilet Articles, Oils, Paints, and in fact everything pertaining to a first-class drug line. We desire to sincerely thank our many Fulton and vicinity friends who have stood by us in our past warfare, and thereby enabled us to secure a good fitting out of our clothes. Our Combination Competitors, have acquired such an affection for us that when we chance to pass them upon the streets, they greet us with the following smiling expression:



Remember our place, The Opera House Drug Store, Opposite the Stephens Opera House, Fulton, N. Y. H. C. GIESLER.

CAROLINE.

[illegible] A. B. SCOTT & CO., GENESEO, N.Y. [illegible] SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

BOOKS, THREE CENTS EACH.

The following books are published in neat pamphlet form, many of them handsomely illustrated, and all are printed from good type upon good paper. Please examine the list and see if you do not find therein some that you would like to possess. In cloth-bound form these books would cost $1.00 each. Each book is complete in itself:

Anecdotes of the Rebellion. A collection of humorous, pathetic, and thrilling narratives of the war, stories of bivouac and battle-field, march and picket, adventures of scouts and spies, stories of prison life, of the great Generals, of Mr. Lincoln, etc.
The Life of General U. S. Grant. By W. A. Peters. With portrait and other illustrations.
Poems, by John G. Whittier. The only cheap edition published—should be in every household. Illustrated.
Poems, by Henry W. Longfellow. No one can afford to be without this fine collection. Illustrated.
Poems, by Alfred Tennyson. This work contains some of the finest compositions of the great Poet Laureate.
Parlor Amusements. A large collection of Acting Charades, Parlor Dramas, Shadow Pantomimes, Games, Puzzles, etc., for social gatherings, public and private entertainments and evenings at home. Illustrated.
Manual of Floriculture. Teaches the best method of propagating all the different plants, tells how to cure disease and eradicate insect pests, gives directions for making beautiful floral and other devices, for window gardening, etc. Illustrated.
Guide to Needlework, Knitting and Crochet. Containing designs and directions for all kinds of Fancy Needlework, Artistic Embroidery, Lace Work, Knitting, Tatting, Crochet and Net Work. Illustrated.
Famous Detective Stories. A collection of thrilling narratives of Detective experience, many of them written by actual members of the profession.
Yankee Wit and Humor. A collection of humorous stories, sketches, poems and paragraphs, by the leading funny men of the American press. Illustrated.
The Mystery at Blackwood Grange. A Novel. By Mrs. May Agnes Fleming.
The Evil Genius. A Novel. By M. T. Caldor.
The Story of a Storm. A Novel. By Mrs. Jane G. Austin.
Out of the Sea. A Novel. By Clara Augusta.
Agatha's History. A Novel. By Margaret Blount.
The Morwick Farm Mystery. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins. Illustrated.
The Last of the Ruthvens. A Novel. By Miss Mulock. Illustrated.
A Dead Heart. A Novel. By Author of "Dora Thorne."
Out of the Depths. A Novel. By Hugh Conway.
The Romantic Adventures of a Milkmaid. A Novel. By Thomas Hardy.
In the Holidays. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay.
The Heir to Ashley. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood.
Miss or Mrs.? A Novel. By Wilkie Collins. Illustrated.
More Bitter than Death. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
Carriston's Gift. A Novel. By Hugh Conway. Ill'd.
The Fatal Lilies. A Novel. By Author of "Dora Thorne."
A Shadow on the Threshold. A Novel. By Mary C. Hay.
The Curse of Carew. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
The Blatchford Bequest. A Novel. By Hugh Conway. Illustrated.
A Queen Amongst Women. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."
The Fatal Marriage. A Novel. By Miss M. E. Braddon.
A Tale of Sin. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood.
A Bridge of Love. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
A Passive Crime. A Novel. By "The Duchess."
Ingledew House. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
The Knightsbridge Mystery. A Novel. By Charles Reade. Illustrated.
Wedded and Parted. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."
A Fortune Hunter. A Novel. By Annie Thomas. Ill'd.
Among the Ruins. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay. Ill'd.
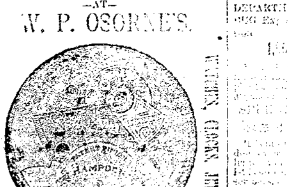
Rose Lodge. A Novelette. By Mrs. Henry Wood.

☞ We will send any four of the above books by mail post-paid upon receipt of only Twelve Cents; any ten for 25 Cents; any twenty-five for 50 Cents; the entire list (40 books) for 75 Cents; the entire list bound in boards with cloth back, for $1.10. These are the cheapest books ever published and guaranteed worth three times the money asked for them. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Postage stamps taken for fractions of a dollar. As to our reliability, we refer to any newspaper published in New York, likewise to the Commercial Agencies.

Special Offer! To every one sending for the entire list of books as above, we will send, without extra charge, either sixty cents' worth of the Imperial Pinned Paper Patterns, to be selected by yourself from a catalogue which will be sent you, or The People's Home Journal, a large 16-page, 64-column illustrated literary paper, for one year. All orders filled by return mail.
Address all letters: F. M. LUPTON, Publisher, No. 3 Park Place, New York.

—SELECT YOUR—
CHRISTMAS GIFTS
at W. P. OSBORNE'S.
-BUY-
Hampden Watches,
—AT—
W. P. OSBORNE'S.



REPAIRED AT OSBORNE'S.
WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY.
HAMPDEN

-B-U-Y-

THIS CUT
SPECTACLES

At W. P. OSBORNE'S.
—BUY—
THE WM. ROGERS'
Silver Plated Teaspoons
FOR $1.00 at
W. P. OSBORNE'S.

—IF YOUR—
HORSE IS LAME
USE DR. J. S. MARKHAM'S
"Spavin Cure."
—IF HE HAS—
Sore Feet or Contracted Hoofs,
Use Dr. J. S. Markham's
FOUNDER OINTMENT.
☞ They are a sure cure. For sale at the DRUG STORES. 3im6

—FOR THE—
HOLIDAY SEASON!
SNOW & LOOMIS,
have a fine assortment of
POCKET CUTLERY,
CARVERS, SKATES,
SCISSORS and ROBES.
—Also a Novelty in—
[illegible]

ONE VOTE

at the polls determined the United States Senatorship in New Jersey. Just $1.50 will secure you the American Agriculturist for 1887, which for half a century has been the recognized leading periodical of its character, and now contains far more illustrations, is larger in every way and better than ever. Postmasters! form clubs.

The JUVENILE, HEARTH and HOUSEHOLD DEPARTMENTS have been enlarged, and HUMBUG Exposures are to receive additional attention.

1,000 ORIGINAL ILLUSTRATIONS.

[illegible] American Agriculturist con[illegible] illustrations of animals, [illegible] household conveniences and [illegible]

[illegible] ENGRAVINGS FREE!!!

[illegible] Farmer Presidents.

[illegible] that a majority of our Presidents [illegible] farms, or retired from public [illegible]. The American Agriculturist [illegible] and sending free to all subscribers [illegible] over $30,000, superb engravings [illegible] in size) of these Homes, [illegible] descriptive papers by James Parton, [illegible] Mitchell and other eminent [illegible]. These Engravings constitute a [illegible] portfolio collection of ornaments for the walls of a prince or peasant's home. Subscription for 1887 immediately forwarded are entitled to all the series beginning in May last.

Endorsed by the U. S. Government.

Vol. 8th, Tenth Census, U. S. says: "The American Agriculturist is especially worthy of mention, because of the remarkable success that has attended the unique and untiring efforts of its proprietors to increase and extend its circulation. Its contents are duplicated every month for a German edition, which also circulates widely."

Price $1.50 a year; Single Numbers, 15 cents.

Balance of this year FREE to all subscribing immediately.

Send Six Cents for mailing your Grand Double Number, just out, 54-page Premium List, and Sample Proof of Engravings of "Homes of our Farmer Presidents," together with Description by James Parton. Address

DAVID W. JUDD, Pub.,
751 Broadway, N. Y.

☞ Canvassers wanted everywhere.

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY,

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making [illegible] one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within [illegible] of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and [illegible] terms.

A 25 acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, [illegible] exchange for house and lot in Fulton or [illegible] ville.

Several small places and numerous [illegible] lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block, containing 12 [illegible] lots 4x8 rods. Second block north of [illegible] Oswego Falls, known as the Jno. U. [illegible]

House and Lot on Oneida St., place [illegible] examined to be appreciated. Will [illegible] a similar house in Syracuse, Utica, [illegible] Canastota, [illegible]

☞ Parties desiring to [illegible] property [illegible] obtain [illegible] are invited [illegible] or correspond [illegible] with the [illegible]
FULTON [illegible]

PERSONALS

[illegible] Bertie Sweet visited friends in [illegible] last week.

[illegible] Stay of Watertown is in town [illegible] the holidays.

[illegible] Elder was in Watertown last [illegible] attending a re-union of his old [illegible]ment.

Mrs. Geo. Sawyer of Syracuse is at her parents' home in this village for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Redhead went last evening to New York for a few days of pleasure.

Mrs. S. A. Morgan and daughter Cornelia of Elbridge are in town for a short time the guests of M. A. Stewart.

Mrs. M. Girard of this village started Monday for Utica, which city she proposes to make her future home.

Mrs. A. Fisher and Miss Belle Bragdon are at Fulton, guests in the family of C. S. Osgood.—[Pulaski Democrat.

Miss Allie Stephens left yesterday for Washington where she will spend the winter, the guest of her uncle Dr. J. J. Stephens.

J. H. Howard of Norfolk, St. Lawrence, county, has been in town in attendance at the funeral of Mrs. Howard, his daughter-in-law.

You can find the best assortment of Mufflers and Silk Handkerchiefs at D. C. More & Co's.

Fancy Goods!
Staple Goods!
Woolen Goods
and Cotton Goods!

All kinds of Dry Goods are selling at BACON'S. We are making an extra effort to sell an immense quantity before Jan'y. 1st and all legitimate means will be used to accomplish that the end. Look out for low prices especially at F. E. BACON'S

CUTTERS! CUTTERS!! CUTTERS!!!

ROBES! ROBES!! ROBES!!!

Don't buy until you have been to McCully's. You will be astonished at the low prices for such good goods.

Gold band China Tea Sets only $5,50, at SYLVESTER'S.

Notice to "Searchers of Words." To prevent and correct any misunderstanding under rule 8, the words "only twice" are added. C. S. Ball.

M. M. Williams has just returned from New York with the largest assortment of Holiday Goods ever shown in Fulton. Don't fail to see them.

Great Bargains in Overcoats at D. C. More & Co's.

The Best Rubber Goods in town can be found at the Salmon Shoe Store Opera Block. 31w2

Warm weather has shrunk the prices on White Blankets fearfully at the "BEE HIVE." Bennett & Stewart.

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets. Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expeditiously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

Go to Sylvester's, No. 24 Oneida street for Christmas Presents.

Regular dinner at Kendall's every day for 20 cents.

More Goods for 25c at Williams' than any place in Oswego county. 31tf

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

Special Prices For Carpets, Furniture &c.

A. A. Graff & Co., No's 61 & 63 South Salina Street, Syracuse, offer for the next 30 days, as a special bargain, 100 Parlor suits embossed plush, solid walnut frame, 7 pieces for $35,00; 75 chamber suits, 10 pieces for $25.00; 50 pieces tapestry carpet 60c a yard and 70 pieces extra super ingrain carpet 55c a yard.

We will deliver all purchasers' freight, prepaid to any part of the state. Now the time for Bargains.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 25t

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars, Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots, &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by 10tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

A handsome line of chamber sets just received by J. COOLEY TUCKER. 24tf

You will find the largest assortment of Holiday goods at M. M. Williams' Drug Store. 29tf

A [illegible] in Fall.

The teachers of the town of Volney held an association in the chapel in District No. 2, Saturday December 11th. The attendance was very fair indeed, there being 30 out of the 34 teachers in this town present, besides many from the surrounding districts.

The exercises were unusually fine. Miss Warner gave some excellent ideas upon language and composition. Prof. Clapp's method of teaching fractions was listened to with close attention by all, and we believe that many teachers will be helped by his suggestion.

The experiments in chemistry, given by two young men of the school were very much enjoyed and conclusively proved how necessary proper ventilation is in our school-room.

Commissioner Metcalf commenced what promised to be a very interesting discussion on the method of teaching in physiology, but was obliged to make it very brief for want of time.

The class exercise given by Miss Mace on the drainage of New York state was one of the most interesting of the day; also that of Mrs. Brockway and class on composition writing.

The association is under obligations to Misses. Lawrence, Parkhouse, Johnson, and Messrs. Cooper, Beckwith and Goodjon, for furnishing several pieces of very fine music.

In fact, the entire program was such that every teacher must have been benefitted, while many united in saying that two such associations would be of more practical use to them than a week spent in attending an institute. It is reported that the State Superintendent looks with such favor upon town associations as to say that no teacher should be allowed to hold a first grade license, who fails to attend those held in their town.

Many thanks are due to to the President, Mrs. Tubbs for her untiring efforts to make the day's exercises both pleasant and instructive. Below will found the entire program:

Opening exercises, Music by the choir Language and Composition, Miss Warner; Short methods in Fractions, Prof. Clapp. Recess.

Music by the choir; Experiments in Chemistry; Physiology, Commissioner Metcalf; Singing by association. Recess. Afternoon. Development Lesson, Drainage of New York, Miss Mace; Music, choir; Composition exercise, Mrs. Brockway; Music, choir.

ETTA D. SHARPE, Sec'y.

Great Display of
—HOLIDAY GOODS—
at the
"BEE HIVE."
Store open evenings during the Holidays.

Go and see the Silk and Alpaca Umbrellas that D. C. More & Co. have for the holidays.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Carrie L., wife of George Howard and daughter of Daniel K. Hall of this village died at her home on the Emory road Friday, Dec. 10, aged 22 years. Funeral services were held from the house on Sunday afternoon, the Rev. W. Dempster Chase officiating. She leaves an infant child but two weeks old.

Mrs. Fanny, widow of the late John Eddy of this village died at the residence of A. H. Sutton in Palermo aged 81 years. Funeral services were held at the M. E. church in this village on Saturday. Interment at Mt. Adnah.

Mrs. Nancy Cook, mother of William Cook of Volney, died at her home in Mt. Pleasant on Saturday, Dec. 11, aged 90 years. Funeral services were held from the Mt. Pleasant church yesterday at 11 a. m.

A child of Frank Costello formerly of Oswego Falls now of Syracuse, aged 4 years, died in New York and was brought here for burial yesterday. The funeral services were held at the home of Richard Delany at 2 p. m.

Two old residents of Central Square died last week, Mrs. Stone aged 80 and Mrs. Rice, aged 83.

D. C. Draper has opened at No. 34 First St., 1st door south of Lang's Furniture store, with a large stock of Fresh groceries, where he will be glad to see his old customers and new ones. The damaged stock in Oneida St. store will not be on sale until next week.

Those new "Saxoline" Hose at Bacon's, for cold footed people who cannot wear woolen hose, are splendid.

Holiday Slippers at Wholesale Prices at The Salmon Shoe Store Opera Block. 31w2

HOLIDAY PRESENTS!

That Your Gentlemen Friends will Appreciate.

—AN IMMENSE STOCK OF—

MENS' AND BOYS'

SUITS AND OVERCOATS,

Fur Caps, Mufflers, Silk Handkerchiefs, Neckties, Gloves, Mittens, Hosiery, Underwear, Scarf Pins, Cuff Buttons, Silk and Alpaca Umbrellas, &c.

D. C. MORE & CO.

[illegible] have a large stock of these goods for the Holiday Trade and can please you in Both Style and Quality.

[illegible]

A Ladies' Fine Kid Button Shoe,
A " " " Oxford Tie Slipper,
A " " " Embroidered Slipper,
A Man's Button, Lace or Congress Shoe,
A " Fine Calf Boot,
A " Fine Patent Leather Oxford Tie,
A " " " " Pump,
A " " Embroidered Slipper,
A Fine line of Boys' Youths' Misses' and Children's Shoes and Slippers.
A bove are a few of many sensible articles we can offer for A Holiday Trade.

A. E. NETTLETON.

Now is the time to advertise your holiday goods.

The boatman are now at home and all report a very good season.

Buy your Christmas and New Year's gifts of home merchants.

The County Board of Supervisors are in Mexico to-day inspecting the poor house and insane asylum.

The Catholic fair opened last evening and was well attended. It will be continued during the week.

No. 2 school closes on Friday for the holiday vacation. The school will open again on Monday January 3.

Annual meetings of the stockholders of the 1st National and Citizen's National banks are to be held on Tuesday Jany. 11.

How about the toboggan slide on the banks of Lake Neatahwanta? We understand that this was considered last fall.

The apron sale given by the ladies of Zion church last Thursday evening was a grand success. Nearly $100 were realized.

D. C. Draper does not refuse to take money on account at his new store, No. 34 First Street, opposite Clark house. A full line of new groceries.

George Root, a mechanic of this village, was struck on the head by a heavy timber and severely injured last Thursday while at work at Spafford's mill pond.

Rev. Mr. Hanscom of Phœnix preached at Oswego Falls last Sunday afternoon. He will preach again in the new hall next Sunday at 2 p. m.

The annual mechanical fair of the Oswego Citizens' Corps will be held at the state armory in Oswego, commencing Jan'y 20th and continuing to Jan'y 29, 1887.

Miss Josephine Cameron and company gave three excellent entertainments in the opera house last week before good audiences. She opened a three night's engagement at Phœnix on Monday.

The sale of fancy articles at the home of Mrs. M. P. Schenck on Cayuga street under the auspices of the Young Ladies mission band of the Baptist church, last Friday evening, was well attended.

Remember if you wish to order coal at a convenient place Schenck & Foster have telephones running direct to their yard from their offices at Eggleston's book store, Fulton and Whitaker's drug store, Oswego Falls.

Persons desiring to attend the Booth entertainment at Oswego on Christmas eve should leave their names with Fred Highriter at the News Room this week. By doing this good seats can be secured if a special train is run.

An excursion train will undoubtedly be run on the R. W. & O. railroad for the accommodation of those that desire to see Booth in Othello at Oswego on Christmas eve. This will be Booth's first and probably last appearance in in Oswego.

The Howe Ventilating Stove works closed for the season on Saturday last. This new local enterprise has been remarkably successful during the season and the stoves have met with a ready sale. Nearly 2,000 of these stoves have been made during the season just closed and they have received undisputed praise by all that have used them. Work will probably be resumed sometime in January.

The dynamo of the Schuyler Electric company has been moved from the Foster Bros. knife works into the box factory on this side of the river. A stoppage of a week or ten days would have resulted had they continued to use the water power across the river, as a new water wheel is being put in for the Whitman foundry. There was no electric light for the patrons of this system on Monday and Tuesday nights but this evening it will probably again be in working order.

A Grand Social Promenade will be given under the auspices of the Father Mathew T. and B. Society of Oswego Falls, at Johnston's hall, on Tuesday evening, December 28. Music by Parker's full Orchestra. The following members have charge. General Managers, Thomas Sullivan, James Tyrrel; Committee, Charles McCaffery, Edward Fitzgerald, James Winters, James O'Keefe; Floor Managers, Philip Lynch, John Dwyer, David Murphy, Thomas Sullivan.

When you trade with D. C. More & Co., you get just what you pay for and good value too.

You will find slippers and fine goods for the holidays in a larger assortment than usual at Collins'. 23tf

A Holiday gift that any lady will appreciate. A Ladies' Friend Carpet Sweeper. For sale by N. R. Cole, Oneida st. 39w2

First class dress-maker to go out by the day, in country or village, also work done at home, by Miss [illegible] [illegible], [illegible] 8w

[illegible]

Who is He?

The following appeared among the "Gleanings" in the Syracuse Standard yesterday morning: "A man in Fulton 34 years of age has had only eight birthdays he was born on the 29th of February."

Confirmation at Zion Church.

Bishop Huntington was here on Monday evening and preached an instructive and very impressive sermon to a congregation that, in spite of the inclement weather, completely filled Zion church. After the sermon, nine young ladies and one young gentleman were confirmed by the Bishop, he being assisted in the ceremony by Rev. Mr. Goodyear.

Magee's Comedy Company.

Magee's great International Comedy company will make their first appearance in this village on this and to-morrow evenings. The celebrated Derville family, including Eddie—ten years of age, and little Katie and Lottie—aged five and seven years are with them, also several fine specialties. Their program includes singing and dancing and their entertainment will be an enjoyable one.

Kid lined Mittens and Gloves now on sale at F. E. BACON'S.

Buy Gloves and mittens of D. C. More & Co.

At the Water Works.

The new well at the Water Works which is being sunk by Wm. Patrick of Phœnix is on the Osgood property near the "Great Bear Spring," about 300 feet south of the well that is at present used. It will be twenty feet in diameter and about sixteen feet deep. Water from this well will be obtained independently of the other. When completed there will not be the shadow of a doubt but what the quantity of water that can be obtained from the two wells will be equal to any emergency. The two boilers are also in good working order.

Dress Goods! Dress Goods! Prices reduced for our special Holiday Trade at the Bee Hive. Store Open Evenings.

Sociable and Entertainment.

On Friday, Dec. 17th the ladies of the Baptist church will give a sociable, at which supper will be served from 6 to 8 o'clock, and after supper a familiar talk will be given on "A tourists wanderings between the Atlantic and the Adriatic," by Dr. Charles Hammer of Schenectady. Admission including supper 25 cents.

Dr. Hammer is an educated physician, a student of Heidelburg—he was in attendance at the five hundredth anniversary of the University last summer. He is also an extensive traveller in South America as well as in Europe. Being a man full of facts, with the power to express them in an interesting and amusing manner, a pleasant and profitable evening is anticipated.

The receipts from this entertainment are to be used for the building of a session room.

Since our great mark down of Ladies' and Childrens' CLOAKS AND WRAPS, our stock has been reduced over one half. We shall close out the balance at still lower prices for our Holiday Trade, at the —"BEE HIVE,"— Bennett & Stewart." Store open evenings.

The Coseo-Gage Suit.

The Fulton Patriot last week published in full Judge Merwin's opinion in the well known case of Theresa Coseo against Wm. G. Gage et al and further says:

"Alfred Coseo was employed as head miller for W. G. Gage & Co., having held the position for several years. He had been a trusted employe, but finally incurred the suspicion of his employers and was watched and detected and at last charged with his dishonesty. He denied it and an officer accompanied by the members of the firm went to Coseo's house and found a large accumulation of milling tools and utensils and a number of silk bolt cloths, some new and others not new as well as many pieces of different sizes.

In order to settle the matter quietly Mrs. Coseo deeded her property, a house and lot to a third party who paid Gage & Co. for it and Coseo was allowed to leave town and was not prosecuted.

The law of the state provides that any man committing a crime shall not be prosecuted after five years from the commission of the crime, so Mrs. Coseo waited five years until the time had passed in which her husband could be criminally prosecuted and then brought an action against W. G. Gage & Co. to recover the value of the property she had surrendered in settlement of the dishonesty of her husband, claiming that it was given under threats and the influence of extreme terror.

The case was tried before Judge Merwin and was submitted some months ago but no decision has been rendered until recently when Judge Merwin decided the matter in favor W. G. Gage & Co.

Special bargains for the Holidays in Watches, Clocks, Silverware, and Jewelry by D. J. [illegible] in Lathrop's store, opposite the Lewis House.

[illegible] $4.50

New ice is being delivered by the ice merchant of the village.

The members of the Board of Supervisors are still busy at work in Oswego.

There is talk of having a series of "Germans" in Church's hall during the winter.

A Howe Ventilating stove has been placed in the county clerk's office at Oswego.

A box social is to be given by the Good Templars of Oswego Falls at their hall this evening.

Miss Ella Lathrop has been engaged as an additional teacher in the academic department of No. 2 school.

Helam Holstead and Miss Louise Keeney were married at the Catholic church last Wednesday evening.

A number of our physicians have been in attendance at the Oswego county medical convention at Oswego.

Foster Bros. knife factory is shut down for a week or so while a new water wheel is being put in.

T. Rowley of Volney, who has been dangerously ill with bilious fever is reported to us as slowly improving.

Frank Dilts has purchased of D. E. Mason and Mr. Watson a lot and water power adjoining Rust's coal yard.

Rev. Charles Olmstead of Oswego Falls delivered an address at the meeting of the Congregation Club in Utica last week.

An advertisement of the enterprising Ying Lee appears in the Baldwinsville papers. He has opened a Chinese laundry in that village.

The town records are now kept at the hardware store of J. J. Wright on Oneida street, where the town clerk, C. A. Miller may be found.

During the absence of the Rector, services will be held as usual in Zion church on Sundays, at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday-School at noon.

A special holiday excursion will be held over the D. L. & W. road on Dec. 23. Tickets for the round trip $7.00 good for return passage to and including Jany. 3, 1887.

The Phœnix cheese factory is said to have made from 150,000 to 160,000 pounds of cheese during the past season all of which brought the highest market prices.

The general quarterly meeting of the Syracuse district of the Free Methodist church will commence to-morrow at the church in this village. Rev. Mr. Winget, chairman of the district and several other clergymen will be present.

Ten boys ranged ranging from 12 to 18 years of age were arrested Saturday night in Oswego Falls for throwing snow balls at people on the street. The older ones were fined $2 while the younger ones were discharged with a repremand.

Miss Ellen E. Eldred of Laurens, N. Y., delivered temperance addresses at the Good Templar's hall in Oswego Falls on Wednesday and Friday evenings of last week to good-sized and enthusiastic audiences.

The Morrill Brothers issued last week their annual sheet, "The Christmas Bells." It contains the advertisements of many of our merchants and shows skillful workmanship. This firm now employs over a dozen assistants and does postoffice printing for offices in every state and territory in the Union. Everything indicates prosperity and success.

Yes! Yes! Most Surely!

They are going very quickly that last large lot of Cloaks, in Childrens' and Ladies' as the weather was so warm we cut off most of our profit and let our customers have the goods. We shall let out all the remainder in the same way. Call early at F. E. BACON'S.

Rev. Horace B. Goodyear, pastor of Zion church in this village, started today at noon for Green Cove Springs, Clay county, Fla., where he will spend the winter. This little village in the delightful climate of Northern Florida, to which Mr. Goodyear goes for the benefit of his health, is situated thirty miles from Jacksonville, contains a copious sulphur spring and is a fruit and vegetable centre. Mr. Goodyear will have charge of the parish there during his stay and will return in the spring to Fulton. The kind wishes of his parishioners and many friends go with him during his absence. Regular services are to be continued in the Zion church, a notice of which will be found elsewhere.

We realize the fact that in order to do a large Holiday Trade we have got to sell goods cheap, so we have put the knife into the prices of Dress Goods, Blankets, Cloaks, Wraps, &c., and cut the prices ½. go to the BEE HIVE and reap the benefit of the low prices for the next two weeks, Bennett & Stewart.

THE BOSTON BAZAAR

will down them all with the largest stock of Holiday Goods ever shown in [illegible]

[illegible]

[Special to The Times.]

It would not be a [illegible] to call this city "The City of Churches." That term, however, might not so well characterize it as its present title, Empire City. Yet that there is a very large number of churches and these, too, rather above the ratio which is usual for churches to have to the population is something not generally known. The tendency, however, of religious denominations is toward individualism in religious work. By this I mean, the increase of the number of strong, progressive and aggressive congregations manipulated and controlled by some able and representative divine. An organization something similar to the Plymouth church of Brooklyn, to whose members H. W. Beecher has preached so many years is the tendency of this day.

In this city Drs. Taylor, Hall, Kittridge, Simpson and Loyd are pastors of churches doing a distinctive and separate work, unconnected with other churches. These five men possess a national reputation, but of all, the peculiar belief of Dr. Simpson singles him out as an exceptional character. He presides over a congregation worshiping in the Madison Avenue edifice where Dr. Newman preached at the time of Gen. Grant's residence in this city, and whose occupancy of its pulpit made so much division in the old congregation that its sale became necessary. This congregation of which Dr. Simpson is pastor became the owner. The peculiar tenets of their belief is expressed in one word, Faith. With these people, faith is the sovereign remedy for all troubles, both spiritual and bodily. Dr. Simpson is an extremist on the subject. Faith with him cures all diseases that human flesh is heir to, and in the practice of this line of cure, no physician is permitted to prescribe. I am told that this churchman refuses to permit medical attendance in his own family. Public attention has been especially called to this peculiarity of belief quite recently. Connected with this religious society was an orphanage. The same belief was the basis of all treatment given the children in case of sickness. Whether properly or otherwise the authorities refused to countenance any such system and the place has been closed.

While upon this subject, did you know that this city contains but one picturesque church—picturesque in its architecture as well as its congregation? That's the fact. I refer to what is commonly known as "The Little Church around the Corner." In Twenty-ninth street, not far from Fifth Avenue, is a collection of low roofed buildings of old English church architecture. Here is a wing, there a tower, now an extension at right angles to the main part of the structure and none of it more than a story and a half high. It is the property of the Rev. Dr. Houghton. It is one of those buildings that because of their oddity of arrangement, yet tasteful and pretty appearance, will remain as one of the old landmarks. The congregation is a curious one. Rich and poor, high and low, good and bad are numbered among its steady attendants. Gamblers sit with actors, men and women of questionable virtue with the pure and good. There is not another church like it in the city. Some few years ago one of the members of a theatrical company died. A wish for a church service at burial had been expressed. Several ministers were asked to open their churches. They refused. Dr. Houghton, however, consented, and since that day his church has been their religious home. I remember attending service there when there were listening to the words of the preacher no less than a hundred theatrical people and more than a score of gamblers who the night before had fleeced their victims within a pistol shot's distance from the place in which they were then sitting. You ask Dr. Houghton for the reason why he keeps this congregation. He will tell you that he would rather they would spend a few moments with him than in a questionable resort. These people know it and most liberally do they contribute to the church funds. The service is one that a stranger to the city should hear, and the building is a charming surprise to the sight seer.

⁂

Now comes the afterclap of the recent labor agitation at election times. In a former letter, reference was made to a clergyman who was very prominent in the government. This was Dr. Edward McGlynn. He is the pastor of St. Stephen's church. The recent letter of the Arch Bishop of this city takes very strong grounds against the vagaries of Mr. George, the recent Labor candidate. Of course, Dr. McGlynn has spoken very aggressively and forcibly in favor of Mr. George, and hence is at varience with his ecclesiastical superior. In the early part of the campaign, Dr. McGlynn was very active. Toward the latter part he was not heard. It now appears that he was silenced; but to show his sympathy, he rode with Mr. George in his tour of the city on the day of election. For this contumacy he is ordered to Rome to make his peace with his spiritual leader. This action excites great comment. Catholics in this city who sympathize with Henry George are much excited over this action. Dr. McGlynn is a particularly charming speaker. He is an able, clear headed, deep thinking man. His congregation is one of the largest in the city and this action has excited his parishioners very greatly.

⁂

A new departure is now under process of trial in a theatre in this city. Theatre goers have great reason to complain of the obstruction to the view which the modern female head gear offers. Recently a lady with a large hat took it off during the act, replacing it at its close. She was rewarded by a burst of applause that shook the building. To this end, the manager of the Lyceum has a system of checking ladies' hats in vogue. It is a novelty, but will become general. A gainsborough is a most decided obstruction and the present feathery flummery which adorns the present hat is not much of an improvement so far as the view for the man in the rear seat is concerned. Then to say nothing of the comfort, the appearance of the lady, without a hat is much improved. May the new departure become an established custom. [illegible]

The Clothing offered by Peebles & Cook is Genuine, in every respect. In the first place, the quality of material is excellent. No Shoddy or second-rate goods are offered. The Clothing is completed so as to compare with anything that is turned out in the line called "custom made." Every piece of clothing sold by Peebles & Cook is warranted. Their stock is large and accessions are being made to it every day. Their line of Christmas Clothing is the finest ever seen here.

☞ Gentlemen will do well to look at the styles and learn the prices that rule.

PEEBLES & COOK

Opposite Opera House.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Slater wish to thank their friends, neighbors, members of the choir and all who so kindly assisted in their recent affliction.

Don't buy Fur or Scotch caps of anyone but D. C. More & Co.

SANTA CLAUS
In Town Again!

He stops at the Boston Bazaar and everyone coming in to their store will see the largest line of Holiday Goods and Gifts ever opened in Fulton. We cannot give you any idea of the many different things we carry. Can only ask you to come in and see for yourselves. We have everything for Christmas presents and enough for everybody. Yours for Bargains, NEY & ALLEN.

Cheap! Cheap!! Cheap!!!
5 Bottle Silver Castor only $1.80,
32t3 at SYLVESTER'S.

Go to Tucker's crockery store for wedding and anniversary presents. 24tf

The Boston Bazaar

has the largest stock, and sells goods cheaper than any other store in Fulton. This is what "the people" say, and what the people say is so.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

Games of every description at Williams'. 31tf

Regular dinner at Kendall's every day for 20 cents.

A Fine Line of Cigars at Williams Drug Store. 29tf

For Sale or To Rent.

The new house on First street, two blocks south of Broadway.

Inquire of H. HULETT. 28tf

Don't trifle with any Throat or Lung Disease. If you have a Cough or Cold, or the children are threatened with Croup or Whooping Cough, use Acker's English Remedy and prevent further trouble. It is a positive cure, and we guarantee it. Price 10 and 50c by H. C. Giesler.

Stephens Opera House,
YOUNGS BROS. & Co., Managers,

Dec. Wednesday, Thursday, 15 & 16.

J. J. MAGEE'S
INTERNATIONAL
COMEDY & SPECIALTY COMPANY!
Headed by the latest European attraction, the wonderful
DERVILLE FAMILY
Five in number—Frank, Lou, Eddie, Katie, and Lottie, in their new musical comedy, entitled, "Rehearsal," introducing songs, cornet solos, duets, etc.
The inimitable Irish comedians, singers and dancers,
NEEDHAM AND KELLY
In their rough and rollicking Irish songs, dances and witticisms, also introducing their laughable boxing act, of which they are the originators.
James--DILKS & GREY--Nellie,
Musical sketch artists.
P. H. THURBER,
The greatest equilibrist on the American stage.
The world famous Kickapoo dancers, the
Gus--HOGAN BROS.--Harry
In their original specialty, "The Hottentots."
JOHN B. MACKLIN,
Ethiopean Comedian.
The performance will conclude with Needham & Kelly's latest and most successful comedy, entitled LAW AND LOVE.
Secure your Seats in Advance.
Popular prices 25 35 and 50.

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 21tf

CHEAP COW FEED.

Gilbert & Nichols at the Fulton Mills are selling buckwheat feed for milch cows and young stock at about the price of hay. 28w4

Fred Fox, a resident of Oswego Falls since last spring, was arrested Monday evening on a charge of bigamy, preferred by Miss Cora Perry whom he married last fall and lived with for a time. The examination of Fox will be held tomorrow evening. He claims that he is divorced from his former wife, but that the paper is at his former home, Orwell.

Everyone purchasing goods to the amount of $1.00 will receive a new hat at SYLVESTER'S.

For Sale or to Rent.

The Loomis Planing mill if not sold by January 1st, will be for rent in whole or part. Enquire of R. B. McCully at the Harness Shop.

The board of education in Parish suspended the recess in their public school on trial. It is a step in the right direction and will be found to work well. A large number of schools that have tried the abolishment of recesses find it to be a great improvement in many ways

Christmas Gifts!
GO TO
MILTON S. PRICE'S,
Dry Good Carpet and Furniture Establishment.
38 and 40 SOUTH SALINA
AND
29, 31, & 33 Clinton Sts.,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.
AND
Make Your Selections.
The Exhibition of Everything that is rare as a Novelty and useful as a
HOLIDAY OFFERING
has been secured. In fact the most extensive display ever made in this City.
Elegant Christmas Gifts in the DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT.
Dress Patterns in all styles and quality SILKS, CLOAKS, PLUSH GARMENTS, THE MOST SELECT STOCK IN THE CITY.
FANCY GOODS,
NO END TO THE VARIETY.
Carpets a Choice Stock.
AN EXTRA STOCK OF SMYRNA RUGS purchased expressly for the Holiday Trade,
also an extra assortment of new and novel things may be found in the
FURNITURE DEPARTMENT,
You will have no trouble in making your selection of useful and ornamental
CHRISTMAS GIFTS
AT THIS ESTABLISHMENT.
And better value will be given for your money than by any other house in the City.
MILTON S. PRICE.
Nos. 38 and 40 South Salina Street,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

SANTA CLAUS!

-OUR HOLIDAY OPENING-

Was a Grand Success. Thousands have already seen our Grand Display of

HOLIDAY GOODS!

The universal exclamation is, "What an immense assortment of nice goods for Christmas Presents, and how very cheap they are." We kindly invite everybody to call and look through our store and get our prices on

TOYS, DOLLS, GAMES, FANCY GOODS, CHINA CUPS AND SAUCERS, VASES, BASKETS, NOTIONS, &C.

WORK STANDS, FANCY GOODS, CHILDREN'S [illegible], CHAIRS, HAND SLEDS, DOLL CARRIAGES, [illegible], PHOTOGRAPH and SCRAP ALBUMS &c., &c, TINWARE, GLASSWARE, HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS, Very Cheap.

☞ Special Prices to Sunday Schools. ☜

R. A. STOW[illegible] & Co.

Other Stores [illegible] South Salina St., Syracuse [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] the farm [illegible] with.

Keep the [illegible] well bedded and otherwise clean and comfortable.

It is not well usually, to leave hay stacked out if there is room for it in the barn.

Stables ought to be warm enough to prevent manure from freezing in them.

What breed pays best? Just that breed which you like best and take the best care of.

Do chickens pay? Those who know say they do better than any other farm stock.

Kill the roosters out of your flock as fast as they are large enough to eat. Watch when prices are best, and sell them and the unprofitable hens then.

Small, sound potatoes fed to horses in connection with other feed will be found very beneficial and will be thankfully received by them.

The crop of apples in the Eastern States is large this year. Apples sell in Boston from seventy-five cents a barrel for common to two dollars for best varieties.

Who is to blame for the tendency of education to lead from the farm? It is the fault of the parents who talk against their occupation. The farm needs brain as well as brawn.

The man who has not a thorough knowledge of the characteristics of the fields he cultivates labors under great disadvantages. It takes more than one year to become acquainted with a farm.

If you can afford to build a first-class barn for your stock, do so; if you can afford only a straw-covered shelter, make it as safe and comfortable as possible but build it at once.

The man who sells hay year after year without putting anything back on the land is merely shifting his capital from one pocket to another and running considerable risk of losing a part in the shifting.

Cows need light, not only for their own health and comfort, but because good butter cannot be made from cows kept in dark stables. Air, light, cleanliness and warmth are four essentials of a cow stable, where cows are kept for profit.

Two more things are needed for your cows, regular feeding and sufficient feeding, but not too much, with a complete ration. In regard to this latter point, every dairyman has much to learn. A dairyman needs to be a physiologist.

Consumption is often only an indirect result of deranged kidneys. Over two two years ago I became a confirmed invalid. My friends thought I was far gone in Consumption. I was sure the time had well nigh come when I must leave my helpless little children motherless. With this dreadful fact staring me in the face, I resolved to try Warner's safe cure. My husband tried to dissuade me, thinking I was too far gone for anything to help me. But I took it, and in two weeks time I was like a new creature; and in four weeks I was able to resume my household duties"—at this writing I am perfectly well. MRS. E. J. WOLF, wife of Rev. Prof. T. Wolf, D. D., editor Lutheran Quarterly, Gettysburg, Pa. If you write her, enclose a stamp, and she will tell you the story is true.

Swine Profitable.

Enthusiastic swine breeders of a statistical turn of mind occasionally try to show by figures the comparative importance of the hog growing interest of the country. But no great array of figures is needed to satisfy the farmer of moderate means that hog raising is one of his surest and quickest ways of making money. It takes less capital than in the rearing of horses and cattle, and it brings returns much sooner. The greatest draw back in swine breeding is the liability to losses from the epidemic diseases which so frequently sweep through the country. Yet the great prolificacy and rapid growth of hogs render it possible to soon recover from these losses and still come out ahead of even the fast horse men. A friend recently remarked that he had followed the showing of horses at fairs for many years, though, from a lack of sufficient capital not as large as he would have liked. At the same time he kept a lot of good hogs, and almost immediately on returning from the fairs in the fall he had to sell hogs to pay his horse-showing expenses. Since then he handles fewer horses and more hogs. Now, instead of standing near the foot of the roll as a breeder of good horses and hogs, he has advanced to the foremost rank as a breeder of improved swine.—[Ohio Farmer.

W. H. RHODES, 118 E. Gay St., Columbus, O., in 1879, was taken ill with palpitation and neuralgia of the heart, consequent upon diseased kidneys. "Horrible Dyspepsia" also afflicted him. He spent hundreds of dollars for relief [illegible]. He took 30 bottles of Warner's safe cure and was fully restored to health, gaining 70 pounds while using that great remedy. Write him and inclose a stamp. He'll tell you the welcome story.

Grooming Horses.

Groom the horses outside the stable. The horse is fastidious, and he detects any bad odor or filth about his food. He is not apt to relish his food if the [illegible] from his body, removed and converted into dust by the comb and the brush, has settled in the feed trough. Besides, [illegible] of the matter removed from his body is the dead matter thrown off by the glands, and taking this into [illegible] as he will be [illegible], if the grooming is done in [illegible]. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] He was never stiff and [illegible] with them, but was their good friend. He became rich, was made mayor of New York city and lived to be very old. He lost his life in a steamboat disaster. Those who found his dead body found a scrap of printed paper in his pocketbook. It was so worn with oft reading that they could scarcely make out the words, but this is what was upon the paper:

Keep good company or none. Never be idle.

If your hands cannot be usefully employed, attend to the cultivation of your mind.

Always speak the truth. Make few promises.

Live up to your engagements,

Keep your own secrets, if you have any.

When you speak to a person, look him in the face.

Good company and good conversation are the very sinews of virtue.

Good character is above all things else.

Your character cannot be essentially injured except by your own acts.

If any one speaks evil of you, let your life be so that none will believe him.

Drink no kind of intoxicating liquors.

Ever live (misfortune excepted) within your income.

When you retire to bed, think over what you have been doing during the day.

Make no haste to be rich, if you would prosper.

Small and steady gains give competency with tranquility of mind.

Never play at any game of chance.

Avoid temptation, through fear you may not withstand it.

Earn money before you spend it.

Never run into debt, unless you see plainly a way to get out again.

Never borrow, if you can possibly avoid it.

Do not marry until you are able to support a wife.

Never speak evil of any one. Be just before you are generous.

Keep yourself innocent if you would be happy.

Save when you are young to spend when you are old.

Read over the above maxims, at least once a week.

E. EVANS, president of the Lumber Exchange Bank, Tonawanda, N. Y., writes: January 15, 1886. I was entirely prostrated, and was reduced from 176 to 126 lbs. I thought I had inflammation of the large bowel. The pain was relieved only by morphine forced under the skin. My doctor treated me for inflammation and catarrh of the bowels, an affection sympathetic with disorder of the left kidney. I had distressing pain, with night sweats, and could keep nothing on my stomach, especially liquids, and was intensely thirsty. Feb. 10 I was in intense agony with pain in my left kidney. I then began Warner's safe cure. In 20 minutes I was relieved. I refused the doctors medicines thereafter. I finally passed a large stone from the bladder." If you write Mr. Evans, enclose stamp for reply.

A Youthful Powderly.

"I told you this morning that I would whip you if you were not a good boy today, did I not, Johnnie?"

"Yes, sir."

"And you have been a good boy?"

"Yes, sir."

"Was it because you wished to please me?"

"No Sir."

"What then, Johnnie?"

"Because I don't believe in encouraging strikes."—[Detroit Mercury.

CAPTAIN GEORGE B. WILTBARK, 919 Spruce street, Philadelphia, Pa., if now on land, will if you write and enclose a stamp for reply, tell you that "three years ago when in Central America, he was prostrated with kidney and liver trouble of a very serious nature. He was delirious, skin very dark, liver enlarged one-third, stomach too sensitive for the simplest food," Seven bottles of Warner's safe cure completely cured him and saved his life.

A Fish Story.

The statement is made that a lady lost a diamond ring in the surf at Long Branch and two months later found it in the stomach of a shark at Atlantic City. What she was doing in the shark when she found the jewel is not stated.—[San Francisco Alta.

A large statue of Hercules has been unveiled at Algeria.

YOU

will never regret sending three 2 cent stamps to pay postage, to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., for a copy of Dr. Kaufman's great Medical Work; 100 pages, colored illustrations; of great value to every family.

Up to 1880 Michigan's copper ore total output was valued at $150,000,000.

"A little fire is quickly trodden out
Which, being suffered, rivers cannot quench."

Procrastination may rob you of time, but by increased diligence you can make up the loss; but if it rob you of life the loss is irremediable. If your health is delicate, your appetite fickle, your sleep broken, your mind depressed, your whole being out of sorts, depend on it you are seriously diseased. In all such cases Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" will speedily effect a genuine, radical cure—make a new man of you and save you from the tortures of lingering disease.

Jay Gould predicts two years of business prosperity and then another relapse.

"Throw Physic to the Dogs"

when it is the old-fashioned blue mass, blue pill sort, and insist on using Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets," a modern medical luxury, being small, sugar-coated granules, containing the active principles of certain roots and herbs, and which will be found to contain as much cathartic power as any of the old-fashioned, larger pills, without the latter's violent, drastic effects. The pellets operate thoroughly but harmlessly, establishing a permanently healthy action of the stomach and bowels, and as an anti-bilious remedy are unequaled.

Mrs. Cleveland's portraits are selling at the rate of 500 a day.

[illegible] Piles, fistulas, rupture and [illegible]. Book of particulars [illegible]. World's [illegible], Buffalo.

[illegible]

Pardee Medicine Co.

[illegible] more than a year [illegible] with what I feared was [illegible] paralysis. My left arm, limb and side were numb, and had it not been for the severe pain I felt at times from moving about, I should have considered the entire side lifeless. I have had poor health for years, although under good treatment most of the time, but I can truthfully say that I have received more benefit from the use of Dr. Pardee's Remedy than from any and all other treatments. The pain and numbness have entirely left me, and I am gradually gaining strength.

I can conscientiously recommend your remedy to any and all similarly afflicted.

Yours truly,
MRS. L. CHAPPELL,
62 Glenwood Park.

UNABLE TO WALK FOR SIX WEEKS.

Nunda, N. Y., May 20, 1885.

Pardee Medicine Co.

GENTS:—I cannot find words in which to express my feelings for the great good your excellent remedy has done my wife who for six long weeks was unable to help herself. We had four of the best physicians we could procure, but she grew worse every day until we feared she would never be any better. I received one of your pamphlets through the mail and immediately procured some of the medicine, and the third day after she began its use she could move about the house. She has now taken five bottles and is able to do her work as easily as she has in years. She cannot recommend Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy too highly, for it does all you claim for it, and is far superior to anything we have ever used. I am yours very truly, W. W HOOVER.

Ask your druggists for Pardee's Remedy and take no other. Price $1 per bottle; six bottles, $5.

Pardee Medicine Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Four millions of trees have been planted on the crown lands in the Isle of Man, and the work of extending the forest area there is still going on.

Jeffersonian Simplicity.

Can be practiced by using Van Wert's Balsam for all Throat and Lung diseases, as it will save unnecessary doctors bills. For sale by H. C. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are free from injurious substances. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure catarrhal Headaches.

It is said that the oldest daughter of the Prince of Wales is commonly spoken of as "the worst-dressed girl in London."

Lawrence Barrett's daughter, now a young woman in her teens, has, in obedience to her father's wishes never seen a play or an opera.

Home Rule for Ireland

only a question of time and it is only question of time when a neglected Cough will lead to Consumption. We guarantee that the timely administration of Van Wert's Balsam will stop any Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are very thorough in operation. Van Wert's Golden Balm cures Catarrh without irritation.

Montgomery, Ala., boasts that it has the only electric steel railway in the world in practical and successful operation.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

Senator Vest is the twentieth member of the house of representatives to purchase a home in Washington. It cost him $16,000.

Babies that are fretful, peevish, cross, or troubled with Windy Colic, Teething Pains, or Stomach Disorders, can be relieved at once by using Acker's Baby Soother. It contains no Opium or Morphine, hence is safe. Price 25 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

Rhode Island gained about two and a half feet of territory from Connecticut in the recent settlement of the boundry-line dispute.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 5iy1

Montreal is already getting ready for its annual ice palace winter carnival.

Thousands of cases of Consumption are cured every year by Acker's celebrated English Remedy. It is a guaranted preparation; if it does not help you it will cost you nothing. Try it. A single dose will show its good effect. Trial bottles 10 cts. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

W. H. H. Flick, a new Republican congressman from Virginia, weighs more than 300 pounds.

SWAYNES
THROAT & LUNG TROUBLES CONQUERED BY SWAYNE'S WILD CHERRY
SWAYNE'S VERMIFUGE [illegible] THE CHILDREN'S MEDICINE
TO KEEP HEALTHY 1. EXERCISE DAILY 2. EAT GOOD FOOD 3. BE CHEERFUL 4. USE SWAYNE'S PILLS
SWAYNE'S PANACEA PURIFIES SYPHILITIC BLOOD
[illegible] HAIR RESTORER
DR SWAYNE & SON
OINTMENT
THE GREAT CURE FOR ITCHING PILES

UNDERTAKER [illegible]

AND

FURNITURE DEALER

Keeps constantly on hand at his store on First st. the finest and best selected stock of goods in his line

Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved patterns on hand and furnished to order. All the latest and best

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 5i1

George Fasselⅼ

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.

Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium

Stock Lager.

Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge. 32m6

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's
Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.
The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.
Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co,

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!
Purest Cleanest, Best,
FOR SALE BY

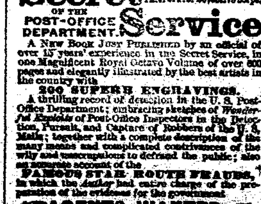
Q. RUST.

ADVERTISERS

can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

WE WANT 5,000 MORE BOOK AGENTS TO SELL OUR NEW BOOK.



Secret Service OF THE POST-OFFICE DEPARTMENT. By P. H. WOODWARD, late Chief of P.O. Detective Corps.

A New Book Just Published by an official of over 15 years' experience in the Secret Service, in one Magnificent Royal Octavo Volume of over 500 pages and elegantly illustrated by the best artists in the country with

200 SUPERB ENGRAVINGS.

A thrilling record of detection in the U. S. Post-Office Department; embracing sketches of Wonderful Exploits of Post-Office Inspectors in the Detection, Pursuit, and Capture of Robbers of the U. S. Mails; together with a complete description of the many means and complicated contrivances of the wily and unscrupulous to defraud the public; also an accurate account of the

FAMOUS STAR ROUTE FRAUDS,

in which the Author had entire charge of the preparation of the evidence for the government.

AGENTS WANTED

In every town there are Postmasters, Merchants, Mechanics, Farmers, Professional Men, and hundreds of people who will be glad to get this thrilling book. It is now having an unparalleled sale. It sells at sight to all. Men and Women Agents making from $100 to $200 a month easily. We want an agent in every township in the U. S. and Canada. We give instructions so that Any Person with this phenomenal selling book can become a successful Agent. [illegible]

[illegible]

Many [illegible] have [illegible] Salvation Oil. 25 cents.

Take the upper flame to Mary, and tell her that my cough has gone, and that a 25 cent bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup did the blessed work.

New York police officials are bragging that all the bunco men have gone to Philadelphia, and that most of the gambling houses and policy shops in Gotham are closed.

LITTLE CHILDREN

Do not cry when Dr. Van Wert's Balsam is given them. It is so sweet and palatable, they never refuse it, and it is superior to any other known remedy for Croup and Whooping Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are small and easy to take. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Hay Fever. 23m6

In 1849 a deposit of $19 was made in the savings bank at Dover, N. H. It remained in the bank until the other day, when the book was presented and the account closed by the payment of $195.83.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

The largest tree in California is in Tulare county, and is 450 feet high, and the trunk is 138 feet in circumference. It is called the "Father of the Forest."

If you would enjoy your dinner and are provented by Dyspepsia, use Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. They are a positive cure for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Flatulency and Constipation. We guarantee them. 25 and 50 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

A Boston newspaper prints a list of the residents of San Francisco who are worth $1,000,000 and over. There are 101 of these fortunate persons.

The reason why Acker's Blood Elixir is warranted, is because it is the best Blood Preparation known. It will positively cure all Blood Diseases, purifies the whole system, and thoroughly builds up the constitution. Remember, we guarantee it. H. C. Giesler.

"Ireland" means the Westland. It comes from the Celtic word iar and our word "land," iar meaning west.

If the Sufferers from Consumption Scrofula, and General Debility, will try Scott's Emulsion of pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, they will find immediate relief and a permanent benefit. Dr. H. V. MOTT, Brentwood, Cal., writes: "I have used Scott's Emulsion with great advantage in cases of Phthisis Scrofula and wasting diseases generally. It is very palatable."

The Mormon church has nearly 1,100 missionaries scattered about the South, and a large number of converts are reported.

PURE WHITE CLOVER HONEY Forms the base of Dr. Van Wert's Balsam and this being combined with the most potent remedial agents which modern medical investigation has discovered, the whole forms an incomparable remedy for all throat and lung troubles. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Trial sizes free.

For torpid liver use Van Wert's Pills. Van Wert's Golden Balm is a certain cure for Catarrh. 23m6

It is understood that the Hon. James G. Blaine will speak at the celebration of Forefathers' day in Boston on December 22.

Rheumatism

Usually settles in the back or limbs, and often so completely overpowers its victims that all business and labor have to be abandoned. Our readers should remember that Hood's Sarsaparilla is not recommended as a positive specific for rheumatism; its proprietors doubt if there is, or can be such a remedy. But many people who were most severely afflicted, state that they have been positively cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. The disease is often the result of impure blood—hence the power of this great medicine over it. Its success in many cases justifies us in recommending its use to all sufferers from rheumatism, 100 doses One Dollar.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL
And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs.

AND AS A REMEDY FOR CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS, ANAEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, COUGHS AND THROAT AFFECTIONS, and all WASTING DISORDERS OF CHILDREN it is marvellous in its results.

Prescribed and endorsed by the best Physicians in the countries of the world.

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Golden Medical Discovery

Thoroughly cleanse the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequaled remedy. Sold by Druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. [illegible]

[illegible]

And when he gets a [illegible]
(We [illegible])
[illegible]
He never will let go.

But sets his teeth, and growls and growls,
With malice ill-concealed,
Unmindful of the lover's howls,
Until the cloth doth yield.

And then the lover climbs the fence,
And if not apt to stop,
But rapidly meanders hence
Unto the tailor's shop.

So out of evil good doth come,
For though the lover swears,
It makes the tailor's business hum
To mend the bulldog's tears.
—[Somerville Journal.

HIR SHAKERS.

Two Styles of Hugging.

Now do the old folks hug the fire,
Their shivering to smother,
While safe within the parlor, snug,
The young folks hug each other.
—[Washington Critic.

Autumn Leaves and Barleycorn.

The crimson of the forest leaves
When the autumn days are gone,
But the toper's nose grows redder
As the winter weareth on.
—[Boston Courier.

A Come Down.

Her eyes are like the stars which shine on high;
Her voice is like the evening zephyr's sigh;
Her hands are whitest marble tipped with pearl
Her feet——alas! She's a Chicago girl.
—[Merchant Traveler.

Motto for a corset factory—"We have come to stay."—[Cleveland Sun.

He—"I could live on pigs feet all the time."

She—"Are you sure you don't?"—[Texas Siftings.

Fish is good brain food, but it does seem a pity in some cases to waste so much fish.—[St. Albans Messenger.

On the rolling deep: First passenger—"Well, old boy, what's up this afternoon?" Second passenger—"All but the soup"—[Life.

Some one says it is the bill which produces the echo. And here we have lived all these years thinking it was the holler.—[Binghamton Republican.

The smallest bonnets ever seen at all are coming into fashion. The prices however, are still perceptable to the ordinary vision.—[Boston Post.

A Vermont farmer who invented a cow tail holder lost twelve quarts of milk and the skin off his ankles on its first trial.—[Puck.

Jakey—Fader, der's a fly in der soup. Mr. Cohn—Vell, eat all but der fly before you show it to the waiter; den you can get some more.—[Rambler.

Wife—If I should ever die, will you really never marry again? Husband—Never, never! What do you take me for!—[Boston Beacon.

You can always tell a man who has once been a clerk in a hotel, says an exchange. Our experience has been that you can't tell him much. He thinks he knows it all.—[Sommerville Journal.

A correspondent wants to know if turkeys are not consumed in large numbers by the American people on Thanksgiving day. We think not. If they were, the newspapers would have said something about it.—[Pittsburg Chronicle.

Boarder (just entered)—Why, hello, Oscar, I thought I heard you talking to some one as I came in? Oscar—So I was just saying "good morning" to these fish-balls; had the same ones every morning for a week.—[Tid-Bits.

MRS. J. T. RICHEY, 562 4th Avenue, Louisville, Ky., was a confirmed invalid for eleven years, daily expecting death. Doctors pronounced her trouble to be neuralgia, female complaints and every other known disease. For months her left side was paralyzed. Could neither eat, sleep nor walk. Finally the doctors gave her up. She then began to use Warner's safe cure, and November 18, 1885, she wrote "I am as well to-day as when a girl, and feel about twenty years younger. Warner's safe cure has worked a miracle in my case." Mrs. Richey will gladly answer stamped inquiries.

What a Wicked Woman Said.

Friskley, who lunches every day at the Frenchman's, has fallen into the habit of taking a cocktail before his meals. He says his appetite is failing and requires a little stimulus.

The other night, when Friskley had arrived at home and kissed his wife, the following dialogue ensued:

"Thank you, John. Won't you (affectionately) kiss me again?"

"Kiss you again, my dear?"

"That's what I said. Aren't you willing to, my love? Don't you love me well enough to?"

"Oh, yes, of cours." (Kisses her again.)

She (sniffing the air)—Aha! Just what I supposed. You've been drinking again.—[Boston Record.

"MY DOCTOR'S BILL for the past four years has not been $10," writes F. G. Bailey, of 39 South 9th street, Dayton, O. He had Vertigo, Indigestion, Great Nervousness, Inflammation of the Bladder, Kidney Disease and Bleeding Piles. Eighteen bottles of Warner's safe cure permanently cured him, as he will tell you if you write and enclose a stamped envelope. Ask your friends and neighbors about Warner's safe cure.

No Doubt About It.

Bagley—Say no more, Aurelia, I forbid the match. Young Spriggs may be a gentleman, but he's poor.

Aurelia—But he is one of the heirs to the great Hogg estate of $64,000,000.

"Nothing of the sort, girl! He is deceiving thee."

"Why, pa, I'm sure he told me that he is one of the lawyers engaged to defend the will."—[Philadelphia Call.

BEWARE OF SWINDLERS.

We have exposed, during the last year many swindlers who advertise under the name of medicine, vile compounds which only increase human suffering. To all who need a pure medicine and blood purifier, We can honestly recommend Sulphur Bitters.—Editor Sun.

Please Don't Forget It

That Dr. H. James Cannabis Indica is prepared in Calcutta, India, from the purest and best Native Hemp, [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] blood, which [illegible] in the [illegible] disease, and purifying and enriching the vital fluid.

It is certainly fair to assume that what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others it will do for you. Therefore, if you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. PROUDFOOT, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge, to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT

German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.	Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.
The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS.	$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.
Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.	Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.
General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use SULPHUR BITTERS, and you will not be troubled.	SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.
Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.	SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Sulphur Bitters.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass. and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FARMS on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Clyremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful CURE at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE.

BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER

Highest Awards of Medals in Europe and America.

The neatest, quickest, safest and most powerful remedy known for Rheumatism, Pleurisy, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Backache, Weakness, colds in the chest and all aches and pains. Endorsed by 5,000 Physicians and Druggists of the highest repute. Benson's Plasters promptly relieve and cure where other plasters and greasy salves, liniments and lotions, are absolutely useless. Beware of imitations under similar sounding names, such as "Capsicum," "Capucin," "Capsicine," as they are utterly worthless and intended to deceive. Ask for BENSON'S AND TAKE NO OTHERS. All druggists. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Proprietors, New York.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY,

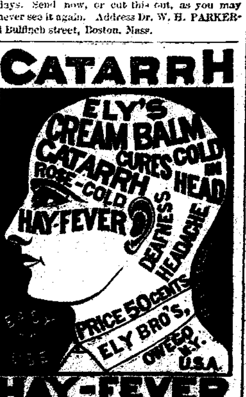
ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.

KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses; 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopœia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

CATARRH



HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Is not a liquid, snuff or powder. Applied into nostrils is quickly absorbed. It cleanses the head. Allays inflammation. Heals the sores. Restores the senses of taste and smell. 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents. ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N.Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS,

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check for $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation. The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers:—or Five Million Readers. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 30 cents for Book of 176 pages. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., New-York.

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Monday of each [illegible] August.

OSWEGO—At the Court House [illegible] first and third [illegible] in each [illegible] August.

PULASKI—At the law office of [illegible] in Pulaski, January [illegible] in March, May, June, [illegible]

FULTON—At the office of C. H. [illegible] Fulton, on the [illegible] July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. [illegible] Mexico, on the third Friday in April [illegible] and the fourth Friday in October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson [illegible] Central Square, on April [illegible] and September [illegible]

PARISH—At A. H. & J. S. Ludington's [illegible] April 20th, July 20th and Sept. [illegible]

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, N. Y., notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against [illegible] M. Beck late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, William D. Patterson at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 7th day of June, 1887, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Dec: 1, 1886.

WILLIAM D. PATTERSON,
HARRIET L. BARNES,
Administrators.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Alice Hethington as administratrix of the goods, chattels and credits of William S. Hethington, deceased, against Josiah C. Mosher, Nellie Sears, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis and Josephine Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.—Dated this 12th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington, defendants:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. Pardon C. Williams, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 15th day of October, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego Co., N. Y., at Oswego, N. Y., on October 15, 1886.—Dated Oct. 15, 1886.

HOWE & RICE.
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Frank L. Sears vs. Alice M. Hethington, administratrix &c. of William S. Hethington, deceased, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugine Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Josephine Hethington, Alice M. Hethington and Nellie E. Sears.

Action to foreclose Mortgage.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 23d day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephene Hethington

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. J. C. Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 23d, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego county, at Oswego city, N. Y. Yours &c.,

C. H. DAVID,
Pl'ffs Atty.
Fulton, N. Y.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, By the Grace of God Free and Independent. To Asa Chapman, Bowens Corners, Oswego county, N. Y.; Chas. D. Herrington, Laura M. Wilcox, Anna Chapman, Eunice Blake, George Blake, South Hannibal, Oswego County, N. Y.; Emeline King, Norman H. Haviland, Edgar O. Chapman, Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y.; Louise Perry, Lilly Dawley, South Richland, Oswego county, N. Y.; Aaron Chapman, Horace Chapman, Samuel Chapman, Red Creek, Wayne county, N. Y.; Jane Paddock, North Wolcott, Wayne county; John C. Chapman, John S. Chapman, John G. Haviland, Stephen Haviland, West Hoosick, Rensselaer county, N. Y.; Asa B. Chapman, Boyntonville, Rensselaer county, N.Y.; Crocker Chapman, Cora M. Chapin, Hoosic Falls, Rensselaer county, Lydia A. Moses, Hoosic, Rensselaer county, N.Y.; Nathaniel Cottrel, Pittstown, Rensselaer Co.N.Y.; Sarah Herrington, Anna Newcomb, Ettie Phillips, Ellen Case, Johnsonville, Rensselaer county, N.Y.; William C. Chapman, Calvin E. J. Carpenter, Cambridge, Washington Co., N.Y.; Nathan Case, Greenwich, Washington county, N.Y.; James H. Chapman, Gansevort, Saratoga county, N. Y.; William Haviland, Pompey, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Maria Nash, Cigorville, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Homer Dunham, Horace Dunham, Plank Road, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Mary Cowell, Westbury, Cayuga county, N. Y.; John E. Chapman, Belle Chapman, Martville, Cayuga county, N. Y.; Abert Hallett, Hermon, St. Lawrence county, N. Y.; Marshall Herrington, Rochester, Monroe county, N. Y.; Alice Behnke, St. Paul, Minn; Ira Chapman, Arnold Hulett, Almon Hulett, George Hulett, Beaver Creek, Rock county, Mich.; Sidney Baker, Washington, D. C.; Mary Parks, Desoto, Jefferson county, Mo.; Mary A. Hall, Brookfield, Linn county, Mo.; Sarah Matilda Cottrell, New Ashford, Mass.; Susan A. Helling, Lincoln, Neb.; Hellen A. Helling, Bennington, Vt.; Arthur C. Hoag, North Pownal, Vt.; Horace Hallett, Stockton, Cal.; Courtland Chapman, Sherbyville, Allegan county, Mich.; Roxana Kent, Lowell, Kent county, Mich.; George F. Leonard, Nelson Leonard, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Elijah D. Leonard, Chas. A. Leonard, Chester M. Leonard, Sidney W. Leonard, Elizabeth Burges, Kenosha, Kenosha county, Wis.; Elisha Crandall, Terrills Corners, Waushara county, N. Y.; Betsy Cottrell, John C. Cottrell, Warren Cottrell, Danforth Cottrell, Belle Plaine, Benton county, Iowa; Orelia Winser, Walker, Linn county, Iowa; Stephen Southwick, Chetopa, Labette county, Kan.; Sarah Lane, Pleasanton, Linn county, Kan.; Sarah Lane, Pleasanton, Linn Co., Kan.; Nathan Southwick, South Warren, Bradford county, Penn.; Geletta Thomas, Towanda, Bradford county, Penn.; Joseph Southwick, Hoopston, Vermillion county, Ill.; John Herrington, residence unknown; Cordelia Hawkins, Flandreau, Moody county, Da., heirs at law and next of kin of Jonah Chapman, late of the Town of Granby, in the County of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting.

Whereas, Merritt Miller, of the town of Hannibal, in the County of Oswego, has lately made application to our Surrogate of the County of Oswego, to have a certain instrument in writing relating to real and personal estate, duly proved as the last Will and Testament of said Jonah Chapman deceased; therefore, you, and each of you, are cited and required personally to be and appear before our said Surrogate at his office, in the Village of Phenix, in said County of Oswego, on the 24th day of January, 1887, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend to the probate of said instrument as the last Will and Testament of said deceased.

And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or, if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

[L. S.] In testimony whereof, We have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis David, Surrogate of said county, at the village of Phœnix, in said county, the 29th day of November, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

L. J. CARRIER,
Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

THE BEST AMERICAN NEWSPAPER

THE TIMES is a Newspaper for intelligent men and women.

It concerns itself as little as possible with the froth or the dregs of life, and aims to give its readers something more attractive and profitable than a daily chronicle of human follies and frailties.

The really important, wholesome, and interesting news of the day is presented with unsurpassed completeness and accuracy by THE TIMES.

Voters, whatever their party or their politics will find THE TIMES of great value for the fullness of its information and the frankness of its comment upon public affairs; and THE TIMES has abundant evidence that its treatment of leading issues of the day meets with increasing approval.

The WEEKLY edition of THE TIMES contains all the current news condensed from the dispatches and reports of the daily edition, besides literary matter, discussions upon agricultural topics by practical farmers, full and accurate market reports of prices for farm produce, live stock, &c., and a carefully prepared WEEKLY WOOL MARKET.

No other New-York Newspaper so completely meets the wants of country readers.

Terms to Mail Subscribers Postpaid.

DAILY, exclusive of Sunday, per year..... [illegible]
DAILY, including Sunday, per year..... [illegible]
SUNDAY ONLY, per year..... [illegible]
DAILY, 3 months, with Sunday..... [illegible]
DAILY, 6 months, without Sunday..... [illegible]
DAILY, 1 month, with or without Sunday..... [illegible]

THE WEEKLY TIMES.

SINGLE COPIES, one year..... [illegible]
TEN COPIES, and one free for club..... [illegible]
SUBSCRIPTIONS, for six months..... [illegible]

TERMS CASH IN ADVANCE. [illegible]

[illegible]S.

[illegible]ETEENTH YEAR. "The Ablest and Best Chronicle of Its Kind [illegible] Scorn Her Own Image." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 33

[illegible]25 a Year in Advance. FULTON, OSWEGO COUNTY, N. Y., WEDNESDAY DECEMBER 22, 1886. Single Copies Three Cents

The World From the Sidewalk.

Did you ever stand in the crowded street,
In the glare of the city lamp,
And list to the tread of the million feet
In their quaintly musical tramp?
As the surging crowd go to and fro
'Tis a pleasant sight I ween,
To mark the figures that come and go
In the ever-changing scene.

Here the publican walks with the sinner proud,
And the priest in his gloomy cowl;
And Dives walks in the motley crowd
With Lazarus, cheek by jowl;
The daughter of toil with her fresh young heart
As pure as her spotless fame,
Keeps step with the woman who makes her mar
In the haunts of sin and shame.

How lightly trips the country lass
In the midst of the citye's ills,
As freshly pure as the daisied grass
That grows on her native hills;
And the beggar, too, with his hungry eye,
And his lean wan face and crutch,
Gives a blessing the same to the passer-by
As he gives him little or much.

When time has beaten the world's tattoo,
And in dusky armor light
Is treading with echoless steps through
The gloom of the silent night,
How many of these shall be daintily fed
And shall sink to slumber sweet,
While many will go to a sleepless bed
And never a crumb to eat!

Ah, me! when the hours go joyfully by,
How little we stop to heed
Our brothers' and sisters' despairing cry
In their woe and their bitter need!
Yet such a world as the angels sought
This world of ours we'd call,
If the brotherly love that the father taught
Was felt by each for all.

Yet a few short years and this motley throng
Will all have passed away,
And the rich and the poor the old and the young
Will be distinguished clay:
And lips that laugh and lips that mourn
Shall in silence alike be sealed,
And some will lie under stately stone,
And some in the potter's field.

But the sun will be shining just as bright,
And so will the silver moon;
And just such a crowd will be here at night,
And just such a crowd at noon;
And men will be wicked and women will sin,
As ever since Adam's fall,
With the same old world to labor in,
And the same God over all.

—[Exchange.

December.

December comes with chilly days,
A dreary month unless there's sleighing.
Naught to inspire the poet's lays;
The very hens have ceased their laying.

The brooks are bound with icy chains—
Heap up the stove with Lackawanna.
The birds that sang in sweet refrain,
Now carol in Louisiana.

The snow drift flies across the wood—
Heap up the parlor grate with cannel.
Can poets sing when days are cold?
The muse is muffled up in flannel.

How shall we sing of nature's charms
When Boreas musters all his forces,
And fills our souls with dread alarms?
The task impossible, of course, is.

How shall we sing midst frosts and snows,
Of babbling brooks and seas of clover!
It can't be done. We'll stick to prose
Until the winter season's over.

—[Boston Courier.

THE PROPER THING.

In the new dresses the seams of the waists are whaleboned.

Among the fashionable combinations, black and yellow retains its favor.

Tulle skirts with a bodice of satin or moire are the choice for ball dresses.

Dog collars of pearls moonstones and garnets, on velvet, are rapidly increasing in fashion.

Tiny violins, enameled in perfect imitation of their prototype, are a passing fancy for lace pins.

Heliotrope and white in checks form one of the most fashionable combinations of the moment.

Brown, dark green and black are the three most fashionable colors for ladies outdoor dresses.

A favorite style in walking skirts has kilt at the side only, one wide box pleat in front and full drapery in the back.

The small girls who do not wear Normandy caps wear "top-heavy" hats of dark felt with large crown and wide brims.

Red-brown is a favorite shade, reproducing the deeper brown of sealskin, in woolen stuffs and, copper color is revived in cloth and ottoman silks.

Standing collars of linen, folds of canvas, or of lisse, and tiny frills of muslin edged with lace, are worn in the neck and sleeves of dresses of quite small girls, and of those for misses.

Very deep overskirts are worn in the front, laid in soft pleats drawn up at each side when the underskirt is plain in stripped materials and with black drapery also falling deeply to the hem.

There is no article in the line of medicines that gives so large a return for the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed and Belladonna Backache Plasters.

Chattanooga has erected 1,000 new houses during the present year.

ROYAL
ROYAL
[illegible]KING

No doubtful ingredients to do harm. Fresh Hops, Burgundy Pitch and Gums in Hop Plaster.

Hop Porous Plasters are sold by all druggists and country merchants. The best in the world.

THE GREAT DEADWOOD MYSTERY.

BY BRET HARTE.

[Copyrighted 1886, by Houghton, Mifflin & Co., and published by arrangement with them.]

PART III.

MRS. RIGHTBODY.

MR. Ryder was as good as his word. A day or two later he entered Mrs. Rightbody's parlor at the Chrysopolis hotel, in Stockton, with the information that he had seen the mysterious senders of the dispatch, and that they were now in the office of the hotel, waiting her pleasure. Mr. Ryder further informed her that these gentlemen had only stipulated that they should not reveal their real names, and that they should be introduced to her simply as the respective "Seventy-four" and "Seventy-five" who had signed the dispatch sent to the late Mr. Rightbody.

Mrs. Rightbody at first demurred to this; but, on the assurance from Mr. Ryder that this was the only condition on which an interview would be granted, finally consented.

"You will find them square men, even if they are a little rough, ma'am. But, if you'd like me to be present, I'll stop; though I reckon, if yo'd calkilated on that, you'd have had me take care o' your business by proxy, and not come yourself three thousand miles to do it."

Mrs. Rightbody believed it better to see them alone.

"All right, ma'am. I'll hang round out here; and of yo should happen to hev a ticklin' in your throat, and a bad spell o' coughin', I'll drop in, careless like, to see if you don't want them drops. Sabe?"

And with an exceedingly arch wink, and a slight familiar tap on Mrs. Rightbody's shoulder, which might have caused the late Mr. Rightbody to burst his sepulchre, he withdrew.

A very timid, hesitating tap on the door was followed by the entrance of two men, both of whom, in general size, strength, and uncouthness, were ludicrously inconsistent with their diffident announcement. They proceeded in Indian file to the center of the room, faced Mrs. Rightbody, acknowledged her deep courtesy by a strong shake of the hand, and, drawing two chairs opposite to her, sat down side by side.

"I presume I have the pleasure of addressing—" began Mrs. Rightbody.

The man directly opposite Mrs. Rightbody turned to the other inquiringly.

The other man nodded his head, and replied:

"Seventy-four."

"Seventy-five," promptly followed the other.

Mrs. Rightbody paused, a little confused.

"I have sent for you," she began again, "to learn something more of the circumstances under which you gentlemen sent a dispatch to my late husband."

"The circumstances," replied Seventy-four, quietly, with a side glance at his companion, "panned out about in this yer style. We hung a man, named Josh Silsbie, down at Deadwood for hoss stealin'. When I say we, I speak for Seventy-five yer as is present, as well as representin', so to speak, seventy-two other gents as is scattered. We hung Josh Silsbie on squar', pretty squar', evidence. Afore he was strung up Seventy-five yer axed him, accordin' to custom, ef ther was enny thing he had to say, or enny request that he allowed to make of us. He turns to Seventy-five yer, and——"

Here he paused suddenly, looking at his companion.

"He sez, sez he," began Seventy-five, taking up the narrative—"he sez, 'Kin I write a letter?' sez he. Sez I, 'Not much, le man; ye've got no time.' Sez he, 'Kin I send a dispatch by telegraph?' I sez, 'Heave ahead.' He sez—these is his dientikal words—'Send to Adam Rightbody, Boston. Tell him to remember his sacred compack with me thirty years ago.'"

"'His sacred compack with me thirty years ago,'" echoed Seventy-four—"his dientikal words."

"What was the compact?" asked Mrs. Rightbody anxiously.

Seventy-four looked at Seventy-five, and then both arose and retired to the corner of the parlor, where they engaged in a slow but whispered deliberation. Presently they returned and sat down again.

"We allow," said Seventy-four, quietly but decidedly, "that you know what that sacred compact was."

Mrs. Rightbody lost her temper and her truthfulness together. "Of course," she said hurriedly, "I know. But do you mean to say that you gave this poor man no further chance to explain before you murdered him?"

Seventy-four and Seventy-five both rose again slowly and retired. When they returned again and sat down, Seventy-five, who by this time, through some subtle magnetism, Mrs. Rightbody began to recognise as the superior power, said gravely:

"We wish to say, regarding this yer murder, that Seventy-four and me is equally responsible; that we reckon also to represent, so to speak, seventy-two other gentlemen as is scattered; that we are ready, Seventy-four and me, to take and holt that responsibility, now and at any time, afore every man or men as kin be fetched agin us. We wish to say that this yer say of ours holds good yer in Californy, or in any part of these United States."

"Or in Canady," suggested Seventy-four.

"Or in Canady. We wouldn't agree to cross the water, or go to furrin parts, unless absolutely necessary. We leaves the chise of weppings to your principal, ma'am, or being a lady, ma'am, and interested, to any one you may fetch to act for him. An advertisement in any of the Sacramento papers, or a playcard or handbill stuck onto a tree near Deadwood, saying that Seventy-four or Seventy-five will communicate with this yer principal or agent of yours, will fetch us—allers."

Mrs. Rightbody, a little alarmed and desperate, saw her blunder. "I mean nothing of the kind," she said hastily. "I only expected that you might have some further details of this interview with Silsbie; that perhaps you could tell me"—a bold, bright thought crossed Mrs. Rightbody's mind—"something more about her."

The two men looked at each other.

[illegible] she felt she must not alarm the men hastily.

"Will you inform me to what extent Mr. Rightbody, my late husband, was interested in her?"

This time it seemed an age to Mrs. Rightbody before the men returned from their solemn consultation in the corner. She could both hear and feel that their discussion was more animated than their previous conferences. She was a little mortified, however, when they sat down, to hear Seventy-four say slowly:

"We wish to say that we don't allow to say how much."

"Will fetch us—allers."

"Do you not think that the 'sacred compact' between Mr. Rightbody and Mr. Silsbie referred to her?"

"We reckon it do."

Mrs. Rightbody, flushed and animated, would have given worlds had her daughter been present to hear this undoubted confirmation of her theory. Yet she felt a little nervous and uncomfortable even on this threshold of discovery.

"Is she here now?"

"She's in Tuolumne," said Seventy-four.

"A little better looked arter than formerly," added Seventy-five.

"I see. Then Mr. Silsbie enticed her away?"

"Well, ma'am, it was allowed as she runned away. But it wasn't proved, and it generally wasn't her style."

Mrs. Rightbody trifled with her next question. "She was pretty, of course?"

The eyes of both men brightened.

"She was that?" said Seventy-four emphatically.

"It would have done you good to see her?" added Seventy-five.

Mrs. Rightbody inwardly doubted it; but, before she could ask another question, the two men again retired to the corner for consultation. When they came back there was a shade more of kindliness and confidence in their manner, and Seventy-four opened his mind more freely.

"We wish to say, ma'am, looking at the thing, by and large, in a far-minded way, that, ez you seem interested, and ez Mr. Rightbody was interested, and was, accordin' to all accounts, deceived and led way by Silsbie, that we don't mind listening to any proposition you might make as a lady—allowin' you was ekally interested."

"I understand," said Mrs. Rightbody quickly. "And you will furnish me with any papers?"

The two men again consulted.

"We wish to say, ma'am, that we think she's got papers, but——"

"I must have them, you understand," interrupted Mrs. Rightbody, "at any price."

"We was about to say ma'am," said Seventy-five slowly, "that, considerin' all things—and you being a lady—you kin have her, papers, pedigree and guaranty, for $1,200."

It has been alleged that Mrs. Rightbody asked only one question more and then fainted. It is known, however, that by the next day it was understood in Deadwood that Mrs. Rightbody had confessed to the vigilance committee that her husband, a celebrated Boston millionaire, anxious to gain possession of Abner Springer's well known sorrel mare, had incited the unfortunate Josh Silsbie to steal it; and that finally, failing in this, the widow of the deceased Boston millionaire was now in personal negotiation with the owners.

Howbeit, Miss Alice, returning home that afternoon, found her mother with a violent headache.

"We will leave here by the next steamer," said Mrs. Rightbody languidly. "Mr. Ryder has promised to accompany us."

"But, mother——"

"The climate, Alice, is overrated. My nerves are already suffering from it. The associations are unfit for you, and Mr. Marvin is naturally impatient."

Miss Alice colored slightly.

"But your quest, mother?"

"I've abandoned it."

"But I have not," said Alice, quietly. "Do you remember my guide at the Yosemite—Stanislaus Joe? Well, Stanislaus Joe is—who do you think?"

Mrs. Rightbody was languidly indifferent.

"Well, Stanislaus Joe is the son of Joshua Silsbie."

Mrs. Rightbody sat upright in astonishment.

"Yes. But, mother, he knows nothing of what we know. His father treated him shamefully, and set him cruelly adrift years ago; and, when he was hung, the poor fellow, in sheer disgrace, changed his name."

"But, if he knows nothing of his father's compact, of what interest is this?"

"Oh, nothing! Only I thought it might lead to something."

Mrs. Rightbody suspected that "something," and asked sharply, "And pray how did you find it out? You did not speak of it in the valley."

"Oh! I didn't find it out till to-day," said Miss Alice, walking to the window. "He happened to be here, and—told me."

PART IV.

IF Mrs. Rightbody's friends had been astounded by her singular and unexpected pilgrimage to California so soon after her husband's decease, they were still more astounded by the information, a year later, that she was engaged to be married to Mr. Ryder, of whom only the most [illegible] was known, that he was a Californian, and former correspondent of her husband. [illegible]

[illegible] whose culture, manners and genial elegance fascinated and thrilled Boston with a new sensation. It seemed to many that Miss Alice should, in the vicinity of this rare exotic, forget her former enthusiasm for a professional life; but the young man was petted by society, and various plans for diverting him from any mesalliance with the Rightbody family were concocted.

It was a wintry night, and the second anniversary of Mr. Rightbody's death, that a light was burning in his library. But the dead man's chair was occupied by young Mr. Ryder, adopted son of the new proprietor of the mansion; and before him stood Alice, with her dark eyes fixed on the table.

"There must have been something in it, Joe, believe me. Did you never hear your father speak of mine?"

"Never."

"But you say he was college bred, and born a gentleman, and in his youth he must have had many friends."

"Alice," said the young man gravely, "when I have done something to redeem my name and wear it again before these people, before you, it would be well to revive the past. But till then——"

But Alice was not to be put down. "I remember," she went on, scarcely heeding him, "that when I came in that night papa was reading a letter and seemed to be disconcerted."

"A letter?"

"Yes; but," added Alice, with a sigh, "when we found him here insensible, there was no letter on his person. He must have destroyed it."

"Did you ever look among his papers? If found it might be a clew."

The young man glanced toward the cabinet. Alice read his eyes and answered:

"Oh, dear, no! The cabinet contained only his papers, all perfectly arranged—you know how methodical were his habits—and some old business and private letters, all carefully put away."

"Let us see them," said the young man, rising.

They opened drawer after drawer; files upon files of letters and business papers accurately folded and filed. Suddenly Alice uttered a little cry and picked up a quaint ivory paper knife lying at the bottom of a drawer.

"It was missing the next day and never could be found; he must have mislaid it here. This is the drawer, said Alice eagerly.

Here was a clew. But the lower part of the drawer was filled with old letters not labeled, yet neatly arranged in files. Suddenly he stopped and said, "Put them back, Alice, at once."

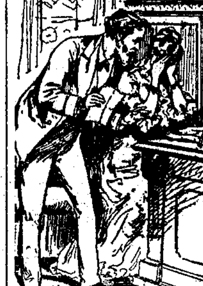
"Why?"

"Some of these letters are in my father's handwriting."

"The more reason why I should see them," said the girl imperatively. "Here, you take part and I'll take part and we'll get through quicker."

There was a certain decision and independence in her manner which he had learned to respect. He took the letters and in silence read them with her. They were old college letters, so filled with boyish dreams, ambitions, aspirations, and Utopian theories, that I fear neither of these young people even recognized their parents in the dead ashes of the past. They were both grave, until Alice uttered a little hysterical cry and dropped her face in her hands. Joe was instantly beside her.

"It's nothing; Joe, nothing. Don't read it, please; please, don't. It's so funny! It's so very queer!"



"It's nothing, Joe, nothing. Don't read it."

But Joe had, after a slight, half-playful struggle, taken the letter from the girl. Then he read aloud the words written by his father thirty years ago:

"I thank you, dear friend, for all you say about my wife and boy. I thank you for reminding me of our boyish compact. He will be ready to fulfill it, I know, if he loves those his father loves; even if you should marry years later. I am glad for your sake, for both our sakes, that it is a boy. Heaven send you a good wife, dear Adams, and a daughter, to make my son equally happy."

Joe Silsbie looked down, took the half-laughing, half-tearful face in his hands, kissed her forehead, and, with tears in his grave eyes, said, "Amen!"

* * * * * * *

I am inclined to think that this sentiment was echoed heartily by Mrs. Rightbody's former acquaintances, when, a year later, Miss Alice was united to a professional gentleman of honor and renown, yet who was known to be the son of a convicted horse thief. A few remembered the previous Californian story, and found corroboration therefor; but a majority believed it a just reward to Miss Alice for her conduct to Mr. Marvin, and, as Miss Alice cheerfully accepted it in that light, I do not see why I may not end my story with happiness to all concerned.

THE END.

The "old reliable"—Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

A Few of Them.

"Pies Open all Night" is a sign in a New York restaurant, and a Bowery placard reads: "Home-made Dining-rooms. Family Oysters." A West Broadway restaurateur sells "Home-made Pies, Pastry and Oysters." An East Broadway caterer retails "Fresh Salt Oysters and Lager Beer." A Sixth avenue barber hangs out a sign reading: "Boots Polished Inside." On another street the following catches the eye: "Washin Inside, and Goin Out by the Day done here."

All disorders caused by a bilious state of the system can be cured by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. No pain, [illegible]

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhœa, Eructation, Kills Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion. Without injurious medication.

The Centaur Company, [illegible] Fulton Street, N. Y.

PRESERVE YOUR HEALTH.

ROGERS' GRAPOLINE

ROGERS
GRAPOLINE

Can always be relied upon as a pleasant, mild, speedy, and POSITIVE CURE in all cases of Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Flatulency, Fullness of Blood, and all Inflammatory Complaints where A Gentle, Cooling Cathartic is required. Chemist, physician, and public with one accord pronounce it unequalled as an Aperient and Refrigerant. Be prudent and have a bottle always within reach. "A stitch in time saves nine." Remember that the slight internal disorder of to-day may become an obstinate, incurable disease to-morrow.

Sold by all Druggists. A. H. ROGERS & CO. Geneseo, N. Y.

BOOKS, THREE CENTS EACH.

The following books are published in neat pamphlet form, many of them handsomely illustrated, and all are printed from good type upon good paper. Please examine the list and see if you do not find therein some that you would like to possess. In cloth-bound form these books would cost $1.00 each. Each book is complete in itself:

Anecdotes of the Rebellion. A collection of humorous, pathetic, and thrilling narratives of the war, stories of bivouac and battle-field, march and picket, adventures of scouts and spies, stories of prison life, of the great Generals, of Mr. Lincoln, etc.

The Life of General U. S. Grant. By W. A. Peters. With portrait and other illustrations.

Poems, by John G. Whittier. The only cheap edition published—should be in every household. Illustrated.

Poems, by Henry W. Longfellow. No one can afford to be without this fine collection. Illustrated.

Poems, by Alfred Tennyson. This work contains some of the finest compositions of the great Poet Laureate.

Parlor Amusements. A large collection of Acting Charades, Parlor Dramas, Shadow Pantomimes, Games, Puzzles, etc., for social gatherings, public and private entertainments and evenings at home. Illustrated.

Manual of Floriculture. Teaches the best method of propagating all the different plants, tells how to cure disease and eradicate insect pests, gives directions for making beautiful floral and other devices, for window gardening, etc. Illustrated.

Guide to Needlework, Knitting and Crochet. Containing designs and directions for all kinds of Fancy Needlework, Artistic Embroidery, Lace Work, Knitting, Tatting, Crochet and Net Work. Illustrated.

Famous Detective Stories. A collection of thrilling narratives of Detective experience, many of them written by actual members of the profession.

Yankee Wit and Humor. A collection of humorous stories, sketches, poems and paragraphs, by the leading funny men of the American press. Illustrated.

The Mystery at Blackwood Grange. A Novel. By Mrs. May Agnes Fleming.

The Evil Genius. A Novel. By M. T. Caldor.

The Story of a Storm. A Novel. By Mrs. Jane G. Austin.

Out of the Sea. A Novel. By Clara Augusta.

Agatha's History. A Novel. By Margaret Blount.

The Morwick Farm Mystery. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins. Illustrated.

The Last of the Ruthvens. A Novel. By Miss Mulock. Illustrated.

A Dead Heart. A Novel. By Author of "Dora Thorne."

Out of the Depths. A Novel. By Hugh Conway.

The Romantic Adventures of a Milkmaid. A Novel. By Thomas Hardy.

In the Holidays. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay.

The Heir to Ashley. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood.

Miss or Mrs.? A Novel. By Wilkie Collins. Illustrated.

More Bitter than Death. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."

Carriston's Gift. A Novel. By Hugh Conway. Ill'd.

The Fatal Lilies. A Novel. By Author of "Dora Thorne."

A Shadow on the Threshold. A Novel. By Mary C. Hay.

The Curse of Carew. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."

The Blatchford Bequest. A Novel. By Hugh Conway. Illustrated.

A Queen Amongst Women. A Novel. By the author of "Dora Thorne."

The Fatal Marriage. A Novel. By Miss M. E. Braddon.

A Tale of Sin. A Novel. By Mrs. Henry Wood.

A Bridge of Love. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."

A Passive Crime. A Novel. By "The Duchess."

Ingledew House. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."

The Knightsbridge Mystery. A Novel. By Charles Reade. Illustrated.

Wedded and Parted. A Novel. By author of "Dora Thorne."

A Fortune Hunter. A Novel. By Annie Thomas. Ill'd.

Among the Ruins. A Novel. By Mary Cecil Hay. Ill'd.

Rose Lodge. A Novelette. By Mrs. Henry Wood.

We will send any four of the above books by mail post-paid upon receipt of only Twelve Cents; any ten for 25 Cents; any twenty-five for 50 Cents; the entire list (40 books) for 75 Cents; the entire list bound in boards with cloth back, for $1.10. These are the cheapest books ever published and guaranteed worth three times the money asked for them. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Postage stamps taken for fractions of a dollar. As to our reliability, we refer to any newspaper published in New York, likewise to the Commercial Agencies.

Special Offer! To every one sending for the entire list of books as above, we will send, without extra charge, either sixty cents' worth of the Imperial Pinned Paper Patterns, to be selected by yourself from a catalogue which will be sent you, or The People's Home Journal, a large 16-page, 64-column illustrated literary paper, for one year. All orders filled by return mail.

Address all letters: F. M. LUPTON, Publisher, No. 8 Park Place, New York.

A "Bear" in the Book Market.

People generally have supposed that The Literary Revolution brought the prices of books down to the very bottom. The supposition was a mistake. Alden has recently made a reduction all along the line—a reduction so great as to be a startling surprise to book-buyers, and an amasement to book publishers. He says continued reduction in the cost of manufacture, and a continually widening market warrant it. He says still lower prices are possible if purchasers can be sufficiently multiplied—it would seem as if he were bound to make a customer of every one who can read! Tennyson's "Enoch Arden" for 2 cents! Guizot's France 427 fine illustrations, reduced from $34.00 to $4.50, and so on, ad infinitum! A novel scheme which he has recently put forward to tempt book lovers is a "Provident Book Club," which secures each member a $6.00 library for installments of 50 cents a month, or a larger library for proportionate payments. His new 64-page Alphabetical Catalogue is a very wonder in its literary attractions—it and particulars of that club sent free to any applicant. Address John B. Alden, Publisher, New York or Chicago.

A Remarkable Case.

Oct. 21st, 1886.

MESSRS W. H. HOOKER & CO.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable. I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. He is apparently on the road to entire recovery, in the near future. I cheerfully confirm and attest to the above and believe others (from my statement) suffering, may have reason to believe in the efficacy of this excellent remedy. Very Truly,

MRS. LESAGE.
26m6 Fulton, N. Y.

Extensive Banking Business.

A Pittsburgh oil broker received the following order from a lady who desired to make some pin money in oil: "Dear Sir—Please buy me 10,000 barrels of oil at 90 cents and sell at $1.10. Remit me the difference, less your commission. Upon the promptness with which you execute this order depends my future patronage. Very Respectfully."

[illegible]

LATE FASHIONS.

What the Winter Season Brings Forth—Notes on the Styles.

Tight fitting closed doors are popular with all classes.

Frozen water pipes are quite fashionable. Some are cut on the bias while others are trimmed with last season's garments.

Coal is fast giving way to ashes which are often seen a yard wide with heavy pile.

Seal brown flapjacks with scholloped edges are in demand for morning use. The popular trimmings are silver drip and old gold.

Rubbers are still worn, at the heel.

Last winter's overcoats are as fashionable as ever.

Many evening dresses are still worn with arms around them. There is no fear of this costume going out of style.

Last winters pants are worn with fringe around the bottoms.

Square meals are still popular with the masses.

Last years's almanacs are rapidly going out of date.

Watches that stop three or four times a day and lose three or four hours in the twenty-four are not considered the correct thing.

Winners at progressive euchre are looked upon with favor.

Jail windows are still barred.

The best newspapers are read.—[Exchange.

Consumption is positively cured by Carter's Little Liver Pills. Not by purging and weakening the bowels, but by regulating and strengthening them. This is done by improving the digestion and stimulating the liver to the proper secretion of bile, when the bowels will perform their customary functions in an easy and natural manner. Purgative pills must be avoided. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Price 25 cents.

Good Time Coming.

Mr. Winks—"Photography is making a wonderful progress, I see."

Mrs. Winks—"Yes, it is wonderful. Why, I saw a photograph of the moon not long ago, and—".

"But I am referring to the instantaneous processes. The paper says that they can now take the likeness of a flying rifle ball or a flash of lightning."

"Isn't that splendid! By and by maybe, they will get so they can photograph a baby without getting mad."—[Omaha World.

If there ever was a specific for any one complaint, then Carter's Little Liver Pills are a specific for sick headache, and every woman should know this. Only one pill a dose.

E. J. Baldwin's ("Lucky" Baldwin) California ranch contains 50,000 acres and employs 250 men.

Physicians prescribe Ayer's Sarsaparilla in cases of scrofula, and in every form of chronic disease, because the medicine is safer to take, and is more highly concentrated, than any other preparatoin. It can always be depended upon as an effective blood purifier.

Reputation is what men think of us; character is what God and the angels [illegible]

NEW HARNESS SHOP.

The Undersigned would respectfully announce to the public [illegible] Harness Shop and is prepared to do all kinds of

REPAIRING

—OF—

HARNESS, TRUNKS, BUGGY TOPS, CUSHIONS, &C. &C.,

As Cheap as the Cheapest.

HARNESS

OF ALL GRADES MADE TO ORDER.

A share of public patronage solicited.
Give us a Call,

C. W. BROWN,
CAYUGA ST., OPPOSITE MIDLAND DEPOT.

SALESMEN WANTED!

We are in want of a few more good men to canvass for the sale of choice varieties of Nursery Stock. To men who can make a success of the business we can pay good salaries or commission and give permanent employment. We have many new and choice specialties both in the fruit and ornamental line which others do not handle.

Address at once, with references,

MAY BROTHERS,
NURSERYMEN,
31w6 Rochester, N. Y.

1886.

New York Weekly Herald

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.

GREATEST AND CHEAPEST

FAMILY JOURNAL

IN THE UNITED STATES.

Always Bright and Reliable.

Every Number an Epitome of the News of the World.

The Foreign Department.

Is unequaled. Latest and most accurate Cable Specials by the Commercial Cables.

Fullest Telegraphic Reports of all Current Events

Special Features.

Practical Farming; Articles on Science, Art, Literature, the Drama, Music, Art, Religion, Fashion and Chess.

INFORMATION ON ALL SUBJECTS.

Address,
JAMES GORDON BENNETT,
NEW YORK HERALD,
29w2 New York City.

THE BEST AMERICAN NEWSPAPER

THE TIMES is a Newspaper for intelligent men and women.

It concerns itself as little as possible with the froth or the dregs of life, and aims to give its readers something more attractive and profitable than a daily chronicle of human follies and frailties.

The really important, wholesome, and interesting news of the day is presented with unsurpassed completeness and accuracy by THE TIMES.

Voters, whatever their party or their politics will find THE TIMES of great value for the fullness of its information and the frankness of its comment upon public affairs; and THE TIMES has abundant evidence that its treatment of leading issues of the day meets with increasing approval.

The WEEKLY edition of THE TIMES contains all the current news condensed from the dispatches and reports of the daily edition, besides literary matter, discussions upon agricultural topics by practical farmers, full and accurate market reports of prices for farm produce, live stock, &c. and a carefully prepared WEEKLY WOOL MARKET.

No other New-York Newspaper so completely meets the wants of country readers.

Terms to Mail Subscribers Postpaid.

DAILY, exclusive of Sunday, per year......$6.00
DAILY, including Sunday, per year.......... 7.50
SUNDAY ONLY, per year.................... 1.50
DAILY, 6 months, with Sunday.............. 3.75
DAILY, 6 months, without Sunday........... 3.00
DAILY, 1 month, with or without Sunday.... 75

THE WEEKLY TIMES.

SINGLE COPIES, one year....................$1.00
TEN COPIES, and one free for club.........10.00
SUBSCRIPTION, for six months............. 50

TERMS CASH IN ADVANCE. These prices are invariable. We have no traveling agents. Remit in drafts on New-York, Postal Notes, or Post Office Money Orders, if possible; and where neither of these can be procured send the money in a registered letter. Sample copies sent free. Address

THE NEW-YORK TIMES,
New-York City.

The Sun.

The Best Newspaper in America, and by far the Most Readable.

Agents wanted everywhere to earn money in distributing the Sun's Premiums.

The most interesting and advantageous offers ever made by any Newspaper.

No Subscriber ignored or neglected. Something for all.

Beautiful and Substantial Premiums in Standard Gold and other [illegible] Books, the Best Family [illegible] known to the trade, and an [illegible] of objects of real utility and [illegible].

Rates, by Mail, Postpaid:
DAILY, per Year [illegible]
DAILY, per [illegible]
SUNDAY, per Year [illegible]
FOR EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR [illegible]
WEEKLY, per Year [illegible]
[illegible]

C. S. EGGLESTON,
[illegible]
BOOKS, [illegible]
WAL[illegible]

Business Cards.

MORRILL BROS., Fine Job Printers, [illegible] Street, over Eggleston's book store. [illegible] of every description executed in a superior manner at fair prices.

H. W. SUMMERVILLE, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, [illegible] etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
33 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.

Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

COAL.

—GO TO—

LEWIS' COAL YARD,

OPPOSITE GAS WORKS,

—For the Celebrated—

LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼to
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.

Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.

THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

NEW STORE

NEW GOODS!

NEWELL R. COLE

Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of

Undertaking Goods,

—OF THE—

LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.

Furniture Rpairing

done on short notice.
Remember the Place.

Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, adivce, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.

Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

LUMBER! LUMBER.

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed

DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,

&c. &c.

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

O. RUST.

37tf

O. F. HANCOCK,

196 West First St., Oswego, N. Y.

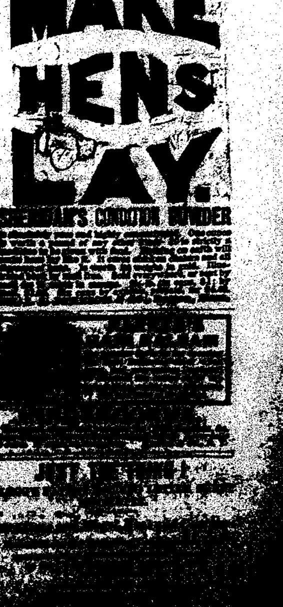
—AGENT FOR THE CELEBRATED—

Decker Brothers'

Matchless Pianos.

THE VERY BEST PIANOS.

Prices as low as possible consistent with the highest standard.



NEVER WAS THERE SUCH A COLLECTION OF

CHOICE CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Offered at Lower Prices. We make it an object for all visitors to come and see us. We do no propose to be Excelled in Quality, Quantity or any other desirable feature,

INCLUDING PRICES. We know we can please everybody because our stock contains all useful and desirable gifts. In addition to our Innumerable Bargains we place on sale to-morrow morning

400 PAIR ALL WOOL LADIES HOSE,

At the Exceptional Low Price of 19cts.

H. & A. ROSENBLOOM, - - - - DRY GOODS AND CLOTHING.

THE FULTON TIMES
AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER
ISSUED EVERY WEDNESDAY
Office: Second Floor, Saunderson Block, First Street—Opposite Lewis House.

TERMS—One Dollar and Twenty-five Cents a year in advance. An additional charge of ten cents for postage on papers going out of Oswego county.

Correspondence must be accompanied by a responsible name as a private guarantee of good faith

Terms of advertising made known on application in person or by letter.

Job printing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed at reasonable prices.

Entered in the Post Office at Fulton, N. Y., as second class matter.

Address all communications, on business or publication, to THE TIMES.

F. D. VANWAGENEN,
Proprietor.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the post office, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not—is responsible for the pay.

The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office, or moving away and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

I can't help telling the Truth as I view it and describing what I see. To describe it otherwise than it seems to me would be falsehood in that calling in which it has pleased Heaven to place me.
[THACKERAY.

JAS. R. FAIRGRIEVE - EDITOR

The trade in cheese is now of small dimensions. At the Little Falls market Monday 366 boxes were sold at 11 cents and 265 boxes were consigned. This winds up the cheese trade there for the season. At the same market forty packages of dairy butter sold at 19 to 23 cents, the bulk at 23 cents.

Governor Hill has been asked to pardon Mrs. Harriet Van Auken, who is serving a life sentence in the Onondaga penitentiary for the murder of her husband at Parish on July 17, 1877. She shot Mr Van Auken and cut his body into pieces, which she carried away in three bags and buried in a swamp at night. She has a cancer and physicians say she hasn't very long to live.

Read the many local announcements in this issue of THE TIMES and make your purchases accordingly. Announcements of nearly every branch of trade are to be found.

A large stock of new Ball cards and Invitations at THE TIMES office. Call and see them before ordering elsewhere.

My Favorite Receipt.

Some time ago the Royal Baking Powder Co., conceived the idea of collecting from its patrons, for redistribution among them when printed in book farm, their best and favorite methods for the preparation of food of all descriptions. In response there were furnished a very large number of practical receipts, from which were selected the 3,000 contained in the book entitled "My Favorite receipt." The publication was intended originally for the contributors only, but the collection proved to be of such remarkable value that its publishers believing its circulation would be productive of good in affording a larger knowledge as to the practical preparation of real home cookery in a way to make it most wholesome and appetizing have issued an edition for general circulation, which is sold at cost of production and postage. "My Favorite Receipt" contains formulas for the preparation of almost every known dish in every conceivable way. These have been classified into departments representing Soups and Broths, Fish and Shell Fish, Vegetables, Meats, Stews, Poultry and Game, Eggs, Salads, Desserts, Breads, Cake, Condiments, Beverages, Ices, Preserves and Pickles, Preserved Meats, Canned Vegetables, etc., to which a copious index is added. Every branch of the culinary art has received ample attention. The publication is one of unusual value, from the fact that the receipts are thoroughly tested formulas of genuine home cookery. In it each contributor vouches for the utility of her receipt not only, but attests that years of experience have proved it the best way of making the article named, and signs her name and address to it as evidence of its genuineness and her faith in its superiority.

The practical character of the receipts will especially commend them to American housekeepers. While cookery of the very finest and richest, as well as that more plain and economical, is provided for, "My Favorite Receipt" is not, like many of the cook books of the day, a collection of impracticable, fanciful, or foreign formulas, following which frequently results in a fatigue and a waste of good materials. The contributors are from every part of the country and give the best experience of the best cooks [illegible] to each locality.

"My [illegible]

Gilberts Mills.

The Hamlin Bros. have a fine line of holiday goods.

The singing school still continues at the M. E. church under the charge of Mr. Henderson of Fulton.

There will be singing and speaking at the M. E. church on New Years eve.

John Wilcox is to do the work in A. T. Mason's saw mill. He will board at Mrs. Evans'.

Mrs. Crane the aged sister of Capt. Cook has left for Illinois, a long journey for her to undertake alone.

The donation for the benefit of Elder Denny last Thursday was well attended, considering the wild weather. The receipts amounted to $24.

A festival and oyster supper will be held in the Free Baptist church on Christmas eve. There will be on that occasion a review and speaking and singing by the children of the Sunday school. All are cordially invited.

Mrs. Daniel Carter and Mrs. H. Carrier are both on the sick list.

G. A. Cannain is still unable to do any work.

Mrs. W. Chaffee, who has been sick so long, is slowly improving.

Out with the stocking for old Santa Claus, for soon we shall hear the jingle of his bells.

Hannibal Centre.

Mr. Luther Hannan, an old resident, died at his home Monday morning, aged 86 years. Funeral services will be held at the M. E. church to-day at 11 a. m.

Miss Mertie Cram of Oriskany Falls is visiting her sister, Mrs. L. D. Perkins.

Ethan Allen started for his home in Kansas Monday.

Mrs. P. Coton is on the sick list. Dr. Boyd attends her.

John Kanar has gone to Canada to spend the winter.

John Mitchell and family of Lawton, Michigan, are visiting friends in this village.

Another dancing party will be held at the Eaton house Thursday evening, Dec. 23d.

James Goodelle of Union Springs, made his friends in this village a flying visit one day last week.

The next box festival will be held at the home of Albert Sanders. M.

There is nothing in existence that will equal Salvation Oil in curing pains in the joints and muscles, or spinal affections. Price 25 cents.

A preacher who had been annoyed by the incessant "hacking" of members of his congregation, recommended such to try Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Parish.

A large number of piles are being shipped from this place for the purpose of enlarging the locks on the canals.

The writer of this regrets to hear of so many deaths among his personal friends in Fulton.

Supervisor Berry of this town is causing considerable excitement in the Board of Supervisors in presenting matters for their consideration: One is the failure of the Board heretofore in setting apart the taxes on railroads for a sinking fund to pay the railroad bonds given by the several towns. We are glad to see that Supervisor Rice and Berry are a unit in stopping the payment of useless appropriations.

WANTED.

1500 persons to use Higgins' T. & O Compound, cures Coughs and Colds like magic.

Vienna Bakery.

There is always in stock at the Vienna Bakery the largest, freshest and finest assortment of confectionery, foreign and domestic fruits, to be found in Fulton. Confectionery from 12 cents upward. A fresh supply of crackers, bread and cake constantly on hand. Call and examine my stock. JOHN BARKER,
18tf 26 First st

Wm. Rogers Silver Knives only $1.43 a set at Sylvesters'. 32t3

Novelty Custom Mill.

E. G. Hubbard having leased the NOVELTY CUSTOM MILL recently run by Patterson & Smith, situated just below the paper mill of Weeks & Redhead, and having secured the services of an experienced miller, will be pleased to see all his own friends and the public generally who require any flour or feed grinding done. Flour and feed constantly on hand. Call and try us and we guarantee satisfaction. Flour and feed delivered to any part of Fulton and Oswego Falls free of charge. 18t26

—FOR THE—
HOLIDAY SEASON!
SNOW & LOOMIS,
have a fine assortment of
POCKET CUTLERY,
[illegible]

Literary Note from the Century Co.

The sales of The Century Magazine have gone up over 30,000 copies in six weeks, since beginning the Life of Lincoln. A second edition of December was issued on the 15th. A veteran New York publisher predicts that the permanent edition of the magazine will go beyond 300,000 before the completion of the Lincoln history. The January installment, which is said by the editors to be of most surpassing interest, occupies thirty pages of the magazine, and treats of Mr. Lincoln's settlement in Springfield; his practice of law in that city; the Harrison campaign; Lincoln's marriage; his friendship with the Speeds of Kentucky; the Shields duel; and the campaign of 1844. The illustrations are numerous, including portraits of Joshua Speed and wife, of Mrs. Lucy G. Speed, Milton Hay, President Harrison, General Shields, William H. Herndon (the law partner of Mr. Lincoln), and Mr. Lincoln himself, from the photograph presented by him to Mrs. Lucy G. Speed in 1861. Pictures are given of the house where Lincoln was married, also the house where he lived after his marriage, etc., etc.

Lippincott's.

The January number of Lippincott's Monthly Magazine presents a splendid array of names: Julian Hawthorne, Sidney Luska, Austin Dobson, Rose Elizabeth Cleveland, Walt Whitman, Edgar Fawcett and Barrett Wendell. Julian Hawthorne contributes the complete novel "Sinfire," which is as weild and strange as its title.

One of the chief contributions to this number is the satirical poem by Miss Cleveland "The Delemma of the Nineteenth Century." It is the presentation of her views on the women question. A poem cast in narrative form. The views of the author and the poem itself are being widely discussed. Everything is unusually bright and entertaining. Altogether this is the most brilliant number of Lippincott's Magazine in the history of the periodical.

Money to be Made.

It is said that dull times are not known by the agents for the great publishing house of George Stinson & Co., of Portland, Maine. The reason of this exceptional success is found in the fact that they always give the public that which is keenly appreciated and at prices that all can afford. At present we understand, their agents are doing wonderfully well on several new lines. They need more agents in all parts of the country. Those who need profitable work should apply at once. Women do as well as men. Experience is not necessary, for Messrs. Stinson & Co. undertake to show all who are willing to work, not hard but earnestly, the path to large success. It should be remembered that an agent can do a handsome business without being away from home over night. Another advantage—it costs nothing to give the business a trial, and an agent can devote all his time or only his spare moments to it. Stinson & Co. guarantee grand success to all who engage and follow simple and plain directions that they give. We have not space to explain all here, but full particulars will be sent free to those who address the firm; their full address is given above.

The very choicest qualities of teas, coffees and spices and all shelf groceries sold for cash at WHOLESALE PRICES at J. Cooley Tucker's crockery store. 24tf

Try India Pale Ale. It is the best. To be had at Miller's Opera House Restaurant. 30tf.

I cannot sell groceries, tea, coffee, spices, etc, on credit at wholesale prices. J. COOLEY TUCKER. 10tf

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

An elegant line of Hammered Brass Goods at M. M. Williams' Drug Store. 31tf

Remember the place to buy unadulterated groceries CHEAP is at the sign of the Red store No. 18 First street opposite the Lewis house.
24tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar. 26t9

An endless variety of Fancy Holiday Goods at M. M. Williams' drug store.

Regular dinner at Kendall's every day for 20 cents.

Those desiring Photographs for the Holidays would do well to secure their sittings at once. We have just received a new line of Scenery and accessories for Holiday work. A new line of plush cabinet Frames in desirable patterns. Darrow, Patriot Building, Cor. 2d and Oneida Sts. [illegible]

—IF YOUR—
HORSE IS LAME
[illegible]

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our Regular Correspondent]
WASHINGTON, Dec. 18, 1886.

The second week of the session finds Congress grappling with a number of important questions. Among them are the Tariff, Interstate Commerce, the Tenure of Office Act, the Indian problem, the Sundry Civil bill, Congressmen acting as attorneys for subsidized railroads and secret sessions.

The House of Representatives declared emphatically that the Yellow State National Park shall not be desecrated by a railroad. There was quite a spirited debate on the subject. Hon. S. S. Cox thought the bill asking for such a privilege should be entitled a measure "for the spoliation of the the National Park." The measure, he said, had its origin in corporate greed. Behind it, no doubt, were railroad monopolists, and men who worked, not in the interests of the people of the United States, but for themselves.

Half a dozen Congressmen, for or against the scheme were drawn briefly into the debate, and one of them was representative Kelly, of Pennsylvania, who is called the father of the House, because of his age and long service. He has been in Congress over thirty consecutive years, and is the oldest man in the lower branch. Mr. Kelly implored the House to stand by the sanctity of the one national park on this continent, and to protest against any action which would encourage other speculators to ask the American Congress to allow them to invade that territory.

Naturally Senator Beck is indignant to find a substitute reported for his original bill prohibiting members of Congress from acting as attorneys or employes for railroad companies which hold charters on land grants or other aid from the United States. Outside of the Senate and railroad circles the Beck bill is regarded as a measure that should have been a law long ago.

Contending for the consideration of his bill, the Kentucky Senator said it was indecent for Senators and Members to sit and vote upon measures affecting great railroad companies to the amount of hundreds of millions while having the money of those companies in their pockets. Public right and the honor of every Senator and Representative was involved in having the world to understand that no man was sitting in either House as the hireling or the retained attorney, or the agent of any of these subsidized railroad corporations.

It will be interesting to the old Mexican veterans over the country to know the exact condition of the Mexican Pension bill at this time. The House passed it and the Senate amended it so as to restrict the beneficiaries to veterans who have attained the age of 62 years. It is now before the House for action, but for some reason Representative Eldridge, of Michigan, Chairman of the committee which has the matter in charge, does not seem anxious to push it. Friends of the bill, unwilling that there should be any longer delay, propose now to press the House to pass it with the Senate amendment, and they are confident that a majority of the Members will vote in its favor.

Tariff conferences have been in order during the entire week, held by the Morrison faction, the Randall faction, and the Republican protectionists, and much interest is felt in regard to what will be done in the House. Mr. Morrison will ask the House to go into a committee of the whole to consider revenue measures, and that means that there will be a test vote in the House at that time to decide whether the proposition to revise the Tariff this winter will be approved or rejected.

According to the new law, the Presidential succession, in case of removal, death, resignation or inability of the Vice-President, the duties of the office are to be assumed by the Cabinet officers in the following order. First, Secretary of State; Second, Secretary of the Treasury; Third, Secretary of War; Fourth, Attorney General; and then the Postmaster General, Secretary of the Navy and Secretary of Interior. Consequently official society is agitated over precedence. Who shall ride first, walk first, talk first, call first, and sit nearest the distinguished host, the Senator's wife or the Cabinet officer's wife? It is a matter that could not be settled by haphazard concessions and so it has been suggested to the ladies that the oldest be allowed to go first.

Two notable women have lectured here during the week, on subjects pertaining to the interests of womankind. [illegible] for the emancipation of [illegible] from the degradation of [illegible] in Utah, and Mrs. Jenness Miller talked for the liberation of all women from the bondage of bustles, [illegible] and all other [illegible] to woman's [illegible]

COUNTY NEWS.

A Christmas ball will be held at the Empire House, Constantia, on Friday eve. Music will be furnished by Reynolds' orchestra, of this village.

Charles Hines, while felling a tree about two miles north of Phoenix last week Tuesday was killed. When the top of a tree struck the ground the butt was raised, striking him on the breast and killing him instantly.

Henry Bourtin has been appointed Postmaster at East Palermo, N. Y.

The appointment of George A. Wales of Scriba, as deputy sheriff has been filed in the county clerk's office.

Big hog stories are floating in. Geo. F. West of Phoenix comes to the front with one weighing 633 lbs.

E. H. Carnes & Company's large box shook factory at Oswego took fire last Thursday morning and in less than an hour was in ruins. The loss is estimated at $40,000 with an insurance of $37,000.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure now on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials. Address,

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
☞ Sold by Druggists, 75 cts.
30w4

Board of Trustees' Proceedings.

FULTON, N. Y., Dec. 15th, 1886.

Board met pursuant to adjournment.

Present, Trustees, Chase, More, Bradford, Kendrick and Pardee.

On motion of Trustee Pardee, Trustee, Chase was made President pro tem.

The President came in and assumed his station and duties.

The following bills were reported correct by the Finance Committee and the same were audited at the amounts claimed:

Geo. Johnson, labor and material	$16.10
M. C. Highriter, salary ¼ year,	25.00
" " janitor, etc,	4.00
J. M. Campbell, casting for drain covers,	13.79
Geo. F. Sharp, highway work,	31.00
Mary J. Hornibrook, rent of barn	12.50
D. C. More & Co. rubber coats,	14.00
F. E. Goodjon, rubber boots for hose Co's.	13.00
F. W. Richardson 2 lanterns for fire dept.	2.00
John White, gas for jail,	2.25
" " street lamps	81.00
Willard Johnson, lumber for cross walks.	8.57

On motion it was resolved that the Clerk cause that part of the village ordinances relative to the cleaning of sidewalks of snow and ice be published with the proceedings.

§. 37. Every owner or occupant of any house, or other building, or the owner or proprietor, lessee or person entitled to the possession of any vacant lot and every person having charge of any church, cemetery, jail, or other public building in this village, shall, during the winter season, and during the time snow shall continue on the ground within two hours after verbal notice by the President, Street Commissioner, a Trustee or Policeman clear the the side walk in front of such house or other building, and in front of such lot from snow and ice, and keep them conveniently free therefrom during the day, or shall in case the snow and ice are so congealed that they cannot be removed without injury to the pavement or sidewalk, cause the said snow and ice to be strewn with ashes or sand; and shall also at all times keep such sidewalk clean and free from all dirt, filth, or other incumbrances, so as to allow the citizens using the said sidewalk in an easy manner; and every person neglecting to comply with this law, shall forfeit two dollars for each neglect or refusal; and the Street Commissioner, the Trustees, Police Officers and Constables are especially enjoined to see this law carried into effect; and the Street Commissioner is hereby directed to preserve unobstructed, and in condition to allow citizens using the same, the walks in and around the public squares at the expense of the highway fund.

§. 45. When ever there shall be a default in cleaning the sidewalk of this village from snow and ice as required by the 37th section of this chapter, the Street Commissioner shall cause the same to be cleaned, the expense thereof shall be a charge upon the lot premises in front of which such cleaning is done.

On motion the Board adjourned to Wednesday evening next at 7½ p. m.

M. C. HIGHRITER, Clerk.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT.—County of Oswego.—ss. Perry H. Simons, vs. George H. Simons, [illegible]

For Toilet Use.

Ayer's Hair Vigor keeps the hair soft and pliant, imparts to it the lustre and freshness of youth, causes it to grow luxuriantly, eradicates Dandruff, cures all scalp diseases, and is the most cleanly of all hair preparations.

AYER'S Hair Vigor has given me perfect satisfaction. I was nearly bald for six years, during which time I used many hair preparations, but without success. Indeed, what little hair I had, was growing thinner, until I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor. I used two bottles of the Vigor, and my head is now well covered with a new growth of hair. —Judson B. Chapel, Peabody, Mass.

HAIR that has become weak, gray, and faded, may have new life and color restored to it by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. "My hair was thin, faded, and dry, and fell out in large quantities. Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped the falling, and restored my hair to its original color. As a dressing for the hair, this preparation has no equal.—Mary N. Hammond, Stillwater, Minn.

VIGOR, youth, and beauty, in the appearance of the hair, may be preserved for an indefinite period by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. "A disease of the scalp caused my hair to become harsh and dry, and to fall out freely. Nothing I tried seemed to do any good until I commenced using Ayer's Hair Vigor. Three bottles of this preparation restored my hair to a healthy condition, and it is now soft and pliant. My scalp is cured, and it is also free from dandruff.—Mrs. E. R. Foss, Milwaukee, Wis.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
Sold by Druggists and Perfumers.

PERFECT SAFETY, prompt action, and wonderful curative properties, easily place Ayer's Pills at the head of the list of popular remedies for Sick and Nervous Headaches, Constipation, and all ailments originating in a disordered Liver.

I have been a great sufferer from Headache, and Ayer's Cathartic Pills are the only medicine that has ever given me relief. One dose of these Pills will quickly move my bowels, and free my head from pain.—William L. Page, Richmond, Va.

Ayer's Pills,
Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.
Sold by all Dealers in Medicine.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO.,
New York City.

THE NEW QUININE.

KASKINE
WHAT THE
PHYSICIANS
SAY ABOUT IT IN
RHEUMATISM,
MALARIA, DYSPEPSIA,
NERVOUS DEBILITY,
LIVER, LUNG AND KIDNEY DISEASE.

The eminent and celebrated Dr. Glosser writes: The Kaskine Co.—Dear Sirs.—"The first greatest successes I had with Kaskine were in chills and fever, malaria, nervous debility, [illegible]

HOLIDAY GOODS

HOLIDAY GOODS
CHEAPEST
AND BEST AT GIESLER'S
OPERA HOUSE DRUG STORE!

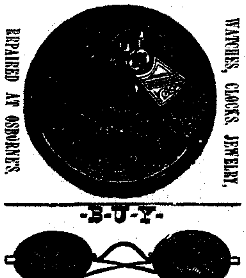
AT H. C. GIESLER'S.

SOME THING NEW FOR YOU.

Why not start a business of your own? We make every reader of THE FULTON TIMES the grandest offer any Responsible House can make you. Hitherto Photography was considered an art requiring years of study and practice, and very costly apparatus, but since the introduction of Gelatine Bromide Process dry plates, any one having common sense and a small capital to buy an outfit will be able to make the finest Photographs without the aid of a teacher, either to make money or merely for amusement. Boys, Young Men and Ladies cannot engage in a more profitable business than photography. Hundreds will employ you to photo Houses, Landscapes, Residences, Family Groups, Farm Stock, Factories, etc. You start out in the morning with a good stock of Dry Plates and Camera in hand, all weighing but a few pounds, approach a residence, and the novelty of having a photographer with full equipment appear unexpectedly at the very door, at once excites curiosity; the whole family cannot resist the temptation to have a photograph of themselves or some favorite article and it is so "cute" to have it done right at home, no fixing up to do. Every negative is worth from $1.00 to $10.00 to you. The Empire Camera is without doubt the most beautiful and finely executed piece of mechanism ever offered to the public in the shape of a Camera. It is made of mahogany and is highly polished, with nickle trimmings, strong and light, combining all the fine parts that go to make up a fine piece of apparatus. It will make portraits indoors or out, also landscapes; 5x8 Portraits, Cabinets and cards. The Empire Equipement complete consists of one 5x8 Camera, one Double Dry Plate Holder, one Lense (extra good), one Tripod, one handsomely varnished Wooden Carrying Case, One Complete Chemical Outfit, and one complete Printing Outfit 81 Different articles, all boxed for $30, $10 with order and balance, $20 C. O. D. If you will send this advertisement and $30 in full Before March 1st, 1887, we will place in box one Negative Box worth $2.50 Free. Do not be deceived by Cheap Photo Equipments. You better pay a few dollars more and get something you are not ashamed to uncover before people. 80 page book "How to make Photos" and 5x8 Portrait made by Empire Camera 24 cts. (none free.) We could give hundreds of references if necessary, but only have space for a few. Write and enclose stamp, they will tell you what they think of the Empire Equipment: W. E. Crumrine, Akron, Plymouth Co., Iowa; J. H. Bell, Steele, Belmont Co., Ohio; C. H. Smith, Flint, Michigan; Elmer E. Carr, Bynum, Harford Co., Md. Our Twenty-five dollar Magic Lantern, till March 1st, 1887, only twelve dollars; Four dollars Cash and C. O. D. Eight dollars; if you send $12 with order will put 12 slides in box free. Catalogue and References for stamp. Address EMPIRE COPYING COMPANY 381 Canal Street New York. P. S.—Recollect our offer in former issue of this paper headed "Holiday Present," or a Life-Sized framed worth $54 for $9.75, not good after February 1st, after that date it will cost you fifty-four dollars.

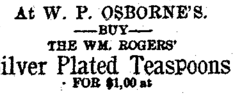
—SELECT YOUR—
CHRISTMAS GIFTS
at W. P. OSBORNE'S.
-BUY-
Hampden Watches,
—AT—
W. P. OSORNE'S.

REPAIRED AT OSBORNE'S.



WATCHES, CLOCKS, JEWELRY,

-B-U-Y-



At W. P. OSBORNE'S.
—BUY—
THE WM. ROGERS'
Silver Plated Teaspoons
FOR $1,00 at
W. P. OSBORNE'S.
15m4

Real Estate and Insurance
AGENCY.

The following described property and other parcels not herein mentioned are offered for sale on easy terms:

A very productive farm of 100 acres, within 4 miles of Fulton. Will exchange for a small farm convenient to a good market.

A smaller farm than one above mentioned, with good buildings, overlooking the river, making it one of the pleasantest farms in Oswego county.

A place of 10 acres in Granby, within 2½ miles of Fulton. Will be sold very cheap. Call and get terms.

A [illegible] acre farm, within a mile of Fulton, will exchange for house and lot in Fulton or Baldwinsville.

Several small places and numerous houses and lots in Fulton will be sold on easy terms.

One entire block, containing [illegible] fine buildings, [illegible] Second block north of Broadway, Oswego Falls, known as the Jas. U. Smith estate.

House and Lot on Oneida St., place needs to be [illegible]

Parties desiring to sell or rent property; to have rents collected or to [illegible]

ONE VOTE

at the polls determined the United States Senatorship in New Jersey. Just $1.50 will secure you the American Agriculturist for 1887, which for half a century has been the recognized leading periodical of its character, and now contains far more illustrations, is larger in every way and better than ever. Postmasters! form clubs.

The JUVENILE, HEARTH and HOUSEHOLD DEPARTMENTS have been enlarged, and HUMBUG Exposures are to receive additional attention.

1,000 ORIGINAL ILLUSTRATIONS.

Every issue of the American Agriculturist contains nearly 100 original illustrations of animals, plants, new farm and household conveniences and appliances, out-door scenes, etc.

SPLENDID ENGRAVINGS FREE!!!

Homes Of Our Farmer Presidents.

It is noteworthy that a majority of our Presidents were reared on farms, or retired from public life to rural scenes. The American Agriculturist is now publishing and sending free to all subscribers, at an outlay of over $30,000, superb engravings (18 by 24 inches in size) of these Homes, together with special descriptive papers by James Parton, Donald G. Mitchell and other eminent living American authors. These Engravings constitute a magnificent portfolio collection of ornaments for the walls of a prince or peasant's home. Subscription for 1887 immediately forwarded are entitled to all the series beginning in May last.

Endorsed by the U. S. Government.

Vol. 5th. Tenth Census, U. S. says: "The American Agriculturist is especially worthy of mention, because of the remarkable success that has attended the unique and untiring efforts of its proprietors to increase and extend its circulation. Its contents are duplicated every month for a German edition' which also circulates widely."

Price $1.50 a year; Single Numbers, 15 cents. Balance of this year FREE to all subscribing Immediately.

Send Six Cents for mailing your Grand Double Number, just out, 32-page Premium List, and Sample Proof of Engravings of "Homes of our Farmer Presidents," together with Description by James Parton. Address
DAVID W. JUDD, Pub.,
751 Broadway, N. Y.
☞ Canvassers wanted everywhere.

NEW C[illegible]
HART & OUTERSON
ARE SELLING THE
Wilkesbarre and Pittston Coal.
THE BEST COAL MINED.
Leave Orders at Hart's Pottery, or Callen's Meat Market and you will find prices very satisfactory.
Coal Delivered in Fulton, or Oswego Falls.
21m3

MONEY to be made. [illegible]

DEL. LACK'NA & WESTERN R. R.

OSWEGO AND SYRACUSE DIVISION.

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

Day Express	8:10 a. m
New York and Philadelphia Express	11:[illegible] a. m
Binghamton and Elmira Express	[illegible] p. m
Syracuse Express	[illegible] p. m.
New York and Phil. Night Express	9:30 p. m

GOING NORTH.

New York and Philadelphia Express	8:16 a. m.
Day Express	12:16 p. m.
Day Express	2:46 p. m.
New York and Philadelphia Express	6:37 p. m.
Evening Express	8:44 p. m.

The 8:16 a. m., and 8:15 p. m., trains will run Sundays.

☞ Sleeping cars attached to night express for New York and Philadelphia.

A. H. SCHWARZ, Ass't. Supt.

N. Y. ONTARIO & WESTERN R. R

Trains leave Fulton Station as follows:

GOING SOUTH.

New York Day Express	7:13 a. m
Freight and Accommodation	8:40 a. m
Norwich Express	3:05 p. m
N. Y. Night Express	9:10 p. m

GOING NORTH.

Ontario Night Express	6:24 a. m
Oswego Express	11:05 a. m.
Freight and accommodation	5:50 p. m.
Oswego Day Express	9:57 p. m.

Syracuse Phoenix & Oswego R. R

Trains leave Fulton station as follows:

	a. m.	a. m.	p. m.	p. m.
For Syracuse,	8:11	11:31	2:31	5:21
For Oswego,	9:19	1:19	3:39	6:29

☞ Trains going north leave the Broadway depot 3 minutes earlier. All trains will stop at both depots.

Miss Ella Harrington visited friends in Phoenix for a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Rowlee visited last Saturday with S. E. Rowlee at Hannibal Centre.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Harmon, and Mrs. Bannester have been visiting at S. Kenyon's. They departed Monday for Cleveland, Ohio.

Mrs. F. N. Brown of Scriba is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. J. Swizer of Oswego Falls who is confined to her bed with a bilious attack.

Yes! Yes! Most Surely!

They are going very quickly that last large lot of Cloaks, in Childrens' and Ladies' as the weather was so warm we cut off most of our profit and let our customers have the goods. We shall let out all the remainder in the same way. Call early at F. E. BACON'S.

C. C. Howes has the implements and is prepared to sharpen knives, scissors, shears &c. of all sizes and grades at his barber shop, basement of Citizens National Bank. 33tf.

Tremendious bargains in every department of H. & A. Rosenbloom's mammoth Dry Goods and Clothing stores.

For Sale or to Rent.

The Loomis Planing mill if not sold by January 1st, will be for rent in whole or part. Enquire of R. B. McCully at the Harness Shop.

Warm weather has shrunk the prices on White Blankets fearfully at the "BEE HIVE." Bennett & Stewart.

If you want a new suit call on Peebles & Cook.

Get your laundry work done at Ying Lee's, corner of First and Oneida streets Ying Lee has been in Fulton over a year and as he has always turned out his work neatly and expediously, his business has constantly increased. Do not send your work out of town but let Ying Lee do it at less cost and annoyance. 7tf

Go to Sylvester's, No. 24 Oneida street for Christmas Presents.

Regular dinner at Kendall's every day for 20 cents.

More Goods for 25c at Williams' than any place in Oswego county. 31tf

India Pale Ale on draught at Miller's Opera House Restaurant 15tf

Special Prices For Carpets, Furniture &c.

A. A. Graff & Co., No's 61 & 63 South Salina Street, Syracuse, offer for the next 30 days, as a special bargain, 100 Parlor suits embossed plush, solid walnut frame, 7 pieces for $35.00; 75 chamber suits, 10 pieces for $25.00; 50 pieces tapestry carpet 60c a yard and 70 pieces extra super ingrain carpet 55c a yard.

We will deliver all purchasers' freight, prepaid to any part of the state. Now the time for Bargains.

A large lot of Stone-ware Butter jars Jugs, Churns, Flower Pots, &c., to be sold at greatly reduced prices by 10tf J. COOLEY TUCKER.

A handsome line of chamber sets just received by J. COOLEY TUCKER. 24tf

You will find the largest assortment of Holiday goods at M. M. Williams' Drug Store. 29tf

[illegible] of Marble [illegible]

"Nevada N. Stranahan, present district attorney of Oswego county, whose portrait appears in this issue of the Globe, was born at Granby, N. Y., February 27th 1851, and passed his boyhood days on his father's farm. In 1880 he began the study of law in the office of Pardee & Piper, of Fulton, N. Y. In 1882 he entered the law department of Columbia College and was admitted to practice in January, 1884, after completing his study with S. B. Mead, the present district attorney of Oswego county, whose assistant and law partner he now is. Mr. Stranahan is of Irish extraction and possesses to a great degree the wit and eloquence attributed to the nationality of his ancestors. Literary in his tastes and possessing a wonderfully rententive memory, his fund of general information and anecdote is inexhustable and combined with fluency of speech makes him brilliant in conversation and an entertaining recontre. Mr. Stranahan, although young in years and practice, has won an enviable reputation among lawyers and is regarded as one of the most promising of the young members of Oswego county bar."

The cut presented a very good likeness of Mr. Stranahan and the large number of this edition of the paper, sent to Fulton met with a ready sale.

Let all who wish any of the bargains at Bacon's come right along with the crowd. We have extra help to wait on you.

Election of Officers.

At a regular meeting of the Father Mathew society held at their rooms on Monday evening Dec. 20th. 1886 the following gentlemen were elected and installed as officers for the next term of six months:

Cornelius S. Murphy, President; Henry Keefe, 1st Vice Pres.; John Carroll, 2d Vice Pres.; Frank Fairbank, Recording Sec.; Martin Dunn, Corresponding Sec.; Henry Bogue, Financial Sec.; Patrick O'Grady, Treasurer; Martin Crahan, Librarian; Peter Conley, Janitor.

This society is in a flourishing condition, now numbers 70 members and new members coming in at every meeting. A pleasant reading room is supplied with daily and weekly papers and is open every evening in the week from 7 o'clock to 9:30. They also have a fine library which is constantly increasing and well patronized by the members, who find it fully as pleasant to spend their evenings there as in the saloons of the village.

Electric Lights.

Five additional electric lights were started last evening and worked very satisfactory. They were placed on the corner of Cayuga and Third; corner of Oneida and Fourth; on Oneida near Eighth; corner of Erie and Sixth and at the foot of Erie near Rust's coal office These make nine of the street lamps that were burning last evening. They made the gas light look dim and gave the people a slight foretaste of how the village will appear when all are in operation. All on the northern circuit would have been going last evening but for a delay in the arrival of pulleys and globes. These are expected daily and when they arrive the work will be completed.

OBITUARY.

The wife of Rev. D. Tully, until recently pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Oswego, died at her home in Medea, Pa., last Saturday. Her remains were brought to Utica for burial.

Eliza M. wife of Cyrus Hall, died at her home in Granby Centre on Sunday, December 19th, aged 64 years. Funeral services were held at the house at 11 o'clock this fornoon the Rev. W. Dempster Chase officiating.

Gold band China Tea Sets only $5.50, at SYLVESTER'S.

M. M. Williams has just returned from New York with the largest assortment of Holiday Goods ever shown in Fulton. Don't fail to see them.

Great Bargains in Overcoats at D. C. More & Co's.

D. C. Draper has opened at No. 34 First St., 1st door south of Lang's Furniture store, with a large stock of Fresh groceries, where he will be glad to see his old customers and new ones. The damaged stock in Oneida St. store will not be on sale until next week.

Those new "Saxoline" Hose at Bacon's, for cold footed people who cannot wear woolen hose are splendid.

Try the Apex 5c. Cigar 26t

HOLIDAY PRESENTS!

That Your Gentlemen Friends will Appreciate.

—AN IMMENSE STOCK OF—

MEN'S AND BOY'S

SUITS AND OVERCOATS,

Fur Caps, Mufflers, Silk Handkerchiefs, Neckties, Gloves, Mittens, Hosiery, Underwear, Scarf Pins, Cuff Buttons, Silk and Alpaca Umbrellas, &c.

D. C. MORE & CO.

We have a large stock of these goods for the Holiday Trade and can please you in Price, Style and Quality. Call and see the goods.

[illegible]

A Ladies' Fine [illegible]
A " " " Oxford Tie Slipper,
A " " " Embroidered Slipper,
A Man's Button, Lace or Congress Shoe,
A " Fine Calf Boot,
A " Fine Patent Leather Oxford Tie,
A " " " " Pump,
A " " Embroidered Slipper,
A Fine line of Boys' Youths' Misses' and Children's Shoes and Slippers.

A bove are a few of many sensible articles we can offer for A Holiday Trade.

A. E. NETTLETON.

Most complete line of Underwear and Hosiery at Peebles & Cook's.

An immense stock of overcoats at Rosenbloom's. Call and see them.

Chauncey Woliver has moved into his new house on Broadway near 5th street.

FOUND.—A sum of money at the "Bee Hive" which owner can have by proving property.

The miniature in Bacon's store windows, representing the Brooklyn bridge attracts considerable attention.

The citizens of Fulton are to give a banquet to the Board of Supervisors at the Lewis house to-morrow evening.

Everyone is invited to call at the Boston Bazaar and look over their large stock of Christmas and New Year presents.

A thief has been making himself felt in Mexico during the past week. Among the things stolen were forty pounds of butter and $50 in money.

Mr. H. D. Wandell of Syracuse, formerly a law student in this village, was married to Miss Hartson of Mexico, in that village last week Tuesday.

The Derville family, with MaGee's Comedy Co., which gave two performances at the opera house last week, made a most favorable impression.

A boom on a steel cable 1½ inches in diameter is being stretched across the river near the old Harroun sawmill for the purpose of stopping the floating ice.

An oil cup accidently fell into one of the Thomson-Houston incandascent machines last Saturday evening and injured it to the extent of several hundred dollars.

Everything in the line of Christmas presents is to be found at the Boston Bazaar. Go and see their large stock and ascertain the prices at which they sell goods.

The managers of the opera house have done everything possible to give intelligent people profitable and instructive entertainment and we hope it will be appreciated and patronized.

There will be a Grand Holiday excursion to New York to-morrow on the D. L. & W. R.R. from Oswego and Fulton. The fare for the round trip is $7.00. Good for return passage on all regular trains up to and including Jan'y. 3d, 1887.

Our local merchants have excellent lines of holiday goods. Read their advertisements in THE TIMES and purchase of them. Out of town merchants have no interest in you or your village. Local merchants have, therefore patronize them. Keep your trade at home and assist in increasing the activity of the village.

Amberena Water Sets $2.30 32t3 at SYLVESTER'S

A WOOL HOSE

To-morrow and next day a 30c. Hose on sale for 19c. at BACON'S.

D. C. Draper has opened at No. 34 First St., 1st door south of Lang's Furniture store, with a large stock of Fresh groceries, where he will be glad to see his old customers and new ones. The damaged stock in Oneida St. store will not be on sale until next week.

Found—On First street near the Lewis House, a pair of spectacles. The owner may have the same by calling at this office and paying for local.

Try the Conductor 5c. cigar, the finest 5c. cigar in town. Sold by W. J. Watson. 26w9.

CUTTERS AND ROBES!

Don't buy until you have been to McCully's. You will be astonished at the low prices for such good goods.

BEWARE.

Beware my friend! That cough is killing you. Higgins' T. & C. Compound will cure it.

Regular dinner at Kendall's every day for 20 cents.

A Holiday gift that any lady will appreciate, A Ladies' Friend Carpet Sweeper. For sale by N. R. Cole, Oneida st. 32w3

First class dress-maker to go out by the day, in country or village, also work done at home, by MISS KATIE COLLINS, 65 Second street, up stairs. 2w.

You can find the best assortment of Mufflers and Silk Handkerchiefs at D. C. More & Co's.

Fancy Goods! Staple Goods! Woolen Goods and Cotton Goods!

All kinds of Dry Goods are selling at BACON'S. We are making an extra effort to sell an immense quantity before Jan'y. Let and all legitimate means will be used to accomplish that the end. Look out for low prices especially at F. E. BACON'S

D. C. Draper [illegible]

The Recent Fair.

The Catholic Fair held in the village last week under the supervision of the pastor Rev. Father Kearney was a grand success, socially, financially and in every way. Large numbers assembled at the hall every evening. It is said that the receipts were over $1,000. The following were the winners of the different prizes:

Miss Anna Murphy, plush clock; David Allen, pr. bronze statues; E. A. Waugh, suit of clothes; D. C. More, carving knife and fork; Wm. Coleman, smoking set; Mamie Collins, marble top table; Mrs. Jenkins, mirror; Mrs. Geo. Foster, dressing case; Wm. Kelly, box cigars; Jas. Otis, smoking set; Mrs. Murphy, set knives and forks; Wm. Bowen, violin and case; Mrs. Miles Ellis, doll; Pat Farley, ton coal; Geo. Creaver, bbl. flour; Frank McCann, pr. shoes; Jas. Fitz Simmons, picture of Father Earley; Mrs. Sallidan, baby's cloak; Cornelius Murphy, chair.

We wish Everyone, old and young a Merry Christmas. F. E. BACON.

Masonic Information.

At the regular meeting of Hiram Lodge No. 144, F. & A. M. held at their rooms on the evening of Dec. 20th., the following members were selected as officers for the ensuing year:

I. C. Curtis, W. M,
T. Ferris, S. W.
T. D. Lewis, J. W.
R. E. Phillips, Treas.
C. A. Miller, Sec.
G. C. Webb, S. D.
E. C. Hart, Y. D.
E. O. Chapman, S. M. of C.
A. E. Keller, J. M. of C.
C. C. Branch, Tiler.
C. R. Nichols, Marshal.
A. M. Roe, Chaplain.

The officers were duly installed by Past Master D. Pardee into their respective stations and places.

Dress Goods! Dress Goods! Prices reduced for our special Holiday Trade at the Bee Hive. Store Open Evenings.

A Civil Suit.

A jury trial before Justice A. Rice, occurred Monday afternoon. John Frawley sued John Howe, the city express man, for damages caused by delay in delivering a bundle of papers. It seems that a few weeks since Frawley had ordered 300 Syracuse Sunday Heralds containing a lengthy article on the Oswego Falls factories. These came in two packages one containing 100, the other 200. Howe, who carries the mail from the D. L. & W. depot, brought the bundles along with the other mail and delivered one to Frawley at Oswego Falls, but the other which had escaped his notice at the time was not delivered until the following morning. This, Frawley claimed, prevented the sale of the papers. The plaintiff was allowed $6.

Everyone is wide-awake now. Let all come in the morning and evening to avoid the crowd of the afternoon at BACON'S.

Assignment of Mrs. Swan.

The announcement of the failure of Mrs. E. E. Swan of Oswego Falls was received with surprise about town. She has been engaged in an extensive gardening business and during the past summer raised and shipped a large quantity of willows. She has also for some time, been in the painters' supplies and wall paper business at Binghamton, but owing to strong competition this branch was not a financial success. The assignment was made to a Mr. White of Binghamton. It is also said that the assets are enough to cover the liabilities.

Great Display of —HOLIDAY GOODS— at the "BEE HIVE." Store open evenings during the Holidays.

Go and see the Silk and Alpaca Umbrellas that D. C. More & Co. have for the holidays.

You will find slippers and fine goods for the holidays in a larger assortment than usual at Collins'. 33tf

Illuminated Tours.

Mr. Henry H. Ragan is to be at the opera house Thursday and Friday evenings in his famous "Illuminated Tours." The entertainment is of a highly instructive and interesting nature and should call out the intelligent people of Fulton. The New York Times of a recent date says:

"Many of the views are very highly colored, and, combined with Mr. Ragan's pleasant delivery, charmed the interested audience to frequent manifestations of approval."

Since our great mark down of Ladies' and Childrens' CLOAKS AND WRAPS, our stock has been reduced over one half. We shall close out the balance at still lower prices for our Holiday Trade, at the "BEE HIVE." Bennett & Stewart.

☞ Store open evenings.

D. C. Draper has opened at No. 34 [illegible]

Almanacs of the 1887 crop are pouring into the market.

New Novelties in Holiday goods at the Boston Bazaar.

Ragan Thursday and Friday evenings at the opera house.

The best assortment of overcoats at Peebles & Cook's.

The toboggan slide at Oswego is to be opened to the public this afternoon.

Remember the grand social promenade at the Palermo Centre house, on New Year's eve.

The ladies of Zion church are to have a Christmas tree at the Good Templars hall on Christmas eve.

Post Schenck No. 271 G. A. R., will hold a Camp fire on the evening of Tuesday January 4th, 1887.

Go and see the large and elegant line of cloaks and how cheap they are sold at H. & A. Rosenbloom's.

Onondaga ex-prisoners of war have formed an association, the second in the state, Oswego being first.

Men's, Boys' and Children's overcoats in endless variety and at the lowest prices at H. & A. Rosenbloom's.

On account of the recent fire, goods are now sold very cheap opposite the Lewis house, by D. Freese, Jeweler and Optician.

The marriage of Mr. Clarence Hall of this village to Miss Allie Parker of Syracuse will occur in that city on Chrismas day.

Persons wishing to secure seats to the Booth performance can obtain them of "Clint" Gardner or at Mead & Stranahan's office.

Peter Conley, one of our four night watchmam, who fell and dislocated his leg last week, is able to be out although he is yet quite lame.

Santa Claus appeared on the streets yesterday as an advertisement for the Stowell 25 cent store, much to the delight of the small boys and girls.

Excursion tickets to New York and return are sold on both roads tomorrow for $7.00. An excellent opportunity for those desiring to visit the metropolis.

Samuel McCaw has purchased the Thayer Bakery on Oneida street and will keep constantly on hand a fresh supply of baker's goods and confectionery.

The show windows of the "Bee Hive" are very tastefully arranged and at once attract the attention of the passersby. Among other things is a toboggan slide which is ingeniously arranged.

D. W. Gardner has purchased the lot adjoining his own on Oneida street and will erect at once a fine two story brick building on the site of the two which were destroyed by the recent fire.

A musical entertainment for the benefit of the Oswego Falls Brass Band will be given at the opera house on New Year's night. Vocal and instrumental music, and other specialties will be the order of the evening.

The Oswego Co. Association of veterans who were prisoners of war have received their charter and have elected Alonzo Cooper, president; James C. Spaulding, vice-president; Ambrose P. Chase, secretary; Robert B. McCully, treasurer, and Edward Lee chaplain. This is the first local organization of the kind in the state.

Daniel Starjoke, convicted of an assault in the second degree upon Mrs. Huldah Lewis of Southwest Oswego, and sentenced to Auburn state prison for four years and six months, was taken there Friday by Sheriff Beadle. It was found on reaching Auburn that he was an old offender having already served a term there under another name.

When you trade with D. C. More & Co., you get just what you pay for and good value too.

We realize the fact that in order to do a large Holiday Trade we have got to sell goods cheap, so we have put the knife into the prices of Dress Goods, Blankets, Cloaks, Wraps, &c., and cut the prices ½. go to the BEE HIVE and reap the benefit of the low prices for the next two weeks, Bennett & Stewart.

Don't buy Fur or Scotch caps of any one but D. C. More & Co.

The Grand Holiday excursion over the N. Y. Ontario & Western Railway occurs to-morrow. The fare for the round trip is $7.00 from Oswego and all stations south to Durhamville inclusive. The tickets are good for return passage on any regular trains up to and including Jan'y. 3, 1887 giving ample time to visit all places of interest during the Holiday week in New York and adjacent cities. Excursionists leaving Fulton will take the 7:15 a. m. or the 9:10 p.m. train.

Greatest bargains in Hosiery and Underwear at D. C. More & Co's.

A large and elegant line of Ball cards and invitations just received at THE TIMES office. Call and see them and get our prices.

[illegible]

[illegible] Tribune.]

What is most earnestly hoped by all our citizens who believe in honest municipal administration will prove to be the final act in the trial of Arthur J. McQuade took place this a. m. in the Recorder's court. Last week the jury in the re-trial after an absence of less than a half-hour, returned a verdict of guilty of bribery. To-day the sentence of the court fell upon his guilty head and the condemned ex-alderman will spend the next seven years in the seclusion of Sing Sing to keep his fellow compatriot Jaehne company. Besides this he must pay a fine of $5,000. The delay of sentencing McQuade arose from the rumors which were floating about and which reflected upon the honesty of one of the jurors to his bringing in a verdict in accordance with the evidence. Some persons formerly in the employ of Juror Rosenbery remarked that Rosenbery was intimate with Keenan the king pin of the aldermanic "combine." The District Attorney acted at once on this evidence and in case of any suspicious action on Rosenbery's part he could forestall it by an arrest. The fact that Rosenbery voted for conviction proves the falsity of the rumor. But McQuade, who is he? A rag dealer in Thirteenth street. Years ago he cried "Rags!" through the streets of the city in those peculiar tones one hears constantly now adays. Close dealing and attention to business enabled him to amass a fortune not far from a quarter of a million. Politics when he began to ascend the ladder of prosperity lured him and he has given freely, worked earnestly, and and for such party services he received the office of alderman as his reward His monetary value is represented by $20,000. For that sum he sold himself and his good name. A striped jacket is his portion and prison bars the reward for the betrayal of his trust.

McQuade during his two trials exhibited a rare amount of fortitude and pluck. He is a medium sized man rather slenderly built. His face is not an unpleasant one. The expression of the countenance is not repulsive. During the trial his wife and family have sat by him—this however, was more for effect than anything else.

The funny thing that occurred was the exposure of Mr. Newcomb the boodler's lawyer by Duffy. Duffy was asked why he testified as he did before the Senate committee. He said that Mr. Newcomb thus advised. It is needless to say that the court witnessed an exhibition of injured virtue and righteous indignation on the part of Mr. Newcomb. The Book sayeth truly "The way of the transgressor is hard."

⁂

The Madison Square Garden will soon be no more. Last week it was sold and a venture entirely new to this country, but not new to the Old World will be inaugurated. Madison Square Garden is one of the landmarks of this city. For a score or more of years this plot bounded by Fourth, Madison Avenue, 26th, and 27th streets was used as a railroad depot by the New Haven and Harlem railroad. Since 1872 it has not been thus used, the Grand Central depot having then been finished. It was for a while used for the storage of cars till Barnum conceived the idea of utilizing it for circus purposes then he built the present structure and it has been used for some years as a place for gigantic entertainments. So much for its past. The sale of the property which belongs to the Vanderbilts, was quietly carried on and the price, $1,000,000, is not more than one-half its value. The purchasers are formed into a syndicate the chief of which is Mr. Chauncey M. Depew and their intention is to erect a huge structure covering the block, in which will be a theatre and rooms for the exhibition of vertu bric-a-brac, paintings—having as the ultimate object of such exhibition the sale of the articles. It is a sort of omnibus building. Something in which everything worth showing and selling may be exhibited. The idea originated in Paris and the probability that this scheme is the result of Messrs. W. K. Vanderbilt and C. M. Depew's visit to Europe the past summer. That accounts too, for the smallness of the price. There is a host of talent and public spirit here. Circumstances develop it. When once developed it is terrific in its energy and mighty in the end it seeks to accomplish. WANDERER.

An Atrocious Crime.

A crime of a revolting nature has just been brought to light in the town of Granby. Palmer Cole, a farmer living in Granby near Jacksonville, has had in his employment for the past two years a man named James Grattan, aged about 40 years. Mr. Cole and wife have been accustomed for the past few months to attend meetings of the Salvation Army at Jacksonville, leaving the children with Grattan at home. Among the children was a bright little daughter, who will not be ten years old until the 4th of January next. It was recently discovered by the parents that the child was lame and otherwise injured and their suspicions were aroused. On Monday night the mother pretended to leave the house to go to a neighbors but concealed herself in a room, the husband also left the house with a lantern saying that he would not return for an hour or more but putting the lantern out he shortly returned to the house. Their suspicions were conclusively verified and in the morning Mr. Cole appeared before Police Justice Shannon and had a warrant issued for Grattan's arrest on the charge of rape. The prisoner was brought before a court of justice last evening. He waived examination and bail being refused he was committed to the county jail to await the action of the grand jury Yesterday Dr. Marsh made an examination of the child and found the statements of the parents to be true. To convict a person of a crime of this heinous nature requires proof of a decisive character. If this is obtained the full penalty of the law will scarcely be enough for the perpetrator of this crime.

Special bargains for the Holidays in Watches, Clocks, Silverware, and Jewelry by D. J. Freese in Lathrop's store, opposite the Lewis House.

[illegible] $4.50
[illegible] $2.50
[illegible]

HOLIDAY PRESENTS

SPECIALTIES!

Men's Neckwear, Suspenders, Gloves, Mufflers, Handkerchiefs, Dress Shirts, Winter Underwear, Wool, Merino and Flannel. Men's and Boys' Fur Caps.

☞ Gentlemen will do well to look at the styles and learn the prices that rule.

PEEBLES & COOK

Opposite Opera House.

The noon passenger train had just left Oswego last Thursday and was passing a crossroad near which stood a spirited team, which became unmanageable and darted toward the train. The wagon struck the side of the rear car and was hurried into the air with the driver, Ernest Rumsey, and when he was picked up he was found badly bruised. He was nineteen years old and lived at Volney. He died soon after the accident. The car was considerably damaged. One of the horses also was killed.

Cheap! Cheap!! Cheap!!! 5 Bottle Silver Castor only $1.80, 32t3 at SYLVESTER'S.

Go to Tucker's crockery store for wedding and anniversary presents. 24tf

Joseph Arment, a well-known furniture manufacturer of Oswego, was almost instantly killed last Sunday morning by the bursting of a pulley which he was turning down on a lathe in the works of the Oswego dry measure manufacturing company. Armenet had the pulley on the lathe and was turning it down when the pulley burst and a piece struck him in the forehead inflicting injuries from which he died shortly after.

A large lot of Ladies wool Hose bought at half price and we shall sell them for the rest of this week at 19c. a pair. F. E. BACON.

Everyone purchasing goods to the amount of $1.00 will receive a new hat at SYLVESTER'S.

Regular dinner at Kendall's every day for 20 cents.

A Fine Line of Cigars at Williams Drug Store. 29tf

Don't trifle with any Throat or Lung Disease. If you have a Cough or Cold, or the children are threatened with Croup or Whooping Cough, use Acker's English Remedy and prevent further trouble. It is a positive cure, and we guarantee it. Price 10 and 50c by H. C. Giesler.

WORKING CLASSES ATTENTION We are now prepared to furnish all classes with employment at home, the whole of the time, or their spare moments. Business new, light and profitable. Persons of either sex easily earn from 50 cents to $5.00 per evening and a proportional sum by devoting all their time to the business. Boys and girls earn almost as much as men. That all who see this may send their address and test the business, we make this offer. To such as are not well pleased we will send one dollar to pay for the trouble of writing. Full particulars and your outfit free. Address GEORGE STINSON & Co., Portland, Me. 33y1

"I see these things.
They're rare and passing curious"
—[Shakespeare.

"THE DELIGHTS OF TRAVEL WITHOUT ITS DISCOMFORTS."

Mr. Henry H. Regan

—IN HIS FAMOUS—

Ragan Illuminated Tours.

SECOND APPEARANCE

AT THE

Opera House, Fulton,

Thursday & Friday Evenings, Dec. 23d and 24th.

THURSDAY EVENING,
"THE RHINE AND SWITZERLAND."
FRIDAY EVENING,
THROUGH OLD MEXICO WITH A CAMERA."

Each Entertainment Superbly Illustrated

Reserved Seats, - 50 & 35 Cents.
General Admission, 50, 35 & 25 Cents.
Reserved Seats on Sale at Watson's.

NOTICE.

The accounts of Dr. W. A. Hall are in our hands for collection. All accounts not settled before Jan. 1st will be sued without further notice.

MEAD & STRANAHAN.

CHEAP COW FEED.

Gilbert & Nichols at the Fulton Mills are selling buckwheat feed for milch cows and young stock at about the price of hay. 26w4

Before you put a roof on that building be it flat or steep, call on Hart Bros., at the Pottery, they are selling and putting on the best and cheapest roofing in town. It costs less than tin and is more durable. Be not deceived by parties that are selling a cheap and inferior quality of so called roofing, ours we guarantee to be the best and much the cheapest in the end. 21tf

Buy Gloves and mittens of D. C. More & Co.

MASON & HAMLIN

UNRIVALED ORGANS

On the EASY PAYMENT system, from $3.25 per month up. 100 styles, $22 to $900. Send for Catalogue with full particulars, mailed free.

UPRIGHT PIANOS,

Constructed on the new method of stringing, on similar terms. Send for descriptive Catalogue.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN AND PIANO CO., Boston, New York, Chicago.

YOU can live at home and make more money at work for us, than at anything else in this world. Capital not needed; you are started free. Both sexes; all ages anyone can do the work. Large earnings sure from first start. Costly outfit and terms free. Better not delay. Costs you nothing to send us your address and find out; if you are wise you will do so at once. H. HALLETT & Co., Portland, Me.

Christmas Gifts!

GO TO

MILTON S. PRICE'S,

Dry Good Carpet and Furniture Establishment.

38 and 40 SOUTH SALINA
AND
29, 31, & 33 Clinton Sts.,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

AND

Make Your Selections.

The Exhibition of Everything that is rare as a Novelty and useful as a

HOLIDAY OFFERING

has been secured. In fact the most extensive display ever made in this City.

Elegant Christmas Gifts in the DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT.

Dress Patterns in all styles and quality SILKS, CLOAKS, PLUSH GARMENTS, THE MOST SELECT STOCK IN THE CITY.

FANCY GOODS,

NO END TO THE VARIETY.

Carpets a Choice Stock.

AN EXTRA STOCK OF SMYRNA RUGS purchased expressly for the

Holiday Trade,

also an extra assortment of new and novel things may be found in the

FURNITURE DEPARTMENT,

You will have no trouble in making your selection of useful and ornamental

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

AT THIS ESTABLISHMENT.

And better value will be given for your money than by any other house in the City.

MILTON S. PRICE.

Nos. 38 and 40 South Salina Street,
SYRACUSE, N. Y.

-OUR HOLIDAY OPENING-

Was a Grand Success. Thousands have already seen our Grand Display of

HOLIDAY GOODS!

The universal exclamation is, "What an immense assortment of nice goods for Christmas Presents, and how very cheap they are." We kindly invite everybody to call and look through our store and get our prices on

TOYS, DOLLS, GAMES, FANCY GOODS, CHINA CUPS AND SAUCERS, VASES, BASKETS, NOTIONS, &C.

WORK STANDS, FANCY GOODS, CHILDREN'S PIANOS, CHAIRS, HAND SLEDS, DOLL CARRIAGES, DRUMS, PHOTOGRAPH and SCRAP ALBUMS &c., &c, TINWARE, GLASSWARE, HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS, Very Cheap.

☞ Special Prices to Sunday Schools. ☜

R. A. STOWELL & C[illegible]

[illegible], N. Y.

Other Stores 21 South Salina St., Syracuse, [illegible]

[illegible]

Don't waste food on cows unable to make a decent return. Sell all such.

Make your butter so good as to carry it clear out of competition of all substitutes.

The creamery system is the most rational and economical dairy process ever employed. It is gaining in public favor every day.

In purchasing hens select carefully from well known yards, to avoid the introduction of disease and lice into flocks.

An Indiana farmer advocates cutting off part of the tops of potato vines when they grow too rank, and states that he has increased the yield by so doing.

Put the long manure on the heavy soils, and it will make them lighter. On open soils it will do hurt, especially in dry weather. Put on such soils, the short manure.

The farmer who really thinks he cannot take time to read the papers which make his interests its subjects of special study is sure to drop behind in the pursuit of gain, for he accepts limitations that others break through and go forward to the prizes.

Experiments made at the Michigan Agricultural college make it appear that the ashes of corn cobs have a value as manure of $2.50 per 100 pounds, which is more than twice that of hard wood or of wood ashes.

Don't overdo the matter of filling your orchard with varieties of apples. A few standard kinds are much better than a hundred for market purposes. Get the best you know of, and keep the range of your selections within proper limit.

A Nebraska farmer who lost $300 in cash offered $295 reward to the finder. It was restored by a lawyer, who hung around for half an hour and then mustered up courage enough to ask the loser if he couldn't split the difference on the $5 and make the reward $297.50.

Rather than turn under a heavy growth of weeds upon land where the wheat is to be sown, better go to the trouble of cutting, raking and burning them, for it is impossible to grow maximum crops upon a bed of weeds. But better than cutting, raking and burning is to plow before the weeds have made much growth.

If a whole herd of say twenty cows will average 5,000 pounds of milk without weeding out or testing individual cows, then in all probability at least ten of them yield 6,000 pounds, and perhaps the other ten only 4,000 each. In such a case it is easy to see that the best ten cows yield a liberal profit, but half of this is lost in making up the deficiency of the other ten. It is a good practice to weigh the milk of each cow once a week for the season, and then weed out those that do not come up to a profitable yield.

Working Horses too Young.

There is a fault in the management of horses which is costly. In the sporting world they are put into races at two years of age, so anxious is greed to know what they can do. And in a few years they are put out as done for. On the farms there has grown up the custom of breaking colts at three and putting them at hard work. They are broken indeed, and, in a few years are rated as "plugs," poor things! and knocked about only to tumble into an untimely but most welcome grave. More greed. No sense. How can the owner expect a colt with its soft and open joints to haul great loads, and get over the road equal to older animals with more hardened and fully developed muscles, tendons and bones? The fools are not all dead. When will they die? For the good of the horses, soon. Not one-third of the horses now live out their allotted time. The old family horse which father and the children drove, the pet of the farm, which had the respect of the neighborhood and the affection of the whole household, is know only in song and story. These are degenerate times. The old horse, the fireplace and the old orchard memories are fading away, and with them respect for age and love for home. It grieves us.—Fading Memories.

What is Farming.?

It is something more than staying on a farm. It is something more than skimming the soil. It is more than selling hay or potatoes, and bulky crops unanalized. Farming is a business, a profession, a practical and scientific operation. The process of nature must be understood and worked in harmony with the chemistry of the earth and air. The processes of nature must be understood, if not in their technical terms and language, in that sensible understanding, that common sense way, that their own advantage and capabilities may be turned to the best account. The lawyer works by law and precedent, the physician works by symptoms and indications, the merchant by rules and observation, the mechanic by measures and capacities. The farmer must work by all—by rules, laws, observation and experiment. He must be a skilled workman in the productive, operative and commercial circles in which his business lies and his sphere of circulation extends.—[American Farmer.

Production of Crops.

The last bulletin of the agricultural department gives the following estimates for crops this year: Corn 1,700,000,000 bushels; potatoes, 163,000,000 bushels; hay, 45,000,000 tons; tobacco, 435,000,000 pounds. It would seem from this that there ought to be little danger of starvation prices for the present, especially as there is no lack of other agricultural products to [illegible] of. There will be enough to supply the export demand as well as that for home consumption, and probably something to spare [illegible]

[illegible] he was 40 years old, instead of showing him how to speculate and hold his own. Gould has got two sons right in business.

George Gould is a tractable fellow disposed to do the right thing. His father has made him study telegraphy, so that he can send or take a message like the best operator in the Western Union service.

The younger son, Edward, who is perhaps 20, is a stenographer and can do his work as well as a professional. With those two boys the father can go anywhere, dictate his dispatches to Edward, and George will send them. He has put George into business and given him access to all the prominent men, and George is now not over 24 years old." 'Yes, said another:

"Jay Gould's domestic life has made him many a friend who observed it, in contradiction to his public notoriety. I was at Long Branch one summer and stopped at a hotel not of the very first class. I noticed a man whose head was not visible as he sat at a window on the porch reading and talking to his wife from time to time, and then letting a number of children come up and play around him. The affair went on the whole morning in such a quiet way that my wife remarked: 'What a model father that must be.' I stepped down the piazza, and to my astonishment it was Jay Gould. Up to that time I had been governed by the current talk about him on the street, and sincerely hated him. I turned around to my wife and said: 'I don't believe a man with a domestic nature like that, and love of quiet can be otherwise than a good citizen.' Subsequently opportunity has shown me that I was correct.

Gould was married young, and his wife is indifferent to society, so he stays home with her, and they have enough children to keep them amused; and as these children one by one develop, they are liable to give them plenty of social surroundings.

Mr. Gould's eldest daughter is, like her mother, a quiet girl of good principles. There are two younger sons coming along, and in that family there must be more than half a dozen children. Gould never smokes, nor drinks nor swears. His lips are clean, at least, of bad habits.—[Gath in Cincinnati Enquirer.

Some More "Don't's."

The Youth's Companion has issued a new edition of "Don't" as follows:

Don't keep the sun out of your living and sleeping rooms. Sunlight is absolutely necessary for a right condition of the atmosphere which we breathe, and for our bodily well-being.

Don't sleep in the same flannels that you wear during the day.

Don't wear thin socks or light-soled shoes in cold or wet weather.

Don't catch cold. Catching a cold is much more preventable than is generally supposed. A person in good physical condition is not liable to colds, and will not fall victim to them unless he is grossly careless. Keep your feet warm, the head cool, the bowels and chest well protected; avoid exposure with an empty stomach; take care not to cool off to rapidly when heated; keep out of draughts; wear flannel, and with the exercise of a little common sense in various emergencies, colds will be rare. If colds were a penal offense we should soon find a way to prevent them.

Don't forget personal cleanliness, but use the bath with moderation and in accordance with your general health. The daily cold bath is right enough with the rugged, but it is a great tax on the vitality of persons not in the best of health, and should be abandoned if the results are not favorable, and the tepid water used instead. Each man in these things should be a judge for himself. That which is excellent for one is often hurtful for another.

Don't have much confidence in the curativen ature of drugs. Remember that Dr. Good Habits, Dr. Diet and Dr. Exercise are the best doctors in the world.

Increase Population in the United States.

In round numbers the population of the United States increases at the rate of 1,000,000 a year. The census of 1880 showed a population of over 50,000,000, and close estimates based on local censuses give in 1886, 56,000,000. Of this increase about one third is from abroad. Two natives reach the stage of action for one foreign born resident. The ratio of native increase must in the future be greater, as the native element is constantly growing larger, while the foreign is about stationary.

Mr. Moody will hold revival meetings at Ithaca, N. Y., next month.

Saved from being a Cripple for Life.

Rochester, N. Y.

GENTLEMAN:—I was suffering from one of the worst cases of inflammatory rheumatism that any person could possibly have, and two bottles of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy has affected an entire cure. I will gladly answer any questions concerning my case, as I consider that I was saved from being crippled for life, by the use of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy.

MRS. FEELEY,
No. 64 Fulton Avenue.

The following is from Col. Palmer, the popular and able city Editor of the Lockport Daily Union.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., July 6, 1885.

PARDEE MEDICINE CO.

GENTLEMEN:—After leaving the U. S. Army I was afflicted with a severe Neuralgia Headache, coming on at intervals of a few days to several weeks, and lasting from one to three day, during which time I suffered excruciating pain, and was often totally incapacitated for business; In March 1883, I purchased one bottle of Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy, and followed the directions until I took about [illegible] of its contents, and from that time until this, have not been troubled with Headache or Neuralgia.

W. E. PALMER,
City Editor of the Lockport Daily Union.

Rochester, N. Y.

GENTS:—This is to certify that I was suffering with inflammatory rheumatism [illegible]

[illegible] from moving [illegible] I can truthfully say [illegible] more benefit from the use of Dr. Pardee's Remedy than from any and all other treatment. [illegible] have entirely left me, and I am gradually gaining strength.

I can conscientiously recommend your remedy to any and all similarly afflicted.

Yours truly,
MRS. L. CHAPPELL,
62 Glenwood Park.

UNABLE TO WALK FOR SIX WEEKS.

Nunda, N. Y., May 20, 1886.

Pardee Medicine Co.

GENTS:—I cannot find words in which to express my feelings for the great good your excellent remedy has done my wife who for six long weeks was unable to help herself. We had four of the best physicans we could procure, but she grew worse every day until we feared she would never be any better. I received one of your pamphlets through the mail and immediately procured some of the medicine, and the third day after she began its use she could move about the house. She has now taken five bottles and is able to do her work as easily as she has in years. She cannot recommend Dr. Pardee's Rheumatic Remedy too highly, for it does all you claim for it, and is far superior to anything we have ever used. I am yours very truly, W. W. HOOVER.

Fred Douglass, it is said, made $100,000 out of the office of Recorder of Deeds of the District of Columbia. The fees averaged $50 a day.

Jeffersonian Simplicity.

Can be practiced by using Van Wert's Balsam for all Throat and Lung diseases, as it well save unnecessary doctors bills. For sale by H. C. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are free from injurious substances. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure catarrhal Headaches.

It is said that the oldest daughter of the Prince of Wales is commonly spoken of as "the worst-dressed girl in London."

Mike McCool is dead. Michael was a prize fighter, but he will live in literature, for he originated the famous phrase, "Put up or shut up."

Home Rule for Ireland

only a question of time and it is only question of time when a neglected Cough will lead to Consumption. We guarantee that the timely administration of Van Wert's Balsam will stop any Cough. For sale by H. G. Giesler. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are very thorough in operation. Van Wert's Golden Balm cures Catarrh without irritation.

"Sam" Jones has just tried an interesting experiment. He preached a sermon without a word of slang in it, and it proved to be a flat failure.

Babies that are fretful, peevish, cross, or troubled with Windy Colic, Teething Pains, or Stomach Disorders, can be relieved at once by using Acker's Baby Soother. It contains no Opium or Morphine, hence is safe. Price 25 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

Chief Justice Waite of the United States Supreme Court, is the first Chief Justice to reach the position of eligibility to retirement.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP." 51y1

A sack of gold dust valued at $11,000 was taken out of the placer mines in Blackfoot district, Montana, by two brothers during the past season.

Thousands of cases of Consumption are cured every year by Acker's celebrated English Remedy. It is a guaranted preparation; if it does not help you it will cost you nothing. Try it. A single dose will show its good effect. Trial bottles 10 cts. For Sale by H. C. Giesler.

The population of the United States for 1890 is calculated by the San Francisco Examiner at 62,775,000.

The Morning Dress.

It is said that a lady's standing in society can easily be determined by her dress at the breakfast-table; an expensive, showy costume indicating that the wearer has not yet learned the proprieties. But no one need be afraid of being called "shoddy" if her lovliness is as apparent by daylight as at the hops. Perfect beauty is never the attendant of disease; above all, of those diseases peculiar to women, and which find a ready cure in Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription." The price reduced to one dollar. By druggists.

Alexander Dumas, the younger, is now in his sixty-third year, and his hair is silvery white.

Above all other earthly ills,
I hate the big, old-fashion pills;
By slow degrees they downward wend,
And often pause, or upward tend;
With such discomfort are they fraught.
Now Dr. Pierce prepares a pill
That just exactly fills the bill—
A Pellet, rather, that is all—
A Pleasant Purgative, and small;
Just try them as you feel their need,
You'll find that I speak truth, indeed.

Of seven Russians bitten by mad dogs in May last, and subsequently treated by Pasteur, three have just died.

FITS: All fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first days use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch St. Phila., Pa. 42y1

True politeness is perfect ease and freedom. It simply consists in treating others just as you love to be treated yourself.

Please Don't Forget It

That Dr. H. James Cannabis Indica is prepared in Calcutta, India, from the purest and best Native Hemp, and is the only remedy, either in that country or this, that will positively and permanently cure Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Nasal Catarrh and Nervous Debility, or break up a fresh cold in 24 hours. $2.50 per bottle, three bottles $6.50. Craddock & Co., Proprietors, 1032 Race St., Phila.

The [illegible]

[illegible] Caskets and Coffins

Of every variety of the most approved [illegible] All the latest and best.

EMBALMING MATERIALS

And Latest Improved Ice Caskets for keeping the dead.

Hearse and Carriages

FURNISHED AND FUNERALS ATTENDED ON SHORTEST NOTICE.

Also everything furnished for laying out and dressing the dead. 5l1

George Fassell

DEALER IN

Marble and Granite

MONUMENTS & GRAVESTONES

Estimates furnished on all kinds of Marble Work.

Work Equal to Any.

Office and Shop, Second Street
Old Universalist Church
Building. 47y1

Golden Medical Discovery.

Thoroughly cleanses the blood, which is the fountain of health, by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and good digestion, a fair skin, buoyant spirits, vital strength, and soundness of constitution will be established.

Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the common pimple, blotch, or eruption, to the worst Scrofula, or blood-poison. Especially has it proven its efficacy in curing Salt-rheum or Tetter, Fever-sores, Hip-joint Disease, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, Enlarged Glands, and Eating Ulcers.

Golden Medical Discovery cures Consumption (which is Scrofula of the Lungs), by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating, and nutritive properties. For Weak Lungs, Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, Asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. It promptly cures the severest Coughs.

For Torpid Liver, Biliousness, or "Liver Complaint," Dyspepsia, and Indigestion, it is an unequalled remedy. Sold by druggists.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS — Anti-Bilious and Cathartic. 25c. a vial, by druggists.

COAL.

The Delaware and Hudson Canal Co's Celebrated Lackawanna Coal.

The Best in the Market. Present prices:

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

Yard and Office Upper Landing.

Coal Delivered to every part of Fulton and Oswego Falls.

J. MORE & Co.

COAL WAY DOWN!

Delivered	per ton	½ ton	¼ ton
Pea	$3.65	$1.95	$1.10
Stove	4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29

Buy while it is Cheap!

Purest Cleanest, Best.

FOR SALE BY

Q. RUST.

ADVERTISERS

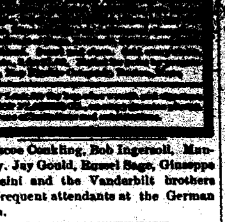
can learn the exact cost of any proposed line of advertising in American papers by addressing Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,

Newspaper Advertising Bureau,
10 Spruce St., New York.
Send 10cts. for 100-Page Pamphlet.

WE WANT 5,000 MORE BOOK AGENTS TO SELL OUR NEW BOOK.

[illegible] Service

[illegible] AGENTS WANTED [illegible]



Roscoe Conkling, Bob Ingersoll, Munkacsy, Jay Gould, Russel Sage, Giuseppe Morosini and the Vanderbilt brothers are frequent attendants at the German opera.

WONDERFUL CURES.

W. D. Hoyt & Co., wholesale and retail Druggists of Rome, Ga., say: "We have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery, Electric Bitters and Bucklen's Arnica salve for two years. Have never handled remedies that sell as well, or give such universal satisfaction. There have been some wonderful cures effected by these medicines in this city. Several cases of pronounced consumption have been entirely cured by use of a few bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery taken in connection with Electric Bitters. We guarantee them always. Sold by R. E. Phillips.

Mrs. Langtry is a distinguished money-lender. She recently loaned $11,000 on a New York mortgage and invested $4,500 in a Brooklyn loan. She exacts 5 per cent.

LITTLE CHILDREN

Do not cry when Dr. Van Wert's Balsam is given them. It is so sweet and palatable, they never refuse it, and it is superior to any other known remedy for Croup and Whooping Cough. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Samples free.

Van Wert's Pills are small and easy to take. Van Wert's Golden Balm will cure Hay Fever. 23m6

The first German newspaper ever published in China has made its appearance at Shanghai.

Dyspeptics can be made happy by using Dr. Chipman's Liver Pills.

Malaria can be avoided by giving them a fair trial —

No need to suffer from sick headache any longer—

Dr. Chipman's pills have been tested for fifty years for these troubles.

For sale by all druggists. 7y1

The next generation will look upon fences in village and surburban towns as relics of a past age.

If you would enjoy your dinner and are prevented by Dyspepsia, use Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets. They are a positive cure for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Flatulency and Constipation. We guarantee them. 25 and 50 cents. Sold by H. C. Giesler.

It is said that the Mormon lobby at Washington costs $250,000 a year.

The reason why Acker's Blood Elixir is warranted, is because it is the best Blood Preparation known. It will positively cure all Blood Diseases, purifies the whole system, and thoroughly builds up the constitution. Remember, we guarantee it. H. C. Giesler.

Women are now employed on the staffs of over 200 newspapers in the United States.

If the Sufferers from Consumption

Scrofula, and General Debility, will try Scott's Emulsion of pure Cod Liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, they will find immediate relief and a permanant benefit. Dr. H. V. MOTT, Brentwood, Cal., writes: "I have used Scott's Emulsion with great advantage in cases of Phthisis Scrofula and wasting diseases generally. It is very palatable."

A genius for statistics has figured out that 1,000,000 dollar bills weigh 2,841 pounds.

PURE WHITE CLOVER HONEY

Forms the base of Dr. Van Wert's Balsam and this being combined with the most potent remedial agents which modern medical investigation has discovered, the whole forms an incomparable remedy for all throat and lung troubles. For sale by H. C. Giesler, Fulton, and at Whitaker's Drug Store, Oswego Falls. Trial sizes free.

For torpid liver use Van Wert's Pills. Van Wert's Golden Balm is a certain cure for Catarrh. 23m6

Seventeen out of the thirty-four candidates for aldermen in New York were liquor dealers.

GREATLY EXCITED.

Not a few of the citizens of Fulton, have recently become greatly excited over the astounding facts, that several of their friends who had been pronounced by their physicians as incurable and beyond all hope—suffering with that dreaded monster Consumption—having been completely cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, the only remedy that does positively cure all throat and lung diseases, coughs, colds, asthma and Bronchetis. Trial bottle free at Phillips' drug store, large bottles $1.

C. A. Davis of Nevada, Mo., sneezed so violently the other day that he broke one of his ribs.

Mrs. Langtry's ten weeks' time this year has netted her $32,000 and her season isn't half over.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF PURE COD LIVER OIL

And Hypophosphites of Lime & Soda

Almost as Palatable as Milk.

The only preparation of COD LIVER OIL that can be taken readily and tolerated for a long time by delicate stomachs. [illegible]

[illegible] A [illegible] stove dealer.—[Low [illegible]

This is the time you tell a man's character by the condition of his side walk.—[Norristown Herald.

Old Party—"If I had fifty cents and gave it to you to get changed in order to give you a penny, what would be left?" Street Arab—"An old man !"—[Texas Siftings.

A Michigan woman kicked a bear to death the other night. She heard him at the front door, and probably thought it was her husband monkeying with the night latch.—[Yonkers Statesman.

"Do you believe in spiritualism?" asked a long haired advocate of a red-nosed man. "Certainly, friend. I'd just as leave take one with you as with any other person in the world."—[Philadelphia Herald.

A Massachusetts girl has lost all use of her jaw by chewing gum. This item will undoubtedly increase the sale of chewing gum to married men.—[Burlington Free Press.

It is whispered that the real secret is that Doc. Wilson is Moen's mother-in-law.—[Philadelphia Call.

A terrible charge has been brought against Mr. Anderson, Minister to Copenhagen. It is said that the man eats with his knife. Horrible! Has the man lost his fingers ?—[Norristown Herald.

A Michigan woman found a two-hundred pound bear in her wood-shed, and kicked him to death. Her husband has eloped with a threshing machine, and is enjoying a quiet honey-moon.—[Puck.

"My pen is weary, I shall write no more," warbles a poetess. We can't find it in our heart to blame the pen for being weary, and we thank the poetess most sincerely for her good resolution.—[New Haven News.

General Horace Porter says Miss Liberty can hold thirty-six men in her head. That brings her about up to the average girl of the period.—[Boston Herald.

First Omaha Girl—"Have you had a sleigh ride?" Second Omaha Girl—"Yes. I was out yesterday with your brother." "Poor dear. How you must have suffered." "Suffered?" "Why, yes; he took me out last winter and I nearly froze.—[Omaha Herald.

"How did it happen that you made such fine sausages yesterday?" asked a customer of his butcher. "Well, you see," explained the butcher, "a sporting man gave me a pointer, and"—"Say no more," said the customer, turning pale and turning quickly to go home.—[New Orleans Picayune.

Mrs. Jones—"You won't be lonesome, dear, while I'm away, with no one to play the piano for you?" Jones (a brute)—"O, no, I guess not; I understand the new boiler shop across the way is going to work day and night."—[New York Graphic.

The funeral was over, and a few personal friends were taking dinner with the bereaved widow. "Won't you have some more of the roast beef Mr. Smith?" "I believe I will. The ride to the grave and back has given me quite an appetite.—[New York Sun.

A machine has been invented which will sew on buttons as fast as seven girls could do the work, but when it comes to sitting up of a Sunday night with a young man seven machines can't do the work of one girl. There is no fear of any invention driving the girls out of market.—[Detroit Free Press.

Tramp.—"Please, gimme 10 cents, sir." Gentleman—"Why, I gave you 10 cents an hour ago." Tramp—"I'll bet you $5 you didn't." Gentleman—"I haven't got that much money with me." Tramp with some disgust—"Well don't make statements unless yo've got money to back 'em up."[New York Sun.

Mrs. Mushroon—"Melinda, now that Mrs. DeWiggins has gone let me tell you again never to make any allusion to pa's packing business before company."

Melinda—"Why, ma, I didn't say anything about pork."

Mrs. Mushroon—"No, but you spoke about having a sty on your eye, and it mortified me terribly."—[The Rambler.

"Have you got any raw oysters?" asked a newly wedded countryman of the waiter.

"Yes, sir; how many will you have?"

"How many had I better get, Maranda?" he said, turning to the bride.

"Well, I dunno, John," she replied, blushing becomingly; "but I feel's though I could eat a bull can.—[Puck.

A Serious Affair.

A new paper out West has started under difficulties. It tells its story as follows: "We begin the publication of the Roccay Mountain Cyclyne with some phew diphphiculties in the way. The type phounders phrom whom we bought our outphit phor this printing ophice phailed to supply us with ephs or cays, and it will be phour or phive weex bephore we can get any. The mistaque was not phound out till a day or two ago. We have ordered the missing letters, and will have to get along without them till they come. We don't like the loox of this variety of spelling any better than our readers, but mistax will happen in the best regulated phamilies, and iph the ph's and c's and x's and q's hold out we shall ceep (sound the c hard) the Cyclone whirling aphter a phashion till the sorts arrive. It is no joque to us—it's a serious aphair.

For 20 years Henry F. Balcom, of Shirley, Mass., suffered with rheumatism. He found no relief till he took Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The Baby's Idea.

"I'm afraid of the dark," said the baby snuggling up to mamma one night.

"Why?" asked mamma.

"Cause it comes so close to me."—[Youth's Companion.

[illegible]

[illegible] If you suffer the pains and aches of rheumatism, give this potent remedy a fair trial.

A Positive Cure.

"I was troubled very much with rheumatism in my hips, ankles, and wrists. I could hardly walk, and was confined to my bed a good deal of the time. Being recommended to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I took four bottles and am perfectly well. I cheerfully recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as one of the best blood purifiers in the world." W. F. WOOD, Bloomington, Ill.

For Twenty Years

I have been afflicted with rheumatism. Before 1883 I found no relief, but grew worse. I then began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever had." H. T. BALCOM, Shirley, Mass.

"I suffered from what the doctors called muscular rheumatism. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and am entirely cured." J. V. A. PROUDFOOT, letter carrier, Chicago, Ill.

We shall be glad to send, free of charge to all who may desire, a book containing many additional statements of cures by

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Made only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar.

SULPHUR BITTERS

The Greatest Blood Purifier ON EARTH.

This Great German Medicine is composed of Yellow Dock, Mandrake, Gentian, Dandelion, Juniper Berries, etc., combined with the Extract of Sulphur, which makes it the Greatest Blood Purifier known. Do not ever take or arsenic, they are deadly. Place your trust in SULPHUR BITTERS, the purest and best medicine ever made.

BLUE PILLS

Is Your Tongue Coated with a yellow sticky substance? Is your breath foul and offensive? Your stomach is out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS immediately! Is your Urine thick, ropy, cloudy, or high-colored?

IT IS Dangerous!

Don't Wait! Your Kidneys are out of order. Use SULPHUR BITTERS. If you are sick, no matter what ails you, use Sulphur Bitters! Don't wait until you are unable to walk, or are flat on your back, but get some at once, it will cure you. Sulphur Bitters is The Invalid's Friend. The young, the aged and tottering are soon made well by its use. Remember what you read here, it may save your life, it has saved hundreds. Don't wait until to-morrow,

Try a Bottle To-Day!

Are you low-spirited and weak, or suffering from the excesses of youth? If so, SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you. A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Send two 3c. stamps to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive an elegant set of fancy cards free.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FARM on James River, Va., in Claremont Colony. Illustrated circular free. J. F. MANCHA, Claremont, Virginia.

DEAFNESS its causes, and a new and successful CURE at your own home by one who was deaf twenty-eight. Treated by most of the noted specialists without benefit. Cured himself in three months, and since then hundreds of other. Full particulars sent on application. T. S. PAGE.

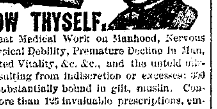
BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER

Highest Awards of Medals in Europe and America.

The neatest, quickest, safest and most powerful remedy known for Rheumatism, Pleurisy, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Backache, Weakness, colds in the chest and all aches and pains. Endorsed by 5,000 Physicians and Druggists of the highest repute. Benson's Plasters promptly relieve and cure where other plasters and greasy salves, liniments and lotions, are absolutely useless. Beware of imitations under similar sounding names, such as "Capsicum," "Capusin," "Capsicine," as they are utterly worthless and intended to deceive. Ask for BENSON'S AND TAKE NO OTHERS. All druggists. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Proprietors, New York.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY.

ILLUSTRATIVE Sample FREE.



KNOW THYSELF.

A Great Medical Work on Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Premature Decline in Man, Exhausted Vitality, &c. &c., and the untold miseries resulting from indiscretion or excesses: 300 pages, substantially bound in gilt, muslin. Contains more than 125 invaluable prescriptions, embracing every vegetable remedy in the pharmacopoeia for all acute and chronic diseases. It is emphatically a book for every man. Price only $1 by mail, post paid, concealed in plain wrapper.

ILLUSTRATIVE SAMPLE FREE TO ALL Young and middle-aged men for the next ninety days. Send now, or cut this out, as you may never see it again. Address Dr. W. H. PARKER, 4 Bulfinch street, Boston, Mass.

CATARRH

ELY'S CREAM BALM
CURES CATARRH
COLD IN HEAD
ROSE-COLD
HAY-FEVER
DEAFNESS
HEADACHE
PRICE 50 CENTS
ELY BRO'S, OWEGO, N.Y. U.S.A.

HAY-FEVER

ELY'S CREAM BALM

Is not a liquid, snuff or powder. Applied into nostrils is quickly absorbed. It cleanses the head. Allays inflammation. Heals the sores. Restores the senses of taste and smell. 50 cents at Druggists; by mail, registered, 60 cents. ELY BROTHERS, Druggists, Owego, N.Y.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO ADVERTISERS!

For a check for $20 we will print a ten-line advertisement in One Million issues of leading American Newspapers. This is at the rate of only one-fifth of a cent a line, for 1,000 Circulation. The advertisement will be placed before One Million different newspaper purchasers;—or Five Million Readers. Ten lines will accommodate about 75 words. Address with copy of Adv. and check, or send 30 cents for Book of 176 pages. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St. New York.

[illegible] By John H. McAlvin, Lowell, Mass. [illegible] Sent free to any address.

[illegible]

[illegible] August.

PULASKI—At the law office of Hon. [illegible] in Pulaski, January 3rd, and on the [illegible] in March, May, June, Sept., Nov. and Dec.

FULTON—At the office of C. H. David, [illegible] in Fulton, on the second Tuesday in January, April, July and October.

MEXICO—At the office of Hon. T. W. Skinner in Mexico, on the third Friday in April, and July, and the fourth Friday in October.

CENTRAL SQUARE—At the Johnson House, Central Square, on April 19th and September [illegible]

PARISH—At A. N. & J. S. Ludington's law office, April 30th, July 30th and Sept. 30th.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

In pursuance of an order of Francis David, Surrogate of Oswego County, N. Y., notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Hannah H. Beck late of the village of Fulton, in said county, deceased, to present their accounts, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, William D. Patterson at his residence in the village of Fulton, in the county of Oswego, New York, on or before the 7th day of June, 1887, or they will lose the benefit of the statute in such case made and provided.

Dated Dec. 1, 1886.

WILLIAM D. PATTERSON,
HARRIET L. BARNES,
Administrators.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Alice Hethington as administratrix of the goods, chattels and credits of William S. Hethington, deceased, against Josiah C. Mosher, Nellie Sears, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis and Josephine Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.—Dated this 12th day of October, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington, defendants:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. Parlon C. Williams, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 15th day of October, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of Oswego Co., N. Y., at Oswego, N. Y., on October 15, 1886.—Dated Oct. 15, 1886.

HOWE & RICE,
Plaintiff's Attorneys,
Office and P. O. address, Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Frank L. Sears vs. Alice M. Hethington, administratrix &c. of William S. Hethington, deceased, John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugine Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Josephine Hethington, Alice M. Hethington and Nellie E. Sears.

Action to foreclose Mortgage.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 23d day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephene Hethington

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. J. C. Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 23d, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego county, at Oswego city, N. Y. Yours &c.

C. H. DAVID,
Pl'ffs Atty,
Fulton, N. Y.

SUMMONS.

SUPREME COURT—COUNTY OF OSWEGO. Nellie E. Sears against John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill, Frank Eugene Lewis, Ida May Lewis, Charlotte Grace Lewis, Josephine Hethington and Alice Hethington.

To the above named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Trial to be held in the county of Oswego.

Dated this 4th day of November, 1886.

C. H. DAVID,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and P. O. Address, Fulton, N. Y.

To John A. Judkins, Sally Ann Merrill and Josephine Hethington

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Hon. J. C. Churchill, Justice Supreme Court, dated November 5th, 1886, and filed with the complaint in the office of the clerk of Oswego county, at Oswego city, N. Y. Yours &c.

C. H. DAVID,
Pl'ffs Atty,
Fulton, N. Y.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK. By the Grace of God Free and Independent, To Asa Chapman, Bowens Corners, Oswego county, N. Y.; Chas. D. Herrington, Laura M. Wilcox, Anna Chapman, Eunice Blake, George Blake, South Hannibal, Oswego County, N. Y.; Emeline King, Norman H. Haviland, Edgar O. Chapman, Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y.; Louise Perry, Lilly Dawley, South Richland, Oswego county, N. Y.; Aaron Chapman, Horace Chapman, Samuel Chapman, Red Creek, Wayne county, N. Y.; Jane Paddock, North Wolcott, Wayne county; John C. Chapman, John S. Chapman, John G. Haviland, Stephen Haviland, West Hoosick, Rensselaer county, N. Y.; Asa B. Chapman, Boyntonville, Rensselaer county, N.Y.; Crocker Chapman, Cora M. Chapin, Hoosic Falls, Rensselaer county, Lydia A. Moses, Hoosic, Rensselaer county, N.Y.; Nathaniel Cottrel, Pittstown, Rensselaer Co. N.Y.; Sarah Herrington, Anna Newcomb, Ettie Phillips, Ellen Case, Johnsonville, Rensselaer county, N.Y.; William C. Chapman, Calvin E. J. Carpenter, Cambridge, Washington Co., N.Y.; Nathan Case, Greenwich, Washington county, N.Y.; James H. Chapman, Gansevort, Saratoga county, N. Y.; William Haviland, Pompey, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Maria Nash, Cigerville, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Homer Dunham, Horace Dunham, Plank Road, Onondaga county, N. Y.; Mary Cowell, Westbury, Cayuga county, N. Y.; John E. Chapman, Belle Chapman, Martville, Cayuga county, N. Y.; Albert Hallett, Hermon, St. Lawrence county, N. Y.; Marshall Herrington, Rochester, Monroe county, N. Y.; Alice Behnke, St. Paul, Minn.; Ira Chapman, Arnold Hulett, Almon Hulett, George Hulett, Beaver Creek, Rock county, Minn.; Sidney Baker, Washington, D. C.; Mary Parks, Desoto, Jefferson county, Mo.; Mary A. Hall, Brookfield, Linn county, Mo.; Sarah Matilda Cottrell, New Ashford, Mass.; Susan A. Helling, Lincoln, Neb.; Hellen A. Helling, Bennington, Vt.; Arthur C. Hoag, North Pownal, Vt.; Horace Hallett, Stockton, Cal.; Courtland Chapman, Sherbyville, Allegan county, Mich.; Roxana Kent, Lowell, Kent county, Mich.; George F. Leonard, Nelson Leonard, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Elijah D. Leonard, Chas. A. Leonard, Chester M. Leonard, Sidney W. Leonard, Elizabeth Burges, Kenosha, Kenosha county, Wis.; Elisha Crandall, Terrills Corners, Waushara county, Wis.; Betsy Cottrell, John C. Cottrell, Warren Cottrell, Danforth Cottrell, Belle Plaine, Benton county, Iowa; Orella Winser, Walker, Linn county, Iowa; Stephen Southwick, Chetopa, Labette county, Kan.; Sarah Lane, Pleasanton, Linn county, Kan.; Sarah Lane, Pleasanton, Linn Co., Kan.; Nathan Southwick, South Warren, Bradford county, Penn.; Goletta Thomas, Towanda, Bradford county, Penn.; Joseph Southwick, Hoopston, Vermillion county, Ill.; John Herrington, residence unknown; Cordelia Hawkins, Flandreau, Moody county, Da., heirs at law and next of kin of Jonah Chapman, late of the Town of Granby, in the County of Oswego, deceased, Send Greeting.

Whereas, Merritt Miller, of the town of Hannibal, in the County of Oswego, has lately made application to our Surrogate of the County of Oswego, to have a certain instrument in writing relating to real and personal estate, duly proved as the last Will and Testament of said Jonah Chapman deceased; therefore, you, and each of you, are cited and required personally to be and appear before our said Surrogate at his office, in the Village of Phoenix, in said County of Oswego, on the 24th day of January, 1887, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend to the probate of said instrument as the last Will and Testament of said deceased.

And if any of the persons interested be under the age of twenty-one years, they are required to appear by their guardian, if they have one, or, if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or, in event of their neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceedings.

In testimony whereof, We have caused the seal of our said Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Francis David, Surrogate of said county, at the village of Phoenix, in said county, the 29th day of November, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six.

[L. S.]

L. J. CARRIER,
Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

JAS. McDONOUGH.

Agent for

Ryan & Hoffman's

ALES, STOCK AND [illegible]

Haberle's Brewing Co. [illegible]

Stock Lager.

☞ Foreign & Domestic [illegible] Liquors at Whole[illegible]

A Choice line of Tobacco [illegible]

[illegible]ES.

[illegible]TEENTH YEAR. "[illegible] Her Own Pastures, Sows Her Own Seeds." VOLUME 19—NUMBER 34

[illegible] Year in Advance. [illegible]NESDAY, DECEMBER 29, 188[illegible] Single Copies Three Cents

[illegible]

"[illegible] her Mary Ann," said the farmer's wife,
"[illegible] is the plague of my mortal life!
[illegible] she's good-tempered, and helpful, and kind,
And a prettier girl you'd be puzzled to find;
But, oh, she's so dreadful peculiar!

[You] can see for yourself how the old farm-house looks,
With its brackets and lamberkins, pictures and books,
But it's all Mary Ann an' that high boardin' school,
Where she finished her learnin' an' learnt how to fool
In a way that is very peculiar.

She pounced on her grandmother's old cheeny ware
And she hung it up here, and she set it up there,
Till the whole house is like to a crockery store;
And the neighbors all wonder, for never before
Was the house trimmed so very peculiar.

She trampled the bogs and the marshes through,
And cat-tails brought by the dozen or two,
And thistle-balls, autumn leaves, pine cones an' sich,
And she says the house looks so esthetic and rich.
But I say it looks mighty peculiar.

She painted a vinegar jug one day,
With a wild rose and an apple spray,
(She'd given it first a light blue coat),
Then she tied a ribbon around its throat,
And it looked—well, very peculiar.

There's Archibald Smith lookin' out for a wife,
(And a nicer young man you ne'er saw in your life).
If he gits Mary Ann with her finicky ways,
She will lead him a life all the rest of his days
That'll seem to him very peculiar.

She will paint all his cheeny plates, pitchers an' jugs,
He will stumble o'er poodles, an' footstools an' rugs,
And the walls of his house will be covered with pans
Of bright shiny brass, an' Jappynese fans,
And he'll think they are very peculiar.

She will make him sleep under a crazy quilt,
And paint his rockin'-cheer black an' gilt,
And the paint will stick to his hands an' clothes;
But mebbe he'll like it—nobody knows!
If he does he'll be very peculiar!

—Lillian Grey, in The Housekeeper.

THE PROPER THING.

Red remains in favor and is shown in a variety of shades.

Belts are extensively worn by young misses with all costumes.

Fedora, Mechlin and Oriental laces are the most popular laces used.

Black canvas cloth is more fashionable for mourning than bombazine or Henrietta cloth.

Fur trimmings are among the most practical decorations for winter wraps and frocks.

The fine Turkish toweling is used for dressing gowns, breakfast sacques and jackets.

Under-petticoats of silk in dark and colors, white and black are made with gathered pink flounces.

New cloth bonnets in black and colors are shown; they are decorated with jet or silk balls around the rims and crowns.

A new English fashion shows bands and bindings of jet galloon on woolen jackets of checked cloth, and stripes of jet braid on visites of boucle cloths.

The newest fans are of moderate dimensions and are of black gauze, mounted on ebony sticks, the leaf and stick being alike set thickly with spangles of gold and silver, or of blue metal or of red.

Lace-trimmed handkerchiefs are again coming into favor, and are shown with narrow half-inch edgings of puchesse or Valenciennes for general use, to rival the more durable embroidered handkerchiefs.

Horseshoe muffs are one of the fancies of the season. They are made of the dress material—either wool or velvet in bag shape, and are trimmed with a horseshoe, set in front, of beaded passementerie, of fur or of plush.

Popular Names of Cities.

Baltimore—Monument City.

Boston—Modern Athens; Hub of the Universe.

Brooklyn—City of Churches.

Chicago—Garden City.

Cincinnati—Queen City; Porkopolis; Paris of America.

Cleveland—Forest City.

Detroit—City of the Straits.

Indianapolis—Railroad City.

Keokuk, Ia.—Gate City.

Louisville—Falls City.

Lowell—City of Spindles.

Milwaukee—Cream City (from the color of its bricks).

Nashville—City of Rocks.

New Haven—City of Elms.

New Orleans—Crescent City.

New York—Gotham; Manhattan; Empire City.

Philadelphia—Quaker City; City of Brotherly love.

Pittsburgh—Smoky City; Iron City.

Portland—Forest City.

Rochester N. Y.—Flour City; Flower City.

St. Louis—Mound City.

San Francisco—'Frisco.

Washington—City of Magnificent Distances.

Something that will quiet the nerves, give strength to the body, induce refreshing sleep, improve the quality of the blood, and purify and brighten the complexion, is what many persons would be very glad to obtain. Carter's Iron Pills are made for exactly this class of troubles, and are remarkably successful in accomplishing the ends [illegible], as named above. They are useful for both men and women. Sold by druggists. Price 50 cents a box. See advertisement.

[illegible] first coach in Scotland was brought thither in 1561, when Queen [illegible] came from France.

[illegible] was troubled with an eruption on [illegible], which was a source of [illegible] when I wished to ap[illegible] After using [illegible] Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the [illegible] —Mary M. Wood, [illegible]

[illegible]

THE TWO CATS.

"You dearest, sweetest little duck, so it was! Manny's precious pet."

It sounded much like "mammy's precious pet," but the voice was so young, so fresh, so cooing, that Joe Parker could not believe his ears.

There was something "magnetic" about it, to use the slang of the day; at least it attracted Joe to the row of raspberries that flung their green arms all abroad on the old picket fence between his garden and the next neighbor's and irresistibly bent his head to peep through those respectable palings and see what he could see.

And this is what he saw: Such a lovely girl! Her hair was red, to be sure, but it was that bronze red that looks brown in the depth of its ripples and gold on their crests. Just now, in the blazing sunshine, it was all a rich deep red, with gilt threads among it, but then she had such eyes! large, clear, red hazel eyes, as beautiful as a robin's or a squirrel's, fringed with dark lashes and overbrowed with delicate dark arches, a little lifted with a look of surprise that was the result of shape and outline.

I regret to say that her fair, soft brow and cheeks were slightly freckled, but in such a fresh red and white the smallest spot will show, and nobody is perfectly beautiful, not even Mary Ann May, commonly called "Manny May." For instance, her mouth was large; but then it was so full, so red, and parted over such firm white teeth, that it seemed just to match the saucy little nose above and the round dimpled chin below it. Her waist was large, too, just as large as the waist of any sculptured goddess wrought by Phidias or Praxiteles, for Manny had never been pinched in mind or body, or given over to that awful tyrant "They," who puts our girls to the torture of rack and boot from their infancy, that they may be and do as "They" do and are.

But she had a tall, strong, shapely figure, and its movements were all instinct with the untrammeled grace of nature. As she stood in her mother's garden, with both hands clasping her pet to her bosom, a basket of dandelion greens and an old case knife at her feet, she was a perfect picture; but she had not an idea of it.

Joe's theories fled as he gazed. The voice had not misled him, it was not a mother's voice; the darling on whom Manny lavished her sweet words, her tender embrace, even her kisses, was—a cat.

But such a cat! Peter was as great a beauty as his mistress. His coat of deep bule-gray was striped and dashed with shining black; a ring of black encircled his massive neck; his tail was ringed also with sable, and five wide black stripes ran from between his ears down to the very tip of the tail, merging as they went into one broad band, then there was a snow-white spot upon his breast, and his powerful paws were black as jet.

"Manny's dumb silly about that there cat," was her father's chronic growl; but, since Manny was all the child left to him, and in his secret heart its living idol, he only growled. He would not have uttered a derogatory word about Peter for anything; he even remembered to get a bit of meat for him whenever he went to the village, and had once been known to turn back half a mile for that very purpose.

As for mother May, she spoiled the cat just as she had spoiled Mary Ann. She was a dear, kindly, tender-hearted old woman, with an utter inability to rule or order or mold anybody or anything. She took life as she found it, and neither fretted at nor tried to amend it—a sort of moral feather bed, soft to exasperation, but, after all, restful to the eager, hard-worked, exasperated and wiry people of her race.

"A proper, nice woman," Semanthy Carrier said; "always an' eternally good-natured. No faculty in her, and one that riles you consider'ble when you want to have things gee; but when you're sick or sorry, sort of comfortin', like a poultice."

Peter knew his power and his position. Petted from his early kittenhood, he soon learned, like the young of the human species, that he could tyrannize over his petters, and then the warmest, softest seat was given up to him, the door opened at his first appeal, the giblets of the rarely used fowls were saved for him, his tastes gratified and his notions respected. One is sometimes tempted to half accept the masculine theory that women like tyrants, when one sees how they manufacture them for themselves.

Now, Joseph Parker had just come to Meriden to live. A certain Mr. Webb, who had a manufactory in Vermont, had moved to Meriden to get more water power, and as Joe Parker was his foreman in the paper mill, he had moved too, hired a house a little way out of the village, next to Mr. May's homestead, and brought with him his mother—and his mother's cat. Hence this story, and whatever tears may besprinkle it.

Mrs. Parker's cat was not at all like Peter May. He was black, all black, with green-yellow eyes, and an aspect that made a stranger think of the regulation cat that was the familiar of witches in all history. He came from Hanover to Meriden by rail, nailed up in a strawberry crate, hissing, spitting, yowling and sharpening his claws on his frail prison all the way, to the terror of every passenger in the car. Indeed, Joe was forced to carry crate and all into a baggage car at the third station, and ride with it the rest of the way, for the brakemen refused to look after it, so daunted were they with the wild animal within. Tiger was sent into solitary confinement in the cellar as soon as Mrs. Parker reached her house, and was subdued by hunger and darkness before they dared to let him range abroad in the new neighborhood.

Now, Joe Parker had not been in Meriden long enough to make much acquaintance there, and was very hard at work the first few weeks of his stay, so that he always went to sleep in church on Sunday, and missed any sight thereby of the blooming damsels in the choir or in the pews; he was ashamed of it, to be sure, but there was the change of air from Vermont mountains to the fat meadow land and low lying pastures about the river, and then he was really overworked for a time in helping to place the new machinery, move the old, and settle his mother in this strange place, where he knew no one to whom he could apply for help or suggestion. It was not Sunday to-day when he peeped through the fence at Manny, and suddenly, as if by a stroke, lost his honest young heart—for, beloved reader, this is only a love story. Only a love story; only a record of the great world song, the event of so many lives, the finality of all.

That passing bell
That tolls one into heaven or hell,

as the old poet sings. When I hear people say, "Only a love story," I think of that couplet of Tennyson's:

One drew a sharp knife through my tender throat
Slowly, and nothing more.

Quite enough for once! muses the average reader; and so is this matter of love, be it in the passion of Romeo and Juliet or the less wordy and more commonplace emotion of a foreman in a factory and a farmer's daughter, for, after all, "do the best that ye may," 'tis love, love, love that makes the world go round—yes, that makes our sad old world a merry-go-round.

"Love will find out the way," says an ancient song, and Joe was no exception to the rule of the Pathfinder. He persuaded his mother to send him over to the neighbor's the very next night for a pitcher of milk, and also to negotiate for their daily supply. This being successfully effected, he went daily for the milk before [illegible], and the pail was filled by Mary Ann, [illegible] with the sweet [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] to [illegible] It is not to be denied that Manny looked with favorable eyes upon Joe Parker; a [illegible] young fellow with a good position does not fall at the feet of every farmer's daughter, even if she is a beauty. The "anxious and aimless" have in their ranks many a lovely face and capable character. Manny had been no further than the district school for her education, and her house training was too hard, practical, thorough work. She read no novels or "story papers;" The Weekly Courant and The Puritan Recorder helped her through Sundays, but on week days she had work to do, and at night was tired enough to go to bed early. So she was simple as well as sensible, in the best sense of simplicity, and did not coquette with Joe any more than was natural to any girl. She dimpled and blushed when he came in, pretended to be vexed when Peter preferred his knee to her lap, called him an "awful thing" if he caught her hand in his with the milk pail handle, and was always ready to go to singing school and evening meeting with him, so that his true love ran ominously smooth.

But, alas! there was trouble coming. Tige, the Parker cat, hurt himself seriously in an attempt to climb the palings of his jail yard, for they were old and rickety, and could not bear his weight. His mistress nursed him in the house for six weeks with great care, and when he was quite well again, and stronger than ever with much feeding, he was turned out of doors and allowed to roam and ravage as he would, and at once he lit upon Peter.

Dire was the conflict, but Mrs. Parker hastened to the rescue with a pail of water, and the astonished Peter, quite drenched to the skin, fled, while Mrs. Parker picked up Tiger and carried him into the kitchen, lamenting over him as if he were a hurt child. Now Mrs. Parker was a shy and silent woman, but very resolute; she at once made up her mind that the May's cat should not intrude on her premises to disturb Tiger. She had the garden fence re-enforced, and even a strip of wire netting added to its height on the Mays' side; but she could not cabin, crib or confine Tiger himself—a circumstance that vexed her much. And when Peter came home to Mary Ann, after that first duel, dripping like a drowned rat, she, too, was indignant; but what could she do? Battles set in, howls by night, skirmishes by day; a piece was soon bitten out of Peter's lovely waving tail, and Tiger lost half an ear. Manny made invidious remarks about Mrs. Parker's cat every day of her life, and Mrs. Parker made Joe's meals bitter to his soul with evil speaking of Peter and Peter's family—meaning the Mays. Yet they were friendly enough, except on the cat question. Mrs. May taught Mrs. Parker how to knit new heels into Joe's yarn stockings, and Mrs. Parker showed Manny's mother the last pattern of crochet edging; they exchanged samples of cake, talked skillfully of pickles and preserves; in fact, had a liking and respect for each other—all but the cats.

Before the last pleasant autumn days were gone Joe had gathered courage to ask Mary Ann to marry him, and she had prettily consented; they were "keepin' company" now, and the old folks looked on well pleased to think that neither of their children would stray far from home, though Joe insisted on having a small home of his own, if only a tenement in the village, properly remarking: "We won't mix folks, Manny—it don't succeed; besides, I want you all to myself"—a peremptory sort of logic that pleased Miss Mary Ann and made her assent hearty and prompt.

They meant to be married in April; in no less time could the modest array of clothing and house linen be made ready, for chiefly it must be sewed by Manny's deft hands; and sewed it was, with no intervention of machinery, and almost ready, when—how shall I tell it!—one pleasant February day Peter trailed into the house with a bleeding ear, a blinking eye and one leg so hurt that he could not even limp on it. This was the climax. Manny had winked at Tige's enormities all that winter for Mrs. Parker's sake (meaning Joe's); she had only once hurled a basin of dishwater over him, three times chased him with a broom handle, and not thrown more than a dozen stones at him—which didn't count, for women never hit anything they throw at, or at least men say so.

But now Manny's patience gave a great gasp and died. She flew out of the door intent to maim or slay, but Tige's black tail just whisked out of the gate; she could not follow him, so she did the next thing, which was to wash Peter's wounds, put him to bed in the cellar, fetch him dry catnip and warm milk, and leave him to that solitude that the wounded animal seeks and the wounded man shuns.

It was tea time then, and when Joe came in at his hour for visitation he found Manny no longer tender, arch or sentimental; the hazel eyes had a redder spark in them than he had ever seen, the cheeks flamed, and the red lips were puckered into a lovely severity instead of wreathed with smiles.

"Joe," she began, rushing at once into the fray, "you will have to kill Tiger. I can't stand it. He has chawed up Peter till he's 'most dead."

"My dear girl," said Joe, in a dismayed tone, "mother sets by Tiger so."

"I can't help it; he's a horrid, dreadful cat, and he'll murder Peter, and he's got to be killed."

"But, Manny, think of mother; she's goin' to be alone and she thinks everything of Tiger. Why, she never would forgive me if I killed him."

"Well, if you like her better'n you do me, all right. I shall kill him, unless pa will; so there!"

Now Joe was not used to girls and their ways. He thought Mary Ann meant every word she said. He was really frightened.

"But, Manny, just think. What will mother say?"

"I don't care a cent what anybody says. I will not stand by and see my dear sweet old cat killed by a dreadful beast like that and not defend him. I'll pison it."

"Oh, Mary Ann!" cried Joe.

"Then kill him yourself," she retorted.

"I cannot," said Joe, steadily.

Well he knew how his silent mother loved Tiger; like many other women, she bestowed on her pet all the demonstrative affection she was too shy and too reserved to lavish on Joe. The cat slept on her bed, followed her about the house and garden, sprung up into her lap and purred there as she sat alone in the evenings, and however fierce a fighter of his kind, was devoted and loving to his mistress. More than ever did she cling to him now, in her wordless jealousy of Joe's new love; for well she knew that

"My son's my son till he gets him a wife," and deeply she felt, as most mothers feel, that her rule and her joy were over.

Joe looked at Manny with his heart in his eyes, but that young person's willful soul had got the better of her sense and her affection both; she had given Joe her final test; she would find out now whether he loved her or his mother best. Poor Joe!

"You won't?" she asked, setting her lips in a firm red line.

"No," said Joe, with equal firmness.

The situation had come to a dead lock.

Just then a wild scream was heard, and a scurrying of feet. Mrs. Parker, with a face of fright, drew herself up on the picket fence, and called for Joe.

"Come quick!" she cried. "Tige has tumbled into the cistern!"

Joe ran as fast as he could. He knew the cistern was [illegible] full, and its sides slippery, but he had not on him, [illegible], he lost his wits—and Mary Ann [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] how to [illegible].

"Manny!" said Joe, holding out his arms in the moonlight.

Mary Ann rushed into them, and sobbed out:

"I did not like all poisoned! I never should have liked you a mite again if you'd killed Tige!" Oh, woman! woman!

So they were married, and lived happy ever after, and had a cat of their own handsomer than Peter, better than Tiger, and peaceable as a Quaker.—Rose Terry Cooke in Harper's Bazar.

Sentimental and Comic Songs.

An interesting fact about successful songs may be noted, and that is, only sentimental songs make any money. Humorous songs become very popular. They are applauded in the theatre when a favorite singer sings them, and are laughed at unrestrainedly, but very few in the audience ever think of buying copies of them. This is peculiarly true of that description of humorous ditty known as the topical song. It may be explained that this is a song in which the material of the different verses is arranged to give point to a significant phrase which invariably forms the last line of the verse. The performance practically amounts to piggling with language, the effect coming from the humorous and unexpected illustration which can be adduced of the idea embodied in the adopted phrase.

Given on the stage by an expert singer, who enforces the points of the verses by appropriate action and facial expression, these songs are very effective. Sung in the parlor by an ordinary vocalist and without the effect which comes from the assembly of a large number of people, these songs almost invariably fall flat. In consequence they are very seldom sung there, and the music publishers who give them to the world find the world ungrateful, much to the publisher's pecuniary grief. On the other hand, a sentimental song may be sung in the home circle by an inexperienced singer with very fair effect. Somehow or other the underlying sentiment survives the most outrageous treatment. It has better staying qualities than humor has. The melodies are simple, the thoughts expressed find a welcome among all classes of people, and the sheet music finds its way to thousands of piano racks throughout the land; and so the publisher becomes happy and affluent.—New York Mail and Express.

Hygeia in the Dog Days.

While ruminating over a pipe on the evening of one of the dog days, the thermometer being above eighty degrees in the shade, I have wondered what the goddess Hygeia would have done, and what she would have recommended under the circumstances, for purposes of health and comfort. She wouldn't have eaten roast duck I know; but how would she have combated the fierce heat, by way of keeping herself cool? Would she have swallowed haggis and cockieekie in north Britain, ham and beef in Yorkshire, and tripe and onions in London? Not a bit of it. Hygeia had too much respect for herself as a goddess to indulge in such plebeian and delusive dainties in hot weather. I can just see her in a scornful attitude, on the top of a marble column such as Alma Tadema loves to paint—she waves her hand over the smoking viands our good cooks are sending up for our delectation. She preaches abstention in a way that makes one feel creepy, as her words seem to come down from the cold marble. She is commanding her followers to keep cool with milk and water, and grapes and strawberries, and to leave all the alcohol and wine and beer for other occasions. I beg Hygeia's pardon, and shall renounce heat producers on hot days in future, although they are very good, and like everything else, unfortunately what dyspeptics like best.—Chambers' Journal.

The Despot of the White House.

Hector, Mrs. Cleveland's handsome poodle, holds supreme sway at the White House during the absence of his master and mistress. The dog is master of the situation and is a confirmed despot. One of the colored attaches of the executive mansion was assigned to the duty of waiting on the dog before the president left the city, and the curly-haired canine sees that his servant carries out the instructions given him. Hector is a very intelligent dog, and makes up for his inability to speak by expressive actions. He is very fond of a stroll around the grounds, and takes his body guard out for an airing two or three times a day. When he wishes to go out he picks up his collar with a tag on it and starts on an exploring trip all over the house for his attendant. On finding him he places the collar in the man's hand and holds his neck ready for the pleasant yoke. As soon as the collar is placed over his head the poodle knows that his command is to be obeyed, and his joy knows no bounds. The same attendant feeds the executive dog and finds him a hard master to please. Bread and butter and the choicest meats, with small cakes for dessert, are always demanded, and, as his high connections insure compliance with his demands, he lives like an epicure.—Cor. Baltimore Sun.

How to Help the Poor.

It is sad to have to acknowledge that the majority of the schemes for bettering the condition of the working millions are worse than useless. They sometimes do actual harm. There is a way, however, that money can be spent advantageously for the benefit of the toilers. Cornelius Vanderbilt has appropriated a large sum of money to build a club house for the employes of the New York Central Railway company who work around New York. In this club the men are furnished refreshments and opportunities for innocent recreation at a trifling expense. The aim is to give the employes, off duty, a good time in a club of their own, in which there shall be no temptations to dissipation. The Prince of Wales recently laid the foundation of a people's palace in East London. When completed, it will provide a means of recreation for hundreds of thousands of workmen, and also a technical and trade school for the education of boys. It will contain a summer and winter garden, concert halls, swimming baths, gymnasium, reading rooms and a library.—Demorest's Monthly.

The Great German Empire.

The annual Statistical Register of the German Empire for the years 1884—5 has just been published. It is shown that in the entire world the number of Germans who speak the native language and follow German customs may be calculated at 70,000,000. Of these 42,000,000 belong to Germany, 8,000,000 to Austria, 2,000,000 to Hungary, 2,000,000 to Switzerland, 1,250,000, to Russia, so that there still remains 13,750,000 for other parts. Of these 3,250,000 are scattered in the remaining European countries, 7,000,000 in the United States and Canada, 500,000 in South America. The remnant of 8,500,000 may be divided between Africa, Australia and Asia. No other European nation has yet attained to the high figures of 70,000,000. The great Germanic family is far more numerous than either the Slavs or the Latins.

A dead certainty; The Hop Plaster is more active than any other plaster on earth. Kills pain.

Hop Plasters are soothing, stimulating, pain-killing and strengthening, clean, sweet and sure.

Kerosene was first used for lighting purposes in 18[illegible].

[illegible]

[illegible]

A day off—Leap-year.

Always in luck—The letter L.

A joint concern—A meat shop.

A rear offer—A bid on a mule.

Railway stock—Street car horses.

A family circle—a wedding ring.

Stirring scenes—Cake making time.

High water marks—Fancy stationery.

The poet's corner—a corner on spring.

A man of the period—The compositor.

A knotty question—Who lynched him.

Driving a bargain—Exercising a new horse.

Always a heap—A marketable cabbage.

All stuff—Report of a Thanksgiving dinner.

A flourishing institution—A business college.

Men of high and low degree—Signal Service men.

A trial balance—The first lesson on a tight-rope.

Down weights are not necessarily light weights.

A cool thousand—The St. Lawrence isles in January.

Conclusions of the weather prophet—It snow body's business.

Motto for the pipe-organ boy—"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."

An old bruiser—A mixer of mint juleps.

A business that is looking up—The astronomer's.

A close call—Visiting your next door neighbor.

Politicians are excusable for being on the fence—They wish to keep posted.
—[Detroit Free Press.

A great benefit has been secured to the poor by the introduction of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup; for it now only takes 25 cents to cure a cough or cold.

Any body troubled with rheumatism, neuralgia, stiff neck, or any pain or ache should procure a bottle of Salvation Oil at once. Price 25 cents.

Alleged Signs of Luck.

Dream of eggs, sign of money.

Dream of a snake sign of enemies.

If you sing before breakfast you'll cry before supper.

Dreaming of muddy or rushing water brings trouble.

Finding a horse shoe or a four-leaved clover brings good luck.

She who takes the last stitch at a quilting will be the first to marry.

If you cut your nails or sneeze on Saturday you do it "for evil."

If you cannot make up a handsome bed your husband will have a homely nose.

If you spill the salt some one will be "mad" with you, unless you put some of it on the fire.

Stub your right toe, you are going where you are wanted; your left, where you are not wanted.

If the rooster crows on the fence, the weather will be fair; if on the door step, he will bring company.

If the first Sunday in the month is unpleasant, there will be but one pleasant Sunday during the month.

If your right ear burns, some one is praising you; if your left, your friends are raking you over the coals.

Returning to the house for a moment after having once started out will bring bad luck unless you sit down.

While at the washboard, if the suds splash and wet the clothes you are wearing, you will have a drunken husband.

When, in dropping a fork, it strikes the floor and stands upright, it will bring a gentleman visitor; if a knife, a lady.

If you drop your dishcloth you will have company; also if you sweep a black mark; or if two chairs stand accidentally back to back.

If a baby sees his face in the glass it will be death to him; if his nails are cut he will be a theif; if he tumbles out of bed it will save his being a fool.

Break a mirror, sign of death. Death is also foretold by a dog howling under a window; hearing a mourning dove; a strange dove hovering about, or dreaming of a white horse.

If you see the new moon through the Glass you will have sorrow as long as it lasts. If you see it fair in the face you will have a fall; over the left shoulder, bad luck; over the right, good luck.

WANTED.

A person who is foolish enough to neglect a Cough when a twenty-five cent bottle of Higgins' T. & C. Compound will cure it.

Anæsthesia was discovered in 1844.

The first steel pen was made in 1830.

The first lucifer match was made in 1798.

ROYAL
ROYAL BAKING POWDER

26,000 [illegible] CASES OF TYPHOID FEVER ANNUALLY IN THIS COUNTRY.

ALL TREATED WITH QUININE.

Dr. J. S. Mitchel, of Chicago, in a clinical lecture at the Cook County Hospital, Oct. 7th, 1886, said: "In typhoid fever no possible good can result from giving Quinine, as at the best it can only effect a temporary reduction of temperature; and after forty eight hours the fever is usually higher than at first."

KASKINE DESTROYS THE DISEASE GERMS in FEVERS, [illegible], DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS DEBILITY, LIVER; LUNG AND KIDNEY DISEASE.

Prof. W. F. Holcombe, writes: "Kaskine is superior to quinine in its specific power, and never [illegible] the slightest injury to the hearing or [illegible]."

[illegible] Examining Surgeon, Dr. L. R. White, [illegible] "Kaskine is the best medicine made."

St. Francis Hospital, N.Y. "Every patient treated with Kaskine has been discharged cured."

Bellevue Hospital, N. Y., "Universally successful."

St. Joseph's Hospital, N. Y.: "Its use is considered [illegible]. It acts perfectly."

[illegible] pleasant to take and can be used [illegible] medical counsel.

[illegible] the great book of testimonials unparalleled in the history of medicine. $1 a bottle. Sold by W. J. Watson, Fulton, N. Y., or sent by mail on receipt of price.

THE KASKINE CO., 54 Warren St., N. Y.

Are You Consumptive.

Have you Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion. Use Parker's Tonic without delay. It has cured many of the worst cases. Do you suffer from pains in the chest, back or limbs? Have you symptoms of trouble with your Stomach, Liver or Kidneys? Neglect of these warnings leads to breaking down of the vital powers. Parker's Tonic is the best remedy. Often saves life. Cures when everything else fails. Gives new life and strength to the aged and infirm.

"For 20 years my father was an invalid, with Cough and Bronchitis, and tried everything he could hear of without obtaining more than temporary relief. Being advised of Parker's Tonic he began to use it, and before he had taken five dollars worth was cured. He is 57 years old, and has been well now over a year."—Jos. B. Hudson, Hudson, Fla.

"For several years I suffered from Indigestion, and I am glad to inform you that my present good health is due to the use of Parker's Tonic. Should I ever come to New York, I will thank you in person for your invaluable medicine."—Clarence Hall, Denver, Col.

PARKER'S TONIC,
Made by Hiscox & Co., N.Y. Sold by Druggists $1

JA. McDONOUGH.
Agent for
Ryan & Hoffman's
ALES, STOCK AND PORTER.
Haberle's Brewing Co. Premium
Stock Lager.

☞Foreign & Domestic Wines and Liquors at Wholesale.

A Choice Line of Tobaccos and Cigars.

Goods delivered promptly to any part of Fulton or Oswego Falls with no extra charge.

32m6

NEW COAL FIRM.
REMEMBER THAT
HART & CULLEN
ARE SELLING THE
Wilkesbarre and Pittston Coal.
THE BEST COAL MINED.
Leave Orders at Hart's Pottery, or Cullen's Meat Market
and you will find prices very satisfactory.
Coal Delivered in Fulton, or Oswego Falls.
31m3

The first telescope was used in England in 1608.

A Remarkable Case.

Oct. 21st, 1886.

Messrs W. H. Hooker & Co.:

Gentlemen—About three years ago my little grandchild (now nearly five years of age) was stricken with Eczema. Beginning in a mild form he slowly but surely became worse until his life was despaired of. Six months ago he had scrofulous looking sores, characteristic of Eczema, completely covering his face and body, effecting his hands to such an extent that his finger nails came off. Such was his alarming condition it left me little hope of his recovery. I, as a last extremity, resorted to all the remedies advertised as good for Eczema, not only that, have consulted many physicians, including nine weeks treatment at the Oswego Hospital. From this treatment, the very best to be secured in this vicinity, the child derived little or no benefit. I wish to state these facts in detail so you may fully understand (as I do) the remarkable success I have met with in using Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. Added to my own convictions the fact that physicians failed, giving up the case as incurable. I am only to happy to assure you the child owes its life to Dr. Acker's Blood Elixir. He is apparently on the road to entire recovery, in the near future. I cheerfully confirm and attest to the above and believe others (from my statement) suffering, may have reason to believe in the efficacy of this excellent remedy. Very Truly,

Mrs. LaSage.
[illegible] Fulton, N. Y.

[illegible]

NEW HARNESS SHOP.

[illegible]

REPAIRING
—ON—
HARNESS, TRUNKS, BUGGY TOPS, CUSHIONS, &C. &C.,

☞As Cheap as the Cheapest.☜

HARNESS
OF ALL GRADES MADE TO ORDER.

A share of public patronage solicited.
Give us a Call,
C. W. BROWN,
Cayuga St., Opposite Midland Depot.

SALESMEN WANTED!

We are in want of a few more good men to canvass for the sale of choice varieties of Nursery Stock. To men who can make a success of the business we can pay good salaries or commission and give permanent employment. We have many new and choice specialties both in the fruit and ornamental line which others do not handle.

Address at once, with references,

MAY BROTHERS,
NURSERYMEN,
31w8 Rochester, N. Y.

1886.
New York Weekly Herald
ONE DOLLAR A YEAR.
GREATEST AND CHEAPEST
FAMILY JOURNAL
IN THE UNITED STATES.
Always Bright and Reliable.

Every Number an Epitome of the News of the World.

The Foreign Department.

Is unequaled. Latest and most accurate Cable Specials by the Commercial Cables.

Fullest Telegraphic Reports of all Current Events

Special Features.
Practical Farming; Articles on Science, Art, Literature, the Drama, Music, Art, Religion, Fashion and Chess.
INFORMATION ON ALL SUBJECTS.

Address,
JAMES GORDON BENNETT,
New York Herald,
29w2 New York City.

THE BEST AMERICAN NEWSPAPER

THE TIMES is a Newspaper for intelligent men and women.

It concerns itself as little as possible with the froth or the dregs of life, and aims to give its readers something more attractive and profitable than a daily chronicle of human follies and frailties.

The really important, wholesome, and interesting news of the day is presented with unsurpassed completeness and accuracy by THE TIMES.

Voters, whatever their party or their politics will find THE TIMES of great value for the fullness of its information and the frankness of its comment upon public affairs; and THE TIMES has abundant evidence that its treatment of leading issues of the day meets with increasing approval.

The WEEKLY edition of THE TIMES contains all the current news condensed from the dispatches and reports of the daily edition, besides literary matter, discussions upon agricultural topics by practical farmers, full and accurate market reports of prices for farm produce, live stock, &c. and a carefully prepared WEEKLY WOOL MARKET.

No other New-York Newspaper so completely meets the wants of country readers.

Terms to Mail Subscribers Postpaid.

DAILY, exclusive of Sunday, per year....$6.00
DAILY, including Sunday, per year........7.50
SUNDAY ONLY, per year........1.50
DAILY, 6 months, with Sunday........3.75
DAILY, 6 months, without Sunday........3.00
DAILY, 1 month, with or without Sunday....75

THE WEEKLY TIMES.

SINGLE COPIES, one year........$1.00
TEN COPIES, and one free for club........10.00
SUBSCRIPTION, for six months........50

TERMS CASH IN ADVANCE. These prices are invariable. We have no traveling agents. Remit in drafts on New-York, Postal Notes, or Post Office Money Orders, if possible; and where neither of these can be procured send the money in a registered letter. Sample copies sent free. Address

THE NEW-YORK TIMES,
New-York City.

The New York Sun.

The Best Newspaper in America, and by far the Most Readable.

Agents wanted everywhere to earn money in distributing the Sun's Premiums.

The most interesting and advantageous offers ever made by any Newspaper.

No Subscriber ignored or neglected. Something for all.

Beautiful and Substantial Premiums in Standard Gold and other Watches, Valuable Books, the Best Family Sewing Machine known to the trade, and an unequaled list of objects of real utility and instruction.

Rates, by Mail, Postpaid:

DAILY, per Year (without Sunday) $6 00
DAILY, per Month (without Sunday) 50
SUNDAY, per Year 1 00
FOR EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR 7 00
WEEKLY, per Year 1 00

Address, THE SUN, New York City.

C. S. EGGLESTON,
—DEALER IN—
BOOKS, STATIONERY,
WALL PAPER,
WINDOW SHADES,
CURTAIN FIXTURES,
PICTURE FRAMES,
[illegible]

Business Cards.

Morrill Bros., Fine Job Printers, First Street, over [illegible]'s book store. Printing of every description executed in a superior manner at short notice.

H. W. Summerville, Livery, Boarding and Sale Stables. Private sale of horses, carriages, cutters, etc. No 40 and 42 First Street.

PARDEE & HALL,
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS,
32 Oneida St., Fulton, N. Y.

Dr. Pardee's Office Hours 9 to 10 a. m., 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

Dr. Hall's Office Hours 8 to 9 a. m., 2 to 3:30 and 7 to 8 p. m.

COAL.
—GO TO—
LEWIS' COAL YARD,
Opposite Gas Works,
—For the Celebrated—
LEHIGH VALLEY COAL.

delivered.	per ton	½ton	¼to
Stove	$4.65	2.45	1.35
Nut	4.65	2.45	1.35
No. 4	4.90	2.58	1.41
Egg	4.40	2.33	1.29
Grate	4.40	2.33	1.29
Pea	3.65	1.95	1.10

☞Coal delivered to every part of the village and Oswego Falls.

☞Up town Office J. Cooley Tucker's Crockery Store.

THOMAS D. LEWIS, Agt.

NEW STORE
NEW GOODS!
NEWELL R. COLE

Has fitted up the store vacated by Geo. Johnston, on Oneida Street, Fulton, and put in a full line of

Undertaking Goods,
—OF THE—
LATEST STYLES AND PATTERNS.

And is prepared to attend to everything pertaining to the business with promptness and in a satisfactory manner.

Furniture Rpairing
done on short notice.
Remember the Place.

☞Ladies' Friend Carpet-Sweepers repaired and for sale.

PATENTS,

Caveats, Trade Marks and Copyrights

Obtained, and other business in the U. S. Patent Office attended to for MODERATE FEES.

Our office is opposite the U. S. Patent Office, and we can obtain Patents in less time than those remote from WASHINGTON.

Send MODEL OR DRAWING. We advise as to patentability free of charge; and we make NO CHARGE UNLESS WE OBTAIN PATENT.

We refer here to the Postmaster, the Supt. of Money Order Div., and to officials of the U. S. Patent Office. For circular, advice, terms and references to actual clients in your own State or county, write to

C. A. SNOW & CO.
Opposite Patent Office, Washington, D. C

LUMBER! LUMBER.

I have the Largest Assortment of

Rough and Dressed
DRY PINE LUMBER

In this county. Also PINE HEMLOCK and SPRUCE

SHINGLES, LATH,
&c. &c,

Prices Reasonable. Call before buying elsewhere

O. RUST.
37tf

C. F. HANCOCK,
196 West First St., Oswego, N. Y.
—AGENT FOR THE CELEBRATED—
Decker Brothers'
Matchless Pianos.
THE VERY BEST PIANOS.

Prices as low as possible consistent with the highest standard.

MAKE HENS LAY.

SHERIDAN'S CONDITION POWDER

is absolutely pure and highly concentrated. One ounce is worth a pound of any other kind. It is strictly a medicine to be given with food. Nothing on earth will make hens lay like it. It cures chicken cholera and all diseases of hens. Is worth its weight in gold. Illustrated book by mail free. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail for 25 cents in stamps. 2¼-lb. tin cans, $1; by mail, $1.20. Six cans by express, prepaid, for $5.00. DR. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

the popular favorite for dressing the hair, Restoring color when gray, and preventing Dandruff. It cleanses the scalp, stops the hair falling, and is sure to please. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

HINDERCORNS.

The safest, surest and best cure for Corns, Bunions, &c. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. Never fails to cure. 15 cents at Druggists. Hiscox & Co., N. Y.

JUST THE THING!

CLEGG'S PATENT FOLDING LETTER SHEET ENVELOPES.

Saves time and labor! Neat and Compact.

[illegible]